NANCY LEE CALLISON BRIDE OF PETER VAN HOUTEN

Sunday evening, June 17th, at 8:00 o'clock Nancy Lee Callison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nora Callison, Kendrick, became the bride of Peter Van Houten, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Van Houten, Twin Falls, Idaho, at the First Methodist Church, Moscow.

The Rev. David Seaman, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with large baskets of white, pink and rose peonies from the gardens of Mrs. Harry Benscoter, Mrs. Walter Benscoter and Mrs. Walter Eberhardt, and these were flanked with tall candelabra and pink tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a bouffant ballerina-length gown of white embroidered nylon tulle over nylon net and satin. The bodice was of fitted design covered by an embroidered tulle jacket fashioned with long lily-pointed sleeves. A crown of seed pearls held her embroidered and lace-edged finger-tip veil of tulle. Her bouquet was of red and white roses complimented with stephanotis, backed by white satin ribbon and gilded net. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. For something old and borrowed she carried a white linen handkerchief edged with lace belonging to her mother. She wore the traditional blue garter and a penny in her shoe.

Miss Shirley Groff, Meridian, Idaho, her roommate at the University, was maid of honor. She was dressed in a rose dress of organdy over taffeta. Her hair dress was of pale blue net with pink and blue flowers. She carried a white fan on which were fashioned blue delphiniums and pink rose buds.

Mrs. James Griffin, Kendrick, girlhood friend and classmate of the bride; Miss Darlene Kilborn, Kimberly, a university friend, and Nita Benscoter, Kendrick, a cousin of the bride, were the attendants. They wore pink dresses of the same design and material as the maid of honor.

Pat Johnson, Kendrick, was junior bridesmaid, and Marjorie Smith, Kendrick, was flower girl. Their pink dresses were of the same material and similar in design to those of the bridesmaids.

The junior bridesmaid carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and delphiniums in a background of stephanotis. The flower girl carried a dainty white basket from which she dropped pink rose petals in the path of the bride.

Robert Callison, Kendrick, brother of the bride, and Richard Van Houten, Twin Falls, brother of the bridegroom, were candlelighters.

David Van Houten, brother of the bridegroom was best man; David Lawrence and David O'Hara, all of Twin Falls, and Sayles Albee, Ephrata, Wash., were ushers. They, with the groom, wore the traditional dark business suits with white boutonnières.

The mother of the bride chose a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink sheer brocade dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore white gardenia and pink rose bud corsages.

Mrs. and Mrs. Norman Logan of Moscow sang "O Perfect Love" He sang "Through the Years" and later "The Lord's Prayer," while the bride and groom knelt before the altar.

Mrs. Oscar Slind, Kendrick, organist, accompanied them and played appropriate music throughout the ceremony.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. The bridal table was covered with satin-striped damask and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake. The cake was topped with a nosegay of pink roses and stephanotis, and circled with a wreath of pale blue delphiniums and pink rose buds intertwined in smilax. It was flanked on either side by silver candelabra with white candles and a white memory candle.

Mrs. Walter Weaver, Lenore, an aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. John Petty, Astoria, a cousin of the bride, poured coffee.

After the bride and groom had cut the traditional first piece of cake, Mrs. Hugo Eberhardt and Mrs. Walter Eberhardt, aunts of the bride, both from Lenore, and Mrs. Wade T. Kene, Lewiston, a cousin of the bride, finished cutting and serving.

Mrs. David Van Houten, Lois Van Houten, sister-in-law and sisters of the groom were in charge of the gift table. Mrs. Johanna Nelson was in charge of the guest book. Pat Johnson, Marjorie Smith, Andrea Sue Cox and Bobette Smith passed groom cake.

For her going-away outfit the new Mrs. Van Houten chose a pink Irish line box-style suit with white accessories. She wore the red rose corsage from the center of her bridal bouquet.

After a brief honeymoon trip to northern Idaho they will leave for Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where he has accepted an engineering position in research with Allis-Chalmers. They will make their home there for the next year until he enters the military service.

The bride was a 1954 graduate of Kendrick High School and attended the University of Idaho the past two years as a Home Economics major. She plans to continue her schooling in Milwaukee. You Never Saw Such Weather
Farmers, loggers and all others whom weather often cuts off from work are quite frank in expressing themselves as "thoroughly disgusted with the weather."

Following four nice days last week rain began falling Thursday night and continued most of Friday and Saturday, leaving between 2 and 2½ inches depending on location — and effectively putting a stop to all farm and woods work.

Sunday and Monday were again beautiful days, with the mercury hitting a high of 84 Monday. But it "got too hot too fast" and Tuesday morning a drizzle began, which continued most of the day and intermittently into Wednesday.

Very little hay has yet been cut, and the growth is said to be rank and now beginning to get coarse. And there are the wild oats, which are "growing like crazy" in fields too wet for farmers to cultivate.

Struggling With Roads
 The local State Highway Department crew, Ed. Brown and Gilbert Candler have been struggling valiantly with local road maintenance problems following the cloudburst of June 3, and apparently have them pretty well in hand with the exception of the "highway" between Kendrick and Juliaetta. On this latter stretch of road they seem almost to be fighting a losing battle, despite truckloads of pre-mix and many hours of labor — for the flimsy oil surface just can't seem to take the impact of the big loads and high speeds that it is forced to carry today. Built many years ago by the Highway District and later taken over by the state it is just too light for today's traffic.

Medina Mosque Is Younger Building than White House

According to tradition, Mohammed journeyed north from Mecca to the region of Yathrib's oasis, where he loosed his camel to wander unguided until it stopped and knelt. There the mosque was built. Disciples renamed Yathrib Madinat-al-Nabi, meaning City of the Prophet, now varied to Medina.

The original house of worship has been rebuilt several times. No existing relics of previous structures bear proof of use earlier than 1300. The present Great Mosque is actually newer than the White House in Washington and replaces an earlier mosque which was destroyed by fire only a century ago.

Though somewhat crowded by other buildings on its south side, the mosque stands out gracefully from most angles of approach. Its minarets are shapely, its dome a restful, dull green. Dominant construction material is a locally quarried crystalline rock of pinkish hue, with occasional elaborate inlay and facade decoration.

Pilgrim trade is easily the chief business of Mecca, Medina, and Jidda, the Red Sea port by way of which nine-tenths of the worshipping tourists now travel. The two shrine cities each have sacred areas where unbelievers are not welcome and subject to trespassing fines or jail terms.

Date growing is the second industry around Medina's oasis, which is larger than Mecca's and can support more population. Under Turkish rule prior to World War I, Medina counted 80,000 people and was the southern terminus of a railroad from the cities of present Jordan, Syria, Turkey, and Iraq to the north.

Not until Mohammed moved from Mecca to Medina, did his creed begin the expansion that now encompasses 250,000,000 followers.

Drug Given By Mouth Said To Relieve Pain In Cancer

A chemical compound which can be given by mouth is reported by seven New York doctors to be useful in bringing temporary relief to patients suffering from fatal cancer-like diseases of the white blood cells and tissues.

The oral use of triethylene melamine on 58 patients is described by Drs. David A. Karnofsky, J. H. Burchenal, George C. Armistead, Jr., Chester M. Southam, J. L. Bernstein, L. F. Craver, and Cornelius P. Rhoads. The doctors are all associated with the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases, New York.

Triethylene melamine is a valuable addition to the small group of drugs now known to be effective in relieving pain in these types of disease, according to the doctors. This is due primarily to the fact that it can be given by mouth, releasing the patient from his dependence on a doctor for administration of the drug. All the other drugs, they point out, have to be injected intravenously, which almost always makes hospitalization necessary.

Clinical trials with the drug are now being widened to include a greater variety of tumorous conditions, they said.

Cleaning Up

In the Smithsonian Institution's laboratory of vertebrate paleontology, six tons of fossil bones belonging to the extinct gigantic ground sloth, Megatherium, are being cleaned and repaired. The skeletal remains of this grotesque animal were collected in western Panama by Dr. C. Lewis Gazin, curator of vertebrate paleontology of the U. S. National Museum, assisted by Dr. Theodore E. White, paleontologist of the Smithsonian's River Basin Surveys. The Smithsonian Institution paleontologists will attempt to reconstruct for exhibition in Washington a complete skeleton of the giant sloth. A large part of the collection will be returned to Panama for exhibition there.

Forming Pearls

Although some pearls are formed in fresh-water clams and oysters, the most valuable come from the marine pearl oysters of eastern Asia. They occur when some foreign object—perhaps a tiny grain of sand—gets between the shell and the body. The animal then secretes around the object successive layers of a material called nacre, which consists of calcium carbonate. This is the same material as the "mother of pearl" lining of the shell. The Japanese make "culture" pearls by deliberately introducing small particles of graphite into the oyster and keeping it for several years as the pearl is formed.

Infrared Rays

Infrared rays are similar to rays of visible light, except that the length of their waves is greater than those of red light, which are about 1/40,000th of an inch and are the longest that the eye can detect. The longest infrared waves are about 1/65th of an inch long. Any hot object—the Sun, an open fire, a red hot poker, a warm radiator, an electric lamp, etc.—sends out infrared radiation, often with visible rays as well. Special electric lamps to generate these rays, used for applying heat, have a filament which operates at a lower temperature than is used in one designed mainly for purposes of illumination.

Standard asphalt research helps bring taxpayers 3 miles of paving for the cost of 2

You are more comfortable, get there faster, when you drive on safe, modern roads of sturdy and resilient asphalt.

CROWDED HIGHWAYS waste motorists' time—and lives. To build more miles of better roads at lowest cost, highway engineers turned to asphalt paving for 85% of the nation's roads. They find asphalt costs 30 to 50% less than other pavements. It lasts longer, reduces headlight and sunlight glare, provides noiseless, comfortable driving. To help meet the nation's highway needs, Standard* has expanded its asphalt production across the country, now operates nine asphalt refineries.

Our scientists work with highway engineers on improved construction techniques which save millions of your tax dollars each year. This means more and better roads, to serve a nation on the move.

Kinsey M. Robinson,
President, W. W. P. Co.

You have probably read that this company—your company—has again won the famous Coffin Award. This is the highest honor that can be won by an electric service utility, and we are very proud that it has come to us for this, the third time. We are told that no other company has received the award more than once.

In their statement accompanying the presentation the judges noted that it was "for leadership in preserving free enterprise in the electric industry." While this has been, and will continue to be one of our principal goals it could never have been achieved without the full approval and support of the majority of our fellow citizens.

Therefore, I personally and all employees of the company located throughout our service area feel that this outstanding honor is due first to our customers who have stood by us and seen us through many troublesome times. We are tremendously grateful and promise always to continue to merit your confidence in us not only as defenders of American principles but as your friendly suppliers of electricity for better living.

HAVE YOU DRIVEN IT?

The caption is not an idle one, but a question! Have you driven the "cow trail" which leads from Kendrick to Troy - and on into Moscow, lately? The "trail" which road maps show as a road?

If not, to do so is a liberal education in what a "road should not be," and it is highly recommended that all prospective Latah County voters in the coming election make the trip. Of course, if you use dentures it is gravely suggested that you keep your mouth tightly closed during the entire drive, or they'll surely be shaken from your mouth. Oh, yes! Better allow about an hour for the trip, that is if you care anything at all about your car.

Some three or four years ago the Kendrick Commercial Club and the Troy Chamber of Commerce, working together, and co-operating with a member of the State Highway Commission, believed that they had a satisfactory road program set up for this section, that is, the State Highway department would again take over the Brady Gulch grade, and also the remainder of the road from Kendrick to Troy. This evidently had no more than reached the planning stage than a delegation from the Moscow Chamber of Commerce, fully equipped with maps, etc., visited Boise, booming a new route up the Middle Potlatch to come out at old Cornwall and on to Moscow.

They met here with the Kendrick Commercial Club and representative citizens from Juliaetta, explaining their proposed plan. Since this plan had evidently killed the joint one of the Kendrick-Troy Chambers - a reluctant endorsement was given to this route - as it at least would give us an all-weather good road to our county seat.

It seems this route has now been shelved by the Moscow powers-that-be. They, in conjunction with the Latah Chambers of Commerce say: "Let the state locate a new highway anywhere they want to - so long as it leads to Moscow - and it looks now as if it would do just that - by way of Little Potlatch, and out at old Lenville, then on to U. S. 95 and Moscow! To put it very bluntly it looks as if this section had been given the "old double cross" by someone! We wish that every Moscow resident and particularly the merchants, had to drive over the present road from Kendrick to Troy - just as a matter of education.

Now here's the moral of our "little ditty": This year is an election year. Candidates from Moscow will be swarming soon! Tell them we want a road to Troy and on to Moscow. Don't just mention it - talk it!

There is, of course, the plans for the new Court House at Moscow to be voted on this fall, with the attendant bond issue. All will gladly admit that a new court house is needed. But, all will be equally frank to say that it don't mean a thing to us here without a road to get to it.

Records here disclose that something over one million dollars a year leaves Kendrick annually for Lewiston, where it buys everything from sandwiches to Cadillacs. How much goes to Moscow? No figures are available, but it is probably only a fraction of that amount, despite the fact that many local students are attending the U. of I.

Now - election year - is the time to make ourselves heard at Moscow!

Farm Facts The average American ate $435.00 worth of food. A similar or slightly larger amount is likely this year, according to agricultural economists.

Everett Davis, agricultural engineer of the University of Idaho extension service, recommends a very thorough check of machines and all power tools regularly for repairs and safety precautions. He advises an examination of wiring as well.

HELLO, FOLKS:

"Well, it's the same old story about the weather — rain and more rain — and we well realize that you farmers are getting pretty blue about the situation — particularly when it comes to hay — and the problem of controlling those wild oats — so, beyond mentioning to you that we have those famous U. S. Royal Tires — and Union Oil Products of all kinds to sell — wholesale and retail — we're going to devote all the rest of our space to humor. We hope you will read and enjoy it."

Traffic Officer (stopping motorist): "Sir, your wife fell out of the car three blocks back."
Motorist: "So that's it! I thought I had gone stone deaf!"

Two business men were talking.

"Is your advertising getting results?" inquired the first.
"It sure is!" moaned the second.
"Last week we advertised for a night watchman, and the next night we were robbed!"

A wise man is one who knows when he has had enough before he has had it.

A group of sedate tourist couples came to a California beach and one good lady was shocked at the swim suits. "Never before, anywhere, have I seen girls so utterly lacking in modesty," said she to her husband. "Have you, Henry?"
"Sure haven't!" Hank agreed. "And the climate out here's mighty fine, too!"

Don't forget your fuel oil tank. Call 1251. We'll fill it!

This rainy weather is truly getting tiresome. There is so much work for the farmers to do — and so little time left in which to do it!

Good Marketing Plans Pay
Spokane, Mar. 21, 1956. — Many farmers are resigning to the proposition that when it comes to selling their products they're entirely at the mercy of the buyers.

This isn't true in all cases by any means. A good manager can do a lot about the prices he receives by marketing at off-seasons and handling quality products.

This happened yesterday in Spokane when Paul Supple of Kendrick, Idaho, brought the first spring lambs of the season in to the Old Union Stockyards.

Al Baumgart, sheep salesman for the Spokane Livestock Commission Co. said that three of Mr. Supple's lambs weighed 96 and 2/3 pounds apiece and sold at $23.00 per 100; four other light lambs tipped the scales at 76 pounds each and brought $25.00 per 100. The lambs graded mostly choice.

Charlie Rice of Rice Packing Co., Veradale in Spokane Valley bought the lambs. They were creep-fed black-faces.

This was no accident. Paul Supple of Kendrick has been bringing in the first spring lambs of the season to the Spokane stockyards for several years in a row.

He's doing a good job, and it's paying off for him.

In Justice Court
Gerald Eriewine, Southwick, was fined $25.00 and costs, with $15.00 suspended (probation) on a negligent driving charge in the Justice Court of J. G. Travis, Cited by State Police.

Undergoes Surgery
Mrs. Jake Neumann, Southwick, underwent an exploratory operation at the St. Joseph's hospital in Lewiston, Tuesday. She is reported as resting comfortably.

Many people are very inconsistent in many things, but stand loyally by their prejudices.
