

Feed Costs Must Be Kept Down
Improved Pastures Can Aid Profits

The formula for successful farming and dairy management in this modern world is essentially the same as the formula for success in any business undertaking. In either case, the object is to return a fair and equitable profit and in this regard the most important factor is the cost of production. Production costs are vitally important to the dairyman, since Wisconsin soils specialists estimate that feed takes 60 cents out

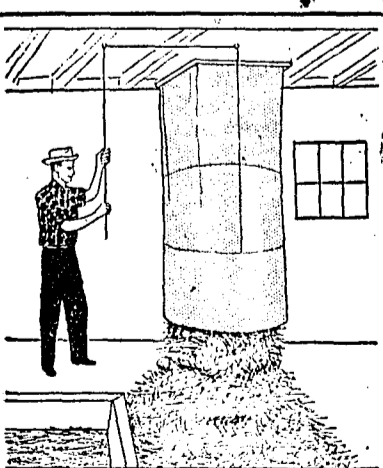

High feed costs present a problem that must be licked by every successful dairyman. Of every dollar a dairyman spends on milk production, recognizing this fact, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee recommends that dairymen cut costs of producing milk by growing high quality, low cost feed in the form of improved pasture. High quality pasture can produce up to 100 pounds of total digestible nutrients for about 75 cents, according to Ohio State University farm economists. It would take between $2 and $3 worth of corn to produce the same amount of nutrients, they say. These economists estimate, also, that a cow can obtain 70 to 80 per cent of its nutrient requirements from pasture and hay. Getting high yields of good quality pasture and hay involve three steps, says the MWSIC: (1) a soil well stocked with plant nutrients including nitrogen, phosphate and potash; (2) the use of well-adapted legume-grass mixtures; (3) good grazing management.

Carrier Animals Key To Disease Control

Detection and elimination of carrier animals appears to be a key to control and eradication of the serious cattle disease, leptospirosis, according to a report in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association. "The obviously ill animal is naturally considered as a prime source of the disease, but the carriers are equally dangerous," the report states. "Control of this disease must not be based upon individual animal considerations, but upon all animals in the herd." Leptospirosis is currently widespread in both cattle and swine in the United States and is estimated by veterinary medical authorities to be the nation's third most important malady of cattle. Experimental evidence indicates that cattle infected with this disease constitute a potent reservoir of infection for other animals and man even though they may show no visible manifestations of the disease. During the acute or early stages of leptospirosis, an infected animal will often show depression, loss of appetite and fever. The disease is seldom fatal, but severe losses are caused by abortions and lowered breeding efficiency.

Canvas Chute

A two-way work saver is this canvas bedding chute. It makes chopped bedding easier to handle and also speeds cleanup chores since it licks the dust problem. Chute fits around 2-ft-square opening in mow floor where bedding is stored. Steel hoops help chute hold shape and clothesline rope running through overhead pulleys lifts chute, dropping straw to floor.

Enrollment To Be Record
U. of I. — The University of Idaho is expected to set a new all-time record for enrollment this fall, passing by more than 100 the previous high of post-World War II days when returning veterans swarmed over the campus.
Registrar D. D. DuSault said this week that the enrollment of resident students this fall should reach 3,800. That means an increase of about 9 percent over last fall, when 3,481 students were enrolled, and passes the previous record fall enrollment of 3,673, set in 1948.
"Because of space limitations the university is tightening requirements for out-of-state students," said DuSault. "Otherwise, the enrollment would go considerably higher."

Good Team
Every morning for years, at about 11:30, the telephone operator in a small town received a call from a man asking the exact time.
On day an operator summoned up nerve enough to ask him why he regularly.

"I'm foreman of the Smithson Nut & Bolt Works," he explained. "Every day I have to blow the whistle at noon, so I call you to get the exact time."
The operator giggled. "That's really funny," she said. "All this time we've been setting our clock by your whistle!"

IDAHO TAKES TO AIR
Most of Idaho has stepped out of snowshoes and saddles into the airplane, Philip Gustafson observes in a current issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

The author reports that the airstrips of many tiny communities were "do-it-yourself" projects by local citizens, and he tells the story of how the people of Carey built theirs in one day and had President Truman dedicate it.

The network of little airstrips is said to have opened up areas which were inaccessible and from Boise, the state capital, you can now reach any point in the state in less than two hours by plane.

Some of these trips, the author says, used to take three days by car or truck, or a week by pack train. Gustafson finds that in licking their crazy terrain, the people of Idaho probably have put planes to more use than anybody else in the world.

Among those he mentions are: Cowboys riding fence lines at 100 miles an hour; enterprising young pilots chasing wild horses in canyons and capturing them for sale; and contract pilots flying for the game department, driving antelope into rope corrals to be tagged, nudging the laggards with their wing tips.

Plenty of Zip at a pip of a price

(It's a great time to buy a Buick!)

SERIOUSLY—where else can you get so much snap and ginger at such a peach of a price?

Where else can you get a big, high-powered, steady-riding hardtop like this '56 Buick Riviera—at a figure that's pretty close to what they're asking for similar models of the well-known smaller cars?

Nowhere else that we know of—which is one big reason why Buick outsells all others cars in America except two of those smaller cars.

BUT RIGHT ALONG with low price is something else behind Buick's big success: Buick is a lot more automobile for the money.

It gives you more room and luxury—more zip and power thrill—fine handling and sure-footed stability.

And it gives you something you can get in no other car—today's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* It's the only transmission in the world with the cruising thrift and the switch-pitch safety-surge taken from the modern plane's propeller.

So WHY WAIT any longer—when the time to take action is now, so you can start enjoying all the golden months of summer and fall in a new '56 Buick?

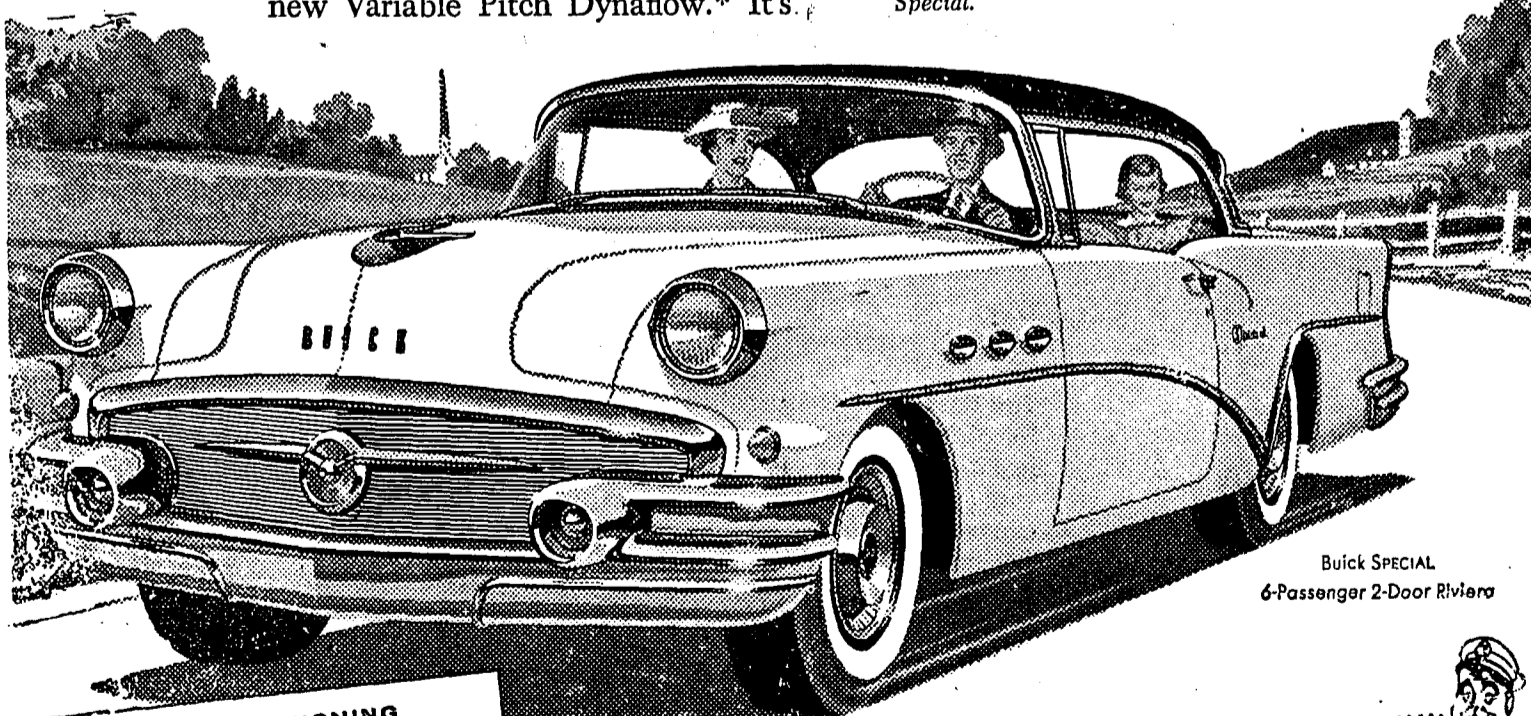

Now—when Buick prices are as low as—perhaps lower than—they'll ever be again.

Now—when your present car is at its peak of worth—and when today's high volume '56 Buick sales permit us to make you an even better trade-in allowance.

Come see us—and look into the car that puts you years ahead right now.

Come see us today—and discover the dilly of a deal that will make you wonder why on earth you waited as long as you did.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Tough Customer Is Heart Muscle
NEW ORLEANS—How tough is the heart muscle?
Considerable reserve strength was found in the heart muscle of experimental animals given stress tests after induced "heart attacks," according to research reported by Dr. Thomas N. P. Johns and Bryon J. Olson of the National Institutes of Health.

First, the investigators reported, they developed a method for producing standardized and sizeable areas of heart and muscle damage in rats and other small experimental animals by tying off a main coronary artery with surgical silk. This created a situation parallel (but not necessarily comparable) to a heart attack, technically a coronary occlusion or coronary thrombosis.

Next the animals were subjected to different types of exercise at various times following the occlusion. Approximately 400 animals were used, including a controls group whose chests were opened but whose arteries were not tied off.

Exercise during the first six hours following coronary occlusion produced a significantly higher mortality in the experimental rats, the scientists found. But after this "shock period" had passed there was "no significant difference in exercise tolerance" between the rats with the damaged hearts and the rats in the control group.

Atomic Guards Ordered To "Shoot to Kill"

CAMP HANFORD, Wash. — Orders of "shoot to kill" were issued soldiers guarding the Hanford atomic works from an elusive enemy that has been nibbling at the roots of the supersecret installation.

One man in each battery of the anti-aircraft group was issued a .22 caliber rifle and told to keep shooting until the enemy is destroyed.
The highly-mobile intruder is commonly known as the jackrabbit—in fact there were hundreds of jackrabbits when the order was issued. The bunnies nibbled the post's 100,000 rose bushes down to 10,000 and chewed away most of Hanford's grass and shrubs.

Expectant Father Lost In Rush to Hospital

DETROIT—Charles Birchfield was driving along hurriedly when he spotted two rookie policemen walking their beat. Screeching to a stop, he shouted excitedly that his wife, Opal, was about to have a baby in the back seat of the auto.
Patrolman Edward Krajewski quickly slid behind the wheel. His companion, Patrolman Gaylord Golding got in the back seat to assist the expectant mother. Then they sped off—leaving the prospective father stranded on a curb.
Mrs. Birchfield got to the hospital ahead of the stork.

Bad Bill

MIAMI, Fla.—B. M. Funderburk received a letter from a non-existent local firm notifying him payment was due on a note he didn't owe. He was puzzled until he looked at the postmark. It read Dec. 10, 1949.
Funderburk then remembered that he had paid-off the note 15 years ago and the firm went out of business a short time afterwards.

No Machine Yet Outstrips Man's Remarkable Brain

WASHINGTON—Can there be an artificial brain?

Perhaps, some day—at least on paper—but it will be far different from any of the marvelous machines now in existence, says Dr. D. M. MacKay of the University of London.

These machines may be perfected more and more to take over various functions now carried out by the brain—perhaps, as even now is the case, better than the brain itself. But the true model of the brain, Dr. MacKay says, must be constructed that it can grow, profit by its own experience, can make mistakes, and by the consequences of them be conditioned not to make them again, can even suffer mental breakdowns—in the same way and on the same principles as the human brain.

Already, Dr. MacKay believes, it is possible to design an artificial brain that will incorporate in itself patterns due to its own internal and external experiences. There is, in fact, one possible statistical model which he thinks might usefully stand comparison with the human brain.

"The basic feature of this model," Dr. MacKay says, "is the ability to adjust the rules of its own activity according to the degree of success it attains. It does this not by throwing switches but by adjusting the relative probabilities of different patterns of activity. Its rules are grown statistically as a result of its own trials and errors."

Being Bright Pays Well in College

NEW BRUNSWICK—Does it pay to be bright in college?

Consider the "plight" of 37 young men in the freshman class at Rutgers University's men's colleges. Because they have exceptional minds and unusual foresight, these lads will spend an extra year in college.

Their intelligence will pay off in big dividends for they comprise the first full-scale class to enroll in Rutgers unique five-year program that leads to two degrees. Yes, two degrees! When they graduate in 1960—though they are at present members of the class of 1959—each will receive a degree of Bachelor of Science from the College of Engineering and a Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of Arts and Sciences.

The new Rutgers program is unique in that courses in the liberal arts and engineering fields are taken side by side through five years. Other institutions have somewhat similar programs, but they require a student to spend three years in a liberal arts college and then switch to engineering for two years.

Navy Won't Commission Any Male Nurses

WASHINGTON—There's a ditty about the soldier who wouldn't trade his "O.D.'s" for Navy "dun-garees" and the Navy says it won't follow the Army lead in giving commissions to male nurses. In the foreseeable future, the Navy indicates, it will continue to give commissions only to women in the Nurse Corps.

The Navy thus disagrees with the Army which started commissioning male nurses in accordance with a law sponsored by Rep. Frances P. Bolton, (R., Ohio).

A Navy spokesman pointed out that the Bolton law does not require it to put men into the Nurse Corps. Anyway, he added, the Navy has no need to hire male nurses to go into battlefield, as does the Army.

Pose as Wife's Lover Brings Jail Sentence

READING, England—Four years in jail was the sentence for a married man, Montague Harris, 32, who posed as his wife's lover.

Harris admitted playing the dual role of husband and correspondent in an attempt to fake evidence so he could get a divorce and marry another woman.

He pleaded guilty to 10 charges of forgery and perjury arising out of the case.

Police said Harris hired another woman to play the part of his wife, donned a false mustache as the "correspondent" and went off to stay at a country hotel with her.

Later, without his real wife's knowing about it, he used to fake evidence to accuse her of "adultery." He got a divorce and re-married.

Sour Saki, Maybe?

TOKYO—Them revenooers, foe of moonshiners for ages in the United States, have now turned up in Japan. They are Japanese, but operate like the U. S. type—stalking through the hills north of Tokyo seeking out stills.

Japan's Tax Administration Board says hunting should be pretty good, since it is estimated a million stills are bubbling away in Japan.

No Place For Compulsion

It is easy to understand how the members of a Democratic club for the election of Democratic candidates for a public office, or the members of a Republican club seeking the election of their candidates might be assessed to raise a fund for political action. It is hard to understand, however, how a labor union can use the funds collected from all its members, who belong to various political parties, to promote a particular party candidate.

What would happen if a corporation assessed its employees or its stockholders to raise a special fund to promote a special candidate? It would be in legal difficulties at once. What is the difference between that and compulsory union assessments for political purposes? If union members or corporation stockholders or employees wish to voluntarily put up their money to help a candidate carry on his campaign, they have the privilege of doing so, but to be compelled to put up their money for a candidate is a different story, whether they favor such candidate or not.

Compulsion should be wiped out of the American picture where a man's political beliefs or the right to work are concerned. — Bob Taylor.

Marines Wanted

July 3, 1936 — An enlistment of young men for the Marine Corps in the immediate future has been authorized to fill vacancies, according to information received by Postmaster C. H. Daugherty from Capt. James B. Hardie, in charge of Marine Corps recruiting in Portland.

These young men will be accepted mainly from states of Oregon, Idaho, Wyoming and southern Washington, but young men applying from adjoining state will be considered. These men will serve as replacements on the far flung foreign shore stations, in navy yards, and on ships and airplane carriers of the U. S. fleet. Those qualified will also have an opportunity to serve with the fleet Marine force, a specially trained organization for military duty with the fleet and said to be the finest in the world.

Applications for enlistment are invited from young men who are interested in the opportunities of travel, adventure and education with the Marines.

Detailed information may be obtained from postmaster Daugherty or from the U. S. Marine Corps recruiting station, 208 U. S. Court House, Portland, Oregon.

stands on his record

No one can deny that Senator Welker has compiled a magnificent record of service to his state and nation during his BIG first term. Here are a few of the highlights of that record:

A successful fight which he led in the U.S. Senate to protect Idaho's upstream water rights against those who were determined to sell our state "down the river."

A job that has been nationally recognized as "brilliant" in exposing subversive activities in America.

A consistent stand for the welfare of Idaho's farmers, including extending the Sugar Act of 1948 to increase Idaho's sugar production; providing for research to develop increased uses of agricultural products; improving and simplifying credit facilities and continuance of the soil conservation program.

Doctors Borrow Heart in Unique New Operation

NEW ORLEANS—Taking its cue, perhaps, from Cupid, medical science has gone into the business of "borrowing" hearts.

In a little more than a year and a half, 43 children underwent operations with the aid of "controlled cross circulation," a technique that "borrows" the heart and lungs of one person so that surgeons may repair defects inside the heart of another. Approximately two-thirds survived and now have comparatively normal hearts. Without surgery, few could have been expected to live to maturity.

Progress on the new dramatic technique was presented to a scientific session of the American Heart Association by members of the University of Minnesota team that originated the procedure and first used it with a human patient in March, 1954.

Controlled cross circulation creates a complete by-pass of the patient's heart. The amount of blood is reduced to a minimum, giving the surgeon a direct view of the site of operation. He can thus go deep inside the heart to repair such previously inoperable defects as abnormal openings in the muscular wall separating the heart's right and left sides. Most of the operations performed by the Minnesota group were of this type.

A simple mechanical pump helps transfer blood from the patient's veins to the donor (usually a parent or other close relative) so that it may pick up oxygen in the donor's lungs before being returned to the patient's arteries. The supply lines to the patient's heart are tied off so that no blood gets to its chambers.

Care of Impaired Children a Problem

NEW YORK—Reduction of mortality at the younger ages as a result of the control established over infectious diseases makes it possible to focus greater attention upon the care and rehabilitation of the large number of children and young people in the United States who are physically or mentally impaired.

Orthopedic impairments are among the most common defects at the ages under 21, with the more seriously crippled cases probably numbering about 500,000, it is estimated. The largest single category consists of those suffering residual effects from poliomyelitis, with clubfoot ranking second, and crippling due to accidents third.

Other major causes of physical impairment at these ages include heart disease, chiefly of rheumatic origin, cerebral palsy and epilepsy, and defects in vision and hearing, each adding considerably to the total of impaired young lives.

In addition to those physically handicapped, many children and adolescents have personality defects or mental disorders that are a threat to their future life and happiness.

Thanks to the advances in medicine, surgery and methods of rehabilitation, many of these young people affected by various physical and mental impairments can overcome their handicaps, at least in some degree.

Police Chief Finds Stolen Items Pronto

CAMDEN, Me.—Police Chief John Rainfrette gave unusually fast service after service station operator Ollie Dore reported three car mufflers stolen from in front of his station.

Rainfrette took down the complaint, then jumped into a patrol car to start searching for leads on the missing mufflers. He was somewhat startled to find them in the rear seat of the patrol car.

It turned out that the night police crew had found the mufflers lying in front of the gas station and took them to headquarters for safe keeping—but forgot to tell the chief.

Here's a Genuine Checker Enthusiast

MANGRUM, Okla.—W. E. Weaver is a real checker enthusiast. He loves the game and didn't like the fact that he wasn't able to find enough opponents to play with him.

So he got desperate—he bought a grocery store and installed a table and a couple of extra chairs to attract some opposition.

Among his customers, Weaver is able to snare a few checker players and keep the checker board busy.

Shortage Cited

CANBERRA, Australia—If you think nowadays a good man is hard to find, you haven't seen population figures on Australia recently. A good woman, or any woman, is hard to find.

Figures released by Federal statisticians show that there are now 113,474 more men and women in the country.

Australia's total population is now 9,201,034.

Package May Include Letter
 Wash., D. C. — A letter or message can now be mailed inside a package or publication for the first time in U. S. postal history, Postmaster General Summerfield said in announcing a new combination mail service.

All the mailer needs to do is indicate the presence of the letter or message inside the package and pay the appropriate postage on it, plus postage for the package itself.

Under the new combination mail service, letters or other single pieces of either First or Third Class mail may be placed inside Fourth class parcels or inside copies of publications mailed under Second Class entry.

The enclosure inside the package should preferably be placed on top of the other items in the package.

Marriage Boom Ahead
 Only 1.5 million marriages occurred in 1955, as compared with 2.3 million in postwar 1946. But by 1960 there will be a new wave of marriages resulting from the boom in births in the 40's. About 2 million a year. — The Kiplinger Letter.

People Are Moving Less
 Since World War II, shifting from state to state and place to place has lessened progressively. In the past year only 5 million people moved from one state to another, 126 million stayed put in the same house, and same city. — The Kiplinger Letter.

WILLIAM S. HOLDEN
 Republican Candidate
 United States Senate

It is widely conceded that the Republican primary race is between Holden and Welker. Bill Holden is the man who can—and will—beat Democratic opposition in November. Vote for a man who will ably represent Idaho farmers, Idaho industry and Idaho's working men as a six-year Senator, not a "campaign year" representative. Don't risk losing your valuable vote on a man who can't win in the August 14 primary, or in the general election in November. Vote for Holden!

FOREST MANAGEMENT IS RESEARCH IN ACTION

counting forty million trees

Another step in conservation and utilization of our natural resources is the periodic inventory of our timber. Potlatch foresters need to know the species, quality, size and number of trees included in more than 400,000 acres of company owned timberland to assure constant production and utilization of our forests. The 'wedge' prism is one of the modern tools used to provide faster, more accurate counting of our trees . . . another reason why we say — Forest Management is Research in Action.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Sweating over "whether the old equipment will last another harvest? If you are, let us help you — not sweat — but assist in making your equipment last, by supply you with the best in lubricants — Union Lubricants — there's one for every piece of machinery — and every piece of condition. Just phone us at 1251 — we deliver.

A violinist stopped in a London music shop and asked for an E-string. Placing a large bunch of strings before the customer, the shopkeeper remarked, "Here they are, sir. Select what you want — I can't tell the 'e's from the 'a's."

Busy with the harvest rush? Let us care for your car, pickup or truck. We'll lubricate it, fill the crankcase with that famous Royal Triton Motor Oil — wash, wax, and in general service it for you!

Are you risking valuable harvest time on bald tires? If so, why do so? Come in and see us. You'll be surprised at how cheaply you can re-tire with those famous U. S. Royals — on your car, pickup or truck. Yep, we'll trade!

Billy: "Lillie, if you don't say you'll marry me, I'll hang myself right in front of your house."
Lillie: "Oh please don't. You know father doesn't want you hanging around here!"

Jim: "Hey, what's the rush?"
Bob: "Going to buy a car!"
Jim: "But why be in such a hurry. Look 'em over."
Bob: "I found a parking spot!"

WHAT CAMERON FOLKS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

The Harvest Rush Is On
Everyone is really busy at this time in the harvest fields. The fall barley has been finished, and they are new in the fall wheat and peas, with White Dutch Clover and lentils to follow.
It's rush, rush, rush for everyone.

Club To Meet
The Cameron Home Demonstration Club will hold their next meeting on Aug. 14, at the Kenneth Wilken home, with Rowena Koopp and Mildred Silflow demonstrating "Herb Cooking."

Attend Bridal Shower
Mr. and Mrs. Aug. F. Wegner and sons Vern and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wegner and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sullivan and family attended a bridal shower for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wegner, Sunday, held at the Aug. O. Wegner home in Pullman.

Go on Bicycle Tour
Teddy Meske, eldest son of Rev. and Mrs. Theo Meske, left Thursday morning on his bicycle, to tour the U. S.

Junior Mission Band Meets
The Junior Mission Band held their regular meeting at the Ladies Aid hall Tuesday afternoon. After the business meeting all went to the Memorial Pool at Kendrick, where a swimming party was enjoyed.

Celebrates Birthday
Dean Weyen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weyen, was honored on his sixth birthday anniversary last Sunday, when his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Weyen, Kendrick, entertained him at a birthday dinner. Guests included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weyen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Draper and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Weyen and daughters and Gary Gertje. Gary Draper returned home with Dean that evening and spent the night.

Other Items
Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Blankenship and family of Culesac and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hanson and family of Lewiston were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Blankenship.

Miss Schmeder of West Virginia, is visiting in the Aug. Brammer home. Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Brammer, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brammer, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Brunick, Miss Schneider and Miss Mildred Brammer were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Broeneke and Mrs. Martha Rodgers in Moscow.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whittinger and grandson Norman, were sight seeing in the Uniontown and Colton country Sunday, returning by way of Lewiston. Patricia Mielke spent last week in Moscow visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parks.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brammer Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. George Havens, Mrs. Walter Koopp and Mrs. James Whittinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fry of Kendrick spent Sunday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wegner and family.

Jillian Wegner is spending this week with her grandmother, Mrs. Clarence Fry, who is cooking for a Forestry Service brush crew.

Linda Sullivan is spending this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. F. Wegner.

Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Hepler of Oregon called on Mrs. Anna Blum last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joyce of Lewiston came up Saturday and dressed out chickens at the Albert Glenn home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brammer and family arrived Monday evening from San Jose, Calif., to spend a two-week vacation visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Brammer, and with her parents in Moscow. They are driving a new German Volkswagon, and report making 35 miles to the gallon of gas on the trip up. The car embodies many features new and novel to American motorists.

Rev. and Mrs. Theo Meske and family are spending several days of their vacation at Ritzville, Wash., visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Sletaff, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Otelia Schmidt, in Lewiston.

Miss Mildred Brammer and her house guest, Miss Schmeder, left last Wednesday for Portland, where they visited with friends, returning here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glenn and son Eldon were Friday evening supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Easterbrook at Kendrick, the dinner honoring little Chad Easterbrook's first birthday anniversary.

Visitors at the home of Emma Hartung and Ida Stoneburner on Thursday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Silflow of Juliaetta and Helen Mielke. That evening Mrs. Ida Wolf of Lewiston and Mrs. Walter McCall of Kendrick were visitors, and on Sunday Mrs. John Schwarz spent the day in their home.

Enjoying Painting Class
Lawrence Dougharty, well known former resident here and at Juliaetta, has taken up painting as a hobby, and has really been enjoying the training. Under date of July 26, he says in part:

"The Painting class of the U. of I. this summer is a new feature. Ted Pritchard, head of the department of Art and Architecture, paid the class a visit at Coeur d'Alene, where it was in training from July 2 to 6, and also at McCall, where it was held from July 16 to 20.

The expert instructor in oil painting was Mary Kirkwood, whose work can be depended upon to win prizes at any exhibition. Alfred Dunn, instructor in water colors, is also a top winner at exhibits, and his work can be seen in the Ford Magazine.

"Regular class sessions were held, with criticism and exhibits of work — one week at Coeur d'Alene, one week at Red Fish Lodge, Stanley, Idaho, and the final week at McCall. "It was a most congenial group of teachers, students and art enthusiasts — from California to Nebraska, many taking the work for University credits — one credit per week."
