WHAT JULIAETTA FRIENDS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

Collison Thursday Evening A panel truck driven by Tommy Groseclose, Clarkston, and carrying as passengers his wife and family and a pickup truck driven by Herb McClean, Juliaetta, were engaged in an accident on the highway in front of the Mead & Howard Lumber Co.,

Juliaetta, last Thursday evening.

Mr. McClain, heading toward Lewiston, slowed down to pick up Mrs. Willis Bowen who was walking along the highway. Before the McClain vestruck in the rear by the panel driven Masters Degree in Biology. by Tommy Groseclose.

The impact threw the Groseclose panel into the driveway to the Mead & Howard-Lumber Co., and the McClain pickup off the highway on the right hand side, where it narrowly missed an electric light pole.

Grain Harvest Nearing End

Grain harvest, at least for the fall grains, is rapidly nearing an end, although there still remains a considerable quantity of spring grain yet to Harvesting operations for clover are now on full tilt - and here, as in the past, the yield per acre seems to vary considerably, depending on variety, time of planting, etc. How-ever, the quality is said to be very good - and the yields vary from 300 to as high as 600 pounds per acre.

Bean cutting in the lower sections is now on full swing, and due to the plentiful spring moisture, indications are for an excellent yield.

Almost Loses Arm

James Lohman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lohman, Southwick, almost had his left arm torn off Monday evening when the car he was driving and a logging truck side-swiped.

The truck, said to be operating with no clearance lights, racked the side of the Lohman car in passing, catching Jim's left arm as it rested halfway out the window.

Jim, his sister Mary, and Pat Cowger, had gone for a little ride and of Mrs. Stanley Mills and daughters were returning home when the ac-cident occurred. As they rounded the curve near the Leon Branscom farm they met the logging truck. There was no avoiding the swipe, as there was no time and no place to go. The Lohman car was badly damaged and Jim's left arm severely injured.

The girls in the car summoned help taken, and we might add he is lucky on the Fair Board Lounge. to have his arm.

The truck, driven by Fred Hadley, Juliaetta, did not stop, but was later located. When we talked to Mrs. Lohman Tuesday morning she told us Jim was really a sick boy, he had lost so much blood, and the shock, aside from the injury had left him very weak. The accident was investigated by E. M. White, Kendrick village marshal, who notified both Lewiston and Moscow State Police, who took over the investigation.

Diabetics Can Live Long, Active and Normal Lives

The control of diabetes so that a person suffering from the disease may lead a long, normal and active life has become a reality.

In a study of 760 diabetic patients suffering from the disease 25 years or more, Dr. Elliott P. Joslin, of Boston, found approximately 80 per cent active and a few in perfect health.

"The patients in perfect condiinitiated (with hardly an exception) with strenuous control of diabetes in their early years," Dr. Joslin stated, "this control being maintained for 10 years, more or home, leaving a note for them. less, to more than the usual extent and even then continued.

"In this series the evidence is overwhelming that strict treatment | family and Arnold Heimgartner retients had had diabetes for more than 25 years and yet had a sound body with urine free from albumin, eyes without diabetic complications such as hemorrhages and cataracts,

Of these 23 patients, all of whom lived in unusually favorable homes and under comfortable social circumstances according to the survey, 13 inherited the disease, the age of onset ranging from 1 4/5 to 32 years. All take insulin. Seventeen married, resulting in 28 living children, all of whom are healthy.

"Corroborative testimony that diabetics are living long and—most day.

Mosquitoes Eat Dog (Food) In Unique Clinic Studies

Three million radioactive labeled mosquitoes raised on tap water and finely ground dog food containing radiophosphorous or a phosphate derived from it, were recently used in experiments conducted by the Chemical Corps Medical Laboratories of the Army in order to determine insect flight ranges.

With the constantly increasing human activity in northern regions, the study of arctic and subarctic species of biting insects has assumed great importance. Control of the enormous numbers of mosquitoes that occur in most arctic and subarctic areas is difficult even with large scale spraying. Even after such spraying, it has been established that reinfestation from the surrounding territory may occur rapidly. Accurate knowledge of the flight range and dispersal patterns of the important types of biting flies is needed in order to increase the effectiveness of control measures. In this particular research project the region near Churchill, Manitoba. was selected. This region is on the timberline, and has enormous mosquito populations which include both tundra and conifer forest species. Radioisotopes were used as tracers. Adult mosquitos were also made radioactive by feeding them on radioactivated rats and rabbits, raisins, flowers, and sugar solutions.

Insomnia

Insomnia is a demon that has plagued people all through the centuries. Now there are so many individual remedies that if a person tried them all, he'd never have time | now. to sleep. There are many ex-insomniacs, though, who swear by their own particular remedy, and if sleep really is elusive every night, then the person suffering from insomnia has nothing to lose by trying one or two which appeal most to him.

A word of warning, though! Don't be too upset or disappointed if a "guaranteed-to-stop-insomnia" cure doesn't work. Before he settles down to the long list of suggestions that friends are more than willing to thrust on him, the insomniac should make a thorough check of his bed.

First, he should see that his mattress is level, resilient and in good conditions—that is, no sags, lumps, humps or bumps. Then he should check his bedspring—if it is in good condition, it will have no broken coils or sags. Next comes his pillow. To provide adequate support it should be fluffy, buoyant, resilient and fill the gap between his shoulders and neck. If his bedding passes this test, then he is free to try some of the 1001 sleep inducers—and with the best wishes of all ex-insomsiacs.

TUST BETWEEN US—don't you get a kick out of J keeping a step ahead of the other fellow especially when it comes to cars?

So wouldn't you find it fun to boss the newest thing in motordom—a car with the greatest advance in transmissions since the gearshift left the floor?

And wouldn't you like to have all this at a price that is right—and when the weather is right and right when your car is at its top worth?

Well, sir, we've got that kind of situation for you-now.

Because this very day you can step into a 1956 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow* and drive away with a transmission so modern, so responsive, so smooth that you may not find its like in other cars for years to come.

You can have the thrill of split-second action from the merest nudge of the pedal—and with the good-news gas savings this economy range brings.

You can have the safety-surge of power that comes from pushing down on the pedal and switching the pitch.

All with the walloping might of Buick's 322cubic-inch V8 engine. All with the new luxury of a ride that's built on 4 brawny coil springs for buoyant levelness. A ride with new steering ease and sweeter handling.

Best of all, you can make the buy of a lifetime. For today's low prices have helped move Buick into America's best-selling 3 more firmly than ever.

That means we can come to terms on the trade-in value of your car in a way that's bound to tickle you pink.

Why not stop in and take us up on that—today?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century-optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

AIRCONDITIONING at a COOL NEW LOW PRICE It cools, filters, dehumidifies. Get 4-Season Comfort in your new Buick with genuine FRIGIDAIRE CONDITIONING

DEAR CUSTOMER:

Vitamins were developed and perfected by the same reliable pharmaceutical firms that are spending millions of dollars each year on the research that is producing these and other miracle drugs. They price them fairly to give honest value, and sell them through pharmacists because we have the training necessary to help guide your selection.

Many door-to-door specialty firms have grasped an opportunity to make some quick money. By lessening the dose per capsule, they can avoid some of the laws protecting you, by calling them food supplements. Their salesmen are taught canned sales pitches that sometimes influence the thoughtless.

We do not object to honest competition, but it is our obligation to protect you where medicines are concerned. One firm now has thousands of salesmen selling a "food supplement." They charge $19.50 for a thirty-day supply. All the vitamins, in the six or more capsules and tablets to be taken each day, can be found in just one capsule, made by any of the reliable manufacturers, that we sell for LESS THAN $10 for a 100-DAY SUPPLY.

Compare the potency of these door-to-door food supplements with the kind your doctor recommends. Do not be misled by the extra grasses, alfalfa, etc., put in to impress you. The fine print on the labels plainly states they have no proved value.

Be fair to yourself, and carefully read the potency labels of each day's treatment, and when you compare your final cost per day, you will not be misled by glib sales talks of opportunitsts, here today, and gone tomorrow. We welcome questions about vitamins and other medicines.

Prevent those colds that take hold the first weeks of school. Start giving the children good Vitamins before school starts — thus helping them get a good send-off for the term.

Standard's new radiation-resistant lubricants are helping put atomic power to work

During exposure to atomic radiation, some petroleum oils are turned into solids, hard enough to drive a nail, useless as a lubricant

BY 1975 the world will use nearly twice as much energy as it does today—and atomic power will be needed to supply part of the growing demand. Helping develop this new power, Standard research teams have been working with the Atomic Energy Commission on many projects during the past 10 years.

One of our most urgent problems was to find lubricants for atomic machinery able to withstand withering radiation. Using a brand-new base derived from petroleum, Standard scientists developed oils that last two to three times longer than conventional lubricants-and speed the day when commercial atomic power will help drive planes and ships, and generate electricity for your home.

presented the recommendation. The addition of this full-time professional Scouter has been the goal of the Council for some time, said Mr. Simon. The membership of the Council is at such a point that to give undersigned, administrator of the proper assistance to those organizations that serve as sponsors, provide training opportunities, assist with camping and special activities, help organize new units, it has become necessary that the Council employ this man.

He will share field service assignments with Robert Post, who has been Field Scout executive for the Council for two years.

Farallons, Bird Refuge, Now Closed to Civilians

California's Farallon islands whose 1950 U.S. census count of ar even 30 inhabitants was reported complete before the April 1 official census started, found human traffic there far greater in the 19th century than it has been in the first half of the 20th.

Russian sealers occupied the bleak group, 26 miles west of San Francisco's Golden Gate, from 1812 to 1833, notes the National Geographic society. Drafting Indians and Aleuts as labor, they reduced seals from abundance to scarcity, taking close to 200,000 skins for the China trade. Sir Francis Drake had restocked his vessel with seal meat at the Farallons in 1579.

During the 1849 gold rush in Callfornia, food was scarce in San Francisco. Egg-gathering from the nests of gulls and murres on the Farallons became profitable and well organized, and the traffic continued for many years. Finally, bird lovers stepped in, and the islands are now a bird refuge, closed to civilians from April to August.

The Farrallons, known but little even to mainland Californians, consist of three pinpoint groups of rocky islets spreading over seven miles of the Pacific ocean on air and water lanes of trans-Pacific travel. Paradoxically, although they are officially part of the City of San Francisco, the mayor and other city officials may not set foot on them without special permission.

The permission must come from the 12th coast guard district based in San Francisco. It provides the personnel that maintains the powerful beacon 358 feet above sea level atop Southeast Farallon, the only inhabited island of the group.

The lighthouse - keeping families live in neat, white houses at the foot of the high beacon cliff. A radar station and an automatic fog-signal horn complete the island's important navigation aid equipment.

Human Regard for Criminal Modern Idea, Says Educator

The idea that the legal offender shares a common humanity with his nonoffender brother is a relatively novel conception and regards the criminal as a human being and not subhuman, specialhuman, superhuman, infrahuman, robothuman, or extrahuman, Dr. Robert Lindner, clinical psychologist at Haarlem Lodge, Catonsville, Maryland, told the first session of the third annual institute on crime and delinquency which University of California extension held in Los Angeles rerecently.

Declaring that "Offenders, too, are human," Dr. Lindner pointed out that the modern view of the criminal historically succeeds the primitive, theological, philosophical, mechanical, and psychiatric views.

"The modern view is based on a total approach to the offender, including the whole person and his history in the world; it is based upon scientific knowledge that is reaching a level of maturity; its sources are biological, anthropological, sociological, and psychological, Among these, the psychoanalytical appears to be the most fruitful and comprehensive."

Study Hydrogen Bonds

While other scientists the nation over concern themselves with hydrogen bombs, Dr. Joseph W. Ellis and Dr. Leonard Glatt of the physics department of the University of California are busy with hydrogen bonds—a study more closely related to everyday life. Hydrogen bonds are links which assist in holding together the long molecular chains found in many of the substances we use in our daily life. These links are formed by the sharing of a proton (hydrogen sucleus) between two units of the same or different molecules. Examples of substances they bind together are liquid water, proteins, and many plastics, including nylon.

From Everywhere

The ingredients of paint products literally come from world's four corners. Take, for example, a quarter pint can of varnish stain. It's packed in a shipping case made from fibre that may have come from Norway. The paper for the label may have come from the same place. The tin for the can probably came from either Bolivia or Malaya. The contents may consist of linseed oil that came from Argentina, the drier from Asia, tung oil from China, resin from Africa and dyes from England. Skillfully combined by American know-how, the user benefits from world-wide activity which he seldom realizes.

Making Good Soils "Somehow the notion gets around," says Dr. Charles E. Kellogg of the U. S. department of agriculture, "that originally our farm soils were highly productive; that is, productive when first plowed. Many of them were, like the black lands in our Middle West and in central Eurasia, for example, and in some of the great deltas and alluvial valleys. But most soils are not it is through liming and fertilization, drainage, irrigation, the introduction of legumes, and a host of other practices, that farmers have made their soils productive," explains Dr. Kellogg.

Short But Interesting Items

The farmer's share of the consumers dollar increased from 39 cents during the first three months of 1956 to 41 cents in the second quarter, according to economists of the USDA.

American are consuming more dairy prodects this year than at any time in recent history. The figure was 700 pounds per person in 1955, and is Ira Havens, son of Mr. and Mrs. going up at the present time.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, by golly, here it is past the middle of the harvest season but under sunny skies all has been going forward at a real clip.

Now, how about your equipment? Is it beginning to "sag a little here and there" under the strain? Are you wondering if it will hold out? - Well, regardless, you can do a lot to keep it running at top capacity by using those long-lasting Union Lubri-cants (there's one for every need) and Union Gasolines. You'll be surprised at the difference.

As the boat was sinking the captain lifted his voice to ask: "Does anybody know how to pray?" One man spoke up confidently:

"Yes, Captain, I do," "That's all right then," said the Bleached Blonde: "Yes, I know, Captain. "You go ahead and pray. but will I be acquitted?"

The rest of us will put on lifebelts. We are one short.'

How does your car look and perform? Isn't it about time for a grease job, oil change, wash and polish? Just because you're busy with harvest is no reason to drive a squeaky, dirty car. Bring it in to us. You'll be surprised at how little these services cost — in fact - the satisfaction is worth more than the cost!

Little pay check, comes the day, You and I will go away To some gay vacation spot — I'll return — but you will not!
