Calvert returned last Wednesday from Detroit, Mich., where they had been the past month attending a U. B. church convention and visiting. Enroute they stopped at Lansing, Mich., and Huntington, Ind. They report a very delightful trip, with just one week of hot weather. They said, however, that the Old Potlatch country looked mighty good and they were glad to be home, where cool nights made real sleep possible.

June 17, 1937 — Roy Long, Aaron Blewett, Elmer Emery, Roy Ramey, Jr., Joe Watts Claud Woody, George Davidson, Jr. Betty and Beatrice Curties, Betty Ingle and Alma Jones have been canned, they will be drawn up a loader and placed on the upper floor, out of the way of the workers. A loading chute will also be built so that canned goods may be, after being cased and labeled, shot down to trucks, which will expedite the handling.

"You wouldn't believe it! but our family of four actually saved over $300 in food bills the first year we owned a freezer. But the important thing is—we eat better. Now I can afford the finest meats, serve freshfrozen fruits and vegetables all winter long. We drink more juices, and eat more ice cream. My dishes look so much more appetizing because frozen foods have that good, natural look to them. And I save hours and hours of time every month because I have my very own supermarket right in my kitchen. Take it from me, buy a freezer."
