Fred E. Lukens Passes

Mrs. Frank Crocker received word on Thursday of the death at Washington, D. C., of her brother, Fred E. Lukens, former Idaho secretary of state. He was 69.

Mr. Lukens was elected secretary of state in 1926 and served three two-year terms. For the last 20 years he has been a civilian employee of the old War Department of the Army.

Mr. Lukens was superintendent of schools at Potlatch, Grandville and St. Maries from 1909 to 1922. Born at Dayton, Wash., April 25, 1888, he was educated at Kendrick and the University of Idaho. He married Magdalena Fritchley at Spokane, June 16, 1913. They had three children, John Fritchley, Ruth Elizabeth and Frederick.

He was the author of 'The Idaho Citizen', a textbook of Idaho government, and a contributor to Idaho daily newspapers.

Mr. Lukens was president of the National Assn. of Secretaries of State in 1927-1929.

Death was caused by a heart attack suffered at his Washington home. He had suffered from a heart ailment for about eight years.

Survivors include his wife at Washington, D. C., his daughter, who lives in Florida, and two sons, both at Washington, D. C.; a sister, Mrs. Frank Crocker, Kendrick; two brothers, Garfield and Arthur Lukens, both Spokane; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Lukens, Lewiston; and 12 grandchildren.

Two brothers died earlier this year, Jack W. Lukens, Jan. 30, and Thomas C. Lukens, March 24. Mr. Lukens and his wife had visited Lewiston last July, and came up to Kendrick where they were guests in the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crocker. It was the first time Mrs. Crocker had seen her brother in 28 years — and a family reunion was held.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Monday at Bethesda, Maryland.

If you want a nice long, newsy column for Juliaetta all you have to do is dial 2382 or jot it down and leave it at either grocery store, or mail it to me. I am sorry to have to tell you this, but I can not take my time to write this column if you won't help, and unless there is more co-operation I will have to give it up. We have enough news in this community to make an outstanding column, but I do need your help. — Sincerely, Mrs. Ray Taylor.

HALEN-CLEMENHAGEN WEDDING SOLEMNIZED ON SAT.

On Saturday, September 21, at 8:00 p. m. in the Kendrick Assembly of God Church, in a candlelight and double ring ceremony, Wilda Louise Halen, daughter of Mrs. Helen Halen and the late Gust Halen of Deary, and Albert J. Clemehagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clemehagen of Kendrick, were united in marriage by the Rev. H. L. Deweber, pastor.

The bride, given in marriage by an uncle, Alben Halen of Deary, was lovely in a wedding gown of heavy white slipper satin, with French illusion net insert. Her veil was of fingertip length, and also of French illusion lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis, centered with an orchid.

Lucile Halen, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a ballerina length formal of lavender lace, and carried a bouquet of yellow spider chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Lorraine Clemehagen, a sister of the groom, who wore a blue lace formal in ballerina length, and carried a bouquet of white spider chrysanthemums, and Carol Mael of Deary, who wore a pink net formal in ballerina length, both dresses being styled alike. Her bouquet was also of white spider chrysanthemums.

Flower girl was little Rise Israel, a cousin of the groom. She wore a yellow ballerina-length organdy dress and carried a yellow basket, trimmed to match her dress, and filled with petals.

Tain bearers were Linda and Nancy Olson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Olson, Moscow. Linda wore a pink morane dress and Nancy a blue, otherwise identical. Their bouquets were of white carnations with pink roses in the center.

Candle lighters were the bridesmaids, Miss Lorraine Clemehagen and Miss Carol Mael.

Best man was LeRoy Gladen, Moscow, a cousin of the groom; Max Clemehagen, Kendrick, a cousin of the Groom, and Gene Halen, a brother of the bride, were ushers. They wore conventional business suits, and their boutonnières were white carnations.

Mrs. Halen chose for her daughter's wedding a brown sheath dress with removable jacket and velvet trim. Her accessories were of white, her corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Robert Clemehagen, mother of the groom wore a blue acetate crepe dress. Her accessories were white, and her corsage of yellow carnations.

Pianist was Mrs. Robert Smith, who also sang "Because." Mrs. Agnes Swan accompanied Mrs. Smith and joined in the singing of a duet, "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Smith also played background music and the traditional wedding marches.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of pink and white gladioli and pink carnations. Bows of white ribbon marked the pews.

A reception in the Kendrick Fire Hall was held immediately following the ceremony. Here the big room was decorated with roses and other fall flowers. A four-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom and circled with pink rose buds and white gladioli centered the bride's table. After the first piece of cake had been cut by the bride and groom, Delores Collingo and Loretta LaBolle finished cutting and serving. Vera Olson, Deary, presided at the punch bowl, and Reatha Sunstrom, Deary, poured coffee. Daisy Head, Eula Galloway and Mamie Zimmerman assisted in the kitchen.

Presiding at the gift table were Janice Hanson and Diane Sundstrom. Passing the guest book was Barbara O'Donnell of Moscow.

For going-away the new Mrs. Clemehagen chose a black corduroy suit with white accessories, and for corsage the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The young couple left immediately after the reception for a honeymoon trip to Banff and Lake Louise in Canada. They are now at home to their friends at Juliaetta.

Attending Huntington College Huntington, Indiana — Joe Len Cuddy and Miss Delores Elsie Gaskill have just enrolled as students at Huntington College, Huntington, Ind.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cuddy, Southwick Idaho, and is preparing in the field of teaching and the ministry.

Miss Gaskill is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Earl Gaskill, Leaf River, Illinois (lately of Juliaetta, Idaho) and is preparing in the field of Elementary teaching.

Enjoys Vandal Booster Trip Rudy Nelson made the trip to Phoenix, Ariz., with the U. of I. football team, as a lucky winner in the Vandal Booster Club Contest some ten days previously.

He left Lewiston Sat., Sept. 27, in a chartered plane (Pan-Am.) with a few guests and friends from Wallace and Coeur d'Alene, also his cousin, Artie Gustafson, Lewiston. They flew non-stop to Boise, Salt Lake City and Phoenix. He reports a wonderful time with the weather perfect, if a little warm, as it was 100 degrees when they arrived at Phoenix, and that night at the game the mercury read 92 degrees.

Another highlight of the trip was an alumni luncheon Saturday, when he met lots of Idaho "buddies."

Coming back they flew over the Grand Canyon, and reached home (Lewiston) Sunday afternoon.

A bore is someone who boasts about his accomplishments, when he should be boasting about yours.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Kendrick Downs Genesee

The Kendrick Tigers traveled to Genesee last Friday, where they tangled with the Genesee Bulldogs.

The first quarter saw the two teams battle to a scoreless tie, both employing excellent defensive tactics.

About midway through the second quarter, however, Genesee's Gary Nebelsick intercepted a Tiger pass and ran it back 30 yards for a touchdown. Bill Brommaling of the Bulldogs scored the extra point with an end run, and the half-time score read Genesee 7 — Kendrick 0.

During the third quarter neither team had any luck getting an offensive under way due primarily to the defensive play of the linemen. However, Kendrick had a slight edge as they contained Genesee, the third quarter being played in Genesee territory.

With six minutes to go in the final quarter Kendrick's Leonard Eldridge broke through and blocked a Genesee punt, recovering the ball on Genesee's 20-yard line. Apparently this was the play the Tigers were waiting for, as the next play from scrimmage found Kendrick's Robin Magnuson skirting right end to score standing up! Lyle Parks plunged over left tackle to score the all important point to tie the game 7-7.

Then, following the kick-off, Genesee was held to a fourth down and a four-yard-go situation. Instead of punting Genesee gambled on a pass to their right end, Line backer Dick Cuddy intercepted and was downed on Genesee's 20-yard line.

The next play from scrimmage saw Kendrick's Robin Magnuson running the same option play, passing to Bucko Browning, who stood alone in Genesee's end zone for the thrilling touchdown that spelled victory. The try-for-point was scored by Lyle Parks in a line pluge, making the score — with less than two minutes to go, 14 to 7.

However, Kendrick was not through scoring for the day — for after the kick off the Tiger linemen swarmed Genesee's quarterback, causing him to fumble the ball, it being caught in mid-air by Tiger Jim Cuddy, who continued on his merry way to score the third and final Kendrick touchdown. Again the try for point was made by Lyle Parks.

Considerable credit was due to the Kendrick defensive linemen, led by Ray Lohman, who battered Genesee all through the game.

Midway in the second quarter Tiger Monte Andrews left the game with a dislocated shoulder. Recent information has it that he is recovering nicely and is back in school.

This is the first time that Kendrick has beaten Genesee at football in seven years.

The next game is at home with Deary — 7:00 p. m. sharp.

Making Wood

Instead of "making hay" the boys of the Senior class are making wood! A money making project undertaken by the Senior class, since Walter Koeppe donated the timber! For your information they have cut and sold five cords to date — and will be happy to take orders for more — any length you desire. Contact Jim Cuddy, Senior Class president.

Band To Sponsor Cooking School The W. W. P. Co. is again offering a Cooking School to residents of this area, with proceeds to go to the Kendrick High School Music department. The school is scheduled for Thursday evening, October 10, in the high school gymnasium.

Included in the evening will be a demonstration of a new electronic range that will cook a "hot dog" in 20 seconds — and a chicken accordingly. Something really new!

Eighth Grade News

The eighth graders have decided to have a newspaper of their own this year. The name chosen was "Kitten Kapers." The seventh and eighth grade will share in it. This is the first time for two years that the Junior High has had a paper, and it is hoped that it will prove successful.

September Rainfall Very Light

The rain gauge at the Walter May farm on American ridge showed just enough moisture to measure, or 1-100 of an inch for Friday evening — or, you might say, "just a trace."

This 1-100th of an inch brought the September total to 14-100ths of an inch. Late Monday night, however, rain really began to fall, and what the final reading was we do not know.

Tuesday and Wednesday saw a couple of really nice showers, and farmers' faces were wreathed in smiles.

To Live In Ephrata

Hiram Galloway left last Thursday for Ephrata, Wash., where he and Mrs. Galloway will make their home. He went early to take care of moving a house onto lots where they will reside. He will be engaged in farming the Loyd Israel farm, Mrs. Galloway plans to join him later.

"Hi" has been employed by the Kendrick Highway District for many years, was active in the Lions Club, the Volunteer Firemen, and a member of the Village Trustees.

Teddy Fey has taken over his job with the highway district.

While active in community affairs, Mrs. Galloway's first allegiance was her church, and she was one of the faithful workers in the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Both have a host of friends who wish them well in their new home.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS OF MORE THAN PASSING INTEREST

Kendrick's Annual Sales Day will be held this year on Saturday, Oct. 12 — for the auctioning off of any surplus goods farmers may have — such as livestock, implements, farm produce, tools, household goods, in fact, anything they may wish to sell. It is understood that some of the local merchants will also put up items — all of which goes to make the sale more interesting. Roy Glenn, auctioneer, will start the sale promptly at 10:00 a. m. Nora Callison will be the clerk. All putting up items are asked to bring them in sufficient time to have them listed by Ed. Long.

At 1:00 o'clock there will be a Pet Parade for the youngsters, with prizes and a treat for every entrant.

Immediately following the parade there will be a concert in the Kendrick park by the K. H. S. band, under the direction of Elmer Stitzlein.

In the evening the Kendrick Grange is sponsoring a dance, so you see, it's a full day for everyone. Mark it on your calendar and plan to come to Kendrick.

Bob's Garage Burglarized

Wednesday night, or perhaps we should say Thursday morning just at daylight, robbers broke into Bob's Garage, gaining entry by breaking a window in the repair shop. From there they forced a door into the lubrication room, then broke out a door glass, reached in and threw the bolt to gain entry into the office.

They attempted to knock off the combination of the safe, but failed. The cash register, left standing open, had some $7.00 to $8.00 in pennies, nickles and dimes, and this, together with a flashlight, was their loot.

Leaving the garage they attempted entry into the Antelope Inn, but were frightened away before being able to force the door.

Eddie Corkill, Leland, drove into town to transfer to his transportation for his woods job, saw the robbers and noted their car. Being unable to reach a telephone without attracting their attention, he drove to the E. M. White home. Bill took his car and gave chase, but was unable to catch the fleeing thieves, so telephoned ahead to the Lewiston sheriff's office, and a short time

Death Still Under Investigation

Lewiston, Sept. 28 — It was a year ago today that the body of Mrs. Jean C. Johnson was found on the davenport of her studio apartment. Marks apparently left by her strangler were beginning to show on her neck.

Since then the police department has interviewed some 130 persons, checked hundreds of reports and rumors and sent evidence to the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington, D. C., for laboratory tests.

Although two men were given lie detector tests, to which they submitted willingly, no arrest has been made.

"The case certainly is not dead in the files of the police department," Police Chief Frank Hunt said. "We are working on it daily and will continue to do so until the case is solved."

Through questioning and running down reports, Hunt said, "We have eliminated several reported suspects in our investigation. However, we are continuing to keep close tabs on other suspects in the case."

Mrs. Johnson, whose death was attributed to "manual strangulation" was the mother of two daughters, 3 and 6. She had been divorced for a year.

Kiddie Carnival Ends

The Kiddie Carnival at Lewiston came to an end Monday night after a three-week contest, sponsored by American Legion Post No. 13. The crowning of Kings and Queens was held before a capacity house in the Lewiston High School auditorium.

Little Jolene Brammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brammer, Southwick, was elected Queen in her age category.

All contestants were judged by clinical tests showing physical body structure, beauty, talent and by votes. The judges were from Moscow, and contestants elected had to attain all requirements. There were some 300 in all age groups and contestants were judged in age categories.

The Carnival ended with a talent show by young folk, several of whom had been seen on the Starlit TV show at Spokane.

Performance Enjoyed

The performance of Miss Marigay Nelson of Orofino, a 1957 graduate of the University of Idaho, was much enjoyed by local viewers on the Arthur Godfrey "Talent Scouts" television show on channel 4 Monday evening.

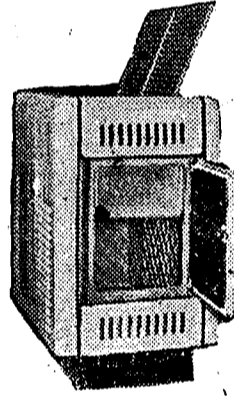

Miss Nelson, a music graduate who appeared in a number of student musical presentations on the Idaho campus, sang "When You're Away" as her talent entry. She has been a finalist in other talent contests.

Acting as "talent scout" for Miss Nelson was Kris Winner, also a former Idaho coed, from Moscow.

Miss Nelson is continuing her music studies under the direction of a private tutor in New York.

Another Snake River "Storm"
The recommendation of a federal power commission examiner that a license be issued to the Pacific Northwest Power company for construction of Pleasant Valley and Mountain Sheep dams on the Snake river probably will kick up a storm comparable to that which has raged over Hells Canyon (The latter issue may be quiescent for a while following the house interior committee's "no" vote on a high Hells Canyon bill). Pleasant Valley - Mountain Sheep has more complications. It is opposed by many, though not all, of the Hells

Canyon supporters. Some of these favor instead a high federal Nez Perce dam on the Snake below the entrances of the Salmon and Imnaha rivers. Nez Perce is strongly opposed, however, by conservationists because it would ruin salmon runs. Further blurring of the issue has been a recommendation by Sec. of Interior Fred A. Seaton that FPC delay approval of the PNP licenses until the federal government could study feasibility of a high dam at Pleasant Valley. The house appropriations committee recently refused funds for such a study and verbally "spanked" the interior department for having started one with funds from another source. The FPC examiner's recommendation reverses the one earlier made by the FPC staff, which said the licenses should be denied to permit later construction of Nez Perce. The question presents itself here: Should PNP, which is a combine of four private power companies, including Portland General Electric and Pacific Power & Light, be prevented from going ahead with these projects so as to leave the way clear for either Nez Perce or a higher Pleasant Valley?

There is no question that Nez Perce would be a highly desirable project except for its threat to the fish. Experimentation is under way to provide satisfactory fish passage over high dams, but there is no assurance of success and many years of testing would be required.

Something can be said for a high Pleasant Valley dam, too, but there's the legal problem of its flooding out the already licensed low Hells Canyon dam of Idaho Power company, and there is no assurance that it would be authorized by congress. Representatives of PNP have said that company would be willing to build a higher dam at Pleasant Valley except for the conflict with low Hells Canyon. Probably no power could be expected from a high federal dam at Pleasant Valley before 1963.

Meanwhile, the urgent demand for more power from all sources continues. Pleasant Valley - Mountain Sheep would have a combined installed capacity of 1,002,000 kilowatts with an ultimate installation of 1,240,000 kilowatts. It would provide far greater assurances of power for Oregon than the proposed high Hells Canyon dam, 500,000 kilowatts of whose power would have been reserved for Idaho and one corner of Oregon.

Pleasant Valley would be 500 feet high. Its 500,000-acre feet of usable storage, along with the effect of Idaho Power's Brownlee dam, would do a respectable job of reducing floods in the main stem of the Snake in any normal run-off year.

In the light of all the complex factors involved, the region's best interests will be served if PNP is permitted to go ahead with this project. — Oregon Journal (Portland).

Healthy Chicks Get By on Own

Antibiotics Are Not Required, Tests Show

Growth stimulators and antibiotics have their place in the poultry industry, but healthy chicks can get along without them very well, according to a recent study at the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine.

Drs. J. O. Alberts, E. F. Reber and C. E. Schoettle, all of the College of Veterinary Medicine; H. M. Scott, Department of Animal Science; and the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station cooperated in the study. It is another example of basic research designed to help Illinois farmers keep pace with developments in nutrition and disease control.

Dr. Reber, who reported results of the study, said that the researchers wanted to learn the organ weights and the composition of organs and bones of healthy chicks at various ages. The chicks were not fed any growth stimulants, and yet they weighed an average of 1½ pounds at six weeks and three pounds at 10 weeks of age. These are considered "good" gains, according to Dr. Reber.

He explained that research of this type provides data that serve as a valuable base line for nutritional and disease studies. Knowing the "standard" values aids researchers in defining "abnormal" values.

Don't Be Careless With Insecticides

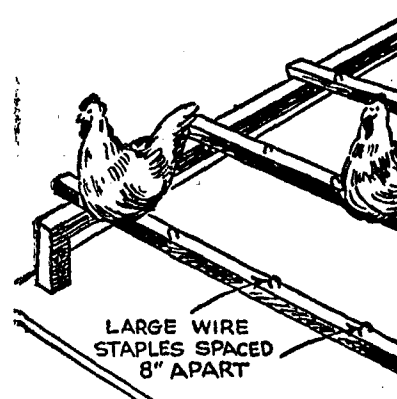

Dr. Richard Bradley of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine points out that improper use of insecticides can be dangerous to both the farmer and his animals. There is little danger, however, when insecticides are used at recommended rates for their intended purposes.

Dr. Bradley says that lindane, one of the most commonly used sprays for livestock, rates about halfway between "dangerous" and "safe" on the toxicity scale of the common insect sprays and powders.

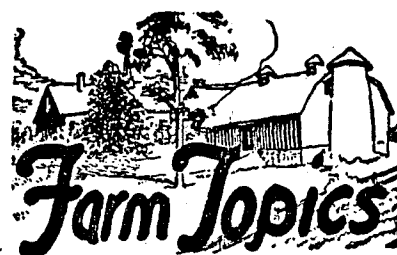

If you should get lindane on your skin, wash the area immediately with soap and water. If lindane is accidentally swallowed, induce vomiting to empty the stomach, take two tablespoons of Epsom salts and call your physician.

Dr. Bradley offers these suggestions for handling insecticides: read all labels on packages and follow them exactly; wear protective clothing and change to clean clothing after a spraying job; store all insecticides in original packages, away from food and feed-stuffs and out of reach of children and animals; dispose of containers by burning or burying them; call a physician immediately if someone is known or suspected to be poisoned; administer proper antidote.

No Crowding

Poultrymen say that crowding of hens on the roosts, especially when feathers are wet with rain or snow, is apt to cause colds or roup. To prevent crowding, one farmer used long wire staples, which were driven into the tops of the roost, about 8 in. apart. Hens settle down in the spacings between the staples.

Nematocides Can Increase Yields

But Small-Scale Tests Recommended

Nematocides — the increasingly popular soil fumigants for killing nematodes — can increase yields and quality of tobacco and vegetable crops by 25 percent or more, say scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. But nematocidal treatments are expensive, and the Department recommends that farmers try them on a small scale first, before making any substantial investment.

So far there is no soil-sample test that will reveal whether enough nematodes are present to make treatments with a nematocide worthwhile. But since these tiny microscopic worms cause millions of dollars worth of crop damage every year, there is no doubt that many farmers would profit by applying nematode-killing chemicals.

A. L. Taylor, nematologist at USDA's Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md., recommends that nematocides be tested in fields that will be planted to high-value crops.

Applications can be made in the fall, before spring planting, if this fits in with other farm operations. In any case, the chemicals should be applied at least two weeks before planting so the soil will be free of fumes by planting time.

Weed Killer Promises Near-Perfect Control

Near-perfect control of annual weeds in corn is shaping up at Oregon State college with a chemical weed killer developed in Switzerland and tentatively scheduled for commercial sale in this country next year.

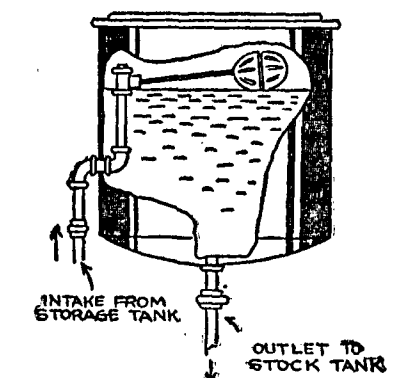

Sold in Europe under the name "Simazin," it is used there as a soil sterilant when applied at high rates. W. R. Furtick and Dave Chilcote, OSC agronomists, tested low rates of Simazin last year and found it gave almost 100 percent control of annual weeds in corn throughout the growing season.

Trials this year were expanded to all major corn-producing areas of Oregon. Early reports from throughout the state indicate that treated stands of four- to six-week-old corn are virtually free of weeds with no damage to corn. Simazin was applied just before corn emerged.

Two pounds of Simazin, as it will be sold commercially, gave weed control on an acre of corn with full coverage or three acres when applied in bands along the corn rows. One pound of the commercial product is expected to cost about $4.50.

Simazin is highly insoluble and should be applied with an agitator tank using 30 to 40 gallons of water per acre. Good rainfall or irrigation is needed to take the chemical down to weed roots. It is not effective as a contact-killer on weed foliage.

Constant Level

If water supply system includes elevated storage tanks, water level can be controlled automatically in one or several tanks by fitting a float valve in the supply line at any convenient point between the storage and stock tanks. Unit is upper end of hot water tank, turned upside down, fitted as shown with ordinary toilet-tank float valve.

One Of Those Days
A railroad engineer got up on the wrong side of the bed one morning. The water for his shower was cold. His shoelace broke. At breakfast his toast was burned. His car wouldn't start and he had to take a taxi to the yards. He was late, so when he got his train rolling he speeded up to 90 miles an hour. Just as he swung around a curve, he saw another train coming straight at him — and on the same track. He heaved a big sigh and turning to the fireman, said, "Did you ever have one of those days when just everything goes wrong?"

The 10 Commandments of Safety 1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. 2 Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area. 3 Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. 4 Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot. 5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt. 6 Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun. 7 Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults. 8 Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle. 9 Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate. 10 Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

HELLO, FOLKS:

How's that fuel oil tank? Are you ready for the chill weather that can come any time? If not, pick up your phone and call us at 1251. Say "Fill 'er up" and we'll do just that — with Union Burner Oils!

A man was taking an examination for a driver's license and one of the questions was: "What would you do if the driver of a car ahead of you moved an arm up and down?" The applicant asked: "Man or woman?"

Planning on attending Kendrick's Sales Day on Oct. 12? If so, leave your car with us for a wash, wax or grease job — or all of them, while you attend the auction, see the parade, hear the music program and watch the football game. You'll like the improved appearance and improved performance when we "give it the works."

Traveling Salesman: "I miss my wife's cooking."
Second Salesman: "So do I — every time I can."

Going Hunting? Then bring in your car, pickup or truck for a "winterizing," which means a complete grease job, filling the crankcase with Royal Triton Motor Oil, inspecting the radiator and filling it with Frestone. And don't forget those mud and snow tires. We have them, too.

Getting ready for fall plowing? Call us at 1251 for those famous Union fuels and lubricants. You bet, we deliver!
