INTERESTING NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUTHWICK AREA

Tour For Tuesday Cancelled
A tour, previously scheduled for the Ground Observer Corps at Southwick, was cancelled Tuesday, due to weather conditions prevailing here and at Spokane. The group was to have been picked up Wednesday morning by two station wagons from the G. O. C., and transported to Spokane for a day of inspection of the Filter Center and other points of interest pertaining to the Ground Observers.
A pot-luck supper is scheduled for some time in November for the members and their families, when awards will be presented, and special films shown.

Sympathy Extended
The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wells wish to extend their deepest sympathy to them, to his brothers and their families, and relatives, in the passing of George Wells.

Homemaker Club
The Southwick Homemakers Club will meet Thursday for an all-day session at the home of Mrs. Marshall Geidl. Co-hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Leonard Anders, and Mrs. Alma Betts.
Election of officers will be held and plans for the club annual "Husbands" dinner will be made.

Hostesses will be their daughters and daughters-in-law: Mrs. Alvin Steigers, Mrs. Clarence Heimgartner and Mrs. Robert Foss, all of Lapwai; Mrs. Marion Stevens, Mrs. Eldon Heimgartner and Mrs. Floyd Heimgartner, all of Juliaetta.

Holiday Ahead For Students

Students in this district, Joint School District No. 283, will have a brief vacation Thursday and Friday of this week, while their teachers attend the Idaho Education Association District 2 Teacher's Institute at Lewiston. A few activities have been scheduled for the vacation holidays, however.

It is believed most of the boys will spend their days off on big game hunting trips.

Undergoes Major Surgery

Mrs. Louis Wright entered the Gritman Memorial Hospital at Moscow, Sunday, and on Monday morning at 7:30 underwent major surgery. She is reported as getting along as well as could be expected.

Weather Turns Chill And Wet

Following a brief, but heavy rainfall Wednesday evening, the weather began clearing Thursday, and Friday, Saturday and Sunday were indeed beautiful fall days.
Sunday night there was a white frost, and Monday, despite periods of sunshine, was chilly. Monday night rain again began to fall, which continued intermittently throughout Tuesday, for a chill, damp day.
Most of the trees still have their leaves, and lawns are a brilliant green. Out in the hills the bright yellow leaves of cottonwood contrast sharply with the green of conifers — for a beautiful fall show.

GEORGE WELLS, CAVDENISH PIONEER, DIES SUDDENLY

George H. Wells, age 78, passed away at his farm near Cavidish, sometime early Friday morning, the time of death being established by the coroner and sheriff of Clearwater County. He was found at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, by Lowell Huffman of Lenore.
Mr. Wells had crawled under an old car parked near his tractor shed, apparently to remove a battery cable to replace a broken one on his tractor, with which he had been plowing on his farm. He apparently died of a heart attack, although he had never been bothered with heart trouble, to his family's knowledge.

Mr. Wells was born February 1st, 1879, at Red Cloud, Nebraska, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wells. He came west with his parents to Dayton, Washington, in 1890. The following spring they moved to Southwick, where his parents homesteaded on a place about six miles east and north of Southwick.

He resided at Southwick until moving to Cavidish in 1913. He was united in marriage to Grace G. Graham, at Moscow, Idaho, March 10, 1908. Mrs. Wells passed away May 14, 1951. He was also preceded in death by a daughter, in 1924.

Mr. Wells is survived by four sons: Aaron of Southwick; Arlos of Headquarters; Wathen of Pasco, Wash., and Shelton of Walla Walla, Wash.; two brothers, Claude, of Hazel, Saskatchewan, Canada; Aaron J. of Moscow; two sisters, Mrs. Susie Baker of Tompkins, Saskatchewan, Canada; Mrs. Grace Souders of Kendrick, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Brower-Wam-Chapel in Lewiston, Tuesday, Oct. 22nd, at 10:00 a. m., with interment in Normal Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were Leo Koch, Fred Cole, Neal Vaughan, Allie and Ocie Vannoy, all of Cavidish, and Darwin Barry of Southwick.

The services were conducted by the Rev. O. A. Wells of the Southwick, Idaho, Community Church. Mrs. Leonard Danner of Orofino sang, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Beulah Shields of Orofino.

Awarded Music Scholarship

U. of I., Moscow — One of the more coveted music scholarships offered at the University of Idaho, the Presser Foundation award, will be given to Jane Lange, Genesee, it was announced this week by Prof. Hall M. Macklin, head of the music department.

The Presser Foundation provides scholarships valued at $350.00 to certain selected institutions in order to promote programs for the preparation of teachers of music.

Recipients of the award in nearly a decade of presentations have done many worthwhile things in the music world, Prof. Macklin said.
Among the winners were Richard Coulter, Kendrick, who continued study at the Union Theological seminary in New York and recently accepted the position of Minister of Music at a large church in Virginia.

A Son Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watson of Coos Bay, Oregon, are the proud parents of an 8-pound baby boy born to them Saturday, October 19, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Wilson, Kendrick.
The name Duane Clarence has been chosen.

All concerned are doing nicely.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLS

Tigers Win Again
Kendrick came from behind twice last Friday night, to win their fifth 8-man football game of the season, against one defeat. This win, coupled with Genesee's win over league-leading Troy, now gives Kendrick a tie for first place with Troy and Genesee.
In Friday's game Kendrick had no easy time of it, although they won their game 31 to 19. Weippe led 6-0 at the end of the first quarter; 12 to 6 mid-way through the second quarter. However, 2 touchdowns by Gary Browning (one an 80-yard kick-off return) and a 40-yard touchdown run by Reggie Wegner, gave Kendrick a half-time lead of 18 to 12.
In the second half Kendrick's defense began to toughen up and with another touchdown by a Magnuson to Wegner pass, it would seem to be a sure victory for Kendrick.
However, Weippe not yet convinced, scored a fourth touchdown, which pulled them to within 6 points of the Tigers.
With but little time left, Kendrick put the game on ice with another touchdown by Browning (his fourth of the game). Only two conversions were good for both teams, coming on a pass from Parks to Wegner.
Good, clean, hard football marked the game as one of the best of the season, a tribute to the boys of both teams.
Kendrick's next game is this Wednesday with Elk River, on the home field, at 7:00 p. m.

Band Entertains
Half-time entertainment at the football game Friday evening drew lots of attention as well as applause. The Majorettes tripped through their routines to the delight of all as the band put on "Pep Numbers."

New Music Stands
The Music Department has received five new music stands, for the bands at Juliaetta and Kendrick.

About School Records
The local School Administration has been in the process (for several years) of collecting and filing, for easier reference, old school records. Every month brings in increasing requests for assistance in obtaining birth certificates, civil service entitlement, and security checks.
If anyone knows the whereabouts of any old school records, particularly those of small grade schools, now closed, please contact the school. A recent request for birth certificate aid has revealed that we do not have any of the old Pine Creek School records. If there are any records for Pine Creek, it would be appreciated if they could be brought in — or let us know where they are. These records will probably help a local resident obtain her birth certificate.

National Assembly Program
Eddie Mottet, a blind gymnast, performed before the Assembly last Wednesday afternoon in the gym, at 2:45, in a Physical Education program.

His performance was phenomenal — totally blind since childhood — his act included hand-balancing stunts and amazing feats on the parallel bars. He performed "that which he had never seen," which proved entertaining and inspiring to his audience.

"Onions In The Stew"
The Juniors reporting: Just one more week and you will be seeing "Onions In The Stew." This week the production process really steps up its tempo. Tickets are on sale.

Since the MacDonald's main headache in their new island home is the defective plumbing, we have quite a variety of plumbers in the play. Those in these parts are — Mrs. Watson's Harry, Jack Mabbott; New-Motor Marvin, Gary Browning, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, Reggie Wegner and Beverly Bowen.

Relatives and friends who descend in a deluge upon the MacDonalds, creating a very humorous situation, are: Lyda, the mother, Carolyn Skaggs; Jim, the father; Lyle Parks; Doty and Joey, their two children; Sonja Swanson and Dick Ostman; Della Murray, Jeanne Craig; Phil Murray, Duane Chilberg.
"Old Buddy," an off-stage voice, is supplied by Dave Johnson.

Six Dozen Chickens Processed
Seventy-two chickens were processed for the locker on Wednesday, October 9. The fowl were purchased from Mrs. Homer Parks.

The "butchering bee" was held at the Roy Glenn home just east of Kendrick.
Those assisting were Mrs. Bob Watts, Mrs. Howard Hoffman, Mrs. Ben Westendahl, Mrs. Harold Silflow, Mrs. Emil Silflow, Mrs. Homer Parks, Mrs. Hardy Holt, Mrs. Ed. Galloway, Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, Mrs. Geo. Brocke, Jr., Mrs. Walter Koepf, Mrs. Roy Glenn, Mrs. Chas. Easterbrook, Mrs. Roy Fey, Mrs. Andy Cox, Mrs. Raymond Polunsky, Mrs. Wilbur Corkill and Mrs. Henry Galloway.

Packaging for the locker was done the following day by Mrs. Elmo Eldridge and Mrs. E. M. White.

Eye And Ear Examinations
The County Health Nurse, Mrs. Josephine Dustin, of Moscow, will be at the Kendrick school on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 1:30 p. m., to instruct interested mothers on giving Eye and Ear screening tests to school children.

With the mothers helping (plus any other interested and willing parties) this testing can be done much more rapidly.

WHAT JULIAETTA FRIENDS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

Sale Is Success
The W. S. C. S. sale, held Saturday, Oct. 19, from 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m., by ladies from the Methodist Church was quite successful. The sale netted $83.24, and the women wish to thank everyone who helped to make it a success.

Busy Cleaning Up
Local residents were taking fullest advantage of the nice weather of last week-end to clean up around their places, and the air was dotted with smoke columns from many trash fires, as they prepared for winter. Not too many leaves have yet fallen — so that work will have to come later.

The happy grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bambrery.

GENERAL ANNIVERSARY OPEN HOUSE HELD BY L. L. YENNI'S

Cavidish — Over 100 relatives and friends honored Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Yenni at an open house reception Sunday, October 13, in their home, in celebration of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Married at Savannah, Missouri on October 16, 1907, the Yennis moved to Leland in 1910, where they farmed. From 1935 until 1942 they operated the general store and post office at Leland. Since that time they have been engaged in farming at their present home near Cavidish.

Their only son, Wayne, is engaged in farming with them, and they have three grandchildren.
Yellow roses and golden tapers flanked the beautiful three-tier wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Walter Weaver. The cake itself was decorated with yellow roses, white bells and the gold numerals "50." Yellow chrysanthemums decorated the rooms.

Hostesses for the reception were their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wayne Yenni; Mrs. Andrew Dreps, Mrs. Frank Hunt and Mrs. Herman Johnson. Miss Ann Yenni was in charge of the guest book. Pouring were Mrs. Georgia Reece, Mrs. George Fleshman, Mrs. Julia Fleshman and Mrs. Paul Haag.

Out-of-town guests included E. W. Haag of Coeur d'Alene, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haag of Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hoffman of Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Miller of Juliaetta, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Powell of Spalding; Miss Carrie LeBaron, Mrs. Zella Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Fleshman and Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Fleshman and family of Clarkston; Mrs. Jesse Hoffman, Mrs. Roy Morgan, Mrs. Lois Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dreps, Mrs. Ernestine Bonser, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Smith, Mrs. Frank Hunt and Dan, and Mr. and Mrs. George Fleshman of Lewiston; Mrs. Marshall Campbell, David and Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cassetto and Jimmy of Orofino.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Puckett returned home Monday from their elk hunt in the Selway area. We are happy to say both bagged their elk — and only 40 yards from the road. Luck? — It would never happen again!

Mrs. Henry Morgan and family of Walla Walla are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Groseclose, also with her sister, Mrs. Lura Nelson, and with other relatives here.

Mrs. Roy Whitum was the hostess at a party Saturday evening in her home honoring the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Gruell. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gruell and little daughter; Miss Rosealea Whitum of Spokane, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Smith and family of Lewiston.

Latah County Advisory Committee

Moscow, Oct. 24 — Eighteen Latah County farmers, businessmen and homemakers will help guide the county's agriculture and farm living program for the next three years as members of the newly created Latah County Extension Advisory Committee. Announcement of the appointments and creation of the committee was made today by J. O. Broyles, Palouse, chairman of the Latah County Commissioners.

Broyles, with Orval Snow, Moscow, and Gerald Ingle, Kendrick, the other county commissioners, announced the appointment of the following to work on the committee: Floyd Trail, Moscow, chairman; Bob Linsey, Palouse, Wash.; A. E. Koster, Moscow; Carl Matz, Harvard; Adrian Nelson, Genesee; Jerry Snow, Moscow; Conrad Louvaas, Moscow; Fritz Brincken, Garfield; Ralph Port, Troy; Jesse Johnson, Genesee; Tom Youmans, Garfield; Jerry Comstock, Palouse; Ed Morken, Genesee, vice chairman; Archie Johnson, Deary; Mrs. Gene Thompson, Moscow; Reuben Bauer, Moscow; Mrs. Gerald Ingle, Kendrick, and Mrs. Don Linehan, Genesee.

"We have appointed these people to work with our county agricultural agents and our home agent in outlining a full agricultural program for this county," Broyles said. "This committee will select our small committees that will work on problems of wheat production, dairy production and marketing."

"As this advisory group sees a need for work on a problem concerning farm people, they will recommend a new committee be appointed from a list of persons who can and will work on this problem's solution. It is to be a program outlined by our own farm folks but backed up and serviced by our own county extension agents as well as other personnel of the University of Idaho College of Agriculture and its Agricultural Extension Service."

Broyles predicted that the new committee will soon be at its work under the guidance of Floyd Trail, chairman, and that special interest groups would be functioning throughout the winter.

This type of program has made progress in other counties where committees have been at work for the past two years. Farm people themselves have outlined and put to work a program based on the needs they have seen in their communities, he said.

On Critical List
Latest word from the bedside of Otto Rauschle, a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Spokane is that he is on the "Critical List." He is allowed no visitors.

SCHOOL NOTES

As Mrs. Dustin has a very large district, she will appreciate the supplement to her services, and care can be given the extreme cases much sooner.

These tests will be held in the lunch room.

I. E. A. Meeting

Members of the Elk River Education Association and the Genesee Education Association met with the local teachers Tuesday evening of last week to hear Elmer S. Crowley, associate executive secretary of the Idaho Education Association, discuss "Decisions for 1958." Ren P. Cook, president of I. E. A. Local 283, presided at the meeting, which was held in the Kendrick High School.

Mr. Crowley told the group that two of the major decisions confronting the teachers of Idaho this coming year are related to (1) membership in the Idaho Teacher Retirement System and (2) the plan to gain increased state support for education.

He said that the action of the 1957 Legislature, and a referendum vote of the teachers last May, not only brings teachers of Idaho under social security coverage, but also provides that continued membership in the present Teacher Retirement System will become voluntary.

During the last six months of 1958 each teacher in Idaho will individually decide whether to continue membership in the Teacher Retirement System or cease to be a member. However, Mr. Crowley pointed out that it was the intent of the Idaho Education Association and the 34th Legislature to provide social security as a supplement to the present retirement program. He told the group that he is confident most teachers will want to have the protection of both plans.

In outlining the benefits of the Teacher Retirement system, the speaker advised the teachers to study the program carefully before making their final decision. He explained that Idaho is the only state out of more than 25 states now providing Teacher Retirement and Social Security benefits for teachers that permits membership in the Teacher Retirement System to become voluntary.

Teachers in Idaho presently pay from 5.56 percent to 11.12 percent of annual salaries up to $3,000 as their share of retirement costs. The rates are determined by age and sex of the members. In addition to retirement contributions, teachers will also pay 2 1/2 percent of salaries up to $4,200 as their share of the social security tax, beginning Jan. 1st.

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Crowley discussed the Idaho Education Association's plan which would require the state to provide at least 40 percent of the cost of Idaho's public schools. Present state support is approximately 33 percent.

The I. E. A. strongly favors increased state support for education because state revenue comes largely from non-property tax, he said.

The local teachers' refreshment committee served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Fey and children are moving into the Hiram Galloway home on the school house hill. Teddy is employed by the Kendrick Highway District.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Fey are moving this week-end to a house on the Chas. Fey property northeast of Kendrick. Mr. and Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., have purchased the Harlan Fey home in town on Main Street, and will move in as soon as the Fey's vacate.

Mrs. Alvin Sheneman of Moscow is here spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Armitage and family.

Mrs. Bob Meserve and son Bobby were Lewiston visitors on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Meserve and Mrs. Norman Lewis were among the guests last Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Bob Smith at Deary — where, three tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. Meserve came home with two prizes.

Mrs. Walter Silflow went to Lewiston Sunday to join Mr. and Mrs. Don Millard and Mrs. Elwood Pearson on a little fishing trip in the afternoon. They brought Mrs. Silflow home and spent the evening here.

Only Too True!

Plant Nurse: "I've been nursing a grouch all day."
Patient: "Gee! I didn't know the foreman was sick."

Enjoying New Trailer Home

Mr. and Mrs. George Merrick are enjoying a new "home on wheels." The new trailer, 45 feet long and 10 feet wide, was moved in last Wednesday.

Ultra-modern in design the unit includes two complete bedrooms, bathroom, kitchen and eating alcove, and living room. The interior is finished in oak wood paneling, has lots of built-ins, wardrobes and storage — making it a dream house on wheels!

Home Being Remodeled

Remodeling work at the home of Mrs. Hattie Lohman, Kendrick, is nearing completion. The front porch was completely rebuilt, including new brick pillar bases, and coat of asbestos shakes in a shade of silver green applied.

The work was done by Gordon Penland, and Mrs. Lohman's sons. The result is most attractive.

Has New Address

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Holt have received word from their son, Pvt. James H. Holt, that he is again at Fort Ord, Calif. For the benefit of friends who might care to write, here is his new address: Pvt. James H. Holt, U. S. 56-241-486; Med. Det. H & S Co.; 547 Engr. Bn. (C); Fort Ord, Calif.

Won Hassock Sales Day

Mrs. Oral Craig won the Salas Day hassock prize given by the Friendship Club.

Open House To Be Held Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. George Baugh, Orofino, who are quite well known in the Leland-Southwick area, will hold an Open House in honor of their Silver Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 3rd, at the Home Ec. Room in the Orofino High School, beginning at 1:30 p. m.

Hostesses are Mrs. Ruby Philpot, Mrs. Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Pearl Atkins.

Coming Home

L. A. Wallace, who was expected home a week ago, was held at the hospital in Missoula a week longer, due to complications resulting from surgery. However, Mrs. Wallace tells us he will arrive home Wednesday evening of this week. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Thiessen will meet him in Spokane, to bring him home.

You Get More for Your $ When You Buy It In Kendrick

DID YOU EVER STOP TO FIGURE OUT:

How much it costs you to drive from 27 to 115 miles to do your shopping?

- How many gallons of gasoline did you burn?
- How much did you put in the parking meters or pay for parking or garage storage?
- How much time did you take from your work?

And, after you got into that out-of-town store was the item priced any cheaper than it was in your home town — Kendrick?

ANSWER THE ABOVE HONESTLY AND YOU'LL BUY IT IN KENDRICK!

Autos Fourth Place Killers

Boise — The automobile stands fourth among the causes of death in America, and it is the chief killer of people under 44.

Each year the United States loses more than 40,000 citizens through traffic accidents and suffers 2,000,000 injuries in automobile mishaps — a death every 14 minutes and an injury every 15 seconds.

In Idaho last year, automobile accidents also ranked fourth among the leading causes of death, killing 249 persons. Only heart disease, cancer and cerebral hemorrhage killed more.

More than 80 percent of all casualties occur in accidents where there is some driving violation.

Speed kills! We all know that, but we probably don't realize that we speed as much as we do. It is an established fact that the more years you have been driving, the less you tend to look at your speedometer. You rely more and more on the feel of the road — a sensation that can be very tricky.

In driving, there is no substitute for self-reliance. Safety belts, special padding and other mechanical features all help, but reliance on them is often a fatal fallacy.

Straighter, wider roads are welcome, but reliance on them is also an often fatal fallacy. So is reliance on the other driver or pedestrian to follow the rules of the road to the letter. And a fatal fallacy is a mistaken belief that leads to disaster.

This does not mean that we should dismiss all the advances that have been made to reduce the seriousness of accidents. Every one of them is a step in the right direction. But it is the driver's mind harnessed to his reflexes, plus his body harnesses to the controls which is going to produce fewer accidents.

It is brainpower, not horsepower; the power to steer and brake, not power steering and power brakes which is the ultimate solution to the safety problem.

Protect Those Useful Bees

Several Idaho crops such as sweet clover, white clover, alfalfa, alsike clover and red clover depend largely on bees for pollination. Entomologists say protection of bees during spraying operations is, therefore, an economic necessity.

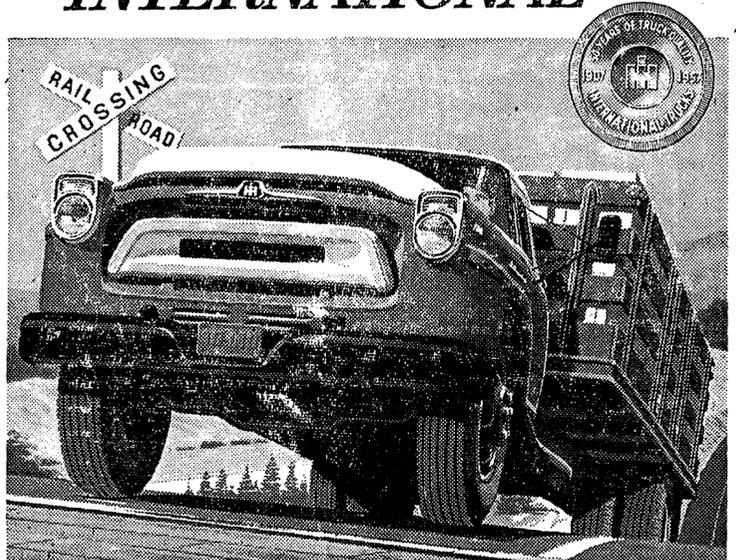

Remember — when you shop in Kendrick you do not have to pay for that privilege — no parking meters!

There is no substitute for good food, and you will find every kind to tickle your palate at Blewett's Grocery in Kendrick. 1-adv

Sunday School At Home

The Methodist Church will launch a new program on October 1 called "Church School At Home." This is not a suggestion that people stay at home from Sunday School on Sunday morning, but an endeavor to reach the hundreds of families who cannot attend. Distance, poor roads, and inclement weather keep many parents from bringing their children to the church for Christian instruction on Sunday morning.

Under this new plan suitable graded Sunday School lesson leaflets and study booklets will be sent free to any family unable to attend a church school. There are special materials for each age group — Kindergarten, Primary, Junior, Junior High and Youth. A quarterly publication will also be sent for the parents. It is hoped that parents will guide their children's study in the home.

This project is for people like the Andersons. There are four children and a grandmother, besides Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. They live 15 miles from a church. Of course they could drive that far part of the year if it were not for the cost. Their car is old and uncertain. Mr. Anderson says they can't afford to drive that far to church every Sunday. They do listen to church services by radio but Grandma Anderson says: "It's not the same as studying the Bible in Sunday School." Now they can have Sunday School papers and Bible study books selected for them by trained religious education leaders. They can study regularly at home. One hour a week of Bible study together will make a difference in their lives.

Any family may enroll by sending their name and address and the ages and school grades of their children to "Church School at Home, P. O. Box 871, Nashville, Tenn." There is no charge for this service. Those who enroll during September can begin their study with the first Sunday in October.

These materials are published by the Methodist Church, but are not denominational in content. No effort will be made to influence members of other denominations to leave their churches. A similar project is sponsored by the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran Church.

How Standard "beefs up" cattle to help meet the West's growing food needs

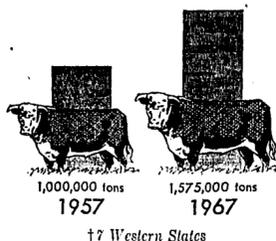

New Standard plant foods have produced twice as much beef from a single acre — enough extra beef to supply an average person for a solid year.

Who eats the most meat in the U.S.? You do—surveys show Westerners top the nation in meat consumption. Now Standard helps ranchers satisfy that hearty appetite with chemically blended plant foods,* so economical they can be used to turn unproductive foothills into profitable pasture-land.

These new blends of essential plant-growth elements come from a $16 million Standard plant opened just a year ago. Grasslands they have enriched are now producing up to twice as much beef per acre. Farmers find them equally productive on many other crops. For you they promise tastier, more nutritious meals for every dollar you spend on food.

Progress in the West means . . .

Producing 575,000 more tons of beef by 1967 to supply our growing population

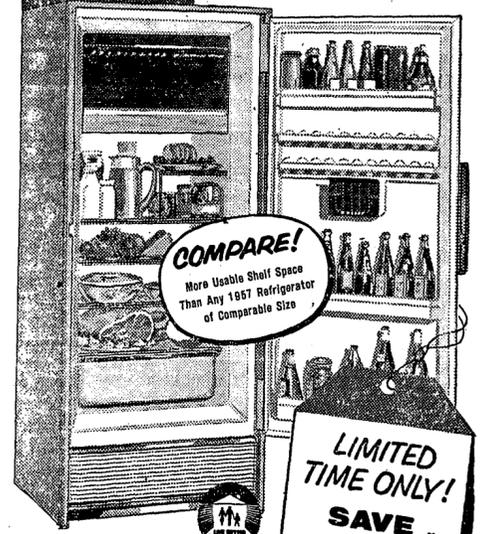

*ORTHO PLANT FOODS are made and sold by Standard's wholly owned subsidiary California Spray-Chemical Corporation.

The Days Grow Shorter

Year after year, the days grow shorter during the fall and early winter. Since this happens every year, nobody gets excited about it. We take it for granted. Yet this simple occurrence has a profound effect on the traffic accident problem. Harold Davis, the Idaho traffic safety director warns: Everybody knows that traffic accidents are a most serious threat to our safety, and darkness increases the danger.

When darkness comes early, we begin to do more and more of our driving after dark, everybody knows that. But, unfortunately, every driver does not stop to realize what it means. Driving at dusk, or after darkness falls, is much more dangerous than many people think — because driving vision is cut down considerably. Safety experts tell us that most fatal accidents occur after dark, even though traffic isn't as heavy during the night as during the day. Even if your headlights are good, it becomes difficult to see the careless pedestrian in time. Frequently, too, you may be blinded by the headlights of an approaching car. If you drive fast after dark even the best of headlights do not give you sufficient sight range to allow a safe stop in the event of most emergencies, Davis observed.

And, of course, if you have allowed your headlights to get out of adjustment, or if a headlight, taillight or stop light has burned out or is inoperative, your danger and that of fellow drivers, doubles.

At this time of the year, too, there are other conditions which we take for granted that can actually become a menace on the streets and highway. For one thing, the leaves are falling again. Nothing remarkable about that — it happens every year. Yet many a youngster has been run over by an automobile while playing or burrowing in a pile of fallen leaves along a driveway or street. And many a driver has skidded into an accident because of too much speed on streets and highways made a slippery and insecure surface by fallen leaves.

"No, it isn't the spectacular surprises of nature that threaten our safety — but lack of good judgement," Davis concluded.

New Library Now In Use
U. of I., Moscow — The University of Idaho's newly completed $1,500,000 library opened its doors for student use this week.

been called one of the finest in the nation, will be dedicated by Governor Robert E. Smylie at special ceremonies at 11:00 a. m., Saturday, Nov. 2nd.

Librarian Lee Zimmerman had planned to have the library open in time for the start of the fall semester, but a strike in San Francisco delayed the shipment of metal "stacks," which hold the books. The job of transferring about 150,000 books, files of 1,073 periodicals and 87 newspapers, 530,697 bound and unbound documents and 56,000 maps from the old library in the Administration building to the new structure, is now complete.

Students were greeted on arrival at the new building by the latest in library design. Diffused lighting makes reading easier, air conditioning makes study more comfortable and, also, prolongs the life of books, and special sound-proof typing rooms keep the clatter of typewriters from distracting other students.

A mural by Prof. Mary Kirkwood of the Art faculty spans the entrance to the new building. The mural, called "Truth Awakened by Knowledge and Understanding," depicts the essence of a library.

Each floor in the new brick and aluminum building has been designed for a specific department. The humanities section is on the first floor, social sciences on the second, and science and technology on the third.

Special reading and study rooms are available for students working on projects. Students are notified of class periods by chimes.

Hob-Goblin Parade Scheduled
A Hob-Goblin Parade, with party and prizes following in the Community Church basement, is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 31, at 7:00 p. m.

All Hob-Goblins are asked to meet at the church, where the parade will start. Everyone is welcome. This activity is sponsored by the Sunday School teachers.

Weather Damage Reduced by Penta Wood Preservative Well Worth Cost

A new "raincoat" that protects houses against weather damage, such as blistered paint and rotting wood, is now available as a water-repellent wood preservative, according to Charles Ross, Oregon State college forestry specialist.

The preservative is pentachlorophenol, often referred to simply as "penta." It is sold under various trade names already mixed in a water repellent solution, or as a concentrate to be mixed according to directions on the label.

Wood siding, especially when it has not been recently painted, soaks up moisture rapidly when subjected to a driving rain, or water running down over it. Tell-tale signs are paint blisters or streaky stains from wood, building paper or rusty nails.

Before repainting a house, Ross suggests scraping and sanding blistered areas. Then, before applying new paint, brush a penta water-repellent preservative into overlap joints, butt ends, and all joints on door and window trims and house corners. Penta treatment is especially important where old paint has loosened. Excess penta that runs down over the paint should be wiped off with a cloth dampened with paint thinner. Allow the penta to dry thoroughly before the house is repainted.

In replacing rotted siding, Ross advises first soaking or dipping the new wood in a penta solution.

Farmers Working to Solve Own Problems

Farmers are doing much to solve their own problems, believes Mrs. Elvera Horrell, extension agricultural economist at Oregon State College.

They are applying know-how gained through research and are shifting crops and emphasizing livestock in their effort to balance production against the needs being expressed by city people in the markets of the nation, she points out.

The city stake in the farm problem is larger than many people realize. Farmers are heavy users of industrial products to produce the food and fiber used by the nation, and much of this food and fiber is used as raw materials by industry.

Farm products create many jobs for city people other than in industry, the economist explains. Figures point up that there are more people working at marketing farm products than there are people growing them.

Oregon people are especially close to the land, Mrs. Horrell says. Farming is the second greatest source of Oregon's primary income, even though only about one person out of every seven in the state lives on a farm.

Easy Filling

The annoyance of having to pull the rope back and forth to make a cistern pail sink and fill can be eliminated by using a horseshoe magnet as shown. Tie the magnet to the rope and it will hold the pail in an inverted position. A sharp tug of the rope will release the magnet and the pail will drop.

Logging Operations Halted

Following some very fine weather last week, which saw logging trucks and woods operations going ahead in this area — rain has effectively put an end to such work.

Farmers, too, who were taking fullest advantage of perfect conditions, have now been forced to cease field work. In the latter case there is still a goodly amount to be done, the extremely dry conditions having set it back from two to three weeks behind schedule.

Remodeling At Long Home

Ted Peters of Juliaetta has been busy the past couple of weeks doing remodeling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Long.

Included in the work was the laying of new floors in a couple of rooms, and the pouring of a new concrete porch floor.

The motor fuel used in the Iwo Jima campaign would have filled a train of tank cars 288 miles long and the lubricating oil would have filled an additional 125 box cars.

Renewed popularity of marble tops for tables apparently has brought about a search of attics and barns for old slabs that were stored away for years.

It has also prompted questions like this reader's inquiry: "We want to fit an old marble top into a new, modern coffee table. The marble still appears dirty and lacks luster after washing. How can we clean and polish it?"

Answer: Marble isn't as hard as it looks. Over a period of neglect, or after exposure to weather or rough use, dirt can become imbedded in the surface.

Marble makes an attractive and durable table top.

Cleaning it involves a fair amount of sanding, and provides another place to use a versatile power sander. Sand with successively finer grits and never jump from a coarse to a fine grit.

Start with a coarse 40-grit paper and follow with 80, 120, 220, 320 and then the very fine 600-grit. Don't sand "dry." Use water as a lubricant and use silicon carbide waterproof abrasive paper on your sander.

For the final touch, to put a mirror finish on your marble, you'll have to rub with tin oxide powder, again with water as a lubricant. If you're using a power sander, attach a felt pad for this rubbing action.

Many hardware stores do not carry tin oxide powder. Check with a commercial cleaning compound company or marble shop to find a source.

Q—"I'll be putting in new fence posts on a lot soon. What's the best treatment for long life?"

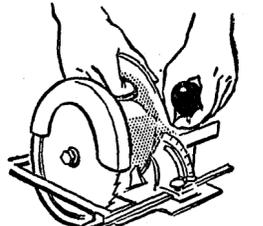

A—"It depends on the type of wood you use. The University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service, St. Paul, has a new bulletin dealing with the very effective use of a 5 per cent oil solution of pentachlorophenol for treating softer woods.

You cut working time and muscle strain as well as wood when you use a power saw, so big jobs become a challenge instead of a chore. New gauges and room additions frequently are reduced to one-man-projects with proper tools.

Of the three electric saw types widely found in home and farm shops—portable, table and radial arm—the portable model is best adapted to "on the job" use. Relatively inexpensive, it can be used for a variety of projects. Many handymen have both a portable saw and one of the stationary models to meet all cutting needs in and out of the shop.

An electric saw is a great time-saver on the farm.

Small portable models are good for sawing plywood and one-inch stock. To zip through and bevel 2 x 4 studs, however, you need at least a 6½ inch blade and plenty of power. You'll be holding this tool in inclined position, as in roof board trimming, so a light weight model is desirable.

Telescoping blade guards minimize personal danger, but care must always be used. Spring-loaded bottom guards slide out of the way automatically for plunge cuts in walls and other flat surfaces.

Here are some tips on using a portable power saw:

Before cutting, place the front of the slipper frame on the wood. Turn on the motor, let it build to full speed and then apply the blade to the work. Use just enough firmness to keep the saw in contact. Forcing causes inaccuracy, shorter blade life and can damage the motor. Keep blades sharp for the same reasons.

For bevel cuts, simply tilt and lock the saw at the selected gauge mark. This usually means merely loosening and tightening two wing nuts. Cut on the long side of your measurement, as blades tilt under the saw.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, the wintery weather seems to be at hand. Are you ready? Is that fuel oil tank full and ready for any emergency? If not, pick up your phone and call us at 1251. Say: "Fill 'er up," and we'll do the rest. Don't forget, measure your tank today — call us today

The man at the police clerk's desk wanted some help in serving a summons. "What does the man look like?" queried the clerk. "Does he have a moustache?" "I don't know," was the answer. "If he does, he keeps it shaved off."

Talk about wintery weather — it's close at hand. Do you have Prestone in that radiator? If not, why not? Bring it in today. Let us flush out that radiator and then prepare for freezing temperatures with Prestone. You're safe, you're set.

Definition of a perfect citizen: "A man who sings the national anthem while making out his income tax return!"

Winter motor oil and lubricants will soon be a "must." Bring in your car, pickup or truck. Let us fill the crankcase with Royal Triton, and install the proper winter lubricants in the transmission and differential. The cost is low, the safety factor large.

Always travel "Union".
