Since that time we have had rain, wind and more snow flurries, but on the whole, local snow has thinned considerably. It has been chilly and rather raw, with night temperatures around the freezing mark, and the daylight highs in the low 40's. We can say it is pretty nice winter weather, on the whole.

SCHOOL NOTES

Electronics Class

The Electronics Class is attracting considerable interest these last few weeks, as several of the students have their radio receivers working. This is the second building project of the year, the first being a power supply, a device used to change alternating current into direct current at sufficient voltage and amperage to operate the receivers.

The next project anticipated for the quarter is a small transmitter. The theory of electronics is being studied and then put to practice in class projects.

The many differences between high school and college teaching methods are illustrated in this paragraph from the booklet: "You will not be force fed. In high school your parents saw to it that you went to school each either! day. You were required to attend class and study hall. The teacher constantly pleaded, urged, nagged and scolded you to do goo work. In college such is not the case. The library, stuy facilities and faculty are there to help you — but you must furnish the drive and initiative. Any student needing help can get it for the asking — but no student will be forced to take it."

Forgetmenot Trees Grow Big and Tall In Jungle Depths

WASHINGTON-Forgetmenots are 100-foot-high trees in the

"white jungle." Great clusters of snow-white blossoms on the tops of a smaller species of forgetmenot tree may be one reason for the name attached to a unique kind of forest in southern Brazil explored botanically by Dr. Lyman B. Smith, Smithsonian Institution botanist, and Padre Raulino Reitz, director of the state herbarium of Santa Catarina.

The white jungle is an extension of the dense rain forest which characterizes the lowlands of interior Brazil. In Santa Catarina it extends eastward along the deeper valleys, infiltrating the darker colored but more open araucaria forest of the highlands or planalto. This probably is the main reason, Dr. Smith says, that the area is known locally as white jungle. It is much the same contrast as that between our own hardwood and conifer forests, except that the araucaria has an outline like a gigantic letter T instead of the familiar conical form.

A more fanciful but not wholly impossible explanation of the term "white jungle" is the presence of two forgetmenot trees that are so large and so frequent as to be an important timber crop. Their great crowns of white blossoms would stand out to one viewing the forest from above like large white caps on a pale green sea,

The general impression of the forgetmenot, based on species known in temperate climates, is that of a small fragile herb that has become a symbol of enduring love. But, Dr. Smith explains, the name applies to a major classification of the plant kingdom, based on the structure of the blossom. The Brazilian trees are unquestionably "forgetmenots."

Pacifier Returns To Popularity

CHICAGO—The baby's pacifier, long condemned as unsanitary, tooth-deforming and disease-producing, is making a comeback.

Today many pediatricians and dentists are beginning to look on the pacifier as "at least a partial answer to the vexing problem of how to prevent prolonged thumbsucking and the dental disfigurement it often causes," according to an article by Peter C. Goulding, Chicago, an American Dental Association staff member.

He said bacteriological studies have shown that pacifiers are actually more sanitary than the thumb. In addition, because of their soft texture, pacifiers are far less likely than the thumb to force the teeth out of position.

Perhaps the most persuasive point in favor of pacifiers is the fact that children apparently give them up earlier and with less trouble than they do thumbsucking, Goulding said. One study showed that 28 children spontaneously gave up the pacifier at the average age of 14 months, he said.

Shopping Spree Lasted For 16 Busy Years

AKRON, Ohio—A shopping spree that would be a joy to any housewife, but painful to any husband in charge of finance, has ended

Mrs. Esther Myers has retired to her own pots and pans after 16 years of buying housewares for 775 company-owned stores and nearly 4,000 complete line dealers of The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.

Among her record breaking purchases were: 19 carloads of dinnerware—nearly a million separate pieces-in a single order, and 100,-000 mops in one 30-day period. During her career Mrs. Myers ordered 10 million glass tumblers, half a million pots and pans, and hundreds of thousands of ironing tables, among the 350 different types of housewares she bought regularly.

Mrs. Myers, who had 23 years of service with Firestone, started as a secretary, became assistant housewares buyer in 1941 and buyer in 1947. Her successor as housewares buyer is a man-E. R. John-

Woman Enjoys Her Job of Teaching About Shoplifters

MILENTOWN, Pa.—A Bronx woman has what is probably the coldest job in the world...she is at professional shoplifter... and ther duties are to visit a large demartment store a couple of times at week and see exactly how many intens she can steal in the store. It is all part of a training program instituted at the store to train co-workers to be on the lookout for shoplifters.

She is Mrs. Mary Dragoti, atmactive wife of a locksmith and mother of a 14 year old boy and 8 mear old girl.

In the training program inaugumated by Max Hess, Allentown relailer, Mrs. Dragoti instructs force employees in the devices and facks used by shoplifters and mask in her classes for recurity purposes. As part of her course, she wanders undisguised through the store utilizing her skill and if any store employee catches her in the act of "shoplifting."

Starting her department store mareer as a salesgirl, Mrs. Dragoti was quick to spot shoplifters pil-fering merchandise from her firm. Her keen sense of detection was responsible for her being promoted to the post of store detective by their employer. Recently, she became "professional shoplifter" working in the interest of Law enforcement.

Foreign Trade In Free World

The vital importance of international trade to the Free World is shown in figures compiled by the Bank for International Settlements. Of the eight countries surneyed, the Netherlands was most dependent on foreign trade, with imports the equivalent of 47 per ment of its gross national product in 1856 and exports 36½ per cent.

Comparable ratios of about 20 per cent or more were reported for Sweden and Switzerland. For the United Kingdom, imports represented 19 per cent of gross rational product last year and experts 16 per cent. France, Western Germany and Italy showed comparable ratios of 10 per cent or theiter. By contrast, the proportions for the United States were just over 3 per cent for imports, indicating America's greater selfmulticiency and the predominant mole the domestic market plays in the U.S. economy.

Married Suffer Least From Heart Disease

NEW YORK—Coronary heart dissesse, the commonest form of lineart disease today, is least frequent among young married women, among persons living in the mural part of the southern states, and among those who have no mistory of premature death or occurrance of heart disease in the family.

A study of recorded mortality from heart disease by statisticians reveals variations according to age, sex, weight, race, marital claims, geographic region, and other factors.

Up to age 45, the death rate from heart disease runs up to 6.6 times as high for white man as for white women. The ratio decreases progressively with advance in age, until at ages 85 and wer, the rates for the two sexes among white persons are about the same. Among non-whites, the sex inferences are much smaller, and do not vary much with age.

Heart disease death rates are manificantly higher for the widowed, the single, and the divorced than for the married. It would appear, therefore, that the factors associated with married life—selectivity of marriage and the more through environment of the married—influence the level of mortality from the disease.

Traffic Accidents Kill More Than Korean War

Motor vehicle fatalities in the first half of this year resulted in a zecord 22,000 life insurance death rains, representing $54,000,000 of aggregate death benefits, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

This was $9,000,000 more in benefits and 1,000 more claims than a rear ago and appears to assure that the 1957 total of claims will exceed $100,000,000 for the first time. The number of claims this rear will add up to more than aggregate battle deaths of U. S. sumed forces in the three years of the Korean War, according to the Institute.
