SOUTHWICK FOLK ARE BUSY ONES

COMMUNITY DAY PLANS; PICNIC AND OTHER HAPPENINGS

Southwick Homecoming Day
This is the final reminder to everyone to join us Sunday at the "Southwick Homecoming Day" for a pot-luck dinner in the Southwick school yard. Bring your family and friends for good eating and fun. Bring your own pot-luck and table service — we'll have coffee and punch for everyone.

Our hopes are for good weather, so your umbrella might be handy to have along — rain or shine. So we'll see you here — Sunday!

School Picnic Is Success

The annual school picnic was held Friday at the Southwick Grade school with parents and friends joining the children in a picnic lunch. A good time was had by all.

Mrs. Winifred Kluckholm, retiring school teacher, was honored by the gift of an over-night bag, and the start of a long-desired rose garden by the communities of Southwick, Gold Hill, Cedar Creek and Crescent.

Cemetery Being Readied

The Southwick Cemetery is being readied for Memorial Day by the cemetery district and the Southwick Homemakers Club members. Harve Triplett, custodian, has been busy mowing and trimming. Carl Mattoon and his helper, both of Kendrick, have applied the first coat of white paint to the buildings, and the Club members have completed painting the lattice. Some grading and graveling, for a neater appearance and additional parking, is about completed. The 4-H Club boys and girls are setting up white water and trash barrels.

80 Years Young

Sunday, Mrs. Annie Longteig was honored on her 80th birthday anniversary with a pot-luck dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Cantrell.

Those helping her to celebrate the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Halseth and Julie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cantrell and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Colwell, all of Lewiston; Mrs. Mary Lou Tuttle of Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Thomas of Clarkston; Mrs. Josie Berriman of Walla Walla; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mustoe and Mark, and her son, Johnnie Longteig.

It is a milestone that not too many attain.

NICE, WARM WEATHER!

Description of our local weather the past week has been variously described — ranging from "just what the doctor ordered," to "stinking hot." But regardless of how you wish to describe it, the mercury column has done a good job of climbing to the top!

Daytime temperatures for the past week (Thursday through Tuesday) have been in the high 80's and low 90's. Sunday was our hottest day, with a 93 recorded, to be followed on Monday by 95. Tuesday was another scorcher, with a high reading of 96! There was a brief, but rather heavy rain Friday evening, with moisture here penetrating about two inches. On Big Bear ridge it was just a "few spatters," and the same for some of the other ridges.

L. S. LAHTT, 77, DIES AT POMEROY

PIONEER JEWELER PASSES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

L. S. LaHatt, 77, died Wednesday, May 21, at the Garfield County Memorial Hospital, Pomeroy, where he had been a patient for nine days. He had, however, been in poor health for some months.

Mr. LaHatt was born May 4, 1881, at Minneapolis, Minnesota. He was united in marriage to Violet M. Carroll at Winnipeg, Manitoba, Jan. 16, 1907.

The young couple settled on the coast, where he engaged in the jewelry business. In 1923 they came to Kendrick from Bellingham, Wash., opening and operating a watch and clock repair shop and jewelry store. They returned to the coast some two years later. In 1932 they again came to Kendrick, engaging in the jewelry business, their store being in what is now the Siflow building. In 1943 they moved to Pomeroy to make their home, where they had since resided, he operating Lee's Jewelry Store there for 12 years, retiring in 1955.

Mr. LaHatt was a member of the Odd Fellows, Masons, Royal Arch Masons, Knights Templar, Shrine, and the Eagles.

Survivors include his wife at the family home in Pomeroy; two daughters, Mrs. Leola Mielke of Kendrick and Mrs. Beatrice Cooper of Bremerton; four sons, Herbert of Spokane, Sidney of Custer, Wash., Florian of Clarkston, and Robert of Richland. There are 15 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p. m. Saturday at the Richardson Funeral Home in Pomeroy, with the Rev. Ray Renzema of the Christian Church officiating. Music was furnished by the Rev. Condon of Pomeroy, who sang "Beyond the Sunset" and "Good Night and Good Morning."

Interment was in the Pomeroy Cemetery with the Masonic Lodge in charge of graveside services, members also serving as pallbearers.

Mrs. Charles Parks and son accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Mielke to Pomeroy, Saturday, to attend the funeral.

GIRL RESCUED FROM DROWNING IN POTLATCH

An eleven-year-old girl, Candy Strikes, was pulled from the Potlatch River last Thursday afternoon, after she had gone down for the second time in six to seven feet of water.

Louis Wright, the rescuer, jumped into the water with his clothes on, when he saw the child's plight.

The youngsters had been swimming in the hole above the Sperry Grade bridge since the hot spell.

It has not been ascertained just what happened — whether the girl could swim or not, but at any rate she would have drowned had it not been for the quick action of Mr. Wright. He was aided by Mr. Phillips in getting her onto shore. Freddy Foster and Janet Westendahl, standing on the bank, witnessed the entire affair.

Candy is a daughter of Mrs. Chas. Cox, Kendrick.

Farm Changes Hands

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Rudolph have sold their farm here to Charles Stevens of Clarkston, and moved this week to their new home near Winchester. They purchased the ranch from Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Oylar about three years ago.

Mr. Stevens will engage in cattle raising and minor farming.

MEMORIAL DAY

Not just in Flanders fields where poppies weep,
Nor Arlington or Henri-Chapelle's sod,
But in our hearts your memory we keep,
A memory of the glory-way you trod —

Yours was the path that led but to the grave,
To bring us blessings for the years to be,
The power — the inspiration — that you gave
Still lives to make us noble — strong and free!

— Bert Gable.

Among the places of business to be open will be The Kendrick Bakery. So far as we know the confectioneries and service stations will observe Sunday hours.

Mr. Kuncar is a foreign exchange student studying chemical engineering at the University of Idaho.

IS 80 YEARS YOUNG

A Lewiston woman who was born in Washington Territory and later homesteaded with her husband on the old Nez Perce reservation, observed her 80th birthday anniversary on Sunday, May 25.

Mrs. Harry (Mattie) Wright of 1212 Idaho St., said it was just a small gathering with "just relatives over for a buffet dinner."

Diners included their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wright of Kendrick; their grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, 523 Prospect Ave., Lewiston, and Wright's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Taylor of Portland.

Mrs. Wright was born May 25, 1878, in Garfield County, Washington. She and Mr. Wright were married at his parents home in the Tom Beall area in 1895, and settled on a homestead near Nezperce.

"But he wasn't a farmer," she explained, so he sold out and went into sawmill work. The Wrights owned a sawmill near Southwick which they sold when he retired 26 years ago. They have made their home at Lewiston since that time. She is the mother of Louis Wright, Kendrick.

WORK AT SWIMMING POOL

E. M. (Bill) White, village custodian, has been pretty busy the past few days — in fact rushing — to get the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool at Kendrick ready for use this season.

To expedite the pumping and cleaning the local fire engine's suction pumps were utilized (far faster than letting it drain out through the prepared opening), and scrubbing and painting has also been on the rush basis.

Bill says the paint on the pool itself came through the winter in very good shape — but there's some that must be applied.

"Don't worry, kids, he's hurrying! You won't have to use the old river much longer."

A large crowd turned out for the grade school picnic in the Kendrick park last Friday. Treats of ice cream for all were the compliments of the Kendrick Bakery.

NEW MAIL BOX

Postmaster Fred Stedman has installed a new out side, "city style" mail box for the use of patrons wishing to mail letters and small parcels after closing hours of the office. The new box is painted in the regulation red, white and blue colors.

Business men in the east part of town tried their best to "talk" Fred into putting the box in that end of town — but to no avail. They're going to have to "hoof it" to the post-office to mail letters — just as in the past.

Mrs. Elmo Eldridge began working at the Farmers Bank last week. She will replace Mrs. Jud Lee.

However, Mrs. Lee will not leave until July 1st.

FARM TOUR HELD MONDAY

The supervisors and auxiliary of the Latah County Soil Conservation District sponsored a tour Monday, beginning at Moscow. The first stop was at the Fred Largent home near that city. The caravan then traveled by way of Potlatch to the Thomas Whybark home, near Deary, where a pot-luck dinner was enjoyed at noon.

The group drove by the clay quarry near Deary, then to the Charles Bower home on Big Bear ridge, where great interest was shown in the artistic work Mr. Bower has accomplished in his hobbies, displaying many species of mounted animals and birds native to Idaho, and various kinds of rock from many places.

Conservation practices were viewed along the way, such as seeded water ways, a herd of prize cattle at the Largent farm, strip crop farming on Big Bear ridge, etc.

The country around this area is very green and beautiful at this time.

Supervisors and Auxiliary members are: Eugene Thompson, Supervisor Chairman, and Mrs. Thompson, state secretary of the Auxiliary; John Ludke, Genesee, treasurer of the supervisors, and Mrs. Ludke, state president of the Auxiliary; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Largent, Moscow, Mrs. Largent is chairman of the Auxiliary for this county; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whybark, Deary, Mrs. Whybark is secretary of the auxiliary; Mrs. Bower, Kendrick, and son Charles Bower, the latter being vice chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Futter, Moscow, Mr. Futter is Latah County agent and secretary of the S. C. S. Supervisors.

Soil Conservation personnel, accompanied by their wives were: Kenneth Reirsgard, Moscow; John Nickolos, Moscow; Larry Sorenson, Genesee; Manning Onstott, Kendrick, and Mr. and Mrs. Worth Hodges, Moscow. Mrs. Hodges is secretary at the S. C. S. office, and Mr. Hodges is an instructor in Animal Husbandry at the U. of I.

The group continued their drive on through Kendrick, by way of Fix ridge, to the homes of the Ludkes and Thompsons — all reporting a wonderful and interesting time.

NOW WE'VE HEARD 'EM ALL!

The newest, and we'll say by long odds the best fish story to come out since the opening of the season in the Potlatch river, is the one told by Bud Gephart.

Bud says that on opening morning he went up the Potlatch above the mouth of Cedar Creek, where the river narrows. Here he cast upstream in the pool above. No sooner had he lure hit the water than "z-z-z-zing," away it went, headed upstream. He set the drag on his reel and pulling with all his might, succeeded in turning the fish. Back down it came. Seeing Bud, it attempted to turn and again go upstream — but in the narrow opening, wedged cross-wise!

Bud says if he had had on his calked boots he could have walked across the river and kept his feet dry. However, lacking both calked boots and a peavy, Bud was forced to go off and leave the fish wedged across the stream. He says the fish must have finally wriggled free, as he heard of no one else seeing or hooking it!

P. S.: The above "story" is vouched for by Hale Ebling, local state fish and game conservation officer!

SERVICE ACADEMIES

Wash., D. C. — Sen. Henry Dworshak urged Idaho youths with good scholastic records to apply to his office for direct appointment to Service Academies.

Dworshak said he will make "appointments of qualified youths" for entering class of 1959, and the candidates will not have to take other examinations in addition to entrance examinations for the academies. The senator urged that youths with good physical and academic qualifications consider the academies for their advanced schooling. "In addition to performing a service to their nation, youths entering the academies will receive the finest training and an opportunity to become an officer in the world's finest military forces," Dworshak reminded.

The senator said applicants interested in the army, navy, air force, merchant marine or coast guard may contact him for appointments by writing to Room 332, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.

LIONS WORK IN PARK

A group of Kendrick Community Lions Club members spent a couple of hours one evening last week letting the old bandstand in the city park down onto its new concrete piers and installing cross braces just below the roof, in preparation for a coat of black-top and then the building of fire places.

The rush of spring work and the hot weather has slowed the project somewhat, but as soon as rock is hauled and distributed for the black-top base, that work will proceed. When completed, it will provide a rain shelter wherein visitors can prepare a meal or "toast marshmallows" as the case may be.

CHOIR HONORS MEMBERS

Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., and Mrs. Duane Olson were honored with a "going away" party given by the Choir of the Kendrick Community Church last Thursday evening in the church parlors.

Both young women have been members of the church choir. The families will move shortly to Mackay, Idaho, and will be employed by the Davis Lumber Co., in logging and sawmill operations.

Bridge was played in the afternoon with Mrs. W. A. Watts holding high score. Other guests were Mrs. Wade T. Keene and Mrs. H. C. Dickerson, both of Lewiston.

REMEMBER THE TUNES OF OUR YESTERDAYS?

Any doddering senior citizen whose own wooing was done with the aid of such terms as Stardust, Moon Over Miami, Moonlight, and so forth, can't help but draw a blank in the face of today's songs, writes a distraught Chicago Daily Newsmen who wants his woe to show.

"Now popular songs are unintelligible to anyone over 21," says he. "Cupid talks straight gobbledeygook in 1958." The fellow's right. They just don't write songs the way they used to. Remember the tender strains of Flat Foot Floogie With a Floy Floy? Intelligible, wasn't it? And then there was that delightful expressive love song of yesteryear, Hut Sut Ralson. Who can forget the meaningful lyrics of The Three Little Fishies? And remember The Music Goes Round. It contained real warmth, and well, er, clarity. The Dipsy Doodle was another masterpiece of the Golden Age. Oo-Bop-Sh'Bam came a little later, but it was golden, too. So was Hi Lo Trailus Boot-Whip. Then there were those little gems of simple sweetness, Ja Da, Voom Voom, Skid Da De Dat, Wa Wa Da, Wah-Wah Gal, Ta Ta Daddy, Gonna Goo, Digga Digga Do, Ding Dong Daddy and Ballin'-The Jack. And there was something especially touching about Shimmie-Sha-Wobble, Piggy Wiggle, That Da Da Strain, Zonky, Nagasaki, Tishimingo, Wang Wang Blues and Beau Koo Jack. But the Heebie Jeebies was our favorite. There was a loveliness of true lucidity. Today's kids just don't know what they missed. — Charlotte (N. C.) News.

4-H LEADER TRAINING

Chicago — In 4-H Club work, as in other educational programs, someone has to teach the teachers. This means that more than 350,000 volunteer adult and junior 4-H leaders have received some special training for the particular 4-H projects they supervise.

One new 4-H program designed specifically for training 4-H Clothing leaders and extension workers is now in its third year. It is called, "Getting the Most Out of Your Sewing Machine." Well over 30,000 women have received instructions, and they have taught at least 100,000 young girls enrolled in 4-H sewing projects. After completing the two-day training course held in various locations throughout the state, "graduates" receive a certificate of merit. A well known sewing machine company supports this training program carried on in 44 states and Alaska, in cooperation with the Extension Service and National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Information regarding the training and 4-H courses may be obtained from the County Extension office.

TRITE REMARKS

Following the Commencement Exercises at the K. H. S. gym. Monday evening the remark was heard everywhere: "Why doesn't somebody pass the hat for the price of an air conditioner?" It was truly hot inside the big building. Eggs taken inside would have come out either hatched or fried.

Yeah, Man!

"I took up golf to develop self-control," a player confided to his caddy.

"You should have taken up caddy-ing, Mister," replied the exasperated youth.

Visual Problems Plagued Mankind For Centuries

NEW YORK—With professional eye-care so readily available in our modern world, it's easy to forget that for centuries people had to struggle along with little or no true scientific guidance.

Homer was one of the famous men who went blind. Nero is believed to have been nearsighted, since he's said to have watched gladiatorial contests through an emerald, which may have been ground to act as a lens to improve his distant vision.

Milton succumbed to blindness, and like many other old-timers, undoubtedly hastened its onslaught by blundering attempts to check it. After his right eye lost its sight when he was 4, he tried a number of queer remedies on the left one, but it, too, failed him three years later.

The famous 17th century diarist, Samuel Pepys, wrote anxiously of his deteriorating vision. He was probably nearsighted and overtaxed his eyes with too much close work in his youth, often by flickering candlelight. He consulted a number of surgeons, most of whom knew little about vision, and then went to an eyesight specialist, who told him to give up his habit of using a magnifying glass. As Pepys' vision grew worse, he tried various corrective measures, including the use of odd tubular cardboard spectacles, which he imagined brought him some help. His once neat shorthand eventually became disorderly and at last he concluded his Dairy, with the explanation that he expected to be blind soon. Although he never did completely lose his sight, it was tragic that he suffered so much trouble which a modern vision specialist could correct without much difficulty.

Sputniks Boosted Education Here

NEW YORK—When the Russians put an earth satellite into orbit they performed a major service for American higher education. Dr. Lewis Jones, president of Rutgers University told the Tenth Annual Barnard Forum considering education at the college level.

The president of New Jersey's State University made the following points:

1. The Russians awakened America to its education shortcomings and have demonstrated that they not only believe in the importance of education but are willing to pay for it.
2. The United States must make certain that educational opportunity is provided not only for those who are able to pay, but for those without adequate financial resources.
3. Both public and private colleges are needed in the American system of higher education. The important measure of a college or university is not where it gets its money but how good it is.

Contact Lenses Enjoy Increased Popularity

CHICAGO—Contact lenses have had a wide surge of popularity in recent years. These little lenses which are worn against the eyeballs now serve nearly three million Americans, and the number is constantly rising.

It was Leonardo da Vinci who thought up the idea of contact lenses, in 1508. But the first ones were not produced and worn until 1887.

As recently as 1950 there were only 200,000 Americans wearing contact lenses. Of the tremendous increase which has occurred since then, 25 per cent came in 1956 alone. Women wear 67 per cent of the contacts now in use, and 60 per cent of the feminine wearers are between the ages of 15 and 25, while 35 per cent are between 25 and 40.

Employment Increases In Atomic Energy Field

NEW YORK—The infant atomic energy industry, which came into being little more than a decade ago, has already become an important element in the nation's job picture, according to data compiled by the U. S. Department of Labor. Technological breakthroughs will enhance the future potential greatly, it is stated.

The Labor Department estimated that there were more than 150,000 jobs, ranging from mining to scientific research, in all phases of atomic activity in the Spring of last year. About 3 out of every 4 workers were employed by the Atomic Energy Commission and its operations and construction contractors.

Progress in Research

CHICAGO—Nuclear research in the United States during 1957 accomplished the atomic vulcanization of a tire, the creation of new plastics, several "atomic" batteries, and a partial antidote to radiation.

Outside Employment Has Effect On Student's Grades

CHICAGO—Outside employment has a definite effect on a college student's grades.

Students working more than 12 hours a week have somewhat lower grades than those working fewer hours or not at all, it was revealed in a survey conducted at Illinois Institute of Technology.

More than one hundred students, representing a cross-section of the student body, reported their work activity for a typical one-week period in the school year, according to William D. Diemer, mechanics instructor who made the survey.

"Half of the employed students surveyed worked more than 12 hours a week," Diemer pointed out, "and one-fourth of them put in more than 20 hours a week in outside employment."

Thirty-five per cent of these students were employed from four to 40 hours a week, or an average of 15 hours, he said. The proportion of working students among seniors was 50 per cent, slightly higher than the 30 per cent figure for employed undergraduates.

"Presumably, the student who is working a greater number of hours each week does not carry as heavy an academic program," commented Diemer. "Although the data shows that this is true, the difference is slight."

According to the survey, students working more than 20 hours each week had significantly higher scores on college entrance examinations than those who worked less or not at all. However, students working fewer than 20 hours per week have slightly lower intelligence scores than non-working students.

Conditions Affect Driving Ability

CHICAGO—Even though a person has a good safety record and thinks he's in excellent health, there are certain circumstances under which he shouldn't drive.

Some of the things that make a driver dangerous are:

—The driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong. Some are aggressive and intolerant when they get into a car. They need to be mature.

—Sleepiness. A sleepy driver is as much a hazard as a drinking one. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. When making long trips, a person should rest every two hours, drinking coffee or cola to stay alert. He should not take any medicine that makes him drowsy.

—Medicines. Antihistamines, cold tablets, sedatives, tranquilizers and some other drugs may dull reflexes or impair coordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. The doctor should be consulted about the side effects of any drugs.

—Faulty vision. A driver needs regular eye examinations; if he notices any change in his eyes between examinations, he should see his eye doctor immediately.

Better Foods To Get Better and Better

NEW YORK—According to the experts, virtually every fruit and vegetable on the market today has been improved by modern plant breeding and this work is continuing steadily.

Today we have seedless grapes and seedless grapefruit, tight packed head lettuce, thicker, crispier bunches of celery, smoother, cleaner skinned potatoes, bigger apples and peaches.

Tomorrow looks even better. Scientists have produced blueberries as large as cherries, sweet corn with a yield many times that of present varieties and plant geneticists are working on thornless blackberry bushes and the perfect peach.

Gas Clouds Occupy Interstellar Space

WASHINGTON—The vast distances between the stars—light from the star closest to the sun takes more than four years to reach the earth—are not empty.

In interstellar space there are enormous invisible clouds composed of gases and "grains," whose nature is completely unknown, out of which eventually new stars are born. Locating and defining these clouds and determining what they are made of remain some of the most pressing problems of modern astronomy.

Power User

WASHINGTON—More electric power is used by the Oak Ridge installation of the Atomic Energy Commission than by the highly industrialized city of Detroit, Mich. Power for Oak Ridge comes from the Kingstan, Tenn., steam plant of TVA, which uses 4,300,000 tons of coal a year.

Asian Flu May Be More Deadly Than We Believed

CHICAGO—Statistics uncovered by five Denver physicians shed new light on the seriousness of the influenza epidemic which reached its peak last October.

The number of Denver deaths following influenza indicated that there may be a higher mortality associated with this disease than previously believed," they said.

They studied 23 deaths found at autopsy to be due to acute respiratory inflammation. The deaths occurred between Oct. 3 and 17, 1957. Although these are "relatively few" deaths, their number is eight times greater than the number of respiratory disease-caused deaths usually seen in the Denver coroner's office for the month of October.

Various types of pneumonia were associated with all the Denver deaths.

The study of the 23 "unexplained, unusual or unattended" deaths showed that the individuals died after a brief illness, ranging from one to seven days. Autopsy showed excessive inflammation of the lungs, trachea, and bronchus. In a few cases, the early symptoms suggested severe respiratory disease, but in most the symptoms were mild.

In 16 cases no treatment was given; in the others, it was of an unknown type or consisted of aspirin, cough syrup, or antibiotics.

Ice Hockey Grows In Popularity

WASHINGTON—Ice hockey, little known outside Canada a generation ago, has soared to international popularity.

As evidence of the game's success, more than a dozen nations—including the United States and the Soviet Union, entered the 1958 world championships in Oslo, Norway.

Hockey may have developed from a crude sort of stick game played by ancient Persians. A form of field hockey became popular in medieval Europe where the game got its name. "Hockey" is a corruption of the old French word "hoquet," meaning a shepherd's crook.

But modern ice hockey is unquestionably a Canadian invention. Though the precise place and date of its origin are disputed, students at the McGill University played the game in the 1870's on the St. Lawrence river. They used skates, brooms and branches to bat a hard rubber ball back and forth.

The first players had one notable trouble. The ball bounced away and play had to stop until it was retrieved.

'Fire Hoses' On Sun Spray Atom Particles

WASHINGTON—The sun has big "fire hoses" shooting into space. When, as the sun rotates, one of them happens to spray the earth with stream of infinitesimally minute atomic particles, the result is a big magnetic storm, which causes disruption of radio communication through wide areas of the world and a great display of the aurora or northern lights.

Such storms can sometimes be forecast, it now appears, by observing the intensity of certain visible-light lines—especially one green line emitted by highly-ionized iron atoms—in the spectrum of the corona, the "crown" of nearly white luminescence which always surrounds the sun but can be seen by the naked eye only during the brief moments of solar eclipses.

The brightness of this green line on the sun and the occurrence of certain magnetic storms on the earth are probably associated, according to a report from the Harvard College Observatory.

Auto Warning Device Would Alert Drivers

CHICAGO—The hazards of driving in fog, rain, snow and darkness could be greatly reduced by means of a small radio device behind the grill of your car.

This is the opinion of Richard B. Schulz, program development coordinator in the electrical engineering department at Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology.

Schulz believes that the nation's highway toll could be cut considerably by means of a "proximity warning device" which would let the driver know of approaching vehicles out of his range of vision.

Well Experimented

WASHINGTON—Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was experimenting with jet-powered flying propellers, which he called "winged fly-wheels," more than a decade before the Wright Brothers made their first successful flight at Kitty Hawk.

Cry for Overhaul Of Educational System Not New

SANTA BARBARA, Calif.—Proposals for strengthening the American educational system have not been limited to the post-Sputnik era, nor even to this century, history reveals.

The man often regarded as our greatest historian—Francis Parkman—called for a complete overhaul of the popular educational system as early as the 1870's.

This is brought out in an article in the "American Quarterly" by Dr. Wilbur R. Jacobs, associate professor of history at Santa Barbara College, an authority on the famous American historian.

The public schools did not encourage the reading of good literature, Parkman told his contemporaries, but instead gave the average citizen a crude, imperfect body of knowledge. This practice put money in the hands of those who sold sickly pulp magazines and sensational newspapers designed to satisfy the popular appetite for amusement.

The common man, Parkman said, learned just enough to savor the sweetened oratory of political charlatans and to throw men of ability and integrity out of office. Parkman proposed that we teach the teachers, and also give money to "wisely-established" and "wisely-conducted" universities.

Parkman declared that it is one thing to teach a man to read and write, it was another to stimulate in him a sense of responsibility and the development of powers of reason, analysis and observation.

Hepatitis Rate Still Declining

NEW YORK—Reported cases of infectious hepatitis, an acute virus infection usually accompanied by jaundice, have been decreasing over the last three years, but the disease still remains a serious public health problem.

From the all-time high of over 50,000 reported cases in 1954, the number of cases dropped to 31,961 in 1955, to 19,234 in 1956, and further to an estimated 15,000 in 1957. Just prior to this decline, however, reported cases rose abruptly from less than 17,500 in 1952 to nearly three times that figure two years later.

There is some evidence that the sharp rise in the incidence of infectious hepatitis was largely spurious, reflecting in large part increasing completeness of reporting. During the four-year period, 1952-55, the number of deaths varied so little that the death rate from the disease remained at 0.5 per 100,000. The 1956 and 1957 mortality figures are expected to show a decrease.

In 1956 the reported cases varied from 5.1 per 100,000 population in the South Atlantic states to 27.0 in the Mountain states.

Life Expectancy Shows Decrease During 1957

NEW YORK—After rising without interruption for 3 successive years, the average length of life of American wage earners and their families decreased slightly in 1957 from the all-time high of 70.2 years established the year before, insurance company statisticians report. The setback is attributed largely to the effect of the Asian influenza outbreak in the last months of 1957.

According to provisional mortality figures for 1957, the average length of life (expectation of life at birth) was 69.9 or 0.3 years below that for 1956.

In spite of the decrease, the figure for 1957 exceeded by 3½ years that of a decade ago and by 2½ years the figure for 1909.

Response To 'Shots' Tells Child's Maturity

CHICAGO—A child's response to having a shot is a good clue to his emotional maturity, a Milwaukee pediatrician says.

A study of 133 children, ranging from tiny babies to 12-year-olds, who underwent 238 shots, showed changing responses as they grow older, Dr. Karl E. Kassowitz reported.

He said the many shots and vaccinations that children must routinely undergo offer an excellent means of studying their psychology and measuring their maturity.

All children must learn self-control and develop pride in their "toughness," he said. Their reactions to shots show how well they have developed these traits.

Record Response To Family Policy Plans Indicated

NEW YORK—The family life insurance policy, combining protection for all members of the family under a single contract, has proven one of the most revolutionary marketing developments in life insurance history. By year-end, it was purchased by well over a million American families, reports the Institute of Life Insurance, with many billions of insurance protection thus set up.
 With an average family policy of over $8,000, covering an average of about four members in each family, this means that millions of individuals are included in these new plans.
 According to the Institute, the family policy is now being written by over 60 life insurance companies, including most of the larger companies. More than 100 companies are expected to be writing it by the end of the year. Currently, many companies are reporting that a high percentage of their ordinary life insurance sold is on the family plan. In some companies nearly half of the new business is on this plan.
 Most companies have developed special features in their family plan but the average policy provides a whole life plan on the head of the household with convertible term arranged for the wife and children. The policy is generally available to husbands between the ages of 18 and 50 and the wife must usually be between 12 years younger and 7 years older. Children are commonly eligible from the ages of 15 days to 18 years.

Business Outlook Not Discouraging
CHICAGO—In times of economic uncertainty as at present, it is more important for the country to remind itself of its strengths, rather than dwell on its weaknesses, one of the nation's top economists says.
 The economist - Arthur M. Weimer, Dean of the Indiana University School of Business—expressed this view at the Annual Convention of the United States Savings and Loan League.
 Decriing "the field day" which pessimists were now enjoying in predicting an "approaching decline in business activity, Weimer said he personally would not consider the business outlook as being discouraging.
 "The outlook is good," he said, "if by this we mean a period of relatively stable business conditions, of stable prices, of greater output per man hour, of higher real incomes and of a competitive situation."

Latin America Wants Our Understanding
LOS ANGELES—If the United States should decide to shower Latin America with bouquets, then we'd better choose forget-me-nots.
 So advises Dr. Robert N. Burr, associate professor of history at the University of California, Los Angeles, who returned from a seven-month tour of South America as a recipient of an Eisenhower Exchange Fellowship.
 Dr. Burr, who visited every country in South America except Bolivia, questioned countless South American businessmen, government officials and journalists, as well as U. S. citizens in South America, on the attitude of our Latin neighbors toward the U. S. foreign policies.
 "The common denominator of most of the answers and opinions," Dr. Burr said, "was a desire for the U. S. to acknowledge the importance of Latin America; to show a continuing interest in them, and an understanding of their problems."

Russ Moon's Orbit Affects Our Economy
LOS ANGELES—Russia's man-made moon may have forestalled an economic recession in the United States in 1958, according to Dr. Frank E. Norton, associate professor of business economics at the University of California, Los Angeles.
 Dr. Norton thinks that the launching of Sputnik came just in time to prevent a drastic slash in military spending that was widely predicted by top Federal budget officials.
 Such a slash, on top of the rapid slackening of the two-year investment boom in industrial plants and equipment, might well have created a sizeable recession during the coming year, he thinks.

Territories
WASHINGTON—Rio de Janeiro, like Washington, D. C., is located in a special territorial unit called the Federal District. Curiously, Rio's city government includes a Department of Agriculture because many of the district's 450 square miles are given over to forest land and farms.

THE Bull itin

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well y golly, it surely has been hot here for the past ten days (anybody want to argue the point) and it all adds up to the need for better lubricants in your farm equipment. Of course, that's where we can deliver the goods — Union Lubricants and Fuels, for every need. Call us at 1251, Kendrick. We deliver!

Supposedly heard at a recent pancake breakfast: "Turn the hose in the batter, Pete. Here come about 50 more!"

Let us wash, wax and vacuum clean your car before you take off on that Memorial Day trip. The cost is low — results high.

A tourist stopped where a farmer was erecting a building. "What are you building?" he asked. "Wal," answered the farmer, "if'n I can rent it, it's a rustic motage, and if'n I can't it's a chicken house."

Let us lubricate your car, fill the crankcase with Royal Triton Motor Oil and the gas tank with Union Gasoline — then you'll be set for that Memorial Day trip. How about giving us a try?

A three-pound pull, and a five-pound bite;
An eight-pound jump and a ten-pound fight;
A twelve-pound bend . . . but alas
When you get him aboard
He's a half-pound bass!

Please drive carefully over the week-end. We want to retain you as a steady customer!

Last All-Day Ladies Aid Meeting
The Ladies Aid members met at the Aid hall last Wednesday for their last all-day meeting of the summer. Mrs. Herman Meyer and Mrs. Geo. Wilken served delicious "eats" at noon.

As Mrs. Meyer was celebrating their wedding anniversary, she brought a freezer of home made ice cream — and treated the group — which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Bean Planting Nears End

Most all the farmers in this community have their beans planted now, and would appreciate a good rain. It has been too hot, and the ground is drying out rapidly.
