

SOUTHWICK FOLK ARE BUSY ONES

Winter Is Here

Winter arrived here this week in full swing. Blustery winds and snow were falling in the area Tuesday morning. Cold and freezing temperatures have prevailed most of the past week.

Homemakers Club

The Southwick Homemakers Club met Thursday for an all-day session in the home of Mrs. Russell Perkins, with Mrs. Roy Martin as co-hostess. Final preparations were made for the annual "Husbands' Dinner," to be held on December 11th.

A full report was given by Mrs. Denzil Kuykendall on the proceeds realized from the sale of pie, doughnuts and coffee at the Orchards Auction sale, Tuesday night of last week.

Mrs. Aaron Wells, Mrs. Don Cantrell and Mrs. Denzil Kuykendall drove to Lewiston and were in charge of the food concession. Members will serve again the second Tuesday in December.

A special meeting will be held on December 4th at the home of Mrs. Don Cantrell and all members are requested to bring any items they feel can be used for Christmas wreaths and table decorations. This will be a pot-luck dinner.

4-H Achievement Night

4-H Achievement night was held at the Southwick Grade school, with the Southwick 4-H Boys and Girls as hosts, and the Cameron and Leland 4-H Clubs presenting a very entertaining program.

Norman Fitzsimmons, Nez Perce county assistant agent from Lewiston, spoke to the children and parents, and then presented awards for projects completed this year.

County awards to the Sylvania Club were presented to Rona Armitage in Canning, Home Economics and Cooking; Hazel Perkins in Canning and Freezing, and to Sandra Cantrell in Cooking. County pins were presented to Lynn Koepf, Kevin Crawford, Ken Heffel, Fred Siflow and Dale Siflow of the Cameron and Leland 4-H Clubs.

Achievement awards were received by JoAnn Schwarz, Kathy Siflow, Marga Wilken, Carol Vincent, Betty Blankenship, Loretta Meyer and Irene Schmidt of the Merry Stitches Club; Larry Corhill, Walter Koepf, Darrell Zumhofe and Bruce Vincent of the Ridge Runners; Jerry Baumgardner, Rona, Dave and Doug Armitage, Linda Newman, Charlene Baumgardner, Hazel Perkins and Sandra Cantrell of the Sylvania Club.

Sandra Cantrell, president of the Sylvania Club, on behalf of their club, presented Mrs. Rollin Armitage a gift in appreciation of her ten years of faithful service as a 4-H Club leader. Mrs. Armitage is retiring from 4-H Club work, due to health, and it is with regret that all see her go. She has given unselfishly of her time and efforts to teach the children Sewing, Cooking, Baking, Freezing and Canning. Her efforts have not been in vain as the records show, and we of the community want to say "Thank You" for her kindness and generosity to our children in teaching them the true meaning of 4-H, and what it stands for.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

General News

Hazel Perkins entertained a week ago at a birthday dinner honoring her father, Russell Perkins. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Randall, Jr., and children of Clarkston; Mr. and Mrs. Leland Marvin and children of Juliaetta, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brutzman of Lewiston.

Thursday evening dinner guests in the Russell Perkins home were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mustoe and son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cantrell and Sandy and Mrs. Annie Longteig drove to Lewiston and were dining.

LICENSES TO BE SOLD

According to information received here on Tuesday afternoon it is planned to sell automobile and light truck licenses in Kendrick, with a deputy assessor in charge. Bob Magnuson giving us the news.

The plan calls for sale to begin on Dec. 1st from the private dining room in Burt's Confectionery, beginning Dec. 1st, from 9:00 a. m. to noon, and 1:00 to 5:00 p. m., Mondays through Fridays. Purchasers are reminded to be sure and bring either registration slip or title. No transfers of registration will be handled at Kendrick, as these must be through the assessor's office at Moscow.

This branch office sale is an experiment, but if the public appreciates the additional service, it can probably be made a regular service.

SARBACHER-HAVENS NUPTIALS WED. EVE

Miss Marlene Ann Sarbacher, daughter of Mrs. Rose Sarbacher and the late Mr. Sarbacher of Lewiston, and Theodore Edward Havens, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Havens, Kendrick, were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage at Cameron on Wednesday evening, Nov. 12, at 8:00 o'clock, by the Rev. Theo Meske, pastor.

The room was beautiful in fall flowers—yellow, white and red chrysanthemums. Before the double-ring ceremony was solemnized, Mary Meske lit the candles.

The bride wore a white wool suit with an orchid corsage. Her maid of honor, a girl friend, Mrs. Jean Asker of Lewiston, wore a blue wool suit with a white carnation corsage.

The groom was attired in light jacket and dark trousers, with carnation boutonniere. His attendant was his brother, Ira Havens, who also wore a light coat and dark trousers.

The wedding was witnessed by just the members of the immediate families.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Meske baked and decorated a beautiful wedding cake. After the bride and groom had cut the traditional first piece, the groom's aunt, Mrs. Ernest Brammer finished cutting and serving. Mary Snider of Lewiston, a close friend of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Coffee was poured by the groom's great aunt, Mrs. August Brammer.

The happy young couple will make their home in Lewiston where the groom is employed by the Ernie Heimgartner Dry Wall Co. The bride is employed by P. F. I. Lewiston.

300 ATTEND SALE

A record crowd attended the Kendrick W. S. C. S. bazaar and dinner last Thursday evening in the church basement. It was estimated that 300 plates were served.

The gross sum of $696.00 was realized. A word of appreciation goes to all who worked together so cooperatively and gave so generously—and to those who patronized both sale and supper.

UNION SERVICE

Plans have been formed for a Union Thanksgiving Service, to be observed on Thanksgiving Day at 9:30 a. m. The service will be held in the Assembly of God Church, with Rev. Deweber leading the song service. Special music will be offered by a united choir.

The Thanksgiving message will be delivered by Rev. Ernest Gates. Make your plans for the day to include this service. Make the day a special day of giving thanks to God.

AT DRUGSTORE

JULIAETTA DOINGS IN PAST WEEK

Many Attend Shower

The pink and blue shower given in honor of Mrs. Jerry White Friday evening in the Nazarene Church was attended by a very good crowd, the honoree receiving many lovely gifts.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Dennis Racicot, Mrs. Al. Pederson, Mrs. Martin Shove, Mrs. Willard Bowen and Mrs. Onal Cope.

Out-of-town guests included the honoree's sister, Mrs. Don Lombardi of Lewiston, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. E. M. White of Kendrick.

Enters Hospital

Mrs. Marie Dahl was entered as a patient in the Gritman Hospital at Moscow last Friday. She has suffered several light strokes.

Mrs. Dahl had been staying with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mael and family of Deary for the past two weeks.

General News

Warner Adsett of Lewiston was a Sunday morning visitor in the Harvie Shepherd home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvie Shepherd entertained with a dinner on Veterans' Day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Banks and family of Oakesdale, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shepherd of Lewiston, and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Hoiland and family of Troy. The two Shepherds are brothers, and Mrs. Hoiland Mrs. Shepherd's sister.

Mrs. A. W. (Burt) Bailey of Lewiston was a visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Halliday Monday afternoon.

Miss Alta Moore of Big Bear ridge has moved from her home there to the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Kremmin, to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Fairfield and Chris and Henry Tschantz, the latter of Southwick, arrived home on Friday night following a week's vacation spent on the coast visiting with relatives—Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tschantz at Tacoma, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Thayer at Veronica, Oregon. Henry purchased a '59 Ford at Portland, which he drove home.

The Fairfields also visited in the Dalles, Oregon with old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wunderlich and Linda of Orofino were Sunday afternoon callers here in the home of relatives.

Mrs. Maeci Nye has been confined to her home with illness.

Mrs. Laura Irwin left this week for Ritzville, Wash., where she will spend some time visiting in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Leland S. Irwin.

A cosmetics party was given in the home of Mrs. Gale Clark Wednesday evening. This is the second one held here to introduce these products.

News is very scarce this week. It seems as if folks must be staying close to the home fires in this cool weather, and not "circulating around" very much.

4-H CLUB NEWS

The meeting was called to order by the past president, Cheryl Westendahl.

Following the 4-H pledge the new vice president Guyla Warriner, took over in the absence of the new president, Ida Glenn.

In line of new business there was a discussion of a food sale on Nov. 22, to raise money to continue paying for the sewing machine purchased a few months ago.

The past 4-H Record books were distributed and new ones received.

—4-H Reporter, Jane Westendahl

UPPED IN RANK

Word has been received that Jim Lohman and Reinhard Schroeder, both of whom are with the Armed Forces and stationed in Germany, have been promoted to the rank of Pfc.

PANEL DISCUSSION

The program at the High school last Wednesday evening commemorating National Education Week, was only fairly well attended. However, for those present the panel discussion proved most interesting.

Parents as well as teachers explored a multitude of subjects, raised many questions, and very informally discussed current school problems of interest.

The panel, composed of Mrs. Adrian Johns, Mrs. Dave Clayton, Ted Grinolds, C. Y. Groseclose and Harry Newman opened up and explored issues in which all parents should be deeply interested.

Mrs. Bob Magnuson acted as the moderator.

JOINT DISTRICT P-T. A. MET MON. EVE

The Joint District No. 283 P-T. A. met Monday evening in the Kendrick High school with over 40 in attendance.

The president, Mrs. Robert Nelson, gave a short report on the State Congress of Parents and Teachers at Nampa, which she had attended last month. She also reported that Dr. H. Snyder University of Idaho professor, was the new state incoming president.

It was decided to auction the picture given by Harley Ferryman, Mrs. Darwin Tarry was the purchaser in the Chinese auction which was conducted by Robert Hall.

Mrs. Robert Magnuson, membership chairman, reported 63 members to date.

Mrs. R. L. Blewett reported nine subscriptions for the Parent-Teacher Magazine.

Mrs. Gerald Ingle advised all to watch the Kendrick Gazette for the date and place for the observance of United Nations Day, to be held either on Dec. 2nd or 3rd.

Mrs. Elmer Stitzlein reported that 25 children had been listed as old enough for school next fall, and that anyone in this district, not contacted, should call her.

Gerald White, principal of the Juliaetta grade school, reported that money received from the school sale last month, had gone into a recreation room and games for children of all ages attending the school, for use in bad weather.

Mrs. Elmer Stitzlein reported that 66 young people had participated in the Choral Clinic held at the Juliaetta school house on November 8.

R. L. Meserve invited all interested to visit the newly organized science room at the High school.

Mrs. George Merrick, program chairman on the theme "Reading and Library Science," took the group through the school library, reminding everyone that it was the "heart of the school." She reported 2,178 books in the library, of which 1,000 were fiction and the others covering nine other fields, with 75 percent of the books being classified "superior," in content and quality.

There are 24 periodicals coming to the library, 12 of which are listed in "Readers Guide." The following is a list of them: Time, News Week, Ladies Home Journal, Reader's Digest, Popular Mechanics, National Geographic, Saturday Review, Life, N. E. A. Journal, Saturday Evening Post, U. S. News, Science News Letter, Scientific American, Field and Stream, Current History, Consumer's Report, Popular Electronics, Sport, Motor, Friends, Flying, True West, Down Beat, Seventeen, and Parent-Teacher Magazine.

Delicious refreshments were served by the Leland Ladies following this very interesting program.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Louis Alexander, who is a patient at the Lewiston Orchards Nursing Home, was feted with a birthday party last Tuesday. Their daughter, Mrs. Joe Michaelis of Lewiston, baked the birthday cake, and friends and relatives called to share in remembering the day. Those attending from here included Mr. and Mrs. Arley Allen, Juliaetta; Mrs. Lettie Israel and Mr. and Mrs. Weyer Weyen.

Mrs. Alexander is recuperating from a broken hip, suffered in a fall last June. Friends found her in good spirits and thankful she can be up in a wheel chair and able to help some with the care of her husband, who has been a bed patient for years.

She hopes to be able to return to their home in a few weeks.

NEW ARRIVALS

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lovejoy of 2315 14th Ave., Lewiston, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, born Thursday, Nov. 13, at the St. Joseph's Hospital. She weighed in at 8 pounds and 4 ounces and has been named Debra Kay. The mother will be remembered as Leone Parks. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Parks of Leland.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riebold, Pine Creek (Kendrick) became the parents of an 8 1/2 pound son, Wednesday morning, Nov. 19, at the family home. All cornered are doing nicely.

There are now parking meters in Kendrick. Park free while you trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks are now looking for a house in Moscow, and will move there as soon as one is secured.

THIS AND THAT IN LOCAL HAPPENINGS

WHEAT GROWERS

Research on new uses for wheat highlights the Latah County Wheat Growers Association meeting set for Friday, Nov. 21, at 1:30 p. m., in the Moscow Grange Hall.

Dr. James W. Pence, director of cereal research at the Albany, Calif., U. S. D. A. research station will be the featured speaker and will bring to the wheat growers the latest word in research being done on utilization of cereal grains for products other than human and livestock food.

Charles Gabby, Lewiston, president of the Idaho Wheat Association, will outline the work of the association and describe how the Idaho wheat farmer can help in the program of selling our wheat to foreign countries.

Plans are for some actual chemical demonstrations to be performed before the group which will show ways grains can be used in completely new products.

Election of officers will be held, at which time three directors will be selected to serve three-year terms for the Latah County Wheat Growers Association.

THE WEATHER

It is said that "the weather is always a safe topic," and that may well be the case.

At any rate we have certainly had a wide variety of the past week. It all began with heavy rains last Thursday and Friday, ending in a snow storm, with the depth on the various ridges varying from four to six inches. Here in the canyon there was just enough to whiten the ground.

Saturday it began clearing, and Sunday was one of the most beautiful days anyone could desire, even though it was quite chill, the thermometer being just above freezing.

Sunday night the mercury really "went boom," dropping to a low of 14 degrees!

Monday it gradually began to warm up, accompanied by cloudiness, and Tuesday it was snowing in earnest.

Oh, well, you can't have everything—and we've certainly had some wonderful fall weather.

HUNTING BETTER

The snow on the higher elevations, which arrived the latter part of last week, has greatly improved hunting conditions in this area, and a few deer and elk are now being taken.

Previous to that time it was a case of "chase 'em out of the brush" and hope that you got a shot or two as they went by.

We understand that a few of the local hunters have bagged elk—and many have gotten deer.

Reports have been drifting in for some time of "spotlighting operations" on the ridges and back roads, with the "hunters" using jeeps. The deep snow will probably put a stop to that as it makes traveling more difficult and tracks comparatively easy to read.

AT BOVILL

In a note asking a change of address, Mrs. Chas. Krogh, formerly of Juliaetta, says in part:

"Please change our mailing address for the Gazette to Bovill. We moved here in September. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reid and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rayment and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mee and sons all live here, too. Mr. Krogh manages the mill Mead & Howard purchased, between Bovill and Elk River, and all of us live at the mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watson and sons moved to Elk River, and he hauls the lumber from here to Juliaetta. This mill is now the "Neva Mill" of the Mead & Howard Lumber Co. It was formerly the "Johnson Mill."

SPECIAL ELECTION

The attention of all local residents is called to the "Notice of Special Election" appearing for the last time in this issue of the Gazette.

The purpose of this "Election" is to permit the transfer of a plot of ground in the east and north portion of town, once designated as a "park area," to Joint School District No. 283.

It seems that under the law, land once designated as a park, may not be sold or transferred without being put to a vote of the people.

The ground mentioned lies near the C. H. Fry and Manning Onstott homes.

BIDS OPENED

Lewiston—Bids were opened Tuesday at Boise on several contracts in north Idaho.

Max J. Kunev of Spokane was the apparent low bidder on the Southwick-Kendrick project with a bid of $518,996.55. Runner-up was Frank G. Eavine, Inc. of Yardley, Wash., with a bid of $633,471.25.

Forest D. Pumma, Spokane, was the apparent low bidder on the Coeur d'Alene road with an offer of $135,319.00.

The Southwick-Kendrick road is a regular Federal aid secondary highway project.

Bids are now being studied in Boise before contracts are awarded.

Mr. and Mrs. George Merrick spent the week-end in Kennewick, visiting with relatives.

SKATING PARTY

The K. H. S. freshmen sponsored a private skating party Monday evening for the Jr. and Sr. High school at Lewiston Skateland. Two buses, driven by Ed. Mielke and Dick Benjamin and accompanied by Mrs. Jack Bushong, took 103 students down, leaving Kendrick at 6:30 and returning at 11:15 p. m.

All reported a wonderful time, with casualties held to a minimum, mostly floor burns, blisters and bruises! So successful was the evening (despite injuries) that a repeat "performance" is being asked.

TAKE PHYSICALS

The K. H. S. basketball team invaded the office of Dr. Christensen Monday afternoon to get their physical examinations.

Practice has begun in earnest.

Cooked Food Sale

The Good Doers 4-H Club will hold a cooked food sale in the Fire Hall, Saturday, beginning at 10:00 a. m. Pie and coffee will also be served. -1

TO CELEBRATE 50TH YEAR IN BUSINESS

N. B. Long & Sons will celebrate their 50th Anniversary this week. The colorful saga of half a century of doing business in Kendrick is told by Marvin and Tom Long, sons of the late N. B. Long, who came to Kendrick in November of 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Long and six children, living in Leland, where they operated a meat business for four years prior to this time (1908), decided Kendrick was a good site for a meat market — and the move was made. N. B. Long and son Tom came down first in November of 1908, and purchased the meat market from the late C. G. Compton, which was situated in the block where the Kendrick Hotel now stands. A bank and post office were the only other business houses in the block. Tom operated the market until the family moved down in April of 1909. Business was good, the meat being butchered at Leland and brought down here for sale and distribution.

The family moved into the big home at the bottom of the school house hill, which was purchased from Henry Wessels, and has been occupied by the Long family ever since.

In 1910 their eldest son, Joday, who was working at Pasco as a printer, came home to join his father and Tom in the meat market. By 1910 they were looking for a new location and moved the store to the west part of town, purchasing part of the J. M. Wild Block, which is now in use as the Kendrick Fire Hall. Still handling just meat, their market continued to flourish. Tom said: "During harvest we would send out a beef a day."

Feeling the need to expand, groceries were added in the fall of 1916. They purchased the Baker's General Department Store in March of 1920, and combined both stocks, also purchasing the remainder of the J. M. Wild Block where their store is now situated. At this time another son, Marvin, joined the family enterprise. In talking to Marvin and Tom about the "good old days" both agreed there wasn't much in Kendrick when they first came — no paved streets, no lights, no water for irrigation. There wasn't one green lawn in town — and you were fined $5.00 if you used water for this purpose!

Reminiscing Marvin said: "Things have sure changed. There was no Saturday evening trade in the early days, all business was over by 3:00 p. m., the wagons loaded and headed for home. Flour, sugar, salt and coal oil were handled by the car load — now bread is delivered sliced to the door. We're lucky if we sell two barrels of flour a week. There is no need to stock up. When I started to clerk in 1910, items in demand were Arbuckle Coffee, China Block Matches, Corn Cake Tobacco, Cotton Shortening, ranch butter, high button shoes, calico, percales, assortment of ladies' corsets, long-handled fleeced-lined ladies' and children's underwear.

"The roads? — well, there weren't any, just muddy, rutted, trails, no good grades out. Of course, no cars and only three mail boxes, one at each end of town and one centrally located. A few lamp posts — and, of course, hitching posts for the farmers' teams."

Marvin and Tom added: "We've seen many ups and downs in our 50 years of doing business — two World Wars, two bank failures, depressions and floods. The people should have perhaps been daunted, the town given up the struggle for survival. But Kendrick and its people drew strength and progressiveness from adversity and have continued to flourish as a trading center.

"There has always been competition and I believe it was greater then than now — Ziemann's at Southwick, DeWinter and Godzward at Leland; the Kendrick General Store and the Juliaetta Department Store; David's and Williamson's at Moscow (folks took the train), all combined to make merchandising tough. But through the past 50 years of square dealing, a reputation for value received has established the N. B. Long & Sons."

Marvin said: "The school was built in 1912, and my father was a member of the school board. It took four bond elections before it passed." The Community Methodist Church was built in 1919, and again he worked as a board member to see this come to pass. The family took an active part in community and civic affairs, contributing to its growth down through the years.

Tom left the business in 1910 to homestead in Montana, later entering the Service in World War I, serving 22 months in France. He returned here in 1919. Joday died in October of 1927, and his father (N. B. Long) passed away in 1928. The store was then run as a partnership until 1929 when it was incorporated — the Joday Long Estate, Mrs. N. B. Long, Tom Long and Marvin Long being the incorporators. Mrs. N. B. Long died in the spring of 1947. Marvin then took over control of the business in 1948, and Tom took charge of the farm which was owned by Tom and Marvin.

With E. T. Long, president; Martha Long, vice president; Marvin Long, secretary-treasurer, and with Mrs. Edgar Long, the above members form a board of directors, and include all stock holders.

Marvin says it's always been a family enterprise. Now there are only three members of the original family left, Tom, Marvin and Mrs. J. E. Key of Spokane. Their sister, Mrs. Anna Varo died Feb. 13, 1952, and brother Edgar, Feb. 1957. Marvin and his wife live in the old family home and Tom and his wife in the west part of town.

Living a life-time in Kendrick, cuddled in the timbered slopes of the Potlatch river canyon, has been a rewarding adventure for this family. Not only has Kendrick provided them a life of meaningful activity — but they have played an important role in its development.

LOG MARKET HAS PROBLEMS, TOO

Moscow — According to Russell S. Slade, extension farm forester, the log market as affected by the lumber market, presents some problems as well as bright spots. At present white pine lumber appears to be the toughest one to move. Ponderosa pine is about the same last September, with some weaknesses showing up in the lower grades. Cedar is becoming increasingly difficult to move. These developments are largely due to the extreme cost consciousness which is developing in the consumer end of the market.

On the brighter side of the picture, mixed lumber, douglas fir, larch, white fir and hemlock showed an unusually good recovery during the past summer after an extremely low level in the spring. However, these species are now stabilized at a somewhat lower level but still permitting good demands at some of the mills. Apart from the lumber mills, some specialty log outlets provide woodland owners with good outlets. White pine which meets the specifications may be sold to veneer and plywood mills. This is also true of high quality ponderosa pine. Other opportunities appear for lower grade ponderosa pine in the box wood market. Some tree farmers in Kootenai county are taking advantage of the pulp market. In one case Lonnie Fine of Post Falls, Idaho, removed 90 cords of lodgepole pine on 11 acres of woodland which had a good stand of ponderosa pine. He also pruned the first 18 feet of the best of these. Thus Lonnie not only gave these ponderosa pine crop trees more room to grow, but he also insured that they would produce high quality wood in the future.

Of special interest at this time, two Christmas tree markets are listed. All cutters who are interested in these markets should contact the buyers first. In this highly competitive industry, quality of the trees is becoming more important every year. Most buyers are experienced field men who will be glad to go into the woodland and show prospective cutters what they want. They also can show what can be done to thin, open and unbalanced trees.

This all leads up to the fact that the woodland owners must constantly be alert to all markets in order to manage their land successfully.

PAPER PLANT

Little Rock, Ark. — Potlatch Forests, Inc., announced plans this week to construct a $35,000,000 paper mill in the area of McGehee, Arkansas City and Rohwer.

The Lewiston, Idaho, firm said the date that construction is begun will be determined by market conditions. No date for putting the plant into operation was announced.

Official word of the project was given by the firm to Governor Orval E. Faubus in a telegram.

R. E. Bundy, Potlatch Forests president, told Faubus the firm had acquired options on three sites of 500 acres each. A definite site will be picked after test drillings determine the load bearing of the land and the availability of underground water.

Some 400 persons will be employed when the plant begins operations, Bundy said. The facility will produce bleach board and pulp.

Potlatch recently acquired the Bradley and Southern lumber mills at Warren, Arkansas.

PAY CHECK

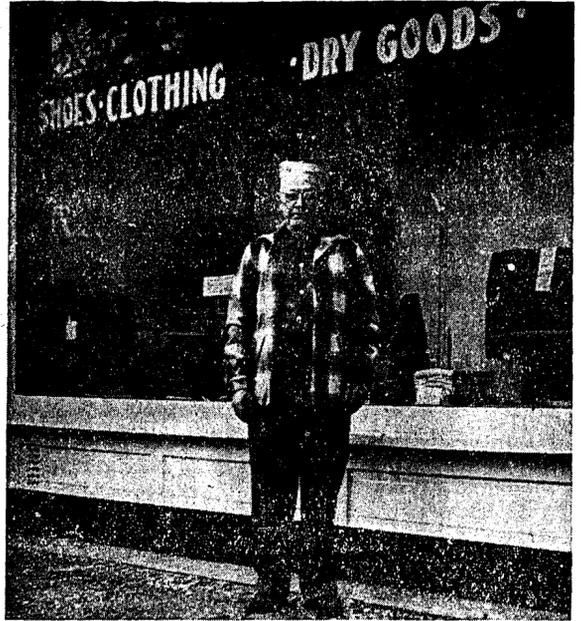

Moscow — Latah county's soil bank participation check arrived in Moscow last week, second in amount to only one other county in Idaho.

Agricultural stabilization and conservation office manager Harold Beach said that Latah county's share, while below the figure requested, was second only to Cassia county.

Beach said $297,109 was received for new acreage contracts and $62,593 as rental on old contracts carried over from last year. He said the total took care of 117 of the 175 who submitted contract bids in the county.

Cassia county received 431,162 for new acreage contracts.

THE NEW CARS

It seems apparent, now that the new cars are out, that the 1959 models are a continuation in the longer, lower, wider trend which has characterized that American automobile market. This is a significant development, but one which had been predicted.

At least one manufacturer has argued that a smaller, more economical car is what the American public wants. However, the Big Three manufacturers have insisted that the American public wants just what they are being given — longer, lower and wider automobiles. The Big Three are probably correct, although it seems there is a large enough segment of the public which is turning to the smaller cars to make it a profitable operation.

Just in case that segment which prefers the smaller car is growing and will grow even larger the Big Three are concentrating on small cars — which will be introduced at a later date. And one can note a little less emphasis on horse-power and more emphasis on economy, and even thrift — even among the larger cars which are on the market.

It must be remembered that it takes some three years and maybe more, for the major companies to change the direction of their styling. Of course, a change could be made sooner, but it would increase the cost of production of the new models. And even though the major automobile producers have continued with their longer, lower and wider automobiles, it seems that this trend may be nearing the end of its cycle.

The economy devices, and the increasing success of the small car, and the introduction of other small cars by major producers, makes it possible that the designers for the Big Three will begin to "taper off" in their enthusiasm for longer, lower and wider automobiles.

OFFICE HONORED

The Kendrick post office was especially honored last week when Postmaster Fred O. Stedman received the post office department's "Motor Vehicle Safety Award."

In an accompanying letter, S. G. Schwartz, Portland regional operations director, stated: "Your vehicle safety record for 1958 was much better than the regional average. Your accomplishment has done much to lessen the human suffering so often the aftermath of vehicle accidents. You can be especially proud of this accomplishment since such accidents are still increasing nationally."

Postmaster Stedman stated that the Kendrick post office has experienced no accidents in 50,325 miles driven by Everett Fraser, rural carrier, and it is the driver who makes these awards possible for the local office.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Newly elected officers of the 8th grade are: Linda Eckman, president; Sharon Fey, vice president; Rosalie Maio, secretary; Hazel Perkins, treasurer; Joanne Heimgartner, reporter; Douglas Johns and Carolyn Holt, librarians.

W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

We wish to announce to the general public that Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson have leased the service station department here from us — and are now on the job — ready to serve you with those famous Union Products — Lubrication — Oil Changes — Washing — Waxing — Tire Tractionizing — Chains — Accessories — and with it the service that makes trading here a pleasure. Come in and get acquainted.

A journalism student was complaining to one of his professors one day that "barbers make more money than authors."

Said the student sadly: "I just don't know whether to take a job in Greco's barber shop when I graduate, or write novels."

"Toss a coin, my boy," counseled

ed his teacher, "heads or tails."

Want to drive a clean, squeak-free car? If so, bring it in to us for a wash job, and a thorough lubrication with those famous Union Products. You'll like them — and our service.

Jim: "She's got an idea that no man's good enough for her."
Bob: "She may be right."
Jim: "Yeah, and she may be left!"

Chilly weather's really here! How's your supply of fuel oil? Better measure that tank right now and call us at 1251. We'll do the rest. Also, ask about our "Stay Full Service." You'll really like it!

Nurse: "Take it easy now. You are in Number 127."
Motorist: "Room or cell?"
