

LENDING A HAND to stranded deer is Conservation Officer Martel Morache. This is a natural migration point where approximately 2,000 deer swim across Lucky Peak reservoir near Boise as they move down from summer ranges. These deer made it over sheet ice along the shore line to open water but could not climb out on the opposite bank. Morache has roped one of the does from his canoe and will be towed ashore by other Fish and Game Department workers at the end of the rope.

Arthritis is New Target of '59 March of Dimes

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS affects children as well as adults. John Sutton, 16, of Fairview, W. Va., a patient at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, New York University-Bellevue Medical Center, became ill at the age of 2 years, has worn a leg brace since the age of 4 years, suffers recurrent periods of high fever. Research and patient aid in juvenile arthritis is an integral part of the program of the National Foundation. Polio and birth defects are other faces of crippling looking to the March of Dimes for Greater Victories in 1959.

Arthritis, the No. 1 crippler of manpower in the U.S. today, is high among the targets of the National Foundation as it launches its "Greater Victories" March of Dimes this January.

Having tamed polio with the Salk vaccine, the March of Dimes organization now is tackling new problems.

Its expanded program will move forward into broad new areas of unmet health problems, many of which have been opened up by research done while finding a preventive for polio and rehabilitating its victims. That is why the 1959 March of Dimes theme is "Toward Greater Victories."

Medical scientific research, patient aid and the training of professional disease fighters are the core of this program, which will cover initially polio, arthritis, birth defects and research in virus diseases and disorders of the central nervous system.

Arthritis and other rheumatic diseases bring pain and crippling to more people in the United States than any other chronic disease. Over 11,000,000 persons are afflicted. Some 320,000 are so disabled they can no longer work. The loss to the nation in wages, working hours and taxes is a billion and a half dollars a year.

The National Foundation will offer patient aid to juvenile and adolescent arthritis patients through age 18. Of the 18,000 children likely to seek treatment each year, some 5,000 to 6,000 may need medical care as extensive as that required by paralytic polio patients. This age group is the most hopeful with which to work, with the possibility of bringing many to maturity able to lead normal, productive lives. What is learned here will be of benefit to arthritic patients of all ages.

Nearly every person over 60 has had some form of arthritis. But children as well as adults may be victims of this unpredictable disease. Some 30,000 youngsters each year have juvenile arthritis. In addition to swelling of the joints, causing pain, stiffness, restricted motion and crippling, the rheumatic diseases may attack the heart, eyes, kidneys or skin.

Experts say the cause and cure of arthritis are largely unknown, and doctors warn that there are no "miracle" drugs. Aspirin, hot baths and exercises bring relief. Some new drugs like cortisone may reduce inflammation but cannot be counted on to stop the progress of the disease, doctors say.

In most cases, however, crippling can be prevented or reduced if treatment is started early. Techniques of rehabilitation pioneered by the National Foundation in the treatment of polio are valuable for arthritis patients. Children especially can benefit by these techniques.

Researchers for the National Foundation are now trying to unlock the mysteries of the rheumatoid diseases and find causes, cures and preventives. Some scientists believe viruses may offer clues. Others are studying what is known as the "rheumatoid factor" discovered in the blood of afflicted persons to determine its origin and function.

CAR INSURANCE RATES GO DOWN

San Francisco — Revised automobile insurance rates, including reductions for many motorists, were announced Dec. 31st.

The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters issued revised rates for automobile liability insurance and the National Automobile Underwriters Association for automobile insurance. The two rating organizations announced the changes on behalf of their member and subscriber companies.

The rate revisions are based on a review of the latest available experience for the state of Idaho, coupled with a change in the rating formula which results in allocating a larger share of the premium dollar to the payment of claims, the two rating organizations said.

Liability insurance rates are reduced for all classifications of private passenger cars insured by companies affiliated with the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, the Bureau said.

These rate reductions range from $1 to $3, varying according to classification, and result in an average Idaho statewide reduction of approximately 4 percent for private passenger cars.

Car owners qualifying for farmer rates will continue to receive a discount of 30 percent from the rates that would otherwise apply to their private passenger cars because of the more favorable experience of this class of risk.

The bureau also announced an average state-wide liability rate reduction of approximately 2 percent for commercial cars and an increase of approximately 24 percent for garage risks buying the broad coverage. The Bureau explained that experience for these garage risks has become increasingly adverse.

Base premiums for full coverage comprehensive for a popular priced new passenger automobile, for example, have been reduced $2.00.

Insured can save 55 percent on the base comprehensive premium by purchasing comprehensive coverage on a $50 deductible basis. The deductible does not apply and full coverage is afforded on fire losses or theft losses when the entire automobile is taken.

These changes are not to be confused with the recently introduced surcharge premium for 1959 model automobiles having any one pane of glass listing at $100 or more.

Due to improved collision experience, the premium for $50 deductible collision coverage on the popular priced car limited to family use and with no male driver under 25, has been reduced $8.00.

For commercial automobile risks the fire rates have been reduced 10 percent. Depending on the distance of operation of the car, the comprehensive rates for commercial risks have been increased a maximum of 8 percent.

WHOOPIING COUGH

Boise — Whooping cough is probably one of the most frightening and dangerous of the acute communicable diseases of infancy and childhood, according to Dr. Terrell O. Carver, Idaho Administrator of Health, who advises parents not to take this disease lightly.

"Fortunately," he said, "the disease is not so prevalent now because of the protection offered by immunization, but several cases still show up regularly in Idaho."

Whooping cough is particularly dangerous to small babies, Dr. Carver pointed out, so the need for early protection is apparent. Preventive injections, usually given along with diphtheria and tetanus vaccine, often are given by physicians to babies at three months of age. Older children, who have been immunized previously, should receive booster injections to be sure they are protected.

In whooping cough, as in other illnesses, the importance of calling the family physician at any time the child is not in normal health, cannot be over-emphasized. Symptoms of whooping cough are somewhat like those of a severe cold, and the child usually develops a cough which becomes spasmodic and which may cause vomiting. It is wise to call your family doctor if the first signs of a cold do not disappear with a few days of home care, for, even if whooping cough is not present, he can help prevent complications which might start from the cold.

A PROBLEM?

The National Manpower Commission is now an authority on "Womanpower," which is the title of a study showing that there are 22 million working women in America, of whom 50 percent are over 40 years old; 60 percent are married and collectively, they bring home one-fifth of the nation's payroll. It also shows that 30 percent of all married women and 40 percent of the mothers of all school age children have steady jobs outside of their home.

As a result of these findings the Council has published a book on the subject called "Work in the Lives of Married Women," and which takes the position that it would be a national calamity of "incredible magnitude" if they all took a notion to quit — and explains why. Apparently it would be even more of a disaster if they waited a few years, since the Council estimates that there will be 35 million working women by 1965 and that more of them than ever will be grandmothers.

We don't know how the manpower problem is coming along — or even whether there is one any more. Perhaps what we really need is a National Womanpower Commission against the day when men are earning one-fifth of the nation's wages and salaries — or have given up the idea of working altogether!

4-H PROJECTS

U. of I., Moscow — American 4-H is going to the doys!

Word from national 4-H Club headquarters says that if a 4-H Club member has nothing else he can use by way of a 4-H Club project, he can adopt a pup and start from there!

The dog idea has caught on well enough over the nation that 4-H headquarters has named a leader to work on the dog project on a temporary basis. His job is to help 4-H Club members who "have gone to the dogs!"

The project will take care and training of dogs under guidance of a local leader, says Don Warren, State 4-H Club leader for the University of Idaho. Showing is a part of the project. Obedience training will fill in more educational hours to the canines; but it's a safe bet that much of the project will be just plain "pettin' and lovin'" with an occasional wag of the tail and possibly a wet tongue across the young owner's cheek as part of the reward.

FROM SHILOH TO THE SAWTOOTH

After Appamattox, great numbers of Civil War fighters grown weary of the oppressive regimentation of military life, headed westward. Attracted by the lure of wealth and the free opportunities in a huge uncontrolled frontier area, many of these veterans of Shiloh flocked to the fabulous gold fields of Idaho.

They and their descendants stayed to pioneer the development of the huge forestry, agricultural and minerals industries that now form the backbone of our economy in the west.

Their philosophy of self-determination is a characteristic which survives today as a part of life in Idaho. It's traditional for a westerner to make his own choice: to use bait or dry flies when fishing, or to choose a glass of beer for refreshment when relaxing with his fellow westerners.

Today in Idaho the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly throughout the beer business to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.

Beer belongs in the free west. Enjoy it.

FOREST DIVIDENDS DECLARED

St. Maries, Ida. — Forest Supervisor George F. Weyerman has announced that the four counties in which the St. Joe National Forest is located will receive $51,765.15 as their portion of the total receipts from this forest during the ended 1958 fiscal year. This represents the period July 1, 1957 to June 30, 1958.

Benewah county will receive $2,346.01 as its share of the total receipts. Clearwater county $3,019.34, Latah county $6,471.84, and Shoshone county $39,418.96. These counties receive the sums as their shares of the total St. Joe Forest receipts, earned principally from sales of timber and from forage and land use.

The total Forest Service contribution to the state of Idaho will be $1,019,806.32. This amount will be distributed by the state to the 34 counties in which national forest lands are located.

In 1908 Congress set up the procedure whereby 25 percent of the total receipts from national forests is returned each year to the counties in which the forests are located. This money is returned to the states to be distributed to each county in direct proportion to the amount of national forest land within its borders. Receipts from the St. Joe National Forest are based on 47,634 acres in Benewah county; 50,535 acres in Clearwater county; 108,320 in Latah county and 659,760 in Shoshone county. In addition, by law, 10 percent of the total receipts are returned each year to the forests for maintenance and construction of roads on or adjacent to the forest. Thus, slightly more than one-third of the total forest receipts are returned to the area where earned.

Mr. Weyerman points out that many other national forest values accrue to local communities in addition to the cash benefits. Besides water supplies, recreation, hunting and fishing, and each year many miles of access roads are built by timber purchasers.

SAFETY RULES

Boise — Many side-swiping accidents are due to improper passing. Generally they result from insufficient room to complete the pass, forcing the driver to cut in front of the overtaken vehicle too soon.

Horns are still standard equipment. However, nowadays, very few drivers use them to advise the motorist ahead that he is being overtaken. Although cars are equipped with mirrors, there are many blind spots, areas where it is impossible to see a vehicle approaching from the rear. Therefore, signal your intention to pass within 50 feet of the car you are overtaking.

Before turning out to pass, whether it is on a two or four-lane highway, be sure that no car is attempting to overtake you.

The proper procedure in passing is to check to see that the way is clear and that you have sufficient space, then pull out, accelerating your speed and keeping it accelerated until you have reached the position where you can return to your proper lane of travel with ample clearance. Don't cut in front of the car you are passing, it could cause an accident.

Passing on the right is permitted when the vehicle you are about to pass has stopped to make a left turn, on one-way streets, provided there is room for two or more lines of moving traffic, and on four-lane divided highways.

You may not pass if there is a solid white line in your lane. These no passing zones are areas which have proved to be dangerous. These markings have been placed there for the motorist's protection — obey them!

CANCER RESEARCH

Boise — No single breakthrough. But "scores of hundreds of small ones" are occurring in cancer research, a new report by the American Cancer Society's Research department disclosed recently, according to Phillip A. Dufford, president of the Idaho Division of the Society.

In reviewing the year's progress in its $12 million research program, Dufford said the report to the American Cancer Society's 60 divisions said that: "The cancer problem may be solved piecemeal, in some cases by prevention, in others by surgery, by early detection, by effective drugs, by enhancing the host's resistance or by some as yet undiscovered measure."

Based on a review of 492 reports from scientists working on ACS financed grants, the report showed that approximately 40 percent were in the area of fundamental or basic research. Of the others, 20 percent were concerned with seeking the causes of cancer; 13 percent with the study of the disease itself, its origin, development and its effects on the patient, and 22 percent with developing more effective means of treating and diagnosing this disease.

"The sum of knowledge in all these areas is increasing along with a heightened tempo of research, and as a natural consequence of this, we find a growing hope for success," the report declared.

4-H'ers Make The Best Better

Louise Pattee Soleil Rogers Don Nygaard Barbara Johnson

Skillful-tractor care and efficient operation won statewide recognition for Louise Pattee, 16, of Tendency. She was named 1958 state winner in the 4-H Tractor program, and was awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago the first week in December. The Utah Oil Refining Company was the award donor.

Her reason for tackling a man-size project was simply: "I chose to take the tractor project because on our (550-acre) ranch there is quite a bit of work to be done with tractors."

Miss Pattee also has excelled in canning, electricity, livestock and entomology projects in her six years of 4-H membership. Last year, she won first prize of $150 for showmanship at the Lemhi County Fair.

She has served as vice-president of the county 4-H Club and president of the Tendency Braves. Soleil Rogers, 18, of Reubens, state winner of the 4-H Home Improvement program, also received a congress trip which was provided by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Miss Rogers, a 4-H'er for eight years, transformed a cluttered store-room and a drab spare room into a bedroom and study for herself. Many bright accessories added color and comfort. Among other things she made a bedspread, drapes, and covered a quilt storage box for use as a couch, and refinished an old wardrobe.

This busy 4-H'er has won several county awards for her improvements. She has been Nez Perce County Achievement winner for three years, and has also participated in judging and dress revue contests.

A junior leader in the Gifford Homemakers, Miss Rogers is also vice-president of the Reubens Rustlettes 4-H Club.

Young dairy expert Don Nygaard, 16, of Palouse, Washington, was named winner in the 4-H Dairy program. His congress trip was provided by the Oliver Corporation.

If one of Nygaard's cows fails to produce more than 400 pounds of butter fat, he gets rid of it, he says. He has advanced from one Holstein calf to five top producing milk cows and three heifers.

Nygaard, who has won numerous Latah County medals, says: "I haven't had a dairy project just for blue ribbons or other winnings, but it has been a way of life and a livelihood for me and my family."

Nygaard was recently the top senior showman at the Latah County Fair.

Barbara Johnson, 17, of Kamiah, won the state award in 4-H Girls' Home Economics and a club congress trip provided by Montgomery Ward.

After nine years of 4-H work, Miss Johnson has had many experiences modeling college outfits, planning and cooking meals, and exhibiting livestock in numerous county and state fairs.

Miss Johnson has held practically all local 4-H offices. In 1957 she was selected to be the fashion commentator for the Idaho County 4-H Dress Revue. Recently she won the home economics judging cup.

These 4-H programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

LOGGERS STYMIED Logging operations, which began "tapering off" following the two days of really freezing weather last week, are now almost at a complete standstill, only an occasional load of logs being seen moving through town, and those have mostly been skidded to dumps along highways previously.

There is said to be no bottom to woods roads, no frost in the timber, and that makes falling and skidding almost an impossibility. Loggers and sawmill operators alike say logs must arrive to permit mill operations.

Rudy Nelson of the Mead & Howard Lumber Co., Kendrick, said he doubted that the mill would re-open anywhere near soon, unless more logs could be gotten in. They are now closed down for the annual overhaul. The company's planing mill at Juliaetta is also closed down, due to lack of seasoned lumber.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, here we are "muddling around in the middle of January. There are those who approve of our winter to date — others who disapprove. But in either case it's an absolute necessity to keep your home warm and comfortable. To insure that, pick up your phone and call us at 1251 for those long burning, clean, hot Union Fuel Oils. Say "fill 'er up," and we'll do the rest.

Any basketball team could use a man who plays every position superbly; never misses a basket; and never throws away the ball — but there's no way to make him spit out his gum and come down to the floor!

Car rather balky these days? If so, bring it in for a crankcase full of Royal Triton Motor Oil, a lube-job with Union Lubricants, and a tankful of Royal 76 Gasoline, then you'll be set for anything winter can throw!

"I haven't seen you in church lately," a minister remarked to one of his parishioners. "I hope you are not slipping from the fold." "Well, not exactly," replied the man. "But my daughter's learning to play the harp and well, to tell the truth, I'm not so particular about going to heaven as I used to be!"

Let us serve you at the station. You'll like what you get!

A tourist is a fellow who travels hundreds of miles in order to get a snapshot of himself standing by his automobile!

ING. AAS RETIRES

Ingvald Aas, 70, who will retire as Asotin County deputy sheriff on Monday, feels in his quarter of a century of law enforcement work in Idaho and Asotin County that he has been "unusually lucky."

"I've never been beaten," he said. "Nobody ever pulled a gun on me. I never had to work a man over with a sap or a gun. And I never had to pull a gun but once in my life."

Aas, summing up his good luck story said, "I guess everybody felt sorry for me." He, of course, didn't add that even at near 71, his rugged six-foot frame commands respect, nor that his genial disposition is hardly calculated to antagonize people.

Mr. Aas is very well known here, he being a native of Big Bear ridge, as well as having served this territory as deputy sheriff and Idaho State Patrolman.

We understand that he and his wife will continue to make their home at Asotin.
