Kendrick Tigers Win Idaho State Class A Basketball Championship

TIP-TOP PLAY GIVES TIGERS STATE TITLE

A tall, fast and aggressive Kendrick Tiger squad pulled steadily away from the Mackay Miners in the third quarter last Saturday night, March 28, to win the Idaho Class A state basketball title in tournament play at Idaho Falls.

Capt. Lyle Parks led the Tigers to the state title with 19 points. Parks showed some brilliant rebound work on both the offense and defensive boards — but he had to yield scoring honors to hard-working David May of the Miners, who bucketed seven field goals and plunked in 13 out of 14 tries from the free throw line for a total of 27 points.

Mackay "drew first blood" and a brief lead in the first moments of play, but Kendrick drew even and began to pull ahead, ending up at the half-time mark with a 26 to 17 lead. Mackay came back strong in the third quarter and closed the gap to just four points, at 38 to 34 on field goals by May and Dale McKinley.

Then Parks and Richard Nelson hit field goals and Kendrick pulled into a 10-point lead, which Mackay was never able to overcome.

At one time early in the fourth quarter the Tigers pulled out to a 16-point lead at 50-34, and Mackay was able to reduce the margin only after Coach Dennis Racicot cleared his bench.

In all, Kendrick used 11 players. The 12th man, Leonard Eldridge, was in uniform and on the bench, but did not enter the game because of a knee injury followed by surgery earlier in the season. Eldridge, one of the workhorses of the team, had not recovered sufficiently to take part in the contest.

The victory gave Kendrick its second Idaho state championship. The Tigers first won the crown in 1948, and held the north Idaho regional titles in 1944 and 1945. War-time travel restrictions canceled the state championship games in those years.

The Tigers shot 42 per cent while Mackay, usually more accurate, hit for only 23 percent. Perhaps this latter was the man-to-man defense used by the Tigers, while Mackay employed the zone. This latter was penetrated freely by the Tigers, who canned many of their points from the left and right side of the key.

Scoring by quarters: First, 13-11, Kendrick; half, 26-17, Kendrick; third, 36-26, Kendrick; final, 52-42, Kendrick.

SIDELIGHTS

"I've never been any more thrilled," said Dennis Racicot, Kendrick coach, after his Kendrick Tigers had defeated the Mackay Miners 52-42 at Idaho Falls Saturday night for the Idaho Class A High School basketball title.

"I was really happy with the efforts of all the boys," said Racicot. "We were back to the district tournament form, which were a little out of at the regional tournament in Lewiston."

"Lyle Parks hit eight for 19, and mostly jump shots. He got a couple of fast breaks but most of his shots were from the corner or out in front of the key," Racicot said.

"Magnuson and Wegner were the fast break pair and Meske did some terrific rebounding, playing with a sore knee that bothered him. Bruce Clemenhagen was strong on defense and did some excellent feeding on the fast breaks."

Coach Racicot also mentioned Richard Nelson, who twice was sent in during tight spots as a substitute. "The first time he hadn't been in five seconds when he got a basket. He did it again when I put him in the next time."

Mr. Racicot said his defense worked the way he wanted it, despite the fact that David May scored 27 points for Mackay. Racicot said that no one else on the Mackay team did much scoring and that May would have scored a lot more but for some good defensive work against him.

"We received some terrific support down here from a home-town boy—Neil Southwick of Southwick," Mr. Racicot said. "He met us at the front door, so to speak, and there wasn't anything he wouldn't do for us." Mr. Southwick is an Idaho Falls insurance executive.

The Mackay Miners were also scouted for the Tigers by Jim Armitage, another home town young man, and now a student at the College of Idaho.

At the conclusion of the game the Tigers carried Coach Racicot from the floor on their shoulders — and into the showers! A traditional right of the winning team!

MANY ROOTERS

Kendrick was all but stripped of business men and farmers alike — with "caravan after caravan" leaving for Idaho Falls and the tournament. The exodus began early Thursday when the cars carrying the Tigers left, so that they might get in a practice or two in the high altitude of that city before the game was called.

The exodus continued almost all day Friday, and began again early Saturday morning — some just making it in time for the game. Those going besides the team members and the managers, Dave Shove and Dave Eldridge and Freddie Foster included (and we hope we haven't missed anyone):

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Magnuson and children, Dee, Dana, Gezel and Lee, Sandra Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Racicot and children, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blewett, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wegner and Jillian, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Benjamin and Rinky, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Parks and their daughter Mrs. Bud Roach and son of Kamiah, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Eldridge and Janet, Dianne King and Connie Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meserve and Bobby, Rev. and Mrs. Theo Meske and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cantrill and Sandy.

IDA MARIE HEIMGARTNER IS BRIDE

Ida Marie Heimgartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner of Juliaetta, became the bride of William Lee Straw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Straw of Grangeville, March 21, in a 5:00 p. m. ceremony at the Juliaetta Zion Lutheran Church.

The double ring rites were performed in a floral setting of pink glads and white chrysanthemums by the Rev. Theo Meske of Cameron. Miss Janice Heimgartner played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Theo Meske who sang "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of alternating panels of nylon tulle and lace over heavy white satin, with a fitted bodice of lace with long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil of nylon net trimmed with lace was held in place by a pearl studded crown. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations, centered with a white orchid, on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl and rhinestone earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Marilyn ZumHofe, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Kathy Greer of Lewiston, and Miss Shirlee Eastman of Mountain Home were bridesmaids. They were attired in identical pink cotton taffeta sheath dresses with net overskirts, and each wore white Gibson Girl hats, and carried colonial shaped bouquets of pink carnations and white daisies. Flower girl, Debbie Denner, a cousin of the bride, wore a white and pink nylon dress and carried a white basket of rose petals. Alan Heimgartner, a cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

Tim Straw was his brother's best man. Ushers and candlelighters were Arlie Ulmer, a friend of the groom, of Mountain Home, and Robert Heimgartner, a brother of the bride, of Genesee.

The reception was held in the church basement. The five-tiered wedding cake was baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Walter ZumHofe of Juliaetta, and served by all the bride's aunts. The bride's and groom's grandmothers, Mrs. Lena ZumHofe and Mrs. Myrtle Straw, poured coffee and presided over the punch bowl.

Miss Cherill Spears of Mountain Home, a friend of the bride, had charge of the guest book. In charge of the gift table were cousins of the bride, Janice, Judy and Lenette Denner and Donna Heimgartner, and Audrey Straw, a sister of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heimgartner chose a rose lace dress with white accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a pink nylon dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Lapwal High School and Lewis-Clark Normal School, and is now teaching at the Mountain Home Air Force Base school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Clearwater Valley High School and is now serving with the United States Air Force, stationed at the Mountain Home Air Force Base, Mountain Home, Idaho.

The couple are now at home at 870½ N. 7th E., Mountain Home, Ida.

EASTER BREAKFAST

Despite the chill Easter morning, an estimated 150 people attended the Sunrise Services in the Kendrick park, with the Rev. H. L. Deweber bringing the message.

The services were followed by an Easter morning breakfast served in the Kendrick Fire Hall by the men — with 130 (including cooks and waiters) partaking of huge plates of golden scrambled eggs, bacon, fruit juice, hot cross buns and coffee. It was impossible to seat all at once — so a goodly number awaited "second table."

Said one worshipper: "I could hear the faint hum of the ventilating fan at the hall and it wafted out the odor of coffee and bacon — man, I just couldn't keep my mind on the sermon from that point on!"

Friday, April 3, Date Of Bond Voting For New School

ISSUE VITAL ONE TO DISTRICT'S YOUTH

Next Friday, April 3rd, the voters in this district, Joint School District No. 283 of Latah, Nez Perce and Clearwater counties will again go to the polls to decide whether their children shall receive the equipment and building they so vitally need to secure an education to meet the demands of our rapidly changing modern world. A building that will give them a modern Science Department, Home Economics, Shop and Agriculture — impossible under present conditions.

We believe that the following article by Rev. F. C. Schmidt covers about all that can remain to be said: Dear Friends:

As one looks back over life, there is one factor that towers above all others, and that is responsibility. Our success or failure is largely determined by our response to our obligations. We find that we are indebted to the past and to the future.

Much of our success, happiness and progress in life is due to the men and women of the past who were willing to pioneer new fields of endeavor, not for their personal gain, but for the welfare and happiness of succeeding generations. So we, today, are deeply indebted to those men and women, for our entire social, economic, intellectual and spiritual life is based on their efforts. History reminds us they first established a church and then a school.

They believed that without spiritual and moral guidance no people could make progress. The church met that need. They fully understood that without adequate educational facilities, there could be no trained leadership to carry on the work of developing a dedicated citizenry, equipped to meet the problems of community, state and nation. The schools supplied that need.

So, as we have briefly considered our great debt to the past, should we not ask ourselves what we can do today, that will be worthy of the respect of those who come after us? Is it not reasonable to assume that we must carry on their work, especially as it affects posterity?

We, the voters of today, in this area, are faced with the fact that our educational facilities are wholly inadequate for our children's needs. More than that, they are hazardous. Several attempts have already been made to pass a bond issue. They failed. Could it be because we have allowed personal feelings, and selfish motives to blind us to the true issues involved?

We are living in an era that demands highly trained men and women to help meet the problems of this age. We know that as long as we have an inadequate building, and little and outmoded equipment, our young people cannot be trained for such leadership.

It is not a question of how much it is going to cost, nor of the site accepted for the proposed school. The question is: Are we going to provide for our children with the same spirit of devotion, dedication and vision that our forefathers did for us? Or are we going to hold back and enjoy all material wealth we may have accumulated, at the expense of young lives?

Being a preacher, I am reminded of an incident where a man had come into possession of a goodly amount of this world's goods, and said, "Soul, thou hast much laid up for many years; take thine ease; eat, drink, and be merry." And then I remember what the Great Judge of all men said: "Thou fool; this night shall thy soul be required of thee." It is just possible it is later for some of us than we think.

There are those who oppose progress in our schools because of personal reasons and prejudice. Again I am reminded of what the Great Teacher said: "It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he be cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones."

So, friends, may I again remind you that we have responsibilities and obligations; first to those who have gone on before, and have left us a legacy of adequate educational facilities. Second, for those of the future, we must provide those facilities which will enable them to supply that much needed leadership for the complex problems of today.

So, friends, in conclusion, let us lay aside any thoughts that may hinder the welfare of our children. It is not a matter as to whether we as a district can afford to build; the question is: Can we afford not to give our children an adequate education?

It is not a matter of personal feelings or prejudices, but rather our thoughts should center on the welfare and progress of the students of our school.

Let us lay aside every thought and act of opposition, and so hasten the day when our children can enter a building of which they can be justly proud, and when we can feel that, at least in a measure, we have been true to our responsibilities past, present and future. — Sincerely, F. C. Schmidt.

LOCAL FARMER VISITS WASHINGTON

Lyle Gottchahk, Palouse, Wn., and Lester Clemm of Troy, Idaho returned February 17 from Washington, D. C. where they discussed farm legislation with Congressmen from this area and visited other Government offices.

Mr. Gottchahk, president of Latah County Farmers Union, and Lester Clemm, a member of the Troy Farmers Union Local, were the only two delegates from Idaho who made this trip as representatives of the Farmers Union.

Mr. Clemm reports that his week's stay in Washington was highlighted by testimony of Sec. of Agr. Ezra T. Benson before the House Agriculture Committee and by discussion of REA loan and interest policies before the National Rural Electric Cooperative convention.

In his presentation, Secretary Benson argued for authority to lower price supports to a range of 75% to 90% of average market prices in recent years. This, he contended, would discourage a continuation of high production of supported commodities and would relieve the Federal government of a heavy financial burden.

For wheat, the Secretary suggested for consideration two alternatives: Eliminate all controls, invite additional retirement of land into the soil bank conservation reserve and permit considerably lower price supports. Or tighten up on controls until stocks have been reduced to desirable levels, with supports at a level possibly higher than the first alternative, but lower than under the present program.

The Secretary laid greater stress than in the past on export assistance under Public Law 480 as a means of making more effective use of the nation's agricultural abundance. He laid before the House group a letter from President Eisenhower urging greater efforts, in cooperation with other supplying countries, in meeting food needs abroad.

With respect to domestic usage of farm commodities, the Secretary reported that the Department of Agriculture was engaged in research on industrial utilization and expected to continue its direct distribution to schools, welfare outlets and also to individuals certified as needy by State agencies.

A number of objections to the Administration's farm program were sounded by House agriculture committee members, the main one being that it seemed likely to reduce farm income.

Meantime, a grafting committee on the Senate side of the Capitol continued work on a combination of the best features of several bills introduced, two of which would involve the use of supplemental direct payments when necessary to provide full parity income support up to the output of a family farm.

In talking with their Congressmen, members of the four-state delegation underscored the need for a comprehensive system of commodity programs, empowering farmers to keep market supplies in reasonable balance with needs. They also discussed the wider use of surplus food through special milk and school lunch programs and through more extensive export assistance. The delegation noted with satisfaction that a number of bills along these lines have been introduced.

In their calls on members of Congress, the Farmers Union delegation also expressed opposition to attempts at this time to impose heavier interest and tax burdens on cooperatives, including electric and telephone units.

On Feb. 9, Ralph Bradley, Illinois Farmers Union president, appeared before the Congressional Joint Economic Committee to urge enactment of a program to enable family farmers to "earn and receive a return on their labor, farm investment, risk and management equivalent to the returns earned on similar productive resources in other segments of the

"TAILORED" ELECTRIC HEAT

TO WARM THE ROOMS YOU LIVE IN

Electric heat can be "tailored" to provide finger-tip temperature control in every room of your home.

Only modern electric heat can be "tailor-made" to fit home and family. In the nursery or bedroom, kitchen or bath, electric heat delivers the kind of warmth you want, where and when you want it. If a room is not in use, it can be shut off and not heated. If a room is hard to heat, a separate, but permanent, electric heating unit can be installed to assist the old-style central heating system in offering extra warmth. Or, if a remodeling or expansion of your home is planned, additional heat requirements can be met by easy installation of individual electric heating units without disrupting the central system. Electric heat is healthful, clean and silent, it's "tailor-made" to fit your home and your family budget. Ask today about the advantages of "budget billing" for WWP electric heat customers.

Electric heat is "Tailor-Made" for restaurants, cafes, businesses (large and small), offices, clinics, shops, apartments, factories, warehouses.

GRASS KILLERS

George F. Brocke & Sons of Kendrick, are offering free samples of Dowpon grass killer to farmers of this area, according to George Brocke, Jr.

"We would like to have all growers in this area pick up a sample and try it out on their own land," he said. "This is the best way we know for them to realize what grass control around the farmstead can mean."

"Dowpon" offers the one really effective method of bringing problem grasses under control," Brocke said. Cultivation and mowing can hold grasses back although the farmer usually winds up losing a year's production with his fields in fallow trying to bring grasses like quack or Johnson under control, he pointed out. Spraying with Dowpon can control grasses, roots and all, without taking fields out of production.

The sample can be applied with hand spray equipment or a sprinkling can. Specialized spray equipment is not needed with Dowpon.

Dowpon is a versatile product with many uses. It can be applied as an over-all spray in seriously infested fields prior to planting or after harvest. In other situations it can be used as a spot spray or even an over-all treatment in certain crops. Dowpon is also valuable for cleaning cattails, grasses and reeds from drainage ditches or from headlands, turnrows or non-crop land. Dowpon is equally valuable for cleaning up barnyard operating areas, around buildings and in walks and driveways.

LENORE

The Willing Workers Club of Lenore, which may be the oldest continuously active organization of its kind in Idaho, will celebrate its 50th birthday, April 5.

A covered dish dinner will be held at 1 p.m. at the Lenore School, and all members and former members, wherever they may be, are invited to attend.

Especially welcome will be Mrs. Charles Hoskin, now of Camas, Wash., who is the only living charter member. Mrs. Hoskin is now in her middle eighties.

It was a birthday party for her, on April 2, 1909, which led to the organization of the club. A number of friends met at Mrs. Hoskin's home to give her a surprise party, and afterward they decided to form a club to carry on charitable activities. They called it the Willing Workers Club, and it has been functioning continuously ever since, through four generations of members.

The women sew for institutions, conduct sales and other activities, and raise funds for a number of charitable works.

A picket fence is a quick job for even the inexperienced handyman because the posts, pickets, and crosspieces all can be obtained ready-cut to exact sizes, making construction mostly an assembly and painting job.

Here are a few tips on putting up such a fence. A cord stretched along the desired fence line will assure correct position and help in post alignment. Be sure the fence is on your property in erecting along a boundary line.

Wood preservative will add to life span of fenceposts.

Height and size of pickets and posts are varied so choose the ones to suit your decorative and utility ideas. The posts, usually 4 x 4 cedar, should be set 8 feet apart, and before setting the bottom 18 to 20 inches should be soaked in creosote or other commercial wood preservative. This is best done by dipping the posts into the liquid.

It is wise to give posts, pickets, and rails two coats of paint before assembly, when the painting can be accomplished much more quickly and evenly. Edges, tops, and bottoms of the pickets can be painted conveniently first by tying the pickets in a bundle.

After post holes are dug (depth depends upon height of fence) and posts set, 8-foot 2 by 4s should be nailed to the top edge of the posts for the upper rail. Then 16-foot 2 by 4s should be nailed in place for the bottom rail. To keep picket points level, attach two pickets to the rails a few pickets apart, at desired height, allowing for correct spacing of in-between pickets.

The old fashioned two-prong plug, which many home and farm workshop folks usually think of when electric tools come to mind, rapidly is vanishing from the American market. Pick up a modern portable electric jig saw, circular saw, drill, sander, or polisher and examine the plug. You'll note that it is a three-prong plug whose purpose is to safely ground the tool, protecting the operator from any electrical shock which could occur.

Adaptor converts three-prong plug to use in conventional outlet.

A three-prong plug simply consists of two power-carrying conductors and a third conductor for grounding. The current-carrying conductors are flat-bladed, as approved by the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn., and the third or ground conductor is either round or U-shaped.

Here's how the third conductor protects the tool operator from shock: Electricity can be considered an analogous to water and follows a path of least resistance. The grounding conductor provides this low resistance path, allowing any stray current created by an insulation failure to be directed to the ground. Without the third conductor or ground wire, any stray current would pass through the body of the tool operator, who would have direct contact with the tool and ground, making the operator subject to shock.

Thus, the third conductor which is an extremely-good safety feature which should be used for your protection.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Here we are again with "How well do you know your own license number?" If N 1619 belongs to you, bring your car in for a free grease job! No strings attached. Just a get-acquainted, and good will offer.

"Why didn't you report the robbery at once?" the insurance agent asked a woman claimant. "Didn't you suspect something when you came home and discovered all the drawers opened and the contents scattered?" "Not really," she replied. "I thought my husband had been looking for a clean shirt."

It may officially be spring, but it's too doggone cold to let that fire go out. So check your fuel oil needs and call us at our new number, 4251. We'll be there in a hurry with the Union Fuel Oil you need.

Visiting a prison, a social worker was touched by the melancholy attitude of a man she came upon. "My poor man," she asked, "what is the length of your term?" "It's all a matter of politics, lady," he shrugged, "I'm the warden."

Getting ready for spring work? How are your supplies of gasoline, diesel fuel, motor oils, lubricants? Better check them today and call us at 4251. We'll be there in a jiffy with Union Products to meet your needs!

Remember: Friends you buy are never worth the price you pay for them.

Congratulations... Tigers!

CORRECTION?

Dear Mr. McCreary: We wish you would publish a correction concerning the Lapwai School Bond Levy. The figure 38.48 mills includes this year's bond election. Glen called Mr. Meserve's office, so perhaps he will let you know the statement as recorded in last week's Gazette was in error.
— Marjorie Stevens.
Our Note: In talking to Supt. Meserve he tells us he had taken the above figures from "The Tabulation of Tax Levies for School Purposes" for the school year '58-'59, dated Dec. 1958, and published by the Dept. of Education, State of Idaho, and were used as they are recorded in that book.
