ATTENDANCE UP

R. L. Meserve, school superintendent, announces the sick list is on the decline, with Mrs. Kremmin and Mrs. Taylor back on the job.

Juliaetta School absenteeism has dropped off to 28, as of Wednesday morning.

The administration checked with medical authorities on the advisability of closing school, and was advised against it, saying everyone was exposed anyway — and the well were better off in school.

A new teacher has been added to the faculty as of this week, filling a need of long standing.

Lowell Carlson, his wife Joyce and four-year-old son Tim, and pooch age not known) are living at present in the Kendrick Hotel.

Carlson, a native Idahoan, living in California the past two years, and having graduated from California schools, is here to fill a need in help for the remainder of the year. He will fill in various department where the need is greatest — Social studies, English and athletics.

SPONSOR DINNER

The Kendrick Community Lions Club is sponsoring a public dinner on Wednesday, May 6, at 6:45 p. m., and will have as their guests the athletes of Kendrick High School.

This dinner is open to the public. Tickets are available at the Kendrick Gazette, Blewett's Grocery, Dick's Barber Shop and R. E. Magnuson Insurance agency.

In order to give a proper count to the cooks, the sale of tickets will end Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock. No tickets will be sold after that time. All Lions are requested to purchase their tickets by Saturday evening — as are all others.

The place for the dinner will be determined by the number of tickets sold. It will be either at the High School gym, or in the Kendrick Fire Hall — the place will be announced later.

The program follows:

"As a Librarian Sees Them," Mrs. Ruth Pearce, Orofino, Idaho.

"As a State Librarian Sees Them," Miss Marjory Pomeroy, Assistant State Librarian, Boise.

Luncheon reservations must be made in advance.

These meetings are open to anyone interested in libraries. They are not held in the area often, so avail yourself of the opportunity to see the new University Library, and learn the advantage of Idaho's Program, now being stressed in Latah county.

THE WEATHER

There isn't a great deal that we can say about the weather this past week except that it has been a case of rain, rain and more rain.

It has not come in downpours, but rather in intermittent showers that have caused the grass to grow tall and green — and kept farmers from the fields and loggers from the woods.

Last Wednesday evening the Kendrick Community Lions Club mowed, raked and generally conditioned the ball park — and it was about the last evening that that sort of a job could have been done. They were assisted by several volunteers who were not Lions.

Sunshine has been at something of a premium the past week — but it will come again.

The Potlatch river is holding quite steady with a medium flow.

ATTENDS TOURNEY

Horton Thompson returned Monday from Spokane, where he played in the Inland Empire Open Chess Tourney, Saturday and Sunday. It was held in the Desert Hotel.

Twenty-five players from Montana, Idaho and Washington took part. Olaf Ulvestad of Seattle won all six games to take the championship. Mr. Thompson won two.

IT HAPPENS EVERY SPRING

In the springtime the fancy of game birds is diverted from highway traffic hazards and motorists are urged to avoid them whenever possible. Also the young-of-the-year of animals as well as pheasants and other species soon will be found along roadways. Director of the Fish and Game Department Ross Leonard reminds drivers that all road casualties now mean less hunter success next fall. Seventy road-killed pheasants were observed between Mackay and Buhl recently. Robert L. Salter, supervisor of game bird management, is shown here holding two ringnecks killed along the highway. Begin watching today.

In Idaho construction is paid for from highway users revenues at both the federal and state level. No ad-valorem taxes or real property taxes are used in building or maintaining Idaho state highways.

Four types of funds are made available for use on our state highway systems. They include: Revenues raised by state law; federal-aid apportioned by federal highway acts and amendments thereto; forest highway funds apportioned under the federal highway acts and amendments and local cooperation from funds contributed by counties, cities and highway districts.

Of the total appropriation $54.8 millions are granted-in-aid of highway construction by the United States. This is approximately 60 per cent of the total budget.

This bill will provide for a highway construction budget of 65 million dollars. Federal dollars amount to 84 per cent of that amount. (Right of way and preliminary engineering costs are not included in this amount).

The construction budget provides $51.4 millions for construction of the inter-state highway system. The remainder of the construction budget — $23.6 millions — will be devoted to construction of roads on the primary, secondary and urban road systems.

Construction programmed for the forest and public lands systems are not included in this appropriation. They are paid for with money appropriated directly by the Congress for construction of Idaho highways.

This bill, plus the forest and public lands highway systems account for an expenditure in the maintenance, construction and operation of our highways of just under $50 millions each year. This amounts to about one-half of every public dollar that our state government spends.

It is estimated that $52,054,000 will be accumulated in our state highway fund over the next two fiscal years. Sixty percent of this amount, or $31,385,000 is expected to come from motor fuels tax at 6c per gallon for highway use. Twenty percent of the total fund, or $10,560,000 is estimated to be derived from motor vehicle license fees. Sixteen percent or $8,300,000 from gross weight operating fees and approximately four percent or $1,836,000 from various special fees — permits, licenses and fines.

This total state highway users revenue is estimated for distribution as follows: Thirty percent or $15,616,000 to be turned over to the counties and cities for local road development projects. This leaves $36,438,000 remaining in the state highway fund. Of this amount $2,718,000 is earmarked for operation of the Law Enforcement department and other legislative appropriations. The remaining funds, $33,720,000, represents net highway users revenue to be used by the state highway department.

Distribution of net state revenues for budget distribution during July of 1959 through June 30, 1961 shows that over 40 percent, or $13,597,000, is to be spent for highway maintenance work and other related expenses. A little over seven percent or $2,455,000 is budgeted to land, buildings and equipment. Six percent or $2,015,000 is tagged to cover administration costs and 9 percent is set aside for social security contributions and audits. The remaining balance, forty-five percent of the total state net revenues, or $15,379,000, represents the state funds available for federal matching aid funds for highway construction, surveys and right of way.

State, county and federal funds used for construction clearly emphasize the importance of federal-state relationship in highway financing. The state's $15,379,000, with additional cash and non-revenue receipts, making a total of $17,043,000 of state funds is used for Federal-Aid matching purposes to accumulate the grand total highway construction budget of $73,809,000. (This includes money for preliminary engineering and acquisition of right of way). It should be noted that $54,766,000 or 74.2 percent of this total construction budget is Federal Aid funds, and the state matching funds represent only 23.1 percent of the total amount. Approximately $2,000,000, or 2.7 of the total estimated funds is to be received from local government units. — Dept. of Highways, Boise.

Our note: Since receipt of the above the Idaho attorney general has ruled that the $1,500,000 mentioned above for construction of a new office building, may not be used for such purpose.

SPRAY WEEDS

Weed spraying time is here, reminds Latah County weed supervisor, John Graiser. Weeds in our fall wheat and barley are not the problem of last year when many fields were so full of fan weeds and mustard that wheat could not be sown.

With the earlier spring it is possible to do a better job of spraying on Canada Thistle as many of the small seedlings are up and can be killed with 2,4-D.

Selective spraying in grain crops pays dividends if you have ten or more weeds per square yard. This sounds like a lot of weeds and farmers should actually make some count to be sure of infestation. Every weed killed now prevents hundreds of seedling next year.

Graiser suggests two pounds actual acid 2,4-D in 20 gallons of water per acre for gromwell and other hard to kill weeds. One and a half pounds actual acid 2,4-D per acre for fanweed, mustard and easily killed weeds. This lower rate should be used for barley and oats.

Care should be taken to figure the 2,4-D in actual acid rates due to the many strengths of solutions put on the market.

Most of the wheat and barley is ready to spray now. Spraying should be done after the grain has stooped out and before it goes into the boot.

LAWN CARE

Have you fed your lawn lately? Chances are it can do with a shot of nitrogen. Most lawns need the boost. The best time to place fertilizer and the kinds to use depend a good deal on local conditions, the county agent says, but in general the tips offered by Charles Painter, soils specialist of the University of Idaho extension service, can be useful to every home gardener.

First, put on light applications and put them on every six weeks. That system encourages a strong green color and promotes uniform growth. Applications of fertilizer such as ammonium nitrate at the rate of a short cup for every 100 square feet does the job. Be careful of using more unless you expect to mow the lawn three times a week. Too much may even burn up the stand.

Second, spread the material in a uniform way. Grass with irregular clumps is not pretty. Go over the area several times with the spreader. Measure the fertilizer. Don't guess. Most commercial fertilizers weigh about one pound to a cup and a half. Go easy on phosphorus. Most soils have enough for lawns without any addition. That is particularly true of straight grass lawns. If you seed a mixture of clover and grass, a fertilizer with equal portions of nitrogen and phosphorus is desirable. Phosphorus stimulates legumes. Nitrogen boosts the grass.

Manure can improve a lawn, but there is a probability that weeds will be introduced.

ALASKAN FACT

Nature blows hot as well as cold in Alaska. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, the most violent volcanic eruption ever recorded occurred on the Alaska Peninsula in 1912. Mount Katmai hurled about six cubic miles of rocky matter into the air, covering most of northwestern America with gases and volcanic ash.

A former capital of Alaska once was known as the "New World Paris." The World Book Encyclopedia reports that Sitka was a thriving city in 1806 because of the fur and shipping trades and attracted adventurers from all parts of the world.

Fort Yukon, in northeastern Alaska, reports the state's highest -- and lowest -- temperatures. According to The World Book Encyclopedia, weathermen reported 100 degrees F. in June, 1915, and -78 degrees F. in January 1886.

A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

Often it is the simplest things which seem to cause the most annoyance during maintenance and improvement tasks or special projects around the workshop.

For instance, one reader says he always has trouble when it is necessary to make arcs larger than can be made with a compass in his shop.

Yardstick makes excellent compass for home workshop.

The problem can be solved so easily he will wonder, no doubt, how the solution evaded him. Fasten the nail to one end of a yardstick with a rubber band or string. Then fasten the pencil to the yardstick in the same manner at the measurement point of the desired radius and inscribe your arc. By thus holding the nail and pencil firmly in place against the yardstick, the radius will be maintained perfectly throughout the arc.

Here's a tip that'll end the annoyance of having a portable electric drill ready to work--then not being able to find the drill bit you want: A nail chucked into the drill will do your job, too--and you can make the nail drill the hole diameter you want by flattening the end of the nail to the right size with a hammer.

Another handy trick combines a portable electric drill and wooden pencil with eraser. Chucked into a 3/4-inch drill with the eraser end out, the pencil can be used to clean up marks on wood or other material and--here's one to try--to polish jewelry! It's no wonder more and more women are finding portable electric tools handy for you to include in your workshop!

REACTION TIME

The time it takes your eyes to flash a warning signal to your brain, then for your brain to transmit the signal to the part of the body that must act upon the signal, plus the time required to complete the action, is known as "reaction time."

Stated this way, it may seem like a long time. It can be in a moment of emergency. Tests indicate that reaction time among motorists (in applying brakes) varies from as little as three-quarters of a second, to as much as one and a half seconds.

Drive carefully, always!

HELLO, FOLKS:

There's an old saying: "More rain, more rest." It may be true, but it isn't the most desirable for you farmers. So may we suggest that while waiting for the fields to dry out, that you check your supplies of diesel fuels, gas-oil lines, motor oils, greases and lubricants, and then call us. We'll be there in a hurry with your needs of famous Union Products. One try will convince you.

Hostess: Susie, will you have a second helping of ice cream?
Susie: "Mother told me to say 'No thank you,' but she didn't know how small the helpings would be."

How about the tires on your car, pickup or truck — are they ready for summer use? If not, come in today and find out just how cheaply you can drive on safe new ones. We trade!

"I wouldn't exactly call him tight," said Fother, talking about a friend, "but he's left handed and always keeps his money in his right-hand pocket."

How about letting us wash the road, grime and mud from your car? (We vacuum clean the interior, too), and when that's done why not let us wax polish it? The cost is very low, satisfaction high.

Dad: "Why didn't you play school with your sisters?"
Live Wire Son: "I did. I played I was absent!"

There are no better products than Union. Try them.
