After several weeks of delay, workmen from the A. L. Canady and Van Winkle Construction Co., Ontario, Oregon, began work on the dike and dredging operation on the Potlatch river Monday morning. The operations, scheduled to start several weeks ago, had been held up by government complications and red tape. A. L. Lammasson of the Corps of Army Engineers is also in Kendrick to supervise the work of the company.

Only part of the company's equipment can be seen on the job, as some trouble has been encountered in the moving on one of the large dump trucks.

The headquarters of the company is in the west part of Kendrick at the parsonage of the Assembly of God Church.

Plans of the company are to be started on the moving in of some rock to the new school site by the beginning of next week.

WILSON-LOHMAN NUPTIALS JULY 3RD

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday, July 3, at 8:00 p. m., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, when their daughter, Doris Carolyn, became the bride of Ray Eugene Lohman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lohman of Southwick. Rev. Theo Meske, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Cameron performed the double ring ceremony in front of triple windows, with arrangements of pink roses and cantaberry bells interspersed with fern on either side.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a pink lace sheath dress, and her corsage was of white glads centered with pink roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Lottie Wilson, who wore an embroidered sheath dress in avocado. Her corsage was of coral glads.

The best man was Dennis Lohman, a brother of the groom. Both wore white boutonnières.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a navy blue dress, and Mrs. Lohman, the groom's mother, chose a beige and brown print.

A reception was held following the ceremony for the newly weds and their friends. A four-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses and topped with three white bells and sprigs of lily of the valley and a net bow, centered the refreshment table, and with punch was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lohman, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lohman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clemenhagen and daughter, Dennis, Monte and Judy Lohman, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and son and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cain.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Bill Boone of Lewiston, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kidder and daughters of Plummer, Lottie Wilson and Ray Fordan of Spokane.

Preceding the wedding ceremony Mrs. Wilson served a ham dinner to the wedding party and guests.

The bridal couple are well known here, both having grown up in the area, and both attending Kendrick schools. The bride is a senior, and the groom graduated from KHS with the class of '57.

He is presently employed in farming by Stanley Hepler. They will be at home to their friends in an apartment in Kendrick.

VILLAGE WATER BONDS TO BE SOLD

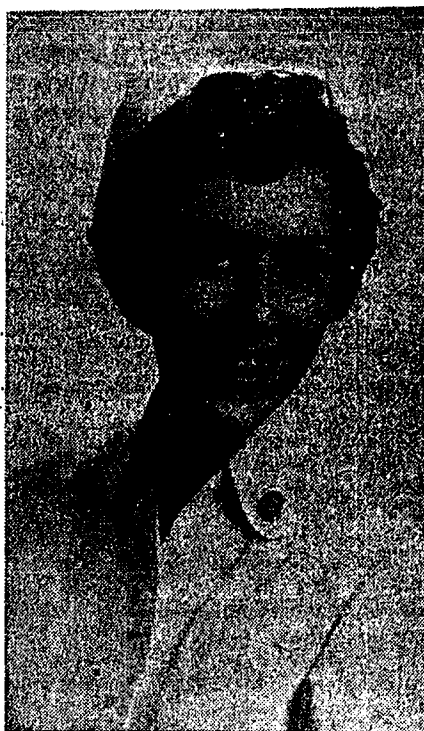

The Kendrick Village Trustees voted Tuesday evening to sell all of the $10,000.00 worth of the recently passed city water revenue bonds on July 31.

City Attorney Frank Barton advised the trustees that was a chance of complication in drilling the well, and needing the full amount, to proceed to sell all of the bonds to insure adequate funds to complete the job.

Bonds go on sale in Kendrick on July 31, and sealed bids will be accepted by the village clerk.

Although there seems little chance that the full amount of the bonds will be needed to drill the well and connect it to the present water system, it was explained that if complications should arise, and additional expenses be incurred, there would be adequate funds to meet the situation.

82-Year-Old Kendrick Author Writes Book On Old Genesee, Salmon River

82-YEAR-OLD JOHN A. PLATT OF KENDRICK Author Inspects New Books Before They Go Up For Sale

An often happy, sometimes sad, but adventure filled book of pioneer life in Genesee and parts of the Salmon River country of Idaho received the finishing touches at the Gazette last week, and an 82-year-old author saw his life-long dream come true.

John A. Platt, Kendrick, 82-year-old Idaho pioneer took delivery of 200 completed volumes of his book, "Whispers of Old Genesee" and "Echoes of the Salmon River", Saturday of last week.

Platt, who was born in Iowa in 1877, came to Idaho in 1881 with his parents. They traveled by way of San Francisco, where they took river passage to the Dalles, Oregon, and then on to Lewiston and Uniontown by stage coach, and on to Genesee to make their home. He grew to young manhood there and in 1895, John and his wife (nee Emma Batdorf), left for the Salmon river to homestead and make their home.

The book tells of many interesting and exciting happenings in the area, some of which happened to John, his wife and six children, and their many friends, while living in the rugged hills of the Salmon river country.

Take Out Homestead

The Platt's homesteaded 153 acres on the river, and engaged in cattle and sheep raising.

In 1917 John, Emma and their six children moved back to Genesee. There they farmed and raised cattle. In 1947 the Platt's moved to Kendrick, where he went into semi-retirement, bent on some day writing a book of his experiences as a pioneer in north and central Idaho.

After several years of planning, compiling notes and checking historical facts, Mr. Platt began his book in the fall of 1958. Nearly 10 months later the first copies were done, and John saw his long-dreamed book a reality.

When questioned how it felt to be one of the very few authors in this area, John said with a chuckle: "I haven't got the feeling yet, and thus far have witnessed no particular change."

Following is just one excerpt from John's book, just to give an idea of some of its contents:

"Bedlam In The Bunkhouse"

One winter when we had very deep snow, we found a young wildcat. He couldn't run through the drifts, and one of the cowboys roped him. They brought him to the log cabin where they slept, and put him in a box.

"One night the dogs got the door open and came in. They had wanted to get a mouthful of that wildcat since they had first glimpsed him, and now was their chance. They tore off one of the slats from the box and that cat came out — but he came out fighting! His first jump took him onto the bed of two sleeping cowboys, and the next took him to the other bed. The walls of the cabin were low, about six feet to the eaves, just high enough for the cat to be out of the dogs reach, and just low enough to make the dogs jump for him.

"The cowboys wanted to get out of bed and light a lamp. But just as they stuck a head above the blankets, a cat or dog would connect with it. So they covered their heads as bedlam raged above them. They yelled at the dogs, but in the ruckus they might as well have saved their breath. Finally the cat ran through the open door and mounted the cabin roof!"

The books, which are copyrighted, are on sale at $3.00 each, and may be obtained by writing to John A. Platt, Kendrick, Idaho, or calling him at his home. His phone number is 4311. Copies may also be obtained by stopping at the Gazette office any time during the day.

Perhaps we, who did the work for Mr. Platt, are a bit biased, but we think it is excellent reading for those interested in history, pioneer life, or just a good story!

FINAL RITES

Final rites for Abner Gilmore Cowger, who was killed in a logging accident near Southwick on Saturday, June 27, were held Tuesday, June 30, at 11:00 a. m. in the Brower-Wann Memorial Chapel at Lewiston, Idaho, with the Rev. Edwin Towle, officiating. Soloist was Dwight Hall, and organist was Pauline Brigham.

The profusion of floral offering and large number in attendance gave mute testimony to the high regard in which Mr. Cowger was held.

Active pall bearers were James Reece, Bill Reece, Rollin Armitage, Aaron Wells, Ray King and John Lettenmaier. Honorary bearers were Russell Perkins, Tom Armitage, Given Mustoe, Roy Gertje, Clay King and George Finke — all friends of many years.

Interment was in the Southwick Cemetery.

ANCIENT PAPER

Last week Gordon Peters brought a copy of a really ancient paper to the Gazette office, found between the walls of a house on which remodeling was being done.

The paper is the "Vollmer Vedette," Volume 3 (three years) No. 8, and the name written on it in pencil is "Thomas Kems."

Vollmer, Latah County, Idaho, is now Troy, Latah County, Idaho.

The issue is in surprisingly good condition for all its years. It is four pages, six columns, and carries considerable advertising on the front page.

The paper may be seen at the Gazette.

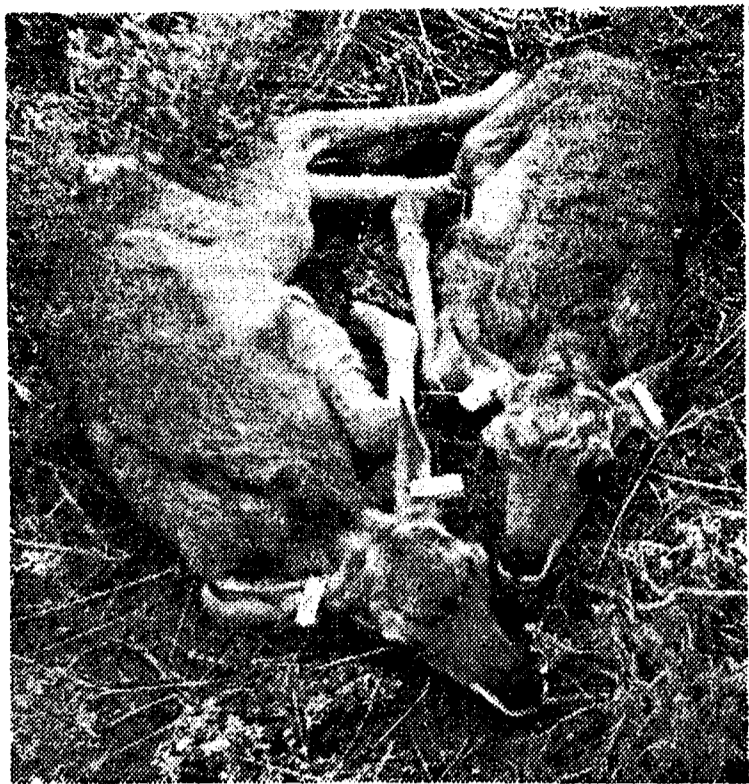

OLD TIMER VISITS

L. T. Roseberry of Spokane came down on July 3rd to visit over the 4th with old time friends and acquaintances. He is a former resident of Kendrick, leaving here in 1917.

The family came to Kendrick in 1902, and he, with his father operated a dairy. His last visit here was in 1943, and he says he notes many changes in Kendrick — all for the better.

Children sometimes tear it up, but they never break up a home!

TWIN ANTELOPE FAWNS, along with three-score others, were adorned with light aluminum identification tags recently as part of the Fish and Game department's study of herd trends. Little ears will grow and the tags will be proportionately smaller when the fawns become mature prong horns. Anyone bagging a tagged animal during hunting season, or otherwise finding a dead animal that has been marked is urged to notify the department in Boise without delay, because valuable data is accumulated in this way, forming a basis for season regulations, bag limits and the like.

Fawns are difficult to tag because they can outrun a horse shortly after birth.

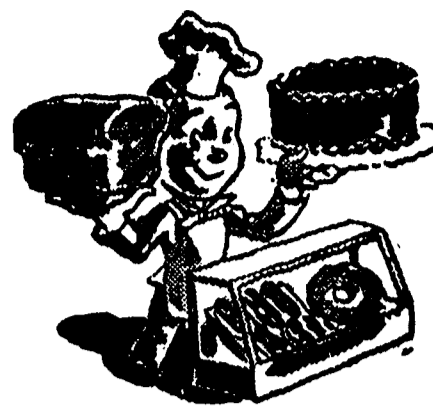

Nature seldom makes a fool — she merely furnishes the raw material for a do-it-yourself job.

RENDEZVOUS FOR MOUNTAIN MEN

So fierce was the early day trapper's love of independence and the freedom of the big west, his only contact with organized civilization was the annual rendezvous at which he sold his furs to dealers who transported them to eastern markets. The mountain man's life between these annual events was his alone to live as he chose, subject only to the vagaries of surrounding nature.

This intense love of individual freedom is a heritage that survives to this day as a part of life in the west.

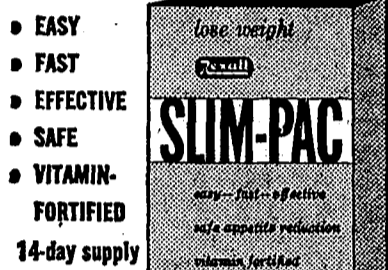

The right of each individual to a free choice, whether it be to select his place of residence or to choose a glass of beer for refreshment is a proud tradition of Idaho history which we still enjoy today.

Today in Idaho the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly throughout the beer business to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.

Beer belongs in the free west. Enjoy it.

DO YOU KNOW?

Every year America suffers an average of 210,000 forest fires. That's 575 a day... 575 while you slept. Every year fires burn over 31,000,000 acres — more than the State of New York. Every year fires kill billions of little trees, and enough big timber to build 215,000 five-room homes. Please be careful when you are in the woods.

Will you need a new furnace before next fall? Why not call the Washington Water Power Company and ask about easy, inexpensive conversion to gas? Speedy installation, monthly payments. Now is the time to call for a free estimate.

Well, what do you know! One person out of 29 in the good old U. S. A. has a boat, according to a boating magazine. In 1939, there were 1,000 boat trailers on the highways. Now that figure has jumped to over 100,000 boat trailers — dry land for miles around, yet on and on they sail, "Anchors Aweigh!"

More than 21,000 stockholders have a direct interest in the Washington Water Power Company! More than 50 percent of WWP employes have purchased company stock. In addition, there are millions of people over the nation who have invested their savings indirectly through life insurance, bonds, etc. The Northwest is steadily gaining in the number of WWP stockholders.

George Fitch brought the first tiny electric brush arc dynamo to Spokane in 1889. It was capable of operating 12 arc lamps. Uninsulated wires dangled from a few downtown poles. Indians and families arriving in covered wagons stared at the new street light with open mouths. Washington Water Power was organized four years later — 1893.

LOANS POSSIBLE

The United States Office of Education recently made available information concerning loans to college students. Participating institutions are required to provide $1.00 for each $9.00 provided by the federal government.
Student loan funds are administered by the colleges and universities, and the students must apply directly to these institutions for the loans.
Seven institutions in Idaho have been allotted a total of $94,619.00 to be used for student loans for the first year of operation of the Act. Further information on these loans may be secured by writing the Registrar of the college or university which the student wishes to attend, or which he or she is now attending.
Student borrowers who teach in the public elementary or secondary schools will be eligible for cancellation of their loan up to 50 percent if they continue their teaching for five or more years. Cancellation is at the rate of 10 percent per year, based upon the amount of the loan outstanding when they began teaching.

DEARY HOSTS LATAH COUNTY CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

Highlight of the Latah County Chambers of Commerce meeting in Deary last Wednesday evening was the showing of a film on the problems of piping natural gas into the area, with Norman Lee of Pullman showing a film.

A WWP Co. engineer from the Gas Department, Spokane, spoke to the group and told of plans to pipe the gas into Troy and Deary.

Those from here attending the meeting were R. L. Meserve, Dean Hollenbeck, Bud Eichner, Rev. F. C. Schmidt, Herman and Otto Schupfer and E. A. Deobald.

Three flats of famous Deary strawberries came home with the above group! We're not sure who drew them, but to Kendrick they came!

SUNDAY BRUSH FIRE

The State Forestry department in Kendrick reported that fires were at a minimum over the 4th, with only two being reported to the office. One of these was at the Dr. D. A. Christensen ranch south of Kendrick Sunday morning.

Norman Lewis, deputy state warden said that Dr. Christensen was doing some controlled burning close to his barn when a brisk wind came up and fanned a spark to the nearby hillside. The blaze was easily controlled, however, as a fire trench was dug above the fire. Only an acre or two were burned over during the day.

The other fire reported was by the Spud Hill lookout station near Deary. Lewis said that a re-occurrence of an old fire on Moscow Mountain was sighted, but was not considered as serious.

HELLO, FOLKS:

According to the weather this past week we should be advertising Prestone and other anti-freeze chemicals for radiators, chains and snow tires — but we just can't bring ourselves to do it. Instead, we want to mention our gasolines, diesel fuel, motor oils and lubricants for harvest — and of course they are Union Products.

Daughter: "I found a horseshoe this morning."

Mother: "Do you know what that means?"
Daughter: "Yes. It means that some horse is running around in his stocking feet."

Planning a vacation trip? If so, bring that car in to us for a complete lubrication, including draining and refilling the crankcase.

Then you'll be set for reliable, comfortable travel. There's a Union Product for every need — we have and use the correct ones.

A campaigning senator is reported as confessing, apologetically to his audience. "I was born over a drug store. On account of the labor situation and lumber prices the year I was born, only a few wealthy labor leaders could afford log cabins."

Going fishing, getting ready for harvest? Need tires for that pickup or truck? Then come in and let us figure with you. You'll be surprised at how cheaply you can drive out on new ones!
