

"The End of an Era"

CONSTRUCTION CO. DOZER FILLS IN LOWER END OF SWIMMING HOLE
Half-century of Use as Kendrick Recreation Spot Comes to a Close This Past Week

Kendrick Landmark Gives Way To Bulldozers Blade; 'Deep Hole' Gone

Bulldozers from the Canaday and Van Winkle Construction Company last week shoved tons of rock and fill into Kendrick's old "swimmin' hole." The old river hole has been in use for as long as the old timers can remember, as a summer haven from the heat in the narrow canyon.

The "old swimmin' hole," more commonly known as the "deep hole," across from the Lewiston Grain Growers upper warehouse and above the depot, now is being used as a roadbed by the heavy construction equipment of the dike contractors. Many cubic yards of rock were needed to fill the pool that the waters of the Potlatch river had gouged deeper and deeper through the years, its depth, at the time the filling began, being just over 16 feet. The swimming hole had to be filled in so that the huge rock needed for rip-rap material might be saved from the bluff, from which swimmers dived into the cool waters, is dynamited.

The deep hole dates back for as many years as the town of Kendrick itself, not only as a place for summer recreation, but winter as well, for skating and supplies of cut ice. It also was the beginning of the power source for the old Kendrick Flour Mill.

Sometime during the early 1900's, workmen hand hewed a tunnel through the bluff, some 20 yards long, and large enough for a man to crawl through with ease. The object of the tunnel was to allow the waters of the Potlatch river to pass directly through the cliff, instead of skirting around it, and hence into a flume, which in turn carried water parallel to the river, downstream, where it was used for power, turning a large water wheel which activated the flour mill.

The tunnel that was dug some 50 years ago is still there, but beaver dams inside have kept water from flowing through it for some time.

Before the time of the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool, the rocks above the "Deep Hole" could be seen covered with laughing, happy swimmers from the time school was out in the spring (and sometimes before) until it started again in the fall.

The entire shape of the hill, and creek-bottom itself will soon take on an entirely different look. Construction crews are presently hauling rock from the island below the pool that split the river, and force its waters upward and often over the bank during the heavy spring runoff. The island is to be completely removed and the rock used for fill and dike material in other places.

When the "swimmin' hole" rock is blown from the cliff, the creek channel will be reopened and water will again flow through the spot where once youngsters swam, but the chances of there ever being another swimmin' hole there is, without a doubt, impossible.

Truly, the filling of the "old swimmin' hole" marks the end of a nostalgic age.

Other work on the channeling and diking is reported on schedule, with biggest results being shown below the mouth of Bear creek.

Canaday and Van Winkle expect to have the work completed by the middle of September.

HOT? WHEW!

This past week area residents have "enjoyed?" one of the warmest weeks in years, with the "official" thermometer giving the following readings:

Wednesday	103
Thursday	107
Friday	94
Saturday	97
Sunday	97
Monday	88
Tuesday	88

Late Thursday afternoon a violent dust storm began raging, filling the air with Columbia river area dust so thick one could hardly see across the canyon. Toward evening the wind died, leaving a hot and oppressive atmosphere, with not a breath of air moving. Housewives could sit and watch the dust pile up on porches, patios, etc., not to mention furniture and windows. Later that night a few drops of rain fell. They did little if anything to cool the temperature, but they did help to clear the air.

Again on Monday evening the area was visited by a Columbia river dust storm, which left another thick, gray coating on everything. Housewives are becoming quite discouraged about trying to keep home clean.

NAME IN PAPER

"Your Name In The Paper" — that is the subject of an editorial in the Lapeer County Press (Mich.) which says in part:

How valuable is local newspaper advertising to local business. Here's what the American Bankers Magazine, a publication which represents a traditionally hard-headed profession has to say:

"No business man or woman in any town should allow a newspaper to go to press without his or her name being mentioned in its columns. This does not mean that you should take a whole, half or even quarter page advertisement in each issue of the paper, but your name and address should be mentioned even if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town. . . it's the best possible town advertiser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself, and definitely to the town."

BABY LOST 2 HOURS SAT. AFTERNOON

Little Timmy Johns, not yet two years old, wandered away Saturday afternoon and took a mile and a half hike while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johns of Lewiston, neighbors and townspeople, put on a frantic two-hour search.

Timmy, with his parents, had been here visiting at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dammarell. He was playing in the yard, which is fenced, so his mother felt there was no need to watch him. It was 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon when he was first missed.

Immediately his parents and the neighbors began combing the neighborhood, feeling he couldn't be far, but as time wore on, not a trace of him could be found. As many as 25 men from town volunteered to help, and they, with others, began covering the hillside, side streets, and in fact every foot of territory on the school house hill.

About 5:00 p. m. a call came in at the telephone office from the John Platt ranch, saying a little boy had just wandered into the driveway.

Robin Stackpole first sighted the little red faced and perspiring fellow and took him into the house for a cool drink, an effort was made to find who he was. Since he only says a few words, no information was forthcoming. Only he was hot, tired and scared — no one could miss that.

When his parents arrived to claim him there was rejoicing and much thankfulness that their little runaway was safe — and as for Timmy, well the tears began to fall for the first time, after he was locked in the arms of his Daddy.

The fire siren was sounded just a few minutes before Timmy was found. This measure was taken in a separate effort to call for more searchers, — which luckily were not needed.

IN JUSTICE COURT

In the Justice Court of J. G. Travis is week:

Oren L. Weller, Lenore, Idaho; Reckless driving, fined $100.00 and costs and driver's license suspended for 30 days.

THREE INJURED IN SATURDAY CRASH NEAR JULIAETTA

Two young people were driven to the St. Joseph's Hospital at Lewiston for treatment Saturday night after the car in which they were riding plunged down a 10-foot bank near the Leon Branscomb home between Juliaetta and Kendrick, and landed upside down in mud and tall grasses in the narrow pit.

Carol Lohman, 16, of Southwick, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lohman, and Carl Strohm, 16, Juliaetta, were admitted as patients at the Lewiston hospital. Oren Weller, Lenore, owner and driver of the Ford convertible, was treated and released.

All three were driven to the hospital by E. M. White, Kendrick village marshal.

The hospital reported Carol suffered cracked ribs, a deep scalp wound that required three stitches. Her eyes are black and deep bruises and scratches cover her face. It is not known at this time when she will be released to return home.

Jerry Kook, Cavendish, another passenger, suffered deep bruises and scratches. Oren Weller, owner and driver, received a heavy bump on his head and one hand was severely cut.

Carl Strohm, Juliaetta, received two deep cuts on his head. He was brought home Monday evening.

The car, headed toward Kendrick, failed to complete the turn below the Leon Branscomb home, tore out a guard post and apparently turned over twice before coming to rest, upside down in the mud and grass.

The four young folk were soaked by the mud and water, and E. M. White says that the latter was undoubtedly responsible for saving their lives. "Otherwise," says White, "I believe it would have killed them all. At least the accident would have been far more serious."

The convertible, about a 1956 model, was taken from the borrow-pit Sunday morning. It appeared to be extensively damaged, possibly beyond repair.

Latest word from the bedside of Carol Lohman at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Lewiston, is that complete examination has disclosed a basal skull fracture, and she will be in the hospital for at least the remainder of this week.

Latah County crops look good, reports Homer Futter, Latah County agent.

Fall wheat stands in some cases are thin due to winter kill, but the extra large heads should produce average or better yields. No lodging of consequence is noted, although the fall wheat has good straw growth. Some red leaf rust is noted but this does not seriously effect yields and the dreaded black stem rust did not show up, although the weather was ideal for such spore growth.

Only minor root rot infestations have been found in Latah county, although reports from adjoining counties show serious damage from this disease.

Soil moisture has been adequate for the growth of peas and lentils and the earlier seeding are well on the way toward being an excellent crop. Heavy vine growth is present and the pod set appears very good.

A general sprinkling of pea aphids has been found through Latah county, with heaviest concentrations noted in the southern part. Pea weevil control was necessary in most fields although the weevil numbers have not been high.

Spring grains, that is barley and oats, showed some grain aphids with the heaviest numbers in the Palouse river drainage. These aphids can carry yellow dwarf virus disease which accounted for heavy losses last year.

Haying began earlier than usual.

with a good growth. Firm hay prices have increased the interest in trading. Reports of short hay crops in other areas caused Latah farmers to use some stands for hay that normally would have been plowed under as a green manure crop.

In conclusion — the normal good yields are in prospect.

MORE LITTLE LEAGUE

teries, with Brocke relieving Vincent in the last inning. Kendrick committed three errors. Rowden was 2 for 3 and hit a 1st inning home run. Eldon Fey got the other Kendrick hit.

In the first inning Genesee got 4 runs on no hits. In the second 1 hit but no runs; third, 4 runs on 1 hit; fifth, 1 run, no hits.

The 4 runs in the first inning were all unearned. Pell and Morescheck were the Genesee batteries. Sorenson hit a home run for the winners. Although Genesee got but two hits in the game — they ended up as the champions.

The Juliaetta-Kendrick Little Leaguers, along with 500 to 600 other Little League players in the area were guests of the Lewiston Broncos at Bengal Field, Tuesday evening.

Report from the GOVERNOR

"As a people the Russians are not unlike Americans. They love their children. They put potted plants in their houses. They grow vines in the windows, and keep a picture of Grandpa on the table in the living room.

"But make no mistake. They are a dedicated people. They believe in the inevitability of their future. They have demonstrated their capacity to persevere and achieve. And they believe in Marxist Communism.

"If we misjudge them and the pride of their new nationalism we may be making the greatest mistake in judgement in our history.

"These people would be powerful enemies.

"But I feel that they have the capacity, too, to be great friends.

"Perhaps if the people of the two nations can begin to talk directly to each other over the distances that separate us in culture and tradition as well as miles - then our governments may find a way of living together that will provide dignity and peace for all the people of the world.

"When people know as little about other people as the citizens of the United States and Russia know about each other it is easy for nations to misunderstand nations.

"The apparent friendliness and interest of people on the street in Russia for America and Americans is strikingly different from the bluster and envy that dominate the talk of top Russian leaders. This difference highlights the central problem in our relationship with the Soviet Union.

"We need to convince Russians that our people work at peaceful pursuits. They need to know that most of our people are better clad, better housed and better fed than any people on the earth at any time in recorded history. The best way to accomplish this objective is to get the Russian people, and especially Russian officials at the local levels of government, to visit America in increasing numbers.

"Let them see for themselves that we are not the warlike and imperialistic rascals that the official Russian press and radio would have them believe.

"I came away from Russia more persuaded than ever that the system of economics and political freedom that permitted the son of a schoolmaster in Iowa to rise to be Governor of Idaho was a thing so dear and precious that I for one will not willingly part with this liberty while life lasts. I believe Americans universally agree that this is true.

"But the evidence as I saw it convinced me that the majority of the Russian people also believe that their system of socialist economics and limited political freedom is best for them.

"They think they are free because they have never known freedom as Americans know it.

"The man on the street in Russia will tell you that he is better off than he ever was before. This too is true. If you start from nowhere, then any advance puts you a long way down the road to economic well being. Here, too, you have to remember that however bad things may be in terms of food, and clothes, and housing, they are better off now than they ever were before.

"By our standards we'd say their housing was second rate - but the Russians would answer that it is far better than no house at all. And he'd tell you the same thing about food, clothing, education and medical care.

"Apparently the Russian is free to worship if he want to in one of the few churches that are left. But increasingly he is forgetting religion, and he has substituted for it, under social pressure to conform.

"No one becomes an expert on Russia in three weeks. These are a few of the spot impressions about things and people that stuck with me after thirty thousand miles and twenty-eight days of travel.

"I came home loving liberty more than ever." - Robert E. Smylie.

DO YOU KNOW

What's happening to the clerks? Last year smokers bought some $821 million worth of cigarettes from vending machines. Now you can buy ice, pie and the family wash—a total of $2.1 billion worth of something from machines. Personally, I miss the human smile and the reassuring word from well-trained clerks, in this mechanized world.

If you lived ten miles from a power pole, what would it cost you to buy ice, firewood, kerosene for the lamp, a broom, a fan and the old-fashioned egg beater? Electricity actually performs on the average 44 household tasks. The cost of electricity is the biggest bargain in the home. Count your uses. Divide them into the cost.

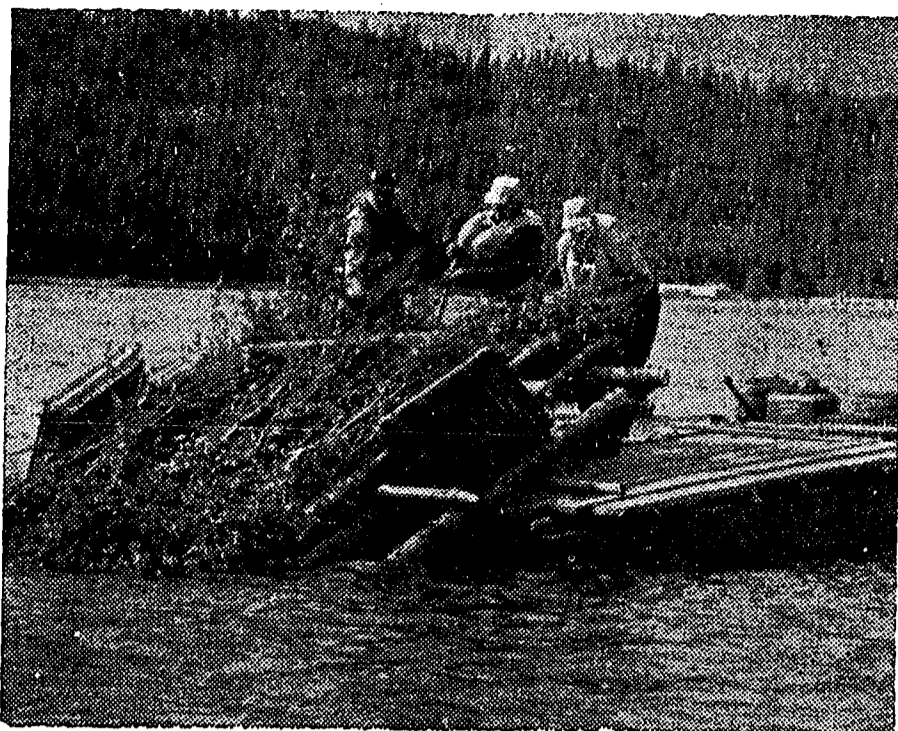

Whoops! The nation's average man can expect to pay $47,221 in taxes by the time he retires from a $100 per week job. His daily tax bill is $5.05.

All this business about shy maidens waiting for the aggressive male to sweep them off their feet is fiction. In 75 per cent of modern marriages, the woman marries the man. In only five cases the man marries the woman. The others are "mutually agreed."

Here's one to puzzle even the experts: Why should WWPCo. pay some 28 cents of each electric revenue dollar to the tax man, while PUD's are exempt from all federal taxes. Wouldn't you think each business that collects money from the consumer should pay its fair share of taxes?

BRUSH FISH SHELTERS are being constructed and submerged from a barge on Chatcoet lake in northern Idaho to provide cover and improve fisheries habitat. Forty of the 'homes' for crappies are being installed by the Idaho Fish and Game Department. The two visible radiators are not for steam-heating. Rather they serve as anchor weights to hold the structure on the lake bottom. Department director Ross Leonard says that anglers—especially youthful ones—are missing a real bet if they do not concentrate on the warm water pond fishes such as crappies and perch.

Can You Stop In Time?

It takes more than the distance between goal posts on a football field (100 yards) to stop a car traveling at 60 miles per hour under the best driving conditions, 4-H Club members point out. At 60 mph, a car travels 88 feet per second. There's not much "time" to come to a dead stop upon approaching a tractor or other slow-moving farm machinery.

"Highway safety is everyone's responsibility," 4-H leaders declare, and during the summer when traffic is at its peak the obligation becomes greater. The devastating fact that three out of four traffic fatalities occur in rural areas makes the 4-H Safety program the "number one crop" for nearly a million conscientious club members.

It is also true that drivers under 20 years of age have a worse safety record than older drivers.

So each 4-H boy and girl enrolled in the safety project is encouraged to become a "self-policing committee of one." These 4-Hers make certain that the family car, truck, and tractor are in safe operating condition at all times.

For the past 15 years the 4-H Safety program has been supported nationally by General Motors, which among other things provides incentive awards for top ranking club members in each state. The awards consist of $400 college scholarships, all-expense paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, medals of honor, and plaques. The program is under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

TRITE SAYINGS

It takes a lot more than a magnetic personality to get things coming your way.

Too many people use friendship as a drawing account, but forget to make a deposit.

Don't expect to stay ahead of your bills if you allow them to do all the running.

A great many people never worry about the future until it becomes a part of the past.

Taking advantage of a raft of friends is the only thing that keeps some people afloat.

Courteous driving on the highway is a virtue some people expect others to have.

The problem of life consists mostly of subtracting what a man owns from what he owes.

It will pay you to remember that the cost of experience has gone up like everything else.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, harvest time is here in earnest for many — and others are in the process of preparation. As you head for the fields with your equipment are you really ready? What about those special lubrication points? Do you have the proper oil, grease or lubricant? If you're not positive call us at 4251 — Union has it!

The two playboys were making the rounds of the bars: "Tell me, Sam, after you drink a lot, does your tongue burn?" "I don't know, Hank. I've never been drunk enough to try lighting it."

How about harvest supplies of gasolines or diesel fuels? We will hurry those Union Products to you! Try us!

"I've come to join my husband," said Mrs. Smith arriving at the Pearly Gates.

"Delighted to meet you," replied the keeper. "What was your husband's name?"

"Joseph Smith."

"I'm afraid that will not be sufficient for us to identify him. You see we have quite a lot of Smiths up here."

"Well, before he died he told me that if I ever kissed another man he would turn in his grave."

"Oh, I know the chap. Up here we call him Whirling Joe."

How about your tires? Are they ready for harvest or that vacation trip? If not come in. You can drive out on a new set so cheap you will be surprised!

Always travel Union — best!
