NEW SCHOOL TO HAVE ELECTRIC HEAT. BIDS TO BE CALLED AUGUST 13

School directors of Kendrick Joint School District No. 283, met with Mr. Dropping of the Dropping, Kelly & Finch architectural firm of Boise Thursday evening, July, at the school house, to view the final plans on the new Junior High and High School building.

One of the major changes made during the course of the meeting was the decision to make use of electrical heating instead of the formerly planned steam heat with oil burning boiler.

Dropping said that engineers on the heating system had come to the conclusion that electrical heating would be more economical in the long run than other types of heating systems.

Upon the recommendation of the architects, the school directors unanimously voted to accept the proposal and go ahead with the installation of single-unit, forced-air electric heaters.

Only small modifications on other parts of the building were made during the meeting, which saw the final plans approved and accepted by the directors, and the Call for Bids date set for August 13. Bids are to be opened at the regular school directors meeting on September 3rd.

The call for bids on the new school will appear in the Kendrick Gazette in its issue of August 13, and for two consecutive weeks thereafter.

The architects announced that in their opinion the cost of the building, in its completed form, should be just under $300,000.00.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED

A grass fire at the Ray King ranch between Southwick and Cavendish was discovered and extinguished by a road crew Wednesday afternoon of last week before the blaze reached nearby stands of wheat. The fire was under control when a crew from the Kendrick Forest Protective District arrived.

The blaze, which spread across the grass area around the unoccupied ranch home, was discovered about 1:45 p. m. by Ted Johan, superintendent of the rock crushing crew of Max J. Kunej Construction Co. The company is paving State Highway 7. The crew was crushing rock just off the highway on a county road on which the ranch house is located.

The construction crew fought the fire with sacks, blankets and bedspreads. Crew member R. H. Fry had just returned from the store with a 50-gallon barrel of water, a ten-gallon jug of water and two water bags.

The fire was a close call for property owner King, who lost a saw mill in a fire at Cavendish a week ago.

Norman Lewis, state fire warden at Kendrick, says fire danger is acute everywhere, and urged the greatest care from everyone.

FINAL RITES

Final rites for Mrs. Sarah A. Onstott, a long-time resident of Kendrick and vicinity, were held Friday, July, at 10:00 a. m. from the Merchant Funeral Home, Clarkston, Wn., with the Rev. H. L. Deweber, pastor of the Kendrick Full Gospel Church conducting the services.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Robert Hall and Mrs. A. G. Swan, who sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer," "The Sweet By and By" and "The Last Mile of the Way," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Devoe Miller.

Pallbearers were E. H. Jones, Norla Callison, Tom Long, Marvin Long, George F. Brocke, Sr., and Roy Glenn. Burial was in the Vineland Cemetery, Clarkston.

Mrs. Onstott was well known and loved by all who knew her. She had a cheerful smile and friendly wave of the hand for everyone, and the numbers at the final rites showed the high esteem in which she was held.

She was a member of Canyon Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star, Kendrick and of the Neighbors of Woodcraft.

50 YEARS AGO

Our issue for next week, Thursday, August 13, is our annual historical edition. All items contained in it will be from old-time papers, most of them from a special booster edition put out in 1909. There will be a number of pictures, including one of the Southwick Main Street taken in 1909. Also Kendrick's Main Street taken in 1909, and one taken in 1959, from as near as possible the same spot.

Should you desire extra copies to send relatives or old-time friends, they can be obtained at the Gazette office.

This issue permits us of the Gazette and our hard-working correspondents a week's vacation. It is hoped that our readers will enjoy the paper as much as we expect to enjoy the week!

The office will be open as usual, with Parker on the job!

MARCH OF DIMES ISSUES STATEMENT

Boise — Receipts for Idaho's 1959 March of Dimes totaled $141,465.13, Thomas E. Daniels, state representative for the National Foundation announced today.

Although this represents an 11 per cent decrease from 1958 March of Dimes receipts, Daniels said that 15 of Idaho's 43 chapters participating in the traditional fund drive, showed significant increases in total contributions.

Services of the National Foundation's Chapters in Idaho in 1958 cost $92,168.71, Daniels said, with patient care expense and vaccination programs comprising the bulk of the expenditures. Currently, Daniels said, there are 110 polio patients receiving financial assistance from the Idaho chapters. Some of these patients have received March of Dimes assistance in excess of $30,000 each, plus the cost of their technical respiratory equipment which averages about $5,000 per patient. Three southern Idaho polio victims, Daniels said, have received specialized care during 1958 and 1959 at Rancho Los Amigos Respirator Center near Los Angeles at a total cost of $37,000 to their respective chapters and National Headquarters Emergency Aid Fund.

These figures are dramatic evidence of the staggering cost of rehabilitating polio victims, and they point up in frank terms the crying need for everyone to take advantage of the Salk vaccine.

Of the March of Dimes funds raised in Idaho since 1938, Daniels said, 81 percent has remained in Idaho to assist the state's polio victims. Approximately $1,115,000 of this amount has been paid to the Idaho Elks Rehabilitation Center in Boise since 1947.

The remainder of Idaho March of Dimes funds, Daniels said, has been used to further the research, professional education and epidemic aid program of the National Foundation. Epidemic Aid, he said, has been a hallmark of National Foundation activity with the more fortunate of the National Foundation's 3,100 chapters contributing to the "have not" chapters whose treasuries are depleted by epidemics or excessive patient care responsibilities.

Typical of such emergencies, Mr. Daniels said, was the epidemic that struck Detroit last summer, causing nearly 900 polio cases and 23 deaths. Chapter patient care expenses amounted to over $1,000,000 as a result.

Although polio patients aid financing remains a vital function of the new March of Dimes, Daniels said, under the National Foundation's expanded program this traditional care will be augmented to include youthful victims of crippling rheumatoid arthritis and the care and rehabilitation of the most severe of the 250,000 infants born annually with significant birth defects. Extent of this additional patient care will be influenced by the success of the March of Dimes in 1960, Daniels said, as will the other targets in the National Foundation's broadened health program.

HARVEST IS ON

Yes, harvest is on full tilt, with trucks laden with golden grain to be seen on Kendrick's Main Street and at the local warehouses from early morning to late evening.

Bob Watters of the Kendrick Rochdale estimates that area farmers are approximately half through with the wheat harvest. He adds that while the hot weather has taken its toll, causing some shriveled wheat, that on the whole it is good, with a good test and no moisture.

Ben Westendahl of the Lewiston Grain Growers says that the wheat yield and quality is averaging good. However, there is no question but what the heat has hurt the spring grain to a greater or lesser degree.

Harvest is just getting under way, with the peak expected next week.

Tuesday morning, for example, for a short time, while the machinery was "broke down," trucks were lined up to the park," Westendahl says. One thing for sure — harvest is here.

FAREWELL DINNER

A no-host dinner was held at the Ben P. Cook home on Sunday, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goff and sons of Clarkston, who are moving to Cheyenne, Wyoming, to make their home. Mr. Goff's mother and brother live there, and he will be teaching in the Cheyenne schools.

LUCKY DISTRICT

Norman Lewis, deputy state forester in the Kendrick District, tells us that he counts himself very lucky during the electric storm of last week — for only one blaze resulted in this district, a lightning strike on Moscow Mountain. It was easily controlled and extinguished by the brush crew.

Friday a small grass fire near the Hatwaii grade was extinguished by the crew.

Friday evening Mr. Lewis took a pickup load of supplies to the Craigmont warehouse for distribution to the firefighters in the Salmon river drainage.

WATERING CUT

At a meeting of the Village Trustees Tuesday evening of this week the water situation in Kendrick came in for a thorough review.

It was decided that there would be no more sprinkling at the local ball diamond until rain falls to relieve the general situation.

It's tough, but had to be done.

CITY PUMP WORKS "DOUBLE-TIME" SHIFT IN JULY, ADDS 1,547,720 GALLONS TO SUPPLY

Kendrick water users reached an all time high in water consumption last month, by topping 3 million gallons during a 30 day period.

Mayor Frank Abrams said that of the more than 3,000,000 gallons used by the city, more than half was pumped through the city well. Abrams said that the meter on the pump showed that 1,547,720 had been raised and put into circulation by the well pump during last month.

"With out a doubt this will top any other month of heavy use by water users," Abrams said.

Abrams also indicated that at this rate it will not be long until more stringent regulations are placed on the use of water.

It was also noted by the mayor that this would probably be the last year for some time to come that Kendrick will be short of water, as next year we will have the new addition to the water system connected and the situation should be well taken care of.

At a special meeting of the city council Friday evening, bids on the sale of bonds were opened and awarded to a Spokane firm at 4.45/8 percent. The bonds, amounting to $10,000 will be used to make the additions to the water system starting next year.

BEN P. COOK AIDS GIRLS IN RESCUE OF DROWNING FATHER

Ben P. Cook, principal of the Kendrick High School, aided in the rescue of a drowning Lewiston man last week, after one of the man's young daughters beckoned him from a fishing trail only about a hundred yards away.

Grenold Corrin, 42, of Lewiston, was pulled from the waters of Boulder Creek on July 25, by Ben P. Cook, Kendrick, and his brother, John Hoduffer of Genesee. Corrin had been fishing in the stream when he apparently was overcome by heat exhaustion or suffered a fainting spell.

Cook, Hoduffer, Estel Carburn and Lee Davis, the latter three all of Genesee, were proceeding along a trail near the creek on their way fishing, when they heard Corrin's seven-year-old daughter crying for help.

Upon rushing to the site, Cook and Hoduffer found Corrin face down in the water, as his nine-year-old daughter was desperately attempting to pull him from the stream.

After nearly three-quarters of an hour of artificial respiration Corrin began to regain consciousness. Seemingly delirious from the experience, Corrin had to be restrained by Cook and Hoduffer for several hours. The story ended happily, however, as Corrin recovered, and says the experience will not put a damper on his fishing habits. The girls are happy, and the fishing party came home with their limit.

During the battle with the semi-conscious man Mr. Carburn was looking after the pack string, there being no place anywhere close that they might be tied, and Mr. Davis was on his way down the trail toward the ranger station for further assistance.

Cook and other members of the fishing party returned Thursday evening from their six-day pack trip into the upper reaches of Boulder creek.

BIRTHDAY

A picnic was held in the A. O. Kanikkeberg back yard Friday evening honoring the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr.

Those present besides the guest of honor and host and hostess included Burton Souders, Jr., and children; Mr. and Mrs. Jud Lee and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lohman and children; Ozzie Kanikkeberg and children and Jordon Kanikkeberg, the latter all of Genesee.

Are the Russians really moving as fast as some observers say they are in industrial and economic development?

This question has been asked in nearly every conversation about my recent tour of the Soviet Union. To answer it honestly, you'd have to say that they have come a long way, have a long way to go, but the tempo of their industrial effort is rapid enough to make a realist think that they may be able to do what they say they are going to do.

These Russians are up early in the morning. They are out on the street on their way to work at half past six or seven. They work six days a week and don't seem to quit very early in the evening.

It is pretty easy to reach the conclusion that if American industry is going to compete successfully with these people in the market places of the world, we are going to have to get back to that kind of energy, enthusiasm and initiative that built America into a first rank industrial power. We will have to forget some of the habits of the tired grey flannel suit that afflict our competence in 1959.

The Russian people have some of the things that Americans take for granted, but not all by a long shot.

They are ill-housed. They do not have adequate room in their apartments for real comfort. I thought the construction techniques they employed were primitive and second rate. But they are building at a most rapid rate. They will all be under new roofs before long. How long the buildings will hang together may be a question, but they are working hard on housing which their planners regard as the number one civilian problem.

The refrigerators at the American Exhibition will attract attention just like any American automobile does. Refrigerators are unique in Russia. Their automobiles are ten years old by our design standards. They don't seem to operate as well as ours. And they cost so much that only a very few people can buy and operate them.

Russian clothing is adequate. It is not styled like ours. Prices are high. But everyone was adequately, if not pleasantly clothed. Contrary to some reports, everyone was wearing shoes. Again, the quality was low by our standards, but a Russian would tell you they are better than no shoes at all.

The railroad line from Moscow to Leningrad is a good railroad regardless of who built it. It operates on time and the coaches were comfortable, but not luxurious.

Aeroflot, the Russian Airline, is said to be the biggest air carrier in the world. By any standard, Russian performance in this field is extremely sophisticated. They build good airplanes, operate the scheduled runs on time, and carry nearly all of the long and short haul traffic that exists. I saw the "front office" of the TU-114 and talked with the pilots. They had all of the navigational aids that we use: radar, radio and weather information. The plane did not have an automatic pilot. The let-down procedures seemed like our commercial let-down procedures. The only real notable difference was their rapid taxi speed once they were on the runway.

In industrial research and economic planning the Russian state is expending tremendous energy. This I think is the basis on which they build their passionate belief that they will catch up with us and pass us in economic production.

While it is flattering to be used as the yard-stick by which the Russians measure their economic competence it is a little frightening as well. With such reservoirs of manpower and material as the Russian nation possesses, with the kind of research and planning they are doing, the United States will be well advised to seriously regard the economic challenge that is implicit in the Russian "seven year plan."

We can meet and master their challenge in the market places of the world. I am confident of this because I am sure that a free wheeling economy based on individual initiative can out-produce a rigidly controlled economy in quality and quantity as well as price.

But American businessmen, farmers and workers will all have to be on their toes. This is not a contest for weaklings. It is a game where only the strong and determined will win.

We will not win this economic battle by taking long week-ends. We will win it by the kind of hard work that built America into a world power, and by rekindling the spirit and imagination that won the west.

We can be leaders in the world, and we can have peace with honor and dignity, but the task will not be easy.

In my opinion it is time for America to buckle down and go to work. — ROBERT E. SMYLIE.

A REAL "HEAD" ON THESE MUGGS FULL — Pictured above are two five-week-old Mexican Chihuahua pups, belonging to Mrs. C. Y. Groseclose of Juliaetta, which hardly make more than a cup full. The two pups, Speck and Brownie, seem undisturbed and nearly comfortable in their over-sized tea cup beds. Mrs. Groseclose raised the dogs for sale. The picture was taken last Saturday at the Gazette office.

MORE SUMMER

Yes, you bet, we've had more summer here, with the mercury column indicating a high reading of 103 degrees on Sunday. Other readings have been in the high 90's.

All this, combined with a dust storm on Tuesday evening of last week, has brought what may well be called "typical summer weather."

It has, however, cooled off each night so that sleeping was not only possible, but most pleasant.

AT THE DEPOT

A Northern Pacific construction crew is making steady progress in work at the local depot. They have now completely torn away the old wooden unloading platform which surrounded the structure, and are busy removing the upper story which was once used as the residence of the depot agent.

They have dug under the structure and are putting in new concrete pilasters, and the building will be leveled — something it has not been for many long years.

No specific information is available to us at this time — but we hope the work does not end until the structure is completely modernized!

SWIMMING HOLE

From L. H. Hamley, Pendleton, Oregon, comes this letter, which we believe expresses the feelings of many old-timers:

Dear Mr. McCreary: I, of course, have been watching the Gazette with regard to the clearing of the Potlatch River along the south edge of Kendrick, and in the last issue I note that our old swimming hole is a thing of the past.

"I have been worrying about that ever since I read the first account of what might happen in the way of straightening out the river channel. I remember when I was a very small boy my father used to take me down to the swimming hole, which we even then called the 'deep hole.' We would usually go down late at night and he would get me to put my arms around his neck, then he would swim across to the rocks on the south side of the hole.

Some time later, of course, I learned to swim in that old swimming hole and it puts a lump in my throat to know that it is gone. I suppose that is the way things must happen, however. In other words, the old must make room for the new.

"I have just written this note because the old swimming hole used to be a favorite haunt of all the boys in Kendrick. Kind regards, L. H. Hamley."

DIKE PROGRESSING

The construction firm of Canaday and Van Winkle, holders of the dike contract on the Potlatch river here, is making steady progress on the job — although to onlookers it seems almost monumental.

The digging of the trench from the Lewiston Grain Growers warehouse in the east part of town to the mouth of Bear creek is now completed, and the entire crew is engaged in the removal of the "depot" island. Two bulldozers, a power shovel and two trucks are at work on the latter portion of the job.

The ditch from the warehouse to the mouth of Bear creek is to be filled with huge rip-rap boulders. The ledge above the rip-rap and adjoining the railroad track, is wide enough for a truck to travel — and when the swimming hole bluff is blown, they will be doing just that.

LAY PIPE LINE

Spokane — The L. G. Massart Plumbing and Heating Co. of Seattle has been awarded a contract to lay a 33-mile long natural gas pipeline from Moscow to the J. R. Simplot plant near Bovill, Idaho.

A six-inch line, 13 miles long, will run from Moscow, to Troy, Idaho, to serve the A. P. Green Fire Brick Co. A 20-mile long, four-inch line will run from Troy to the Simplot plant. Service will be established in Troy and Deary, and rural gas service will be available to customers living within a reasonable distance of the new lines.

A. B. Martin, assistant vice president of the Washington Water Power Co., said that construction of the line will be started immediately with completion scheduled for October 1.

Those present included Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Schmidt and granddaughters Pam and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Magnuson, Dee, Dana, Gezelle and Lee, and a cousin, Steven, from Tacoma; Mr. and Mrs. Norla Callison and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Cox and Andrea Sue, Mrs. Ernest Gates, Beverly, Birdie, Jeanne and Sanford, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fey and sons Billy and Danny.

NOW AT HOME

Carol Lohman, victim of a recent car accident, was brought home from the hospital Monday, after a week's stay.

She is recovering nicely, but will have to make one more trip to Lewiston for the doctors' final release on Friday.

A great many people never worry about the future until it becomes a part of the past.

PAVED ROADS AND BUSTLING towns ring Lake Pend Oreille today contrast with the uninhabited, unexplored country through which David Thompson passed in 1809. The explorer and map-maker for the old North West Fur Company established Kullyspell House on Lake Pend Oreille's eastern shore a century and a half ago this September. Pend Oreille and Priest lakes are the area's largest lakes, but hundreds of other lakes dot the top of the state, offering fishing and other water recreation. The area is also noted for excellent hunting.

ESSAY CONTEST

Kansas City, Mo. — The opening of its 25th annual National High School Essay contest was announced this week by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The topic will be "Civil Defense — An American Tradition."

Students in all public, private and parochial high schools are eligible to enter the contest. National prizes are: First, $1,000 cash; second $500; third $250, and fourth $100, plus 20 cash and honorable mention awards. In addition, the federal office of Civil Defense Mobilization will award a $100 U. S. Savings Bond to the first place winner in each state. State and local contest winners also receive additional Auxiliary awards which vary with the community.

The essay contest was started by the V. F. W. Auxiliary in 1935 to encourage young people to think and write on patriotic subjects. During the last school year more than 35,000 students from all 50 states and the District of Columbia entered the big national contest. Dr. Shane MacCarthy, director of the President's Council on Youth Fitness, was chairman of the national judges.

Further information on the 1959-60 contest may be obtained from local V. F. W. Auxiliary units, or from the Essay Department, V. F. W. Auxiliary, 405 West 34th Street, Kansas City 11, Mo.

THE DAILY GRIND

Necessity may be the mother of invention at times, but it is just the mother of hard work to most of us!

Some people never get up in the world because they wait or someone to give them a boost before they start climbing.

TRITE SAYINGS

Food for thought is the only kind that hasn't been affected by the high cost of living.

Courtesy yields large dividends, but it is an investment that is too often overlooked.

There are few dark days ahead for the people who have learned to spread sunshine.

Living today is a game of robbing Peter to pay Paul to make it possible to stand Pat.

It's easy to acquire a reputation for wisdom just by applauding the opinions of your friends.

Little harm will come to tomorrow's joy if you borrow a little of it for today.

DO YOU KNOW

Your heart is the toughest, strongest muscle in your entire body. It is more efficient than any man-made machine. It has its own complete maintenance and repair system . . . pumps every drop of your blood to body tissues and back every minute . . . is as strong as an automobile engine that could run constantly for 70 years without overhauling . . . produces enough energy in its lifetime to lift a battleship 14 feet out of water.

Over 21,000 people — bricklayers, widows, farmers, union employes — own stock in the Washington Water Power. In addition, thousands of people in all walks of life who own insurance have part of their insurance invested indirectly in WWP stock. What is better for your community than a financially strong company with steady dividends, payrolls, tax payments and local purchases? What is worse for a community than a business firm that fails to meet its obligations? And what is funnier than people who attempt to ridicule our American system of private enterprise, and go off half-cocked for public power?

Now is the time, when business is quiet, to install electric and gas heat in readiness for next winter. Easy monthly payments almost equal the savings you will make regarding gas heat, and nothing quite takes the place of clean, dependable electric heat. Call WWP for a free estimate today.

This year, some 40,000 people will be killed in automobile crashes, and more than 1,400,000 people will be injured. In 1958, the bill for auto accidents reached the shocking figure of $1.3 billions. Drive carefully.

Here's one big question: If PUD's pay only about 7 per cent of revenues to the tax man, while business-managed companies pay some 23 per cent of revenues in taxes, what does the PUD do with its extra money? Don't you think public power should pay a fair share of taxes, like everyone else?

MISSIONARIES HAVE SON

The Rev. Gates family received word this week from his brother-in-law and sister, in Fortaleza, Brazil, telling of the birth of a nephew on June 24 to Mr. and Mrs. John Schoff. The Schoffs are serving there as missionaries. The little fellow, named Stephen James, was born with a broken shoulder.

The WEEKLY Handyman
 A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

"Do you have any plans available for a plain, sturdy stool I can make in my own shop?" queries an Indiana reader. "My wife wants a stool that can be carried around the house for use in reaching upper shelves of cabinets and closets."

We have sent this reader our plan for a serviceable stool—a plan that is available without charge to other readers if you'll write to the Thor Research Center. The type of stool we have designed not only can serve as a step to reach upper shelves, but also can be used by little tykes as a television-viewing seat.

Sturdy stool popular with housewives and children. Free plans available.

Only materials needed are 31 inches of 1x10 finished pine, or the same length and width of 3/4-inch plywood, 26 inches of 1x4 fir, eight flathead screws, and glue. The pine or plywood will be used to make the top of the stool and the legs, while the fir will be used for cross-supports for top and legs.

You'll hasten the shaping, as assembly, and finishing of the stool if you use portable electric tools—circular-blade and jig saws, drill, and sander. Cut the wood to length and taper the sides of the legs with the circular saw. Then use the jig saw to cut insert grooves for the cross-supports in the top of the legs and to shape the bottoms of the legs, ends of the cross-supports, and corners of the stool top. Sand all pieces smoothly with the power sander, then glue the cross-supports into the slots in the legs.

Pre-drill countersink holes into the cross-supports and legs, set the eight screws, and you're ready for finishing with paint or stain. You also can cover the top with floor covering or, if you plan the stool as a child's seat, you might cover the top with padding and upholstery.

PASTOR HONORED
 Rev. Ernest Gates was given a fine honor at the Western Jurisdiction Pastor's School in Stockton, Calif.

He was unanimously elected representative to the Pacific Northwest Conference to the Central Council, Methodist Churches. This is made up of one man from each of the Conferences of the Jurisdiction, represented at the school. Rev. Gates says: "Quite an experience — some class, ha! Anyway it is kind of nice even if I didn't want the position."

THOUGHTS WORTH THINKING
 The supreme duty of every man is to make a life . . . anyone can make a living.
 Wouldn't it be nice if anyone, tempted to point a finger, would instead hold out a helping hand?
 When two businessmen always agree, one of them is unnecessary.
 A man who stands for nothing fails for everything.
 Woman to her husband: "When I want your opinion, I'll give it to you."

The elderly visitor was quizzing the preacher's small son. "Does your father ever preach the same sermon twice?" he asked. "Oh, sure he does," the boy answered, "but he hollers in different places."

Got a lubrication problem? If so, call us at 4251. Union makes a lubricant for every need.

"It makes madam look 10 years younger," said the sales girl to a customer.

The woman studied the hat for a while. "Good gracious," she eventually replied, "fancy putting on ten years every time I take my hat off!"

Combine motor not performing as it should? Then try a crankcase full of that famous Royal Triton Motor Oil! It makes a cranky motor purr like a kitten.

Diner waitress (looking out a window): "It looks like rain."
Truck driver (eating): "Yeah, Mabel, but it smells a little bit like coffee."

Need tires for harvest? Come in. You'll be surprised at how cheaply you can own new ones!

Always travel Union — best!
