

K. H. S. Tigers Prepare to Defend Football Crown; Practice Now On

Kendrick High School's defending district champion eight-man football team opened their 1959 season practice last night, Wednesday, Aug. 26, at 5 p. m., with the issuance of the practice uniforms.

Coach Dennis Racicot called the first two-hour football practice of the season on Wednesday evening. He said the same hours will be continued Thursday (today) and Friday, with practice being held from 9:00 to 11:00 Saturday morning.

Coach Racicot said the pre-school practice sessions are necessary to get the team in shape for their first game on September 11.

"The Tigers meet Weippe on the local field as four teams in the Second District, open seasons on the 11th," Racicot said. "The Tigers will have a full seven-game schedule this year, with four of the seven games being played on Armitage Field."

Last year the Tigers won the Second District eight-man football championship, and Coach Racicot says they will be shooting for the title again this year.

Only six returning lettermen will be on hand at the opening of the season to boost the squad. Racicot said that 10 lettermen graduated last fall and several others will not be returning for various reasons.

This season the Tigers will be defending a 12-game winning record, which started in 1957. They have actually won 13 of their last encounters.

"I expect that we will have a little tough sledding this year, with the loss of so many lettermen, but we will be hard to beat at that, and will be out gunning to lengthen our win record," Coach Racicot said.

SUNDAY FINAL DAY AT SWIM POOL

Sunday will be the final day of the 1959 season at the Area Living War Memorial Pool in Kendrick. Mrs. Aileen Johnson, life guard, announced earlier this week.

The usual pattern of the village is to continue operation until the opening of school, and such will be the case this year, as school begins on Monday morning.

"We have had a fair season this year, but not as good as last," Mrs. Johnson said. We have not tabulated the books, but due to the late start, and the early close, records would indicate the 1958 record was not equalled," she added.

Although the records show attendance not up with that of the previous season, Mrs. Johnson did report one of the largest groups of beginner swimmers were taught at the pool. "We had 100 beginners, 43 intermediates and 8 swimmers to teach this year," Mrs. Johnson said. "Regular season hours will apply the last day," Mrs. Johnson added, "so if you want to take a final dip, be sure to be on hand Sunday between the hours of 1:30 and 5:00 p. m., or 7:00 and 9:00 p. m."

ROOT ROT PROBLEM

Root rot is gaining as a fall wheat problem, reports Homer Futter, Latah County Agent.

Root rot of wheat, oats, barley and rye are among the last conspicuous diseases of cereals, but they are among the most destructive.

Root rot is caused by a fungi that causes discoloration of roots and plant stems which can hurt or destroy the rest of the plant.

There are several types of this disease that cause damage. In many cases farmers detect the presence of root rot only when fall wheat falls or lodges in a tangle. The disease weakens the wheat stem, which in turn causes it to fall. Often times yields are reduced by the disease organism destroying part of the roots.

There is no cure for this disease, but a degree of prevention can be gained by later seeding of fall wheat and rotating crops. Root rot losses are greatest in the fields seeded early and on fields that have been recropped to grain and summer fallow.

Futter suggests using sweet clover, alfalfa or peas in the crop rotation and then holding up fall seeding until after October 1st should cut down losses.

Many farmers seed early, hoping to get a stand of wheat in the fall to help prevent erosion, and although this is desirable, it does result in conditions that favor root rot.

Her fingertip veil was of illusion net and was attached to a crown of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was a single white orchid and staphanotis with long streamers, which she carried on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Clarence Alexander, a sister of the bride was matron of honor. Her dress was of deep lavender with a fitted bodice, short sleeves and a full skirt. Her bouquet was shaped like a crescent, and was of white gladioli with lavender streamers.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Clarence Alexander, a sister of the bride.

CONVENTION TRIP BENEFITS SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

Mrs. E. M. White returned home last week after attending the national convention of the American School Food Service Association held in San Francisco, fortified with new recipes, information, and some of the latest techniques, that she will put to use in the school lunch room this year.

Forty-nine states were registered, including Hawaii and Alaska. North Dakota was the only state absent. Mrs. White, Idaho's official delegate, said 2,500 persons were registered. School lunch is a "big business," says Mrs. White. Over 12,000,000 children eat at school cafeterias per year — and it's a billion dollar enterprise.

There were over 170 exhibits, valued at $250,000.00. Everything you could imagine was shown — canners, food processors, with manufacturers constantly trying to improve their product. Items ranging from recipes to actual food prepared with the newest equipment to make up the recipes — gas and electric ranges — gas and electric dish washers.

New and odd things included wieners made with tuna fish instead of meat (they tasted exactly like hot dogs, too!), plastic bread boards and counter tops. As yet they are too expensive for average use, but one of the many products soon to be available and within reach of all. Each exhibitor produced his best — and/or tastiest commodity.

The U. S. D. A. also were in charge of a booth, and is a valued part of the Food Service Association. Idaho School Lunch programs alone received $625,000.00 in federal funds during the 1958-59 school year to reimburse schools for "Type A" lunches, and some $400,000.00 for special milk served in addition to the first half pint served with each meal. The schools also received food commodities from the U. S. D. A. valued at approximately $500,000.00, with the schools paying only the cost of the freight on such items. (The special milk program reached more than 19 million children in 76,000 schools and child-care institutions in 1958-59).

Besides the U. S. D. A. commodities received, the schools participating in Idaho purchased some $1,500,000 worth of food at wholesale or retail cost.

Mrs. White was a member of the receiving line, and tells us it was a wonderful experience meeting so many people. She also said: "Our beautiful state of Idaho received worthy recognition with Prof. Elwyn Schwartz, assistant professor of music at the University of Idaho, as one of the guest speakers."

Mrs. White attended several work shops while there, one on baking — "School Lunch Style," and one on Food Purchasing Procedures — adding that her department is "always in the learning stage," as new things are developed, and it's important to keep abreast of the newest trends and policies.

Mrs. White felt it was a great opportunity to be able to attend the previews.

ENJOYS 50-YEAR AGO EDITION OF PAPER

From Mrs. Fred Peglow, of 3694 Mosswood Drive, Lafayette, Calif., comes the following letter regarding our recent 50-year-ago edition, and we find it full of interest to all:

"Frank P. McCreary, editor Kendrick Gazette: Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer from San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fox (nee Zella Bigham) also from San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Anderson and Kate Anderson Williams from Sunnyvale, Calif.; and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bigham of Cupertino, Calif., were here for a barbecue dinner — and we did so enjoy your "50-year issue" that George Meyer brought along.

"Many names and pictures were very familiar. (I have some that were my mothers I wish you might have had. They are of Kendrick after the 1904 fire, and also after the awful flood)

"We quite agree that the picture published of Burton L. French was not correct. In fact, we felt it was of Judge L. G. Peterson, a more recent citizen.

"Compliments to you on your fine selection of articles and pictures that gave us so much of Kendrick's history, even to its location on the Potlatch river and founding date of 1888. Much of this we had forgotten.

"I fondly remember being baptized in this Methodist Church, buying red shoes at Marr's Store, watching such a threshing machine, and swimming in the old river. Oh yes, attending school in that school, joining the Rebekah Lodge in that hall, winter coasting on those hills, wading that street's mud puddles enroute to school, going to that bank and printing office on errands for my father (Al White, druggist). I also played with children in the Long home (before it was Long's). I remember because — I fell from that high wooden sidewalk into nettles!

"I hope I remember correctly, but I believe my grandfather, H. P. Hull, was Kendrick's first depot agent, and my father its first druggist.

"Thank you again for this very memorable issue. — Vivian White Peglow."

The Eyestones returned to the United States in July from Afghanistan where they have lived for the past seven years. All their children were born in Kabul, the capital of this mountain kingdom in south-central Asia. Afghanistan is bounded by Iran, Pakistan and Russia.

Mr. Eyestone was director of an English Language program operated by Teachers College, Columbia University, under contract with International Administration (ICA), U. S. State Department. Mr. Eyestone and his staff taught English in the Afghan High schools and in Kabul University, wrote a new series of textbooks for use in these classes, and trained a group of Afghan teachers of English. Mr. Eyestone believes that this and other U. S. technical assistance programs in Asia are making a definite contribution to the welfare of the people of underdeveloped countries and are strengthening the American relations in that part of the world.

"But," Mr. Eyestone says, "it is often frustrating to our educators and technicians to realize that eagerness for new ideas and better methods is an American no longer popular in most countries of the world."

The people are very poor. One of the greatest deterrents to the country's progress, Mr. Eyestone believes, is the people's lack of concern for one another and disinclination to act for the common good. Afghanistan is a stronghold of Islam (Mohammadanism), one of the few in which Christian missionary work has never been allowed. The women of the country live behind high walls or under complete veil, and take almost no part in public life. There are schools for girls only in the capital city and one or two other towns. Even in the case of boys, it has been estimated that only one in 600 finishes the sixth grade. However, there are at least a hundred Afghan young men studying in the United States at the present time, and at least that many others in other countries.

Mr. Carlson's other sister, Mrs. James Mordhorst of Notus, Idaho, and her husband and family also visited the Carlsons over the week-end, the first time the three Carlsons had been together since 1956. Their parents lived at Notus.

Friday the Eyestones will return to the Boise Valley to visit her parents and his, the H. G. Eyestones of Caldwell.

TALENT SEARCH

The talent search is on. With the opening of the Latah County Fair only two weeks away, the call for those who would like to enter this year's talent show is out.

This will be the third such program, with cash prizes going to the winners. Any person who would like to compete in the talent show should contact Gub Mix at KRPL in Moscow, Fair and Fall Festival chairman, or the Chamber Fair headquarters office at 6th and Main in Moscow. Any type musical talent is welcome — from long-hair to pop, to western.

Intent to enter contacts should be made on or before Sept. 5. Those participating will receive full instructions after sending in entries.

The Latah County Fair will be Sept. 10, 11 and 12, at the new Latah County Fair grounds just east of Moscow. The talent show will be held Thursday night, Sept. 10, at 7:30 p. m., in the armory at the Fair Grounds.

DO YOU KNOW

They tell me that if a man with a family of four earned $57 a week 20 years ago, he would need $135 a week today in order to have the same buying power. Inflation has taken $62 and extra taxes take another $15.40. By the way, have you noticed what a tremendous bargain you get with electric service?

A far greater enemy of man than heart disease is over-eating. Every pound of fat puts a continuous added load upon the heart. Eat sparingly, exercise carefully, and your ticker should continue to pump every drop of your blood to body tissues and back once every minute... as long as you live.

K. M. Robinson, president of WWPCo., explained in a hearing before the Washington and Idaho public service commissions that WWPCo. is asking for a small rate increase in order to have continued support of financial houses who must loan the company millions of dollars in the next few years. Robinson said that the company has had only one general rate increase in the past 70 years, and that living costs have risen so rapidly that the company can no longer meet these increased costs with operational economies.

If some employe of The Washington Water Power Company, goes out of his or her way to do a "good turn," you should know that it's part of the company's policy of good citizenship. The company has always taken considerable pride in having employes who take part in civic matters, and who try to be extra neighborly in time of need.

Walter Sullivan says that during the past five years the sun has become two per cent brighter and probably warmer. This may help to explain the ice ages in years gone by; and the melting of polar ice which flooded a good part of the world.

4-H CLUBBERS HAVE ALUMNI PROGRAM

Chicago — In recent years the 4-H program has been broadened to give recognition to former club members through the 4-H Alumni Recognition program, introduced in 1953. Since that time about 900 men and women have been honored, reports Kenneth H. Anderson, associate director of the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

This special program was planned and arranged by the Cooperative Extension Service and the National Committee, states Mr. Anderson. The sponsor of awards is the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Plant Food Division, Little Rock, Ark.

The aim of the program is to honor former 4-H members who have achieved success in their chosen careers, and have continued to exemplify effective community leadership and service to 4-H. Mr. Anderson points out. There are an estimated 20 million 4-H alumni in the United States today, he says, who can encourage and inspire the two million plus boys and girls who belong to over 98,000 clubs.

Candidates for the alumni awards are nominated by Extension agents, local 4-H leaders, club members or other interested persons. Detailed information may be obtained from the County Extension office.

Awards are given at the county, state and national level. They consist of certificates, plaques and the gold 4-H key presented to eight national winners at the 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. The sponsor also pays all expenses to the Congress for recipients of the key award, according to Mr. Anderson.

VANDALISM BIG PROBLEM TO STATE

Conservation officers of the Fish and Game department examine damage to sign and even wooden frame posted to caution against fire hazards in public access and use areas. Such vandalism is noted statewide, although Ross Leonard, director, stressed that only a fraction of the tens of thousands of fishermen, hunters, picnickers and vacationers using the management units and other recreational areas daily are responsible for such deliberately destructive acts.

THE Bull itin

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:
Going somewhere over the long Labor Day week-end? If you are, bring your car, truck or pickup in to us for a complete service job before taking off. Let us lubricate it from end to end with those famous Union Lubricants (there's one for every special need), and drain and refill the crankcase with Royal Triton Motor Oil — then you'll be set for really happy driving.

Slightly Inebriated: "Honey, life was just one big desert until the day I met you!"
Girl Friend: "Is that why you dance like a camel?"

How are your tires for that Labor Day trip? Can they take the gaff? Come in and let us figure with you. You'll be surprised at how cheaply you can own new ones!

Tired Businessman: "My, but that's a beautiful necklace you are wearing tonight. I can't remember buying that for you."
Wife: "You didn't buy it for me. I found it under the back seat of your car!"

Getting ready to hit the fall plowing? How's your supplies of diesel fuel, gasoline, lubricants and motor oils? Call us at 4261 and we'll be there in a flash with your needs — in those famous Union Products.

About age 16 most Boy Scouts become girl scouts!
