

Kendrick's Dike; Finish Date A Military Secret?

NEARING COMPLETION — Shown above is the new dike as it stretches north and east from the upper end of the Lewiston Grain Growers warehouse in the east part of town. This portion of the dike still remains to have the rip-rap facing placed on it. The portion from the old "Swimmin' Hole" to the Kendrick Bean & Fea Co. warehouse has already had the rip-rap placed.

WATER CAUSING TROUBLE — Pictured above is heavy equipment of the Canaday and Van Winkle Construction Company as they work to build a road in the rising waters of the Potlatch river. The road must be made available to place rip-rap in the "toe" trench of the dike. The remainder of the rip-rap is placed from above, the dike being wide enough for one-way truck traffic.

WILBUR CORKILL ELECTED MASTER OF GRANGE TUES.

Wilbur Corkill was elected Master of the Kendrick Grange Tuesday evening at the annual election of officers. Thirty-one members were present, with two visitors also attending.

Pomona Master Martin Johnson and his wife, of Deary, were the guests at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Other officers chosen were: Overseer, Eugene Taylor; Lecturer, Connie White; Steward, Bill Johnson; Assistant Steward, Bud Fey; Chaplain, Elsie Onstott; Treasurer, Manning Onstott; Secretary, Aileen Johnson; Gate Keeper, Cecil Chamberlain; Ceres, Elsie Chamberlain; Pomona, Delores Polomsky; Lady Assistant Steward, Connie Fey; Home Economics Chairman, Ellen Rowden; Executive Committee, Herman Johnson.

The installation of officers will be held at the next regular meeting, which will be held October 20.

SCOUTS TAKE TRIP

George Brocke, Jr., and ten Boy Scouts enjoyed a "camp out" at Atwater Lake last week, leaving here Thursday afternoon and returning on Friday. The State Forestry Dept., under the direction of Norman Lewis, provided transportation in, and Bud Fey hauled the gear out Friday, while the boys hiked.

Most of the boys are almost ready to pass their Second Class Scout rank, and much of their time was spent in working on their Merit badges, and promotion requirements. Boys making the trip included Billy Fey, Tommy Rowden, Ricky Rogers, Dana Magnuson, Bruce Davis, Tommy Cuddy, Roger Nelson, John Dewber, Charles Lackey and Dean Brocke.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Elsie (Tootsie) Warren was complimented with a bridal shower Friday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Ed. Brown.

For entertainment several games were played with Mrs. Albert Glenn, Mrs. Don Fletcher and Mrs. Ted Fey winning prizes.

The bride-to-be, with the help of Mrs. Albert Glenn and Mrs. Bruce May, opened and displayed her many lovely gifts.

Miss Warren is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Warren, Kendrick, and the bride-elect of Eldon Glenn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glenn, Cameron.

Hostesses included the Mesdames Don Jensen of Moscow; Kenneth Brown, Milford Osborn and Don Brown. All are cousins of the bride-to-be.

PLENTY RATTLERS

Marion Rowden reports that despite the lateness of the season there are still plenty of rattle snakes in the area. While at work on Sunday and Monday of last week he killed seven. Of these six had eight to nine rattles each, and ran up to three feet in length.

The seventh snake was only about nine inches long and had just a button!

EASTERBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Easterbrook, Orofino, announce the arrival of a baby daughter, born October 6 at the Davidson Nursing Home, Kendrick.

The little Miss weighed 8 pounds, and is their third child. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Glenn.

WE REMAIN IN DARK ABOUT THE DIKE

Is there a military secret regarding the Kendrick Diking Project?

Last week the Gazette promised its readers a report on the progress of the project, believing fully that the information would be presented to the public.

Following four long distance calls to the Corps of Engineers' office in Walla Walla, the Gazette had to go to press without so much as an acknowledgment that the project is even under way!

The general contractors, Canaday and Van Winkle refused to comment on the progress, as did the field engineer, Peter Matz — so the Gazette went to the phone and started the procedure of calling and of getting the "pass the buck" answer we remain as much in the dark as the next person!

From all available information (nothing more than scuttle-but) it appears as though the project is behind schedule, and workers are fighting the elements and rising waters of the Potlatch river.

Mrs. Canaday did relay to the Gazette that the project has been tougher than first anticipated, and has taken much longer than first expected. The Corps of Army Engineers has extended the time limit on the dike — these figures we do not have.

Although it appears the construction is running behind schedule, it would seem that the work will be completed some time in the near future, as the actual dike work is complete, and the rip-rap has been placed on more than half of it.

The rip-rap is yet to be placed on the dike from the old "Swimmin' Hole" to the bridge that crosses Bear Creek at the north end of Kendrick.

We regret that most of this is no more than hear-say on the street, but should we receive any information, we will have a complete report when and if this "military secret" is released to the tax payers!

SCHOOL BUILDING

Excellent progress (considering the inclement weather) is being made by the Hollibough Construction Co. of Greer on the new Jr.-Sr. High school building at Kendrick.

Two bulldozers, a loader, trucks and other equipment now have the school site all but leveled, and the work of digging trenches for the pouring of concrete footings is in progress.

The company has brought in a small office building and a small trailer house for the use of personnel. In addition the Stoddard Electric Co., who will handle heating and other installations, have erected a small warehouse at the edge of the project.

It is understood that the company already has on hand the necessary construction steel for the building, and other necessary electrical and plumbing supplies — so the steel strike will mean very little, if anything, to this project.

FARMERS "MAKE HAY" WHILE THE SUN SHINES, MISS OPENING DAY OF HUNTING

While the hunters headed for the mountains over the week-end, the farmers took to their fields to harvest what could be saved of their rain-soaked crops.

The Kendrick warehousemen reported that week-end harvesting operations probably marked all that will be taken from the fields this fall, even though some small grain threshing still remains to be done.

The Kendrick Rochdale Co. reported that several loads of beans were brought in over the week-end, but Bob Watts, manager, said the quality was extremely poor. Watts also added that Tuesday's rain would probably put an end to the chances of saving the beans that had not been harvested.

The Lewiston Grain Growers reported that between two and three carloads of oats and barley were brought into their warehouse during the few days of good weather that prevailed.

Ben Westendahl said that the grain brought in by the farmers ran from 13 to 15 percent moisture content, which is much higher than is normally taken into storage.

With the resumption of falling rain Tuesday, it appears as though the farmers will be able to join the hunters and take part in the excellent kills being reported throughout the area.

It seems likely that grain and beans still in the fields will probably be plowed under (if and when it gets dry enough to plow), as the chances of it drying out are now nearly out of the question.

ENGAGEMENT PARTY

Miss Elaine Heffel was honored on Wednesday, Sept. 30, with a bridal shower in the Leland Church basement.

The gift table was beautifully decorated with a lace tablecloth, centered with a bouquet of yellow and white snapdragons flanked with yellow candles. Baskets of yellow and white glads were also used in the room decorations.

Fun games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Chester Vincent, Mrs. Ted Weyen and Mrs. Wilbur Tarbet. Each guest autographed a clothespin, which was presented to the honoree in a clothespin bag.

Miss Heffel, her mother, Mrs. Jesse Heffel and her mother-in-law-to-be, Mrs. Ed. Galloway were presented with corsages by the hostesses, and seated at the gift table, where they opened and displayed the many lovely and useful gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ervin Draper, Mrs. Gordon Peters, Mrs. Robert Draper, Mrs. Hugh Parks, Mrs. Wilbur Corkill and Mrs. Lloyd Craig.

Miss Heffel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Heffel, will marry Eddie Galloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Galloway, Big Bear ridge, Oct. 17.

HUNTING PARTIES

Taking fullest advantage of the break in the rain clouds several parties of hunters took to the woods last week in search of big game.

Among these were: Jack Lohman, Don Millard and Ira Hahn, who left Wednesday of last week for the Kelly Fork area.

Another group composed of Louis Maio, E. M. White, Frank Abrams and Bob Magnuson also left Wednesday for the Boles Cabin area. They were joined for the week-end by Denny Abrams and Gerald White.

Bill Willis, Glen Clarence and Pat McGulre, all of Kirkland, Wn., joined Parker McCreary Friday for a hunt in the Salmon river area. Parker returned home Tuesday.

There are probably several other local hunting parties of whom we have not heard. However, Elwert's Market reports that no great amount of meat has yet come in for cutting.

Home Monday evening.

Herman Baker is convalescing at the home of his brother, Ervin Baker. He has been a patient at the Orofino Hospital for some six weeks, following a jeep accident.

Hostesses for the reception will be Mrs. T. E. King, Mrs. Orval Choate, Mrs. Cliff Brown, Mrs. James Reece and Mrs. Rollin Armitage.

ABOUT MOISTURE

Many have wondered about the amount of rainfall we have had this year, and Walter May, American ridge, who has a rain gauge, supplied us with these figures:

January, 5.43 inches; February, 1.85 inches; March, .91 inches; April, 1.19 inches; May, 2.08 inches; June, 1.65 inches; July, none; August, 1.44 inches; Sept., 3.31 inches.

In other words, August and September considered the "harvest months" saw a downpour of 4.75 inches. No wonder wheat is sprouting in the head and fields boggy!

On The Weather

Overcast skies have prevailed here the past few days — but our satisfaction is that no rain had fallen for a week. Farmers have turned their beans (although several have turned them under or burned them). No one has harvested any here, due to dampness, but a few more sunny days might have turned the trick. Red clover was being harvested — seeding has been going on in full swing, although summer fallow was too wet to permit work.

Participates In 4-H Work

Mrs. Don Cantril and Sandy were Moscow visitors on Friday, where Sandy participated in the District 4-H competition. Sandy gave a demonstration on "How to Put An Interfacing in a Coat." She received a red ribbon. Sandy was to take part in the style revue at the University on Saturday, but due to illness was unable to attend.

The Cantrils were luncheon guests of Mrs. John Miller, and also called on Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Eldridge.

Rally Day

Sunday, October 11th will be the annual Rally Day at the Southwick Community Church. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. A special Sunday School program will be held and as a special feature there will be a charcoal drawing by Mrs. Stanley Davis which will be presented to the one bringing the most people to the services.

Appointment of Ray D. Farnsworth of Moscow as a crew leader for the 1959 Census of Agriculture was announced this week by Guy E. Rainboth field director of the census bureau's regional office at Seattle.

Mr. Farnsworth will direct a force of census takers who will canvass all farms in Benewah and Latah counties. Before assuming his post he will go to Spokane where he will receive five days of training by a member of the census bureau's staff. ## The 10 Commandments of Safety

- 1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of safety.
- 2 Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and faken down or have actions open; guns always should be pointed in cases to the shooting area.
- 3 Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have a sufficient amount of the proper size for the gun you are carrying; remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.
- 4 Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
- 5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.
- 6 Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.
- 7 Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.
- 8 Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.
- 9 Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface of the surface of water; when at target practice be sure your backstop is adequate.
- 10 Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

etta, the Council's finance chairman. October 20th will be the official kick-off date.

The "Friends of Scouting" campaigns will be in communities not using a United Fund program and where independent campaigns are necessary to secure the funds for the Lewis-Clark Council's annual operations. Twenty-five communities are expected to take part in the Clearwater, Latah, Idaho, Nezperce and Lewis counties area of Idaho, and Asotin, Garfield and Whitman counties of Washington.

Mr. Mead and his committee have proposed a total budget of $30,000 for the 1960 operations of the Council. Each community of the Council is asked to share in the budget income so that the Cubbing, Scouting and Explorer programs may be maintained. Approximately 5,750 Scouts and leaders take part in Scouting activities each year.

Income from independent and the "United" Fund campaigns are used to provide training for leaders, camping facilities, badges and awards, program materials, office expenses, professional staff, and other Council needs. The Jr. Fat Stock sale netted $15,976.00 to 4-H and F. F. A. members for 96 head of fat stock sold at the fair.

Changes recommended for the 1960 program include a revision of several divisions and entries to bring them up to date, and inclusion of a new booth contest.

Mrs. Andrew Cox, Kendrick; Lawrence Burtis, Palouse, and Wayne Mayburry, Moscow, were appointed on a committee to proceed with remodeling plans of the food booths.

The present food booths are not considered adequate for the crowds attracted to the fair and expansion of these facilities will be convenient for crowds attending.

Dates announced for the 1960 Latah County Fair are September 15, 16 and 17.

PARENTS CAN HELP CHILD'S GRADES

Wash., D. C. — Even if Pop's education did end when he learned how to wire a doorbell, educators agree that he still exerts a lot of influence on how well his children fare in school. And Mom may not be able to help in diagramming ionic and covalent compounds, but she still has a big hand in the next generation's school progress.

The National Education Assn. has put in a good word for Mom and Pop and what they can do to help their offspring make the most of their school experience.

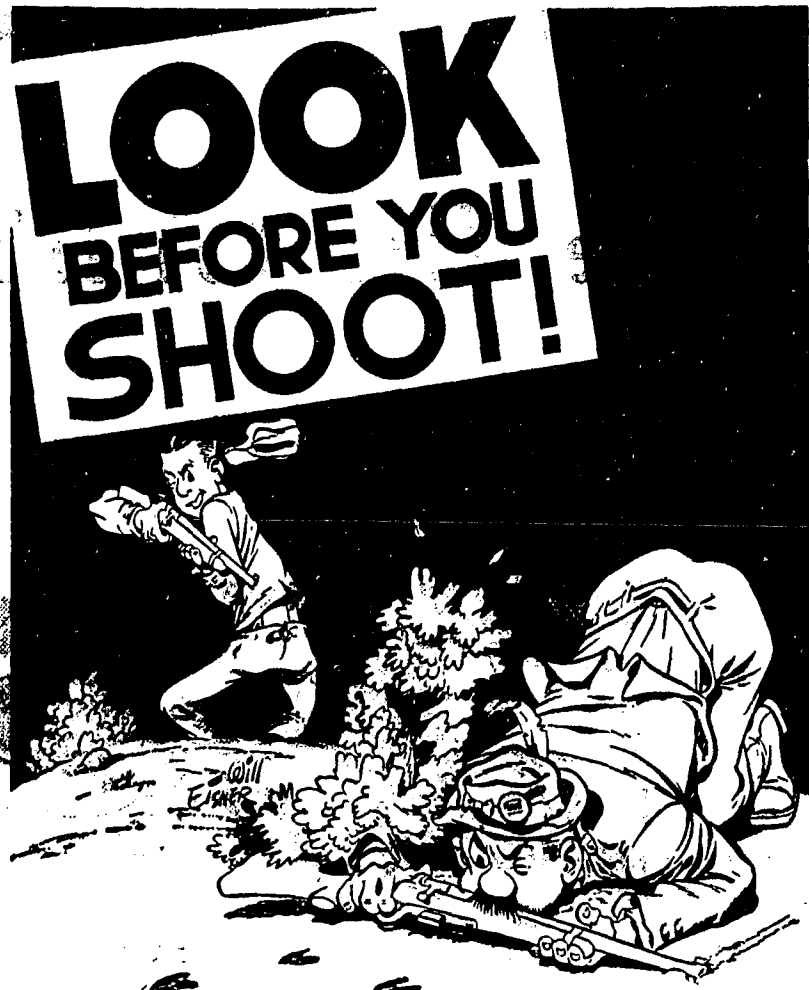

Among the obvious ways, of course, are the provision of a quiet, secluded place for study, aiding with home work assignments, and offering encouragement by praising the child's accomplishments when earned.

But probably more important are the subtler, yet more persuasive influences of the home, which condition the whole atmosphere in which the child grows up. Dinner table conversation, for instance, is not usually thought of as having any direct bearing on formal education, but it can be directed so as to stimulate the interest of the child, enriching the discoveries he is making in school, or laying the ground work for school experiences yet to be encountered.

With teenagers particularly, the educators urge that table talk should be guided into the realm of substantial ideas. Teenagers, they say, love "bull sessions" and learn much from them. Often, they point out, developments in current events have their roots in history and simply putting the day's news into perspective as it is discussed around the dinner table can add measurably to the child's knowledge of such subjects as history and geography.

An atlas, a globe, an almanac and a dictionary might be kept conveniently close to the television set, so they can be consulted during news and documentary programs. And of course, there are many times when parents can help the child most by simply turning off the television set. But when reference materials are at hand they often invite checking on some controversial or doubtful point that has been raised in a television program. This may not only clarify the matter immediately at issue, but may lead to further exploration of the subject, expanding the child's knowledge beyond that experienced in the program or his lesson assignment itself.

This procedure also helps the child to practice scientific methods in the acquiring of knowledge — the tracking down of observed and provable facts.

Long Beach, Calif. (FHTNC) — Randolph L. Wallace, fireman, USN, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wallace, Kendrick, returned to Long Beach Sept. 16th aboard the destroyed tender USS Bryce Canyon after a seven-month tour of duty with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the western Pacific.

On Aug. 28, at Yokohama, Japan, the Bryce Canyon was awarded a gold Navy "E" for outstanding battle efficiency.

At Subic Bay, in the Philippines, crewmen donated 100 pounds of foodstuffs to hill-dwelling natives, set up a $500 scholarship for a needy student, and donated blood which saved a native's life.

TRITE SAYINGS

One of the hardest secrets for a man to keep is his opinion of himself.

The superior man blames himself; the inferior man blames others. Think how a mother kangaroo must feel on a rainy day when the kids can't play outside.

The best thing that parents can spend on their children is time — not money.

To promote the theory and practice of the principles of good government and good citizenship takes action — not just talk.

DO YOU KNOW

Development of the atom means we are on the threshold of a new world. Still problems of the old world continue to haunt us—trends in world population which will double every 50 years; automation, which will produce more leisure time; short work weeks and long hours of idleness, which very few people know how to utilize... a good subject for any Sunday sermon.

Just think how nice it will be this winter to sit back in an easy chair or to get up on a cold morning with no fires to tend. Automatic gas heat can be installed in one day's time usually, and the cost is surprisingly low. Call the Water Power or your gas dealer for estimates.

If you are saving for old age or a rainy day, better give some thought to taxes and inflation. The husband and father of two, who earns $7,035.00 a year, today can purchase only as much as $3,000 would buy back in 1939. The future looks worse. Taxes amounted to $30 in 1939, but today they take $846 from the wage earner, while inflation washes away another $3,219. The Washington Water Power Company pays some $6 millions in taxes annually. Inflation has cut our dollars in half, which creates a real operating problem.

Alcoholism is our most serious drug addiction, standing fourth as a cause of serious illness. It is exceeded only by heart disease, cancer and mental illness. By 1956, four million people were alcoholics in the U.S.A., with only about 7% on skid row. The rest of the four million are all around us, only most of them don't know and won't admit they are alcoholics.

Public power is cheap only because of advantages such as freedom from taxes, and cheap money. Service from a business-managed electric company is practically as cheap as public power in spite of high taxes, largely because of efficiencies in operation. This is a direct compliment to the business man.

THREE DAYS TO JUMP

Idaho grew fast in the early days. And life was lived at quite a clip in the mining camps. Fortunes were made fast and cities were built fast. The miners' rule that preceded formal law in the west was geared to the times. Claim jumping (or mining another man's claim) was allowed if the owner failed to work his claim for three days running. Of course, exceptions were made in the event of illness. Violations of this self-established code were intolerable to the sense of fair play that still remains a solid characteristic of the west and met with swift and stern "miners' justice."

This same philosophy of respect for the rights of others survives to this day in the west. The right of each individual to a free choice whether it be to "work his claim" or to choose a glass of beer for refreshment is a proud tradition of Idaho history which we still enjoy today.

Today in Idaho the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly throughout the beer business to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.

Beer belongs in the free west. Enjoy it.

THE SCIENCE OF THE HOME

Properly managing a home in today's complex world calls for a wide scope of knowledge and ability. In fact, millions of wives must be experts in dozens of skills while their husbands, supposedly much more highly trained, are masters of only one specialty.

For its far-reaching contributions to the science of being a homemaker in the 20th Century, the American Home Economics Association is being honored during 1959 — its golden anniversary year. Founded in 1909 to develop better methods of family management and home maintenance, the Association enters its second half-century with a record of solid achievement and with a program realistically geared to the rapidly changing social and economic conditions.

Unheralded and quietly, the home economics profession has done immeasurable good for humanity. Besides giving basic education in child development, nutrition, budget management, textiles and clothing, and many other subjects to millions of today's homemakers, it has through research and education, greatly improved standards of nutrition, home planning and equipment, textile uses and labeling, family expenditures, and promoted the application of science to the home.

Today 46,000 home economists teach in high schools, colleges and universities, and in adult education; 3,500 help industry develop better products to meet the homemakers' needs, others work in government, welfare and dietetics and other specialties. In addition they cooperate with home economists throughout the world to raise the status of women, and to improve living standards and family life everywhere, thus lessening a major cause of strife.

It is fortunate that this profession has developed so rapidly and soundly, and that educators generally recognize its essentiality in modern education. Education for living is important regardless of whether we live in a space age or another age yet undreamed of. Home economics, as the science of the home, deserves a tribute on its 50th anniversary.

A FARMER GOES TRAVELING
(By Horton F. Thompson)
Recently I had occasion to cross parts of Washington, Iowa, Idaho, Oregon, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota, South Dakota and Montana.
I worked on a farm in Iowa in World War I days, and I noticed the difference in farm practices in Iowa compared with Kansas, where I was raised — as well as the differences in our farm practices in this area.
In Kansas, it was corn rotated with corn both even and odd years, and corn again.
The rows ran east and west or north and south.
In the spring the stalks were cut, raked and burned.
By such methods a lot of precious top soil went down the Missouri river. I examined some of these old fields in Kansas and Missouri. Some fields are not growing corn now. Hardpan doesn't produce too well. The best bet on that ground now is orchard grass. Some try birdsfoot trefoil.
I was in Iowa several years and never saw a corn stalk burned. The corn ground went into oats, and the oat ground of the previous year went into corn. The stalks were plowed under. The corn was check rowed usually in shallow trenches near the surface. In Kansas it was listed in a deep furrow.
In Iowa an occasional field of red clover was plowed under, seeded in oat ground. When we threshed oats from the shock in Iowa each man with a wagon loaded his own wagon.
I would say that the farm land in Iowa is better today than it was 40 years ago. Each year the soil in Iowa produces more wealth than all the gold mines of the world.
Driving through the country where you see gullies in our own Palouse hills you would see a strip of yellow blossom sweet clover in Iowa — no gully. And that strip of yellow is in the corn ground, in the soy bean ground, in the oat field, in the pasture and in the alfalfa.
Each farm in Iowa is well fenced, looking as though some one lived on the place. The fields are clean and every place has some livestock, and everyone has chickens. Plenty of shade trees and some fruit.
The folks are not too strong on ranch type houses. The houses are mostly sensible two-story houses — the kind best suited for raising kids. And you get the most for your shingle money in a two-story house.
Western Kansas, however, impressed me very favorably. They have learned some valuable lessons. It isn't all wheat any more.
The same old two-story houses have a shelter belt of tall trees, a big barn and an implement shed nearby, of course a pole with a transformer, and lots of silos.
In one feedlot I saw a walking beam pump at work on an oil well and a windmill pumping water. On a farm in Atchison county I counted 10 silos where formerly only two stood. In eastern Kansas they are terracing and contouring, doing the best with what they have.
Trash farming is displacing foolish farming, and you see ponds everywhere.
One sees storage bins from Cheyenne to Denver and all the way to even west of the bad lands in South Dakota. Some of the Iowa crops are stored in northern Minnesota.
I was told that the Sibley golf course is acclaimed one of the finest courses in Iowa now, lots of green grass and trees and a nice club house. Some 35 years ago I was one of the few who started "cow pasture pool" there.
It is amazing the new building going on in Junction City, Topeka, Lawrence and Kansas City — everywhere.
The University of Kansas gave me a 50-year gold pin — that's why I took the trip.
The folk in Iowa are still doing the best job of farming. What will our sons do when they get down to

DEDICATION OCT. 10
Seattle — Dedication of The Dalles Dam on the Columbia river will be held Saturday, Oct. 10, at 10:30 a. m., with the main address by Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Events are planned during the rest of the day at The Dalles, according to the committee in charge. The Fort Lewis military band will be among the musical groups taking part.
A Corps of Engineers project, located 85 miles east of Portland, the dam is a major unit in the plan for development of the water resources of the Columbia river. Construction operations were directed by the U. S. Army Engineer District, Portland.

BETTER STUDENTS
U. of I., Moscow — New students coming to the University of Idaho are showing better preparation, was the report this week of C. H. Bond, chief student counselor, after surveying the results of this fall's aptitude tests.
"Not only are today's students averaging better on the whole, but more are hitting in the upper 10 percent bracket," said Bond. He added that this merited tribute to high school teachers as well as students.
"And parents should probably get some credit, too," he said. "The combination of a high scholastic aptitude test score and a record of outstanding achievement in high school will in almost all cases designate the individual who will achieve at a high level in his college program. Such an individual should be stimulated and encouraged to aim high and not settle for average achievement."
Dean Allen S. Janssen reported a healthy improvement in the results of pre-engineering tests this year.
"We are also getting fewer students in engineering with high school deficiencies," he said. "In the thirties, freshmen students deficient in mathematics would run a shigh as 50 percent. Today the number represents only about 6 percent."

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, while the weather is trying to make up its mind what to do — and you are probably as badly puzzled on whether to do your fall work or "take a chance and go hunting," we just want to say there's a Union Product to fit any occasion — heating, plowing, discing, or driving your car, pickup or truck!

The clanging noise made by the garbage collectors aroused the family. The housewife suddenly remembered she had forgotten to put out the garbage. With her hair in curlers and her face shiny with various creams, she sleepily leaned out the window and called to the collector: "Am I too late for the garbage?" "Certainly not," replied the collector, "Hop right in."

Don't let your family shiver while you are hunting. Check your stove oil right now and give us a call at 4251 — for Union — and we hurry!

"For months," said the bridge-playing woman, "I couldn't imagine where my husband spent his evenings."

"And then what happened?" her friend asked breathlessly.

"Well," she said, "one evening I went home, and there he was!"

Got some fall work that's pushing? Try Union Products — they'll give you "that extra push!"

Many a television program would have a happier ending if we just had the energy to get up and turn it off sooner!
