KENDRICK HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Hall's Biology classroom is bulging with interesting additions. Each member of the class has been working on a special project, and some of these projects are little scenes. There are forests, swamps, valleys, mountains and snow scenes. These are very cute and realistic.

There are also maps made of plasters of Paris. Some of the students have made collections of weeds and tree samples. These are arranged in attractive books.

Many other projects are coming in, too, such as assembling animal skeletons, and results of bird crossing. There are truly many interesting things here at school.

Girls Form Basketball Team

A group of girls from the fifth period study hall have joined together to play basketball. They play only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. This is the same time the freshmen girls have P. E. Most of the girls participating in this activity are sophomores and seniors.

There will be no games played with other schools. No credits will be given for this activity, it will be just for fun.

Semester Examinations

Students and teachers are being kept very busy this week getting ready for the first semester examinations. The semester ends on January 15 and report cards will be issued the following Friday — January 22nd.

These reports are issued four times a year, at the end of each semester and at the end of the mid-term. Semester grades are recorded on the permanent record of each student.

Periodical grade reports inform the parent of the student's progress in school. The cards must be approved by one parent or guardian before they are returned to school.

JULIAETTA GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

Three Crippleers That Strike 1 in Every 4 U. S. Families

Birth defects put 1-year-old Monte Hukill in a cast at Baylor Hospital, Dallas, Texas.

The New March of Dimes to prevent crippling diseases directly affects one in every four U. S. families. The targets are birth defects, arthritis and polio. The weapons are the same weapons used so effectively in the polio fight: research, patient aid, training for more badly needed professionals to fight disease.

Polio paralyzed 5-year-old Stephen Yeigh during the Des Moines epidemic of 1959 and kept him in an iron lung.

STATE POLICE OPEN SAFE DRIVER PLAN FIRST AWARD GIVEN

A flawless 39-year driving record, courteous driving habits and an act of service beyond the ordinary call of duty won a Blackfoot motorist the distinction of being named Idaho's first "Driver of the Month." In addition to this honor Byrd F. Colson of Blackfoot, received a cash award of $100 from the Shelly Branch of the Idaho first national bank.

Colson was selected from among several motorists "cited" by the Idaho State Police during the month of December. The award was made this month by a committee composed of officials of the Department of Law Enforcement and the above named bank. Officers of the bank and the Department of Law Enforcement conceived the "Safe Driver Award" program as a means of recognizing the good drivers of the state in addition to apprehending the poor ones.

In nominating Colson for the award, Ray Rohrbacher, Idaho State Police officer stationed at Blackfoot stated, "I was called to the scene of an accident on highway 91 north of Blackfoot in the middle of a heavy snow storm. Traffic was unusually heavy at that time and road and weather conditions combined to create a critical condition which could have resulted in further property damage and personal injury. On arriving at the scene I found that Mr. Colson had parked his pick-up truck in a position to warn on-coming traffic. The blinker lights on his vehicle were flashing a warning to other motorists of the danger ahead and Mr. Colson was directing traffic around the damaged vehicles which almost completely blocked the road."

Rohrbacher explained that Colson's actions aided materially in speeding up the investigation of the accident and in clearing the highway so that traffic could proceed normally. In addition, Colson made his vehicle available to the parties involved in the accident so that they could get in out of the driving snow storm.

Governor Robert E. Smylie, when told of Colson's selection as Idaho's first "Driver of the Month," commented: "It's the thousands of Byrd F. Colsons throughout the state of Idaho and the nation who are contributing more than they realize to safety on our highways."

"These are the people whose good citizenship translated into terms of action make it possible for better and more effective law enforcement and better traffic safety programs."

"I am more than pleased that Mr. Colson is being recognized and my congratulations go to this Idaho man whose courteous and considerate actions are for the first time being made known to the public. I am sure that good citizenship is 'second nature' to Colson and the vast majority of Idahoans whom he represents."

The December "Driver of the Month" has been a resident of Idaho since 1927 and has lived in Bingham County since 1938. For the past five years he has served as county weed supervisor, a position that requires extensive driving over all kinds of roads and in all types of weather. The 54-year-old man is married and has two sons living in the Blackfoot area.

In closing the nomination of Colson officer Rohrbacher said, "I have had occasion to observe his driving habits almost every day for the past two and a half years and have never seen him do anything that was hazardous in the least."

State police are issuing "citations" for safe drivers who will be considered for January "Driver of the Month" award. Each driver cited is given a pocket card and windshield decal by the officer making the citation.

REALLY TRUE

Apply reason to the season when driving.

We understand that several people have read so much about safe driving that they are giving up reading!

If your wife drives you to drink, let her drive you home again.

Don't bluff at an intersection — someone might call you!

The greatest single cause of traffic accidents is people.

Guided missiles can go off course, but they push a button and blow it up. When your car skids out of control, all you can do is hope.

Passing within an inch of your life may mean passing out of it!

DO YOU KNOW?

An advertising slogan is going its rounds, "never underestimate the powers of a woman," which reminds me that a Los Angeles barmaid, named Nina O'Malley, set a world's record in 1955 by marrying her 14th husband.

And speaking of superlatives, the largest estate ever left by a woman was $95,000,000, belonging to Hetty Green. She had over $31 million in one bank alone.

Now, with the preliminaries over, we can tell you that when the old furnace goes ka-flooye, call the Washington Water Power Company and ask about clean, economical, low-cost gas heat. Don't replace the old stove until you ask about gas.

The other day an acquaintance said as follows: "You seldom see one car dealer advertising the defects of his competitor's car. So why does the Washington Water Power Company spend its time telling us that the PUD escapes its fair taxes, and that it leads to socialism? Why run down competition?" Well, I answered this way. I said that a private utility is forced to fight fire with fire. PUDs have tried to pass a law which would prevent a private company from mentioning public power rates, and tax differences, and in the same breath the PUDs shout that private utilities and the profit system should be wiped off the face of the earth. Is it right to sit still while socialist-minded people want to change our nation's business system? I imagine the company's 21,000 stockholders would want us to at least try to stay in business. We believe the truth should be told.

Back to womenfolk, I heard the other day that Cornelia Foster, age 61, lived for 102 days on nothing but water and soda water... and I can't even skip breakfast.

Close shaves aren't restricted to beards. Careful cutting often is needed to put together tight-fitting pieces of handicraft project for home or farm. Some problems that crop up really call for ingenuity. A reader asks:

Q.—"We have a fieldstone fireplace for which we would like to erect a wooden mantle. How can we fit the lumber so it will be flush with the irregular stone surface?"

A.—Place the lumber against the surface at the height you wish to attach it. You may need helpers to hold it steady and level. (Run one leg of a compass or dividers along the stone surface.) The other leg will mark a similar outline on the lumber.

Use compass, or dividers, to get exact measurements.

Before you start marking, note the widest gap between the lumber edge and stone surface. Set your dividers a speck wider than that gap.

Following the outline, trim the edge of the wood. You'll probably need a compass saw, wood chisel and file to carve out the niches and curves. Place the lumber back against the surface to note any vertical variations.

Q.—"When I drill in metal, the hole never seems to wind up as exactly centered as I want it. How come?"

A.—You may be forgetting one of several basic points for using a portable electric drill (freehand or mounted) or a drill press. First, use measuring devices to determine where you want the hole and to locate its center. Mark the point with a scribe or scratch awl. Then punch a mark large enough to receive the point of the drill bit to be used, using a center punch and hammer.

With a press or mounted drill, line up the punch mark exactly with the drill bit point, clamp the work securely and then drill.

(Readers may address handicraft problems to Thor Research Center, Marengo, Ill.)

FUTILE ESCAPE TRY

Buck antelope turns and faces "chopper" in effort to escape from woven wire wing of huge live-trap used by Fish and Game department workers to capture some 575 prong-horns in Little Lost River country of south-central Idaho. Animals were ear-tagged and classified by age and sex for records on herd productivity. This unique animal is not a true antelope, and has no close relatives anywhere in the world, although the family was big and varied many thousands of years ago. Next to the cheetah, the pronghorn is the animal kingdom's fastest runner, having been clocked at 60 miles an hour several times — and even at 70 for short spurts. Hence the reason for using helicopters for annual tagging and classification work.

THE STORY OF PROJECT TALENT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31, 1959 — Dr. Glen E. Maier of Eastern Washington College of Education has been named as regional coordinator for "Project Talent", the forthcoming national census of aptitudes and abilities of high school students. Dr. Maier, who lives at 720 Clover Court, Cheney, Wash., is the administrator for the Washington area, with key responsibility for working with the local school superintendents and principals of the schools which have been selected for participation in this inventory of talent.

"Project Talent," a survey carried out by the University of Pittsburgh, and supported by the United States Office of Education and other government agencies, will administer a special set of examinations and questionnaires to students in approximately 1,000 high schools. These schools are being selected as representative of all American secondary schools.

The same two-day battery of tests will be given at about the same time in March of 1960 to students in large and small public, private and parochial schools in cities and rural districts. The purpose is to make a National Census of Aptitudes and Abilities, providing needed information for those responsible for educational planning.

The regional coordinator will provide the schools with test information, but the schools themselves will administer the tests.

Dr. Maier is a native of North Dakota and received his advanced education at the University of Washington.

Our Note: The first information on this project was carried in our columns some weeks ago. Kendrick High School is one of five schools so chosen in the state of Idaho.

NAZARENES GAIN

W. G. Hansen, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene at Juliaetta says that national reports for church show:

Per capita giving of the Church of the Nazarene, nationally, was $135 in 1959 — an increase of $2.46 over the previous year, and a new denominational record.

Total denominational giving for all purposes was $42,183,554, which was an increase of about $2 million.

Substantial gains in other areas of the denomination's work were shown in the annual statistical statement released this week from Kansas City.

Church membership climbed to 311,299, a net gain of 9,624.

The denomination started 159 new churches in 1959, or an average of three per week. One of these was in Frankfort, West Germany. The total number of churches at the year's end was 4,696.

Sunday School enrollment gained 22,777, a 3.4 percent increase, to a total of 696,512.

PLEASE SAVE STAMPS

Please save your cancelled postage stamps for either the M. Y. F. or the W. S. C. S. at Kendrick. The stamps are shipped out and the money gained by their sale is used to buy milk for children in other lands. This is a missionary project everyone can share in without cost to themselves.

Mrs. Bud Fey will receive stamps for the M. Y. F., and Mrs. Ella Benscoter for the W. S. C. S.

THOUGHT FOOD

One of the cardinal rules for safe winter driving is to pump your brakes when you want to stop on snow or ice.

A lot of two-and-three-car accidents could just as well be called two-or-three-beer accidents.

GRANGERS MEET

The Kendrick Grange met on January 5, with 39 members and one visitor present. The visitor was Ormand Manderfeld, Latah County Pomona Grange Master.

The program was the first one on "Hobbies," in the form of a show, with the following members telling of how they got started and how expensive it had proven to be: Connie Fey, salt and pepper shakers; Jo Benscoter, crossword puzzles; Kathryn Morey, cake decorating; Emma Kent, flowers; Katherine Hoisington, knitting slippers; Dick Cuddy, golfing; Earlene Taylor, flowers; Floy Cuddy, interior decorating.

For the next program the Kendrick Volunteer Fire Department will give a safety talk.

It was also announced there would be a Pomona Grange meeting in Moscow on Jan. 17, beginning at 1:00 p. m., with a pot-luck dinner.

EYE SURGERY

Mr. and Mrs. George Eggers have received word that their granddaughter, Linda Adams of Moses Lake, Wash., underwent surgery on Monday morning for the removal of a millinoma pigment from one eye.

Linda attended K. H. S. a couple of years ago and will be remembered here by many.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB

The Evergreen Friendship Club will meet on Wednesday, January 20, at 1:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Dean Hollenbeck. Mrs. Bob Watts is the co-hostess.

The trouble about the people who think they know it all — is that there are so many of them!

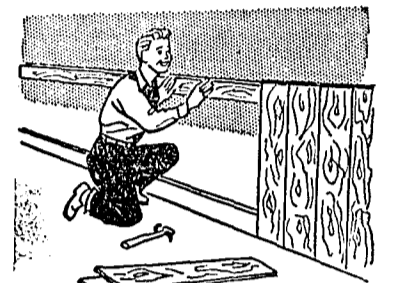

By Don Burrowbridge, Director Thor Research Center for Better Farm Living

A simple way to change the character of a "cold" room — especially a large one with plain, unbroken walls — is to panel the bottom part with knotty pine.

One reader contemplating this remodeling job asks: "Is it necessary to remove the present plastered and painted wall down to the studs to put up knotty pine paneling 40 inches high?"

A. — Definitely not. You can put up this "wainscoting" over the plaster easily. The only thing to remove is the shoe-mold at the bottom of the baseboard. Then run a 3-inch strip of wood around the room with the top kept level at 40 inches. The strip should be as wide as the baseboard (usually 1-inch stock). Nail this strip through the plaster to the wall studs.

Knotty pine paneling gives character to "cold" rooms.

Next, simply nail the knotty pine paneling to the top strip and the baseboard. Use tongue-and-groove lumber. Nail at an angle through the tongue and the groove of the next board will cover the nails. Replace the shoe-mold, if you wish, and add molding to cover the nailing strip and the top of the paneling. A light-weight power sander will help ease any finishing needed.

Q. — "I'm just getting interested in metal work, but have trouble with the hacksaw when cutting thin metal. It gets caught up and bends when I start to saw. How can I avoid this?"

A. — You might find it easier to use a tinner's snips on thin metal. If you want to cut very thin metal with a hacksaw, however, insert the metal between two wooden blocks and mount the pieces in a vise. You'll have to saw the wood as well, but the blocks will hold the metal firm.

You may also be using too coarse a blade. Try using a finer blade with more, but smaller, teeth to the inch.

TOMMY'S WORLD IS ALL UPSIDE DOWN...

Or maybe it's just the world that looks that way . . . the world that forgets that polio is still a terrifying crippler.

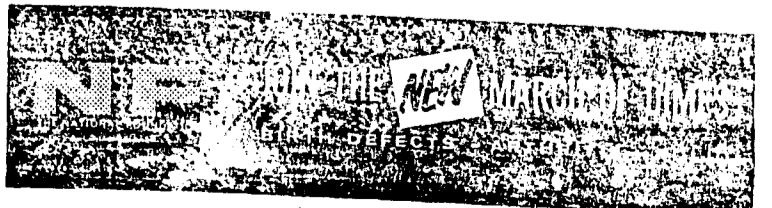

Tommy Davey was stricken with paralytic polio when he was 14 months old. That was over four years ago. Arms, legs, chest muscles, all paralyzed.

His earliest memory is the iron lung and the world seen through a mirror.

What he sees is the white, hushed, institutional world of the hospital. But here he seems to be looking at you — at me — at all of us. He seems to be reminding us that polio is a costly crippler still.

Tommy is one of 50,000 polio patients receiving March of Dimes aid. Your help in the past literally kept him alive. Your help also enabled scientists to develop weapons against polio, like the Salk vaccine and advanced rehabilitation techniques.

Your contribution to the NEW March of Dimes in 1960 offers new hope to polio victims. For sufferers like Tommy your help can make the world right side up again.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Tired of slipping and sliding on icy, snowy roads? If so, come in and let us tractionize your tires — or better yet — sell you a set of new mud and snow tires. Then you will drive with a feeling of safety. Cost of either is low — results big!

The children were in the midst of a free-for-all when father unexpectedly arrived on the scene.

"Tommy, who started this?" he asked.
"Well," replied Tommy, "it all started when Albert hit me back."

Car hard to start these winter days? If so, bring it in to us and let us drain and refill the crankcase with that wonderful Royal Triton Motor Oil, and fill the gas tank with Union 7600 — then you'll be set to go!

A salesman, held up in a small Wyoming town by a blizzard, wired his firm: "Stranded here due to storm. Wire instructions."

Back came an immediate reply: "Start vacation immediately!"

Yes, we carry chains, chain adjusters, anti-freeze, and many other winter driving necessities. Check with us.

The old fashioned girl blushed when she was embarrassed. The modern girl is embarrassed when she blushes.

How is your home? Comfortable and warm? If not, call us at 4251 — and we'll be there in a flash with Union Heating Oil — the really hot, clean fuel.

Always travel "Union".
