Report from the GOVERNOR

For a year now Idaho has had a government administered by a Republican governor, a Democratic cabinet and a Democratic legislature. A year ago many Idahoans were saying that this situation could only be productive of chaos and confusion. Even then I was persuaded that reasonable legislative harmony was not only possible, but probable, and the strain would come if it did at the administrative level of government. I said this in my opening message to the Legislature. Now that we can look back at a year of history that prophecy was pretty nearly correct.

The legislature, dominated by nearly a two-thirds majority in both houses by the opposition party, enacted eighty percent of the program which I suggested. They spent more money than I recommended and as a consequence went further in laying on taxes than I would have preferred. But by and large we worked together in harmony and without unnecessary bickering.

I wish the same could be said of the working of the administrative cabinet.

From my point of view there has been far too much public business decided on purely partisan grounds by the boards of which I am the sole Republican member. Increasingly these last months I have been a minority of one. In some instances I have been unable to even get discussion of my suggestions.

Many people have asked why I have been making a point of voting "No" on these matters that come before the Land Board and the Board of Examiners. They have asked what is gained by continual disputation.

The answer is really quite simple. I am persuaded that the people elected me to be Governor to do my best for all the people of the state. In fact my oath requires this. For that reason I think I am required by good conscience to vote against proposals made by my associates on these boards when I think they are wrong or unwise. There is no other way in which I can be faithful to the people who placed their trust in me as Governor.

I voted against the cottage site leases on Priest Lake because I thought the policy under which they were granted was wrong and perhaps in violation of law.

I voted against double insurance on the Capitol building because the approval of the Commissioner of Insurance had not been received as required by Title 41 of the Code.

I voted against the sale of mountain meadow grazing land in the Caribou Basin because I thought that the interests of all the people in the preservation of our watersheds was better served by continuing these lands in public ownership. I was persuaded that it was potentially disastrous to trade dollars now for danger later.

I have consistently voted against the sale of lands on the hills back of Boise simply because last summer's history proved the wisdom of maintaining those lands in public ownership in order to minimize the threat of recurring floods.

I voted in favor of buying group insurance from the lowest bidder because I firmly believe that buying on bid is the soundest policy that we can follow in purchasing for the state.

Always in these cases where there has been a legal question involved I have asked the attorney general to undertake litigation to ascertain the right course of action. To date he has filed no law-suits which I asked him to file, although he has filed many others.

There will be more of these differences of opinion. I will always vote in these Board meetings according to the dictates of my conscience and in favor of what is best for the people of the state.

I am certain that the people of Idaho would not want me to remain silent when I think that a mistake is being made, or when I think something improper or unwise is being done.

I do not mean this report to be considered as an attack on any of my Democratic associates in the government. They doubtless are persuaded of the wisdom and soundness of their votes. In fact I think that the tragedy of the situation is that they are sincere.

All I can do is to stand firm for what is right as I see it.

It is fair to assume that these differences will continue, because there is no other way to secure continuing public interest in these important public questions.

— ROBERT E. SMYLLIE, Governor

JOIN THE DOOR COUNT ON 3 CRIPPLERS

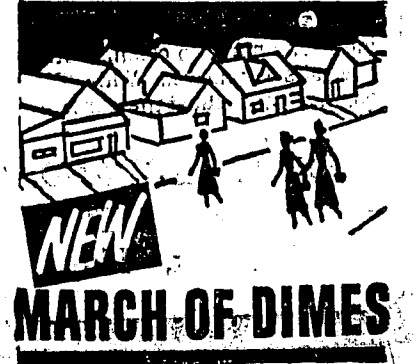

A Marching Mother will ring your doorbell one evening this month. Please answer.

She is one of the two million New Match of Dimes volunteers seeking information on the health of the nation and support for the fight against birth defects, arthritis and polio — three cripplers that affect one out of every four American families.

She is counting on you to help define the problem of crippling in our community.

She is counting on you to help prevent crippling diseases with your contribution to the New March of Dimes.

PEA GROWERS MEET TO MULL APHID PROBLEMS

A Latah County Pea Aphid control meeting was held in Moscow on Saturday, Jan. 9.

Pea and lentil growers of this county agreed unanimously to support the Washington-Idaho Pea Aphid Control League surveys and control spraying program for 1960.

Roland Portman, extension entomologist, University of Idaho, pointed out that with additional aphid surveys, along with the data collected so far, a clearer picture of the aphid problem and better control can result.

This program is like crop insurance and since peas are an important crop in this county, this aphid control program can insure the pea industry remaining healthy.

Portman pointed out there are 800 kinds of aphids in Idaho that are of economic importance and each kind have specific habits.

All survey data collected by the farmers pea aphid control league will be made available to the University of Idaho and Washington State University for aphid research.

Dr. Harry Fenwick, plant pathologist, University of Idaho, explained the part aphids play in spreading pea diseases. Pea aphids are main cause of the spread of all virus disease in peas and anything done to control them will help to control the disease.

Jesse Johnson, Genesee, president of the control league, reported on the 1959 program. Four thousand dollars was spent in control work and a survey was completed in six counties. The organization has completed two years work and reports from each county is favorable to continue. The work is financed by the farmers voluntary subscription of 10c per acre of peas grown.

JANUARY MARCH OF DIMES MONTH

Boise — Governor Robert E. Smylie has proclaimed the month of January, 1960, as New March of Dimes month in Idaho.

In the proclamation Governor Smylie urged "all citizens to offer their voluntary contributions and their services" to the humanitarian projects being supported by the 1960

New March of Dimes.

The campaign will seek funds to support the expanded programs of research into all virus-related illnesses, financial assistance for the treatment of polio patients, and patients under 18 years of age with rheumatoid arthritis and certain birth defects of the central nervous system. Financial support is also being offered for the education of professional workers in the health fields.

The proclamation pointed out the fact that more than $2½ million of March of Dimes funds have been expended to assist polio victims in Idaho. Of this amount about $1,140,000 has been paid to the Elk's Rehabilitation Center for the care of polio victims being assisted by county chapters of the National Foundation.

BOOKMOBILE USE IS DEFINED

From Edyth Sampson, Nez Perce County Librarian, comes more information on the Bookmobile, as follows:

"Because a full agreement had not been completed on January 4th, the stop was merely a trial one, but now that all has been completed between Latah and Nez Perce county libraries the Nez Perce County Free Library will serve the Kendrick people the first Monday of each month, through June of 1960. The Bookmobile will stop on Main Street, near the park, from 2:30 p. m. until 4:00 p. m., Feb. 1; March 7, April 4, May 2 and June 6.

To use the books, persons over 14 years need only to sign an application card. Persons under 14 years must have a parent or guardian's signature. The application card permits a patron to borrow books. On the next return trip a book borrower's card is issued for the patron for him to keep and to be presented each time he wishes to borrow books. The books are kept until the return trip.

The Bookmobile has a collection of about 1,600 books for all ages on all subjects. Through the efforts of the Latah County Free Library board and staff, Nez Perce County Free Library is now happy to be able to serve Kendrick and Juliaetta, although the Bookmobile has passed through for some time while serving the Southwick area.

Juliaetta will be served on Thursday's — Feb. 11, March 17, April 14, May 12 and June 16th. We are happy to report the first stop on Jan. 14th was a very busy one with a circulation of 97 books. We feel certain Kendrick will prove to be a very worthwhile stop also."

'Dimes' Opens First Birth Defects Center

A birth defects study center, the first of its kind designed to combine clinical treatment with research and teaching, has just been officially opened at Columbus, Ohio. It is supported by funds from the New March of Dimes, which is now engaged in its January campaign for contributions to fight three major crippling diseases including, besides birth defects, arthritis and polio.

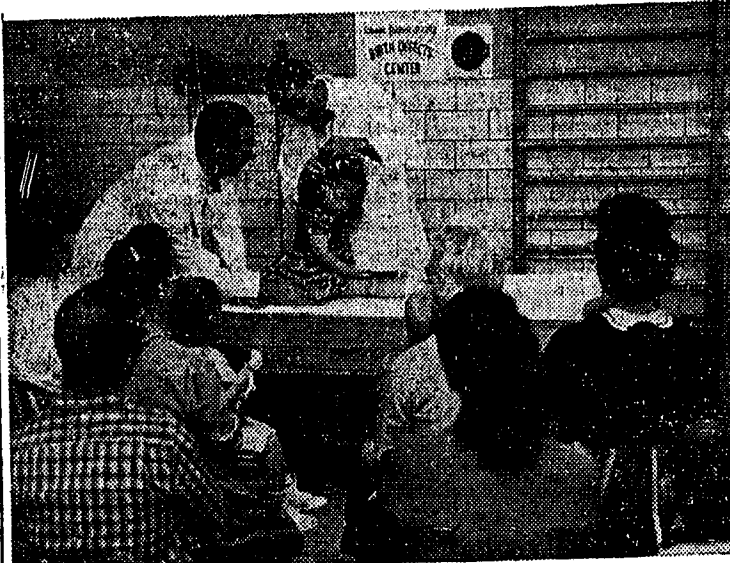

Medical experts say that birth defects are the biggest unmet childhood medical problem in the United States today. There are more than 800 different kinds of birth defects, or "congenital malformations," as they are called by doctors. They range all the way from harelip and clubfoot to mental retardation.

Some 250,000 American babies are born each year with one or more significant birth defects; and about half of this number are doomed to a lifetime of serious illness or crippling. About 34,000 infants each year are stillborn because of these afflictions, or die within the first month of life. Medical science as yet has few clues to the causes of these disorders that occur before birth; and there are few known methods of prevention.

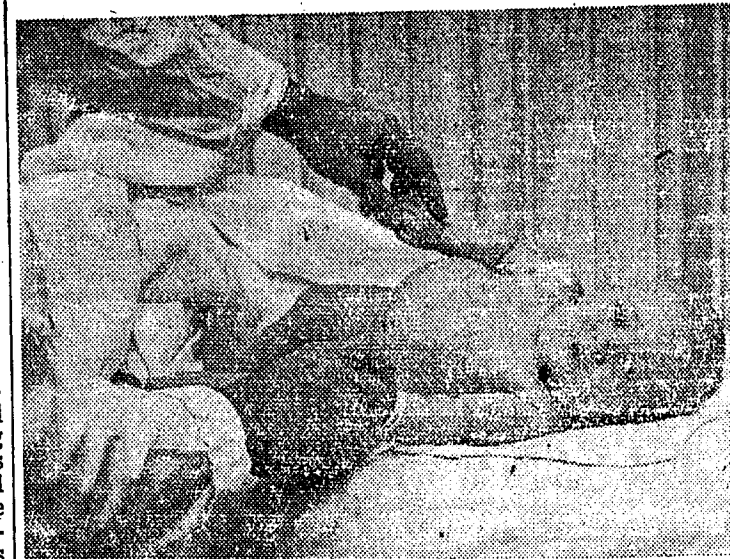

Shrouded in Superstition

The study center in Columbus' famed Children's Hospital thus represents the beginning of the New March of Dimes attempt to solve a medical problem that has heretofore been largely neglected by research. It is a problem that has for centuries been shrouded in fear, superstition and shame. By tackling this issue with a three-pronged program of research, patient aid and training of skilled medical professionals, the March of Dimes organization seeks to bring hope to the hundreds of thousands of parents whose lives have been blighted by bewildering grief and heartbreak following the birth of a malformed child.

This hope is bolstered by the past record of the March of Dimes organization in fighting baffling diseases. It was March of Dimes funds that encouraged Dr. Jonas E. Salk to become a virologist and that produced his world-celebrated vaccine against crippling polio.

Parents are taught to give home care to children with birth defects at the Columbus Children's Hospital Birth Defects Study Center, supported by New March of Dimes funds. Here doctors examine Jackie Vess, 3, born with hydrocephalus, commonly known as "water on the brain," while parents get instruction.

Born with an open spine, two-month-old Madonna Galich is examined by a physician at the Birth Defects Study Center, just officially opened in the Columbus, Ohio, Children's Hospital. New March of Dimes funds will be used to help this baby toward a normal and useful life.

Some Can Be Helped

Certain major birth defects, such as "water on the brain" (hydrocephalus) and "open spine" (spina bifida), can now sometimes be corrected by new techniques of surgery, medical experts at the March of Dimes organization report.

Through the combination of treatment, teaching and study at the Columbus Birth Defects Study Center and others the March of Dimes hopes to establish and support, it is believed that new knowledge will be obtained and spread so that the devastating effects of these disorders may eventually, for the most part, be prevented or controlled.

HELLO, FOLKS:

There's no way "to beat the heating game" — so why not have the best for your furnace — Union Heating Oils. Just call us at 4251 and say "Fill 'er up" — we'll do the rest — and we really hurry!

Steno: "Don't let the boss catch you hugging and kissing me."
New Employee: "But Mabel, I'm not hugging and kissing you."
Steno: "I know, but I thought I'd warn you just in case."

Tired of slipping and sliding on icy roads? If so, bring in your car, pickup, or truck, and let us tractionize your tires. The cost is low — results highly satisfactory. Try it!

Girl: "George is marrying one of those all-around girls. She swims, skis, drives a car and is a pilot."

Old Flame: "Yeah. Lucky for George he can cook, isn't it?"

Is the old bus rather sluggish these days? Do you wish it had more pep and started easier? If so, bring it in to us for a crankcase full of that wonderful Royal Triton Motor Oil and a tank full of Royal 76 Gasoline — then you'll really enjoy driving!

Homesteader: "I'm through fooling around with alcohol. The darn stuff broke up my home."

Second Homesteader: "Whatsa matter. Couldn't stop drinking?"

First H.: "No, twern't that. The dam still exploded!"

Always travel "Union".
