QUESTION: What is the best way to repair hair-line cracks in wallboard?

ANSWER: Most manufacturers of gypsum market repair kits for covering cracks, nailheads, and the divisions that show when two panels are butted against one another. They generally follow the same principle.

The kit consists of a roll of tape that simulates the paper covering on the gypsum, and either prepared cement or cement that is ready to mix. One manufacturer suggests a threestep method (taping, feathering the cement, and sanding) to make a cracked wall as good as new or cover joints between panels. Most hardware and lumber dealers can recommend the fixup kit that best suits your needs.

Three-step method covers cracks or divisions in wallboards.

QUESTION: A friend has discouraged me from using plasticcoated paneling in my living room because it's too hard to cut neatly. Is there a way to cut such paneling?

ANSWER: Plastic-coated panels are not difficult to work with if you use caution in cutting them and adhere closely to manufacturers' directions. If you use a fine-tooth hand saw or finetooth jig saw blade you shouldn't have any trouble.

The main difficulty in cutting any plastic or laminated material arises from splintering. As an extra precaution, you might place a piece of drafting tape over the area you intend to cut and saw directly through the tape.

SANDING TIP: You can prolong the life of abrasive sheets used on a disc sander by covering the back of the sheets with masking tape. This application will discourage cracking and tearing of sheets when they are subjected to heavy pressure and unusual applications.

A reader has requested ideas for a room divider to brighten an unimaginative living room. One plan we have combines a handsome utility desk and room wardrobe. It can change the whole personality of a dull room and be a practical addition at the same time.

Although the thought of building this two-in-one project sounds challenging, its construction is relatively simple and can be done quickly with the assistance of such portable electric tools as saw, sander, and jig saw or with a portable electric drill that has sawing and sanding attachments.

This room divider is practical and will change a room's per-

The wardrobe and desk can be ouilt to fit a prescribed area in your home. Suggested dimensions are combined length of wardrobe and desk, 8 feet 9 inches; height of wardrobe, including 4-inch legs, 6 feet 4 inches. This size provides room for a 10-inch storage shelf at the top.

Other wardrobe dimensions are 2 feet at the sides and 4 feet across the front. The two-drawer desk is designed to overlap the wardrobe 2 feet 6 inches at the rear and its overall length is 7 feet 5 inches.

The desk requires but two legs if its own, gaining support on one ide by attaching it to the wardobe. Sides of the desk can be hade with 1x10s and the top with x4s. All boards that bear the ame dimension can be trimmed to identical length by clamping them together and cutting simulaneously with a portable elec-

This minimizes much of the work, because side supports in the wardrobe will be fashioned from 1x4s of the same length and the closet shelf from identical length 2x6s. Finish material used is re-inch tempered hardboard.

QUESTION: 1 notice my screens are a little worse for wear this year. Is there an easy way to dress them up before I store them for the winter? •

ANSWER: Screens can't help but acquire a weathered look after a few years. That is why it's a good idea to refinish them regularly.

It is best to remove rough spots on the screen frames before painting. This can be done easily with a portable electric sander.

Clean screens of rust and grime with linseeed oil brushing.

After the refinishing is completed, the screen itself can be improved. To do this job, attack an old piece of carpeting or other absorbent material to a block of wood. Saturate the material with linseed oil and rub in one direction to remove rust and other unwanted grime. Too much oil will fill the holes, so be careful of the quantity used.

If you wish to paint the screening, use the same carpeted block method for applying paint.

QUESTION: I recently lined a wardrobe with red cedar. Is there a special way to preserve the moth-killing aroma by finishing the wood?

ANSWER: The best way to preserve the cedar odor is by keeping the wardrobe door tightly closed, and even this will not prolong the odor indefinitely. Cedar should never be finished because varnish and shellac seat the surface and prevent the wood from emitting the odor.

Eventually, the cedar odor will decrease, though it still will be noticeable two or three years after being installed. Best thing to do at that time is to go over all the cedar lightly with ble electric sander. The wood again will emit the valuable cedar odor when a fresh surface is exposed.

U. OF I. COED CONTEST WINNER

U. of I., Moscow - Pert, bronhaired Camille Ann Johnson, an 18year-old University of Idaho fresh-man from Pocatello has been chosen as "Miss Wool" of Idaho.

She will represent the state's wool industry at the Miss Wool of America pageant to be held at San Angelo, Texas, May 9 to 15. Miss Johnson was selected from among college women candidates from all parts of the

The Idaho coed is not only pretty, she has better than a "B" grade average as a language major. Now taking French, Miss Johnson hopes to become multi-lingual.

"Most people are surprised when mention it, but I want very much to learn the Russian language, too," she said. "It will be difficult, but certainly interesting."

If successful at the national level of the contest, Miss Johnson will win a $15,000 wardrobe, visit leading fashion centers in the U.S., and make numerous appearances in public and on television.

A 1959 graduate of Pocatello high school, she is a daughter of Mrs. A. D. Johnson Heaps, 224 N. 14th Street, Pocatello.

QUESTION: I often find it difficult to drill accurately in metal with my portable electric drill, especially when I drill large holes. Is there an easy way to attain accuracy in such drilling without expensive industrial gauges?

ANSWER: There are several ways to assure accuracy. First recommendation is to buy a drill stand that converts your portable electric drill into a drill press. This will involve only a few dollars and will be a worthwhile investment in other projects besides metal-drilling.

achieved by acquiring a stand that converts portable electric drill into drill press.

Let me review a few metal-drilling tips. Before boring holes in metal, make a punch mark-or starting point—in which to place the drill bit before starting the

Do not let the drill spin in the hole without cutting. That only dulls the drill bit and makes the drilling that much harder. This holds true when drilling in concrete, too. A precautionary measure also is to place a strip of drafting tape around the drilling area to prevent the drill from "walking." Drilling large holes requires another special attention. The most practical way of drilling large holes in metal is to first make a small hole through the work. It sounds like extra labor, but you'll get better results.

If drilling holes to a predetermined depth presents accuracy problems, use an inexpensive depth stop or improvise one by wrapping a piece of tape around the drill bit at the exact depth you want to drill.

The capacity drill you use determines the size holes you can drill in metal, of course. Don't try to drill a 34-inch hole with a 14-inch drill, for example. Use a drill of proper capacity and speed to withstand the heavy pressure necessary to make large holes in metal.

HELLO, FOLKS:

Doggone it, we thought that "spring had sprung" last week, but from the amount of moisture falling, we know better. However, now's the time to check your supplies of diesel fuel, gasolines, lubricating oil and greases and motor oils, and call us at 4251 for the best — Union.

Girl: "How can I be certain that you love me?"

Young Man: "Because I can't sleep nights for thinking of you." Girl: "What does that prove? Papa can't sleep nights either for thinking of you."

Hey! How about the tires on your car, pickup or truck? Are they "banana peels" or ready to give you safe summer travel? Better check and then see us. We love to trade tires!

Judge: "Alcohol, and alcohol alone, is responsible for your miserable condition."

Prisoner: "Oh, thank you so mush, yer Honor. You are the firsh one who hasn't said it'sh all my fault!"
