KENDRICK RECEIVES FINE RATINGS AT MUSIC FESTIVAL

Members of the Kendrick Jr. and Sr. High Schools traveled to Lewiston this past Thursday evening, and Friday and Saturday to participate in the annual Lewiston Invitational Music Festival. The Girls' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus performed on Thursday evening, and the band, all solos and ensembles performed on Friday. Saturday's activities included rehearsals for the Festival Chorus and Festival Band, the parade and concert performances of the festival groups Saturday evening.

The Festival Chorus was under the direction of Prof. Glenn Lockery, U. of I., and director of the famed Vandaleers. The Festival Band was under the direction of Prof. Bert Christiansen, C. W. C. E., Ellensburg, Wash., a member of the faculty of that college.

Needless to say, members of the musical groups of the junior and senior high schools were "popped" by the time Saturday evening's activities were over, but the experience was enjoyed by all.

The rating for the various groups, solos and ensembles are as follows:

TO MOTHER

Up at dawn the day to greet,
All her many tasks to meet;
Modest home her palace dear —
Always filled with warmth and cheer.

Tiny hands for her would reach,
With a smile she'd love and teach,
Guiding on to church and school,
Sharing with a Golden Rule.

Now let's give her proper praise,
Finding purely prose, and phrase,
And a song to really say
Love to Mother on her day.

— Lucille Magnuson.

JULIAETTA DOINGS IN PAST WEEK

MRS. ERVIN MABBOTT
Phone 3-2949

Construction Is News

The big news in Juliaetta is the building of the new Lewiston Grain Growers warehouse. Many have deserted their arm chairs and TV sets to become "sidewalk superintendents."

It has indeed been very interesting to watch the progress from day to day. The last load of cement was poured Tuesday morning about 4:00 o'clock, making the structure a total of 117 feet high. It has been rising (on the average) from 6 to 8 feet a shift. They have been pouring 24 hours a day.

After completion of the pouring of walls of the new warehouse at Kendrick, they will return to Juliaetta and pour the "head house" on the top, which will be 34 feet.

It is indeed a wonderful improvement over the old wooden structure which used to stand in its place.

Places In Contest

Mike Maund's drawing of "Lonesome Cowboy" won a prize last week when he entered it in the "Tlaxkums Contest" published daily in the Spokane Chronicle.

Cancer Drive Ends

Mrs. Harvie Shepherd reports that a total of $114.35 was collected in the recent Cancer Drive in Juliaetta. Many thanks to those who donated—and those who helped in the drive.

Home From Service

Pfc. John Groseclose arrived home Monday evening from Fort Ord, Calif., where he has been stationed. He received a medical discharge.

SFC Kem Spence, who returned to his navy base in San Diego on April 9, wrote a letter home that he has passed his high school tests and has graduated.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Palmer and family are here from California visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Clark.

Mrs. Henry Morgan and children of Walla Walla are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Groseclose.

Mrs. Dallas Groseclose spent the past week-end at Cheney, Wash., where she was the guest of their daughter, Daisy, at a Mother-Daughter banquet and style show at the college.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Walsh have returned home, after vacationing at Coos Bay, Oregon.

KINDERGARTEN CLASSES END FRIDAY WITH TRAIN RIDE

The six-week Kindergarten course closed Friday. Mothers visited the combined group of 42 children that morning to listen to the songs and watch some rhytims they had learned. The group then were guests for lunch at the high school cafeteria.

At 12:04 o'clock they embarked on a train ride to Spalding under the supervision of Mrs. Ben F. Cook, assisted by Mrs. Charles Deobald, Mrs. Fred Clemenhagen and Mrs. John Deobald. A school bus driven by Dick Benjamin brought the children safely home from Spalding.

Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., assisted Mrs. Cook, in the morning, throughout the six-week training session. Mrs. Tom Neal was pre-school chairman and much work went into the organization and preparation for the classes which met in morning and afternoon sessions for this unusually large incoming first grade.

CEMENT POURING COMPLETE AT THE JULIAETTA WHSE.

'Round the clock cement pouring on the new Juliaetta elevator of the Lewiston Grain Growers, Inc., was completed this week, and plans are to begin pouring at the Kendrick site this week.

Two crews have been working around the clock on the pouring operations that brought the Juliaetta building to a height of more than 100 feet in just a few days.

Workmen have been working 10 hours a day preparing the Kendrick warehouse site, which is just west of the company's present elevators, for the concrete workmen when they arrive here.

The warehouses are being for grain storage facilities of the Lewiston Grain Growers, Inc. The two sites will increase storage facilities by more than 500,000 bushels.

NEW ADDRESS

Word has been received that Mrs. Nora Custer, well-known former Juliaetta resident, but more lately of Pullman, is now living in Clarkston.

For the benefit of her friends here is her new address: Mrs. Nora Custer, Clarkston Rest Haven, 1242 11th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mabbott were entertained by their children, Sunday, the occasion being their Silver Wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Vada McAllister, who has been in the Gritman Hospital at Moscow for several days, has returned to her home. Her daughter, Mary Hope, from Kirkland, Wash., is staying with her. While in the hospital Mrs. McAllister had a birthday anniversary, and was visited by several from her home. Mrs. Benny Weatherby, Mrs. Rufus Fairfield, Mrs. Ike Ostman and Mrs. Martin Shove.

ELIGIBLE ELECTORS URGED TO VOTE IN ELECTION ISSUE

Monday, May 9, has been set for the School District levy election, in which the directors of District No. 283 are asking that the present reserve fund levy be raised three mills in order to finance the construction of a new addition to the Juliaetta Elementary School.

Classroom space to house the forty-plus first grade students expected to enroll at the school this fall is now deemed a critical situation.

The directors are presently proposing that a 30x30-foot room be added to the Juliaetta school, in which to house the influx of first grade students. The room would be built as a part of and adjoining the present building at an approximate cost of $14,000.00 to the district.

This building cost would not necessitate the floating of bonds, and add interest money to the district financing, but an increase of the present 2-mill reserve fund to 5 mills would provide sufficient funds within the next five years, to pay for the new building addition.

Robert Meserve, superintendent of schools had this to say in regard to the need of a new addition at Juliaetta.

"The citizens of School District No. 283 will go to the polls, May 9th, to provide housing for the next year's 40-plus first graders. Not a classroom in the school will adequately seat forty students, even if it were educationally sound to try. Where can they be housed if another room is not added? The school board has considered many possibilities — church basement, vacant house, temporary metal shed, old school house, the gym — all have serious drawbacks. This is not just for one year, these youngsters are going to be with us for six years in the elementary school.

"It has long been recognized that another room is needed, the present second grade room is much too small. A counting of the pre-school children in the district, shows that we are going to have larger classes for some time to come.

The election, Monday, May 9th, is not a bond election. It is a levy election for five mills in place of the usual two-mill levy."

All eligible voters are urged to participate in the voting when Monday rolls around. Polling places will be in three different places in the district. In Juliaetta and Kendrick polling will be in the city halls, and in Southwick the votes will be cast in the Community hall.

It is necessary for the district to find a suitable place in which to house the new first graders — and at the present time it seems most feasible that they be housed in a new wing at the Juliaetta school.

This year the REA celebrates its silver anniversary, along with the utilities, it can look with pride on a job that is near completion. Much of the drudgery of farm labor is now a memory and farms today use electricity for the daily chores of feeding, milking and cleaning; for the comforts of everyday living, and for special purposes such as irrigation, in brooder houses, incubators and in dozens of other ways.
 To make these advancements possible, the REA has loaned more than $4 billions to 984 cooperatives and 101 other borrowers. The bulk of the money went to the cooperatives to build lines to outlying farms and make possible a broader distribution system.
 While the REA borrowers were expanding into remote areas, the utilities were also speeding the work of bringing electricity to the farm.
 In addition, the utilities have continually struggled to find new means to aid the farmer in agricultural development. The companies' programs have included research on production, nutritive values of fertilizers, water requirements of grass, spinach diseases, sprinkler irrigation, hybrid corn development, soil and conservation practices, and helping the farmer solve his labor problems, electrically.
 The electric companies' rural farm programs have been aimed at making farming less arduous and more profitable. They have cooperated with state and local farm bureaus, 4-H Clubs, agricultural schools, manufacturers, and in educational programs of nearly every sort. Complete rural electrification — where electricity is used for every task of assistance to the farmer — has been the electric companies' goal for many years.
 With almost every farm electrified, the first phase has been reached. Together with the REA, the investor-owned utilities have accomplished what many said was impossible, and in doing so they have brought prosperity and a better way of life for people in farms and rural areas throughout America.

WEED KILLERS

Moscov — Most farmers start on the first stage of the year's weed fighting program by spraying weeds in fall wheat. Fanweed, mustard and other annual weeds aren't as bad as in the past two years, reports Homer Futter, Latah County Agent. Selective spraying using 2,4-D is a money making operation. Research shows that as few as one weed per square foot in fall wheat can cut yields three to five bushels. There are three methods commonly used to kill weeds in grain crops, spraying with tractor pulled applicator, spraying by plane and spraying with large tank wide boom applicator that applies nitrogen fertilizer mixed with the weed killer 2,4-D. Good results can be had by either method if timed properly, and the correct amounts of 2,4-D is used, explains Futter.

Wheat should be sprayed after it has stooled and before it goes into the boot stage. This is when the wheat is 6 to 10 inches tall. If only fanweed, mustard and other easily killed weeds are present, an application using one pound of actual acid 2,4-D in 20 gallons of water will do the job. If growmwell or other tough weeds infest the fields, 2 pounds of actual acid 2,4-D in 20 gallons of water is needed.

Ester type 2,4-D does the best job with growmwell, but on other weeds the amine type is equal in weed killing power although slower in action. Ester type 2,4-D is more volatile and drifts on neighboring crops so its use is outlawed after May 15 to protect peas and lentil seedings.

Getting a good weed kill starts with a calibrated sprayer so the farmer knows exactly how much solution he is applying. Spraying when the weather is warm helps to bring a good weed kill.

DO YOU KNOW

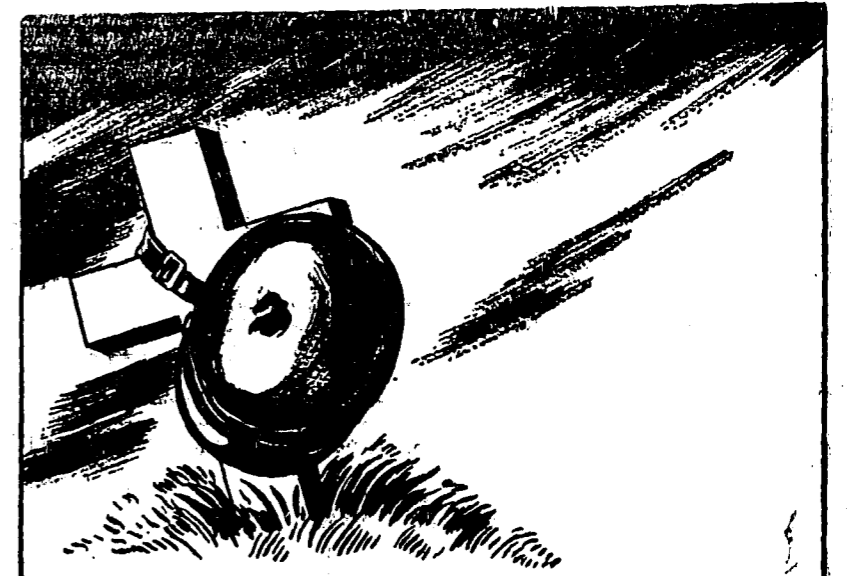

Last Christmas over 6 billion pieces of mail passed between acquaintances and friends. That averages about 35 pieces of mail for every man, woman and child. I received about 175 cards alone. It makes me wonder why more of us don't drop a line to our congressman now and then. Don't we consider him a friend?

The Washington Water Power is making a serious effort to find a way to build our industries. Unless we do expand businesses, unemployment will continue, and the area can't possibly grow. For one thing, WWP is surveying customers to learn if they are willing to buy home-made products, rather than buy canned goods, wood products, leather goods, etc., made thousands of miles from here.

Since Shakespeare's time, the English language has increased from about 140,000 words to somewhere between 700,000 and 800,000 words. Included are such things as baby-sitters, atomic bombs, nylons, microfilms, and smog. Young people today have lots more to learn than grandfather did.

The average cost per patient day in hospitals has risen steadily in recent years. In 1949, for example, the average cost per patient day was $14.33; in 1952, it was $18.35; in 1956, it had climbed to $24.15; and in 1958 it stood at $28.17. So you can easily understand why—after fifty years or so—your electric company has reached the end of its rope, and must also ask for a small rate increase.
