Merry Christmas One And All

W. P. BASKETBALL DISTRICT REVISED TOURNEY TO BE HELD IN MOSCOW

Basketball tournament play for the newly formed District 2, Class A high schools will be held at a neutral gymnasium, it was decided by the coaches and administrators on Friday of last week.

At the meeting held at the Kendrick High School, those attending chose the University of Idaho gymnasium as the site for the first tournament play.

In the re-shifting of the seven district in Idaho, two schools were added to what is now the "White Pine District." Those schools were Pierce and Weippe, both traditionally strong in basketball play.

With the re-vamping, which was expected to be effective next year, but which was voted to be used this year, there will be no sub-district tourney, and all seven of the teams in the newly defined district will enter play in the district tournament at Moscow.

The tourney play will begin on Feb. 27th, and continue through that week, with two games being played each session, and three games on two nights until a total of 12 games has been played, and the champion decided. All games will be in the evenings.

Only one team from the district tournament will enter the State Tournament, unless that tournament is held within our district, in which case two local teams would see action, the host district will have two teams, to make a total of eight in the state playoffs — all other six districts will have but one team.

At Friday's meeting in Kendrick the District II representatives elected: Jordan Kanikkeberg, Genesee superintendent of schools, president; Mel Ruark, Weippe coach, vice president; Ozzie Kanikkeberg, Genesee coach, secretary-treasurer.

The other eight teams which now make up District III, formerly District II, voted to hold their tournament at Nezperce. Those teams are Nezperce, Cottonwood, Craigmont, Ferdinand, Greencrest, Reubens, Culesac and Winchester.

Though not entirely satisfied with this particular arrangement, Coach Racicot said there was definite need for re-districting, because following the last re-classification, many of the schools which were formerly B's, moved into AA competition. Lapwai would be a typical example.

This left several A class districts shorthanded. One district, in fact, had only one school within its boundaries, whereas District II had 13 schools. Another district in the south had only three schools in its boundary, whereas a neighbor had 13.

Another advantage of re-districting was the elimination of the sub-district and regional tournaments.

Since the re-districting has made the White Pine Conference unnecessary, it also eliminated the possibility of playoffs for first, second or third place, thus leaving room for two more regular season games. These games, added to Kendrick's schedule are:

Pierce — February 21 — home.
Weippe — February 24 — home.

BERNARD JONES DIES WED. MORN

Bernard Jones, a life-long resident of Big Bear ridge, died very suddenly (about 7:30) Wednesday morning, Dec. 21, of a heart attack.

Mr. Jones was serving as substitute mail carrier for Everett Fraser on the local routes, and had gone out to gas up his pickup preparatory to leaving for Kendrick and his work.

When the pickup failed to leave on time his brother Ray, investigated, and found Bernard lying on the ground. Dr. Christensen was summoned, but nothing could be done.

Further details are lacking at this time.

TIGERS TO MEET ELK RIVER FRIDAY

The Kendrick Tigers, seeking their second win of the season, will meet Elk River High School at Elk River on Friday evening. The contest will be an A and B affair, with the first game starting at 7:00 p. m.

Last Friday evening the Tigers took a decisive thumping at the hands of the Genesee Bulldogs at Genesee. The final score of that game was 40 to 21. Genesee led 18 to 7 at the half-way point.

Kendrick won the B squad preliminary 27 to 26.

CUTS FINGERS

Mrs. Gerald Ingle suffered several severely cut fingers Sunday morning when they came in contact with a power saw which she was using.

Dr. Christensen cared for the injured digits.

CHRISTMAS BLESSING

Through the tempest and the sunshine
Through the springtime or the snow
May your path lead on to gladness
Where the sweetest blossoms blow—

May the little Christ Child's birthday
Bring you happiness always;
And His love protect and guide you
Through the Happy New Year Days.
— Bert Gamble.

CHRISTMAS STORY TOLD IN SONG BY CHURCH CHOIRS

The joint choirs of the Kendrick Community Church and the Juliaetta Methodist Church, 25 voices strong, presented a Christmas cantata last Sunday evening at the Community Church, with some 120 in attendance.

The cantata, entitled "Love Transcending," was written by John Peterson. The program lasted 35 minutes, followed by a social hour.

Tonight (Wednesday), Dec. 21, the joint choirs will present the same program at the Juliaetta Methodist Church, and on Thursday evening at 7:00, the choirs will be heard over radio station KRLC, presenting their program, this time from the lobby of the Lewis-Clark Hotel, Lewiston.

The group is directed by Mrs. Douglas A. Christensen, Jr., and accompanied by Mrs. Herman Schupfer, with readings by R. L. Meserve.

If you missed the program, be sure to hear it Thursday night over station KRLC in Lewiston. It is truly worth your time.

RECEPTION HONORS NEWLYWEDS

A reception was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson (nee Lorraine Clemenhagen) at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clemenhagen, Friday, Dec. 16th, at 7:30 p. m., with twenty-five relatives and friends gathered for the occasion.

The dining table was covered with a lace tablecloth and the centerpiece was a beautiful three-tier wedding cake, topped with a bride and groom under a big bell, and lies of the valley, with white tapers on either side.

The cake was baked and decorated by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Grant Clemenhagen. Mrs. John McRae and Mrs. Ione Whitcomb, also aunts of the bride, cut and served the cake — after the bride and groom had cut the traditional first piece.

Mrs. Albert Clemenhagen, a sister-in-law of the bride, served at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Ed Anderson, a cousin of the groom, poured coffee. The happy young couple received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Miss Clemenhagen and Mr. Anderson were married Dec. 9, in a double ring ceremony at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church parsonage at Camerton, the Rev. Theo Meske officiating.

MAJOR SURGERY

Mrs. Joe Clayton underwent major surgery at the Gritman Memorial Hospital in Moscow, Tuesday morning.

At last report she was resting comfortably.

The Lee Irwin ranch house, about a mile and a half west of Juliaetta was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin Wednesday morning of last week, but a faulty flue may have been the cause, as the blaze began in the roof.

Volunteers were able to save almost all of Mr. and Mrs. Groseclose's belongings.

Snow Flakes
The snow is coming down in flakes. But my Mom is in, baking cakes. My snow man is up big and tall. Right up against my front porch wall.

I hope my snow man doesn't fall

I've got rocks for his eyes and nose
And his legs are made of water hose.

Seven Seeing-Eye Dogs for Blind Children is Project This Year of Lions Zone Chairman, William Rogers

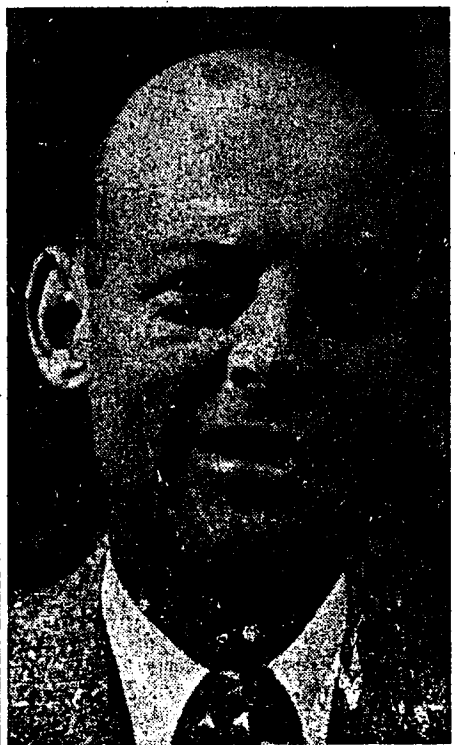

A Seeing-Eye-Dog for seven blind youngsters in and about the Lewis-Clark area is the year's project for William Rogers, Lions International Zone Chairman for parts of north Idaho and eastern Washington.

Rogers, who took over the job of Zone Chairman in July of this year, set as his goal, and the goal of the Lions Clubs in his area for the year, a specially bred Collie dog from each club to some blind child of the club's choice. The dogs are to be presented to blind children who can not afford to purchase a dog for themselves.

The specially bred and trained dogs are a project of Pacific Lutheran University. Here the dogs are raised and trained especially for use by children. The animals are a short haired variety of Collie, developed at Pacific Lutheran University.

Through a friend, Invar Peterson of Lewiston, who is a National Counselor for the Lions International, Rogers learned of the special dogs, and the project being carried on at P. L. U. He also learned that a sponsor (someone who will give $200 toward the training of the dog) will be able to donate the dog to some needy child.

After learning the facts about the dogs and how wonderful they are for children, Rogers decided to present the program to the clubs in his area, and find out if the clubs would sponsor a dog each, and give it to some

WILLIAM ROGERS
Seeking 100 percent

child who is without sufficient funds to purchase such a wonderful guide, friend and pet.

Of the seven Lions Clubs in the area, which consist of Kendrick, Lewiston, Clarkston, Asotin, Moscow, Orofino and Pullman, Rogers received a positive answer from the Kendrick, Lewiston and Clarkston Clubs. Each of these clubs will contribute $200 for a two-year training period for the dog. This consists of the "boarding," veterinarian services and training of the animal. Rogers added that he is sure that the other clubs in the area will be as interested in the project as the three who have thus far committed themselves.

"I feel that this is one of the finest things for these blind children that could happen, and I hope that our clubs will go 100 percent in favor of this worthwhile project," Rogers said.

He added that had the Kendrick Club a particular child in mind, they could have had the dog delivered to them for the Christmas holidays. "If the club knows of no particular child, the school will choose the child and train the dog for him," he added.

"The training of the dog is long and complicated," Rogers said, "and during the training period, the child is to receive the dog, get used to it, become acquainted with it, and then return to the school for further training. The child later returns to the school and is assisted in learning how to handle the dog, and other facts that he or she will need to know about the seeing-eye dog," Rogers stated.

School Closing Set

Schools in Joint District No. 283 will be closed from Dec. 24 through January 1, inclusive. The shortening of the vacation is due to the lengthening of the school term some two years ago. School will resume on January 2nd.

So far as is now known, none of the teachers will be making long trips during the holiday season.

School Meetings Held

Wednesday afternoon the Latah county legislators met with the school administrators, trustees, and P.T.A. representatives at Troy. ## WINTER PLAYS TRICKS SUNDAY

Following some eight days of sunshiny winter weather — but days in which the thermometer hardly rose above the freezing point — snow began falling Friday night, and by Saturday morning about two inches lay on the ground here in the canyon.

It varied in depth, according to reports, to four inches on top the hills. With the thermometer just about the freezing mark by Saturday night the streets were a glaze of ice — not to mention roads, and the state highway department and Kendrick Highway District were hard at work with plows and sanders, attempting to keep traffic on the move in some degree of safety, although it was difficult.

Sunday there was a slight warming trend, the thermometer climbing to about 35 degrees, and rain began to fall — turning the snow into a sea of icy slush. Sunday night, however, a real chinook wind blew in, and with it took the snow.

At 10:00 o'clock Sunday night the "official" thermometer read 34 degrees, and at 7:00 o'clock Monday morning it read 44 degrees, and hit a high of 60 shortly after noon Monday.

The rising temperature broke the ice in Bear Creek and the Potlatch river, and by noon Monday Bear Creek had shown a sharp rise and was thick with mud. The Potlatch River, however, did not show a greatly increased flow in itself until joined by Bear Creek.

Tuesday was something of an "off-and-on-day," with brief sunshine, rain squalls and haze, the temperature remaining just above freezing.

Wednesday morning Kendrick's streets were a glaze of ice, and all about on the hills snow could be seen.

SANTA ARRIVED ON SCHEDULE

Yes, Santa arrived on schedule in Kendrick last Saturday, making his entry on the big red fire truck, his sack bulging with treats for all good little children — and it required 262 of these to fill the eager little hands. It was surprising, considering how slippery and dangerous the roads were, how many children were able to persuade their parents that "now was the time" to see Santa.

However, it would seem that the children were more interested in looking about the stores at toy displays than they were in attending the free show — for there were many vacant seats in the local theater following Santa's departure.

Kendrick business firms reported a very good trade day, but all made the same remark: "People are buying useful gifts and staples, and pretty much passing by the luxury items."

KEEP THE STAR SHINING

In the eyes of a child the star still can shine, As it did in ages past for Wisemen's sign.

The wonder and magic of Christmas is real, And the thrill any parent can watch and feel,

As children listen to the greatest story Of angels who sang of Heavenly Glory.

The Holy Spirit of giving we capture, While reading of the humble Shepherd's rapture, As simple gifts they brought for Jesus, the King.

So open the hymnal and rich carols sing — And repeat the anthems of resounding joy: Give the Scripture treasurer to a girl and boy.

Keep the Star Shining for Them! — Lucille Magnuson.

MANY DECORATIONS

Kendrick is now in the full bloom of Christmas decorations, both outdoor and interior. Store windows are very pretty with candles, strings of lights, snow, tinsel and all the other decorations one associates with Christmas.

All about town there are out-door displays — trees, stars, Santas and reindeer, and a brief drive or a walk about Kendrick leaves no doubt but that Christmas is near. It seemed as if the displays were a little slow in making their appearance, but have more than made up for it in beauty and numbers.

Of course, in almost every home, a lighted Christmas tree can be seen through the windows as dusk falls.

The United States Marine Band, the oldest military band in this country, played its first official concert on March 4th, 1801, at the inauguration of President Thomas Jefferson.

MEYER SISTERS TELL
OF LIFE IN INDIA
IN ANNUAL LETTER
In a "Christmas" letter to friends and relatives in this area, Dorothy and Hermina Meyer, daughters of Mr.
and Mrs. Herman Meyer, and missionaries in India, describe life and aims in that country. Their joint letter follows:
Nov. 11, 1960
Dear Friends:
Today is the tenth anniversary of my first arrival in India. Some of my college friends do not want to believe this - "but you're so young",
they say - and so I feel which is all that matters, isn't it. (At any rate I feel quite at home with the university students here in Tirupati.) Having turned over the work of the girls' school and boarding in Gudur to Miss Stahl I have now come to Tirupati, which will be my home
for this last year of my second term.
It is about 60 miles west of Gudur and about 85 miles northwest of Madras. It has a population of around 35,000 and is steadily growing. It is a famous pilgrimage center for Hindus. It lies at the foot of a small mountain. On the top of the mountain or hill as we refer to it here at 3,100 feet elevation is a very old and widely known temple. Pilgrims who come to this temple average more than a thousand a day.
This temple which is very wealthy,
supports several colleges and one university in Tirupati.
From Tirupati to the temple on top of the hill is seven miles by foot path or 12 miles by a very good motor road. Pilgrims go both ways.
A considerable town known as Tirumalai has grown up around the temple. One of the buildings is a place where people; men, women and children, sacrifice their hair. It takes only a few minutes for the barber to shave it all off. The result is that Tirumalai and Tirupati swarm with shaven heads of all ages and both sexes. Later the hair is sold in the bazaars for the profit of shopkeepers.
What a challenge for the Christian church to work in this community. I often think of the German missionaries who were the pioneers in this area and of the great opposition they must have had to meet. They say there is a cemetery near here that has about thirty graves of early German missionaries. Some day I must visit this spot. In those days there were no inoculations. Sometimes whole families died of cholera or typhoid. How grateful we are for all the advances that have been made in medicine.
I have come back to Bible women's work again. Now that Miss Kettner has gone home, I am in charge of all of the work. At present there are only 28 Bible women. Besides supervising their work, I plan to open the Schneider Bible training school in January to give a four months'
course of study for voluntary women workers. Since this will involve the teaching of many classes on my part,
I must begin my preparation very soon.
In addition to the above work I have also been appointed superintendent of our Christ Hostel here in Tir-upati. At present there are 22 boys in the hostel - 20 Christian and two Hindus. Mr. Herbert, a Christian professor of philosophy at the university, acts as counselor to the boys.
The building which is being used as a hostel was formerly a mission bungalow. It is a large two-story building. The downstairs has two rooms which are being used as dormitory quarters, plus a hall, prayer room, verandah and terrace. The upstairs has three bedrooms, one large sleeping verandah, another smaller sleeping verandah, and an open terrace. The dining room, kitchen and store room are in separate buildings
at the side. The Sri Venkateswara Arts College, the present Veterinary College and the Polytechnic College
are in the vicinity.
Included in the hostel program are a library, a literary society which meets twice a month, a social hour
every Friday evening, a special dinner once a month with a home talent
program afterwards, and daily morning and evening prayers. Special events throughout the year are the Hostel Day program and the Christmas program. The hostel is managed by the South Andhra Lutheran Church. Recently it was recognized by the Sri Venkateswara University.
Some of the students come from our church. Others come from neighboring Christian churches. G. John Bhaktavatsalam is the perfect or student leader of the group. K. William Frederick is one of our boys who helps me with office work after school. K. Somayazulu is a Hindu boy who is studying for his M. A. M.
Naga Muni Nalk is a caste convert supported by the Schwanns - and so I could list them all. They are a fine group of boys and I am happy to have this opportunity to move
with these future leaders of India.
Another item of interest to you might be the cost per month of food for each student. It is rupees twenty-five, or around five dollars. For some time we have been able to supplement their diet with free American wheat and free American milk powder. Since I maintain the accounts and collect the fees each month, I am especially interested in this part of the program.
Nearby in the Hindu Padmaravathi
girls' college where Miss Pearson, a Canadian missionary teaches home science, there are 14 Christian girls and several Christian teachers. I'm also planning some special carol practice for them. At Renigunta (8 miles from here) the headmaster of our P.
M. boys' high school, has asked me
to come up once a week to teach
some special music for Christmas.
Looks as if I'll be plenty busy up until Christmas. Our Student Christian Movement Carol Service will be held here on Dec. 10th. We expect about 50 students to attend.
Today the sun is shining brightly.
After almost two weeks of continuous rain, it is welcome. Recent floods in Madras city have been the most severe since 1943. Thousands of hut-dwellers have been left homeless. These folks are temporarily being housed in corporation school buildings and in police stations. Train services to and from Madras were curtailed but have now been restored.

As I type this letter there is a buzz of activity around the house.
My gardener's wife just found a scorpion behind the piano, while she was cleaning. A mason and three coolies are working on the repair of my septic tank and the putting in of a new drain. The dhoty is ironing.
Lots more repair work needs to be done around here, but the big jobs
will have to wait until after the rainy season. About twenty feet of the old compound wall fell down during the heavy rains. The kitchen and store room leak badly, and so it goes. Life is never dull.
All this moving business has not been conducive to letter writing. I am glad that Loeda has been good enough to offer her services again in getting this letter out to you. It is a big help to Hermie and me.
Next Christmas, God willing, we will be able to greet some of you folks in person. Our plans are not definite, but we should reach the good old U. S. A. some time in December.
Pray with me as I join in the fellowship with these Christian students that we may give a strong witness to our Hindu friends and neighbors.
As we sing the joyful carols may we emphasize their glorious message. As folks meet us on Christmas day may they also see Jesus in whose honor we meet. God bless you each and everyone as you gather together in your churches and homes. We will be with you in spirit. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! Sincerely - Dorothy Meyer.
- To be continued.

What Christmas Really Means
To Me
I think Christmas is the best holiday of the year. It is the birthday of Jesus. We give presents to people not just to be giving them, but to show that we are really thinking about them. When giving gifts I don't think that you should like the biggest presents the best. The little gest presents the best. The little presents mean just as much to me.
I also think Christmas is a time to help the poor people in the United States, or in other countries. Anybody that wants to do it, and if everybody would do it, we would make other little children in this world very happy.
People tell their little kids that Santa Claus bring their presents. I think this is O. K. till they are about six, but then I think the parents should tell them the real meaning of Christmas. I think that Santa Claus and present giving started when the Wise Men and Shepherds brought gifts to "Boy Jesus."

TOWN TEAM LOSES
OPENER, LEWISTON
The Lewiston Boys Club led from the first basket, to defeat the Kendrick Town Team 73 to 55 Monday night in a Lewis-Clark Basketball League game.
The Lewiston club had a 41-32 lead
at the half-time, and never trailed.
Individual scoring was led by two Kendrick players, Bruce Clem-enhagen and Ron Craig.
PERSONAL MENTION
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jones and baby of Cheney, Wash., were Monday and Tuesday guests of his mother, Mrs.
Allie Jones and son George.
Mrs. R. A. Stensland, Debbie and Mark arrived here Saturday night from Seattle to remain until after Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary, and other relatives. She was met in Spokane by her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. McCreary. Mr. Stensland will join them Friday night.
BUILDING WRECKER
Henry & Campbell, proprietors of
the Kendrick Welding & Machine Shop have been spending all their spare time for the past several months in constructing a wrecker, an item that has long been needed in the Kendrick area.
The equipment is mounted on a 2-ton truck, and features an unusually heavy boom, cable and drum,
the boom, in fact, is of "latticed" single iron. The two men say they "built it to do a job", and it certainly looks like it would!

ENJOY HOLIDAY ENTERTAINING

When you plan ahead you enjoy holiday entertaining more. Start with a little list of things to do and supplies to buy, suggests Ruth Shane, county home agent. The recommendation is supported by Barbara Branthoover, nutritionist of the University of Idaho Extension service.

If conditions permit, they suggest refreshing possibilities that make use of your freezer or can be made at least a day or two ahead. The fewer last minute tasks, the more fun before the occasion. There are many Buffet style serving does well for fairly large groups. If your guests will be eating from their laps, choose fork-type foods. There are no set rules as to what kinds of food to serve, buffet or otherwise. Sometimes a switch from the "always sweet" routine is refreshing. When it comes to stuffing the turkey the tasks of preparing the feast need not mean a worn-out homemaker. Just because the turkey should not be stuffed the day before doesn't mean that everything has to be done at the last minute. Several things can be done early.

For instance, you can prepare, measure and cover the dry ingredients. Cut day-old bread into cubes and toast if necessary. Measure dry seasoning, wrap together in waxed paper and store at room temperature. Clean, chop, cover and refrigerate vegetables or fruit. Prepare and measure, and refrigerate the liquid and perishable ingredients. Combine all the materials on the morning of the dinner and stuff the bird. The turkey can be all ready and waiting in the refrigerator. Time and effort are reduced by doing some of the work before the rush.

CAN EARN CREDIT HOURS ON TOUR

U. of I., Moscow — Europe will again be a University of Idaho classroom this summer. The university will offer a European study tour as part of its summer school program in which students may earn up to eight credit hours.

This year's theme will be an analytical study of the economic development of various European countries with special emphasis on the political hierarchy of each economy.

Tour leader, Dr. Paul O. Groke, assistant professor of business administration, has a working knowledge of several languages. He has just returned after three months in Europe, two of which were devoted to monetary research in Madrid, Spain.

Dates for the tour are July 3 to August 14, with air travel from New York. Scheduled are conferences and discussion seminars with leading industrialists, political leaders and persons of note in art and music.

The itinerary will include Spain, a country of transitional development from the feudal to a modern day economy under a strong central government; Germany, a comparative study of postwar economic development; Switzerland, a small, limited resource country with a long heritage of free democratic government; France, a country of many interests, plus the contrasts of the English, Portuguese and Dutch economies.

Side trips are planned to out-of-the-way historical and scenic spots. Major capitals of each country will be visited with conferences scheduled with important officials, coupled with visits to factories, projects and universities.

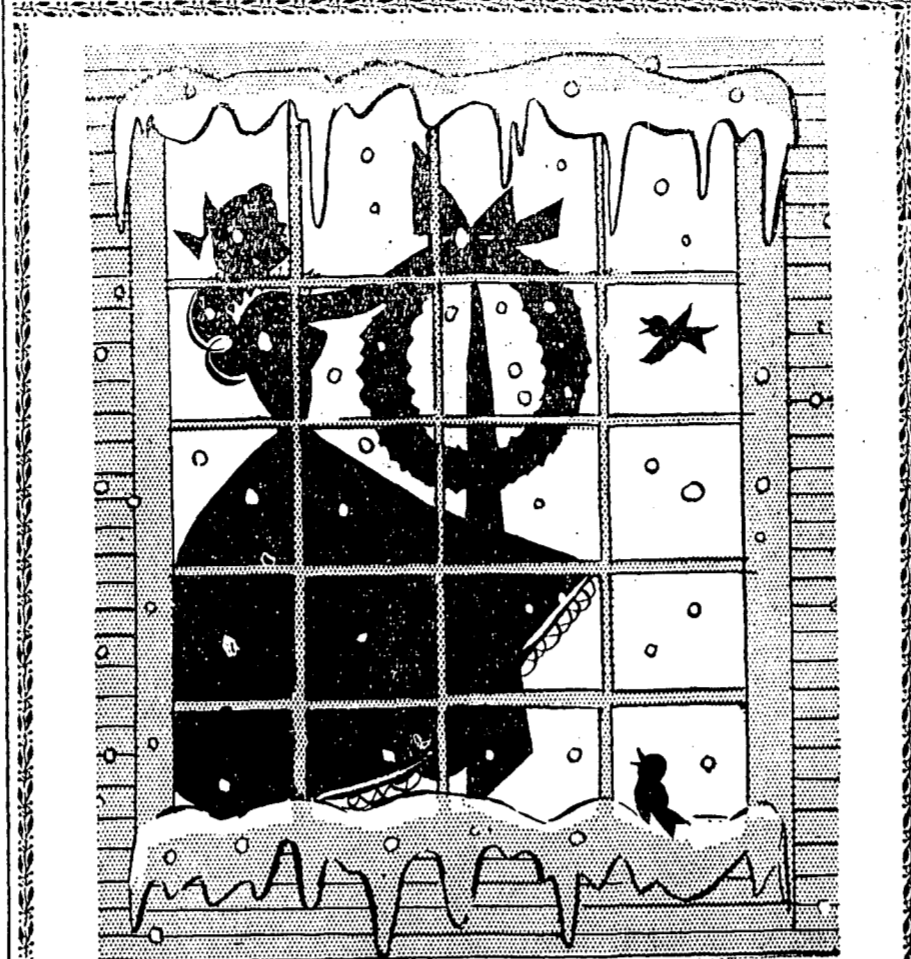

Persons interested in taking the tour may contact Dr. Groke at the college of business administration.

W. W. P. MAKES HUGE TAX PAYM'NT

Well, it's that time of the year again when Latah County tax collect- or Edna M. Theriault is reminding people of the fact that the first pay- ment of their 1960 property tax bill is due and payable.

The county's "taxes collected" to- tal took a big jump on December 20 when the Washington Water Power Company delivered a check for $58,- 855.77 to the treasurer's office for payment of its first-half tax bill.

According to Robert T. Paine, W. W. P. district manager, the utility's total 1960 Latah County tax bill is $117,711.52. The company's taxes have increased more than $16,000, or 16 percent, over last year's and have almost doubled in the past ten years. Washington Water Power pays property taxes in nine Idaho coun- ties. Its first-half tax payments will total $796,824, and its total Idaho property tax bill for the year 1960 will be $1,596,523.

With one of WWP's largest hydro- electric projects, Cabinet Gorge dam, located within its boundaries, Bonner county will again be the recipient of the company's largest single Idaho tax payment with $283,285 in first- half taxes and a total for the year of $566,570. Other first-half pay- ments by WWP will be as follows: Clearwater county, $24,509 ($49,019); Idaho county, $31,682 ($63,363); Kootnai county, $140,094 ($280,181); Latah county, $58,856 ($117,712); Nez Perce, $138,213 ($276,425); and Shoshone county, $76,299 ($152,598).

COOKBOOK GIFTS

U. of I., Moscow — Cookbooks for boys and girls make excellent Christmas gifts and bring hours of enjoyment, promote the skill of cooking, and provide reading experience, says Miss Barbara Branthoover, extension nutritionist with the University. The best cookbooks are attractive and appealing to the Little Cooks. Colored drawings, easy-to-read print, and easily followed directions encourage them to try new dishes as he or she progresses. Recipe ingredients and equipment already in the child's home makes for continued interest as well as that all-important word of encouragement from parents. If the book is properly selected and the child encouraged, mother will soon find a valuable helper in the kitchen, Miss Branthoover concludes.

ON HONOR ROLL

Lewis-Clark Normal School, Lewiston — Eighteen students carrying twelve or more credit hours, obtained grades of all A's and/or B's during the first semester of the 1960-61 academic year. Included in these was Janice Merlene Heimgartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner. She is a freshman at the school.

YULE MISTLETOE
CUSTOM OLDER
THAN CHRISTMAS

Missoula, Mont. — Kissing under a twig of Yuletide mistletoe is not only a pleasant custom, but a venerated and ancient one much older than Christmas itself.

It all began centuries ago in the forests of western Europe, when our forebears held their Thanksgiving feast during the month of Yule. The ceremonies called for a sprig of mistletoe as a symbol of fertility. These ancient druids also honored the fir tree as a symbol of everlasting life.

The "kissing mistletoe" of the modern swain and the ancient druids was common on wild apple. It was thought to be especially potent when it grew on oak trees. A dwarfed American relative of the Yuletide mistletoe bears a kiss of death for some evergreen species, including several kinds used as Christmas trees.

The name mistletoe comes from ancient times; too. The "toe" meant twig. The "mistle" indicated that the seed was scattered by bird droppings. The dwarf mistletoe of western America scatters its seeds with a tiny but violent explosion, and it differs from the better known Yuletide mistletoe in other ways.

Thick leaves and waxy white berries cover the twigs of female Christmas mistletoe plants. The dwarf mistletoes have no leaves. Their twigs vary from yellow to purplish, while their small, egg-shaped berries range in color from olive to dark blue.

When a dwarf mistletoe berry ripens, it explodes and shoots its sticky seed on a journey of thirty to sixty feet or against a nearby tree branch. The next spring, sprouts grow from the seed into the tender bark of the tree, for, unlike the Yuletide mistletoe of the druids, the dwarf American species is a true parasite. If the seed happened to land on the right species of trees, the new mistletoe plant will thrive. In four years it will grow its own crop of pollen or berries. If the host tree is young, it is likely to die as roots for more and more mistletoe plants syphon off food and energy. A large tree will live longer, but it will grow slowly, if at all.

Witches' brooms and spike-topped trees are signs of dwarf mistletoe infestation. Witches' brooms are masses of misshapen twigs and distorted branches. These brooms often appear as large balls or spheres. The pest plants cause tree branches and trunk to swell into odd shapes. As the witches' brooms, the swellings, and the dwarf mistletoe plants sap a tree's energy, the tip will die. This leaves a bare spike poking up to the sky through the witches' brooms and misshapen branches.

Many foresters believe that the loss of tree growth caused by dwarf mistletoe is the most important problem in forest disease control in large parts of the west. It destroys millions of feet of saw timber every year. But it destroys in such a slow, insidious way that it attracts little popular attention — far less attention than we still give to the symbolic mistletoe venerated during the ancient Yuletide festivities of the druids.

CONFERENCE ON MUSIC SCHEDULED

U. of I., Moscow — The second annual Music Education Conference, sponsored by the Department of Music at the University of Idaho, will be held Jan. 13 and 14 in the Music building, Prof. Hall M. Macklin, head of the department, announces.

"The theme will be similar to that of the first successful conference held in January of 1960," Macklin said. "Emphasis will be placed on the 'gifted' high school boy or girl performing vocally or instrumentally, or the student who is studying music with a private teacher."

The two-day session will include coaching by the music faculty on voice and instrument in solo and ensemble performances. An honor chorus of 100 voices selected by Professors Glen R. Lockery and Norman R. Logan will be organized. Chairmen for Districts I and II, assisting with the choir organization, will be John Coughlin, director of chorus at Coeur d'Alene high school, and Rex Elkum, director of chorus at Clarkston, Wash., high school.

ALIENS MUST REPORT ADDRESSES

Helena, Mont. (Dec. 17) — R. G. Hoffeller, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service is expecting over 10,000 people who are not citizens to report their addresses in this district of Montana and Idaho, during January, under the Federal Alien Address Report program.

Anyone who is not a U. S. citizen must make an address report, unless he was admitted temporarily for agricultural work, is a foreign diplomat, or is an international organization representative.

Any alien who violates this U. S. law by not reporting his or her address may be fined $200, imprisoned for 30 days, and deported.

In addition, aliens who are not in the United States during January must report their address anyway, to the service within 10 days after their return.

The cards for reporting addresses are available during January at every post office and at all immigration and naturalization services offices.

So, if you are not a U. S. citizen, report your address before the end of January.

Family farms of 1975 will be even more specialized than they are today but will continue to dominate most types of farming. That's the word University of Idaho agriculture economists have from the department of agriculture.
