JULIAETTA DOINGS IN PAST WEEK

TV Fund Far Short Of Goal

The Juliaetta Fund Drive for TV is still progressing slowly. As of date $1,300.00 in cash has been paid in, and an additional $400.00 in pledge cards has been received.

The Juliaetta TV Association does not wish to work a hardship on anyone, especially at this time of year, but if anyone can not afford cash at this time, a pledge is the next best thing.

Pledges must be collected within a year. However, these pledges must be made by March 15 in order that they can be included in the Financial Report on Form 346. This form must be filed with the Federal Communications Commission by April 1, 1961.

A canvas of the town shows 113 TV antennas. Our fund drive goal is $5,000.00-plus, which means a total of cash and pledges.

The total at the present is $1,700, which is far below the amount needed. If television is to be continued in Juliaetta, more people must cooperate.

Brother Dies In Car Crash

Mrs. Ervin Mabbott received word early Saturday morning of the death of her brother, Ernest Chamberlain, 824 Burrell Ave., Lewiston, in a car crash late Friday night. His car veered off Highway 95 a mile west of the Washington Water Power Co. dam. It was headed in an easterly direction.

The cream colored 1959 Dodge sedan turned over and over down the steep embankment, spilling out Mr. Chamberlain, who was pinned underneath the car when it came to rest near the edge of the Clearwater river. The car and Mr. Chamberlain's body were on the river bank below a "sheep" Officers were forced to roll the car off his body.

Mr. Chamberlain was the owner of Ernie's Flying A service station, 1342 Main St., and was the agent for Hertz System, Inc., car rentals. He was born July 25, 1920, at Lewiston, and had lived in this area continuously except from 1943 to 1944, when he served in the army. He was a graduate of Clarkston High School and a member of the Eagles lodge.

On Nov. 16, 1940, he married Mary Jane Hughes at Lewiston. She and one son, Michael Craig, 14 survive at home. Other survivors include his mother, Mrs. A. G. Delaney, Clarkston; two sisters, Mrs. Mildred Mabbott, Juliaetta, and Mrs. Lorraine Garden, Hayward, Calif.; a brother, George Chamberlain, Clarkston, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Anna Case, Dayton, Wash.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. at the Little Chapel of the Flowers with the Rev. Geo. Skaret, pastor of the Orchards Community Church, officiating. Interment was in Lewis-Clark Memorial Gardens.

BULLDOGS DUMP TIGERS IN FIRST CONTEST WED. EVE.

Kendrick never trailed through the first half of its game against the Genesee Bulldogs in AA district tournament play at the University of Idaho gymnasium in Moscow on Monday evening.

The Tigers sank the first basket and Genesee never could get ahead although it never trailed by more than three points.

The picture changed immediately after the half-time mark, however, as Boyd Hillman hit a jump shot to knot the score, and Roger Kinyon followed suit, to give Genesee the lead.

The lead changed hands twice after that, however, and Kendrick held a one-point margin with 7:00 to play in the fourth quarter. Jim Magee of the Bulldogs then hit two free throws and a field goal, and the Bulldogs went ahead to stay.

Four free throws, two each by Magee and Ken Erickson, gave the Bulldogs a four-point bulge in the last minute, and Fred Foster's late basket only served to cut the final margin to two points — leaving Genesee the winner, 37 to 35.

Magee led Genesee scoring with 10 points. Foster led Kendrick and game scoring with 17 points.

STILL BEATING ON WELL BUCKET

The drilling crew of Oliver Zinkgraf & Sons, well drillers, is still "beating away" at the bailing bucket which has been stuck in the 12-inch bore hole since last summer — and word is that they estimate "about half" of it has been removed.

It's a slow and tedious process, but apparently was the only way to get the bailer from the hole.

They have been working on the big "bucket" for about ten days.

WEATHER EASY TO DESCRIBE

The weather for the past week can be described very completely in just three words: "Wet and warm!"

It has been, without a doubt, one of the wettest February's on record. As of February 20, the official U. S. report said: "precipitation" on 16 of the 20 days — and since that time, as of Tuesday, there has been rain on five of the eight days — or just 7 days in the past month in which rain did not fall. On top some of the hills the moisture came in the form of snow.

The temperatures have been just above the freezing mark at night, and into the high 40's and low 50's during the day. Lawns are a bright green, and the hills about town beginning to show the "pasture green" of spring. Lilacs are ready to leaf — snowdrops and daisies are blooming and maple and other early trees are ready to burst their buds.

Last Wednesday evening and Thursday the Potlatch river was a roaring torrent, although not yet at flood stage. Bear Creek, however, was rapidly approaching flood stage. As the rains slackened off, the river and creeks fell, and began to clear, and by Sunday evening were considerably lower.

Monday, however, as the rain resumed, the river took on its muddy color and again was rising.

DOWN COMES OLD SCHOOL BUILDING

Baker-Lind Post No. 3913, which purchased the old school building and gymnasium, under contract to completely wreck the old school, is making very good progress on the job.

Almost all the partitions, leaving only studding necessary for roof support, have been removed. All the flooring has been taken up, with the exception of sub-flooring, and plaster is being knocked from the walls to reveal the brick.

Of course the roof is still on and the windows in, and such will remain the case until the weather settles.

The V. F. W. have removed one of the large chimneys in the building, leaving the other so that the heating plant may be operated for the gymnasium.

Present chutes protrude from the upper floors, carrying down the bricks removed to date, and some 2,000 may be seen cleaned and piled at the front of the old building. The plaster goes down through holes cut in the floor to what was a basement classroom.

It's a tremendous job — but the V. F. W. is making good progress at it.

WHO GETS G. I. INSURANCE CASH

Boise — The Veterans Administration this week identified which veterans will and which will not share in the more than a quarter billion dollar G. I. insurance dividend to be distributed under the President's accelerated payment plan designed to assist the economy.

Loryn E. Kopan, manager of the V. A. Center in Boise, outlined a step-by-step method G. I. policy holders could use to find out if they have a dividend coming.

First, locate your G. I. insurance policies.

Next, take note of the policy number — especially the letter in front of it.

Then, follow this guide: 1. You will get a dividend — if the letter "V" precedes the policy number, or if the letter K precedes the policy number.

2. You will not receive a dividend — if the letters RS, W, RH or H precede the policy number. If you have already received your dividend for 1961, you will not receive another one, or if you placed your policy under in-serve waiver of premium payment which is still in effect.

Kopan pointed out that 17,204 policy holders in Idaho will participate in the dividend.

WE WANT NEWS — PLEASE CALL US!

We don't know exactly how the idea gets started, but every once in a while someone comes to the office and asks how much we charge to publish a news story. The only thing for sale on our pages is space for advertising.

At one time we did require that anyone turning in a wedding picture for publication had to pay the actual engraving cost, but there was of course no charge for the story. We still must charge for wedding pictures, with the exception of Golden (local) — which is free.

Not only is the news free; but we urge all residents and organizations of the area to send, bring or call their news items to their home-town newspaper, or give them to our correspondents.

Not having a big-city staff or even a full-time reporter, don't wait for us to call you — call us, or one of our correspondents.

GROUP OPPOSES CERTAIN FOREST RE-CLASSIFICATION

Washington, D. C. — The Wilderness Society, a national conservation organization with headquarters in Washington, D. C., has strongly protested what it considers to be very drastic reductions included in a proposal of the Regional office of the U. S. Forest Service in Missoula, Mont., to re-classify the Selway-Bitterroot Primitive Area as a National Forest Wilderness Area. The Society supports the re-classification proposal itself.

Regional Forester Charles L. Tebbe has scheduled hearings in the re-classification proposal for March 7 at Missoula, Mont.; March 9, at Lewiston, Idaho, and March 14 at Grangeville, Idaho.

Explaining both its approval of the Regional Forester's move toward re-classification of the 1,875,306-acre Primitive Area, and its opposition to the drastic reductions, The Wilderness Society says in a statement in the current issue of its magazine, "The Living Wilderness," that "in the entire national forest system there are only two protected wilderness areas comprising more than a million acres," one of which is the Selway-Bitterroot.

Out of a proposed reduction of some 549,000 acres the Society objects to three major eliminations that total more than 400,000 acres.

The Wilderness group states that it is the extensiveness and the great combination of mountains, valleys, foothills, streams, forests, meadows and abundant wildlife that cause the Selway-Bitterroot to be described as one of the outstanding units of the National Wilderness System, an area equalled nowhere else in the variety of scenery it affords the visitor.

The Society states that the present Primitive Area's national fame for its wildlife has attracted sportsmen from all over the nation to hunt elk and other big game, or to fish for native trout and sea-run steelheads in its pollution-free mountain streams and high mountain lakes. The Region Forester's proposal to establish this area as a formal wilderness and thus strengthen its protection, say the Wilderness Society, needs support against those forces that are always opposing efforts to strengthen the preservation of wilderness. The large cuts recommended, however, would in part defeat the very purpose for which sportsmen and other wilderness enthusiasts seek its preservation, says the Society. The road extensions described as justifying the exclusions would sacrifice the special quality of the primitive hunting, camping, hiking, and other outdoor experiences enjoyed there, the Society states.

Major reductions proposed by the Forest Service and opposed by the Wilderness Society are:

1. An area of 310,000 acres would be excluded in the upper Selway river basin from the Running Creek watershed to the headwaters of the Selway river, which, except for the mountain road between Darby, Mont. and Elk City, Idaho, is a nearly roadless tract. The Society feels that with the exception of half-mile corridors on each side of existing roads all this area should be retained in the Wilderness Area or held in the Primitive Area status pending later study and re-classification.

2. More than 71,000 acres of the Lochsa river canyon face, extending southward from the Lochsa river and across the river from the Lewis and Clark Highway, are also proposed for exclusion. According to the Society this would subject the entire Lochsa canyon face to intrusion by roads and other developments inconsistent with the purpose for which the Wilderness Area is to be established. The Society has proposed that the area south of the river be kept in the Wilderness Area, but that camping sites and jumping off points for foot and horse travel into the wilderness be provided along the river.

3. An area of 32,709 acres would also be excluded in the vicinity of Fog Mountain on the lower Selway river. The Wilderness Society states that the area required to accommodate existing roads and keep them out of the wilderness does not require an acreage reduction of this size.

The Society has approved exclusions resulting from boundary adjustments which have been proposed by the Region Forester along the eastern boundary of the area within the Bitterroot river watershed in Montana. These, like reductions in the White Sand and Hoodoo Creek areas in the northeastern portion of the Primitive Area, are designed to exclude existing roads and man-made developments which are inconsistent with the wilderness character of the land.

The Wilderness Society urges interested persons to appear at the March hearings, or send their statements and letters to the Regional Forester, U. S. Forest Service, in Missoula, Mont.

TREATING FENCE POSTS CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

Moscow — Three methods of preserving fence posts are recommended by Homer Fetter, Latah county agent, on the advice of Vernon T. Burison, University of Idaho extension forester. They are cold-soak penta, green salt treatment, and penta paint-on paste.

Cold soaking with penta is the standby. Lodgepole, aspen and cottonwood are adapted to this treatment. University tests show that posts treated by cold-soak in a five percent (by weight) solution of penta will last 20 years. This is the treatment recommended to farmers with more than 25 posts to preserve and he can have his posts peeled and seasoned before treatment.

Green salt can be used on any species. It must be applied soon after the posts are cut. Peeling is not necessary. Burison says that treatment is recommended to farmers and ranchers who have repair work to do on fences through woodlands where green replacements are handy but where transportation on treated posts is difficult.

Penta paint-on preservation is effective but costs too much for general use. It is okay for a yard-light pole, large gate posts, or the poles for a small pole-frame barn. In other words, it is suitable for taking care of a few pieces that are too large for a post vat. For a cellar, large pole frame building, or silo, penta cold-soak saves money.

If penta paint-on is to be used, apply with a brush or spatula in a band that extends at least eight inches above the ground line, and 12 inches below. A coating of paste one-eighth inch thick is enough. Set the post in the hole, apply the paste, and tamp in the back-fill.

PERSONAL INJURIES AND DEATHS ON INCREASE

Boise — Traffic crashes that doubled fatalities in January over the same month a year ago, also increased the number of personal injuries for an estimated total of 165 persons on the seriously injured list.

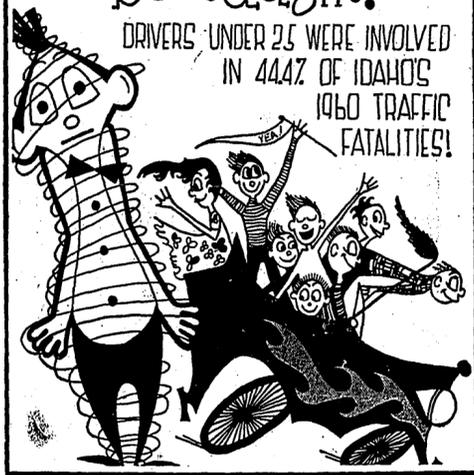

January's all-accident report revealed that 413 persons were injured this year as compared to 307 a year ago. Only by ratios can it be estimated how many of the total were seriously injured, and there are no ratios to calculate the number who might have been so seriously injured or crippled that they will require medical attention or treatment for the remainder of their lives.

Motor vehicle travel continues to be a continuing and increasing problem in spite of a declining death rate based on miles traveled. It is generally recognized that no single cause of accidents can be isolated for attack and that "contributing factors" vary from one crash to another.

Even though driving and traveling might be referred to as dangerous, hazardous or risky, the strict definition of dangerous is "That which should be dealt with most carefully," and is the only one which should apply.

Every effort is being made to counteract existing accident factors and to prevent constantly appearing new ones.

To remove the drunken and reckless drivers from the highways is a continuing objective of law enforcement, but at the same time every means to prevent all kinds of violations are used to reduce the number of crashes that cause death and injuries.

VETS TO COLLECT BIG DIVIDENDS

Boise — Here's a quarter-billion dollars worth of good news to veterans who hold GI Life Insurance.

The Veterans Administration is going all out to speed payments of more than $250 million in insurance dividends to veterans who currently hold participating GI Life Insurance. The move is part of the president's program to aid the economy.

In the state of Idaho, $880,000 will be paid out in GI Insurance dividends to 17,204 veterans.

VA officials said that World War II policy holders will come in for some $240 million and World War I policy holders about $18 million. The VA hopes to have as many checks as possible in the mails before the end of March.

But please don't write or telephone the Veterans Administration with individual questions. Such inquiries, they point out, will take VA personnel away from the important job of processing the dividend checks and only delay matters.

Normally, dividends are paid near the date the veteran's policy became effective. Thus payments were spread over a 12-month period.

A handy two-step stool which permits small children to reach things their little legs ordinarily forbid provides a pleasant evening of work for the home handyman.

wood which often are resigned to the scrap heap after finishing more ambitious projects.

The sides for this stool are fashioned from a 10x12 piece of 1-inch lumber. Ten inches will be the height of the top step, 5 inches the height of the bottom step. Since each step will be 6 inches wide, the first sawing job is to cut a 5x8-inch section out of these side boards. The side boards should be clamped together and sawed simultaneously to assure a perfect match.

After doing this, cut six pieces of 1x2 lumber in 1-foot sections. The side pieces are placed 10 1/2 inches apart, and these 1-foot step sections are attached to them with 1-inch screws, three to a step.

To insure sturdiness, nail a 12x12-inch piece of 1/4-inch plywood across the bottom and two 1x4s across the open back. Another 1x4 can be cut in scroll fashion with a portable electric jig saw and nailed to the base of the first step to add design.

Once constructed, round off all of the edges with a sander and then color with bright enamel paint and finish with two coats of clear lacquer or varnish.

"Mr. Two-steps" will make a dandy TV seat; provide quick in-out access to a child's bed; enable him to reach the bathroom sink, and even help him spirit some of mother's cookies away from the kitchen table!

ways: first, you get better grade crops which sell for higher prices; second, bigger yields give you more to sell and third, you get greater profit from each crop unit of whatever you grow.

Whether you grow small grains, coarse grains, row crops or fruit — raise beef cattle or dairy herds — if you can lower the cost per unit of your cash crop or your forage you will make more money. Lower unit cost is the key to more profitable farming. There is no surer way to lower unit costs than by using Elephant Brand.

WATCH OUT FOR LICE ON SOWS

Moscow — It pays to control lice on sows before they farrow. Treatment now, says Homer Futter, Latah county agricultural agent, prevents transfer of the pests from the sow to the young pigs. Winter population of lice on sows usually does not cause serious trouble, but infestations will slow down the growth of little pigs. Sometimes their poor condition at market time can be a severe blow.

The county agent recommends dusting sows with 5 percent DDT or 1 percent lindane. Dust may also be applied to the bedding. If bedding is dusted, the recommendation is one percent lindane at the rate of one pound to about 40 square feet. Bedding can be dusted in cold weather. Enough of the chemical gets on the sows to last about a month.

If in doubt about infestations of lice on sows, look behind and in their ears. Lice colonies look like encrusted dirt in the crease of the ears.

How many times has this man saved your life?

Like most of us, when the kids are in the car, you get that "extra careful" feeling. You know, that's the same way your friend—the service station dealer—feels when you stop by to see him.

Over the years, you've probably come to take your service station dealer pretty much for granted. But when your kids are riding with you, aren't you glad you took his advice and had your brakes checked? His suggestions—small, though they may seem to be—may have saved your life more than once. His interest in your safety is more than interest in a customer—it's concern about a friend.

And what a valuable "extra" if your own service station gives you S&H Green Stamps.

You know, of course, that half the families in America save them.

Your S&H Green Stamps make it possible for you to choose from over 1,500 top-quality, famous brand-name items at your S&H Green Stamp Redemption Store.

IF YOU FISH FOR STURGEON —

Fish and Game Commission regulations now prohibit the taking of sturgeon over six feet long — which still leaves a fair sized fish, as shown above. Fisheries biologists say that sturgeon grow slowly and may be 12 to 15 years old before they reach maturity and can spawn. "Babies" less than 36 inches also must be released to grow and provide angling sport another day.

STUDENTS MUST APPLY FOR GRANTS

Moscow — Latah county students seeking National Foundation health scholarships must file applications by April 1st, Roger Kane, chairman of the organization's county chapter announced this week.

More than 500 scholarships will be offered nationally for training in medicine, nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy and medical social work, Mr. Kane said.

Each scholarship amounts to $500 a year for four years, or a total of $2,000.00.

Graduating high school students planning to enter college September, 1961, may apply for scholarships in nursing, physical therapy or occupational therapy.

Sophomore ready to enter the junior year in college who plan to continue the graduate study necessary to qualify as medical social workers are eligible for the medical social work scholarships.

Undergraduate students who have been accepted for the first year in medical school, beginning in 1961, may apply for the scholarships in medicine.

Application blanks may be obtained from the school principal or counselor, the Latah County Chapter of the National Foundation in Moscow, or by writing the National Foundation Health Scholarships, 800 Second Avenue, New York 17, New York, the chairman said.

INSURANCE COST DOWN FOR SOME

San Francisco — A new low-cost automobile insurance policy and a "safe driver" rating plan which will reduce insurance costs for most Idaho drivers were announced this week by two national rating organizations on behalf of their more than 180 affiliated companies.

The new policy and plan, which were offered by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Association, carry an effective date of March 15, 1961.

At the same time, basic premiums for private passenger automobiles physical damage insurance will be reduced 2.5 percent, and liability insurance will be reduced 5 percent, in accordance with the claim experience of the companies.

The safe driver plan will bring premium reductions to more than three out of every four Idaho motorists insured by these companies, the rating organizations said. Additional savings will be available to others. A minority of drivers, because of records of accidents or certain traffic violations, will pay higher premiums, it was pointed out.

Q. In a recent column you discussed the use of trim and shutter paint, and said it doesn't lend itself to large areas. Could you tell me why this comparatively expensive paint began chipping off my shutters after only a year?

A. It's difficult to answer this question without knowing what condition the shutter surface was in when painted, or how it was prepared, but I suspect you may have applied the paint directly over regular house paint.

Since this paint is an enamel and contains varnish—any surface to cover should be sanded, clean of all previous paint, or treated with a primer. If not, it will chip in a short time. The same applies to so-called roof and porch paint, which contains an even greater amount of varnish to withstand the elements and constant foot traffic.

Q. What is the best solution to use when cleaning gear cases on power tools?

A. Kerosene long has been the stand-by.

Q. I plan to acquire tools gradually until my workshop is equipped to handle most maintenance jobs around the home. A friend suggested getting a drill and attachments for win sanding and what have you, saying it's cheaper in the long run. Is he right?

A. This no longer is the case. Because of increasing popularity in workshop tools, mass production permits manufacturers to offer single-purpose tools for about the same price as attachments.

If you do not plan to do a lot of work requiring the extra horsepower of built-for-the-job tools, a power drill and attachments might suffice. But with increasing price difference, it was logical for a person building a workshop to get the best tool for each job.

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Well, here we are — in the windy month of March, with its accompanying chill — so better check that fuel oil tank right now and call us at 4251. We'll bring you Union — clean, hot burning.

Woman: "Has your husband bought a new hearing aid yet?"
Friend: "No. He's waiting until school's out and children have finished taking music lessons!"

Let us drain that winter weary oil from the crankcase of your car and refill it with Royal Triton — and why not a grease job, too? Know the pleasure of driving again!

Clerk: "What can I do about women customers who insist on talking about the low prices in the good old days?"

Store Owner: "Just act surprised and tell them you didn't think they were old enough to remember back that far!"

Spring could be "just around the corner." Have you checked your supplies of greases, motor oil, lubricants, diesel fuel and gasoline? If not, do it today, and give us a call at 4251. We deliver Union Products. Really tops!

Farmer: "How do you meet expenses?"
Farmer Pal: "My wife introduced me to them!"

Like to drive with a clean windshield? We do, too. So come in and try our service — Union Product, too!

Always travel "Union".

NEWS NOTES FROM KENDRICK H. S.

The Junior Class this year is thrilled to be able to present to you the most spine-tingling, yet laughable play that has come to town for many months.

When you attend "Terror In The Suburbs" on March 28, you will be enthralled with the maniacal laughter and homicidal glee of Teresa Drake. "Tessie," is portrayed by Roni Armitage.

As the play progresses all can see why the iron-willed Loretta, played by Ann Dagefoerde, is determined to conceal "Tessie" from the eyes of the world.
