

DAYLIGHT TIME VS. STANDARD TIME, CONFUSION REIGNS

"What time is it? — your time? — my time? — or School Time?" This seems to be the question that prevails in this community as the first days of Daylight Savings time goes into effect, or should it be said, does not go into effect.

Recently the Kendrick Village Trustees went on record as approving Daylight Savings time, thus assuring the town that the noon whistle would be sounded on Daylight Savings time, or one hour earlier than had previously been the custom. This came about as a result of the state of Washington going on Daylight Savings time. This put a small portion of the State of Idaho, between the Mountain time and Pacific Standard time (which had approved an hour earlier time).

This, in fact, would mean that a small portion of Idaho would be on a different time than the rest of the surrounding area, if it did not go along with Daylight Savings time. Many towns have had a "hassle" in approving or disapproving of this matter. Kendrick went for the new time — and the war was on!

Shortly after the approval of the new time was announced in the Gazette, persons living in the rural areas of the school district, who were opposed to the new time, called for a special meeting of the School Trustees, where they put forth their side of the story. At that meeting it was tentatively set that the school would go on Daylight Savings time, as did the rest of the community, but that school would take up one hour later. This meant that school would begin at 10:00 o'clock instead of 9:00 o'clock. In other words, the school is still on Standard time, but in effect its clocks record the Daylight Savings time. (Confusing, not really, it is just a matter of whose time you are using — Daylight Saving time, Standard time, or School District No. 285 time.)

On Monday night of this week, another special session of the School Trustees was held to further discuss the matter. Pros and cons from both rural and village families were heard, with considerable emphasis put on each of the sides. It was decided at that meeting that school will remain as usual, on Daylight Saving time, but start one hour later. This is to enable rural children to catch the school bus at the regular time (Standard time) and not have to be up one hour earlier. However, this will put school children out of their classes at 4:30 (Daylight Saving time) instead of 3:30 as had been the practice before. It was also agreed that an advisory ballot would be carried to each of the parents in the district, to vote on the matter, with the majority to rule, if the situation should arise again.

A sidelight to this story is amusing in that the school time squabble has been carried by a national wire service, as a nation-wide story.

Postoffice Has "Double Time"

The clock in the Kendrick post-office records "Standard time." However, the office is on Daylight Saving time. In other words, the post-office opens at 7:00 (Standard time) or 8:00 o'clock, Daylight Saving time, whichever you prefer.

However, due to mail arrival time at Lewiston, Gruell's "Lightning Express" which hauls the mail from Lewiston to Kendrick, is due here at 8:00 o'clock Standard time, or 9:00 o'clock, Daylight Saving time. — again you can take your choice. However, it leaves here at 4:00 o'clock Standard time, or 5:00 o'clock Daylight Saving time (again you have a choice, but if you use Standard time, remember, it's 4:00 o'clock!)

DEMONSTRATION CLUBS OBSERVE WEEK LOCALLY

The Kendrick Canyon Klub, as all such clubs across the nation, observes Home Demonstration Week, April 29 through May 6.

In the past few years we've grown in membership from nine to 21 members. Each year we strive to do a bit more for the general good. We've been able in the past year, to send cookies to the Lewiston Children's Home and to the Latah County Nursing Home. We gathered several large bundles of clothing for the St. Joseph's Children's Home at Culesac, and sent gifts to the Orofino State Hospital at Christmas time. We are co-sponsors of our local 4-H group and have donated to the Cancer Drive.

While we've learned of the many new things in foods, clothing and crafts presented by the Latah Home Demonstration Agent, and Council; we've also thoroughly enjoyed the sociability of our regular and occasional luncheon meetings. We are proud and grateful for the opportunities of club membership; and we'd be happy to welcome others who are interested. — Joyce Brammer.

ON DAYLIGHT TIME

Lewiston — The Bookmobile will be on daylight-saving time, effective May 1st. It may also be noted that the Bookmobile will be in Kendrick from 2:00 until 4:00. It will not wait for late school children.

CHARLES DEOBALD SEATED AS MAYOR, ABRAMS RETIRES AFTER 18 YEARS SERVICE

Charles E. Deobald was unanimously elected to succeed Frank Abrams as mayor of Kendrick at the regular monthly meeting of the City Council Monday night.

Other city employees temporarily filled their own vacancies, as the new council was sworn in and took office. Other business to take place before the new council was the purchase of a new chlorinator for the memorial swimming pool. Pros and cons were discussed as to whether or not to purchase the new machine at a cost of $1,000, or to rebuild the old machine, which was deemed obsolete and too small for the job, at a cost of $250. The new purchase was approved by a vote of three to two to make the purchase.

Several "knotty" problems still face the new council, and plans are to meet in special session at a later date this month to discuss them.

PIONEER PICNIC ADDED TO FESTIVAL PLANS FOR MAY 27

At the last meeting of the steering committee for Kendrick's Locust Blossom Festival, W. L. Rogers, chairman, announces that a Pioneer Picnic will be a part of the day's plans. It will, of course, be in connection with the barbecue — but a table section will be reserved for the old timers, and in an area where they may congregate apart from the general crowd.

The ticket sale will go into full swing this week-end, with the appearance of the advertising posters. And it's going to be a truly big day for a total cost of only $1.00!

To date the program calls for a parade, a barbecue meal, which includes the Pioneer Picnic, with acknowledgement for the oldest pioneer, the one that has traveled the farthest, and the first (in point of settlement) from the Kendrick area. During the parade there will, of course be band music, as there will be during the dinner hour in the Kendrick park.

At 2:00 o'clock comes the "Gymkhana" — and at 9:30 p. m., the dance, to conclude the day.

Those residing out of town, who wish tickets, may write to: "Dean Hollenbeck, Kendrick Community Lions Club."

Forest Products, Joslyn Mfg. Co., and Potlatch Forests, Inc.

Tree Identification, Mark Hurnovich, state forestry dept., St. Maries, Idaho.

Wildlife Management, Hale Ebling, conservation officer, Idaho Fish & Game Dept., Deary.

Present schedules will require four hours to complete the tour. This allows for 15 minutes of lecture and discussion at each station and 2 1/2 minutes to get from one station to the next — plus 30 minutes for lunch.

All groups should start the tour at least by 10:30 a. m. Everyone should bring their own sack lunch.

An essay contest sponsored by the Daily Idahoian will be open to all students attending the tour. The first, second and third prizes will consist of items related to the recreational use of forest lands. To enter each student should write a 200-word essay on "What the Tour Meant to Me." This essay must be turned in to their teachers by May 15th.

ELECTRICAL ENERGY DEMAND IS HIGH

Spokane — The demand for electrical energy continues at record levels throughout the nation, according to a recent report by George M. Brunzell, president of The Washington Water Power Co.

The output of total electric energy in this country is expected to reach 819 billion kilowatt hours by the end of the year, Mr. Brunzell said, based upon an electric power survey taken by the Edison Electric Institute, the trade association of the electric industry.

"The survey shows that the investor-owned utility industry is staying well ahead of the increasing demands of the people for electric power," Mr. Brunzell said.

He pointed out that the scheduled increase in generating capability during 1961 is proceeding according to plans to bring the total power-producing capability of the industry to 188 million kilowatts in December of 1961. This will be an increase of 7.4 per cent above the actual capability of 175 million kilowatts in December of 1960. By the end of 1964, this figure is expected to reach 221 million kilowatts.

The Washington Water Power president said that while his company plans no new generating plants in 1961, it has quadrupled its generating capability in the last seven years. The company also has long-term contracts to purchase thousands of additional kilowatts from non-federal plants under construction in the Northwest, and is one of four utilities seeking a license to build the huge Mountain Sheep dam on the Snake river. W. W. P.'s average customer now uses 9,050 kilowatt hours annually, approximately three times the national average, according to Brunzell.

POLIO IS STILL A KILLER-CRIPPLER

Moscow — Polio, at its lowest ebb in more than two decades, is still capable of killing or crippling in 1961, Roger Kane, chairman of the Latah County Chapter of the National Foundation, warned this week.

"Based on last year's experience and the U. S. Public Health Service tabulations, it is clear that polio has not yet been beaten as a mass crippling, despite the fact that the extremely efficient Salk vaccine has been available in this country for the past three years."

Theme for the 1961 vaccination program is "Babies and Breadwinners," he said.

"This theme was selected to emphasize that 38 per cent of all children under five years are not fully vaccinated, and that even worse, 63 per cent of men aged 20 to 40 are not properly protected. In 1960 almost half of the paralytic cases were babies and children under five years. Young adults who contracted the disease were among the most seriously paralyzed," the chairman said.

"In Idaho, three out of the last four polio victims were over 20 years of age."

"Rhode Island, Maine, Maryland, South Carolina and Puerto Rico, in 1960, experienced a resurgence of polio because clusters of persons did not take the vaccine."

"The truth is that such outbreaks could be virtually eliminated if people would merely get their full series of Salk shots. Yet, nearly 86,000,000 Americans under 40 have not taken the time to get even one shot."

"Within this group there is ample raw material for new epidemics."

The fact that a more easily administered and potent oral vaccine has been developed by Dr. Albert Sabin with March of Dimes funds should not prevent anyone from getting their Salk shots at once, Mr. Kane added.

Due to the intricate and time-consuming processes involved the oral live-virus vaccine is not expected to be available for use until after the 1961 polio season. "And by then," Mr. Kane continued, "more thousands of Americans may have been added to polio's list of killed or crippled."

On the other hand, Salk vaccine is available in ample quantities to assure maximum possible protection for everyone during the forthcoming polio season this summer and fall.

"It takes a period of many months to get a full series of Salk shots. The time to start is immediately, so that those who are not now vaccinated can have the greatest possible protection."

TAKING ELK CENSUS

Fish and Game Department Conservation Officer Cecil Sanford of St. Maries, huddles with pilot Gene Friend before take-off in helicopter for elk census in north Idaho's St. Joe drainage last March. The big "choppers" are used only for specialized game management work in particularly rough, inaccessible terrain. Such aircraft are extremely valuable because of their ability to hover and reverse directions, land in small places, and stability in gusty air currents.

Always remember that a misguided car is a deadly weapon.

DEMONSTRATION WEEK NOW ON

Women in home demonstration clubs of Latah county will observe the sixteenth National Home Demonstration Week, April 30 to May 6. Plans for the week have been coordinated by Mrs. Ruth J. Shane, Latah county home demonstration agent of the University of Idaho extension service.

Throughout the country one and one-third million women take part in home demonstration work through 63,000 organized groups. Idaho has about 20,000 members of clubs affiliated with the Idaho Home Demonstration Council. Latah county has about 425 to 450 women belonging to home demonstration clubs.

"In our program," said Mrs. Shane, "we try to develop better home managers, to provide more convenient and attractive homes, to help select comfortable and worth-the-money home furnishings, to aid in preparation of tasty and nutritious meals, to learn more about child development, and to serve as better citizens of the community, state and nation." The national theme is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World." County theme is "Today's Homemaker is Well Informed."

Latah county's observance of national home demonstration week will be a dessert luncheon held Friday, May 5, at 1:30 p.m. at the Mountain Home Grange Hall, northwest of Pottlatch. Featured speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mickey of Moscow who have recently returned from a trip and tour of the Holy Land.

Special entertainment will be provided and Mrs. Gerald Ingie, president of the Latah County Home Demonstration Council will welcome the women.

All Latah county home demonstration club women are urged to attend and bring a friend.

SAVE TIME IN YOUR KITCHEN

Save time in your kitchen says Mrs. Ruth J. Shane, Latah county extension home agent. Use a timer with a bell-to do your clock watching and tell you when food is done. For thickening gravies, shake flour and liquid in a tightly capped glass jar. When flouring meat or chicken, shake pieces in a paper bag of seasoned flour.

Wash and trim vegetables before storing in refrigerator. Use newspaper to hold vegetable peelings. Then the newspaper and peelings can be discarded in the garbage. Allow chopped foods to drop by gravity. Use kitchen scissors for cutting parsley and chives. Wet scissors when cutting dried fruit or marshmallows.

Baking dishes that go from the oven, to table, to refrigerator, save dishwashing. To catch bread crumbs from the food chopper, tie a bag to the receiving end. Use a plastic bag to catch juices.

Use waxed paper to sift flour on and save dishwashing. A clothespin fastened to a cupboard door can hold recipes and keep them clean and readable.

WEATHER WARMS UP A BIT
The weather this past week has been a great deal more like spring — although farmers still said: "Too wet for much field work." Of course there have been showers, and several of them — but temperatures, too, have been higher — so leaves are growing heavier on trees, flowers are blooming everywhere, including lilacs — and in general it feels a great deal more like "spring has sprung!" In fact, we have had one 80-degree day!

In line with the weather, logging trucks are beginning to make their appearance, and local loggers have been and are busy getting their truck and other heavy equipment in shape — and they hope to begin soon. Monday evening a pouring rain set in, a storm which lasted for hours — and Tuesday morning the Potlatch river was thick with mud, as were all the tributary streams. The river also rose about a foot. This, of course, set farming and logging operations back at least another week!

THANK YOU, FRIENDS
I wish to say thank you friends and neighbors for the many cards, letters, flowers and visits while I was in the hospital, and since I came home. 18x

More Twins
Recent birth of twin calves caused a flurry of excitement on this ridge. Yesterday (Sunday) another set was born to a roan cow belonging to Marion Souders. This surely is very unusual to find another set in one community. Both calves were heifers — and doing well.

SLASH DISPOSAL LAW EXPLAINED

By Roger L. Guernsey, State Forester

Boise — Logging residues such as limbs, tops and bark are commonly called slash. When such materials accumulate in large volumes the fire hazard is increased and productivity of the land is decreased. Heavy mats of slash retard reforestation and reduce grazing values. When fires do occur in heavy slash they spread with explosive violence and generally defy control until the entire area of slash is consumed. For these reasons slash must be given special treatment and state laws governing the management of such fire hazards are necessarily quite strict.

The last Legislature amended the basic law covering the management of fire hazards created by logging and the new law became effective on May 2 of this year. The amendment was necessary to plug some loopholes and assure full compliance with the statutes. As State Forester, I have instructed the State Forest Wardens to enforce this law fairly, impartially and firmly.

Briefly, the new law provides that: (1) the initial purchaser of logs, poles, posts, ties, or other raw forest products shall not purchase from anyone who has not previously secured a certificate of compliance with the law from his District Forest Warden; (2) every purchaser of forest products must withhold hazard reduction (slash disposal) money when purchasing logs, poles, posts, ties, etc. (exception is made only if the seller can show that he has a slash contract or bond with the state); (3) the purchaser must remit to the State Forester all such money withheld every month. Failure to comply with the law by either buyer or seller is classed as a misdemeanor.

The money withheld for slash disposal, which is usually $1.00 per thousand board feet or equivalent, is commonly referred to as a "hold-back" and it is actually money to be held in trust for the logger or landowner. The purpose of this hold-back is sometimes misunderstood. A hold-back is not collected in order to enable the state or protection agency to dispose of the slash or otherwise manage the hazard. The hold-back is collected to assure that the hazard is reduced or disposed of by the logger or landowner. It is their responsibility. After the logger or landowner has completed the job in a satisfactory manner, every penny of the money withheld is returned to the logger or landowner, whoever does the work.

The landowner or logger is allowed 18 months in which to complete the job of treating the slash. If nothing is done within the 18 months the holdback is forfeited and transferred to the protection agency to do such disposal as may yet be practical. The most efficient disposal can be made when slash is green and cuts easily, and before the needles are dropped. After 18 months it is better to spend the slash dollar by giving additional protection in the form of increasing detection services, adding smoke chasers, providing of tanker trucks, etc.

Anyone having questions or special problems involving slash disposal is urged to contact the local District Forest Warden or ranger.

A stout school teacher was talking about birds and their habits. "Now," she said, "at home I have a canary, and it can do something I cannot do. I wonder if any of you know exactly what that is?" One boy raised his hand. "I know, teacher," he said. "Take a bath in a saucer."

A proud 16-year-old turned into the family driveway at the wheel of the family car. His father sat beside him. Several younger brothers converged on the scene. "Hey!" shouted the happy driver. "I passed my driving test! You guys can all move up one bike!"
