The telephone company has moved their central office down town. Mrs. Jessup will be in charge.

Attorney Williams of Lewiston is in Lewiston this week looking after some cases he has in court.

The ladies of Leland gave an ice cream social at the parsonage Saturday evening. A program was rendered at the church which was highly appreciated by all present, after which came ice cream and cake, sandwiches and coffee, all of which netted the ladies over $23.00.

J. M. Woodward and family visited with a number of friends in Southwick, Sunday.

Jan. 14, 1916 — The weather on the Potlatch ridge country has been rather severe the last few days. The thermometer registered as low as 26 below zero. The snow is very dry and drifts are in many places. However, the sleighing is good and the young people are "making hay" while the sun shines.

A sled load of young people of Leland went to Fairview to literary on Friday evening, and all had a good time.

Feb. 11, 1916 — Snow is deep and still coming down. It is already drifted in places until the roads are impassable and to get out people are going around the drifts through the fields. W. A. McGhee and son Clyde went to Kendrick Thursday and on the way home hung up in a snow-drift and had to leave their sled.

Leland, February 27, 1925 — Rev. C. J. Taber and wife were Juliaetta visitors Monday night.

J. M. Woodward has finished the farm census in his district.

Miss Gertrude DeWinter, a senior of the Lewiston High School won the Lincoln Essay medal presented in the Leland School.

Claud Craig is having a large amount of wood cut on his Cedar Creek place and will have it hauled to Leland.

The Leland Sunday School had set their goal for an attendance of one hundred by March 1st. Please come and help make up the number. There were over eighty last Sunday.

The debate held at Leland last Friday evening between Leland and Southwick was won by Southwick.

October 10, 1930 — School News: The Leland school is going to have a carnival and autumn frolic on Friday night, October 17, in the lower hall at the I. O. O. F. building, when the main show will begin at 7:30.

The enrollment total this year is practically the same as for 1929. In the Primary grades Mrs. Turnbaugh has 34, with nine beginners. In the upper grades Mr. Hasse has 27 with an unusually large eighth grade class. Provided all the students pass the eighth grade examinations eleven students will be ready for high school next year. This year the High School offers Algebra, Plane Geometry, English I and II, Science and Agriculture. The last two are new and alternate with World History and Social Civics. The size of the high school has nothing to do with the quality of the work done or the general standards. Ours is fully accredited for two years of high school.

March 4, 1932 — Those on the Honor Roll in high school for this period are Wayne Yenni, Alvira Fleshman, Oreta Colegrove, Uretia Blankenship. Those getting two periods off for perfect attendance and good grades for the month of February were Juanita Fleshman, Francis Hund, Uretia Blankenship, Oreta Colegrove and Wayne Yenni.

OUR THANKS

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Irene Millard we were able to obtain the following biographic sketches of pioneers of the Southwick and Leland area from "An Illustrated History of North Idaho," published by the Western Historical Publishing Company in 1903.

This edition features only the communities of Southwick and Leland. For the Southwick picture we are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johns, Juliaetta. For the Leland pictures, Marvin Long, Kendrick.

POTLATCH PEOPLE AFTER GOOD ROADS

Leland, Jan. 13, 1915 — More than forty farmers of the Potlatch section went on record here this afternoon as favorable to good roads in Nez Perce county but the kind of roads to be constructed and how the matter is to be handled will be taken up at the next meeting to be held at an early date.

The Potlatch people want the road improvements but are not in touch with the matters taken up at Cullisac, Lapwai and Gifford meetings. W. E. Stoddard was here from Gifford and briefly outlined the action taken by the Gifford people. The Potlatch people endorsed a motion favoring good roads in the county but then adjourned to meet again in the near future when the question of financing will be determined.

The good roads movement was organized with the election of Ford Parks of Leland as chairman and Joseph Schultz of Cameron as secretary. Mr. Schultz stated he believed all the county should attempt at this time for good highways, should be the grading and surfacing of the roads to provide drainage. He said that if this work was performed in the district he resided in, that one man and four horses could drag the entire district in a day. This would result in a material reduction in the cost of maintenance as well as providing better roads.

It was brought out here that one of the highways desired will extend through the Potlatch country from Juliaetta to Kendrick to the Clearwater river near Lenore. This will connect with the road the Gifford people want constructed from the river to Reubens. It was also brought out that a road is wanted down the Clearwater from Lenore to Arrow Junction.

The advices received from Peck are that a road is wanted from Peck to Gifford and Melrose, while the Melrose people want a road to connect with the river at Lenore, the route selected being Jack's canyon.

TO RESURFACE MILE OF ROAD

March 15, 1925 — It is reported from Southwick that preparations are being made to set a rock crusher near the line between the Southwick district and the Potlatch highway district. It is planned to surface a mile of road this spring. This will give Southwick approximately 2 1/2 miles of surfaced highway on the road between Southwick and Cameron. It will finish the road from Southwick as far as the Potlatch highway district line.

LELAND — LOOKING WEST ON MAIN STREET, 1905

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES OF EARLY DAY POTLATCH RIDGE RESIDENTS

STEPHEN R. SOUTHWICK

Stephen R. Southwick, as one of the early pioneers of this section of Nez Perce county, a man of energy and enterprise, whose labors have materially built up Nez Perce county, always dominated by integrity, wisdom and charity, the subject of this article is granted a representation in his county's history with pleasure, and we are assured his life's sketch will be interesting to many.

Stephen R. Southwick was born in Rensselaer county, New York, on February 12, 1838, being the son of John Wesley and Esther Southwick. His father was a farmer and carpenter. At the age of three our subject was called to mourn the loss of his mother, after which he resided with an aunt, Roxana Chapman, until seventeen years old.

During this time he was favored with a good public school education, and then three years were spent in Eureka College, in Woodford county, Illinois. Mr. Southwick then took up the work of the educator and followed it more or less until recently. He was eminently successful in this line and has a record that is worthy and good. In addition to this Mr. Southwick acted as surveyor in a number of places. In Labette county, Kansas, he was chosen as county surveyor for two terms. He also surveyed the towns of Chetopa and Oswego, both being thriving places now.

It was in 1882 that Mr. Southwick came to his present place about one-half mile southwest from the village of Southwick. He took a quarter section and added forty acres more by purchase. He cultivates a small portion and the balance has fine timber. Mr. Southwick has had many experiences in various frontier lines. One night hearing an outcry he rose from his bed and opened the door and answered. The party in distress called again, and by this signaling from each other the stranger was guided to Mr. Southwick's door, and behold, it was a monstrous cougar. This ended that interview as the door was shut.

Again, Mr. Southwick's daughter was after the cows and a fond bear accompanied the young lady home, but the journey home was in the form of a race, and we understand that Miss Southwick made good time, to the disgust of the bruin, who fell far behind. Again, Mr. Southwick came face to face with a brown bearship, and so unaccustomed were each to the etiquette of the other and this kind of tete-a-tete fellowship that they ignominiously fled in opposite directions, and we have not yet heard the bear's version of the episode, but Mr. Southwick is trustworthy and would not reflect anything on the training of bruin.

In 1888 Mr. Southwick was appointed postmaster at Southwick, the office being named for him. Seven years and more he served faithfully to the satisfaction of the people. Mr. Southwick is a Republican and Populist. He has been chosen justice of the peace, but would not act. He is frequently selected for the conventions, both county and state.

On July 8, 1863, Mr. Southwick married Miss Martha, daughter of Aaron and Melinda Shay, natives of Ohio and Shelby county, Illinois. To Mr. and Mrs. Southwick have been born eight children: Edwin, living in Canada; Harvey, five miles southwest from Southwick; LeRoy, near Southwick; Albert, at home; Mary, wife of Frank Daggett, living near Southwick; Mattie, wife of Frank Brown, living in San Jose, California; Emma and Myrtle at home. Mr. Southwick has one sister in Missouri, Mary, wife of Henry Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Southwick and their children are members of the Christian Church and he is an elder in that organization.

It is of note that Mr. Southwick and Mr. L. R. Chapman by hard effort succeeded in getting the government mail route to Pierce City from Southwick, which shortened it forty miles and saved much expense. Mr. Southwick stands extremely well among those who know him and his faithful life as an educator and his worthy labors in pioneer work have given him an enviable prestige.

WALTER E. DAGGETT

The enterprising young man whose name is at the head of this article, is one of the stable and successful business men of Southwick, engaged in the mercantile business and also postmaster, in which capacities he displays ability and faithfulness.

Walter E. Daggett was born in Shabonier, Fayette county, Illinois, on May 23, 1866, being the son of Louis N. and Charlotte Daggett. The father is now living with the son but the mother died when Walter was four months old. After this sad event he went to live with distant relatives, Reuben E. Wetmore, at Nakomis, Illinois. When fifteen he went with the family to South Dakota, and two years later Mrs. Wetmore died. Walter remained with them until twenty-two and then married Miss Louisa A., daughter of Simon and Maria Sievers, of German extraction. The wedding occurred in Huron, and a few months later we find the young couple in Sioux City, whence they went to St. Louis, where he remained seven years in the employ of the Edison General Electric Company of St. Louis.

There children were born to them there: Dora G., Adaline M. and Walter M. In May, 1897, Mr. Daggett came to Idaho to join his father who was postmaster at Southwick. In 1889 the office was transferred to our subject and with that and the duties of his commercial business he has been occupied since. In political matters he is Republican and is now justice of the peace. He has been a delegate to the county conventions and is now a delegate to the state convention.

Fraternally he is affiliated with the A. F. & A. M., Kendrick Lodge No. 26; with the W. O. W. at Leland and the M. W. A., LeBaron Camp No. 9383 at Cavendish, Idaho.

In addition to business transacted Mr. Daggett learned to set type and is skilled in that line. As a man he is of good standing and an attractive personality, while he numbers his friends by scores.

CHARLES HOFFMAN

This veteran on the battlefield of a century in the struggle allotted to man and in it all he has manifested a great tenacity of purpose, good ability, and has achieved a fine success both from a financial standpoint and in the excellent standing in the community where he is highly respected and holds the good will of all.

His parents, Jacob and Sarah (Troxall) Hoffman were natives of Pennsylvania, where our subject was born; they are of German extraction and for many years back have resided in that state.

Charles was raised in Northumberland county and while his educational advantages were very limited, he acquired a good training and fund of information by his persistent efforts to study.

In 1879 he crossed the plains and settled on a pre-emption which is now a part of his fine estate of over 600 acres, five hundred of which are in a high state of cultivation. He has excellent buildings, handles considerable stock and does a large farming and stock business. Mr. Hoffman raises some fine draft horses. He has a well of fine water that was blasted out of solid rock.

He married Miss Lucy Shay, who was the first white woman on the prairie. Her parents, Isaac A. and Margaret Shay were natives of Illinois and Kentucky and of Irish and Dutch descent.

Nine children have been born to this worthy couple, Jesse, the first white child born on the Big Potlatch; Charles, Walter, Olive, Alice, Benjamin, Elsie, Esther and Mary.

Mrs. Hoffman was occupied in teaching school before her marriage. She is a member of the Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are ardent supporters of educational facilities and believes in thorough training for their children. They are counted among the leading people of this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer and family spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Peters and family, listening to the radio. Dr. Parr of Troy was an over-night guest in the Meyers home that same night.

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT SOUTHWICK

Although the "Illustrated History of North Idaho," from which the biographical sketches used in this issue were obtained, says almost nothing about the town itself, listing it merely as a "Village with 50 population," we feel that this later information, 1912, gleaned through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johns, should be used:

The information is from a 1912 copy of a Kendrick Commercial Club Booster pamphlet. No copy of the old "Potlatch Star," once published at Southwick, ever having been made available to us.

Southwick, Nez Perce County, Idaho, is situated on the Big Potlatch ridge about 100 miles south of Spokane, and about 35 miles north and east of Lewiston, the county seat of that county.

The town is on the border of the great prairies of the Potlatch ridge to the west, and the largest body of standing timber left in the United States on the east. It is built on a beautiful, level tract of country and when the time comes that some transportation company puts a railroad along the top of the ridges (which is bound to come in the near future) Southwick is destined to become the distributing center of a large extent of country. Today Southwick is reached by stage line from Kendrick, the nearest railroad point, about fifteen miles away.

The town has three flourishing churches, with good membership — the Methodist, Presbyterian and United Brethren. There has recently been erected a large four room school house, located on a beautiful plot of ground, two acres in extent, on the corner of "Main Street."

In a business way, Southwick is well supplied and the traveling public is served in an up-to-date manner at the City Hotel and Hotel DeHaris. Ziemann Bros. & Hoehn are proprietors of a large department store, located on Main Street.

The postoffice is located in a new building on Main Street, the postmaster being S. R. Wetmore, who also runs a confectionery business. There are three millinery stores, a blacksmith shop, two livery barns, meat market, etc. It has a good hall in which the Southwick Commercial Club and other clubs and lodges meet.

The town and country surrounding are exceptions in the way of Christianity, morals and good citizenship. It is particularly noted for its healthful climate, pure water and natural resources.

The timber located to the east is of the following varieties: Yellow and white pine, spruce, tamarack, red and white fir, cedar, and some hemlock, mountain ash and cotton wood, running on an average of from two to eight million feet to the quarter section. There are 12 sawmills within 12 miles of Southwick, with an annual output of not less than 8,000,000 feet of rough and dressed lumber.

Cereals of all kinds do exceptionally well. Wheat makes a yearly average of 35 bushels to the acre; oats 70 bushels; barley 60 bushels; corn 35 bushels, and flax 20 bushels. Timothy hay does well, yielding two tons to the acre; red clover four tons and alfalfa four tons per acre.

Fruits and vegetables are very prolific, and of exceptionally good quality, being better than grown in eastern states and the irrigated products. Apples average about 1,000 boxes; prunes 1,500 boxes, peaches 500 boxes and apricots 600 boxes per acre. Potatoes yield an average 12 tons; cabbage 10 tons, and beets 12 tons to the acre. Garden truck, tame and wild berries grow in abundance.

Cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and all kinds of livestock do exceedingly well as we have no hog cholera, no Texas fever, no wind broken horses or contagious diseases.

Land is worth from $25 to $50 per acre, and there are all kinds of opportunity for money making. Come to Southwick, where we don't have to irrigate; where there are no cyclones, tornadoes or floods. Failure of crops in this district has never been known.

LAND SALES ON POTLATCH RIDGE

April 15, 1905 — Potlatch Ridge - The Potlatch Ridge Land Co., by H. E. Wessels, reports the sale of the Kettenbach and Boston place on the Potlatch, a tract of 800 acres, to Messrs. S. A. Sutton and Chas. Hall, for $10,000 and also the M. Parks place to the same parties for $1,250. The latter was bought by T. B. West just a week ago, which makes a quick turning of the property. Besides this they report the sale of 40 acres on the Potlatch to McCornack now residing at Cameron, for $850. He will as soon as he can erect a residence on the property, make his home there.

SURPRISE PARTY

Leland, Jan. 3, 1915 — Sunday evening a surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Flesham. About twenty relatives and friends arrived at their home in sleighs and proceeded to make things merry. Games and music were indulged in and at midnight a big oyster feed was partaken of, to which everyone did justice.

Those present were W. A. Flesham and wife, G. R. Flesham and wife, O. C. Flesham and wife, Jesse Daugherty and wife, Edna Johnson, Dora Vinson, Inez Daugherty, Lyda Wegner, Hugo Frank, O. W. Worle, Frank Daugherty, Albert Wunsch, Marvin and Johnnie Vincent, Ed. Johnson and Laven Larson.

J. EDGAR HOOVER GIVES HIS VIEWS ON PEACE OFFICERS

"The American public looks with well placed confidence upon its law enforcement officers as symbols of security — as champions in the arena of crime. In this time of violence and spiraling rates of criminality, there is, consequently, a dire need for each officer to insure that he is physically fit. It is his duty to his community so that he may safely, effectively and efficiently carry out his responsibilities.

"When a man accepts the badge of law enforcement, he also accepts certain challenges. He must be willing and able to participate in duties of a strenuous nature which involve raids, arrests, use of firearms, defensive tactics, dangerous assignments, and safe operation of motor vehicles. Poor physical condition would need suffice as an excuse should a law enforcement officer's failure to fulfill his duty cost the life of a fellow officer or an innocent citizen.

"A physically sound body is just as essential a part of a law enforcement officer's equipment as his firearm. Grit without stamina can lead to tragedy.

"We in the FBI undergo annual examinations by physicians so that physical defects detected can be very promptly corrected before they develop into serious health problems. At the same time, realistic weight standards must be adhered to by FBI agents. A 1959 build and blood pressure study by a major life insurance company disclosed that overweight people are more apt to develop diabetes, heart disease, high blood pressure, and other life-shortening conditions, than those whose weight is normal. Sickly, obese, out-of-condition peace officers cannot expect to cope with the arduous exertion required in a fight against today's vicious criminals.

"It is the responsibility of law enforcement officers to aid in building our country into a strong and respected republic, just as they have historically led the battles against other threats to our safety and security. The law enforcement officer should be respected by both adults and young people alike, and his example of physical sturdiness, incorruptible morals, and high regard for the principles of a free land, he can do his part in preventing any dangerous trend toward a national weakness.

"He owes it to his country, his community, his family, and himself." — J. Edgar Hoover. Reprinted at the request of United States Department of Justice, FBI.

4-H'ERS STUDY SAFETY FACTORS

Chicago — VIP in the 4-H roster can be found under the heading of "Safety." VIP in this case means "very important project." Spelled backwards it could mean "people in vehicles."

Either way, the combination alerts more young people to the importance of safety than does any other 4-H endeavor. Some 900,000 boys and girls are participating in a 4-H safety project in which they help to lessen dangers on highways, farms, in homes and communities, reports the Cooperative Extension Service.

Right now when millions of motorists are taking to the road for week-end outings or long awaited vacations, chances of accidents mount. Motor vehicle accidents top the list, says the National Safety Council. Over the long 4th of July week-end, a record number of people died.

The death toll among rural people is exceptionally high, according to the Safety Council. Over the last ten years, 58,000 rural residents died and two million were injured on the highways. Fatal accidents for the decade increased 26 percent. Tractor fatalities climbed 26 percent over the last eight years.

While 4-H Club members represent only a small part of the $2 million automobile drivers, they do a commendable job in eliminating driving hazards in their communities the year-round. Members also check for health and recreation hazards, home safety, and safe handling of animals, according to the Extension Service, which supervises the work.

These and other deeds merit specific rewards provided for the 17th consecutive year by General Motors. They consist of scholarships, educational trips, certificates of honor and honor medals for outstanding 4-H'ers who have made safety their No. 1 crop. Training aids for local club leaders and members are also made available by the company.

Next November, eight top-ranking 4-H'ers will be named national safety champions and receive $400 in scholarships. State winners will enjoy a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, where they will join 1,500 fellow members as guests of GM at a gala luncheon honoring all winners, club leaders and friends of 4-H.

TAKE CARE OF THOSE CALVES

U of I, Moscow — Idaho's cattlemen could increase their income by $2,500,000 without increasing sizes of either herds or ranges.

"Raising the percentage of calves weaned by only 5 percent would add these extra dollars to bank accounts of Idaho's growers," declares Morris Hemstrom, extension animal husbandman. Hemstrom makes his statement on the basis of the 500,000 beef cows in Idaho and calves worth $100 each. Market value of the 5 percent increase — and extra 25,000 calves — would be $2,500,000. A 10 percent increase would add $5,000,000.00.

Hemstrom points out a real need for the increase with some cow-calf ranches. "For them," he says, "the extra calves would spell the difference between profit and loss in their production operations."

Hemstrom says he is sure the calf crop increase is possible. Ninety percent of Idaho's cattlemen could increase the number of calves weaned with more attention to two or three simple management practices. Most calf losses come at calving time when ranchers spend both time and money in efforts to save weak or sick calves from cows that have not had the right feed during the last two months of pregnancy.

Hemstrom recommends the check-and-cull method as a first step to increasing calf percentages. Under this system, all cows are fall tested for pregnancy. Those not with calf are sold. On a simple business basis, he points out, cows that consistently produce a calf every fall should not have to pay the feed bill for shy breeders and skippers who calves only every other year, or not at all. The owner has an average of $80.00 invested in every calf at weaning time. It follows with a little figuring that the total profit from two calves is necessary to winter one barren cow — that may remain barren all her life.

Attention to the individual production of each cow is essential in Hemstrom's management plan. "Only when a cow is managed and fed to bring her up to her full capacities will she help her owner bank some of the $2,500,000 that Idaho cattlemen are now missing," he said.

SAFETY ON THE HIGHWAY

Boise — Appeals for traffic safety sometimes become monotonous and are often referred to as "preaching," simply because they are repeated.

By the same token, drivers' excuses for their errors that lead to traffic accidents — many of them fatal — become just as stereotyped and, like such slogans as "Drive Carefully," they become ineffective.

From the tape recorder of Driver Improvement Analysts, who are constantly attempting to find the cause of drivers' repeated appearances in traffic courts, are such comments as: "I wasn't even thinking," by a driver who made an improper turn and was involved in a collision.

Standard comments of some drivers convicted of speeding, many of them after a traffic accident sound something like this: "I was in a hurry," "I was late for work," "I was in a vacuum — thinking of things other than driving" and "when you start out you gotta get there."

Facts surrounding July traffic fatalities presented without comment are: Thirty drivers involved in 20 fatal crashes which killed 26 people; seven drivers, who survived their wrecks, committed one or more errors which left 12 people dead, part of them other drivers. Errors included inattention, drinking, failure to yield the right-of-way, reckless driving, speed and improper passing.

Seven drivers were killed in wrecks involving excessive speed and/or drunken driving.

In the remaining fatal accidents that took eight lives, the investigations are still incomplete or no driver errors were in evidence.

SOUTHWICK STORE ROBBED

June 20, 1930 — Ziemann's Store at Southwick was robbed Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning of about $200 worth of merchandise and cash; $16.00 was taken in money from the cash register, and the remainder of the loot consisted of gloves, shoes, blankets, suitcases, and numerous other articles of merchandise.

Entrance to the store was gained by letting a rope down through the skylight, and it is presumed the one entering then opened the rear door to the store. Holes were bored around the lock so the door might be opened.

The sheriff's office was notified immediately and it is thought the robbers will soon be behind the bars.

RECEIVES $3601.87 FOR BEANS

Feb. 25, 1916 — Conrad Ellis of the Pottlatch ridge came to the front last week as the "Bean King" of the Pottlatch. Last year he raised one hundred acres of beans and last Saturday sold them to a Kendrick warehouse. The check received was $3,601.87, and he has a few hundred pounds left.

Another thing, he has taken the same ground and sown it to fall wheat and has an excellent stand. That is enough to prove to the on-looker that the ground in the Pottlatch country is the best and that the farmer can, if he does the right thing, raise good crops every year.

LELAND'S CROWD BIGGEST IN YEARS

Feb. 26, 1932 — Did we have a crowd? I'll say! The largest one to assemble in Leland for 20 years and more, when about 450 people from Leland, Cameron, Welker and Fairview communities as well as visitors from Southwick and Grinolds, assembled at the I. O. O. F. hall to take part in the Washington's Bi-Centennial birthday celebration on Feb. 22.

After a varied program of about 50 minutes in the forenoon, the audience adjourned to the lower part of the hall, where a number of men had spread out and arranged the bounteous dinners provided by the ladies of the various communities.

The large tables groaned under the weight of about one hundred pies and cakes, not to mention the stacks of sandwiches, chicken and salads on the other tables.

The afternoon program was a varied and interesting one, and about 4:00 o'clock the people departed for their homes, having spent a most enjoyable day.

TO ENFORCE MINOR LAW

Feb. 25, 1916 — M. C. Johnson, probation officer of Nez Perce county was on the Pottlatch ridge last week visiting the different schools.

Thursday evening he visited the Fairview school and gave an illustrated address dealing with school and juvenile work. Friday morning he went to Cameron where he addressed the school. Friday afternoon he visited the Southwick school and in the evening he went to Leland where he delivered an address before the members of the Community Social.

He remarked that he was well pleased with the school work on the ridge. His attention was called to the use of tobacco by minors. The matter was taken up and the law will be enforced as to this violation, he says.

CRAIG HOME BURNS

Leland-Sept. 5, 1915 — The dwelling of Sam Craig was completely destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock last night resulting in a loss of about $1,000 with insurance to the amount of $700. Mr. Craig had attended lodge and was at the drug store of Dr. Stoneburner when the alarm was sounded. There had been no person at the house for several hours and the cause of the fire was a mystery. None of the furnishings of the house was saved.

JOSEPH W. STONEBURNER, M. D.

Joseph W. Stoneburner, M. D. is one of the popular and able physicians of Nez Perce county and because of his ability, integrity and skill, he enjoys a fine practice, having his office and headquarters in Leland.

Our subject attended district school until sixteen, then entered Valparaiso College, where he studied two years, after which he learned the art of steam engineering. During his labor at this calling he saved money enough to educate a brother and also to put himself through his professional course.

For five years he read medicine and then entered the Eclectic Medical Institute at Cincinnati, whence he graduated in three years. He practiced in Berne, Indiana from July 1892 to 1898, then came west to Leland and since that time has been doing a good practice here.

Dr. Stoneburner is a member of the A. F. & A. M. at Kendrick No. 26; of the I. O. O. F., being noble grand at Leland, No. 90; of the K. P., being past chancellor of Berne Lodge No. 96 in Indiana. He is a staunch Democrat and has been a delegate to the state and county conventions and this year was the strongest opponent to Hunt. The doctor is popular and well liked as his good standing and gratifying practice testify.

JOHN H. BLACK

The subject of this review is one of sturdy men who made the reservation portion of Nez Perce County one of the best places in the state of Idaho. He is well respected, is a man of ability and erudition and has made a wide influence in the affairs of the county.

John H. Black was born in Clark, County, Missouri, on January 4, 1860, being the son of Andrew J. and Ann (Burner) Black, natives of Ohio. The father is of Scotch-Irish lineage and now lives near Southwick. The mother died when John H. was a small boy. For twenty years of his life, our subject was in Missouri and during this time he gained his education from the district schools. Then came a trip to the west and settlement was made near Colfax, and one year was spent on a dairy ranch. Then he farmed until 1890, after which he purchased a ranch adjoining Leland. Here he remained until the opening of the reservation, when he took his present place in the vicinity of Gifford. He was in financial straits at that time, but by hard work and taking advantage of the resources of the county, he has come to be well rewarded with the goods of the world. This last year Mr. Black rented his land and is now living in Gifford. He has the following brothers and sisters: Charles E. in Leland; Samuel at Southwick; Matilda J., wife of John A. Porter, a banker of Luray City, Missouri; Mabel, a school girl in Leland. Mr. Black is a staunch Democrat, active in all questions of interest and a zealous laborer for good schools and roads.

On February 9, 1890, Mr. Black married Miss Mary E., daughter of Mathew and Elizabeth (Luther) Williams, the wedding occurred at Leland.

PREACHER RECEIVED POUNDING

Leland, Jan. 4, 1915 — There was a surprise pounding served on the Methodist pastor and his wife at this place last Wednesday evening, Dec. 30. It being prayer service night at the church, no alarm was given except an unusually large congregation at the prayer service.

The pastor's wife, not being well, enough to attend church, by some means held the parsonage until the church services closed, which caused no little excitement. When the services closed the entire congregation of some 50 or 60 persons rushed in with arms full, sacks full, boxes full to the parsonage and pounded away until the pastor and family were overpowered and sat helplessly at the feet of the assailants.

This is truly a goodly heritage, when the pastor and wife can have such a kind reception from such good people.

BANDITS FOILED IN HOLDUP ATTEMPT

Leland-Dec. 31, 1915 — There was quite an excitement on the Streets of Leland last Thursday evening, when two masked bandits held DeWinter and Goudzward (merchants here) up as they were leaving their store at about 8:00 o'clock. Just as they started to cross the street near their homes, these bandits stepped from behind a building and presented their guns and ordered them to hold up their hands while they searched them. While one was trying to search Goudzward, DeWinter broke away and ran to the hotel near by and gave the alarm, at this they accomplished their purpose. It is too bad such fellows can't be caught and put where they belong.
