KENNETH PLATT TELLS OF IRANIAN EARTHQUAKE

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Platt, Kenneth Platt who is with the U. S. government in Tehran, Iran, under date of Sept. 4, wrote as follows:

"Dear Family All — This will be a 'quickie' mostly to reassure you that we are safe from the vast catastrophe of Iran's earthquake that struck last Saturday night. No damage was done in Tehran. The center of the shock was about 75 miles west of here.

"None of the big towns of Iran were hit, but the damage was stupendous just the same. Our locust control pilot trainer came back this afternoon from a reconnaissance flight over the devastated area, and I asked him how many villages were damaged. He said he hadn't gotten a count. I said, 'Would you say it was scores or would you say it was hundreds?' 'Hundreds,' he replied, 'with 25 percent destruction or even more.'

"There is no accurate estimate of the dead and injured as yet, as the area has not been fully viewed. It is a mountainous and generally roadless area, with no telephone connections. The Red Lion & Sun Society (Iranian Red Cross) has gone into the area with horses and helicopters and is reporting back out by portable radio. Late this afternoon the reported dead stood at 25,000 — about three times the estimate of yesterday — and much of the area has not yet been reached. Most of the villages are small, with 50 to 100 people. One village of 4,000 is reported to have lost 3,000. One of our drivers told me a cousin of his had come in from one of the villages to tell him that his 12-year-old step-son, who had been visiting there, had been killed. This man said that 400 of his 'cousins' were killed. (Cousin is used here to include general family relatives).

"Some villages are reported to have lost every inhabitant. This is scarcely credible, but losses of 75 to 80 percent probably did occur. The quake struck at about 11 p. m., when virtually all village inhabitants were asleep. Their mud-brick houses just simply disintegrated, dropping the heavy earthen roofs on the sleeping inhabitants. Those that were not crushed to death probably smothered. The typical Iranian mud hut roof is constructed by laying small poles (3 to 6-inch) across from wall to wall, covering these at right angles with smaller limbs and brush, then a layer of straw and weeds, and finally several inches of mud, which is tamped and rolled until it will shed water for several hours at a time, even though flat. You can see that a person buried under a mat like that would have very little chance of breaking his way through it.

"Along with the destruction of their homes came destruction of most of their water supplies. Many of the villages were served by ghanats, the horizontal flowing wells which I have described to you before. Most of these collapsed from the earth shock. Dug wells and springs also collapsed. There are no (or very few) living streams in the area. Thus the stricken survivors were left without water to drink or to wash their dead for burial.

"We have already donated 1,000 tons of American flour that was brought here recently for distribution through C. A. R. E. organization, and $10,000 from the Ambassador's contingency fund. The Red Lion & Sun and the Iranian Army have moved into the area with convoys of trucks taking food, tents, clothing and medical supplies as far as they can go with them. Several Army field hospitals have been dispatched to the area, and we are flying in two more. I understand, for follow-up, we are planning large access road construction, housing reconstruction, and water facilities reconstruction projects. These will be supported with U. S. surplus farm commodities, probably mostly wheat. I am up to my ears in these arrangements, as my new job since my promotion is to do this very thing, along with other types of project work. Within the next few days I should have a fairly complete and accurate data on the number of deaths and injuries, the numbers of people left homeless, the size of projects we will undertake, etc. I will keep you posted."

The remainder of the letter deals with personal matters, which would not be of general interest.

School Notes

Annual Auction Sale
Friday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p. m. seems the only school date available for the Juliaetta Elementary School Auction Sale, which is held annually. This is one of two money-making projects that the grade school has during the year. It is with the help and cooperation of the parents and business men of Juliaetta and Kendrick that the sale is such a success. The money made is used to buy playground equipment, or some item for their individual class rooms.

Second Grade
Mrs. Dennis Racicot taught the second grade room Monday, Sept. 17, in the absence of Mrs. Erlewine.

Sixth Grade
The Health Nurse made her first visit to the Juliaetta school Tuesday. The pupils are receiving their annual eye test.

"HIGHBALL" HAS WRECK NEAR TROY

Six empty cars of the Northern Pacific "Highball" were telescoped and thrown onto their sides Sunday morning around 4:00 o'clock when the east-bound No. 662 came upon a band of sheep which were on and across the tracks about mid-way between Howell and Troy.

The engineer on the lead engine, "dynamited" the brakes, which was not known by the "pusher engine" in the rear, causing the resulting pressure to telescope the cars, throwing them off the track.

There were no casualties other than the damage to equipment, which required a wrecker and a "hospital train" out of Spokane, to get the cars back on the track, and to the repair shops.

Passengers on the "bug" were delivered from Moscow by car to their various destinations that day. By 4:00 p. m. Monday the wreckage was cleared away. Luckily there was no road-bed damage, and service was resumed at that time.

INDIAN SUMMER WEATHER

Residents of this area have truly been enjoying the past several days of "Indian Summer" weather, following several days of chill and rain showers.

For the past several days the day-time temperatures have been in the mid-to-high 70's, and at night dropping to the mid-40's.

This is just what everyone has been longing for — it gives those with beans, late peas and barley a chance to complete harvesting operations. Others are busy plowing, seeding, discing, and otherwise completing fall work.

Truly, everyone is making the most of this wonderful weather.

RONA ARMITAGE IS WINNER OF 3 ESSAY PRIZES IN 2 YEARS

Rona Armitage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Armitage, Southwick, has been the winner of three essay contest prizes during the past two years. As a junior in Kendrick High School, in 1961, she won first place in the local essay contest of the V. F. W. Auxiliary, writing on the subject: "Law and the Free Citizen." Her prize was a $25.00 Savings bond.

The second year (1962) as a senior, she again won first prize in the local contest, writing on the subject: "America The Beautiful — How Long Without Clean Water?" Again she won a $25.00 Savings bond.

In June, at the V. F. W. and Auxiliary State Convention in Pocatello, in the state competition, she won the third prize, which consisted of a check for $15.00 and an Essay Medal, to bring her pen winnings to a total of $65.00.

MISS RONA ARMITAGE

Miss Armitage's winning essay on "America The Beautiful — How Long Without Clean Water?" follows:

"The United States of America is undoubtedly one of the most richly endowed countries in the world. Besides being blessed with nearly every type of natural beauty one can imagine — from the heat-glazed deserts to that of glistening snow-blanketed slopes — she has also been granted abundant natural resources, including the two most essential — fresh air and clean water.

"Because of their availability, Americans have taken advantage of the beauty and plentiful resources of the United States. Citizens who saw no need to care for the natural gifts of God nor to practice conservation have created many problems for us who must reap the harvest of their lack of foresight. Among these problems is the one of maintaining a sufficiently large and clean water supply for our growing population.

"Carelessness and greed have combined to contaminate our lakes, rivers and streams, and to waste our pure water supply. As the pioneers cleared forest lands for farming, they thoughtlessly threw brush and slashings into streams for quick disposal. Such debris, by clogging water passageways, hindered the flow of fresh water. The destruction of water sheds by irresponsible lumbering crews has caused gullies through which much-needed rains have been lost as run-off water. Poor farming practices have only rendered this deplorable situation more dangerously acute. When gold and silver were discovered in various areas, greedy miners heedlessly littered rivers and streams with their mining refuse, which has not only polluted our water, but has also disfigured the lovely face of America.

"Today our pure water is threatened by new scientific discoveries. Mosquitoes and other insects have made it expedient to spray water surfaces, noxious weeds have had to be curbed by poisons, and dangerous bacteria have necessitated the adding of chemical to water.

Since 1940, four developments have shown us that we must take immediate steps to increase conservation and to improve utilization of our water resources. They are our increasing population, shifts in industry, droughts and pollution of the streams and lakes. However, many Americans reason that water will always fall from heaven and spring from the earth; therefore, there is no real water problem. They do not stop to think that, as the rain mingles with the polluted water, it, too, becomes polluted; and they refuse to believe that our underground water supplies may someday be gone.

"These thoughtless citizens also fail to evaluate correctly the damage that water pollution and imprudent water utilization have done to our recreational areas and beauty spots. Beneath their hideous forms, wastes and trash submerge lovely scenery, just as they poison swimming and fishing waters. Even more tragic, many human and wildlife diseases have been traced to contaminated water.

"The American public must be made aware of our water problem before it is too late to correct it. As our population rapidly increases, so do the demands upon our pure water supplies. The current use of 300 billion gallons of water a day is seven times that consumed in the year 1900. The amount of water required for only one person per day is from 60 to 150 gallons in cities, and from 10 to 50 gallons in rural areas. Since 1939, the industrial capacity of the United States has tripled and its need for water has increased 36 percent. In addition, we require 110 billion gallons per day for irrigation. Although we are not now using all our rainfall and subterranean water supplies, it has been estimated that we shall be using them one hundred percent by 1980. According to that prediction, an emergency is rapidly developing. As time progresses, we shall continually need more water. But where is it to come from?"

NEWS BRIEFS FROM AMERICAN RIDGE

BY MRS. GEORGE HAVENS Phone 4139

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yarnell of Spokane spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis and family. Mr. and Mrs. Milbern Story of Pullman were Sunday evening guests.

Mrs. Frankie Benschoter, Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner and Mrs. Wayne Davis did judging at the Latah County Fair last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Havens left on Friday for a trip up the Lochsa, staying along that stream until Saturday noon, when they drove on to Missoula. That night they were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reich. From there they drove on to St. Regis, where they spent the night, and on Sunday morning drove to Osburn, in time for breakfast with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Widmer. They attended church services at Kellogg and were dinner guests of the Widmers. That afternoon they drove to Coeur d'Alene and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bigham there. Enroute home they called on Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mills at Tensed.

Ray Assman of Portland arrived on Monday to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Heimgartner and family.

George Kent of Boise visited from Friday until Monday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kent. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morgan of Tacoma are visiting in the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kent.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kent, Mrs. Kathryn Morey and son Pat, and George Kent, the latter of Boise, made the loop drive through Mullan and Missoula, Mont., and back via the Lewis-Clark Highway. While in Missoula they visited Edd's sister, Mrs. Robt. Krause of Missoula.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Benschoter spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Don Benschoter at Lewiston. They also visited his sister, Mrs. Nona Nelson and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Don McCloud of Kalamazoo, Mich., who were at the Nelson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Brammer and daughters Rhonda and Denise drove to Spokane Friday evening, where Denise received her prize of a transistor radio. Saturday they attended the Fair at Moscow.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Haines of Seattle; Mrs. Ada Huntley of Tekoa, Wash, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scoville of Palouse were visitors one day last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benschoter. All are daughters and sisters of Wallace Benschoter, a former ridge resident.

Harry Benschoter was a Saturday dinner guest of his sister, Mrs. Nona Nelson, in Lewiston, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don McCloud of Kalamazoo, Mich. Mrs. Benschoter was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Basil Picavet in Clarkston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Havens of Juliaetta, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Benschoter, were fishing at Spring Valley on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Andrews left Friday for Pendleton, where they visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Del Andrews. Saturday all attended the Roundup, the Andrews returning home Monday evening.

Fudge Peters and Sherry Schmidt spent Saturday night with Evelyn Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brammer of Juliaetta spent Tuesday with Mrs. Geo. Havens, helping prepare corn for the freezer.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews sincerely appreciate the help of neighbors and the forestry department in putting out the stubble fire on their ranch, Sept. 6th.

"The only way to avoid the impending water shortage is to preserve the present clean water resources and to clean up the contaminated lakes, rivers and streams. Agricultural agencies, homemaking organizations, and 4-H clubs can be effective means of informing the public of methods of water conservation. Such groups could also help to eliminate water pollution by inspiring citizens not only with pride in our scenic beauty but also with a determination to recreate the loveliness of debris-spilled regions. Another method of combating pollution is to build pollution treatment plants which would not only dispose of trash and wastes, but would also purify the presently contaminated waters and make them fit for use. Government aid is available for such projects which, although costly, are well worth every bit of expense in the long run. Can we put a price tag on beauty, health and prosperity.

"Without a vast, dependable water supply, America cannot long remain lovely, prosperous and strong. If an extensive program to stop pollution, to rehabilitate already contaminated waters, and to preserve our present water supply is not effected soon, we can anticipate only future struggle and possible defeat — all for the lack of a substance we take so for granted. Without clean water, industry, home and individual must die. Let us awaken! Let us sound the battle cry! Let us keep America beautiful — and alive!"

"SAY SOMETHING NICE ABOUT US"

The other day, following an incident in which a "high loaded" logging truck hooked onto and pulled down a number of telephone and TV cables on Main Street, one of our local loggers threw the challenge at us: "Say something nice about us"

Well, frankly, we don't find that challenge a bit hard to meet. Our local men, who consist of Everett Farrington, Burt Souders, Jr., Burt Souders, Sr., Lloyd Ware, Marion Souders, Fred Arnett, Ray C. King, Ray Hudson, Roy Whitman, Joe Muths and Elmer Cuddy drive and act like gentlemen.

They go through Kendrick at a pace that will permit their stopping for a pedestrian, should the need arise; they watch for children at the park and playground areas — and they spend their money in their home communities! True, they may be picked up and fined occasionally for an over-load — but we never heard of their being fined for being over-wide or over-height, which constitute the dangerous practices.

No, we don't find it a bit hard to "Say something nice about us!"

P. S.: The truck that hooked onto the cables was from St. Maries!

CUB SCOUTS

"Shall Section 3 of Article VI of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended so as to permit Chinese, and persons of Mongolian descent, not born in the United States, to vote, serve as jurors, or hold civil office?"

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

This proposed amendment of the Idaho Constitution is designed to give naturalized Chinese citizens of the United States and other citizens of Mongolian descent, not born in the United States, the right to vote, to serve as jurors, and to hold civil office. Section 3 of Article VI of the Idaho Constitution, as now in effect, disqualifies certain persons from voting, serving as jurors or holding civil office and among those disqualified are "Chinese or persons of Mongolian descent not born in the United States".

The amendment, if approved, would delete that portion of the said section which "prohibits naturalized Chinese citizens, and other citizens of Mongolian descent, from voting, serving as jurors, or holding civil office. Though identifying only Chinese, the proposed amendment would also apply to citizens of Japanese ancestry, and all other naturalized citizens of Mongolian descent, which, as stated, would enable them to vote, serve as jurors, or hold civil office on the same basis as other naturalized citizens.

Idaho is the only State with such discrimination against any naturalized citizen, and the Idaho State Legislature unanimously recommended that this question should be placed before the voters.

(S. J. R. NO. 6)

"Shall Section 2 of Article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended so as to declare every citizen of the United States, twenty-one years old, who has actually resided in this state for sixty days next preceding the day of the election, if registered as required by law, is a qualified elector for the sole purpose of voting for presidential electors?"

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

This proposed amendment of the Idaho Constitution is designed to give all citizens who have actually resided in the state of Idaho for sixty days next preceding the day of election, and who are otherwise qualified, the right to vote for presidential electors. Section 2 of Article VI of the Idaho Constitution, as now in effect, provides that citizens in order to vote, shall have resided in the state for six months next preceding the day of elections. The amendment, if approved, would permit those citizens who have resided in the State for only sixty days to vote for presidential electors. The requirement that a citizen shall have been an actual resident for six months next preceding the general election would continue to apply in voting for all other officials.

(H. J. R. NO. 10)

"Shall the Constitution of the State of Idaho be amended by amending Section 2 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Idaho to delete the designation of probate courts and courts of Justices of the Peace as constitutional courts, but preserving the designation, as constitutional courts, of a court for the trial of impeachments, a supreme court and district courts, and preserving existing inferior courts until changed by law; to give the legislature the power, by law, to establish courts inferior to the supreme court and prescribe the jurisdiction of same; and to provide that the courts shall constitute a unified and integrated judicial system for administrative and supervision by the Supreme Court; by repealing Section 21 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Idaho to delete constitutional provisions relating to the jurisdiction of probate courts; by repealing Section 22 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Idaho to delete constitutional provisions relating to the jurisdiction of justices of the peace; and by amending Section 6 of Article 18 of the Constitution of the State of Idaho, as amended, to provide that the designation of a probate judge as a constitutional county officer shall continue until otherwise provided by the legislature, and to provide that a probate or other county judge may be a county officer if provided for by law?"

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

This proposed amendment of the Idaho Constitution is designed to vest in the Legislature of the State of Idaho power to eliminate the probate courts and the courts of justices of the peace as constitutional courts and further, power to establish courts inferior to the Supreme Court and to prescribe the jurisdiction of such inferior courts which shall constitute a unified and integrated judicial system for administration and supervision by the Supreme Court. Section 2 of Article V of the Idaho Constitution as now in effect provides:

"The judicial power of the state shall be vested in a court for the trial of impeachments, a Supreme Court, district courts, probate courts, courts of justices of the peace, and such other courts inferior to the Supreme Court as may be established by law for any incorporated city or town."

The proposed amendment if adopted would change said Section 2 Article V to read thus:

"The judicial power of the state shall be vested in a court for the trial of impeachments, a Supreme Court, district courts, and such other courts inferior to the Supreme Court as established by the legislature. The courts shall constitute a unified and integrated judicial system for administration and supervision by the Supreme Court. The jurisdiction of such inferior courts shall be as prescribed by the legislature. Until provided by law, no changes shall be made in the jurisdiction or in the manner of the selection of judges of existing inferior courts."

The proposed amendment, if adopted, would also repeal Sections 21 and 22 of Article V of the Idaho Constitution which set out the jurisdiction of the probate courts and courts of justices of the peace respectively. Further, the proposed amendment would also amend Section 6 of Article 18, of the Idaho Constitution which Section specifies the various county officers. The probate judge is listed therein as a county officer; and the proposed amendment, if adopted, would provide that the probate judge would continue to be a county officer "until otherwise provided by the legislature" and that "a probate or other county judge may be a county officer if provided by law."

which election shall be open at 8 o'clock in the morning and will continue until 8 o'clock in the evening of the same day.

The 10 Commandments of Safety

- 1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of safety.
- 2 Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.
- 3 Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.
- 4 Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
- 5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.
- 6 Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.
- 7 Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.
- 8 Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.
- 9 Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface of the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.
- 10 Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

CAUTION URGED IN FIRE WHILE HUNTING

Missoula — Sportsmen will be hunting on the 16 Northern Region National Forests in Idaho, Montana, Washington, South Dakota and North Dakota during small and big game hunting seasons, Boyd L. Rasmussen, regional forester, pointed out today.

In explaining that the Forest Service's multiple-use resource management responsibility includes recreational use of public lands, Rasmussen urged hunters to be cautious with fires in the forests and on the range-land.

"Wildlife is but one of the many resources on our National Forests. In harvesting this recreational resource," Rasmussen said, "we must be alert to our responsibility to protect National Forest timber, water, forage and other recreational resources."

Hunting on National Forests is regulated by state fish and game authorities. Seasons, bag limits, and other hunting regulations are set by the individual states and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

With the opening of bird and big game seasons, Rasmussen suggested that sportsmen hunting in unfamiliar country contact Forest Rangers at one of the more than 100 ranger stations in the 5-state area.

"Forest Rangers can provide sportsmen with current information on roads and trails. They can also provide accurate, detailed maps of National Forest land," he explained.

"Last year," Rasmussen said, "there were more than 733,000 hunter visits to the 16 National Forests of the Northern Region. This is in addition to 1.2 million fishing visits to these same National Forests in 1961."

"In the past five years the number of hunter visits to these National Forests has more than doubled. There were only 360,000 hunter visits recorded in 1956."

Rasmussen said that early indications suggest that hunter visits to Northern Region National Forests this year will exceed 800,000.

A storekeeper in a small town was standing in front of his shop one afternoon, when he saw a car rolling slowly down the street. He noticed with horror that there was nobody in the driver's seat. He ran to the car, jerked open the door and pulled back the emergency brake.

As he stepped back, feeling a little proud, a man walked up to him. "Well," said the storekeeper, "I stopped it."
"Yeah, I know," said the man wearily, "I was pushing it. I'm out of gas."

HISTORIC ITEMS GIVEN U. OF I.

U. of I. — A dress worn at the Lincoln-Douglas debate in Ottawa, Illinois, was among the first mementos of the past given to the University of Idaho since the recent announcement that the university was planning to establish a museum in the old Geology building.

Given to the university today by Dr. Thomas D. Baird, Moscow, was the historical collection of his wife, Virginia, who died during the past year. The dress in the collection, which dates back to pre-Civil War days, was worn by Mrs. Baird's grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Stricklund.

Other historical items include a doll's trunk with wardrobe of clothes stylish many years ago, a dainty umbrella of the period when ladies avoided the sun, many incidentals such as a fancy buttonhook for shoes, and magazines dating back to 1900.
