Get Ready To Change Your Clocks FAST TIME BEGINS HERE APRIL 28

Cooperating with other communities in northern Idaho, and in time with the state of Washington — fast time will come to Kendrick — fast time will come to Kendrick and other communities of this section of the clocks tomorrow — that is, when you retire Saturday night, set your clock ahead one hour.

Of course you'll lose that hour's sleep — but you'll get it back in October when clocks go back to standard time.

The Joint District No. 10, July 1st, 1963, V. Muscat, superintendent, will begin operations Monday on Daylight Saving Time. The Farmers Bank and all other business institutions will also be on the fast time with even the Northern Pacific Railway cooperating. In this issue of the paper will be found an advertisement announcing the new train schedules.

In regard to the post office R. E. Magnuson, postmaster, says no information is available at this time on whether or not there will be a change in the mail schedules to correspond. That will have to await official announcement.

LAURENCE ROSECLOSE, JULIAETTA PIONEER, DIES SUNDAY

Mrs. Laura Groseclose, 93, who with her late husband, J. C. Groseclose, were among the pioneers who helped settle Juliaetta, and had a hand in virtually all of its first activities, died Sunday at 4:45 p. m. at the St. Joseph's Hospital, Lewiston. She had been a patient there a week, and in failing health for the past several months.

Mrs. Groseclose and her daughter, Mrs. Maeci Nye, Juliaetta, were the only survivors of a party of ten who came to Lewiston by train from Kentucky in 1905.

She and her husband, J. C. Groseclose, owned the first switchboard in Juliaetta, and also the first movie theater, which they sold in 1915. Groseclose was an undertaker and one of the first licensed embalmers in Idaho. Mrs. Groseclose assisted him, and also operated a millinery business.

Later the couple were partners in the Groseclose & Richardson General Merchandise store.

With the Rev. and Mrs. W. DePartee, they founded the First Southern Methodist Church at Juliaetta in 1914.

After the death of her husband many years ago, she maintained a boarding and rooming house.

She was born at Taxewell, Virginia, Dec. 25, 1869. She was married there in 1889 to Groseclose.

Surviving besides her daughter, are a son, Robert, Walla Walla; four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mrs. Groseclose were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Juliaetta Methodist Church, with the Rev. Bruce Groseclose of Lewiston officiating.

Soloist was Roy Ramey, with Mrs. M. C. Halliday as accompanist.

Bearers were Ernie Sherman, Mikey Hedler, M. C. Halliday, Oliver Clark, Otto Weinmann and Frank Neal. Interment was in the Juliaetta Cemetery.

BLOOD REPORT RECEIVED

During the latter part of the recent influenza outbreak here Dr. D. A. Christensen took blood samples from a number of people who had had the influenza and recovered. On Tuesday morning he brought the following statement to the Gazette:

"A report was received from the Idaho Department of Health on the blood samples sent to them to determine the cause of the recent epidemic.

"While there was variation in the amount of antibodies to the various viruses tested for, all samples showed some increase in antibodies for the parainfluenza 3 virus and one showed a marked increase. So I think we can conclude that the disease was not due to any of the influenza viruses in the vaccine used, but due to parainfluenza type three, which means an influenza like infection."

JUDY BYERS WEDS LINN ENGER SUNDAY

Miss Judy Byers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Byers of Avon, was married to Linn Enger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Enger of Park, Sunday afternoon, April 21. Rev. Oliver officiated at the United Brethren Church in Deary.

She also wore elbow-length white lace gloves. Her veil was fastened to a small, white pillbox hat. Her bouquet of white stephanotis was centered with a removable corsage of a pale pink orchid.

Miss Carol Jean Zimmerman of Moscow was maid-of-honor. She wore a pink street-length dress with pink accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink and white rosebuds.

Charles Enger was his brother's best man.

Mrs. Katherine Campbell played the organ and accompanied Mrs. Oliver, who sang "Oh, Promise Me."

The bride's mother was attired in a copen blue sheath dress with beige accessories, and wore a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother chose a dress of navy blue in a lace design with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Due to a misunderstanding in the hours of administration, the 66 not present on Sunday were given the vaccine on the following days by Dr. Christensen and Dave Clayton.

The third and final dose of the series will be given on Sunday, May 28 — with the hours from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m. A "reminder" will appear in the Gazette later.

FREAK SNOWSTORM VISITS AREA SAT.

Area residents rubbed their eyes in amazement and took another look Saturday morning when they awoke and looked out their windows — for the ground was white with snow — and daffodils, tulips, narcissus, and other spring flowers were bending under the weight of the fluffy, wet stuff — and wet it was.

Here in Kendrick just enough fell to make lawns and roofs look white, with roads bare and wet. On top the hills, however, the depth ranged up to six inches — Walter May reporting that measurement at the family home on American ridge. It is said that further back in the hills as much as a foot fell.

The temperature rose rapidly, however, rain began to fall, and in a few hours the snow was gone. But the fall set back logging and farming operations by several days.

Since that time temperatures have been steadily rising, and there have been intermittent rain showers. Trees are leafing rapidly, lawns are a brilliant green, and it won't take many days of sunshine to know that spring is really here.

The Potlatch river is unusually clear for this time of the year, and the flow about normal.

POWER CO. MAKES HUGE TAX PAYMENT

Pullman — Checks totaling $697,268.78 will be mailed or delivered to the treasurers of 15 Washington counties by the Washington Water Power Co. in the next few days. The checks will cover the first-half of the 1963 Washington property tax paid by the utility.

The company's Washington property tax bill for the full year will amount to $1,368,904.48, or approximately $14.20 for each residential customer it has in the state.

J. B. Murray said that the major portion of the property tax will be paid in six of the 15 counties. "These six counties," he said, "will receive $1,349,147.00, or more than 97 percent of the total Washington property tax bill WWP will pay in 1963."

Mr. Murray said that WWP's Washington property tax load is almost double what it was ten years ago. "In 1954," he pointed out, the "WWP paid $716,944 in Washington property tax compared to the $1,369,000 it will pay this year. The company is now the fifth largest taxpayer in the state."

"And our property tax bill of ten years ago included $125,900 paid to Chelan county," he said. "While in 1963 we will pay only $8.89 to Chelan county because we no longer own a hydroelectric project there."

FOREST FIRE SEASON BEGINS MAY 1ST

Boise — State Forester Roger L. Guernsey announced this week that the official closed fire season will begin on May 1 of this year. The Legislature amended the law to make the closed season start on May 10, but the amendment carried no emergency clause, so the effective date this year will remain May 1.

Under the new law, the state forester has authority to shorten or extend the closed fire season to meet the particular fire hazard existing in each forest protective district.

The new law will be in effect after May 19. This means that the closed fire season is scheduled to end on October 20, as provided in the amended law.

The State Forester emphasized that burning is permitted during the closed fire season. The only requirements are that a person must first obtain a burning permit from the district fire warden. He will issue a permit only if burning conditions are reasonably safe and proper precautions are to be taken. Any person starting a fire in Idaho during the closed fire season without a permit is guilty of a misdemeanor.

In this area permits can be obtained at the State Forestry office in Kendrick.

LICENSE FEES UPPED FOR FISH, GAME

Boise The 37th session of the Idaho State Legislature enacted (with minor changes) the new proposed Five-point program of the Idaho Fish and Game department. This program changes the license fees of six classes of licenses and creates the addition of two new classes. The effective date of the increased fees is Wednesday, May 1, 1963.

The resident combination is upped from $5.00 to $6.00; the resident fish is upped from $3.00 to $4.00; the non-resident fish and game is upped from $75.00 to $100.00; the non-resident bird is upped from $20 to $25.00; the non-resident season fish is upped from $12.00 to $15.00, and the tourist seven-day fish is upped from $4.00 to $5.00.

April 30 is the final date on which they may be purchased for the old low price.

Two new license classes will become effective on May 1, as follows: Non-resident non-game, $5.00; Non-resident deer or bear, $25.00.

ZONING MEETING AT LELAND MAY 1

Hugh Parks, a member of the Nez Perce County Zoning Commission announces that a "Zoning Meeting" will be held on Wednesday evening, May 1st, at 8:00 o'clock in the Leland Church basement, for the purpose of acquainting area residents with the provisions of the zoning law.

Members of the Zoning Committee will be present to answer questions on building permits, wiring permits, etc.

CHRISTMAS TREE GROWERS TO MEET

The Latah Christmas Tree Growers Group will meet in the Deary Mercantile Hall on Friday, April 26, at 8:00 p. m., according to Lornie Miller of Harvard, chairman.

All woodland owners and operators are invited to attend. The program will include a discussion on "When Christmas Tree Growing Is Good Woodland Management," by Vernon Burlison, Extension Forester, University of Idaho, and a demonstration on the preparation of a Christmas Tree Trade Fair booth plus cultural practices by Frank Schoeffler, State Woodland Forester, Troy.

SOIL LOSSES HEAVY THIS YEAR, SAYS MOSCOW S. C. S.

Moscow — Soil losses on Latah county farm land began on February 2, 3 and 4 of this year, when conditions were set up that brought one of the worst erosion seasons in a number of years. On that week-end rain fell for two days on about 8 inches of snow over frozen ground — and the run-off was swift and of large volume.

Measurements of rill and gully erosion and appraisals of land damage this spring by SCS personnel in the Latah Soil Conservation district indicate soil losses occurred in a more wide-spread pattern in the county than is usually the case.

In general, the eastern two-thirds of the county fared better, due to more snow cover during the cold weather, and the snow lasted longer under the hard rain of Feb. 3rd.

In a general comparison of 1963 with the other years it is estimated that over-all, in the county soil losses are 50 percent greater than in 1962. Several things mark the pattern this spring: Sheet erosion was very high as evidenced by extensive silt wash-outs below the hills, often covering up large areas of winter grain. Fall-plowed fields suffered numerous rills and slides (this is very unusual) here. A much larger acreage than usual shows soil losses of 20 to 30 tons per acre, which brings the county-wide total very high. A few critical sites took extensively high losses of 100 to 150 tons per acre.

This represents about an inch of top soil per acre.

Draws and natural drainways that were unprotected are badly cut and some new sod waterways were damaged by the rushing waters. Much of this new gullying in field draws can be repaired by farmers this spring with ordinary farm machinery and by seeding sod-forming grasses. Cost sharing is offered farmers for this practice under the ACP program.

Aside from the aggravating conditions of shallow frost, and rain on wet snow, some practices did prove effective in minimizing soil losses. Grass waterways, contour trips, the early seeding of winter grain, and minimum tillage, among other things did help to hold topsoil.
