LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ON THE SEWER —

The sewer is a must of course, but people are like sheep, can be led, but not pushed.

There is always more than one way to skin a cat. It seems that there has been but one suggested.

There is the lagoon system, also several types of mechanical systems. With the lagoon, it would not entail nearly as much expense as operating and maintaining a mechanical type.

If our councilmen would set the whole situation before the people, in place of the Engineers and Health Department, it seems to me there would be a better understanding among the townspeople.

Questions: Has a disposal engineer been contacted for an estimate on this job, which would pass state qualifications?

Are we more contaminative than the 80-some towns which have no disposal plant? — Kendrick Resident

Editor's Comment:

We've wondered how long it would be before local residents would begin to express their opinions — and welcome this letter. It is hoped that every local taxpayer-resident will express his or her opinion. Let's hear from you!

ATOMIC POWER STATION BEING CONSTRUCTED

Construction of the world's first high temperature atomic power station is passing the half-way mark at Peach Bottom, Pennsylvania, and the plant will be completed and ready for operation next year, it was reported today by Kinsey M. Robinson, chief executive officer of the Washington Water Power company upon his return from a meeting of the project's sponsors in Denver.

Mr. Robinson is a vice president of High Temperature Reactor Development Associates, Inc., a non-profit organization made up of the Washington Water Power company and 52 other investor-owned electric power companies of the United States. The 53 companies are supporting the development construction of the 40,000-kilowatt Peach Bottom plant as a joint undertaking to accelerate the technology and economics of nuclear power generation.

Mr. Robinson said the Peach Bottom plant, when completed next year will be the first nuclear power station in the world capable of producing commercial electrical power at high-efficiency steam conditions of 1000-degrees (F) temperature and pressure of 1450 pounds per square inch, thereby enabling it to take advantage of today's modern high pressure, high temperature steam-generator equipment.

"The Peach Bottom plant is of great interest to us because it represents the first industrial application of a new and advanced concept in nuclear power generation," Robinson said. "The high temperature, high efficiency steam conditions and long fuel life may point the way to a short-cut to the goal of truly economic nuclear power, competitive in cost with power produced from the burning of fossil fuels which eventually we will have to use here in the Pacific Northwest if we are to fully utilize the potential of our electric power resources."

About half way down the steepness of the slope forced him into a trot. "Look at Jed," said one of his cronies who was lounging nearby. "Too lazy to hold back."

A BLAZE IN THE BRUSH CAN CAUSE A FLOOD!

A million-dollar flood can be the offspring of a carelessly caused brush fire—one that gets its start when a careless motorist flips a match.

Perhaps not a board foot of lumber is lost. But something else infinitely valuable is destroyed — watershed — brush, leaves, natural mulch that acts like a giant sponge to hold rain water and return it to underground storage.

Slopes burned bare cannot hold rain water. The runoff becomes a flood, spreading destruction and polluting reservoirs. Rich soil is washed away, leaving barren wasteland. Streams dry up.

So don't measure a fire's cost just in terms of timber burned. Watershed, too, is invaluable. And don't forget: nine out of ten forest fires are man-caused. Wherever you go in the country, follow Smokey Bear's rules: break matches — crush smokes — be SURE all fires are out!

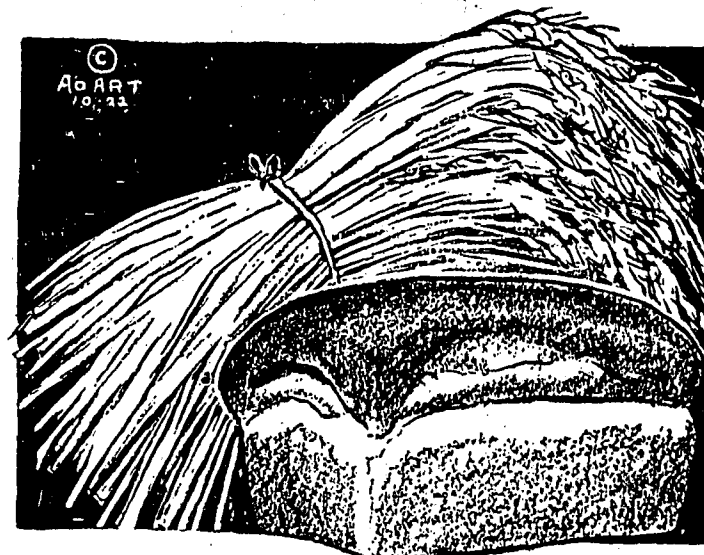

Remember- only YOU can prevent forest fires!

WHAT I CAN DO FOR MY COUNTRY

(By Sharon Fey Harris)

Following is the essay which won for its author second place in the Idaho State V. F. W. and Auxiliary contest last month.

Every student owes his country allegiance and patriotism. We are fortunate to be citizens of the United States because it is the greatest nation in the world. Ours is a nation where people are free to pursue their interests under the protection of the four great freedoms: Freedom of speech, Freedom of press, Freedom of religion, and freedom from fear. We have the right to vote -- to choose our leaders. Ours is a land of opportunity where one can choose his way of life. It owes us nothing; we owe it everything.

Our country has already bestowed on each of us blessings of liberty, equality, and justice. We are protected by the Constitution which grants us inalienable rights. We are blessed with the title "United States Citizen", for which millions would pay almost any price. We are protected by the laws that govern this great land and are entitled to the use of the courts.

If we want to strengthen our nation, each one of us must realize that we have many obligations to fulfill. We have obligations to ourselves, to our school, to our community, and to god, which, if we at least try to fulfill, will help our country.

We can not even hope to help our country if we do not, first of all, develop our own potential values. A well-rounded education is a must. School develops citizenship. As we will soon be taking our places in society, we must now prepare to be good citizens. A good citizen is one who is willing to help others. We are starting right now by participating in school activities, by obeying school state, and federal laws, and by always being willing to help someone when he needs it. We can help our country by being leaders instead of followers. Students learn co-operation which will help in later life whether in the management of a business, in pursuing a profession, or holding down a job. They have also learned loyalty at school by being loyal to their friends, their classes, and their school.

We know we must keep in good physical condition. Participation is very important. By taking part in extra-curricular activities at school, students get the exercise that they might not get otherwise. There are many arguments pro and con about today's youth being soft. Some say we are overfed, we spend too much time watching television, or we seldom walk further than from the house to the car. Our high standard of living permits us to afford modern conveniences to make life easier. It is up to the individual to remedy this situation. Physical fitness is mandatory to good health which is one of a person's most valuable assets. Therefore, each student should be determined to keep physically fit. We must also learn sportsmanship; nobody likes a poor sport. He will never be a good citizen for our country is symbolic of fair play.

By attending school we are learning to make the most of opportunity. No one can help his country if he has the lackadaisical attitude of "What difference does it make." We have to realize what there is to live for and then enjoy it. Thus, we are learning to vary our interests and to like everyone. We should learn to be cheerful. It costs nothing and sometimes brings joy to others. Being friendly and courteous helps promote better student relations and pays big dividends. To know that he has done his best to make someone happy, brings satisfaction to anyone. People who do these things help their country by creating harmony.

We have an obligation to our family and community. Being young should not hinder teenagers from taking an active part in family and community activities. Each should be willing to help whenever he is needed. Perhaps we are too young to vote or hold office, but we can still do many things to strengthen our country. By upholding our own standards, we may impress some younger person.

Teenagers should be responsible persons. Some who are not care about no one or anything. They spend their time doing that which is wasteful or destructive, such as "dragging", smoking or just plain loafing. Some feel they can not be part of the crowd unless they smoke or drink. They are caught in a vicious circle of conformity. If each one would work toward individuality and strive harder to be better citizens, it would make our environment more pleasing. Teen-agers can drive safely for their country. Helping to prevent accidents is a big job -- a job for responsible persons only!

We have an obligation to our community to keep it beautiful. Throwing pop bottles, cigarettes, and other rubbish accomplishes only one thing -- destruction. Such litter not only ruins the scenery, but it is hazardous. We can also help our country by practicing conservation. We can encourage others to be careful with cigarettes. One cigarette carelessly thrown can burn thousands of feet of timber. Unless each of us is willing to do his best, our resources will soon diminish.

I believe that to have a strong faith is especially vital to the welfare of our country. Faith in our leaders, our laws, our heritage, ourselves, and above all, faith in God will bring about the complete harmony that is necessary for peaceful lives. Each of us knows what he wants. Each of us knows what he is capable of doing. If each person will only ask himself, "What can I do for my country?", seek the answer, and then put into practice his resolution, our country will be a better place in which to live.

4-H'ERS LIKE DAIRY FOOD ITEMS

Chicago — On a hot summer day there's nothing like a smooth, truly frosty ice cream dessert to top off a meal, or a cold milk drink for a quick refresher. Ice cream and milk are favorites of young 4-H cooks because they are inexpensive and easy to get. But it has taken millions of dollars and years of research, plus American business and scientific ingenuity to produce that scoop of ice cream or that malted milk.

And it takes 4-H Club members to tell their friends and neighbors of the nutritional value of dairy foods for use in appetizing meals and refreshing snacks.

The national 4-H Dairy Foods program, which was primarily a demonstration project, now includes more exploration into "why" dairy foods are essential to growth and health, and "how" the rich content of vitamin A, protein, calcium and other elements can best be utilized.

Said a 4-H spokesman: "In the rapid pace of today's eat-and-run living, we must not lose sight of the vital importance of dairy foods in our daily meals."

ACT: starts a fire . . . burns a forest . . . destroys both timber and wild-life . . . renders useless both game habitats and cherished recreational areas. When a forest burns, everyone loses. Green Idaho forests represent employment to thousands of Idaho homes. — Keep Idaho Green.

PFI, besides making contributions to Timber Protective Associations that supervise fire prevention and control, has invested in modern, mechanized equipment — radio communications and extensive training of personnel in fire fighting techniques. Planned preparedness by Idaho Tree Farmers and the display of CARE by the public has resulted in a reduction of fire losses. You are welcome to use our timberlands for recreational purposes, unless the area has been closed due to high fire potential. Your continued cooperation will keep losses at a minimum and will make Idaho Forests the best-protected timberland in the world.

PFI maintains a short wave radio network covering 7,000 square miles of operating area. Lives have been saved through this means of quick communication in the woods. Its transmitters in logging camps, in trains and at landings are ready to help fishermen, campers and other visitors to our Tree Farms in times of real emergency.

The national development committee on health has evaluated the material and selected the Idaho and Pennsylvania publications for distribution to other states as samples and suggestions," said Warren.

Fern S. Kelley, assistant director of 4-H and youth development, Washington, D. C., wrote of the committee meeting in a letter to Warren.

"The group suggested I secure and send to each state a copy of your Idaho Washington-Oregon Health materials. They felt these (PNV and Pennsylvania) were two really good examples of progress with printed materials in the health field and should be so recognized.

Some states have already adopted the series, said Warren. Copies have been sent for their adaptation and printing.

Some 2,000 Idaho 4-H club members are enrolled in the health project. "The new series provides a personal learn-by-doing activity for the youngsters to participate in," Warren said. "It makes their class room work meaningful and more likely to be adopted as health practices."

PARK PATER

BY MRS. JERRY SMITH

NIECE IN HOSPITAL - Mrs. Anna Weber and children of Lenore visited in the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith, Wednesday. During their visit one of Mrs. Weber's daughters, Helen, 11, became quite ill. The family returned to Kendrick, where a call to the doctor verified her mother's suspicions of appendicitis. An emergency appendectomy was performed at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lewiston that evening, and at last report, Helen was resting comfortably. Diane and Mike Weber stayed at the Smith home for a visit.

"AFTER THE HORSE WAS STOLEN" - A slight case of closing the door after the horse was stolen was performed Wednesday when limemen and crew from the Clearwater Power Co. moved the power pole at the "Four Corners!" It was then possible to widen the roads at the corner and provide a better view of the road. Just over a week before, J. D. Baumgartner and Charles Enger had a collision at the corner with considerable damage to both vehicles. The reason for the accident was listed as "poor visibility."

SPOKANE VISITORS - Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Olson and family of Spokane were over-night visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gudmundsen, July 5th. Three of their five children, Sandra, Niki and Lonnie are in Park for an extended visit with their grandparents.

OTHER ITEMS - Judy Mael returned to Deary Friday evening to join a fishing party with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mael and children of Spokane, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mael. After the fishing trip the Spokane family will return to their home. Judy has been spending two weeks visiting her aunt, Mrs. Hazel Enger and family in Park.

Visitors in the Smith home, in connection with this year's crop of hay have been Charles Jelleberg and J. D. Baumgartner of Park, and James Hart of Bovill. Mrs. Baumgartner and children joined the group for Sunday dinner.

Mrs. Wayne Yenni visited with Mrs. D. V. Kuykendall, Tuesday. It was the Cavendish W. S. C. S. meeting date - but everyone else was too busy to attend, it seemed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hines of Libby, Mont., spent last week-end with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hines and family. They took Annette and Allen Hines home with them for a two-week vacation, after which time their parents will be on vacation and will bring them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Gildow and daughter Elizabeth, who were visiting at the George Finke home, accompanied the Finke's on a trip to Missoula, Mont., last Tuesday, and to Dixie on Thursday. They returned to their home on Whidby Island, Wash., Saturday.

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS:

Well, here we are right at the start of harvest. Have you checked your supplies of diesel fuel, gasolines, motor oils, lubricants and greases to be sure you're ready. Why not do it today, and give us a call at 4251 — we'll be there in a flash with your needs — Union Products, of course.

Have you seen Union's new Minuteman Tire? If not, come in today. You'll like it!

"I wish the boys wouldn't call me Big Bill."
Pal: "Why not?"
"Well, as you know, college nicknames usually stick, and I'm studying to be a doctor!"

Want the very best from your harvest equipment — full power, economy, long life? If so, call us for Union Oil Co. Products. We deliver!

Student: "I don't think I deserved a zero."
Teacher: "I don't either, but when I marked the papers I was in a generous mood!"

Going vacationing? Fishing? If so, bring your car or pickup in for a complete servicing before you take off — you'll like our service and our products — Union!
