CLASS OF '33 HOLDS REUNION HERE

Sunday, July 21, eleven members of the Kendrick High School Class of '33, with their families, met with Burnis B. Brigham, at that time superintendent of schools, and his wife, at the Kendrick Fire Hall. They enjoyed a delicious buffet dinner prepared and served by Mrs. Lloyd Craig and daughter Jeanie.

Karl Emery of Spokane, was the Master of Ceremonies. Each member was asked what he or she had done since their graduation from Kendrick High School in 1933.

Letters were read from those who were unable to attend. Seven of the class were not present.

The class truly regretted the loss of one of their members, Dorothy (Candler) Chilberg.

Awards were given to Hazel (Reid) Dyer, of Tacoma, who came the greatest distance; Jack Bailey of Condon, Oregon, for being the youngest grandfather, and John Jones of Moscow received an award entitled "Silver Tip."

Later in the afternoon there was a tour of the new school. The class decided that taxpayers should have a vote of thanks for furnishing such a nice, modern school building and gymnasium for the youth of today.

The group had so much fun that they decided to meet again in five years — with Jack Bailey as the new M-C, and Mrs. Rowena (Ramey) Koopp as secretary.

All thanked Mrs. Koopp for her time and effort in bringing the group together again for such a successful and enjoyable reunion.

Members attending the '33 Class reunion were: Nettie Mae McDowell McIntyre of White Salmon, Wash.; Hazel Reid Dyer of Tacoma; Ellen Woody Ebsen and two daughters of Anacostis, Wash.; June Davis Storer, husband and son of Craigmont; Emma Jones Hammond, husband and two daughters and Karl Emery and wife, all of Spokane; John Jones Bailey and wife of Condon, Ore.; Mary Johnson Bartlett and husband of Lewiston; Homer Emmett, wife and two daughters, and Rowena Ramey Koopp and husband, all of Kendrick.

Two members who graduated a year ahead of their class were also present. They were: Lois Fry Johnson, and husband of Lenore; and Alie Foster Rowlands and husband of Greenacres, Wash.

These groups trucked in and rode motorcycles or scooters into the lakes. Burt Souders, Jr., Max Clemehagen and Bob Hutcheson fished Sunday near Boehls Cabin.

FRANK D. CROCKER, KENDRICK PIONEER, DIES AT AGE 92

Frank Delos Crocker, 92, a pioneer resident of Kendrick, passed away at the Gritman Memorial Hospital in Moscow on Thursday morning, July 25th. He had suffered a stroke at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eula Miller, with whom he had made his home for two years, on July 2.

Mr. Crocker was born at Centerville, Penn., on December 5, 1870; the first born of seven children to Laverne and John Selby Crocker. Three brothers and two sisters preceded him in death.

At the age of 12 he moved with his family to Harrisonville, Missouri, where he grew to young manhood, and served an apprenticeship in carriage making. He came west to Kendrick, Idaho, in May of 1892, where he went to work repairing buggies and carriages for John Benjamin, then owner of the Kendrick Blacksmith Shop. He later opened his own blacksmith shop, from which he retired in 1945, and opened a gun shop at his home in Kendrick. He operated this shop until 1961.

Mr. Crocker was married at Kendrick to Jessie C. Lukens, in September of 1892. To this union three children were born — the youngest, Charles Selby, passed away in May of 1927, at the age of 20 years. Mrs. Crocker passed away on November 3, 1961, soon after the couple observed their 63rd wedding anniversary.

Mr. Crocker is survived by two children, Lester D. Crocker and Mrs. Eula W. Miller, both of Kendrick; three grandsons, Dan E. Crocker of San Francisco, Calif., David F. Crocker of Moscow and W. Dee Miller of Lewiston, and seven great-grandchildren. One brother, Charles Earl Crocker of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, also survives.

Mr. Crocker was a master craftsman in steel, as well as being known throughout this entire area as an outstanding gunsmith. He was one of the few men who understood the forge tempering of various steels, and many a hunter here wears a belt axe or hunting knife, or both, forged by Mr. Crocker — and money can't buy them — they are truly masterpieces.

He was probably better known, however, as a gunsmith. During the period from 1945 to 1961 he worked over many a military rifle into a superb sporting arm — changing bolts, safeties, magazines, etc., as well as making and fitting them with sporting stocks. He also re-blued, re-stocked and completely re-modeled sporting rifles and shotguns until they suited their owner. He never allowed anyone to apply "pressure" to get a certain weapon out by a certain time — for he believed in true craftsmanship rather than in quantity of production.

His hand-checked stocks, engraving and fitting matched the workmanship of anyone, anywhere. Truly, the sportsmen of this section will miss him — as will his many friends.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, July 27, at 2:00 o'clock in the Kendrick Community Church with the Rev. David Braun, pastor, officiating. Mrs. Jack Lohman and Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. H. C. Schupfer, who also played background music.

Burialbearers were old-time friends of Mr. Crocker: E. A. Deobald, Fred Gladen, Marvin Long, Howard Hoffman, Herman Schupfer and Nora Callison. Interment was in the Kendrick Cemetery.

Relatives from out of town attending the funeral services were: Arlos Crocker of Milwaukie, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crocker, Mrs. Ed. Carey, Charles Lukens, Donald Lukens, Mrs. Elsie Lukens and Charles Grady of Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oud of Orofino; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lukens, Gerald Lukens and Arthur Lukens of Spokane, and Kenneth Lukens of Portland.

Total enrollment in the classes was 132, with the groups divided as follows: Beginners, 54; Advanced Beginners, 20; Intermediates, 27; Swimmers, 22; Advanced Swimmers, 2; Junior Lifesaving, 6; Senior Lifesaving, 1.

Adult lessons are continuing in the evenings at 8:00 o'clock, through this week. Currently there are six adults enrolled in this class.

Miss Dee Magnuson, Water Safety Instructor was assisted in the teaching of the classes by Paloma Peters, Jane Westendahl, Janet Westendahl, Kathy Farrington, Pat Johnson, Dana Magnuson and Carol Heimgartner. These helpers were greatly appreciated.
