P. F. I. FACES SUITS BY GOVERNMENT ON GROUND FOR DAM

Lewiston — Potlatch Forests, Inc. Lewiston, last week was served with the legal documents by which the U. S. Corps of Engineers has condemned more than 1000 acres of P. F. I. land near Ahsahka.

According to Potlatch sources, these lands, and property already purchased from others, will be used for the construction of the Dworshak Dam and its surrounding support activities, such as storage, roads, This initial condemnation involves approximately 10 percent of quired for the Dworshak project, P. F. I. officers point out, the remaining 9,000 acres being within the reservoir area which will be inundated by the waters behind the dam. Benton R. "We are confronted with substantially added costs which results in a greatly lessened value of our remaining properties due to this project," he said, "yet neither we nor the Corps has had time to determine the amount nor the actual extent of these damages. The initial lands, however, are required immediately by the Corps in order to meet its Pointing out that the matter of lessened property value is extremely important to Potlatch stockholders, employees and local business which depends on those employees, Cancell added: "The company, the community and the local and state governments are very much involved and should be concerned in this matter. We cannot take any chances of foregoing our rights to be compensated for the losses we will sustain by the project."

"We have no alternative," he said, "but to preserve our eventual rights by being taken to court. The projected schedule does not allow us time to make the necessary studies. regarding the over-all value recompense we will require if we are to keep our Clearwater operations in-
