DR. INGLE AUTHORS NEW BOOK

U. of I., Moscow — Dr. Dwight J. Ingle, University of Idaho graduate from Kendrick, and now chairman of the department of physiology at the University of Chicago, is the author of a new book, "A Dozen Doctors."

The book, published by the University of Chicago Press, contains autobiographic sketches of some of the world's most outstanding physicians, including five Nobel prize winners. The selections made by Ingle cover men who spent their lives at the bedside, as well as those who served in laboratories. Among the doctors sketched are Sir Henry Dale, acknowledged dean of experimental medicine in Great Britain, and Dr. George Whipple, who studied tropical diseases in the Canal Zone, and later discovered and refined the potent liver extract treatment for anemia.

Ingle recently published his own autobiography in which he told of his student years at the University of Idaho.

PROCLAMATION

American Education Week is scheduled to be observed throughout the state and nation during the week of Nov. 10-16, 1963. I am most pleased to note that the Idaho Education Association in cooperation with the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers, the American Legion, and the Kendrick Education Association is inviting our community along with others to make this observance a highly significant one on behalf of our children, their schools, and our country.

The fact that enlightened citizens are successfully maintaining our American democratic government and simultaneously are keeping up with new knowledge and the demands of rapidly changing times is reflected in this year's theme: "Education Strengthens the Nation."

Now, therefore, I, Charles Deobald, Mayor of Kendrick, Idaho, do hereby proclaim the week of Nov. 10-16, 1963, as American Education Week, and do urge all our citizens to join with our teachers and school officials in appropriate American Education Week ceremonies.

CHARLES DEOBALD,
Mayor.

In cooperation with the above, an Open House will be held in the Juliaetta Elementary School on Thursday, November 14th.

A. S. C. COMMITTEE MEMBERS ARE CHOSEN

Moscow — The 1964 A. S. C. Community Committeemen elected by mail vote for Latah County by the A. S. C. were announced Friday. The county committee — Clarence Jensen, chairman, with members Roy Glenn and Clarence Johnson, and with the help of office employees, counted the votes in an open meeting on November 8th.

Those receiving the highest number of votes were elected chairman, vice chairman, regular member, first alternate and second alternate, respectively. The eight chairmen so elected will meet in a county convention on November 18th (at the Latah county courthouse to elect a county committee).

In addition to selecting the county committee, the community committeemen assist the county committee in administering the government farm programs, setting acreage, allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, feed grain, wheat stabilization, soil bank, wool program, agricultural conservation and farm storage facility loans.

Results of the voting in four of the communities are as follows: (The first five of the names listed for each community are: Chairman, vice chairman, regular member, first alternate and second alternate, respectively):

Troy — Stanley Hillard, 81; Melvin Procnier, 76; Alden Hoidal, 74; Alvin Bohman, 67; Edwin Condell, 53; Harold Horn, 40; Douglas Kelley, 32; Jerry Stubbs, 30; Vernon Granlund, 29.

Deary — Oscar Olson, 64; Letcher Stewart, 59; Glen Stevens, 55; Arnold Zimmerman, 55; Orval Schumaker, 50; Archie Johnson, 49; Sam Anderson, 47.

Kendrick — Wayne Davis, 79; Walter Benscoter, 79; Harley Perryman, 78; Robert Chlberg, 49; Oscar Slind, 41; Jim Carlton, 39; Robert Smith, 30; Herman Hinrichs, 25.

A small number of write-in candidates received a few votes, and several tie votes were settled, by lot, after contacting the candidates involved.

PLAY REAL SUCCESS

The senior class play, "The Mouse That Roared," was very well attended, both during the matinee, and at the evening performance. It was a long play, lasting two hours and fifteen minutes, but audience enjoyment was evident by the stillness with which people sat.

The play was a most ambitious one for high school students, but the aplomb with which it was carried out showed real coaching on the part of Mrs. Geo. Merrick and her assistants, and real work on the part of those participating. All are to be highly congratulated.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

L. S. Thurber, a surgery patient in the St. Joseph's Hospital, is reported doing as well as could be expected on Tuesday. It was hoped to bring him home last week-end, but further treatment and observation was needed. It is hoped to bring him home this week-end.

VANDALS SLASH TOP OF CAR

According to reports, vandalism is beginning to make its appearance in Kendrick. Latest victim was Rick Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rogers, Kendrick.

Wednesday evening while his convertible car was parked across the street from the family home in the west part of town — somebody used a knife to slash the top, a gash about 18 inches long being cut on the left side.

Damage to the vehicle is estimated at between $50 and $55.

NATIONAL FOREST TIMBER BEING CUT AT RECORD RATE

Missoula — Last year the volume of timber harvested in the 16 National Forests of the Northern Region reached a record all-time high. But the volume of timber cutting in the first quarter of this fiscal year indicates new production records are in the making.

"If the trend of the first quarter continues these National Forests — in eastern Washington, northern Idaho and Montana — may yield a new record timber harvest," Boyd L. Rasmussen, regional forester, pointed out.

Rasmussen explained that in the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1963, a total of 1,295,266,280 board feet were cut in the U. S. Forest Service northern region. This all-time record harvest was more than double the timber harvest of 1953. Timber cut in the first three months of the current fiscal year was well above the volume cut at this same time last year.

"Timber cut and sold in the Northern Region is rapidly approaching the annual, sustained yield allowable cut," Rasmussen said. As of June 30, 1963, the regional forester reported, "the volume of standing timber under contract, but uncut, was 3,203,400,000 board feet. This is more than twice the region's annual allowable saw timber cut of 1,415,500,000 board feet."

WEATHER STAYS CHILL AND DAMP

After almost 40 hours of steady rain — not a downpour, but just a real rain — the weather cleared Saturday night, and a part of Sunday was really a beautiful day.

Quite a number of the local residents took advantage of the break to go hunting, and a few tried fishing, but found the rivers far too muddy following the rain.

Night temperatures have been just above the frost mark, and during mid-day climbed to a high of from 45 to 50 degrees.

Farmers are smiling over the fine supply of moisture — and now hope that a few warm days will follow to give fall grains "just a little more of a boost."

Loggers, of course, were quite well immobilized during the rainy period, but by late Monday afternoon a few trucks were seen in operation.

TOWN ALL BUT DESERTED MONDAY

With all of the local stores, the post office, bank, and several other places of business closed, Kendrick was indeed a "dead town" Monday — Veteran's Day.

The Mead & Howard Lumber Co. mill was in operation, as were Brocke and Sons, Inc., so there was some life stirring — but on the whole, it was mighty quiet, there being no observance of the day locally.

herit the Earth" a series of articles by Mrs. Effie Faw, pioneer resident of Potlatch Ridge, will begin running in the Idaho Farmer, with the first article making its appearance in the Nov. 21st issue.

The articles will cover the period 1880 to 1920 — or 40 years. Mrs. Faw is now 85 years old.

Excerpts, from the story (by permission) follow:

My father, George W. Walker, and Ella Black were married and lived on a farm near Lake Port, Calif. Five of us children were born there; Clara, the oldest, then two baby girls that died in infancy, myself and Charley. Three more — Louise, Ernest and Bell — were born in Idaho.

"In the fall of 1882, when I was three and a half years old, my folks moved to Big Potlatch Ridge in the mountainous and timbered eastern part of what is now Latah County in northern Idaho. In those days that wild area was part of Nez Perce County, the county seat of which is Lewiston. Latah County wasn't organized until 1888. Its county seat, Moscow, about 25 miles northwest of our homestead, is the home of the University of Idaho, now a fine institution with an enrollment of over 5,000.

"Clara, then about 12, and I, and Charley, along with Ma and all our belongings were loaded into a covered wagon drawn by four horses. Pa had heard about the Big Potlatch Ridge having fine soil. We drove up through Oregon. Portland's population then was only about 20,000. Pa could have homesteaded land on what some of Portland now stands.

"Pa had almost the pick of the homesteads on Big Potlatch Ridge, only four or six settlers ahead of us, and they were miles apart. There wasn't a school house, church, town or post office — nothing but scattered timber and beautiful rolling grassland. Pa built a log cabin with two little rooms and got enough boards some way to make a loft over part of the cabin, where we kids slept on ticks filled with bunchgrass. We had a fireplace for heat and a little sheet iron cook stove. Pa also put up a small log stable.

and accurate location of the old Walker homestead and other items about which Mrs. Faw writes.

CATTLE LICE BIG PROBLEM NOW

U. of I., Moscow — "Cattle lice are our number one external parasite problem on cattle in Idaho," reports Roland Portman, University of Idaho extension entomologist. "And now is the best time to control them.

When winter approaches and lower temperatures occur the animal's body surface temperature also increases. This creates a perfect environment for lice, and they multiply rapidly, points out Portman.

Four species of lice are found in Idaho: One is a biting type that feeds on the skin, and three that suck blood from the animal.

"I have seen animals that have literally dropped over dead from anemia because so much blood had been sucked from their bodies by lice," Portman reports.

Some animals are carriers of lice and are responsible for re-infesting the herd. Because it is quite possible that every herd has one or more such carriers, Portman recommends that all animals be treated by spraying or dipping. In this way you are sure of getting complete coverage of the animals. Recommended materials are the systemics Cor-Ral and Ruelene. They will control the cattle grubs as well.

To be sure of getting complete coverage if the spraying method is used, apply the spray with a power sprayer at 250 to 400 pounds pressure. Use about one gallon of spray material per mature animal.

"Do it right. One good fall treatment will do the job for all year," he emphasized.

Engine trouble, and not a service station in sight

It was such a tiny speck on the ocean that our tanker almost missed it!

Far out in the Sulu Sea, beyond the direct ship lanes, the little Ermedita ran into trouble: a shattered crankshaft. The captain and some of the crewmen left in small boats for help—but help never came.

Seven days had gone by. There was no radio, just a white flag fluttering from the mast. Not a ship had passed. Supplies were running low. And hope, too.

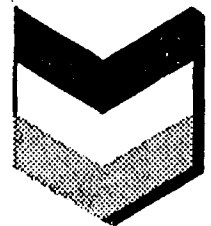

Aboard our tanker, outbound to Sumatra, a lookout thought he saw a flash of white on the far horizon. The captain altered his course to investigate.

They found seven shocked, tired men, took them aboard, gave them medical care, and towed their stricken vessel to the Philippines, saving their means of livelihood.

It's only one of many times our tanker men have made friends for our Company by giving aid at sea.

On land, Standard men and women seek to make equally good friends for our Company—by the character of our public services, the integrity of our products, and our behavior as a citizen.

BURLISON CHOSEN ON FORESTRY WORK

U. of I. Moscow — Long, hard hours of work and a willingness to learn about forestry has paid off for Frank Burlison, Latah County 4-H Club member. Frank is one of two 4-H'ers chosen to represent the region of ten western states for outstanding 4-H Forestry work at the 42nd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, December 2nd to 6th. He is a senior at the Moscow High school and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Burlison.

Much of his project work in Forestry has been accomplished on a 160-acre timber stand leased by the Burlison family.

After having completed four years of standard 4-H Forestry projects, Frank completed five years of special and advanced forestry work. He was recently awarded membership in the Western Pine Tree Farm Association. His knowledge of forestry has been broadened considerably by the many aspects of his advanced work. This included learning and practicing the techniques of thinning, timber cruising, Christmas tree culture, reforestation, growth count, woodland products marketing, recreational management, wildlife survey, and long-term planned harvesting.

SCHOOLS AND FAITH

For a century and a half American schools have served and strengthened the commonwealth. They have provided a citizenry as enlightened as any on earth. They justified and vindicated democracy's promise. If society clearly defines the new duties it wishes our schools to fulfill and if it steadfastly supports them not only with money, but also with faith, they will surely justify that faith in the future as they have in the past.

CIVIL RIGHTS & LEGAL WRONGS

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL OF 1963

A package of legislation called "The Civil Rights Act of 1963" now is pending in the United States Congress.

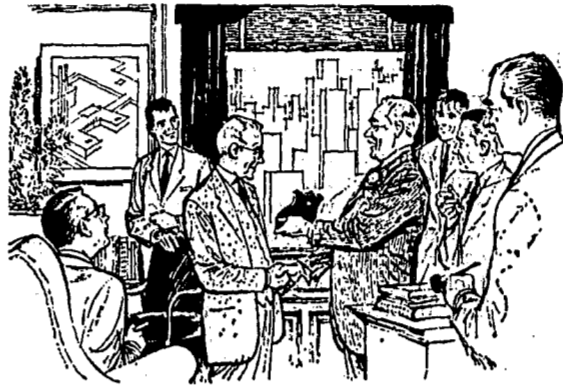

The title is a misnomer. This bill is but ten per cent civil rights. The rest—90 per cent—is an extension of Federal executive power created at the expense of individuals, States, and municipalities. The bill is, in fact, the blueprint for a controlled system of life; it would establish new principles of law of drastic and far-reaching implications.

Consider the bill's principal provisions: Under the cloak of "Civil Rights"—if this bill becomes law—the Federal government henceforth will dictate to whom you may sell or rent your home.

If you are the proprietor of an establishment that offers goods and services for use or hire—not just public accommodations (hotels, restaurants and such) but any kind of business that offers anything to the public—then, under this bill, your business would be subject to Federal Control.

In like manner, the bill covers all "contractors and subcontractors" in every program or activity where direct or indirect financial aid is rendered by the government. It will apply to you: If you borrow money from or deposit money in a government-insured bank; if you have an FHA, VA or Small Business Administration loan; if you are a realtor or developer; if you are a farmer who has financial dealings with the Farm Credit Administration, the Commodity Credit Corporation, or the Soil Conservation Service, or if you have Federal Crop Insurance, or deal with the REA or participate in any agricultural program involving Federal funds.

EMPLOYERS & EMPLOYEES

Under this Act, all employers who participate in any of these programs controlled by a Federal FEPC whom they shall hire, fire, promote and demote, and how they shall handle their employees.

Under this Act, Federal inspectors would be empowered to rule that racial or religious imbalance exists in a business. Thereafter, that business could not employ or promote the people it might prefer but only such "racial" or "religious" individuals as the Federal inspector designated. His ruling could require that "racial" or "religious" balance be obtained and apply to all job classifications: to common laborers, to skilled laborers, to the secretarial staff, to supervisory employees, and to vice presidents, all alike. A Federal agency would be prosecutor, judge, jury and executioner.

ENFORCEMENT

Enforcement of the Federal inspector's findings would be simple; failure to comply would mean the end of all participation in Federal programs. Your loan could be called; you could be blacklisted for further loans from banks or financial institutions insured by the government; and you could be prevented from taking part in any activity that had to do with Federal financing. In certain inductive situations, an employer could be jailed without the protection of a jury trial.

And that is only part of it.

VOTERS

Nor is that all. The bill boldly seeks for the Justice Department unprecedented powers to gain Federal control of the electoral machinery.

In 1961, the United States Commission on Civil Rights recommended—contrary to express provisions in the Constitution—that the Federal government impose new control over the qualification and registration of voters. "The Civil Rights Act of 1963" would implement these recommendations.

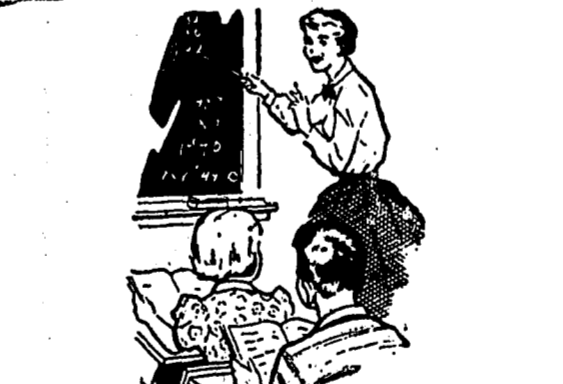

It follows, then, if this Act were made law, a politically-minded Attorney General could go into an area where the voting might be close and swing the election. See how it would work: The language of the bill allows the Attorney General, at his own discretion, to file a "discrimination" suit and, without proof of his allegations, register tens-of-thousands of voters. The ballots, then, could be cast and counted and the election won, even though the Attorney General's action, later, were determined by the Courts to have been invalid.

PROFESSIONAL AND SMALL BUSINESS

"The Civil Rights Act of 1963" would also bring under Federal control individuals and businesses never before thought to be constitutionally subject to such regulations. Under the bill's Title II, any person who pays a business license to a State or municipality could be included.

Thus, the Act brings under Federal supervision almost every profession and every business—lawyers, realtors, small establishments, doctors, restaurants, gasoline stations, theaters, hotels, motels and lodging houses. The smallest "soda fountain" would be covered.

SCHOOLS

The bill goes even farther. If this Act should become law, between 100 and 200 statutes now in effect would be amended. Everyone who has dealings with Federal educational programs, for instance, would be subject to new requirements. Under the provisions of the Act, the United States Commissioner of Education could influence the transfer of children from one school to another—back and forth—until racial balance and religious balance existed. ("The correction of 'racial imbalance' is of such importance to the sponsors that the phrase appears eight times in a single brief section of the bill.)

Under the authority proposed in connection with Federal financing, school lunch programs, research programs, the building of schools, Hill-Burton hospitals—all such programs and organizations would be subject to new Federal controls.

UNIONS

The bill goes on: In giving the Federal government new control over the hiring, firing, promoting, demoting and payment of employees, the Act also would give Federal Commissioners new powers to destroy not only the seniority system of unions, but also an employee's rights within the company for which he works. This is so because the Act gives full and unlimited power to Federal inspectors to determine who shall be hired, promoted, demoted or fired, whenever a charge is made that racial and/or religious imbalance ("discrimination") exists.

EVERYONE

A careful reading of this Civil Rights Act of 1963, we believe, will convince the impartial citizen that the administration is here proposing, under an emotional and racist appeal to "civil rights," to destroy agencies, liberties of the individual and to cast off constitutional restraints upon Federal power. The bill would intimately and immediately affect every parent of school-age children, every businessman, every professional man, every home-owner, and every wage earner in the United States.

Many of the provisions of the Act, in our view, violate the Constitution of the United States. They are also contrary to existing decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States. But, no one can foretell what the Supreme Court would hold, if Congress were to make "a legislative finding" in the areas mentioned—that is, if "The Civil Rights Act of 1963" were passed by Congress.

THE SO CALLED "SOFTENING AMENDMENTS" PROPOSED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL KENNEDY DO NOT ACTUALLY CHANGE THE EFFECTS OF THE BILL.

WRITE CONGRESS

If you do not want such controls to apply to you, if you do not want your personal liberties snatched from you in the areas covered by the bill, if you want to preserve liberty under the law, then write to your Senators (both of them) and to your Congressman, today. Ask them, earnestly, to vote against this legislation. Tell them the truth, that 90 per cent of "The Civil Rights Act of 1963" is not Civil Rights at all, but Federal control. Do this and you will stop this grab for power. Fail to do it, and the legal foundation will be laid for the most revolutionary change in our country's history. You have "Civil rights" too. Put them to use in a fight against this bill!

DO YOU READ?
 Boise — It is imperative that individuals read, whether it is for information, to stimulate our minds, or just because we enjoy reading.
 Books, papers, magazines, are not merely masses of woodpulp with letters, figures and illustrations on them; they are forceful, living things, potentially capable of informing and stimulating our minds and thoughts.
 Reading is practically the sole means of our citizenry's communicating with great minds of the past, and of communicating with the best minds of our day.
 Books are the principal instruments in education. In fact, the most important room in any school is the library. Here are found the truths of the past, and the hopes of the future.
 No person can keep abreast of the passage of time, with its advances in technology, social responsibilities, economics and political development and have any just conception of the possibilities of life and its greatness, who has not read some of the best papers, literature, magazines, books and poetry available to everyone.

GOLDEN RULE

BY ALMA BETTS

Hunters Abusing Land Owners
 It's the wonder of wonders, with so-called hunters behind every brush pile and tree, that we haven't heard of one or more of them getting killed, as well as the herd of elk. Hunters (so called) are getting more numerous every year, and bring less and less respect for personal property. In one case — the first day — fences were cut, gates left open, cattle got out and were frightened by the "bombarding." The owners spent all the next day rounding up the cattle and repairing damage. As a consequence, this property will be posted next year — to the regret of the owners as well as the real sportsmen.

The 10 Commandments of Safety

- 1 Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of safety.
- 2 Guns carried into camp or home or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded and faken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.
- 3 Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have an ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.
- 4 Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
- 5 Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.
- 6 Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.
- 7 Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.
- 8 Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.
- 9 Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.
- 10 Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

Reprinted from a leaflet supplied free in quantities to anyone interested in advancing the cause of hunting and shooting safety. Send requests to SPORTSMEN'S SERVICE BUREAU, 250 East 43rd Street, New York 17, N. Y.
