VANDALS CREATE HAVOC AT POOL IN KENDRICK

Acts of vandalism have caused a great deal of unnecessary expense at the Area Living War Memorial Swim Pool at Kendrick — but whether the acts were planned and related is not known at this time.

Last week apparently carefully chosen rocks (as to size) were dropped down the 4-inch ventilator pipe that protrudes through the roof of the dressing room and office building, which quite effectively plugged the sewer to all solid object from the dressing room toilets.

Then, to complete the work of vandalism, shorts, socks, and similar items were flushed down the toilet from the men's dressing room, very solidly plugging the sewer.

Saturday of last week, when the vandalism was discovered, an effort was made to remove the obstructions through a hole broken in the sewer line outside the pool's walls, and at the same time from inside the building with the toilets removed. Apparently, with the use of an auger and sewer rats, the clothing was gotten out, but the rocks themselves refused to budge. However, in order to permit completion of the swimming lessons then underway, the toilets were removed, the floor holes plugged, and use made of the new public rest rooms just across the street.

The location of the rocks will force the breaking up of the outside walk, and possibly even the dressing room floors, complete tearing out of the sewer lines and their replacement with new ones. However, until this work can be accomplished, the pool will operate as usual, with use being made of the public rest rooms just across the street.

These acts of vandalism are the first in Kendrick for over a year — and it is hoped that anyone having any knowledge of the perpetrators will speak up.

Nine brothers and sisters of the Weber family, their children and grandchildren gathered for a potluck dinner and reunion in the Kendrick park last Sunday.

Ninety-eight were present to honor Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weber, and family of Austin, Minnesota, and Mrs. May Adler of Spokane. Other brothers and sisters present included Mr. and Mrs. Chris Weber and families, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Snyder and families of Lewiston; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Weber and families, Loyal Weber, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dillman, all of Juliaetta; Mrs. Elsie Warren and families of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brown and families of Kendrick.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hunter and family of Lenore. Mrs. Hunter is a sister-in-law.

standard of good food. Since the larger students normally eat more, the raise should be at this level. Also, this past school year, our expenses for our school lunch program was greater than receipts, and as this program is kept on a self-supporting basis, the raise in the price of meals was a necessity.

This past year the cost per meal was 25c throughout the District, and in the final analysis the cost per meal ran 31.37 cents. The adult lunch was also raised — to 35c. This was previously 30c.

With costs kept in mind it is hoped to maintain the present quality and quantity of food.

BOBETTE SMITH BECOMES BRIDE OF MONTE LOHMAN IN BEAUTIFUL CHURCH CEREMONY

On Friday evening, July 17, at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Bobette Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Smith of Kendrick, and Monte Lohman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lohman of Southwick, were united in marriage at the Assembly of God Church. Rev. H. L. Deweber of Pomeroy officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar flanked by lighted tapers in candelabra with a background of fern and baskets of white hydrangeas and lilies.

The radiant bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over slipper satin. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and short train. Her finger-tip veil was attached to a white satin rose. Her bouquet was of white carnations and camellias.

Miss Andrea Sue Cox was maid of honor, and Elaine Weyen served as bridesmaid. Both are classmates of the bride. Their street-length identical dresses were of green brocade. They wore veiled hats to match. Cindy Lohman, a niece of the groom, was flower girl, and Mike Smith, a brother of the bride, was ring bearer. Margie Smith, a sister of the bride and Leslie Gold, a friend served as candle lighters.

Fred Lohman served his brother as best man. Ushers were Edward Reid, Tom Rowden and Jody Fey. Mrs. Harold Olderness played the wedding music and accompanied Lynda Swan as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The reception for some 150 friends and relatives was held in the overflow room at the church following the ceremony. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped by wedding bells. The bride and groom cut the first piece of cake, after which it was cut and served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Joyce Workland. Her two grandmothers, Mrs. Georgia Geiselbrecht and Mrs. Carl Smith, poured the coffee and punch, respectively.

Paloma Peters was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Jack Sherman, Mrs. Ed Reid and Mrs. Raymond Swanson opened and displayed the wedding gifts. Mrs. Wayne Davis, Mrs. Andrew Cox and Mrs. Dick Benscoter were in charge of the reception.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY OUT

A new telephone directory for The Potlatch Telephone Co., which serves this area, linking Juliaetta, Kendrick, Southwick, etc., left the Gazette office Friday afternoon and is now in the process of being distributed.

Contrary to most telephone directories, where such names as Jones, Johnson, Brown, etc., lead the listings, the local one is led by the name "Helmgartner," with 12. They are followed by nine Lohmans and seven Sillfows.

Just inside the cover is a full blank page for writing your own most frequently called numbers, and on the opposite page a space for listing your own fire and police numbers, together with a listing of all area fire and police numbers, and their location.

It is felt that this directory is one of the most complete, yet simplest ever published by the company.

NOW AT HOME

Mrs. Albert Westendahl, who underwent major surgery some two weeks ago at Moscow, is recovering nicely and has returned home.

SWIM LESSONS END AT MEMORIAL POOL SATURDAY, JULY 25

Swimming lessons were concluded at the Area Living War Memorial Swimming Pool last Saturday, July 25, with a demonstration by each class of the various skills learned. Each participant received a certificate which stated that he or she had completed the three-week American Red Cross lessons session and those swimmers who had been promoted to the next higher level of the lessons program also had this indicated on their certificates. Red Cross certificates will be issued as soon as they are received from the Latah county office.

The lessons program was altered somewhat this year. Swimming classes were divided into nine grades — and swimmers could progress at their own speed through the various grades. The first day of lessons was devoted to testing the students and placing them in their proper categories, according to ability.

The biggest change was made in the Beginner's classes. Beginners were divided into four different grades, and as soon as the child mastered the swimming techniques of his grade he progressed to the next one. Each child received, last Saturday, a sheet explaining the total program, and outlining the skills that are learned at each level.

Teachers were trained in the two weeks preceding the swim lessons. Those who participated in this training and will receive their Water Safety Aide Certificates were: Pat Johnson, Kathi Farrington and Louise Hoffman. Janet Westendahl and Jane Westendahl were teachers who had previously earned their Water Safety Aide badges, and Carol Heimgartner also assisted with the lessons program. These teachers worked hard and spent invaluable hours working with the lessons program, and their time and effort is much appreciated.

During the Saturday morning program, Jr. Lifesavers trained during the lessons assisted the teachers in keeping the big crowd of student swimmers together and safe, while they were waiting their turn to perform. Fifteen students obtained lifesaving training this year.

Following is the number of students who were taught in the various grades this year:

Grade 1, First Beginners	25
Grade 2, Water Skimmers	18
Grade 3, Polliwogs	27
Grade 4, Dolphins	27
Grade 5, Advanced Beginners	20
Grade 6 & 7, Intermediates	32
Grade 8 & 9, Swimmers	16
Jr. Lifesaving	14
Advanced Swimmers	1
Water Safety Aide	5

The total number completing the entire session was 186. Students came from communities in the surrounding area, including Deary, Troy, Culesac, Myrtle, Southwick, Juliaetta, Arrow and Genesee. Some, who were visiting relatives in Kendrick were from as far away as Ephrata, Seattle, Eugene and Portland. The biggest portion were, of course, from Kendrick and Juliaetta.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY SAT.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Cuddy of Lincoln, Montana, were honored with a pot-luck dinner and family get-together to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary, Saturday evening, July 25, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lettie Israel, Kendrick.

A beautiful wedding cake in the shape of two bells, decorated in silver and topped with a "25" was baked and decorated by Mrs. Rollin Armitage of Southwick, a sister of Mr. Cuddy, and this centered the refreshment table.

A "money tree" and many lovely gifts and cards were received by the couple.

The honored guests had three of their four children present — Mrs. Alan Eborall of Coeur d'Alene; James R. Cuddy, Juliaetta, and William of Lincoln, Mont. Dick, of Seattle, Wash., telephoned his parents during the evening.

Mr. Cuddy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cuddy, Southwick, were present, making the four generations of men. Her mother, Mrs. Lettie Israel, made the four generations of women.

About 60 relatives and close friends from Clarkston, Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene, Ephrata, Juliaetta, Southwick, Gold Hill and Kendrick were present. Mrs. Cuddy's brother, Clement Israel and family of Ephrata also were here for the week-end.

WE GOOFED!

Yes, we goofed! In last week's issue we named the local candidates whose names appear on the Primary Election Ballot for next Tuesday, August 4 — and we completely overlooked the name of Mrs. Ervin Mabbott (Millie Mabbott) of Juliaetta, who is a candidate for Democratic Precinct Committeewoman there. Gosh, is our face red!

TAGGING FISH FOR FUTURE RECORDS

This is an example of fish tagging operations which occur each year in various parts of the state to check survival, movement and growth rate. These workers at American Falls hatchery are shown tagging rainbow trout for release in the Snake river in that area. Kneeling on the left is Howard W. Whiteside, American Falls hatchery assistant, and three unidentified temporary helpers from Idaho State University. Marked fish are used to determine survival and angling success as part of department research around the state.

DEBTORS' PRISON REALITY FOR MANY

(From Wall Street Journal) Debt, once a cause for shame and even imprisonment, has grown so fashionable that it keeps piling up faster than income year after year. How dangerous that circumstance may be is a matter of considerable dispute. It's worth noting, first of all, that a good many Americans still retain a Puritan ethic about debt even in these easy-living days. As Mr. Malabre recorded in a recent report in this newspaper, only half of U. S. families have any installment debt at all. Unfortunately, that refreshing fact also means that the debt load for many other families is far higher than the average for all. According to one estimate, a quarter of the nation's 80 million families have at least a third of their income committed to servicing their debts.

That such heavy indebtedness is unhealthy for individual or family seems to us beyond question. It's all very well to talk about the safeguard of extended repayment terms for both installment buying and mortgages; the fact remains that illness, loss of job or other misfortune would play havoc with finances in that condition. Those super-easy terms, moreover, are themselves an open invitation for people to get in over their heads.

The broader question, of course lies in the economic implications of the huge amount of private debt; it stood at $378 billion last year compared with, for example, 55 billions in 1945. The prevailing view still seems to be that existing debt is not out of line with the size of the economy. Anyway, ours has long since become a debt economy; to a large extent borrowing has fueled the unprecedented postwar prosperity.

More and more economists and other experts, however, are voicing varying degrees of concern. While it is generally thought that the size of the debt alone would not set off a recession, it could quickly deepen a recession's impact. For one reason, with incomes declining, people heavily in debt would have to sharply curtail their buying.

A related worry from the standpoint of the economy is about the deteriorating quality of debt. The generation shows up notably in the use of mortgage loans for non-housing purposes like buying a car or taking a trip to Europe. Not only that; some economists fear excessive funds are pouring into real estate, bringing forth building projects completely unwarranted by demand.

In Credit-extending generally there would appear to be a willingness to accept an undue amount of risk, stemming from an overly plentiful supply of funds available for borrowing. An insurance company official quoted in the Malabre article admits that "we're making loans we would not have even looked at a couple of years ago." All these considerations lead one economic consultant to the belief that the "credit bubble" will burst in a year or so and that the ensuing economic collapse may be worse than 1929.

Although we ourselves won't join in that prediction, we would say that private debt approaching $400 billion on top of a public debt well over $300 billion—the treasury has just been on one of its frequent pilgrimages to Congress to get yet another increase in the debt limit—does not add up to a debt structure which is as safe and sound as it might be. That is so, we think, even when all the financial changes, including some improvements, since 1929 have been duly acknowledged.

Now it is fairly useless to exhort people en masse to greater prudence in their financial affairs; the device to save a man from his own folly has yet to be invented. But it is plain that the various kinds of lending institutions have a responsibility to exercise more caution in the loans they grant.

Even then, though, the major responsibility must rest with the Federal Government, because it alone can generate the enormous flow of money which makes possible all this debt. And generating it with a vengeance is what the authorities have been doing particularly with the easy money policy of the past three years or more. If such lack of restraint, year after year, does not spell eventual trouble, it will surprise a lot of people familiar with financial history.

Granted it is always difficult, maybe impossible, to say how much debt is too much. That is no excuse for being oblivious to the warning signs and blithely continuing to build a debt structure that can become a prison for the economy.

PLASMAJETS HERE

Plasma, the stuff of the sun and all other bright stars, has been created by machine at Columbia University. These "pieces of the sun," or plasmajets, created by a special generator, burn freely in the open air, creating temperatures above 20,000 degrees Fahrenheit. They are believed potentially the world's brightest sustained light source and may eventually provide the means for powering interplanetary space vehicles.

COMBINES NEED FINE ADJUSTMENT

Careful operation of the combine is more important than usual this year, Homer Futter, Latah county agent, said today, because of changes in wheat standards.

Under the new regulations, defects in grain play a larger role. No more than five percent total defects is permitted without a discount. Classified under total defects are damage from excess heat, sprouting, disease, insects, foreign material, and shrunken and cracked kernels.

Cylinder speed that is too high is a common cause of cracked kernels. Damage is also caused if cylinder clearance is too close.

Here are suggestions to reduce the amount of cracked grain:
Set the clearance and cylinder speed as recommended in the operator's manual. Adjust for a particular type of grain. There are differences between some varieties.

Observe grain in the tank. If cracked kernels appear, reduce the cylinder speed.

Watch for grain left in the heads. If there is too much, decrease the cylinder concave clearance before you try increasing cylinder speed.

Inspect the sieve. If it is shut too close, a lot of grain will go into the tailings and cracked grain may result when it is rethreshed. It may help to open the sieve slightly and increase fan speed.

CONVICTS HELP

Convicts in Sing Sing prison may help save the lives of babies whose mothers suffer from an "Rh" condition in which blood cells are destroyed by antibodies. A test group, all with Rh negative blood, were inoculated with special antibodies against the Rh factor. None in this group produced the antibodies that destroy Rh positive blood cells. It is hoped the injections can be used to keep Rh negative mothers from developing the dangerous antibodies during pregnancy. Fathers of all-girl families have one consolation. According to the Department of Agriculture it costs only $8.80 per week to feed girls of 13 to 15 but $9.70 for boys of the same age. As they grow older, boys gobble $11.40 worth of groceries while girls' consumption remains steady at the same $8.80.

Send me a new trumpet
Address: Anchorage, Alaska

Robert Atwood, Alaska newspaperman and amateur musician, had just put his trumpet to his lips when the earthquake hit. Running outside, he found himself on the ground, arm and trumpet buried shoulder-deep in rubble. To extricate his arm, he had to surrender the trumpet.

One trumpet: a small loss. Perhaps.

The earthquake damage was confined, fortunately, to limited areas. Alaskans are fighting back. Engineering tests are being made to locate safe sites for rebuilding. Materials and equipment are pouring in. Despite a short building season, Alaskans plan to have rebuilding well along by Christmas. Ambitious — but very Alaskan!

Alaskans are going about their jobs. In damaged areas, merchants are supplying their customers.

Schools, hotels and public services are functioning. Alaska's splendid visitor attractions and accommodations are open and inviting.

Standard, too, lost heavily, but our service did not stop. Within hours of the earthquake, our products were supplying heat and energy to distressed communities. Today, even as we rebuild, they supply energy for Alaska's reconstruction. We've served Alaska almost 80 years. We intend to go forward.

Bob Atwood's impatience to have a new trumpet is symbolic of all Alaskans' determination to recover life's amenities. They came north-by-west to build that life in their Big Land. They mean to get on with it.

Their courage and optimism make all Americans walk ten feet tall.

LYLE GOTTSCHALK Declared Democratic Candidate COUNTY COMMISSIONER

First District, Latah County, asks: Mr. & Mrs. VOTER are you concerned about any of the following issues: * Re-districting of Idaho * Our increasing Taxation problems * Lack of educational and vocational training opportunities for the Youth of our State. * The increasing problems of our Senior Citizens, including housing, medical care and increased cost of general living expenses * The continuing cost, price squeeze on the farmer. * The low income of certain labor groups plus the varying problems of unemployment. * The increasing problems of the small business man. * The very low per-capita income of Idaho. * The continuous merging of the larger corporations. * The continuous increase of profits and interests rates. * The protection of our natural resources. * The Extremists.

If successful in my bid for County Commissioner, I pledge continued study of the many problems affecting Latah County and as County Commissioner will support and help implement any issue that affects the citizens of Latah County in any way, whether it be at the County, State or National level. To those of you who may say that a County Commissioner should only be concerned of local issues, I would like to say that our economy is so complex that any impending legislation at any level can and probably will affect the welfare of the citizens of Latah County. How else can we have good representative Government at all levels, but through practical, well informed local government and leadership? If you, as a citizen and voter of Latah County are concerned about the economic position of your business and the social well being of your family, I most respectfully solicit your support as County Commissioner of the First District on the Democratic Ticket.

MOTH SPRAYING IS RECOMMENDED

Tussock moth invades evergreens in Latah County, reports Homer Futter, Latah County Agent. Favorite food for these brightly colored caterpillars are spruce and fir trees. Confusion over the name occurs as many people look for a winged moth when the present stage is a caterpillar about one inch long with two bright colored tufts of hair about one quarter inch long on the head and a longer tuft at the tail's end. The tussock moth can injure fir and spruce trees by cutting the needles. Previous infestations of these insects have caused considerable damage to forest areas. Control with DDT is recommended using two pounds of 50 per cent wettable powder in 100 gallons of water. Spraying larger trees usually requires more extensive equipment than available to the homeowner to insure good control the trees should be thoroughly covered with the spray. Licensed, commercial spray men have high pressure equipment to do a good job on large trees.

WEATHER TAKES TORRID TURN

The weather of the past few days can easily be described as "torrid," for that it certainly has been. Friday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were quite comfortable readings in the thermometer to 90 degrees. Friday things warmed up a bit more, the "official" reading being 92 degrees. Saturday was a little more on the heat side, with a recorded 95. Sunday the thermometer climbed to 94 degrees, and a gentle breeze helped make it quite a "liveable day." It was 8 to 10 degrees below the predicted high of 102 to 105. Monday and Tuesday readings were in the mid-90's, with humidity high, and a 10 p. m. reading of 90 degrees. Wednesday light rain fell.
