JULIAETTA LUTHERAN CHURCH SCENE OF CHOATE-FOSTER WEDDING OCT. 17TH

On Saturday evening, Oct. 17, 1964, at 8:00 o'clock, Miss Judy C. Choate, daughter of Mrs. Dale Olson of Reno, Nev., and Earl Choate, Pinehurst, Idaho, and Freddy L. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster of Kendrick, were united in marriage at the Juliaetta Lutheran Church. Rev. Theo Meske officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by tall tapers in candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and lavender mums.

The bride, given in marriage by Earl Kelley of Sacramento, Calif., wore a floor-length gown of white silk and satin. It was fashioned with a brocade design down the front and a short train in back. Her finger-tip veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She carried an orchid bouquet on a white Bible.

Mrs. Eugene Foster, a sister-in-law of the groom, wore a lavender taffeta brocade waltz-length dress, fashioned identically as the bride's dress. Bridesmaid Fonda Schoeffler and Marsha Schoeffler, cousins of the bride, wore mint green and light pink silk taffeta brocade dresses. Barbara Lee Hanson served as flower girl.

Eugene Foster served his brother as best man, and the ushers, who also lighted the candles, were Bill Blewett and Burton Bowen, close friends. Mrs. Harold Olderness played the wedding music and accompanied Duane Meske who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church social room following the wedding. Lavender chrysanthemums carried out the color theme, encircling the cake, which was cut and served by Mrs. Clarence Alexander and Miss Dorothy Foster, after the young couple had cut the first piece. Mrs. Bill Brown and Mrs. Thelma Ball served punch, and Mrs. Melvin Garner poured.

Mrs. Darrell Edgar, an aunt, had charge of the Guest book. Mrs.

Doug. Harris, Lynda and Janie Fey opened and displayed the wedding gifts.

Both young people are graduates of Kendrick High School, and she has been in training at Stylette Beauty College at Lewiston. He is employed by E. L. Farrington, Logging Contractor, Juliaetta.

Following a short wedding trip to the Lochsa Lodge they are now at home on the ranch of Mrs. Fred Schoeffler, near Southwick.

Among those attending from a distance were Mrs. Ida McAllister, Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Garner, Elk City; Mrs. Dale Olson, Reno, Nev.; Earl R. Kelley, Sacramento, Calif.

Rehearsal Dinner

A rehearsal dinner was given for the bridal party by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Fred Schoeffler, at the Country Kitchen on Friday evening preceding the wedding.

LIONS HEAR U. OF I. BASKETBALL COACH

Wednesday evening of last week there was an excellent turnout of Kendrick Community Lions Club members for their regular meeting.

Following a delicious dinner served by the School Foods Service members the group heard Jim Goddard, basketball coach at the University of Idaho talk on that team and its winning probabilities for the coming season.

Mr. Goddard brought with him and showed for the group a reel of pictures of members of the team and their opening scrimmage game. He explained various plays and showed them being executed on the floor.

After Mr. Goddard's talk there was a questions and answer period.

At a director's meeting following the regular session the Club voted funds to have Tom Cox, secretary, represent them at a District Lions meeting in Walla Walla.

TIGERS LOSE TO PIRATES 26 TO 12

The Prairie Pirates (Cottonwood) pulled away from a 6-6 halftime tie to defeat the Kendrick Tigers 26-12 in a District 2 eight-man high school football game at Cottonwood Friday afternoon. It was the final game of the season for both schools.

After a scoreless first quarter, Prairie's Tom Winter intercepted a Tiger pass at the mid-field stripe and raced 50 yards to score. Kendrick answered that with a 10-yard touchdown pass from Dean Brocke to Dale Silflow, thus making the half-time tie.

Tom Riener put the Pirates ahead in the third period with a 10-yard touchdown dash and then passed to Matty Trukosits for the extra point.

The Pirates tallied twice in the final quarter to build a big lead before the Tigers scored again. Trukosits scored both of the touchdowns, the first on a 40-yard punt return and the second on a 20-yard end run. Reiner passed to Trukosits to convert the second touchdown.

A 65-yard pass-run play from Brocke to Ken Heimgartner gave the Tigers their second touchdown.

GARY RENFROW TO RECEIVE SCOUT PIN

This coming Sunday, Nov. 8, Gary Renfrow will be awarded the "God and Country" award for Boy Scouts in the worship service of the Kendrick Community Church. Gary has worked on the award for over a year, which is a requirement. The Award acquaints the boy with the work of the church, as the Boy Scout must study church history, mission and educational institutions of the denomination, and carry out work projects assigned by the minister.

The pin which Gary will receive is a very distinctive one, which the Scout can wear with pride. Across the blue pin are the words "God and Country" and below the pin hangs a blue ribbon from which is suspended a white shield with a red cross.

Miss Kathleen Ann Enger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Enger of Park, exchanged vows Oct. 9 with Ronald John Kasper son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kasper of Route 1 (Joel), Moscow. The Rev. H. S. Babington performed the evening ceremony at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, in a setting of baskets of white gladioli and lavender chrysanthemums arranged by the groom.

Dr. Lynn Beattie, church organist, played introductory music and accompanied Stan Shepherd as he sang "I Love Thee" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of lace over satin that she designed and made herself. It was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves with a full gathered skirt and a gathered peplum-style over-skirt attached to a seed-pearl decorated band. Her elbow-length silk illusion veil was attached to a lace crown edged in seed pearls. She carried a white orchid with lily-of-the-valley, pearl loops, and ivy on a satin covered Bible. She wore a gold cross pendant, a gift from the groom.

Miss Kathy Springer of Helmer was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of lavender crystalline with a rounded neckline, cap sleeves and bell skirt. Her hat was of lavender chenille with a fabric rose and net veil. Her bouquet was a lavender orchid with white sweet peas and lavender chenille hearts.

UNUSUALLY QUIET HALLOWE'EN

Few, if any local residents can remember a more quiet Halloween than that of Saturday night. The ancient sport of "Trick or Treating" seemed to "take up the slack" for the youngsters, along with parties, the picture show, and other activities.

There was hardly a trash barrel or wood pile about town touched — the village park was left clean of litter, as were the streets, and we have not heard of a single case of vandalism.

True, some windows got a soaping, but that was a very minor item, and if they were like the Gazette windows — they needed washing anyway!

Apparently good policing, plus better than usual parental control kept Halloween in the fun bracket.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

Mrs. Milford Osburn entered the Gritman Memorial Hospital at Moscow on Monday, for observation and tests.

CARL R. LACY DIES

Mrs. E. A. Deobald received word Friday of the death of her brother-in-law, Carl R. Lacy of Beaumont, Calif. He died suddenly of a heart attack at his home. Mr. and Mrs. Lacy visited with Mr. and Mrs. Deobald here during the Locust Blossom Festival.

The Silver Beaver Awards will be presented at the highest award possible for a local Council to bestow. Names of these are withheld until time for the presentation.

The Skillern Memorial Awards will go to two Cub leaders, one Scout leader and one commissioner for outstanding service to the boys of their units.

LATAH FARMERS EARN PAYMENTS

Moscow — Willingness to reduce production and to take part in soil and water conservation practices has added 1.3 million dollars to Latah county farmers' 1964 income.

Topping the list in earned payments is the wheat diversion and stabilization program with $788,264 paid directly to 520 wheat producers who stayed within their allotment and maintained land in soil conserving uses. A. S. C. officials reported last week.

The feed grain program accounted for $79,131.00 to 172 barley producers who complied with the provisions of the program. The Conservation Reserve added $365,480.66 to 174 Latah county farmers who took all or part of their land out of grain and feed production. The wool program, which is largely self-supporting, provided $2,171.00 in March, 1964, in incentive payments to 61 wool and lamb producers for the 1963 year. This program is intended to encourage greater production of wool and lambs throughout the United States to meet the present and future needs.

Program payments are about 90 percent complete except for the Agricultural Conservation program which provides a cost share incentive to encourage soil and water conservation practices. The county allocation of $67,350, plus approximately $18,000 borrowed from 1965 funds has been allocated for use to 627 participants. Some $8,700 has been to those who have completed practices to date, and the balance will be paid in the near future as soon as performance documents are checked. The amount borrowed from a future year has, in past years, been reduced by using funds turned back to the state by counties not using their entire allocation.

These program payments total $1,320,396.00 for contributing time, effort and capital to strengthen the farm future economy.

Three hundred and three commodity loans on wheat, oats and barley have been processed for $862,013.00. Those receiving commodity loans offer warehouse receipts as collateral, pay interest until time of redemption or March 31, 1965, and a service charge for processing the loan. Commodity loans must be applied for prior to Jan. 31, 1965.

FISHY PROBLEM

Chicago — A fishy problem is troubling Florida officials. They're worried about the importation and sale of piranhas, tiny, meat-eating fish from South America that travel in schools and can devour a whole cow in a matter of minutes. The finny carnivores fascinate American fish fanciers. Floridians fear the piranhas will get loose, spawn in local swimming holes and gobble up the tourist trade. As a result of the furor the Interior Department has promised to curb sales of the fish.

GARDENERS, IT'S TIME TO DIG 'EM UP

U. of I., Moscow — The time has come to dig up canna and dahlia roots and gladioli corms and store them for winter.

When tops of cannas have been killed by frost, suggests county agent Homer Futter in passing on advice from Tony Horn, University of Idaho extension horticulturist, they should dry a few days and then be cut off. The next step is to dig the roots and dry them in the sun a few hours. Then store them in a cool, moderately dry, frost proof cellar on racks or slat boxes so air can circulate freely. Best storage temperature is 40 to 45 degrees. A potato cellar is all right.

Tops of frosted dahlias should be cut within about six inches of the ground. Lift the roots, being careful not to bruise them or break from the crown. Knock off as much soil as possible. Let the roots dry very thoroughly. Store in a cool, frost-free place at 40 to 45 degrees, as for cannas. If the storage is very dry it is a good idea to pack the clumps in boxes of peat moss, vermiculite or sand. Wrapping with newspapers helps prevent shriveling. Use dry packing material of whatever type you choose because that packing will draw moisture from the clumps at first and reduce the drying tendency as storage advances.

When frost cuts your gladioli down dig the entire plant. Dry in a cool, well ventilated place. Cut off the stems, remove the old corms and keep the new ones. Burn everything except the new corms and cornels. Store in a frost-proof cellar.

Green, blue and white colors help to make a room look cool in hot weather, according to Wilma Shryack, home furnishings specialist of the University of Idaho extension service.

ANTENNA HAS A GREAT MANY USES

Chicago — Butterflies, bats and television fans all know they are indispensable, but in this electronic age antenna fulfill a far more significant role than improving night flying or soap sales. Such projects as COM-SAT, the international satellite communications network, would have been impossible without advances in antenna technology. The radio telescope is in reality a giant antenna designed to pick up "galactic noise." Thus far the sounds received are considered to be strictly physical or chemical phenomena, but when an intelligent being from another planet finally gets a message through to us it will be most likely intercepted by this largest antenna of them all.

New arrival: seeks long-term lease

This new-born fawn and all his kind will prosper. Thanks to the Federal Wilderness Law, millions of beautiful acres will be set aside as a perpetual wilderness and home for wildlife.

Standard Oil welcomes it. Our drilling crews work in close cooperation with fish and game and wildlife officials. Our helicopter crews cooperate in forest fire patrol. Standard men have even gone out of their way to enlarge a breeding pound, or truck water to drought-stricken animals.

If oil is found, operations are planned with a minimum of disturbance. Working areas are fenced to protect the animals . . . wildlife returns, often increases.

Standard Oil men are good neighbors to the wilderness.

LATAH A. S. C. ELECTION NOV. 5

Moscow — Eight community committees of the A. S. C. S. in Latah county will be elected by mail ballots which must be returned to the A. S. C. S. office or postmarked by Nov. 5th. It is estimated 2,400 persons, anyone having an interest in a farm as an owner or tenant, including spouse, are entitled to vote. Ballots were mailed Oct. 28th to each eligible voter but in case a voter is missed because of a change of address or some similar reason, he may obtain a ballot at the A. S. C. S. office. Ballots will be counted in an open meeting in the A. S. C. S. office Monday, Nov. 9th, starting at 10 a. m. In each community three regular members, including a chairman, vice chairman and two alternates will be elected. At the county convention on Nov. 19th, the eight community delegates will elect a county committee.

Community committee nominees include: Kendrick area: Phil Bahr, Walter Benscoter, Jim Carlton, Cecil Chamberlain, Robert Chilberg, Wayne Davis, Frank Hoisington, Harley Perryman, Robert Smith and Charles Taylor.

Troy area: Alvin Bohman, William Clemm, Arthur Fidler, Walfred Frisk, Stanley Hilliard, Alden Hoidal, Raymond Johnson, Bert Nelson, Melvin Procunier and John Sandberg. In the Deary area: Homer Ailor, Alfred Bong, Alfred Desjardin, Oscar Olson, Frank Schumaker, Orval Schumacher, Glen Stevens, Letcher Stewart, Alvin Sundstrom and Arnold Zimmerman.

THOR RESEARCH CENTER FOR BETTER FARM LIVING

An easily constructed linen closet with space-saving, pull-out drawers is the answer to many home storage problems. Provisions of this practical closet include space for a roll-away clothes hamper and tank-type vacuum cleaner.

This project will provide an organized linen area in a compact, six-shelf closet with a foot of utility space at the top and two feet below.

This linen closet can be a great space saver in any home.

Plans are designed for an area 24 inches deep with a standard door of 34 inches by 80 inches high. Specifications, however, can easily be adapted, to fit other closet areas.

Sides of this closet are lined with 3/16-inch hardboard. Proper alignment can be assured by inserting a filter block of the same wood along the door stop, so when the liner is in place it will be flush with the stop. Liners are supported with 3/4-inch boards in corners and midway along the closet wall.

Maple drawer slides are placed at proper intervals and screwed through hardboard into wooden supports. Drawers are of simple construction and utilize snag-proof bottoms of 3/16-inch hardboard. It is wise to allow ample space on each side of drawers so they run smoothly. Design and handles are added by notching the center of each drawer with a portable electric jig saw, which can do all cutting.

Plans for the closet include specifications for a rollaway hamper, which makes another fine spare-time project.

ENGINEERING PROF. TURNS HISTORIAN

U. of I., Moscow — A University of Idaho engineering professor, John J. Peebles, turned writer and historian this summer as he traced the route of the Lewis and Clark expedition, noting the course and campsites along the Salmon river section of the famous journey.

The account of Prof. Peebles' research and field work on the 1805 expedition was published recently in the travel issue of "Idaho Yesterdays," the quarterly journal of the Idaho Historical Society.

A former engineer with the Idaho Department of Highways, Peebles now teaches engineering at the University of Idaho. He began his research of the over-land route of the western explorers while working for the State Highway department.

On the basis of personal knowledge of the country and a careful reading of the journals of the expedition, the author identifies the route of Lewis and Clark from Lemhi Pass to the head of the Bitter-root.

From the journals of members of the expedition, Prof. Peebles chose excerpts which tended to describe and identify the campsites and route along the Salmon. He also prepared the maps and took the pictures that illustrate the lengthy article.

A subsequent issue of the magazine will carry another portion of the historic journey. Prof. Peebles' next story is slated to cover the Lewis and Clark trip over the Lolo trail.

A graduate of the University of Idaho in 1947, Peebles obtained his master's degree in engineering from the University of Colorado in 1950.

PLUMBING SYSTEM GETS REAL LOAD

Wash., D. C. — Modern equipment and products may have done much to lighten the drudgery of the American housewife in caring for her home and family, but they have placed a heavier burden on an important part of the house — the plumbing system.

Kitchen waste disposal units and new automatic washing machines are among the new appliances which have sharply increased the load of home soil and waste plumbing systems. As a result of these new appliances the average American family is estimated to dispose of 200 gallons of soil and waste each day of the year. In addition to the increased quantity, the nature of the waste has changed.

Besides the normally corrosive properties in the drainage plumbing, new active chemicals are used daily. Strong flushing compounds, newly improved washing detergents, cosmetics and other products, all results of the advanced American technology and standard of living are now potential attackers of the home drainage system.

Accordingly, it is suggested that prospective home buyers inspect the plumbing and drainage systems before purchasing a home to determine the condition of the waste system. It can be a very important factor.
