J. EDGAR HOOVER WRITES ON MEANING OF THANKSGIVING

Wash., D. C. — Three hundred forty-three years ago a small number of grateful Pilgrims assembled in prayerful tribute to God for an abundant first harvest. That occasion marked the launching of a meaningful custom which has become one of our nation's most cherished holidays — Thanksgiving Day.

In 1621, the Pilgrim Fathers were bound by spiritual unity and love of and faith in the Supreme Being. Their special observance of thanks was a testimonial to their belief that God, in His omnipotent wisdom, looked with favor on their quest for a land where freedom's blessings flow. In this humble and devout setting, the true meaning of Thanksgiving was born.

Today, America is free and strong — a monument to the hopes and ideals of the Pilgrims. It stands as the greatest fortress of brotherhood in the history of man. Conceived under God, our country represents a people whose progress has been blessed with divine guidance and whose history is rich with evidence of His power and glory. We have emerged triumphant from devastating world wars. Our scientific achievements stagger the imagination. Our standard of living surpasses all expectations. Truly, the goodness and mercy of God has been with us.

Regrettably, too many Americans no longer care about religious ideals and heritage. To some, our country is a fantasy land filled with complimentary handouts of rights and freedom without obligations. With patent indifference, they shirk the mere suggestion of individual responsibility. Their purpose in life is lost in moral lethargy, self-indulgence, and neglect of duty.

Time and experience have proved our Constitution to be the greatest document for freedom ever drawn by man. This instrument of self-government is a reality envisioned by our Founding Fathers who were dedicated to the ideal that man is superior to the State. It embodies the fundamental principle of liberty which is dearer than life, the precept that men shall live as equals under government by law, not by men.

Law and order are pillars of democracy on which our safety and welfare rest. Without law and order our society would falter and be destroyed. Law enforcement, as the main line of resistance against all enemies of our heritage, may indeed be proud of its contributions to the growth of a nation founded on mutual trust, understanding, and faith in God. On this Thanksgiving, we should lift our hearts in humble thanks for this special privilege and pledge to uphold our noble cause to promote tolerance, to preserve the rule of law, and to protect and strengthen our God-given ideals and faith in freedom.

We Americans must never lose sight of the fact that our power, wealth and happiness come directly or indirectly from our belief in God. Let us commemorate Thanksgiving by refurbishing our religious ideals. And as we meet the forces throughout the world which seek to destroy our way of life, let us find strength in the Biblical quotation, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" — J. Edgar Hoover, F. B. I.

BETTER BUY THE BETTER BULBS

Spokane — There is more to buying light bulbs than most people realize, according to Ronald R. Kimm of the Inland Empire section of the Illuminating Engineering Society.

"Long life incandescent bulbs are not as economical and efficient as standard lamps," Kimm said, "even though many of them are purchased because of the buyer's belief that he is getting a bargain."

The I. E. S. chairman said that the general public is understandably confused by the claims of inferior lower over-all costs of certain lamps because it lacks technical knowledge of lamp design and performance.

"The purpose of a light bulb," he said, "is to produce light efficiently and economically. Therefore, light output, life and current consumed all must be considered in the design of a lamp, and carefully balanced to provide maximum benefits for the consumer."

"Because the average consumer believes he can eliminate frequent lamp replacement if he purchases long-life lamps, he makes the purchase without thinking of the overall economies involved. "A longer life span of a light bulb is sometimes achieved by raising the voltage of the bulb," Kimm said. "A 100-watt, 130 volt bulb might last twice as long as a standard 100 watt, 120 volt bulb, but it will give you 10 to 24 percent less light."

MAKING HOLIDAY CANDLES IS FUN

Moscow — Making candles was once a necessary home task. Now it has become a pleasant craft and hobby.

While holiday candlemaking is a pleasant task, it can also be disastrous. As we approach the holiday season special care must be taken when making candles for decorations advises Nancy A. Palmer, Latah county home agent.

be dangerous when handled under home conditions.

Be sure candle wax is melted in a can over a pan of hot water. The melting point of most candle wax is relatively low and could be explosive if heated directly on the source of heat.

EDUCATIONAL TV IS STEP NEARER

U. of I., Moscow — The University of Idaho was another step on its way toward having its educational television station, Channel 12, on the air, with the announcement by Kenneth A. Dick, financial vice president, that Lande & Morrow, Moscow, had entered the low bid of $9,500 for a transmitter building. Construction is expected to start shortly. Other bidders were K & E Construction, Moscow, $9,565; S. G. Morin & Son, Spokane, $10,100; Commercial Builders, Moscow, $12,479, and Seava Construction Co., Spokane, $13,406. The transmitter building, to be located on Paradise Ridge southeast of Moscow, will be of cinder block construction. The structure will require no heating equipment, because the transmitter itself will give off more than enough heat.

If good weather prevails, it is hoped that the building can be completed in about a month, and that the station will be broadcasting by about February 1 over a radius of 70 miles.

An all-weather road must be built to the site, and an antenna, costing about $24,000 and a transmitter costing about $55,000 installed. To defray costs of the new station the university recently received a grant of $96,289 from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

UPGRADING DAIRY MAY BE NECESSARY

U. of I., Moscow — Over one-half of the manufacturing milk in Idaho goes into butter and non-fat dry milk, and Idaho farmers can look forward to tighter health regulations in the out-of-state market areas that consume these milk products.

The economic adjustments made necessary at the farm level by higher sanitation standards are explained in a new bulletin just released by the University of Idaho College of Agriculture. Dr. R. V. Withers, the senior author of the study, sees the rising health regulations as affecting investments in dairy facilities, dairy herd size, farm organization and a host of other factors.

The new University of Idaho bulletin was prepared to help dairy farmers faced with rising sanitation requirements answer three questions:

(1) What are my present costs and income in producing milk for powder?

(2) What would it cost to upgrade to meet minimum Grade A requirements?

(3) What are the alternatives if I choose to discontinue the dairy enterprise rather than upgrade?

All county agents will have copies of this new bulletin on hand or it can be obtained by writing to the Mailing Room, University of Idaho, Moscow. Ask for Bulletin No. 423, Upgrading Farm Dairy Facilities for Manufacturing Milk.

LEARN TO HANDLE GUNS CORRECTLY

Boise — Actual target practice is the final phase of gun safety training given recently to about 100 students from schools at Kellogg, Smelterville and Linehurst in north Idaho. Local people cooperated in this project.

The Fish and Game Department, Idaho State Police, Idaho Wildlife Federation, Rifle and Pistol Club, the Idaho Outdoor Association and interested individuals all furnished time and guidance to promote safe gun handling.

ALL HER OWN

"Oh, daddy, thank you!" the teenage girl bubbled. "My own phone! I feel so grown up!"

The father smiled: "Here" he said, handing his daughter an envelope, "this should make you feel even more grown up. Your very own bill."
