Named To Planning Board

Latah County commissioners Monday appointed a 12-Member County Planning Commission. Latah county voters approved a proposition last November which gave the commissioners authority to zone the county and as the first step in this direction the commission was appointed.

Included in the group are E. W Mabbott, Juliaetta, and William L Rogers, Kendrick; Russell L. Foster of Deary; Osborne M. Slette, Bovill, and Ralph Port and William Winkle, Troy.

The planners will study the zoning issue and make recommendations to the commissioners on specific ordinances.

Once again, for the sake of those who do not know and those who choose to ignore the extent of our responsibilities, I should like to state briefly what the FBI is, what it is not, and what it can and cannot do.

The FBI is an investigative agency. It investigates violations of certain Federal statutes. The facts it gathers are presented without recommendation or opinion to the Attorney General, his assistanst, or the United States Attorneys who determine if the evidence warrants prosecution. The FBI also performs an intelligence function, particularly in the field of security, to assist this country in preserving its internal security.

The FBI is a service agency. Its facilities are available without charge to all duly constituted law enforcement agencies. These func-tions include Uniform Crime Reporting, the Identification Division, the FBI Laboratory, and the FBI National Academy.

The FBI is not a national police force. By law, the FBI cannot go into a State, county or city and take over or assume the authority of local officals.

The FBI is not a protective agency. It has no authority to protect or guard anyone under any circumstances.

The FBI is not a clearance agency. There is no such thing as an "FBI clearance." When called upon by another government agency to investigate an individual who is being considered for a sensitive position, the FBI presents the facts and evidence it gathers to the employing agency which must decide whether or not the person is granted a security clearance.

As long as the directorship of the FBI is intrusted to me, this bureau shall never become a lackey to selfserving individuals or pressure groups of any persuasion. Furthermore, the FBI shall discharge its assigned responsibilities with the same dispatch and thoroughness which have characterized its activities in the past.

CARD OF THANKS

From PTA's to Appalachia's Children:1,000,000 Books

Children without books. Children attending schools that have hardly any books. These are the children of Appalachia, pupils in nearly a thousand tiny, frame schoolhouses set in scraggly clearings and isolated from all but the sketchiest community life as most Americans know it.

These are the children for whom American PTA's this Spring intend to provide one million books.

million books. The National Congress of Par-ents and Teachers, headed by Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, of Eu-gene, Ore., has undertaken the collection of books for Appala-chia's children at the request of the Decidertic Office of Fee the President's Office of Economic Opportunity. Because the schools of Appalachia lack bookshelves as well as books, PTA's have been sent instructions for making schoolroom bookcase-shipping boxes, each of which will carry a supply of 50 or more books in transit and then serve as shelf space in the mountain school, as well. The REA Express has ar-ranged to ship the book-filled boxes from any of its 8,000 offices in the continental U.S., at a special, flat rate of $1.95 per box. The final leg of transport from Louisville, Ky., is to be handled by the Louisville & Nashville Railway, which will bring into Appalachia the 20 railway freight cars that a mil-lion books would fill.

Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, national PTA president, picks out children's favorites for the bookcase box she's readying for shipment to Appalachia schools.

From this central collection | ing along the mountain ridge in eastern Kentucky and neighborpoint in Barbourville, Ky., books ing states. > Books "most wanted" by teachers in the area have been isted for PTA's-and for other Americans who wish to contrib-ute books for Appalachia's chil-dren through PTA's in their communities.

Selections range from Bible tories through the fairy tales of Hans Christian Andersen, from "All About Dinosaurs" to "All All About Radio and Television." They include a "Child's Garden of Verses" and "The Big Book of Cowboys," "Bambi," "Mary Poppins" and "Tom Sawyer."

"These books are the rightful heritage of every American child," Mrs. Moorhead said. "Children growing up in poverty are doubly deprived if they have-'t the passport that books provide into the world of imaginalion.

"PTA members will surely want to share the blessings of books with the children of Appaachia.

The program gets under way immediately, since the special low shipping rate via REA Ex-press will apply only from March 15 through June 15.
