WEATHER HAS ITS UPS - AND DOWNS

This region has been "blessed" with quite a variety of weather over the past week, ranging all the way from 76-degree temperature Thursday, to 44-degree on Monday morning, and with these ups and downs of temperature have been winds and clouds.

Sunday morning about 9:00 o'clock the sky began to darken, and the wind really blew - bringing with it a real old-fashioned dust storm! So thick was the dust about 10:15 that one could not see from one side of the canyon to the other. Result? A thick, gritty, gray coating on everything outdoors, and it even seeped inside homes, to the dismay of the housewife.

Said one local resident: "You couldn't walk across my lawn without getting your shoes dirty - and it was watered Saturday evening!"

A gusty breeze blew most all day Monday, gradually warming from a 44-degree reading to 60 in the afternoon.

The Potlatch river is unusually clear for this season of the year, but is about standard for flow. Bear Creek is closely following the river's pattern, but is perhaps a bit higher than usual at this season.

Loggers say woods roads are drying out rapidly, and full-scale operations will soon be underway.

CUB SCOUT PACK

The May Cub Scout Pack meeting will be held at the Kendrick Park, Monday evening, May 24, at 6:30 o'clock.

Each family is asked to bring weiners and buns for own family, plus a pot-luck dish and table service.

If the weather is story it will be held in the Fire Hall.

Like the outdoors? Picnic! Get your supplies at Blewett's Market in Kendrick.

PARK PATTTER BY MRS. JERRY SMITH

WEATHER THREATENS - Local farmers raced with the weather applying fertilizer and seeding ground over the week-end, only to have the threatened rain hold off much longer than expected. A piercingly cold wind made any work that had to be done outdoors quite miserable. The farmers' wives report a good share of the gardens are in and waiting for moisture.

The trip was set for Thursday with a picnic lunch at Spalding Park. Tickets were planned and will be printed for the quilt gift at the Deary Strawberry Festival, with a ladies hand knitted sweater as second prize, and a crocheted dolly for third. BEAN SPACING IS IMPORTANT FACTOR

U. of I., Moscow - Fertilizers, cultivation, insecticides - all help Idaho's bean farmers produce top yields. But none will do the job unless you plant the right amount of seed in the first place.

The importance of bean planting rates is emphasized by University of Idaho studies. Yield of field beans was cut 400 pounds an acre when plant spacing within rows was increased from 4 to 12 inches.

Bush-type beans are especially affected by spacing within the rows studies indicated. Plants spaced an average of two inches apart within the row produced highest yields. A 22 or 24-inch row spacing is recommended.

Semi-vining field bean varieties such as Red Mexican UI-34 are more tolerant to spacing variation. Plant populations of 70,000 to 80,000 plants per acre produced the best. This requires an average plant spacing of 3 to 4 inches within rows. If rows are spaced 90 to 96 inches plants should have 2 1/2-inch spacing within rows. Yields from the semi-vining field beans were comparable either way. A weed problem was noted with thinner stands. Bean plants at spacings of 6 inches held weeds well in check. At spacings wider than 6 inches the plants were unable to choke out weeds within the rows.

MISSILE CREWMAN

RELEASE CATFISH

Some 3,000 catfish of the channel and flathead species already have been released in the Snake River below the C. J. Strike Reservoir, and others are being live-trapped at the Brownlee Reservoir for release as far east as Magic Valley.

Here Evan Parrish, Eagle hatchery fish culturist, holds a channel catfish estimated to weigh about five pounds.

These species of catfish are excellent eating.

A PARADOX OF PRODUCTIVITY

The family farm is as American as apple pie — but vastly more important to our lives. The family farm has traditionally represented the economic backbone of the nation. It has under-pinned the rapid rise of industrial America and American affluence. And it is responsible for a level of food production unsurpassed and unapproached the world over.

As a result of the productive genius of the American farmer, we eat better and pay less for it than any other people in the world. For example, the food bill of an average American family represents only 19 percent of the total family income. Compared to the percentage of family income which food costs comprise in other countries, which vary from the United Kingdom's 29.5 percent to Russia with 53 percent. And in many underdeveloped countries, the cost of family food consumes practically the entire amount of personal income.

By using new machines, new technology, the American farmer continually produces more at a lower cost. This is reflected by the fact that the average price which the farmer receives for any commodity produced today is approximately 18 percent less than the corresponding price in 1948 — and production has increased 46 percent over that period of time.

Yet, contrary to expectation, the consumer has experienced a 31 percent increase in the price of food since 1948. In terms of dollars and cents, the total amount spent by consumers has jumped to $28.2 billion in the last 17 years. Of this amount, only $3.7 billion was paid to the producers. The remaining $24.5 billion went to the middlemen — the processors and marketing agencies. And with it went any possibility of lower retail food prices.

Thus the genius of American agriculture has not resulted in lower retail food prices. Yet the reasons for this hardly lie with the farmer or with any system of price supports. — U. S. Senator Len Jordan.

MORE LAND SHOULD ON PRIVATE ROLLS

Wash., D. C. — "The need to get more land into local government and private hands is self-evident to anyone familiar with the growth and development of the west." Rep. Compton I. White, Jr., said in a statement submitted at a public hearing on public land rules. The statement was made to the Department of Interior field hearing at Twin Falls on proposed regulations under the Classification and Multiple Use Act.

"It was the intent of Congress to preserve the integrity of mining laws established in 1872; assure continuation of grazing permits; and that desert lands along the Snake river and its tributaries would be open to entry by agricultural developers."

White said he "senses a deviation from the guide lines established by Congress, and the proposed regulations on multiple use suggested by the Department of Interior."

BIDS CALLED ON NEW BUILDING

U. of I., Moscow — Bids for the construction of a new Art and Architecture building at the University of Idaho were called last week by Arthur Warren, Commissioner of Public Works, Boise. The bids are to be opened at the university at 2:00 p. m. June 8th.

The 1963 session of the state legislature allotted $475,000 for the structure, which will replace the present Art and Architecture building. The old building to be razed to make way for the new one is a frame structure erected in 1910. The new building will provide four stories in the studio part, and a one-story wing. The wing will house a products library or study room, a foyer for registration with exhibit space, and the main offices of the Art and Architecture department.

The entire north wall of the studio part of the building will have a curtain of windows similar to the north wall of the library building. All major rooms will be on this side. In the basement will be areas for painting, sculpture, pottery and a shop, as well as offices for these areas and general service and storage areas.

hearing May 3 at Spalding asked the state to maintain the south side highway as an access route to the new Nez Perce National Park headquarters and visitors center on the south side of the river at Spalding. The road segment lies within the Lapwai Valley Highway District. — Lewiston Tribune.

RHEUMATIC FEVER IS DEEP MYSTERY

Boise — What causes rheumatic fever?

Scientists know it is always preceded one to four weeks by a streptococcal infection. A "strep throat" is perhaps the most familiar type, but scarlet fever and some other conditions are also strep infections.

But, says the Idaho Heart Association, scientists don't know what links the two events — just how the strep throat triggers rheumatic fever and its possible sequel, serious and permanent damage to the heart, and especially to its valves.

The mystery is compounded by the fact that no more than three percent of all persons afflicted with strep infection develop rheumatic fever, and the percentage may be even lower. Another strange side of the mystery: The streptococcus germ itself is not found at the sites within the heart where the inflammation occurs that results in lasting damage.

Many researchers of the American Heart Association and its affiliates are pursuing various avenues of inquiry in an effort to locate this "missing link." Like many other bacteria, the strep germ produces a number of chemical substances more than a dozen of which have been identified. Experiments have shown some of these substances to be extremely harmful to laboratory animals. Thus, some investigators believe that these agents may serve as poisons which inflame and damage heart tissue in certain susceptible individuals.

Some of the current effort is aimed at overcoming technical obstacles in isolating these strep products and making them available in pure form for laboratory investigation.

BOARD APPROVES NEW HIGHWAY

Lewiston — Relocation of U. S. Highway 12 between Spalding and Arrow for connection with a bridge to be built across the Clearwater river was approved last week by the Idaho Highway Board.

Donald L. Cox, district engineer at Lewiston for the State Highway Department, said the action means the state could start construction of the first phase — construction of the highway itself — late this year or early next spring provided right of way purchases were completed.

The new highway would in general follow much of the route of the present State Highway 42, a secondary route, from Spalding to Arrow. The department has planned reconstruction of that highway. But the action of the Board means that, as a primary route, the new construction can be designated for 70-mile an hour speeds, Cox said.

The second phase of the project is the construction of a bridge across the Clearwater River at Arrow. It is then that the rerouting of U. S. Highway 12 would be accomplished. With this, the section of the present U. S. Highway 12 from the new bridge to Spalding would be taken off the state highway system, Cox said.

Not settled is the question of who will maintain that section on the south side of the river. Nez Perce County Commissioners at a public

Potlatch is people

MEET GARRY RINGOLD OF LEWISTON . . . Here you see Garry repairing a sign at the Sweetwater picnic area south of Lewiston. Sweetwater is just one of eleven picnic and camp ground areas maintained by the company in northern Idaho to provide recreational facilities for the public.

GARRY JOINED PFI IN 1950 following his graduation from the University of Minnesota with a B. S. in Forestry. His first position with Potlatch was that of Forester. In 1955 he became Industrial Forester in charge of contract logging for the Potlatch mill and in charge of the forestry work in Zone 2 in the Bovill area. In 1964 Garry was named Assistant Managing Forester, his present position.

PREVIOUS TO 1950, he had been a firefighter with the Clearwater Timber Protective Association, served with the Marine Corps and had held summer jobs with Potlatch while attending college.

GARRY IS ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY AFFAIRS. He has been secretary-treasurer of the Inland Empire Section, Society of American Foresters; secretary of the Potlatch Area Boosters (local Chamber of Commerce); Co-chairman of the Inland Empire Section of American Foresters.

HE WAS CHAIRMAN OF THE NATURAL RESOURCE YOUTH CAMP COMMITTEE in 1962. This was a camp conducted for high school boys to acquaint them with problems of forestry, wildlife, range and soils management. The camp is held each year at Camp Hayburn, Hayburn State Park, Idaho. Boys are recruited from northern Idaho and eastern Washington counties. In 1962-63, Garry was treasurer of a local Cub Scout Pack.

HIS HOBBIES ARE carpentry, hunting and gardening. His wife Arlene has served as Den Mother for a Cub Scout Pack and was also a Boosterette. Both Garry and Arlene are members of Centennial Parent-Teacher Association.

GARRY RINGOLD IS PART OF A PLAN; a plan that treats timber as a crop to be grown and harvested, a plan that involves the building of roads, communications and buildings. This is a plan that is made by people, carried out by people, financed by people and done in the best interest of people . . . people like Garry and you and your neighbor.

SURE POTLATCH IS A LOT OF THINGS . . . but most of all, Potlatch is people.

Services For Anna Blum
Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in the new Cameron Church for Mrs. Anna Blum, who passed away at the Manor Nursing Home in Lewiston last Thursday morning. Burial was in the Cameron Cemetery beside her husband.

After the services the A. L. C. W. served refreshments for the family in the reception rooms at the church. The sympathy of all goes to her family.

Meyer Family Home
Mrs. Thelma Meyer, Ted and Loda arrived home Friday from Rochester, Minnesota, where Mrs. Meyer and Ted were in the hospital for some time. Mrs. Meyer received medical care and Ted underwent surgery.

All are doing wonderful and glad to be home — as we are to have them among us again.

Dedication Great Success
The Dedication Services which were held here Sunday of the new church was a great success. Rev. Siefkes led the morning service, followed by a pot-luck dinner. The afternoon service was in charge of Rev. Sherwin Schmidt of Gifford, followed by a coffee hour in the social rooms.

Friends and ministers came from Ritzville, Spokane, Endicott, Pullman, Clarkston, Seattle, Wash., Genesee, Nezperce, Gifford, Lewiston, Kamiah, Reubens, Orofino, Juliaetta, Kendrick, Leland and Cameron.

We express our thanks to all those that helped make this such a success.
