4-H GIRLS LEARN TO SEW WITH MACHINE

Chicago — Just about every 4-H girl at some time or another has tried her hand at sewing, observed Miss Mary Ann Dean, home economist for the National 4-H Service Committee. And in the process a sewing machine has been used.

"The difference between turning out a garment with ease or with difficulty," said Miss Dean, "is often the difference between knowing and not knowing how to use the sewing machine."

New manuals explaining "Your Sewing Machine" have just been published by a large sewing machine manufacturer for 4-H clothing leaders and members. For the last 12 years the company has sponsored the national 4-H Clothing Leader course on proper use of the sewing machine.

Special attention is given to the teaching of beginners from 9 to 11 years old. Mothers are urged to observe the progress made by their young daughters in the club project so that they will confidently permit them to use the precious sewing machine. More experienced 4-H members serve as junior leaders and help younger members learn the basic steps in using a sewing machine at home.

"Sewing requires far more than manual dexterity; it demands technical knowledge and discipline to progress step by step toward a goal," states the leaders' manual.

It is this knowledge and discipline, points out Miss Dean, that has enabled thousands of 4-H girls to make and model prize-winning ensembles and to help refurbish their homes with new curtains, draperies, slip covers, pillows and other decorator items.

Miss Dean, along with specialists from the Federal Extension Service and Singer collaborated on the manual.

A WINNING PAIR

4-H DAIRY SHOW

THE 4-H girl or boy who holds the ribbon or receives a trophy for a dairy animal at the fair has put in hundreds of hours caring for the animal. They usually start with a calf from the farm herd or a calf they have purchased with money earned from 4-H projects.

A visit to the 4-H division of the fair and a talk with the 4-Hers will reveal that they have not only worked hard to make the main event, but have learned a lot in the process. Preparing an animal for the show ring, they say, takes a lot of skill, time and patience.

The 4-H dairy project also is the training ground for cattle judges. Club members making the judging team travel to county and state fairs and to the large regional and national shows as well. Their achievements do not go unrecognized. This year nearly two thirds of all the counties in the U.S. are expected to name some 6,000 medal winners, says the National 4-H Service Committee. The medals, plus state and national awards will be provided for the 10th straight year by the Oliver Corporation, sponsor of the national 4-H Dairy program.

All winners are chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H work.

Saturday evening supper guests at the Wise home were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith and children. Later Mr. and Mrs. Duane Thompson joined the group for an evening of pinochle.

Area gardeners have had to stert digging potatoes this week, almost a month earlier than usual. The dry summer matured the plants early and last week's rain has started new growth on this year's potatoes!

STUDENT FINES GO TO LOAN FUNDS

U. of I., Moscow. Student traffic fines on the University of Idaho campus totaled more than $7,000 last year, and provided funds for scholarships and loans.

The majority of offenses were for parking violations. According to Charles O. Decker, dean of students, the fines ranged from $2.00, for the first violation, to $5.00 for each additional offense.

The funds provided 45 scholarships for university sophomores and juniors who received honor level grades and demonstrated a need for financial assistance, stated Decker.

The fines also provided short term, no interest, emergency loans for needy students. The loan fund contains $1,000, and turns over 8 to 10 times each year. About 200 students use this fund during the school year, stated Decker, and in the 15-year history of the fund there have been few defaults.

Traffic problems on the University of Idaho campus are not unlike those of any Idaho city, commented Decker. Students are continually advised to observe campus traffic and parking regulations, but even with these efforts the total student contribution to the scholarship and loan fund continues to increase.

FALL TRIP CAN BE MOST ENJOYABLE

Spokane — This is the time of year when motorists begin to think about heading for the hills, according to Leigh W. Elmer of the AAA. Motorists interested in this year reflect a decided interest in week-end jaunts to view the glories of the fall foliage. Trees in the Inland Empire soon will be putting on their colorful fall dress. The best time to view the flaming foliage in this area is between mid-September and mid-October, with color expected to be at its height about the first week in October.

It seems that despite scientific studies nobody knows for sure what causes the leaves to change their color in autumn. But nearly everyone agrees it is a fine excuse for an enjoyable drive.

Each variety of tree has its own distinctive color. This can be a decided advantage to expert lumbermen, who can often get a surprisingly accurate estimate of timber stands and varieties by studying color pictures taken from the air.

There are many fine drives in the area — but drive with care — for many others are looking at the beautiful colors and scenery, too.

4-H FACTS WORTH KNOWING TODAY

Boys and girls between 9 and 19 years of age can become 4-H Club members. Contact the County Extension office.

Score of different projects and activities are offered to 4-H youth which provide a "learning by doing" experience. Among the latest programs are horse, home management, photography, dog care and community beautification.

The 4-"H"s" stand for Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

Teaching new farming and canning methods to small groups of farm boys and girls back in 1906 was the forerunner of the 4-H Club program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Slightly less than 45 per cent of the total 4-H membership reside on farms. Of the remainder, 33 per cent live in rural areas and the balance in towns and cities with over 2,500 population.

About 1,600 trip awards to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago will be awarded this year to top boys and girls in the 50 states completing the best 4-H projects.

The motto of the nation's more than 2.2 million 4-H'ers is "to make the best better."

ABOUT GLACIERS

Temperature variations, long believed by some scientists to be a primary factor in the beginning of glaciers, "appear to be invalid" as a cause of the Ice Ages, declare two Columbia University geologists. New quantitative data, they say, support their belief that glaciation in the northern hemisphere it initiated by an increase in precipitation and ends through a decrease in precipitation.

BEER — A big boost to the economy!

The brewing industry each year contributes over 1.4 billion dollars in federal, state and local excise taxes. Wages and salaries in the brewing industry account for almost 500 million dollars, and the purchase of packaging materials from other industries runs over 550 million. So next time you enjoy a cool, refreshing brew after hard work or play, remember—BEER is good in more ways than one!

U. OF I. RECEIVES HISTORICAL PAPERS

U. of I., Moscow — The University of Idaho's historic newspaper collection continues to grow. A file of the Rathdrum Tribune and four volumes of the earlier Silver Blade, among the last of Idaho's hand-set newspapers, were presented to the University Library by J. R. Culp of Rathdrum.

The Silver Blade began publication as a weekly on June 1, 1895. Its front page contained these headlines: "Hunger in Armenia," "Eugene Debs Sent to Jail." London silver prices were 62 cents an ounce.

The Silver Blade was followed in 1902 by the Rathdrum Tribune. J. R. Culp was the paper's last editor. The publication was printed on a flat-bed press. The newspaper's yearly subscription rate in 1895 was $1.50; 68 years later the rate had risen to $2.50.

Charles Webbert, social sciences librarian, states: "This gift does give us a fairly complete collection of Rathdrum papers, and we will continue to look for other early Idaho publications to complete our collection." He further commented: "Papers deteriorate with age. Only careful handling and storage will protect Idaho's heritage. We are storing and photographing these documents to protect their historical value."

McDONALD GETS THIRD A-A RATING

U. of I., Moscow — Ray McDonald, fullback on the University of Idaho football team who holds all of the school's rushing and scoring records, has made another all-American team. This one is the annual selection for Playboy magazine.

Picked on Playboy's first offensive team, McDonald is featured in an accompanying article by Anson Mount, who said: "McDonald is a once-in-a-lifetime fullback. At 250 pounds he runs like a chetah. Over the breakfast table one morning this spring he told us, 'I keep trying and trying, but I just can't run the 100-yard dash in less than 10 seconds.'"

"Many pro scouts feel he is already a better fullback than Jim Brown, which is rather like being a better singer than Caruso. Now that Idaho has other offensive guns to take some of the load off Mc-Donald, the Vandals may have their best season in history."

Last fall McDonald made two second all-American teams — those of the Associated Press and Newspaper Enterprise Associates. He was also named an NCAA-all American in the discs, placing third in the NCAA championships with a toss of 177 feet 3 1/2 inches.

SELF DESTRUCTION

Waterfalls tend to destroy themselves by severe base erosion, it undermines them and causes their collapse. The undermining is a result of the great energy suddenly released at the point of impact. Niagara, for example, says the Department of Interior, will have ceased to exist 20,000 years from now!

A CAREER in ENTOMOLOGY

pest control for more abundant food and fiber

Despite widespread use of control measures, insects cause about $12 billion damage annually to U. S. livestock and crops. Moreover, the damage is done by only one percent of the 700,000 different insects known to man.

To help lessen this destruction are 4-H youngsters who are fascinated by bugs, worms and butterflies. They are busy with entomology projects set up by the Cooperative Extension Service and carried on with the assistance of local 4-H Club leaders, conservationists and other specialists in this area.

Future career opportunities are virtually limitless. Girls with butterfly nets and boys with glass jars in which to snare their catch may one day be scientists, teachers, researchers, or salesmen. Scores of different jobs are related to the entomological field.

Past performance of 4-H'ers has disclosed remarkable progress in a few short years devoted to the project. Studying insect life cycles, making displays, giving demonstrations on safe use of insecticides, and assisting local agencies in pest control are but a few examples of what the young bug hunters can do.

For their efforts, awards are offered by Hercules Incorporated, sponsor of the national 4-H Entomology program for 15 years. This year about 5,000 outstanding club members will receive the county medal of honor.

The entomology project judged best in the state will send a 4-H'er to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as guest of the sponsor. From the 50 state champions, six will be selected for national honors and a $500 scholarship.

VACATION-TIME LUNCHES

Vacation time, when the children are no longer lunching at school, poses new problems for mothers. Lunch-time seems to come around pretty fast, especially if one is not ready for it.

Actually, the feeding of the ravenous horde at home is not so difficult, if one prepares in advance. This consists mainly in having a good supply of the necessary ingredients for making a nutritious and attractive lunch with a minimum of time and labor.

Needed Supplies

It helps to have several kinds of bread — white, rye, whole wheat, raisin — and some rolls, crackers and English muffins for warming or toasting. Milk, of course, is a must for children — whole, skim, buttermilk or chocolate milk, plus cream or half-and-half for cereals. Peanut butter, of course — what would home be without peanut butter!

Cheese, of the variety the children like best. Luncheon meats, wieners and chopped meat are handy to have around. Ice cream in several flavors, plus chocolate, butterscotch and other favorite toppings. And nuts.

Summer is the season for fresh fruits, and it is also a good time for fresh vegetables.

Try Outdoors

Summer lunches are more fun out of doors, and children can help prepare them if a picnic atmosphere is created. The food can be put out on a table, preferably under cover from flies and other insects, and eaten in the yard, patio or porch. Paper plates, cups and napkins and disposable plastic eating utensils help to take the edge off the work load, and children can and should help to clear away after eating.

Vary Menus

The exact menus should be varied, and should reflect the likes and dislikes of the family. A good pattern for a summer mid-day meal is a sandwich with meat or cheese or peanut butter, the latter perhaps combined with jelly or honey, plus cool — not too cold — milk, or a milk shake. Add a raw vegetable such as a carrot or cucumbers, or sliced tomatoes, or celery stuffed with cream cheese, and top it off with ice cream or fresh fruit, and you have a balanced meal with a minimum of fuss, and everybody has fun.

Berries, Too

In berry season, cereal with berries and half-and-half or cream, make a fine basis for lunch. Children love hot dogs, hamburgers or toasted cheese sandwiches. Crisp bacon and tomato sandwiches too, are well accepted. Any fresh fruit in season may be served as it comes from the store, but care should be taken to wash all fruits except those that are peeled before eating.

In-between snacks should emphasize fruits and vegetables or dairy products in preference to candy and other sweets. Soft drinks should not crowd out the necessary milk, but they need not be banned, either.

AUTO SAFETY IS NOW A 4-H PROJECT

Chicago — Through membership in automotive programs, 4-H'ers from coast to coast contribute to the safety of the expressways, city streets and country roads. Both teenage drivers and pre-drivers are engaged in 4-H automotive projects, according to T. W. Thompson, service director of the National 4-H Service Committee.

With the help of authoritative manuals, 4-H'ers work on both the inside and outside of the vehicle. Checking mechanical defects, safety hazards and keeping the vehicle clean are some of the main jobs.

Showing young people how and why the family car or truck performs as it does, and calling on traffic officers, mechanics, safety engineers and extension specialists to advise and instruct, make this program an excellent supplement to other driver education, Thompson reports.

Successful car check and safety campaigns have been inaugurated by 4-H'ers taking the course. Many have become annual events attracting hundreds of motorists. Girls are as enthusiastic about the program as are the boys, and each year they claim their share of honors. All 4-H members have a chance to win the county, state and national recognition and awards provided by the program sponsor.

Do-it-yourself swimming pool serves as a recreation center and fire protection reservoir.

Construction of this swimming pool is being undertaken to determine the value of such a unit on the farm. In fact, the Thor Research Center is developing an all-weather pump to be used in conjunction with a pool the farmer can build himself.

A Buster Crabbe pool manufactured by the Cascade Pool Company of Edison, N. J., was selected for this project for three major reasons: (1) it's easily built by the farmer; (2) it's both functional and attractive; and (3) it's inexpensive.

Cascade delivers almost all of the materials required to build this pool, which utilizes a vinyl liner, and is explicit in instructions which permit even novice do-it-yourselfers to carry through the construction.

The pool is 16x32 feet in size and ranges from three to seven feet in depth. Its capacity is 15,000 gallons of water, and with the proper pump and hose will be able to provide the farmer with immediate protection in the event of fire. The first 2 minutes of a fire are the most destructive.

There may be additional benefits for the farmer with a pool: Possibly reduced fire insurance rates and a tax deductible expense. The Thor Research Center is investigating these areas in its constant quest for better farm living.
