Treasure Hunt
A treasure hunt was enjoyed by boys, girls and five adult drivers recently. The hunt began at the Church of the Nazarene, and clues led to places with a boundary of three miles from Kendrick and Juliaetta — in all directions.

The "treasure" was found in the yard of the church parsonage by Ernest Wing and his group. Later refreshments were served in the church basement, after all participants had returned.

MRS. ROY H. RAMEY, KENDRICK PIONEER, DIES THURS., OCT. 27

Mrs. Mae Sarah Ramey suffered a cerebral hemorrhage at the family home in Kendrick, Thursday morning, Oct. 27th at 1:15 o'clock. She was rushed to the St. Joseph's Hospital at Lewiston by the Juliaetta-Kendrick ambulance, but passed away at 10:15 a. m. the same day.

She was 73 years old last April 30th, having been born in 1893 at Livingston, Montana, a daughter of Frank and Emma Billedeaux. She grew to young womanhood in western Montana, and completed her schooling at Thompson Falls, Montana. She then taught school at Dixon, Montana for one year.

June 27th, 1912, she was united in marriage to Roy H. Ramey at Berkeley, California. Following a two-month's trip to Mr. Ramey's home in Virginia, they settled at Creston, Washington.

In 1923 the family moved to Kendrick, where Mr. Ramey was agent for the Northern Pacific Railroad Co. until his retirement on June 21st of 1961.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramey celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in 1962. Mrs. Ramey was well known and loved by all. She had lived at the family home in Kendrick for 38 years. The five previous years the Rameys made their home in the living quarters at the Kendrick railway depot. She was active in music groups, church and community affairs until she suffered her first illness in 1952.

All of their children and grandchildren, as well as many, many friends, were present for the funeral services in Lewiston Saturday afternoon.

Survivors are her husband at home; two daughters, Mrs. Walter (Rowena) Koepf; Mrs. Ernest (Jeanne) Brammer, both of Kendrick, and Roy Ramey, Jr., at Rosalia, Wash.; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Ramey was a communicant of the Kendrick Methodist Church. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Brower-Wann Memorial Chapel in Lewiston, with Rev. David Zaske of the Kendrick Community Church officiating. Music was furnished by Mrs. Jack Lohman and Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., who sang "Beyond the Sunset" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Herman Schupfer, who also played background music.

Honorary bearers were Marvin Long, Herman Schupfer, Paul A. Lind, E. A. Deobald, Richard Blewett and Robert E. Magnuson. Interment was in Normal Hill Cemetery.

EVENTS OF INTEREST AT K. H. S. PAST AND COMING WEEK

No School Veterans Day
There will be no school on Friday, Nov. 11, as all students will be dismissed for the holiday — Veterans Day.

First Quarter At End
The first quarter of school will end this Friday, with report cards being issued on Thursday, Nov. 10.

To Meet Troy Trojans
The Tigers will be meeting the Troy Trojans in the final game of the season this Friday, at 7:29 p. m., at home. The Trojans are at the top in league standing; Genesee is in second place, and Kendrick in third.

Senior Class Play
In the Friendlyville, Ohio, homes of Mr. and Mrs. Blakley (played by Bill Ball and Liz Allen), and Mr. and Mrs. Hobson (played by Gary Craig and Darlene Chiberg) trouble seems to be brewing. The two fathers gamble the college money of their two older children, Janet and Keith (played by Pat Johnson and David Wilson) in a wild investment. They lose. The Hobsons blame the Blakleys and the "cold war" is on. Despite the "war" Janet and Keith remain on friendly terms; and together they search for a way to go to college.

The answer lies in the senior play, "Money Mad," on Nov. 18, at the high school.

Tigers Defeat Deary Mustangs
The Tigers of Kendrick took the fullest advantage of five Mustang fumbles and went on to roll up a 33 to 6 half-time margin as they took a 39 to 25 District II eight-man football game Friday evening at Deary.

Tiger Ken Heimgartner opened the scoring for Kendrick with an 11-yard sprint, but Deary came right back on the first play after the kickoff to tie the score at 6-all, as Mustang Joe Zagelow passed 45 yards to Bob Kellom.

Heimgartner then put the Tigers in front 40 stay as he tallied on a 55-yard sprint later in the quarter, and Gary Craig passed to Bill Ball for the extra point. Craig raged 20 yards for another first quarter score, and Burt Kimbley ran the extra point.

Kimbley plunged two yards in the second quarter for another touchdown, and Craig passed to Gary Pea for the extra point. Craig then hit Pea with a 20-yard scoring play before the half ended.

Deary scored twice against the Tigers' reserves in the third quarter as Bob Kellom went 14 yards, and caught a 35-yard pass from Zagelow. Heimgartner scored from 20 yards out in the fourth quarter, and Kellom tallied on a 25-yard dash. Lonnie Olson kicked the extra point to complete game scoring.

TONY PIRAINO DIES AT LEWISTON
Lewiston — Anthony (Tony) Piraino, 73, 2407 7th Ave., North of Lewiston, a retired restaurant owner, died at 10:45 Tuesday night, Oct. 24th at the St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Piraino was born Dec. 9, 1892, at Perugia, Italy, and moved with his parents to Spokane at the age of six, living there until moving to Lewiston in 1924.

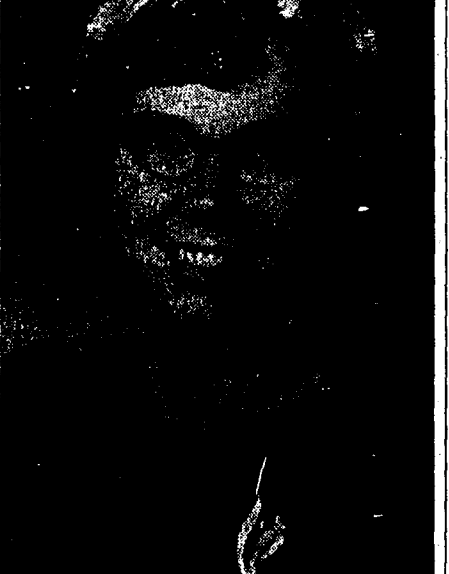

He operated the Porter ranch, at the site of the present Potlatch Forests, Inc., sawmill for three years until the mill construction forced him to move. He had lived at the same North Lewiston residence since 1927.

Piraino operated the Tijuana Restaurant in North Lewiston for two years, starting in 1934, and then opened the Rainbow Inn, which he operated until selling out in 1942. The next three years he operated a cafe in Kendrick (now Burt's), but maintained his Lewiston home. He opened Tony's Diner in 1945. He retired in 1957.

He married Concetta Cozza on March 1, 1914, and she survives at the family home. Other survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Charles (Effie) Candler and Mrs. Glenn (Mafalda) Carder, both of Lewiston, and Mrs. Leo (Joanne) Bowman of Spokane; two sons, Bernard of Rome, N. Y., and Julian of Lewiston; 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; and two sisters in Italy.

Moscow — Eight community committees of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Latah county will be elected by mail ballots for the 1967 year. Clarence A. Jensen, chairman of the county committee, announced that ballots will be mailed to all eligible voters on Nov. 21, 1966.

All committees will take office Jan. 1, 1967.

CAR OFF GRADE

Wednesday evening about 8:00 o'clock an Open Cadet owned and driven by Fred Dodge, 920 Homestead, Coeur d'Alene, went off the Wauncher Gulch grade near the Wegner turn-off when Mr. Dodge turned sharply to avoid hitting a deer. Mr. Dodge was not injured, but the car was badly damaged. It was pulled out of the ditch and brought to Kendrick by the wrecker from the Kendrick Welding & Machine Shop.

The accident was investigated by E. M. White, constable, on direction of the Lewiston sheriff's office.

SURGERY PATIENT

Ray Cuddy entered the St. Joseph's Hospital at Lewiston Sunday to undergo facial surgery. He is expected home on Tuesday or Wednesday of this week.

ELMER FRASER HIT BY GUNSHOTS ON SUNDAY MORNING

Elmer Fraser, Big Bear ridge, was treated for gunshot wounds at the Troy Clinic Sunday morning after an unidentified person or persons fired at the pickup truck he was driving at 12:20 a. m.

According to the Latah County sheriff's officers, Fraser, whose farm lies about six miles south of Deary on the Deary-Kendrick Highway (Big Bear ridge), saw a car drive onto his property about 300 yards from the house.

Occupants of the car were using a spotlight, apparently looking for deer, Fraser said.

Mr. Fraser drove his pickup to the site, but the car turned, drove past the Fraser vehicle and onto the highway.

As Mr. Fraser was driving back toward his home someone in the car fired two shots into the pickup, one going through the windshield and exploding.

Mr. Fraser was treated for numerous head and shoulder wounds and severe wounds to three of his fingers. The shooting is still under investigation by the sheriff's office, according to Ed. Pierson, deputy sheriff.

GORGEOUS FALL COLORS, WEATHER

For the past week this area has been enjoying some of the most gorgeous fall colors — and weather that anyone could desire.

There have been some "patches" of early morning fog, and then when the sun came out, no one could wish for more beautiful fall colors, with the clean leaves literally glistening and the bright red of sumac, maple and other brush contrasting sharply with the brilliant yellow of the cottonwoods, the bright green of the evergreens and the light yellow of the willows. Truly, the colors this fall are beyond compare.

The weather has matched the colors. It has been all that anyone could desire. A bit nippy in the morning and evenings — just to let you know fall is here — but otherwise it's truly "Indian Summer."

Almost every evening the sky is spotted with the smoke of burning leaves, as home-owners rake and clean their lawns, and the smell of the smoke also reminds one that fall is here.

Fishermen have been taking the fullest advantage of the sunshine to fish for steelhead — but work on the big Dworshak Dam is muddying the water below Orofino, and most are driving to points above to try their luck — and quite a few have been caught.

SEVERAL ATTEND STATE GRANGE

The Idaho State Grange Convention was held at Moscow from Monday through Friday of last week, with the Latah County Pomona Grange as host, in charge of local arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson were delegates from the Kendrick Grange. The Home Ec. officers of the Kendrick and Troy Granges, under the direction of Mrs. Roy Glenn and Mrs. Ralph Port, respectively, were in charge of a breakfast and other highlights. The Lecturers of the State Grange planned interesting entertainment for the 400 Grangers who attended the convention.

OUT OF CAST

Connie Anderson, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson, had the cast removed from the lower part of her body on Monday of last week. She had been in it for six weeks. She will now wear a corrective brace for another two months.

LIONS MEET WED.

The Kendrick Community Lions Club met Wednesday evening of last week in a brief session.

Following a delightful 6:45 chicken dinner served by the School Foods Service Ass'n, business of the evening was taken up.

There was a discussion of projects to be undertaken; a Christmas Lighting contest, and a theme for next spring's Locust Blossom Festival.

Clair Reed, president, asked all to keep these matters in mind, and be ready with suggestions at the next meeting.

CUB SCOUTS ARE BUSY GROUP

All five Cub Scout Dens are actively meeting each week, again this fall. Some 25 boys are members, with five new ones enrolled. Den Mothers are Mrs. David Steigers and Mrs. Mike Hedler, both of Juliaetta; Mrs. Burt Souders, Jr., Mrs. Herman Renfrow and Mrs. Bud Eichner.

The monthly Cub Scout pack meeting was held on Monday evening, Oct. 24 at the high school cafeteria. Den I of Juliaetta had the best parent attendance at the meeting.

The following awards were given: Douglas Christensen, Bob Cat badge; Kendall Jackson, Lion badge; Bradley Millard, Kelly Clemenhagen and Lyle Erlwine, Bear badge; Pat Souders and Myron Calkins, 2 Silver Arrows each; Kevin Renfrow, Billy Dean and Kenneth Brown, Silver Arrow each; Steve Eichner, two-year pin.

Three Den Mothers attended a training course at the Y-W. C. A. on Tuesday at Lewiston. Those going were Mrs. Renfrow, Mrs. Souders and Mrs. Eichner.

UNICEF COLLECTION MADE HALLOWE'EN

The UNICEF collection of $81.10 at Juliaetta and Kendrick was a generous one again this year. The members of the Kendrick High Chapter of F. H. A. canvassed the town of Kendrick after school, and collected $43.60 for the cause.

The Junior High M. Y. F. of the Methodist Church parish collected at Juliaetta from 5:00 to 6:30, and collected $37.50.

Following the collecting the 32 M. Y. F.'ers were given a hayride (via Gordon Peters' truck) to the Leland Methodist Church Social room. There they played games and were served hot chocolate, cider, donuts and apples by Mrs. Gordon Peters and Mrs. Irvin Draper.

The name United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund is really not appropriate. Take the word "Emergency," for example. Children of Asia, Africa and Latin America have been living in a perpetual emergency, or more appropriate, a dire need.

An interesting example is shown in the fact that thousands of mid-wifery kits from UNICEF have gone to UNICEF trained mid-wives to help save the lives of mothers and babies. UNICEF global malaria eradication program saves nearly two million lives a year.

To sum up the work of UNICEF one would have to say that it is difficult to imagine the situations where UNICEF has helped, because we have not been in the shoes of those helped.

IN AVIATION

Memphis, Tenn. (FHTNC) — Marine PFC William L. Bunch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlen E. Bunch of Juliaetta, Idaho, completed a week of testing and screening at the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Memphis.

During the week he received a battery of aptitude tests and was interviewed by a senior staff non-commissioned officer to determine his eligibility for technical training to prepare him for duties with the aviation branch of the U. S. Marine Corps.

SENIORS PLAY FINAL GAME FRIDAY EVE.

The Trojans of Troy at 7:29 p. m., Friday, Nov. 4th, under the lights at Muscat Field, will be the final game of the season for the Tigers and the final game for the seniors

ANCIENT ICE AGE

The first ice sheets of the Great Ice Age began to move about 1.5 million years ago, and the age was marked by at least four major advances and retreats. The most recent ice age reached its climax, reports the U. S. Geological Survey, about 50,000 years ago.

Ice covered much of northern Europe, all of Canada, and most of the northern half of the U. S. with packs often a mile and more thick. This ice did not leave the U. S. until about 10,000 years ago.

NEW COMPUTER

U. of I., Moscow — New engineering and scientific developments achieved in a fast-paced space age call for new teaching techniques and materials to be applied at universities and colleges.

As a part of the continual practice use and knowledge of new equipment at the University of Idaho, Everett Bailey, assistant professor of electrical engineering, attended a hybrid computer conference at the University of Michigan.

"We were given instruction in the combined use of analog and digital computers," said Bailey. "The use of these hybrids has sprung up in about the last five years, and is now growing rapidly."

Bailey said that the newly combined computer systems described in Michigan are similar to those being developed for Saturn V programs.

"At the university we have part of the equipment required for hybrid computers," said Bailey, "and we hope to have equipment for a complete system before too long for teaching and research."

READY FOR COLD

Spokane — Now is the time to get your car, pickup or truck ready for winter, say the traffic experts.

Perhaps the first step should be the selection and installation of a good anti-freeze. Here care must be used to see that all radiator hoses, drain plugs, heater outlets, etc., are tight and good, for anti-freeze will "creep" or leak where water will not.

Secondly, make sure that your brakes are in good order, even, and non-grabbing. Then put on those winter tires. Many good makes and treads are available in this category.

Be sure your storage battery is in good condition — or install a new one. Nothing is more aggravating or more time killing than a motor that won't start due to a poor battery.

Be sure your spark plugs are all they should be — and your ignition points. If in doubt, install new ones.

With these simple precautions you can be sure of safe winter driving under most conditions.

V. F. W. TO MEET

A Vote For Don Samuelson

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

IS A VOTE FOR A STRONG AGRICULTURAL IDAHO

Agriculture is the biggest single industry in Idaho. Despite the highest food prices ever, the Farmer is receiving the lowest share of the market basket dollar he has ever received.

DON RECOMMENDS:

* Providing the agricultural community with sufficient status in state government so as to insure recognition and understanding of the farmer's pressing problems.

* Facing squarely the problem of farm labor and the need for a solution that will guarantee an adequate supply of labor with protection for both the welfare of the farmer and the worker.

* Using the prestige of the Governor's office to press upon the Federal Government the need for a complete review of the 64-year-old unrealistic limitation of 160 acres on the size of irrigated farms.

* Work to correct discriminatory freight rates in Idaho that place Idaho farmers, stockmen and businessmen in unfair competitive position. Correcting this situation would do wonders toward improving the economic climate of this state.

NEW TESTS FOR N. IDAHO CROPS SET

U. of I., Moscow — More extensive research into field crops evaluation for northern Idaho is planned, according to R. D. Ensign, associate director of the agricultural experiment station. He made this report at the fall meeting of the Idaho Agricultural Consulting Council, held on the campus. The council represents major agricultural commodity associations in Idaho.

"The new program will allow more thorough evaluation of field crops in the 10 northern Idaho counties under various soil and management conditions," Ensign told the Council members. "The principal crop testing sites will be at Moscow, Sandpoint, Bonners Ferry and Grangeville."

An 11-acre site near Grangeville has been leased for testing purposes in that area, he said. Research at this new site will be aided by a $5,000 grant from the Idaho Pea & Lentil Commission, which will enable new research on winter pea production, with emphasis on cultural practices, disease control and seed selection. This research will be coordinated with existing pea and lentil research work in Washington, Ensign pointed out.

The current program to test new cereal and other crop varieties at Bonners Ferry, conducted in cooperation with the Boundary county commissioners and local wheat growers, will receive increased attention, he told the council.

The field crop testing and other research work done at the Sandpoint Branch experiment station will also continue receiving attention under the program, he said.

Ensign pointed out that these three major outlying crop testing locations in northern Idaho will be coordinated with the crop research work underway at the research center at Moscow.

"Results from these testing programs will move through the information pipeline to the county agents in these ten northern counties and make it possible for them to make better recommendations to the farm-

ABOUT IDAHO TREES

Boise — there are two general classes of trees — conifers and broadleaves. The forests of Idaho are made up mostly of conifers or evergreens. Hardwoods or broadleaf trees, chiefly cottonwood, are confined mostly to stream beds.

With regard to a breakdown of varieties of conifers in Idaho — Douglas fir leads, followed by Ponderosa pine, True firs, Idaho White pine (the official state tree), Engelmann spruce, western larch, lodgepole pine, western red cedar, western hemlock.

Idaho stands very near the top among the timber producing states of the nation. In total volume only four states, California, Washington, Oregon and Florida have more saw timber.

The forest industries of Idaho provide full-time jobs for more than 11,000 people and forest products rank second only to Idaho's agricultural output in economic importance.

STATE SENATOR JAMES A. McCLURE

REPUBLICAN First District

Idaho's First District is being short-changed. Idahoans are not getting the representation they expect and deserve from the incumbent Congressman. His record of support for extravagant spending and inflationary schemes is taking money from the pockets of his constituents in the form of higher and higher prices.

JIM McCLURE'S record as a three-term state senator from Payette County shows unswerving loyalty to those who elected him . . . the same loyalty he will give to Idaho in Congress. JIM McCLURE has the courage to vote "NO" on undesirable legislation. His vote against "omnibus" appropriations bills in the Idaho Legislature . . . a vote which was a protest against this irresponsible approach to state spending . . . is being criticized by the incumbent.

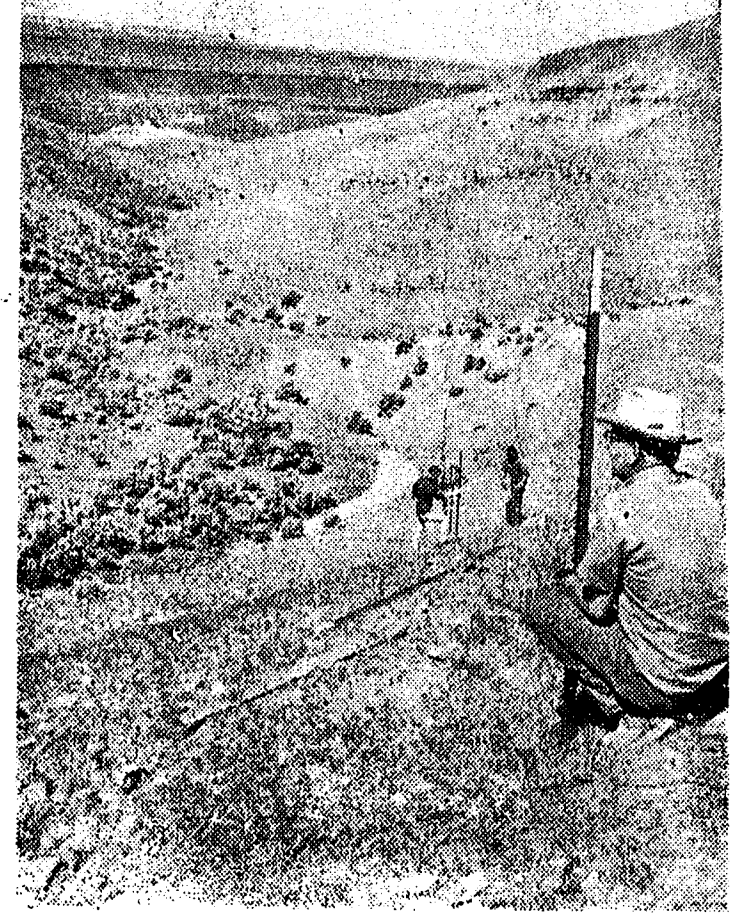

Funny thing about that . . . the record shows that a majority of the State Senators from the First District's twenty counties registered the same protest.

Could it be that everyone is out of step except Comp White?

MORE LAND

Boise — Over 3,000 acres of big game winter range on the Boise river are being fenced by the Idaho Fish and Game department to reserve the forage for wildlife animals, especially deer. The original project, initiated when Lucky Peak Reservoir covered much of the deer range land, was expanded with two recent land purchases. The lands will be planted with shrubs and forbs for big game feed. In the foreground is Keith Rudd, Boise refuge manager.

CATTLE, SHEEP, IN NATIONAL FOREST

Missoula, Mont. — Approximately 236,522 cattle and 155,504 sheep grazed on 6,391,254 acres under paid permits in the 16 national forests and four national grasslands in eastern Washington, northern Idaho, Montana, North Dakota and western South Dakota in the year just closed.

Most of the cattle and sheep are counted by Forest Rangers as the animals enter the National Forests. Many of the cattle are dye branded with a hair coloring solution so that the grazing animals can be readily identified as those permitted to graze on specific areas.

More than 1,530 individual grazing allotment areas were designated for cattle and sheep grazing in the northern region. Management of the livestock on each allotment is planned by the local Forest Ranger in cooperation with the grazing permittee.

Grazing use of National Forest and grasslands is of major economic importance to the livestock industry, especially in rural areas where livestock raising provides a large part of the local income.

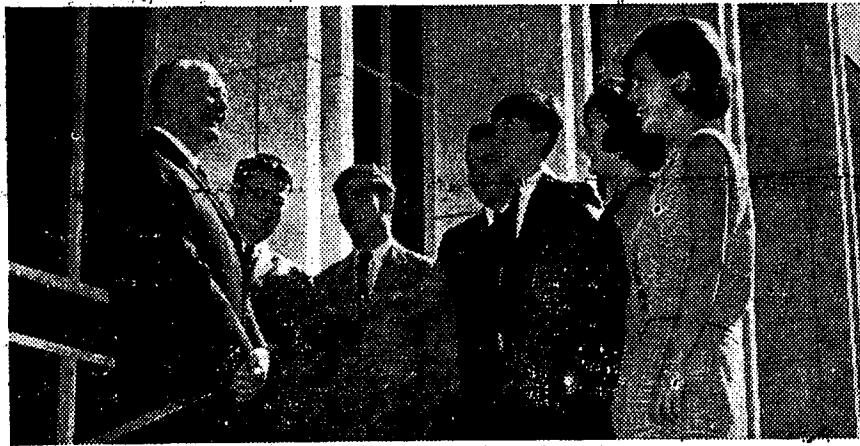

To graze ranges properly, construction of watering developments and fences is often necessary to aid in obtaining proper distribution of livestock. Range improvements constructed during the past year included 80 miles of fence and 89 range watering facilities such as reservoirs and troughs. More than 19,000 acres of depleted rangeland were re-vegetated by seeding with high quality range grasses, or by spraying to control undesirable plants such as sagebrush, which will crowd out better forage plants.

In the fiscal year 1966, approximately $204,000 was spent on maintenance and construction of physical range improvements such as fences, water developments, etc. About $149,000 was spent for seeding and control of undesirable plants to increase forage production. Expenditures for range development projects in the fiscal year 1967 is expected to be about the same as for 1966.

SOUTH IDA. TROUT

Part of crew working in Richfield Canal to salvage lunker rainbow trout for planting in other south-central Idaho waters. Fish and Game department workers use a portable generator to run electrical shock equipment in the pools left when the water is shut off.

This year's salvage operation successfully transplanted about one-half ton more fish than were planted in the canal last spring. About 15,000 hatchery trout running five to the pound were released at the start of the season. They gorged all summer and fall on fresh water shrimp, which are very high in protein, and average two pounds each and 16 inches in length at the time of the salvage work.

MOST AMERICANS WANT SPENDING CUT

Princeton, N. J. — Seven out of ten American want to reduce federal government spending to reduce inflation.

Eight out of ten express concern about inflation.

Two out of three say they have been hurt by it.

One-third feel they are worse off financially than a year ago.

These are some of the results released this week from a major national opinion survey taken in early October by the Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N. J. The study was commissioned by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Given a choice between the two, 71% of the respondents favored a cut in federal spending rather than increased taxes (7%).

Compared with earlier surveys, the latest ORC poll shows that there is growing concern about inflation with its consequent rising prices and reduced purchasing power of the dollar.

Almost half (48%) of the respondents report they are "greatly concerned" and this concern is evident in all segments of the population, regardless of age, occupation, educational level, or where they live.

Six in ten say they are fighting their own private war against inflation by changing shopping habits . . . cutting down, buying cheaper foods, substituting, designating heretofore "necessities" as "luxuries."

"I walk around the store a long time before I buy anything today." — (Woman over 40, mid-west).

"I look for some things to take the place of other things — some things are just too high." (Woman over 40, west).

The survey also demonstrates that the effects of inflation are being felt more seriously by the elderly and those with lesser education. More than four in ten (60 years and older) report that they are "worse off today" than a year ago.

Respondents sometimes talk of holding two jobs — even three — in their efforts to stay above the rising tide of prices. "I have a hard time making it on my salary sometimes. I think I'll need a second job." (Woman under 40, west) "I hold two jobs and one is very poorly paid. If things go much higher can I work three jobs?" (Man under 40, south).

More than twice as many people blame inflation on the government than on any other group. Twenty-eight per cent feel government is "most responsible" for inflation, compared with 6 percent blaming business, 10 percent blaming labor, and 13 percent the people themselves. A rising 41 percent admit that they "don't know" where to lay the blame, although there is much less uncertainty expressed about what to do about it.

Since last spring and reflected in previous ORC opinion surveys, there has been a decided increase among those favoring federal spending cuts.

LAND OF THE SEVEN DEVILS

Boise — On the western boundary line of Adams county is the Grand Canyon of the Snake River, which is noted for its depth and coloring. Offering an adventurous ride along the base of the rugged Seven Devils mountains, the Snake river at 7,900 feet is deeper than the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. The Seven Devils mountains themselves are one of the wonder sights of this continent and attract many visitors.

It was due to the rugged inaccessibility of the Seven Devils region that this section of Idaho was not early explored. It was Donald McKenzie who finally reached the Clearwater river up the east bank of the Snake in 1811.

The lower lands of the southeast were easily accessible and the early history of the county begins in that locality. Council Valley, near the eastern boundary line of the county, was the meeting place for the councils of the Nez Perce and Shoshoni Indians, and Council, one of the first towns of Adams county, was founded there.

In Meadows Valley on Goose Creek was the Packer John Cabin. In this cabin the first Democratic convention of the Idaho Territory was held. During the period between 1885 and 1893 many mines were in operation in the Seven Devils mountains. Several towns were established at that time but the boom died during the national panic of 1907.

A number of lakes dot the Seven Devils region, and there are many hot springs in the area. In the sheltered valleys the climate is mild and the snowfall is light. In the mountains the snowfall is heavy and the winters long and cold.

Sunshine friends come easy when you are successful — but you can't buy friendship!

IDAHO RANGE LAND TO BE IMPROVED

U. of I., Moscow — Idaho range seeding programs will cover more than 90,000 acres as federal, state and private land owners begin fall range improvement programs.

According to Lee A. Sharp, professor of range management, Idaho's range seeding program has been going on for 28 years. More than 2 million acres have been seeded since 1938.

The heavy damage to range lands caused by numerous large fires this past summer has added large acreage to this year's rehabilitation program. He said that four types of grass will be used in the program — dryland crested wheat, Russian wild rye, Witmar and intermediate wheat grass. The bulk of the seed, 5 to 6 pounds per acre, will be drilled into the soil, and a small amount will be seeded from the air, although this broadcasting system is not too successful.

Sharp said the programs have had considerable effect on weed control, increased livestock production, improved wildlife feed areas, and also on erosion.

"Idaho has made substantial progress in improving its range land by seeding, but there still remains an estimated three to five million acres that could be profitably benefited by seeding," said Sharp.

HARDING

will work hard as..

U.S. Senator

Hard work is part of the heritage of Ralph Harding . . . a third-generation Idahoan . . . a son of its soil. And a 20th century attitude is part of his heritage, too. Born in this century . . . aware that we live in a time of great change . . . Ralph Harding knows we must turn our eyes to the future . . . not live in the past.

Progress is a keystone of Ralph Harding's philosophy . . . progress at home . . . and in the world around us. As a Congressman, he worked for progress. As a Senator, he will continue to support programs to keep Idaho . . . and America . . . in step with our changing times.

At home, progress means many things to Ralph Harding. It means a good education for our children . . . the best we can give them . . . so they can become good citizens and responsible members of society. Progress means humanitarian consideration for our Senior citizens . . . through adequate pensions and health insurance . . . so that those who built Idaho and made it great can now live out their lives in dignity and security. Progress means equitable incomes for our farmers . . . adequate profits for our businessmen . . . jobs at good wages for our workers . . . for we must all prosper together, or none of us will truly prosper.

And in the world around us? To Ralph Harding, progress means peace . . . with honor and freedom. It means stopping Communist aggressions . . . in Viet Nam or anywhere else it may occur. It means restoring democracy to South East Asia . . . and to all the captive and enslaved peoples. It means averting the grim holo aust of World WarIII. World progress, too, means sharing our skills . . . and our abundance . . . with other peoples. That's why . . . as a Congressman . . . Ralph Harding was one of the original sponsors of the Peace Corps . . . that's why he was such a strong supporter of the Food-For-Peace Program.

Ralph Harding believes in national progress . . . and world progress. But most of all he believes in PROGRESS FOR IDAHO. He's a fiercely loyal son of the Gem State . . . a vigorous champion of its people. As a United State Senator, Ralph Harding will continue to devote his energies . . . his courage . . . his determination . . . to the state which has always been his home . . . to the people who have always been his neighbors.

Idaho's future will be in good hands with Ralph Harding in the United States Senate.

MANY BRIDGES ARE DAMAGED IN DIST.

Lewiston — In District Four there have been three more bridges damaged recently. This brings the total for the past year to 14. Four of these 14 were damaged seriously and except for a little luck could have been lost entirely.

The Department of Highways feels generally the public is not aware of the seriousness of this problem. The actual cost of repairing the bridges amounted to something in the neighborhood of $30,000 of road users taxes. However, the inconvenience to the road user and the loss to the businesses in the area was far greater. It would be difficult to estimate the exact amount, but it would certainly be 10 to 20 times as much as the bridge repair cost.

The damage was caused by illegal loads in every case. These loads were in excess of the 14-foot maximum as provided for in the Idaho code. None of these illegal loads had a permit. Clearance on the bridges involved was between 14 feet, 4 inches, and 15 feet. In most cases the violator did not stop and report the incident, thus jeopardizing the safety of other people using the bridge.

The Idaho Department of Highway's policy is to place a sign on all bridges under 15 feet, giving the exact minimum clearance on the primary and secondary system. The signs were on all of the bridges. In all probability the loads were excessive in height and excessive in weight.

In addition to these over weight loads, there are many other over weight loads traveling these bridges. Over weight loads exceed the design of the bridges and over-stress the bridge members, causing fatigue and shortening the life of the bridge.

Idaho has lost a few bridges due to collision by high loads. In addition to the loss to the road user of his construction tax dollar, there is a great deal of loss to the communities involved. For example, the loss of the Goff bridge north of Riggs would cut off the only route between north and south Idaho. The loss of the Orofino bridge would, for all practical purposes, isolate Orofino.

The only solution to this problem under present policy and present law, is cooperation by the trucking industry and the cooperation of the general public in helping to solve the problem. It is realized that these bridges are narrow and low, but they will adequately handle legal loads at present. — Donald D. Cox, P. E., District Engineer.

ROADS COST MONEY

Spokane — Total expenditures for all roads and streets by all levels of government will total some $15 billion in 1966, according to government forecasts. Except for a few local roads and streets, this bill is footed by special taxes on highway users.

DO YOU KNOW WHO WILL BE THE NEXT GOVERNOR OF IDAHO

We don't know. We do know, however, he will be a new one. There will be a new Secretary of State and practically a new Legislature. That is why we feel it is especially important that we keep the present State Auditor, Joe Williams.

This office is the hub of state business that flows through it in a very efficient, up-to-date manner. The Auditor is a functioning member of the State Land Board, Forestry Board, Secretary of the Board of Examiners, Chairman of the Teachers' Retirement Board, and working on major and important improvements. He is also the State Administrator of Social Security for Idaho.

It will be very important in the coming change-over to have someone on hand who knows how to "run the store" and be a check and balance factor, whichever Governor candidate takes over. His is not a policy making position, but we have often heard him urging reforms in the manner of bidding insurance, urging state car pool to stop private use of state cars, showing the need of reforestation, and maybe a new Governor will listen.

State Business is your business.

WASH AND DRY
those WRINKLES GOODBYE!

Here's good news for busy homemakers on washday!

New "permanent press" fabrics need no ironing and easily stay neat and pressed all day.

"Permanent press" garments are made to retain their shape indefinitely, when properly washed and dried. Manufacturers agree that the best way to get the most out of "permanent press" fabrics is to launder them with a new automatic electric washer and dryer. In fact many new machines have special "push-button" settings to make handling of the new miracle fabrics completely automatic... your clothes will always be wrinkle-free and ready to wear.

See your Electrical League Dealer now. He'll show you how to "waltz through washday" with the time-saving automatic washer and dryer team.

 HUNTING SEASON Opened Saturday with much lighter coverage than expected. It was estimated that there were less than half as many hunters opening day this year than last. The leaves are changing and clinging to the brush, making game extremely hard to spot.
 Opening day is always a family reunion day for Park people. Among those getting together to hunt were the Enger family and the Strattons.
 Hunters enjoyed favorable weather and the game enjoyed a full moon with cloud cover enough to make them save their feeding until sunset.

WHAT ARE FATS?

Everybody knows what fat is. It's what accumulates under your belt and elsewhere when you eat too much and exercise too little. It's also what makes the gravy tasty and the meat tender. Any dull food flavor is improved by the right fat.
 So... what is fat?
 Nutritionally it packs the toughest calorie wallop of any foodstuff. Proteins and carbohydrates yield four calories per gram or 19 per teaspoon, but pure fat tips the scales at nine calories per gram or 42 to the teaspoon.
Rounds The Figure
 In the body, fat helps to round the contours of a nice figure, and then spoils everything by overdoing, as you may notice if you cast a discreet glance or two at stretch pants on the fair sex. But it also pads the joints, helps the body retain its heat and constitutes a reserve energy supply.
Fats Are Esters
 Fats are esters, which is to say compounds, of fatty acids with glycerol, and they come in saturated or unsaturated form. It is commonly believed that the saturated fats are all animal and the unsaturated fats all vegetable.
 But the real difference between a saturated and an unsaturated fat is in the number of hydrogen ions that have been left out of the unsaturated variety.

 Possible relationships of fats and oils to heart and arterial diseases, and the level of cholesterol (a fat-like substance) in the blood are being studied. This is not as simple as some would have us believe, and there is, as yet, no assurance that banning one kind of fat will be a sure way to avoid heart and artery diseases.

Overweight Established
 What is established is that the American people (who carry a few thousand tons of weight they could do better without) may do well to cut down their total caloric intake, but not to eliminate animal fats, since these supply essential fatty acids.
 In fact, the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association advises against tampering with your usual diet except on medical advice. There are so many factors involved in good nutrition that experimenting on the basis of incomplete information and experience is hazardous.
 The main point in relation to fats is that they carry many calories in small bulk, and must therefore be used with discretion, especially where there is a trend toward overweight.

DAD'S DAY AT U.

U. of I., Moscow - The University of Idaho's "Dad of the Year" will be announced during Dad's Day on November 11-12.
 Members of more than 30 student living groups will nominate dads for the honor. The dads will be judged on their contributions to higher education, not necessarily at the University of Idaho, and local community activities.
 Highlight of the two-day event will be the Idaho-University of Montana football game. Father's of Idaho's football players will be given special side-line seats during the game.

V. F. W. VISITATION

DESERT WATER
 Wash., D. C. - The Sarha Desert, a synonym for total aridity, is underlain by water - an estimated 160,000 cubic miles. Fresh water exists in the ground in some quantity nearly everywhere on earth. In fact, the U. S. Geological Survey says that most of the world's stock of fresh water, 2 million cubic miles, is inside the earth. Half of this huge supply is believed to be within a half mile of the surface and reasonably accessible.

ORGAN GROUP MEETS
 "The Fabulous Fifties," an organ group met at the home of Mrs. Harold Oldersen on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Wayne Wegner was co-hostess at the noon luncheon.
 The group enjoyed music before and following the luncheon. Members from Lewiston, Juliaetta and Kendrick were present.
