Kills Rattler In Front Yard

Last Sunday afternoon Tom Peters killed a rattlesnake in the front yard of his home here on Main Street. The snake, a young one, had no rattles as yet, but its bite is just as deadly as a full grown snake.

Mr. Peters said that with the rank growth of grass and weeds this year it behooves parents to be watchful where their children play — and to warn them to watch for the snakes.

This is believed to be the first such kill in Juliaetta for many years — but where there is one, there can be more. Be careful!

Open House To Honor Coens

Dorothy and Chuck Coen will be honor guests at a community-wide Open House from 7:00 to 9:00 on Saturday evening, June 24.

On their return to Tacoma the Gruells celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary on June 16th, and G. C. Otosen, her brother, celebrated his 23rd anniversary on June 17th.

Mrs. Gruell's mother, Mrs. Mary Otosen, accompanied the Gruell's to Tacoma, where she will spend the summer.

DR. CHRISTENSEN DELIVERS 1,000TH BABY TUES. A. M.

Following the delivery of 1,000 babies in the space of 36 years and eight months of practice in the area, our well known and beloved Dr. D. A. Christensen has decided to turn the baby delivery practice over to others in his profession.

Dr. Christensen arrived in Kendrick on October 8, 1931, to begin his practice here. His first delivery was on October 19, 1931. It was a son, Jack Derrell, born to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Perry at the home of a relative in Juliaetta. Since then, hundreds of people still living in this area were delivered by him. A great many of those he brought into the world have turned to him for delivery of their own children. His last delivery (his 1,000th) was held Tuesday morning of this week when he delivered the fourth son to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Eggers of Bonwill at the St. Joseph's Hospital in Lewiston. He had also delivered their other three sons and Mrs. Eggers (nee Karen Nelson). Though Dr. Christensen is ending the baby deliveries, he is planning to have his office open as usual for some time yet.

WEATHER WARMS UP WITH A 'BANG'

After days of rather dreary, chill and damp weather, "Old Sol" warmed up with a "bang" Friday, the mercury on the "official" thermometer recording 92 degrees! With it, was high humidity, and so the heat seemed all the hotter to local residents who were used to the chill.

The high heat, however, caused most farmers to smile, for it was badly needed to halt rust, which is said to have become quite prevalent, although in streaks, in many fields. Pea growers, however, were not quite so happy, for black peas are now in full bloom, and sudden high heat could do considerable damage.

Loggers, too, were smiling, for it brought with it dryer roads and a chance to build more, something they had been denied for some time.

With the hot weather, the Potlatch river began to drop and clear. Saturday dawned clear and warm, but as the day wore on, clouds began to appear, there was a light wind, and by mid-afternoon all was overcast and the thermometer recorded a mere 88 degrees.

Sunday was a real sizzler, with another reading of 92 degrees, with only an occasional white cloud appearing in the skies.

Monday, under cloudless skies, it really began to warm up, with the "official" thermometer here recording a reading of 95 degrees, for the warmest day to date. Air conditioners suddenly became very popular, replacing the open doors of the latter part of last week.

FIRE DANGER COULD BECOME ACUTE

Norman Lewis, deputy state fire warden, Kendrick, said last Friday that with the coming of hot, dry weather this area faces one of the most acute of fire seasons.

Mr. Lewis said that the extremely mild winter, and damp spring had caused a foliage and grass growth unseen here for several years. It goes without saying that when dry the fire hazard will be extreme. To date, of course, there has been little fire danger, due to continuing rains and high humidity. However, those days are bound to come to an end, and with them the danger will begin.

The local office has its pumps and all other equipment ready to go — but the less use for them, the better for everyone concerned.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD

JOINT DISTRICT 283 RURAL FITNESS CENTER APPROVED

From the office of James V. Muscat, Superintendent of Schools, comes the following factual information on the Rural Fitness Center program:

On June 8, 1967, Sen. Frank Church announced that Kendrick Joint School District No. 283 Rural Fitness Center Program was approved for $24,994.00.

On June 14, 1967, Kendrick Joint School District No. 283 was granted the right to contract services from Miss Elizabeth Keesee, Idaho's Director to the P. L. 89-10, Title III of E. S. E. A.

This program is a pilot experimental program set up for just one summer. In September we will write an evaluation of the total program. If we feel the total program is valuable, we will then apply for two additional programs for the summers of '68 and '69. "Time will tell."

Just how will this program help our area and School District?

1. $3,000 has been allotted for defraying some of the cost of the swimming pool filter, plumbing, etc.

2. $2,000 has been assigned for salaries for two swimming instructors. Presently only one instructor has been hired. The swimming pool is under the direction of the Kendrick City Council Swimming Pool Committee. These activities will be outlined later by Miss Janet Eldridge.

$710 has been budgeted for miscellaneous supplies for the pool.

4. $250.00 for Liability Insurance for the pool has been set aside.

The total amount allocated for the swimming pool from the federal funded Rural Fitness Program is $6,000.00. This is listed with the program as a community service. The only stipulation of the program is that the children registered with the program are allowed to swim and participate in the swimming lessons at no cost to them.

At the Juliaetta Playground Center will be installed a nine-piece obstacle course. Presently Miss Carol Heimgartner will be the playground supervisor. The center will be used mainly for the primary group, ages five to nine. Many different activities will be carried on at this center.

The Kendrick Center Area will be used for the older group. An area of 100 feet by 100 feet will be used to make two double tennis courts. Along the west side will be two basketball standards. There will also be tether ball, volley ball, badminton and horseshoes. This entire area is proposed to be fenced. In addition we are planning picnic tables, and later this summer will have a fireplace or two to make the area more usable. We hope to build some putting sands for the people interested in golf. Miss Ida Glenn will be one of the supervisors at the Kendrick Center.

Terry Taylor, K. H. S. newly hired coach for the next year, will work with Little League and also with the Lassie Group for girls. Softball and hardball teams will be on the agenda. There will also be softball for adults on certain evenings, along with working on the Universal Gym Body Building Machine.

Scheduling will follow on student transportation with a bus. Presently, Darrell Manfull will be the bus driver. As soon as we find out just how many students we have and where they live, we will arrange points for transportation to the program.

We are working on several camping trips for various age groups and are trying to make final arrangements for these trips. More information will follow on this part.

Chet Hall, Program Director, and his staff will be doing the registering. All persons registering will be issued their cards for the entire program. There is absolutely no charge for any part of the program as long as a child is registered in the program. This includes the swimming program.

If there are any questions about any part of the program, please call us. Chet Hall, the Program Director, or James V. Muscat, the Program Administrator, will try to answer your questions. We certainly hope that all the participants will be happy with the program and have a good time.

Remember: The true emphasis will meet several cardinal principles of education: a. Health. b. Command of fundamental processes. c. Worthy use of leisure time.

We hope this program meets with expectations. This could well be the beginning of an individual life-long fitness program. If you are five . . . 15 . . . 50 . . . or 105 we hope there is something here for you.

The total amount of money allocated is $24,994.00. The budget breakdown is as follows:

Capital Outlay $5,387.00

LIONS HOLD FINAL MEET OF SEASON, INSTALL OFFICERS

The Kendrick Community Lions Club met in regular session at the Kendrick Fire Hall Wednesday evening — the last meeting before summer vacation. It was "Ladies' Night" with the Lions wives or a family member as guests.

Following a delightful dinner served by the School Foods Service Ass'n and a drawing for the very clever table center pieces which depicted the Club's activities during the year, the Club heard a talk by Lions District Zone Chairman Bill Biggam of Moscow. He chose as his topic: Americanism and Lionism. It was fitting to the present world conditions and enjoyed by everyone.

Installation of officers followed, under the direction of Mr. Biggam, with the following taking office for the 1967-68 season:

Wayne Harris, president; Jerry Brown, first vice president; Wm. Turner, second vice president; James Hoogland, third vice president; Tom Cox, secretary-treasurer; A. A. Kremmin, Lion Tamer; Geo. Brocke, Jr., and Bob Watts, tail twisters; Bud Eichner, two-year director.

A brief report was made by Tom Cox, secretary, on the Locust Blossom Festival. Mr. Cox said that all known bills were not yet in, and several parties having "buttons" out had not yet made reports, but that totals to date seemed to indicate a smaller crowd and smaller income than that of last year, which was the biggest in the history of the annual event.

Bill Rogers, general chairman of the Festival said in a brief statement that cooperation from all committees and the V. F. W. as an organization had been excellent throughout all proceedings.

The School Foods Service Ass'n cooks, Mrs. E. M. White, Mrs. A. A. Kremmin, Mrs. Manning Ostott and all helpers were given a fine round of applause for the excellent meals and service throughout the year.

KIDS ARE HAPPY

There were "smiling faces all over the place" Tuesday morning of this week, when the Area Living War Memorial Pool at Kendrick opened its "doors for business" — despite the fact that the water was just a bit cool — the pool having just been filled for the first time this season. Ernest Heimgartner, E. M. White and Chuck Klatt, who have been doing the rebuilding had it ready to run Monday evening.

Of course, quite a few finishing touches yet remain to be done — but at least it's in operation and the kids are happy!

Regular swimming lessons began on Tuesday morning. Students enrolled were: 50 from Troy and 45 from Elk River. They were brought to Kendrick by school bus.

TOM KING HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Tom King of Southwick escaped serious injury and perhaps death on Monday around 5:00 p. m., when he lost control of a wheel tractor and loader on a hillside near his home. He had been picking up rocks when the tractor started sliding downhill in loose dirt and gravel. It turned over him as it rolled, crushing him into the loose soil, which probably saved his life. His major injury is a fractured pelvis.

He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by the J-K Ambulance under the care of Dr. D. A. Christensen, Norman Lewis and Bud Eichner were on the ambulance run.

FINAL RITES HELD

Funeral services were held on Thursday, June 15, for Ernest Davis, 75, at the Kendrick Community Church at 2:00 p. m., with Rev. Ray Whitlow of Moscow, officiating.

Mrs. Herman Schupfer accompanied Mrs. Bud Eichner and Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., as they sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Pallbearers were George Brocke, Sr., E. A. Deobald, Roy Glenn, Ed. Nelson, E. L. Blewett and Everett Fey. Interment was in the Kendrick Cemetery.

Mr. Davis was a veteran of World War I.

BLOSSOMS ARE ALL BUT GONE TODAY

The petals from the locust blossoms on Kendrick's big trees, which for a couple of weeks, rolled up in wind-blown piles to look almost like snow, have all but disappeared under the impact of the hot weather. They were a real nuisance, sticking to shoes and continually being tracked across the floors of business firms.

Never in the history of Kendrick, say old timers, have the bloom been heavier than this year — despite the fact they weren't very numerous on Festival Day.

We read this somewhere: Bad politicians are put into office by good citizens who failed to vote.

WHERE do juicy, tender pork chops come from? Ask any 4-H'er working on a swine project and he'll tell you that they come from the back of the hog. What's more, the hog provides three kinds of chops: loin, rib and shoulder. He knows that pork chops from properly fed hogs today have less fat and therefore fewer calories than ever before.

But that's not all. In a swine breeding project, he learns about breed selection, housing and approved sanitation and health. If he has a marketing project he keeps up with latest information on feeding, weight gain, and supply and demand for live hogs. In between he finds time for showing, demonstrating approved practices, and judging animals and meats.

Scores of 4-H farm youth enrolled in the national 4-H Swine program get instruction in animal sciences such as anatomy, bacteriology, genetics and physiology. County extension agents and local 4-H leaders guide the young farmers in specific project areas, and coach them in management and record keeping. They also explore careers both on and off the farm.

In addition to using this knowledge, the youngsters are encouraged to do their best and try for awards provided by the program sponsor, Moorman Mfg. Co.

The awards include six $500 scholarships for national winners chosen from all the state award winners who receive expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. As many as four members per county can earn gold-filled medals for completing the best swine projects in the county.

DRINKING DRIVER FACES TROUBLE

Boise — The drinking driver in Idaho faces the possibility of a longer suspension of his driving privileges due to the state's "implied consent law," which has been in effect since 1955.

A person suspected of drunken driving can have his license suspended for 90 days for refusing to submit to a chemical test to determine his blood alcohol content, and also faces an additional 90-day suspension if he is convicted in court of driving while under the influence.

According to Donald A. Anderson, administrative officer of the Department of Law Enforcement, approximately 1,500 licenses have lost their driving privileges in the past dozen years for refusing to submit to a chemical test to determine alcohol content in the blood.

This number, according to Anderson, does not include those convicted of driving while under the influence, in local courts, where refusal affidavits were not submitted to the department of Law Enforcement.

AGAINST GUN LAW

Wash., D. C. — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, will bring his battle against new gun laws into high gear early next month. Hearings on the Dodd Bill will begin on July 11, in the Senate Sub-committee on Juvenile Delinquency. Sen. Dodd is chairman of that sub-committee. Sen. Church will testify against the bill.

If the legislation should clear that sub-committee, it will pass to the Senate Commerce Committee, where the Idaho Senator will again attempt to block it. If the bill passes both of these committees, Church will carry his fight to the senate floor.

Thousands of Idahoans have supported Church's position by putting their names on record against the proposed law.

WATCH CHILDREN

A reminder from the Idaho State Police: Schools are closed for the summer vacation — and that means children playing out of doors. A child is wrong when he runs into the street, but he doesn't deserve a death sentence for his mistake. Protect our children by driving carefully.

TALK TO CHILDREN

Parents are reminded by the Idaho State Police that children need frequent reminders on the dangers of playing in the street. Take time to teach your youngsters how to survive in traffic.

BASS ARE TASTY

Smallmouth bass fillets cooked in bacon grease over an open campfire for family and friends are a treat that must be acknowledged even by trout addicts.

Bass (and all spiny ray species) are filleted by cutting from back of fish down along bones to ribs and then removing the tail. This gives a boneless piece of meat from each side which is ready for the pan as soon as the skin has been removed.

Smallmouth bass make tasty entrees when caught at this time of year while the flesh is firm.

BE PATIENT

Let's be patient with our tourists, say the Idaho State Police. You might gawk too, if you had never seen a mountain before!

RECREATION

Put yourself in this picture. Add the happy chuckle of a good fishing stream, the heady fragrance of a wood fire, and the sheer exhilaration of camping out in the pine-scented air.

You'll find nine improved camp and picnic sites in our area of operation, developed and maintained in cooperation with tree farms and timber protective associations. The Clearwater Ski Club has developed a ski slope and lodge on PFI land on Bald Mountain near Pierce, Idaho, which is available to the public at a nominal charge for tow facilities.

You are invited to enjoy free use of any Potlatch Forests, Inc., camp and picnic sites, and our Idaho timberlands are open for hunting, fishing, hiking, and berry picking, except in a few areas which may be closed during the critical fire season. Much of the area is accessible by car.

Cooperation in providing facilities for your recreation is one way POTLATCH PLAYS ITS PART.

NIBBLE, TASTE OR SNACK?

When I was a boy, longer ago than I will ever admit, it used to be sound parental doctrine that eating between meals was strictly taboo. This went side by side with the dictum that children cleaned their plates before they left the table—or else.

Adding insult to injury was the common practice of enforcing compliance with adult standards by sending violators to bed supperless.

My grandmother fixed all that. If we were sent to bed to meditate on our sins, she sneaked up the back stairs with good things for us to eat; she also dispensed cookies and maple sugar between meals. And we couldn't help noticing that the grown folks often left food on their plates if they did not like it. As for us, we were commanded to eat what was placed before us. And like it!

Not Frowned On Now
Now we know that eating between meals is no dietetic sin. It may be a help to good nutrition. It may even be a necessity under certain conditions in which digestion and nutrition are not normal. We have learned that a child may require morning or afternoon snacks, and that if these are well-chosen, they not only contribute to his nutrition, but prevent his becoming so hungry that he actually has difficulty enjoying the noon or evening meal.

Diabetics, and persons with digestive problems, as well as those who wish to gain weight but cannot eat more at meals, often depend on the between-meal snack.

Such snacks, of course, should consist of foods required in the four basic food group plan, and not merely of taste-satisfying foods or just random eating. Snacks should be counted, both as to calories and to nutrient content, in the day's food quota.

Nibbling is something else again. This is often the temptation which assails good cooks, or those with time on their hands and too ready access to the candy box, the cookie jar, the leftovers, or the soda fountain.

One of the members of my family was an inveterate nibbler. She ate little at meals, but she nibbled practically all the time between meals. She also wondered why she got fat. She was a marvelous cook.

Tasting, Too
Tasting is another habit easily formed in the kitchen. Modern cooks who use recipes are less liable to this habit than the older cooks who added a bit of this, a touch of that, and a sprinkle of the other to the stew-pot, and then tasted to see that it was right. This had to be done quite often, and for a number of dishes.

The taster also commonly eats the tag end of the carrot that is difficult to grate, or the bit of butter left on the spatula, and when it comes to clearing away after dinner, it's so much easier just to eat up the little dabs left in the serving dishes than to clutter up the refrigerator with leftovers. This can add up to quite a load in the course of the day. Yes, good snacks are useful, but beware of nibbling and tasting.

WORD ON IDAHO FILMS

"Proving the exception to the rule, sometimes I believe a few words can be worth more than a thousand pictures," said Louise Shaddock, head of Idaho's Department of Commerce and Development, commenting on the letters the department receives regarding films used for promoting Idaho among the other states. One from a school in a small Vermont town today caught the department's attention out of a growing tide of requests which included a series of 12 showings for a group of 70 engineers of Pontiac Motors, requests from television stations, universities, civic groups, sporting and riding clubs. Here is the letter, modestly without a signature, from the Cornish School, Windsor, Vermont.

"Dear sirs: We are a small, country school. Our film projector and your films give us a window to the outside world. Many of our students have not been beyond the next town. We want you to know that your films are eagerly awaited and well received by our students. We feel that they are learning from them. Thus we are beginning a program of Friday afternoon film assemblies for our 6th, 7th and 8th grade students. With a brief introduction and a discussion in home rooms following the films, we believe this will be a pleasant addition to our school program."

Thank you! For some years the department has also been furnishing extra material for interested teachers to use in making the film subjects even more vivid to school children.

CHEMICALS FOR QUACKGRASS FIGHT

There's hope on the horizon for weed fighters. Quackgrass will soon be in its most vulnerable condition, according to word from the county agricultural agent from Robert Higgins, weed-control agronomist of the University of Idaho extension service. When it is six to eight inches and growing vigorously, it is most easily knocked out with a chemical.

For spot work in gardens, crops and other areas where soil sterilization is not practical, Higgins suggests using Dalapon. Mix two tablespoons in one gallon of water with one teaspoon of a wetting agent such as X-77 or a liquid household detergent. Apply all of the solution to 100 square feet of quackgrass.

Amitrol or Amitrol-T can also be used for the same purpose in the same way. However, it should not be applied in any crop field except corn.

Quackgrass can also be killed with materials applied to the soil. They include Atrazine, Diuron (Harmon) and Monuron (Telvar). These chemicals "kill" the soil and prevent all plant growth for a long time. The treatment is drastic. Large areas of quackgrass can be controlled by dry cultivation, Higgins said. The job depends on dry soil and ability of the operator to drag roots to the surface where they will dry. Good control usually takes about six weeks.

Whatever methods of attack are used, Higgins said, quackgrass is likely to be a pest for a long time. The perennial spreading grass was imported from Europe. It has been grown for pasture and soil-holding purposes, but in most places it is a nuisance.

BEACH BUILT

The 14,000 Boy Scouts and leaders from more than 100 countries who will attend the XII World Jamboree at Farragut State Park, Idaho, from Aug. 1 through 9, will have the opportunity of enjoying fresh water swimming among their many activities.

A man-made swimming facility, a new sandy beach has been built in a small bay in Lake Pend Oreille, by Farragut State Park. The swimming area is about 400 feet long, 100 feet wide and a maximum depth of 8 feet. After the Jamboree it will be a state park beach for public use.

It can accommodate 500 persons at a time, and the Scouts will have six one-hour periods daily.

DATE CHANGED

Lewiston — The Social Security representative will not be in Moscow Monday, June 26, D. Gene Shaw, district manager, announced. The representative will be there as usual on July 3rd.

OLD FORT WALL

In Lemhi county are the ruins of an old mud wall that once surrounded an old Fort Lemhi, the first attempt to create a permanent settlement in Idaho. The fort was built in 1853 by Mormon colonizers sent to the county by Brigham Young. Indian hostilities prevented any dreams of settlement, however. The colony of Mormons was removed in 1858.
