CHECK THOSE APHIDS SAYS COUNTY AGENT

Moscow — Farmers are cautioned by Homer Futter, Latah County agent, to check their crops for aphid. With the lush crop growth resulting from wet weather, aphid build-up in wheat, peas, lentils and barley could cause crop loss.

Several farmers have reported areas in grain fields where aphid population is increasing rapidly. Recommendations on when to spray become a matter of judgment and here are several "rules of thumb" to help guide farmers:

No. 1. If wheat or barley has 30 or more aphids per head average throughout the field, and the grain is in the milk stage, then control is indicated.

No. 2. If there is an average of 30 or more aphids per sweep, in peas or lentils, or five aphids per tip at time of bloom, and the weather is cool and moist, then control should be applied immediately.

No. 3. In checking for aphids you must take into account the number of natural aphid predators, such as Lady Bird beetles. If there are a lot of Lady Bird beetles present, they can hold the aphid population down.

Locking the door after the horse was stolen applies to many aphid control jobs in the past. Spray before the aphids have done the damage.

After wheat and barley is in the dough stage, aphid damage is usually minor and doesn't warrant control. Aphid damage to peas shows in yield reduction and in an increase in percentage of small, shriveled peas.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME

If anyone had any doubts about it being summertime — they have been dispelled this past week.

Daytime temperatures have been in the high 80's to mid-90's, and at night readings have been from 55 to 60 degrees.

Farmers have been making the most of the ideal haying weather — and other crops are said to be doing "excellent," the rains of the previous week having given them that "million dollar shot."

Loggers, too, are happy with the weather, it being "just right" for good woods operations.

Sunday was the warmest day of '67 to date, with a local reading of 95 degrees. Lewiston, the closest government station, reported 101.

PEA AND LENTIL MEETING SET

Moscow — Harold Blaine, manager, announces that the regular quarterly meeting of the Idaho Pea and Lentil Commission has been set for Wednesday, July 12. The session will be held in the commission office in Moscow starting at 9:30 a. m.

Items on the agenda include the adoption of a budget for the coming year, and election of officers. Also there will be progress reports on the advertising promotion and research programs of the commission. Blaine emphasized that these meetings are open to the public, and anyone interested is invited to attend.

MISS GLENDA STEVENS BECOMES BRIDE OF RICHARD L. CARPENTER IN CHURCH RITES

The marriage of Glenda Fern Stevens to Richard Lionel Carpenter was solemnized June 17th at 8:00 p. m. at the Lewiston First Christian Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen S. Stevens of Juliaetta, and he the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel J. Carpenter of Anchorage, Alaska. Rev. John McCullough, pastor of Bethany Assembly in Seattle, Washington, officiated at the beautiful double-ring ceremony before tall bouquets of white gladiolas and yellow chrysanthemums.

Over a floor-length sleeveless empire waist gown of white organza and satin peau, the bride wore a scalloped-neck with back button-and-loop closing nylon lace-illusion jacket with long pointed sleeves. The detachable train was also of illusion lace lined with organza. The gown was made by her mother. Her bouffant veil featured a headpiece of organza roses made by her grandmother, Mrs. Clifford Powell of Clarkston. She carried a cascade of white bridal roses and stephanotis.

As her sister's maid of honor, Linda Stevens of Juliaetta wore an empire, A-line, floor-length gown of lemon-lime shantung with matching elbow-length lace bell sleeves. The petal-shaped net headpiece was caught together with a cluster of green fabric roses, also made by the bride's grandmother.

Identically gowned were bridesmaids Lynda Bakke of Turlock, Calif.; Dianne Hutchison of Yucaipa, Calif.; and Cheryl Wentworth of Issaquah, Wash. Their pearl earrings were gifts from the bride, and each carried a nosegay of white roses and yellow carnations with long satin streamers.

Tom Glass of Boise and David Kerby of Lenore lit candles in circular candelabra at the altar. Debbie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Williams, Lewiston, was flower girl and Bill Glass of Boise was ring bearer.

Robert Carpenter of Anchorage was his brother's best man. Ushers were Rodney Carlson of Chicago, Ill.; Jack Vale of Denver, Colo., and Phillip Weeldreyer of Cottage Grove, Oregon.

Miss Merideth Frees of Seattle sang "No Other One," "Because" and "Wedding Prayer." Miss Melba Williams of Gifford was organist.

The reception was held in the church parlor. Assisting were Mrs. Tom Glass, Boise; Mrs. Lloyd Stevens, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Marion Stevens, Juliaetta, all aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Stanley Shannon, Spokane, Wn., a cousin. The bride's cousin, Mrs. Ernie Fliger of Moscow, was in charge of the guest book.

In charge of gifts were Karen Kerby of Lenore; Mollie Maynard of Lapwai; Gloria Hoskins of Culesac; and Louise Hoffman of Kendrick. Assisting were Gayle Kerby and Diana Kerby of Lenore, and Carlene Settle of Culesac.

A graduate of Lapwai High School, the bride received her B. A. Degree in Education June 11th from Seattle Pacific College and plans to teach second grade in the Lincoln School in the David Douglas District at Portland this fall.

Also a graduate of Seattle Pacific College, the bridegroom has completed one year of medical school at the University of Oregon in Portland.

After a week's honeymoon on the Oregon coast, the couple flew to Anchorage, Alaska, where he will be employed for the summer. They will make their home this fall in Portland where the groom will continue in medical school.

Guests attending from a distance included the bridegroom's parents of Anchorage; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carpenter and daughter Cherie of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Carpenter and daughter Lisa of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Carpenter of Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Carpenter of St. Paul, Minnesota; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stevens of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Norman West of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Breda and son Stan of Seattle; Rev. and Mrs. John McCullough of Seattle; Miss Margery Luck of Seattle; Steve Bakke of Turlock, Calif.; Doug, Anderson of Spokane; Martha and Robert Malone of Renton, Wn., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baumgartner of Mt. Angel, Oregon.

Pre-nuptial showers included one at the Cottonwood Creek Community Church in March; a floor party in the dorm at Seattle where the bride was proctor; a personal shower given by the bridesmaids, and a shower given by members of the Bethany Church in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Kerby of Lenore were hosts and hostesses at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening, honoring the bride party and relatives of the young couple. The dinner was served on the Kerby lawn. Later wedding gifts were opened and displayed.

TRAFFIC HEAVY ON LONG WEEK-END

Friday evening traffic began to roll along Kendrick's Main Street — cars and pickups pulling trailers, campers, cars and pickups pulling boats — and other vehicles loaded with camping items, and the flow continued pretty much this way all through Saturday and a part of Sunday morning.

Evidently Kendrick folk joined the exodus, for the town was all but deserted Sunday and Monday.

Farmers were busy haying and doing other farm work, so they didn't come to town except for necessary trading.

GARDEN CLUB

The Hill & Valley Garden Club met at the Community Hall on Wednesday afternoon, at Big Bear Ridge. Election of officers was held with the following being chosen: Mrs. Werner Brammer, president; Mrs. Alva Craig, vice president; Mrs. Gilbert Sproul, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Watts, corresponding secretary. Reports were given on the progress of the park projects.

Slides on lilies were shown to the members and the ten guests from Moscow; two from Troy and four from Deary.

FRIENDLY RATTLER

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Grinolds of Cedar ridge got quite a jolt Thursday afternoon of last week when their little son Jeff came into the house and informed them that there was a rattlesnake on the back porch.

Neil took a look, and sure enough, there it was "looking cool and comfortable."

Neil got a rifle and shot the snake — his second of the season.

J. EDGAR HOOVER SPEAKS ON CRIME

Wash., D. C. — According to figures made available this week by the F. B. I.'s Uniform Crime Reports and released by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, serious crime in the United States jumped 20 percent in the first three months of 1967, when compared with the same period in 1966.

F. B. I. Director J. Edgar Hoover said this substantial upsurge in the nation's crime was reflected in all Crime Index offenses. Crimes of violence as a group, recorded a 21 percent increase with murder up 23 percent; forcible rape 8 percent; robbery 32 percent, and aggravated assault 15 percent. The group of crimes against property rose 20 percent, with burglary up 21 percent, larceny $50 and over in value 18 percent, and auto theft 29 percent.

According to the F. B. I. director, the group of cities with 100,000 or more inhabitants had an over-all 20 percent increase. Crime in suburban communities rose 22 percent on the average, and in rural areas was up 16 percent. The effect of the nation's crime increase was felt in all geographic regions. Mr. Hoover noted that the regional trends were consistent with the Western states up 21 percent, followed by the North Central and Southern states up 20 percent each, and the Northeastern states up 18 percent. All crime classifications recorded increases in the four geographical regions.

In making these figures available the F. B. I. director called attention to the unusually sharp increase in the crime of robbery. He stated every city population group contributed to this trend with increases ranging from 20 percent in cities having over 1,000,000 population to 42 percent in the group of cities with 250,000 to 500,000 population. Robbery in the suburbs was up 37 percent and increased 22 percent in the rural areas.

Mr. Hoover cautioned that the 20 percent rise in serious crime in the United States for this three-month period was the sharpest recorded since the publication of quarterly reports began in 1958.

The fact remains that these crime increases are real and the law enforcement machinery needs the full support of government and citizens alike.

PAPER MIGHTY SHORT THIS WEEK

This week's issue is a mighty "bottled" one — due to no mail service on Tuesday — busy farmers — and "finding no one at home."

Many local residents were taking advantage of the long four-day holiday, and as a result couldn't be reached for news. Most of our correspondents were either away or busy with farm work — so again no news. Let's say "combined circumstances" made this issue what it is.

ELECTRICITY HOLDS KEY TO FUTURE

The experts tell us that the future growth and prosperity of America will depend significantly on the amount of money and man power we are willing to devote to technical research.

The electrical industry apparently listens to the experts. More than $2.5 billion a year is spent for electrical research and development. One-fourth of all the engineers and scientists engaged in research and development are employed by companies that manufacture electrical machinery and supplies.

Nor is the electrical industry's commitment to research something recent. More than 1,000 U. S. patents were granted to Thomas Edison during his lifetime. But people in the industry, observing 1967 National Electrical Week, February 5-11, point out that Edison's greatest invention couldn't be patented.

Thomas Edison introduced team research as a method of invention. He organized a group of engineers and scientists for, in his words, "rapid, cheap development of inventions and for working it up into commercial shape with models, patterns and special machinery."

Team research opened the way for the onrush of progress in every field - progress that touches every aspect of our lives.

Past research by the electrical industry has added convenience and comfort to our daily living, has provided the power and the impetus for countless business and industrial advances, and has contributed greatly to the defence of the nation, as well as to such far-reaching endeavors as our program of space exploration. All the while, the research has helped make electricity increasingly abundant - at lower and lower costs.

Today electrical industry research teams are applying new knowledge new techniques in education, medicine, transportation and many other areas, to solve some of mankind's more pressing problems. From these efforts will come advances which will add to the fullness of life not only in this country but in nations around the world, particularly those now engulfed in poverty.

REGISTRATION AT U.

U. of I., Moscow — On-campus enrollment in the University of Idaho Summer School had reached 1,241 Monday afternoon, with a few more regular students expected to complete registration this week.

In addition to the campus enrollment, 68 men are enrolled in summer camp at Payette Lake as a part of the regular College of Forestry, Wildlife and Range Sciences program.

Enrollment will continue through the summer with new programs opening each Monday. There are nine more workshops and short courses to be offered through August.

WANTS HELP IN GUN BILL FIGHT

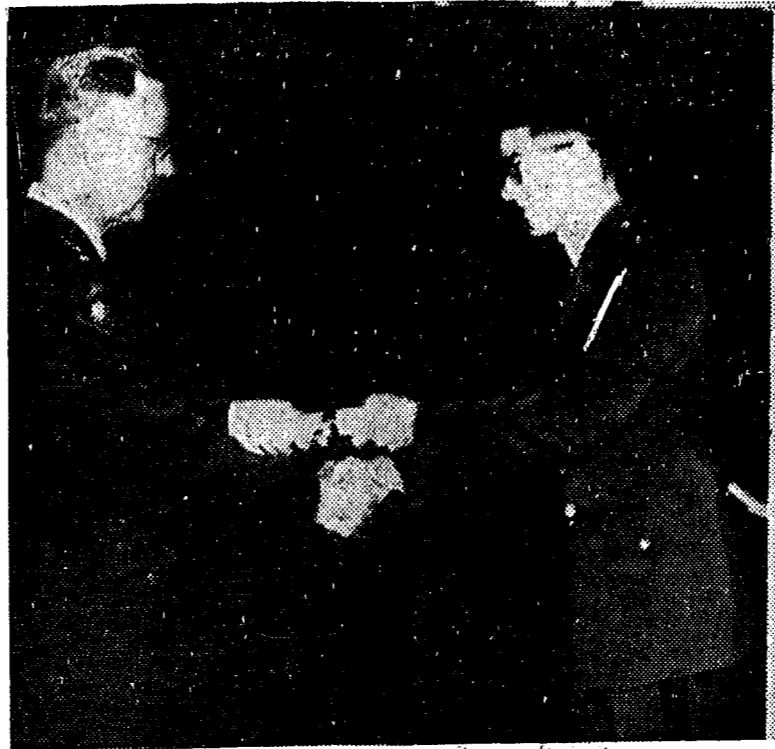

Wash., D. C. — Senate hearings on the controversial Dodd Bill to impose Federal gun controls will open in Washington, July 10, and Sen. Frank Church, Idaho, is scheduled to make a strong and documented fight against the bill the following day.

Preparing for his committee battle against federal gun legislation, Church urged Idahoans to send him any statements they wish to make on the issue, and he will present them to the committee. He also asked that all petitions supporting his position on gun laws be mailed to his Washington office. The petitions and statements, Church said, will be "my weapons" in the fight to defeat the proposed legislation.

Church added that if the bill should be reported out of committee for full senate vote, he will take his fight to the floor of the Senate.

Church told his constituents during his recent courthouse tour in Idaho that armed with the petitions he will, if necessary, "read every one of those thousands of names into the Congressional Record in my fight to halt this legislation."

The industry's role is summarized well in the theme of this year's National Electrical Week: "Electricity Powers Progress."

DON'T PICK UP HITCHHIKERS

Boise — Motorists who pick up hitchhikers are asking for trouble, warns the Idaho State Police. Best advice is to stay clear of them.

The I. S. P. notes there are still some drivers who feel guilty when they turn down a thumb-bum on the highway, but there is no reason to feel any obligation to these roadway moochers. You wouldn't allow a moocher in your home, why permit one to enter your car?

Idaho law prohibits soliciting of rides from the roadway. Still, there are some who attempt to evade the law by making their pitch from roadside service stations and cafes.

There have been no hitchhike murders in Idaho for some time, but they have occurred in the past. When you permit a stranger to enter your car you have nothing to gain, and everything to lose. Don't gamble with your life by picking up hitchhikers.

It is also possible that the motorist who befriends a hitchhiker may become liable for damages in case of an accident because the hitchhiker is an "invited passenger" in the vehicle.

WILD ANIMALS ARE VERY POOR PETS

Boise — This yearling cub was raised in Boise but became troublesome and the Idaho Fish and Game department was asked to pick it up and release it in the hills north of town.

The episode serves as a reminder to all well-meaning people who want wild animals as pets. Some of them become dangerous if they survive improper home care and live to grow up.

Captive game animals and birds are illegal.

PEDESTRIAN DEATHS NOW 13 IN IDAHO

Boise — Records of the Idaho State Police show 13 persons have "walked themselves to death" on Idaho streets and highways so far this year.

The number of pedestrians killed in Idaho traffic accidents last year. Traffic safety officials and engineers constantly strive to set up protective devices to safeguard the pedestrian, but the one who insists on taking his right-of-way is in the same category as the stickup victim who gets killed while resisting an armed robber.

Flesh and blood are no match for 3,000 to 4,000 pounds of onrushing steel.

CHANGE SPOTS

Cincinnati — Unlike leopards or tigers, girls may soon be able to change their spots — or stripes — or even paisleys, all in a matter of minutes. The spots or other designs printed on a fabric can be ironed away and new ones can be added with a pattern and a sunlamp. Dr. Isay Balinkin, physics professor at the University of Cincinnati, says the secret lies in a special dye impregnating the fabric. At present the dye works only with orange and greenish-gray colors, but is still in the research stage.

The expanse of Idaho is bigger than New York. New Jersey, Massachusetts and New Hampshire combined.

'EVERLASTING' NEW LICENSE PLATES

Boise — Reynolds Aluminum Co. of Richmond, Va., and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., St. Paul, Minn., have been announced as the successful bidders to supply materials for the new, five-year, reflectorized license plates authorized by the 39th Idaho Legislature.

The total of the bids to produce 1,092,089 license plates, which have been ordered from the Idaho state penitentiary, amounts to $376,796.03, according to Ted Cramer, state purchasing agent.

Cramer said the total was below original estimates.

The new plates will be totally reflectorized and have green numerals on a white-silver background. The law provides the plates are to be used for five years, with stickers designating each year to be issued annually.

The bill passed by the legislature provides for an additional fee of 50c per plate to help defray the cost of the new type.

Vehicle owners who desire to reserve certain license plate numbers are reminded a fee of 50c will be charged for this additional service. Money thus collected will remain in the general fund of the county where ordered.

Editor's Note: We hope the new plates are of better quality than those in the past — otherwise, most owners will be hard-put to "get by for five years."

WATCH THAT MILK

Feeding a baby too much milk may cause iron-deficiency anemia, reports a University of Michigan pediatrician. "When a baby's appetite isn't satisfied with a quart of milk a day, or when he is two to three months of age, it's time to start feeding him iron-enriched baby cereal," he says. Children who drink too much milk have no appetite for iron-rich foods such as baby cereal, meat and eggs.

DON'T BREAK THE CHAIN

When someone stops advertising. Someone stops buying. When someone stops buying. Someone stops selling. When someone stops selling. Someone stops making. When someone stops making. Someone stops earning. When someone stops earning. No one can buy, sell or make, or even advertise! So advertising greases the wheels in the chain of events that enable our making a living and that spell out the progress of this community. Don't break the chain!

PENALTIES STIFF FOR CONTINUED LAW VIOLATIONS

W. A. Campbell, local Justice of the Peace points out that laws for continued violations of local, state and similar laws are very severe, and from the Idaho Vehicle Laws of 1961, page 140, Section 49-908 quotes: "Penalties for violations — It shall be unlawful and constitute a misdemeanor for any person to violate any of the provisions of this chapter and any person convicted of such violation shall be subject to punishment by a fine not to exceed $100.00 or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 30 days and to the cancellation of registration of each motor vehicle operated in violation of any order for the regulation or suspension of traffic issued under the authority of this chapter and the cancellation of the license of the operator."

Further, Mr. Campbell says that he believes most drivers are not aware of the new violation point count for traffic violations, and he quotes as follows:

Backing without reasonable safety, 1; driving on wrong side of road, 3; Flashing red light (failure to stop) 3; Following too closely, 3; failure to obey police traffic order, 2 one-way island (failure to obey the markings) 2; passing on wrong side, 3; passing without sufficient clearance, 3; passing on hill crest, 3; passing at intersection or grade crossing, 3; passing with view obstructed, 3; passing violation of white line, 4; failure to yield right of way at an intersection, 3; failure to yield right of way on left turn, 3; failure to yield right of way from private road, 2; failure to yield right of way to an emergency vehicle, 3; failure to yield right of way to pedestrian, 3; right of way failure to use due caution for pedestrian, 3; failure to stop at railroad crossing by school bus, bus or gas truck, 2, and failure to stop for a school bus, 4.

In the line of "variable point violations" are: Failure to signal, 3 to 4; speeding, 3 to 4; failure to reduce speed for curve or hillcrest, 3 to 4; violation of posted bridge speed, 3 to 4; failure to obey local posted speed zone, 3 to 4; failure to stop at stop sign, 3 to 4; failure to stop when coming from alley, 3; pulling out from curb without being safe, 2; failure to obey traffic light, 3; turning right from wrong lane, 3; turning left from wrong lane, 3; turning without 500 feet visibility, 3; failure to yield when being passed, 3; failure to yield when entering through highway, 3.

He recommends that all study the law and obey it.

He added that the law says: Departmental action indicated by accumulated violation points — Total of 6, first letter addressed to licensee; total of eight, personal interview or examination; total of 12 or more, license suspension.
