Mary Etta Ottosen Honored

Here to attend the 89th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Etta Ottosen and the program "This Is Your Life" honoring her, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Clausen of Walla Walla; her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ottosen; her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Lowry, all of Tacoma; her grandsons, Louis Ottosen and his mother, Mrs. Hazel Hill and Kenneth Gruell, his wife Alice and three great-grandchildren, Kathy, Boyd and Lee Gruell, all of Lewiston.

Mrs. Ottosen with her husband and two small children came west from Benton, Minnesota in 1901. They traveled on an emigrant train that was detained by washed-out bridges and bandits who held up the train, escaping with a shipment of gold destined for a federal bank in Montana.

The family settled in the Spokane Valley, later moving to the old town of Ilo (now Craigmont). They moved to Juliaetta in 1908, where her husband died the following spring. She has lived here continuously since then, and for the past 26 years has made her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell.

Events of her life were narrated by Mrs. Gruell.

TIGERS DROP GAME TO WEIPPE 55-13

Melvin Judd of Weippe dashed 90 yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage to start the Weippe Gorillas off to a 55 to 13 victory over the Kendrick Tigers in a Second District eight-man high school football game here Wednesday evening of last week.

The Tigers tied the score on Loren Hoffman's three-yard plunge before the first quarter ended — but couldn't hold before Weippe's assault in the second quarter — and the Gorillas came up with five big touchdowns.

Dave Daniels put the Gorillas ahead on a three-yard plunge opening the second quarter. Kenny Wilson connected then on two scoring passes to Donny Judd for 93 and 13 yards, and dashed another 15 yards for another six-pointer. Robert Durham passed 11 yards to Terry Brown for still another Weippe counter before the half ended.

Brown figured in Weippe's two second-half touchdowns, throwing an eight-yard pass to Joe Hanson for one, and returned a pass interception 30 yards for yet another.

Loren Hoffman passed to Von Zumhove for Kendrick's second touchdown on a play that covered 23 yards.

Rodney Ball scored three Weippe extra points; Wilson one; Donny Judd and Daniels one. Roger Witt scored one for Kendrick.

The victory gave Weippe a 1-1 record. It was Kendrick's second straight loss.

You say a dollar don't go far these days? How about what's going out in foreign aid?

IDAHO '67 TO BE ON TV SEPT. 27TH

U. of I. Moscow — "Idaho '67," a report to the people on the Fund for the Performing Arts Center at the University of Idaho, will be launched on statewide television on Wednesday evening, Sept. 27, from the ballroom of the Student Union Building.

According to the officials at the university, it is the first time ever that television coverage has totally linked the Gem State for any event. About 95 percent of the homes in Idaho will be reached, and the program will launch the local, area and national kick-off drive.

Five television stations will carry the hour show, beginning at 6:00 p. m. Pacific Time, and 7:00 p. m. Mountain Time. The university's educational TV channel, Channel 12 KUID-TV, and KXLY-TV Channel 4 (Spokane) will beam the program at 8:00 o'clock, while KID-TV Channel 3 (Pocatello), KMVT-TV Channel 11 (Twin Falls) and KTVB-TV Channel 7 (Boise) will complete the statewide coverage at 7:00.

To air "Idaho '67" special arrangements for mercury vapor lighting have to be provided somewhere in the 100-foot candlepower range. Cables and other electronic paraphernalia will transform the S. U. B. ballroom into a large television production center.

More than $2 million will be sought from alumni and friends of the university for the Performing Arts Center. The center is designed to provide a music hall seating 1,700, a drama theater with a capacity of 415, and an arena or experimental theater seating 150. Operating from a single stage house, which could, if necessary, allow three programs to be presented simultaneously, the center will have the most modern and efficient facilities available.

It will also provide classrooms, workshops and a state-make-up room, and will be equipped for both closed circuit and educational television, motion pictures and recordings.

Chairman of the drive is George M. Brunzell, president of the Washington Water Power Co., and a 1936 graduate of the University of Idaho. Under his direction more than 2,000 workers will contact nearly 30,000 fellow alumni and friends of the University of Idaho on behalf of the building fund drive.

Moderating the Sept. 27 show will be Dr. Ernest W. Hartung, president of the university. Gov. Donald W. Samuelson will be among the speakers.

The University's concert artists, "The Vandaleers," will perform for the expected 600 guests, who will include 30 state area chairmen.

WEATHER WARMS UP FOLLOWING RAIN

Locally, following the rains of Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 9-11, skies began to clear and "Old Sol" again put in an appearance.

Temperatures ranged from a mild 60 degrees on the 11th, to a sizzling 90 degrees Friday and 88 degrees on Saturday.

Sunday was a truly beautiful fall day, with the mercury recording another comfortable 88 degrees under cloudless skies, and with a light breeze blowing.

Tuesday was another beautiful fall day. There wasn't a cloud in the sky and the temperature reached 86 degrees — with the Indian Summer haze beginning to appear.

Norman Lewis of the State Forestry Department warns that despite the rain, fire danger still remains high, and everyone should use the utmost caution at all times.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR A. S. C. VOTING

the election are all farmers who are eligible to take part in one or more of the farm programs which the committee administers. Lists of eligible voters in each community are available for public inspection at the county office.

Anyone who believes that he is eligible to vote, but has not received a ballot, is urged to get in touch with the A. S. C. county office immediately.

HOW OUR SCHOOLS HAVE GROWN

Boise — In 1940 there were 1,195 school districts in Idaho. Ten years later, in 1950, the number had been reduced to 301, and in the school year 1965-66 there were 117 districts, ten of which were elementary units having no high schools.

In the 1939-1940 school year there were 121,987 pupils enrolled; in 1949-1950 school year there were 127,031. Ten years later there were 162,400, and in 1965-1966 there were 181,526 — quite an increase to say the very least.

In the ten years from 1940 to 1950 the enrollment increased 5 percent; in the next ten years it increased 28 percent, or nearly 3 percent per year.

In the six years between 1960 and 1966 the enrollment increased by 12 percent. However, each of the last two years shows an increase of only 1 percent, indicating that the school population is stabilizing itself — and this is true nationwide. (These are statewide data and some local districts must be excepted). It is interesting to compare other basic education data. For example: The teachers in Idaho, in numbers as well as in relation to students have also changed. In 1940, there were 4,513 education personnel employed in the elementary and secondary field. Ten years later, there were 4,902, an increase of 9 percent, and a decrease in the pupil-teacher ratio. The next 16 years, as would be expected, show another increase in teachers to a total of 7,584, or 50 percent increase. (All educational personnel).

The pupil-teacher ratio in 1940 was 26.8 pupils enrolled per teacher, compared to 23.94 in 1965-66.

AREA BIRD PLANT EXPLAINED BY GAME OFFICER

M. J. Merrill of the Fish and Game Department, out of Lewiston called at the Gazette last week to give some statistics on bird releases in the near-by counties.
 Approximately 2,200 birds have been released yearly in Latah and Nez Perce counties during the last nine years. Costs per-bird released is $2.00 and cost per bird bagged is $6.00.
 Around 9,000 birds are to be released in the 10 Northern Counties, 1,700 of which will be of the new Green Pheasants turned loose in the Idaho Panhandle and the 2,000 which have already been released in the Nez Perce and Latah County area.

NURSING HOMES

Nursing homes, convalescent homes and extended-care facilities of hospitals seem to have received the greatest impact from Medicare, says a Chicago corporation. Medicare gives elderly subscribers coverage for up to 100 days in an extended-care facility. To compete for these patients, many of whom have lung and heart disorders, the facilities have had to install modern oxygen systems, oxygen therapy and resuscitation equipment and other medical items that they did not have before.

One of every six adults in the U.S. has been a 4-H member, claims the Cooperative Extension Service. At the present time the total 4-H Alumni in 50 states is some 26 million men and women. Their influence in community, state and nation is often noteworthy and merits special attention. One such way is through the 4-H Alumni Recognition program, now in its 15th year.
 Men and women from all walks of life are nominated by friends and relatives for alumni for 4-H alumni award, according to 4-H leaders. Each county provided annually by the program will select four residents for local recognition and the alumni pin.
 Among prominent people who have received the 4-H alumni gold key—the highest award—are educators, businessmen, statesmen, farmers, entertainers, clergymen and an astronaut.
 They include Edd H. Bailey, president of Union Pacific Railroad; Mary Merryfield, a syndicated newspaper columnist; Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr.; Roy Rogers, movie and television star; Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, past president of General Federation of Women's Clubs; Robert Simpkins, prominent New Jersey farmer; J. Earl Coke, recently retired vice president, Bank of America, and Dr. George W. Beadle, former president, University of Chicago.
 This year scores of qualified candidates will be considered for 4-H alumni award, according to 4-H leaders. Each county provided annually by the program will select four residents for local recognition and the alumni pin.
 During the past three years more than 6,300 persons received the alumni recognition pin.
 Four men and women also may be named for 1967 state honors. Each will receive a handsome bronze and walnut plaque appropriately inscribed.
 The 4-H alumni key is presented annually to eight national winners at the alumni banquet held during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.
 For information on how to submit names for alumni awards, contact the county extension office. The former 4-H'er need not now reside in his home county or state.

ALL ARRANGED

A little girl of seven entered a store in a small town and said: "I want some cloth to make my dolly a dress."
 The merchant selected a remnant and handed the child the package.
 "How much is it?" she asked.
 "Just one kiss," was the reply.
 "All right," said the child as she turned to go. "Grandma said to tell you she would pay you when she came in tomorrow."

PARK PATER BY MRS. JERRY SMITH

FAIR OVER — Park and its people have returned a little closer to normal pace after the rush of the Latah County Fair. Every youngster who is old enough belongs to the local 4-H Club, the "Busy Beavers," a total of seven from four families. All entered many projects in the competition and each won his or her share of ribbons. Park was nearly deserted as parents drove youngsters back and forth to care for livestock and took their turns working to make the Fair run smoothly.

ANOTHER GRANDDAUGHTER — Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Enger are happy to announce their granddaughter, Julie Ann, two-week old daughter of their eldest son, Charles and wife, of Elk River is doing fine. She underwent surgery only hours after her birth to correct intestinal trouble but is now progressing well. Her parents hope to take her home by the end of the week.

CLUB TO MEET — The Boulder Creek Club will hold its first fall meeting Sept. 21, with Viola Freytag at Helmer. Under discussion will be a community cook book and projects for this winter's meetings.

THANK YOU, FRIENDS — I wish to express my thanks to the W. S. C. S. for honoring me on my birthday with "This Is Your Life," for the many greetings and gifts received, and most of all for your friendship. — Mary Ottosen 38-1

HUNTING TRIP INSTRUCTIONS

As hunting season draws near, we believe it time for a reprint of hunting trip instructions — particularly for the out-of-state hunter, many of whom seem to follow most of them:

First you need a fast car — so you can beat the other hunters to the best spots. That will give you a chance of being killed before you get out in the woods. And save some other hunter some ammo and the mess of shooting you.

One or two cases of whiskey, four cases of beer, and lots of ammo. Food, tents and sleeping bags take up a lot of space, so get another case of whiskey, instead.

Don't pay any attention to "No Trespassing" signs. They are meant only for the other guy.

Be sure to shoot anything that moves. If it's not a deer, there's always a chance it might be your mother-in-law.

Now, when you bag a deer, be sure to shoot all the shells you have left into it. This will be sure to splinter all the bones and bust all the entrails.

Don't bother to wash or wipe it out, as the blood and manure will improve the flavor. Besides, the locker plant operator will be disappointed if you bring in a clean one.

If you decide to skin it, be sure to roll it around in the dirt, leaves and pine needles. Then wrap it in newspapers as they will stick well, and printer's ink has the delicate flavor of burned rubber.

Now drag it out to the car; throw it over the hood as close to the radiator as possible, so it will get all the heat and dust, and so people will be sure to see that you got one!

On the way home, stop in at least one tavern — so you can tell all the other liars how you killed it. And be sure to stretch your kill into at least a mile.

Be sure to stay at the tavern until you can be certain the locker plant you want to hang your deer in has been closed for the night and the operator is sound asleep. Call him now and tell him to get right down as you must get your deer hung in the cooler before it spoils.

He will no doubt have a lot of others hanging around, so make sure he cuts yours first, and makes it all into choice steaks and chops. And durned if he won't try!

In talking over the successful hunt at the bar never admit you shot an old, toothless, tough buck. Remember — what you brought home was a fat, dry doe — delicious steaks! — Anon.

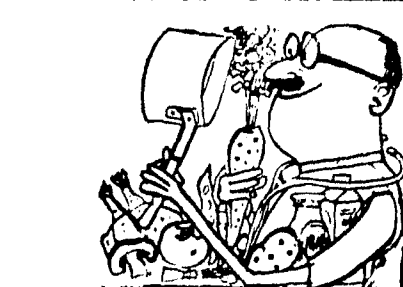

TEST SOIL SAMPLES NOW FOR SPRING

U. of I., Moscow — "Get soil samples tested right now," urges Frank Parks, University of Idaho research and extension associate. By having the soil tested in the fall, farmers will be sure to get the results back before it's too late for spring planting.

Fertilizing can begin in the fall when the soil is in good condition instead of depending on fields to be dry in the spring.

The procedure for getting soil tested is very simple: Contact your local county agent. He will have brown "soil" bags, a soil sample card to be filled out and instructions on how to take a soil sample.

Next take a soil sample. The recommended amount is approximately one pound. Be sure the sample is representative of the whole

FISH IN THE DIET

The Pennsylvania Medical Society reports that an estimated one billion tons of fish are born every year in the waters which cover so much of the earth. The balance of this huge increase is maintained because the larger fish feed on the smaller fish, and themselves fall prey to the still larger fish. And to man.

In many homes during this Lenten season, religious considerations call for abstention from meats and meat products on fast days. There may also be some meat-lovers who will give up meat as a Lenten sacrifice. If so, protein alternates are essential to keep a balanced diet.

Fish Is Plentiful
 Among the best of these is fish. There are many nations where fish is much more plentiful than meat. One finds fish as a course routinely on hotel and restaurant menus in all of Europe, at dinner and sometimes at luncheon. In the Orient fish is a staple in many diets where meats seldom appear. The variety and tastiness of fish dishes in the Scandinavian countries is well known.

When we say 'fish,' we include as a matter of course, the shell fish — oysters, clams, crayfish, lobsters, crabs, mussels, abalone, scallops and the less popular squid. Any variety of fish supplies good quality protein. Fish and seafood from the ocean contribute in addition, necessary minute quantities of iodine required by the body. Before the cause of simple goiter was ascertained about 45 years ago, populations using extensive quantities of deep sea fish in their diets thus were automatically protected against this condition, and they still are.

Former Problems
 Fish used to be difficult to handle. They had to be cooked and eaten rather promptly in order to avoid spoilage. Good fish from the ocean were scarce inland. Out of this there arose the superstition that fish and milk should not be eaten at the same time. Actually, fish and milk were both about equally perishable before modern methods of handling were available, so any disturbance created by taking fish and milk together was probably due to one or the other being spoiled. Now that both can be handled safely, no one need be afraid of delicious fish-and-milk dishes such as oyster stew, fish bisques and Boston chowders, scalloped fish and seafood, or just a good cold glass of milk with a fish dinner.

Fish Is Delicious
 There is no end of delicious fish dishes to suit any taste; broiled swordfish steak, boiled finnan haddock, deep-fried Dover sole, pompano en papillote (baked in a paper bag with shrimp and lobster steak), tuna casserole with rice, brook trout, shrimps in cocktail or deep-fried, lobsters in a dozen different styles, oysters Rockefeller, fish sticks (good for a change at breakfast), salmon loaf, smoked fish of various kinds, herring marinated or kippered... Fish, in fact, should be included in the diet year 'round. It's a good food.

field so an accurate test may be made. Do not take samples from dead furrows, fertilizer bands, urine spots and old fence rows.

Then air dry the soil. After the soil is completely dried, place it in the soil bag and return both bag and card to your county agent. He will forward the sample to the university. When it is returned he will recommend the fertilizer which will provide the most nutrients in the soil for maximum yield.

Parks advises testing every four or five years to determine what changes have occurred.

The university handles soil testing for the entire state. Last year about 7,000 soil samples were tested. Even more are expected this year.

IDAHO BEEF COUNCIL BEGINS COLLECTION

Boise — Idaho's beef industry will mark the beginning of a new era on October 1st. On that day the Idaho Beef Council will start collecting 10 cents per head on each head of Idaho cattle sold. The funds so derived will be devoted towards making the Idaho beef industry "the sterling silver piece of Idaho's agriculture" in the words of John A. McBoyle of Grangeville, President of the Idaho Beef Council.

What is the Idaho Beef Council and where does it get its authority? Enabling legislation for this council was enacted by the last session of the Idaho Legislature and the bill is known as "Senate Bill 160." Lawmakers drafted this bill after studying similar programs now in effect in other states. California had the first beef council in the western states and it is interesting to note that just recently Gov. Reagan signed into law an act to amend the California Council Law that will make it very similar to the new Idaho Act. Both the Idaho Cattle Feeders' Association and the Idaho Cattlemen's Association endorsed this proposal at their annual conventions prior to its adoption.

Idaho's beef industry that a charge of not to exceed 10 cents per head will be levied at the time of brand inspection for change of ownership on all Idaho cattle. There will be no Beef Council collection when cattle are inspected for migratory movement only.

RED CROSS CENTER HOLDS CONFERENCE

Joy Davis, a sophomore at Kendrick High School, attended the annual High School Red Cross Leadership Center at the Christian Church Conference grounds at Liberty Lake, Aug. 13th to 19th. Forty-eight high school students from 23 Inland Empire high schools attended the conference. Lectures, role playing situations, speeches, field experiences and special interest groups are some of the means through which the young people were given the opportunity to learn leadership techniques.

In the special interest group, for instance, the participants were to "initiate a project with a practical outcome." Practical outcomes included a newspaper for the session and the banquet on Friday night.

During the conference they heard and talked with several leaders in various fields. A speech professor from E. W. C. E. at Cheney addressed the group twice, giving pointers on public speaking.

Dr. Moreland Fort, Red Cross Western Area Director of Youth, and Caroline Walsh, Western Area Director of Service to Military Families, both from San Francisco, addressed the delegates on the functions of their respective departments
