GARDEN CLUB TO BE FAIR HOSTESS

This year the Hill and Valley Garden Club of Kendrick will be hostesses for the Flower Show at the Latah County Fair, Sept. 12th through 15th at Moscow. The other garden clubs of the county will assist the Kendrick Club. Mrs. Werner Brämmer and Mrs. Stanley Hepler, both of Kendrick, are co-chairmen for the show.

The over-all theme of the Fair, "Latah On Parade" is also the theme of the flower show. Surely Latah County is on parade at the Fair, and the flower show chairmen wish to urge everyone to enter and show what Latah County can do.

The Horticulture section includes classes for all types of garden flowers and house plants. There is a section for arrangements, and to make this more interesting and to stimulate the imagination it has been divided into named classes. Included in the schedule is a special Junior Division for ages 15 and under in both horticulture and artistic arrangements.

A Premium book, which lists the schedule for the flower show may be obtained at all banks in Latah county.

LATAH COUNTY FAIR SEPT. 11-14

The Latah County Fair is a duly constituted part of county government.

The Latah County Commissioners yearly appoint seven regular fairboard members and two advisory members to conduct the business of preparing for and conducting a fair. Fairboard members are bonded.

Each year the County Commissioners set a fair levy tax to cover the budget prepared by the fairboard.

By law the levy is limited to 1/2 mill for operation and 1/2 mill for building.

Latah County fair levy was set at 3/4 mill for 1968. This will pay for fair-ground maintenance, the paving of Harold Street, new construction, fair premiums, and other cost of putting on the fair.

Fairboard members for 1968 are:

Chairman: Richard Benjamin, Kendrick; vice chairman: Lawrence Curtis Pottlach; Mrs. Engle Anderson, treasurer, Moscow; Patrick Nunan, Troy; Homer Sawyer, Pottlach; Mrs. Paul Anderson, Jr., Pottlach; Mrs. Werner Brämmer, Kendrick; John Myers, Jr., Genesee; Tom Neal, Moscow.

The facilities at the fairgrounds consist of about 20 acres of ground, a show barn, two livestock barns, a food booth, and a large exhibit building.

The facilities belong to the people of Latah County and are debt free.

Latah County Fair goes will be well fed by Latah Pomona Grange and Kennedy Ford Grange.

Every year the food booth is the favorite visiting place; enhanced by the prospects of good food.

The Fairboard has added two new extra large grills to the food booth equipment, and this should facilitate service.

FIREMEN CAN COMPETE AT FAIR

Fire Chief Geo. Anderson said this week he had received a letter from Ralph McCallister, Moscow Fire Chief, informing him that there will again be a night show by the Fire Departments of Latah County at the county fair on Thursday night, September 12.

McCallister asked Genesee if there were any local firemen interested in entering one of the competitive events such as the "make and break" hose tests. The first practice session for this firemen's night will be held Thursday, September 5, at 7:00 p. m. at the Firefighters Training Center in Moscow.

Anderson also said he had received a letter informing him that the fall session of the North Idaho Fire Fighters will be held September 8 in Coeur d'Alene.

On Saturday, August 10, 1968, at 7 o'clock in the evening, Miss Diane Ruth Sougstad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sougstad of Fulton, South Dakota, became the bride of Doug D. Armitage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Armitage of Southwick, Idaho. The double ring candlelight ceremony took place at the First Church of the Nazarene at Nampa, Idaho.

The Reverend A. E. Woodcock officiated before an altar flanked with two heavy baskets of gold and bronze chrysantheums and lighted tapers in candelabra. Tapers also lighted the center aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white satin peau de soie. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, empire waist and A-line skirt. The floor-length train, long sleeves and neckline were lace trimmed. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a pill-box headpiece. On her Bible she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orange zornia roses which were centered with a white orchid.

Miss Brenda Sougstad, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Attendants were Mrs. Harry Little, of Boise, and Mrs. Myron Sougstad of Denver, they are sister and sister-in-law, respectively, of the bride. All wore gowns of gold satin, which were similar to the bride's in design and each carried a single bronze mum.

Dave Armitage, brother of the groom, served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Duane Meske and Rex Crumline. Ushers were Michael Holt and Harry Little.

Mrs. Doug Cleveland of Nampa, played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Elmon Ness of Nampa who was soloist. Mrs. Dave Armitage was wedding hostess and Mrs. Leonard Fletcher was wedding coordinator.

HAARVEST AGAIN

Deliveries of grain were brought in to the Genesee Union Warehouse Tuesday afternoon following a slow down of harvest operations due to heavy rains. Some local farmers, however, had resumed combining in the area on Saturday but were unable to continue due to the light rainfall Sunday morning.

Forrest Durbin, manager of Genesee Union Warehouse Company, said Tuesday evening that 300,000 bushels of this year's wheat had already been shipped from the local co-op since the start of harvest, and added that facilities at the warehouse will handle this year's crop.

Mulling barley, he said has suffered the most damage from rain, and added that barley brought in now would be used for feed because of mold damage.

Durbin also stated that the test weight of wheat is now about 57 pounds per bushel.

TIGERS AT NEZPERCE FRIDAY FOR GRID OPENER

Coach Terry Taylor, with 10 returning lettermen back to bolster the roster, sends his 1968 edition of the Kendrick Tigers out for their gridiron debut Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. against the Nezperce High School Indians on the Indian field.

"We're going to be real small this year," said Taylor. "Our line will probably average about 155 pounds. Not very big when compared to some of the other teams," he added.

On the plus side of the ledger for the Tigers this year is the return of six of their starters from last year's tough team. Back will be quarterback Loren Hoffman, Halfbacks Mark Heimgartner and Steve Howerton, Ends Von Zumhore and Danny Brown and Center Bob Allen. In addition, Coach Terry can call on four more lettermen from last year's squad.

Twenty-nine hopefuls drew uniforms this year.

For the Tigers and Coach Taylor, it will be a return to 11-man football after a lengthy campaign in the eight-man football ranks.

This year the Tigers will have league game with Nezperce, Troy, and Genesee, playing each team two times on a home-and-home basis.

Injuries haven't been a problem so far, said the Tiger coach. Loren Hoffman suffered a mildly sprained ankle at the start of practice, but is rounding out into good form now.

Just how tough the Indians of Nezperce will be is hard to judge. The prairie team opening their season last Saturday night against the Kubs of Kamiah in a non-league contest and were edged out 14-8. But this doesn't give any indication of their league strength.

Kendrick will have their home opener Friday, September 13 at the local field at 2 p. m. This time was advanced from an evening game because of the county fair conflict. Gale Vallem will be assisting Coach Taylor with the team this year and Jerry Galloway will be manager.

TROY FOOTBALL GAME CHANGED

In accordance with the annual Latah County Fair, the Kendrick-Troy football game on Friday, September 13, has been changed to 2:00 P. M. instead of the previous 7:00 P. M. time.

This change was made possible by the cooperation of both schools so that the people of the community could support their respective teams and still attend the fair that evening.

Remember—Kendrick-Troy football game changed to 2:00 P. M. Friday, September 13.

BULLDOGS BLAST HIGHLAND 41-0 FOR FIRST WIN

Speedy scabbard Jim Scharnhorst sparked on both offense and defense Saturday night as the Genesee High School Bulldogs opened the 1968 football season with a 41-0 victory over Highland High of Craigmont. The game also marked Genesee's return to the ranks of 11-man football after a thirteen year campaign in the eight-man leagues.

It was Scharnhorst who scored Genesee's first two touchdowns which gave the Kanikkeberg boys their 14-0 halftime lead. Both teams, especially the Bulldogs, showed signs of first-game jitters and fumbles and rule infractions were commonplace throughout the contest.

Highland kicked off to start the contest and the ball was taken by Terry Geltz on the GHS 15. Geltz brought it back to the 37. Genesee drew a 15-yard penalty and finally kicked from their own 20. Highland was held to just 6 yards before they were forced to punt. Genesee then marched down the field with Scharnhorst setting up the touchdown with a 16-yard run that brought the ball down to the 8-yard line. Jim cracked over for the 6 points on the next play. Darrel Green, who was quarterbacking, sneaked over for the extra point.

Scharnhorst scored in the second quarter on a 33-yard punt return, after Highland had held Genesee to downs on the previous series of plays and had taken possession of the ball. Highland lost 6 yards before kicking and Scharnhorst took the punt into the end zone for the Bulldog TD. Doug Springer, hampered by a leg injury received during training, banged through center for the extra point.

In the third quarter Scharnhorst had a 40-yard touchdown run called back on a roughing the kicker violation but Genesee picked up a 2-point safety minutes later when the Highland quarterback was trapped and dropped behind his goal line by Mark Dennler and Mark Busch.

Martin Gilge set the stage for the next Genesee score with a gallop of thirty yards that brought the ball down to the Highland 7. Darrel Green took it to the 2-yard line, Doug Springer to the 1-foot mark and then Scharnhorst slipped over to make the score 23-0; after Gilge had scored the extra-point.

Just before the third quarter ended Genesee was back to the 1-yard line. In the first play of the fourth quarter Morscheck cracked through for the touchdown. The extra point try failed and GHS led 29-0.

Doug Springer had to cross the goal line twice to score in the fourth period. Dick Green had run 28 yards down to the 2-yard line then Springer scored but was called back by a penalty. Genesee moved back to the 2-yard line where Doug, on a quarterback sneak, tallied again. The extra point went by the boards as Mark Busch tried converting with a kick that failed.

Scharnhorst rounded out the final score with a 59-yard run in the fourth period.

At Troy Friday
Genesee packs up Friday night and invades the Troy Trojan gridiron for their first league game. In the only league action Saturday night Nezperce took a 14-6 defeat from the Kamiah Kubs.

GUN CONTROL

By Aaron Ament
The United States today is plagued with civil disaster. An end to this reign of chaos does not seem to be in sight, but there still remains in our society a will to hope for and fight for an end to this disastrous time.
I do not feel that there is any "sure fire" or "easy one step" method of dealing with the problems before us because they are too large and exist on too many levels of our society; but, I do feel that a strengthening and modernization of the gun laws now in effect would go a long way toward solving the problem of disorder in our country and would provide a firm foundation for future legislation in this area.
I feel that if gun control is to be at all effective in the United States, the Federal government will have to pass legislation that will:
1. Put an end to mail order traffic in firearms.
2. Require registration of all firearms and provide a penalty for non-compliance with this law.

IDAHO GUN LAWS LISTED

Because of the national dialogue now underway on the matter of additional restrictions on the public use of firearms, and because another big game hunting season is in the offing, the Idaho Fish and Game Department today listed the following regulations governing the use of firearms in this state:
Idaho Fish and Game law requires persons carrying an uncased rifle or shotgun in field or forest to have a valid hunting license.
Children under 12 are not eligible to purchase a hunting license, and hence cannot carry an uncased gun in field or forest.
The use of any .22 caliber firearm, shooting rim-fire cartridges, is prohibited on any game animal except cottontail rabbit. Center-fire cartridges may be used, including the "218-Bee." (Game animals are listed below).
It is unlawful to use .22 caliber firearms on upland game birds or waterfowl. Rifles or pistols may be used in hunting forest grouse and turkeys.
Automatic rifles (those firing continuously with one depression of the trigger) are illegal and may not be used on game. (The semi-automatic rifle is legal). (Federal regulation).
Shotgun barrels must be over 18" in length. (Federal regulation).

Shotguns may be used to hunt any big game animal. Use of buckshot, slugs or ball in shotgun is permitted.
Pistols, except .22 caliber, may be used on big game (not illegal), but are not recommended.
Carrying concealed weapons is unlawful in Idaho. Permits must be obtained from county sheriff. (Criminal Code, Idaho).
The following game animals may be hunted during specified seasons and according to regulations only: antelope, bear, cottontail rabbit, deer, elk, moose, mountain goat, mountain sheep.
A holder of a resident license may hunt the following nongame animals at any time during the year: bobcat, cougar, coyote, fox, ground squirrel, jack rabbit, raccoon, rockchuck, showshoe rabbit.
Nonresident gun license at $5.00 permits the taking of the above species.
The following upland game birds may be hunted during specified seasons. Grouse of any species, (including sage grouse), pheasant, huns, turkey, chukar, and quail.
Ducks, geese, and mourning doves may be hunted during certain specified seasons.
The following unprotected birds may be hunted at any time during the year: cormorant, crow, English sparrow, kingfisher, magpie, pelican, raven and

3. Stop the sale of firearms to non-residents of a state unless that person is legally able to own a firearm in his home state.
4. Stop the sale of destructive devices to the general public.
A bill to stop mail order traffic in firearms would, to quote the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy, "save hundreds of lives in this country and spare thousands of families all across this land the grief and heartbreak that may come from the loss of a husband, a son, a brother, or a friend."
"It is time that we wipe this strain of violence from our land."
Registration of firearms would better enable local law enforcement agencies to trace firearms used in crimes to their owners. It would enable local law officers to rapidly find out if a certain character, considered to be dangerous, possessed a registered firearm. If it is found that this character does possess an unregistered firearm, it would give police grounds for arrest (as was the case of James Earl Ray in London) instead of having to wait for the person to break the law.
The sale of firearms to a non-resident who cannot legally own a firearm in his own state will have to be stopped if the gun laws in our separate states are to be effective. It does no good to stop the sale of hand guns to felons in Michigan if that felon can cross the state line and purchase a hand gun.
To quote the Senate Bill 1, 1967, "The lack of adequate Federal control over interstate and foreign commerce in highly destructive weapons has allowed such weapons and devices to fall into the hands of lawless persons, including armed groups who would supplant lawful authority, thus creating a problem of national concern."
In the last 3 years in the United States, 335 police officers were killed with guns. Only 53 of these killings took place in the densely populated Northeast where there exists some minimum gun control measures while over one-hundred-fifty occurred in the South where there is little or no gun control. I think this speaks for the effect of gun control.

(2). Cake decorated to promote use of Latah County Wheat.

Score Card: 40 per cent flavor; 10 per cent texture, 50 per cent attractiveness of decoration.

TAKING LUNCH TO SCHOOL

Almost a billion dollars worth of nutritious lunches are served in our schools each year. Our school lunch programs are a great assist in nutrition education as well as public health.

But with all this, there still are some 10 million children attending schools that do not have any food service at all. And millions more children do not participate in school lunch programs where they exist.

Obviously, many are carrying their lunches to school, and so this column is addressed to such students and their mothers.

You will do well, if you are carrying your lunch to school, to imitate the nutrition offered by the organized school lunch programs. What do I mean by that? Well, I mean you should be guided by the four food group plan. That's what guides the nutritionists who plan school lunches.

Four Food-Group Plan

It means you try to have foods representing the meat group, the milk group, fruits and vegetables, and cereals and breads in every meal. Is it hard to do? Not really. In many instances, perhaps most instances, you are doing it already. But try to keep it in mind so that you will do it without fail. And this applies to other meals, too.

A packed lunch for a school child most often contains a sandwich or two. So, with this you probably have meat, or cheese, or egg salad or some such food that qualifies as primarily a protein food.

Other ideas in this category include peanut butter, fish filets or tuna salad, chicken, turkey, ham; and even cold baked beans make a great sandwich. This takes care of the meat group. And since you've already put the filling between slices of bread, you've included the breads and cereals group.

A Complete Meal

All you need to complete this meal, then, is milk and some kind of fruit, lettuce in the sandwich, celery or carrot sticks, and so forth. If milk cannot be purchased at school, take it along in a small thermos. Assuming milk can be purchased, use the thermos for soup, especially in the winter, as another means of giving your child a combination of milk and vegetable flavors, or vegetables and meat. We all love soup.

That's all there is to it unless you wish to get fancier and add a salad. Girls, in particular, like this. Here you will be strong on fruits and vegetables, plus even bite-size meat items if you wish, and a plastic container will help in transporting the salad to school in that lunch bag. Tossed greens, canned fruit combinations, celery, kidney beans, tomatoes, cucumber slices, radishes—all these offer variety and good nutrition. Plastic throw-away knives and forks will help both in putting the salad together and for immediate eating.

It is, as you can see, easy to make a carried lunch nutritious, and also it can be attractive.

Home Cookin'...

Our cook comes from Juliaetta this week and we are very happy to welcome Raleigh Albright to our long list of good cooks. Thank you, Mr. Albright. I know our readers will enjoy trying your recipe, and liking the results.

FIRE WATER DILLS

Ingredients:
1½ qts. vinegar to a gallon of mixture
Mixture:
4 tsp. ground mustard
1 tsp. powdered alum
4 tsp. dill seed
Then to make Fire Water Dills, add:
1½ oz. cayenne pepper
½ clove garlic (optional)
This is open crock pickles

Method:
Wash cucumbers and place in container. Weight them down before putting in liquid.

The story behind the pickles:
Mr. Albright says, I was making pickles one day and I decided to put a little cayenne pepper in the mixture and it made it seal good and hot.

He says, "I was the oldest of 4 boys and we helped our mother, just like girls. I cooked most of my life (more or less). When I'm cooking, he went on to say, I like to make something different. I never follow a recipe. If it is good "hurrah." If not, I know where to throw it. They pretty nearly always eat it."

"We took some dill pickles to a dinner at the Indian Methodist Church at Lapwai. I told them they were new pickles and different. I called them "Hot Dills." They called them "Fire-water Dills." The Indians didn't serve them for dinner. They kept them out in the kitchen and ate them themselves."

MEN IN AVIATION

Wash., D. C. — It's a man's world when it comes to flying airplanes. Sixty-five years after the Wright brothers developed the airplane, women are still a definite minority group in aviation. The latest Federal Aviation Administration figures show only 23,659 active women pilots in the U. S. — less than five percent of the national total.

JOB PLACEMENTS UP SLIGHTLY

Twenty-eight Latah County workers were given job finding help by the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment during the past week, according to a report made by Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager. Hartstein said that this was a higher figure than reported for the previous week, but fewer than the number placed on jobs during the same week a year ago. Hartstein said that 60 new jobs were listed with his office during the week, and that workers were in such short supply that the needs of area employers were not being met. Eighty-nine jobs were still open at the end of the week. Job opportunities were available for persons who qualify in nearly all fields of work that is done in this area. Local and nearby employers need auto mechanics, grocerymen, a bulk oil truck driver, wood workers, farm tractor operators, dishwashers, a lube man, a baker and a parts clerk; as well as secretaries, bookkeepers, salesladies, grocery checkers, motel maids, cooks, waitresses, both serving food and cocktails, housekeepers, and other domestic workers. Hartstein said that the worker shortage in the area was about as severe as he has seen it in many years. Some workers have been enticed into the area, and with the return of married students to Moscow, some easing of the shortage of female help should be noted. Hartstein urged anyone seeking employment at this time to be sure to contact his office Tuesday.
 Only one person filed a new claim for unemployment insurance during the week through the Moscow Employment office, Hartstein's report continued. The total jobless pay recipients through out the county, dropped to 65 from the previous week's 71, and compared with 62 a year ago. Hartstein said that unless something unexpected happens, the total should decline by more than half during the next week.

The sublime and the ridiculous are often so nearly related that it is difficult to class them separately.—Thomas Paine.

BARLEY GROWERS URGED TO USE LOAN

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman yesterday announced that barley will be included in the 1969 feed grain program because of the sharply changed barley supply situation in the last few weeks and from a year ago.
 Secretary Freeman also urged farmers to use the price-support loan for 1968 crop barley rather than selling on currently depressed markets. Storage does not appear to be readily available for barley at local points. However there is ample terminal storage that can be used for price-support loans on barley, particularly for the major producing areas or north and south Dakota, Montana and Minnesota.
 The decision to include barley in the 1969 feed grain program following the rapidly rising production for 1968. The August forecast indicated a crop this year of 425 million bushels. This is a 20 million bushel increase from the first report as of July 1 and 55 million bushels above 1967.
 When the decision to not include barley in the 1969 feed grain program was announced in mid-June with the 1969 wheat program determination. Barley production on the basis of planting intentions appeared to be only slightly above last year and a little less than average yearly production. At that time, supplies did not appear to be excessive. Better than average yields have pushed the crop nearly 15 per cent above last year's output. Thus, a reappraisal of barley supplies for this year prompted the change announced today to bring production next year back into line with needs.
 Secretary Freeman said that there is no need for farmers in many areas to use the price support loan. Where terminal storage space is available it can be used in order to get price-support loans. This is particularly the situation in the 4-state heavy production area. There is ample storage space in the Minnesota area to which it is practical to move barley from most of the area. The help of local warehousemen and others in the area has been enlisted to assist farmers in moving barley to terminal storage where it can be eligible for price-support loan. By getting a loan, farmers in the 4-state area could realize as much as 10 to 15 cents per bushel more than the current market. While there may be some additional handling cost for the movement to terminal storage, freight, which is the major cost, is reflected in the high loan rate for terminal-stored barley. At present market prices, any added costs would be considerably less than the amount by which loan rates are current.

A civilized man does not expect special favors because of birth, fortune or position.

Someone has rightly said that a bigamist is one who loves, not wisely, but too well!

It is preferable to selling at harvest time which would add to the present downward pressure of market prices.

SIMPLIFIED METHOD FOR CLAIMING MEDICARE BENEFITS

D. Gene Shaw, District Manager

When Medicare first started on July 1, 1966, there were two ways for older people to get their doctor bills and other medical services paid under the program. The first called for the doctor or other supplier of service to agree to claim the 80 percent payment direct from Medicare by filing out a simple one-page application form. The other required that the individual first pay the bill and then apply for the Medicare payment.

During the first year a half of Medicare, about half of the claims for doctor bills were put in directly by the doctors, while the beneficiaries had to apply, after paying the bill, in about half the cases. The system worked well enough as almost $1.3 billion was paid in benefits under it. For some older people who could raise the money to pay the bill only by borrowing or by depriving themselves of necessities while waiting for the Medicare payment to come in, this worked a real hardship.

Congress has changed the law so that beginning January 1, 1968, the patient can submit a claim without having paid the bill first. The claim must either be accompanied by an itemized bill or the doctor's office must complete part II of the request for payment form, which takes the place of an itemized bill. Under this method, 80 percent of the reasonable charge, after the deductible is met, would be paid to the patient, who in turn can apply to his medical bill.

The assignment method by which the doctor, or other supplier of service, may submit the claim directly to Medicare is still in effect. This method requires the use of the one-page "Request for Payment" form. Under this method, the doctor agrees to accept the "reasonable charge" determined by the insurance company as the basis for his payment. His payment is then 80 percent of this "reasonable charge," less

ATHLETE'S HEART

Boise — With attention that has been given to "athlete's heart" it may come as something of a surprise to learn that the "loafer's heart" is more likely to cause trouble, reports the Idaho Medical Association.

The loafer's heart only seems healthy. Geared to the soft living that produced it, it may not be strong enough to do its job in times of exceptional stress.

Also, the loafer's heart is more vulnerable to emotional pressures and to excessive smoking.

The old notion that the athlete's heart is abnormal and over-enlarged is a myth. There is no evidence that exercises has ever damaged a normal heart in a properly conditioned person. A program of regular exercise, moderate at first and gradually increasing is needed to "train" a heart and keep it fit.

Almost everyone can have an athlete's strong heart through a program of regular exercise that builds endurance and stamina.

ONLY TOO TRUE!

A persistent salesman refused to leave when the secretary told him the boss was out. An hour passed, then two. Finally, weary of being a prisoner in his own office, the boss admitted the salesman.

"My secretary told you I was out," exclaimed the puzzled boss.

"How'd you know I was in?"

"Easy," explained the salesman. "Your secretary was working."

any outstanding deductible that has not yet been met.

Under either method, the patient is still responsible for the first $50.00 of medical expenses each year, which is his deductible. The patient is also responsible for the 20 per cent which Medicare does not pay after the deductible is met.

By using one of the two methods described above, Medicare patients will be able to have the bulk of their expenses paid without any real hardship to them or their doctor. Of course, the patient can still pay his doctor bill first if he wishes and then submit his claim as he did under the old law.

For further information about the new Medicare ask your social security office for leaflet SSI-1967-2.

Gal: Say, that's a bad gash you have on your forehead; how did you get it?
Guy: I bit myself.
Gal: Come now, how could you bite yourself on your forehead?
Guy: I stood on a chair.

Two expectant fathers were nervously pacing the floor in the waiting room of a maternity hospital. "What tough luck," grumbled one. "This had to happen during my vacation."
"You think you've got troubles?" replied the other. "I'm on my honeymoon."
