Latah Lawmaker Starts Survey of Views In Area About Daylight Savings Time

Area residents are being called upon today to participate in a straw ballot opinion on Daylight Savings Time.

According to Rep. George F. Brocke of District No. 5, a local sampling is to become part of a statewide straw ballot expression to see if the Legislature should either change the present law or leave it alone.

An attempt to feel the public pulse on Daylight Savings Time failed two years ago when petition sponsors fell short of getting the required 25,000 signatures to place the issue on the ballot as a referendum.

Proposed straw ballot alternatives are: 1) That all Idaho would go on exempted Mountain Standard Time year-round without a clock change, and 2) That all Idaho would go on non-exempted Pacific time with clock changes in April and October.

Both straw ballot alternatives have the provision that All Idaho should observe one time. Currently the state is divided at the midriff between Mountain and Pacific time at the Salmon river. The Federal Department of Transportation is the only entity that can effect a time boundary change.

Accepting or rejecting daylight savings time must be done on a statewide basis, according to the Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966.

It is believed that if there is a favorable majority for either of the plans, that after legislative action, "if the Department of Transportation has any respect for state integrity," then the subsequent petition for a boundary change would be sanctioned.

As a safety factor, however, Mr. Brocke believes that any legislation regarding a time change should have automatic voiding language if the Department of Transportation should refuse the petition for a boundary change after a period of time, say 45 days.

If the ballot is affirmative, some legislators would like to pass a joint resolution placing the issue on the 1970 ballot. Others, according to Brocke, want to tackle the problem legislatively for enactment next April.

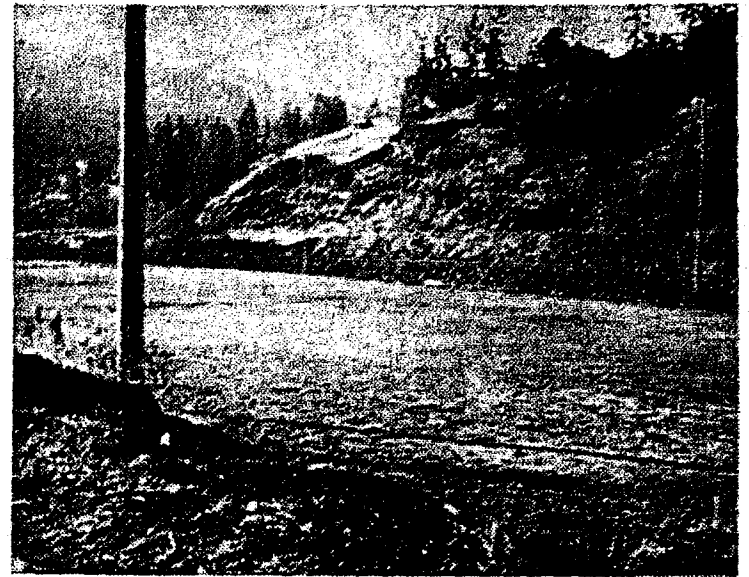

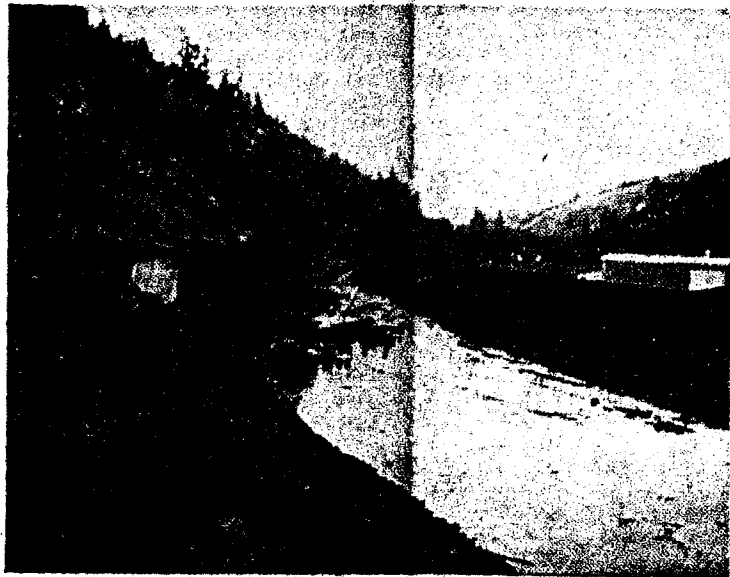

Exempted Mountain Standard Time
This would put all of Idaho on Mountain Standard Time the year around. There would be no clock changes. It would mean extending the current time boundary between the Washington and Idaho border due north to the Canadian line. Now the boundary zigzags east at the Salmon River and zags north up the Idaho-Montana border.

Under this plan, southern Idaho would revert back to the same hours as they had prior to passage of the Uniform Time Act in 1967. In the summer, northern Idaho would be on the same time as they are now, but would have one more hour of evening daylight than eastern Washington in the winter months.

Non-Exempted Pacific Time
This would require the extending of the current time boundary between northern Idaho and Montana south all the way down Idaho's eastern border to the Utah line.

Southern Idaho, in the summer, would then be on the old historic Mountain Standard Time. However, the short-day sunrise for southern Idaho would be an hour earlier than normal. Northern Idaho would remain the same as they are now. The plan would entail clock changes in April and October.

Bear Creek Flood Control Project Now Complete

December 23, 1964, Bear Creek rose and flooded the Athletic field and surrounding area. January 17, 1966 the same thing happened. The Army Corps of Engineers was called in to give aid and protection for the school and surrounding homes. At that time there were homes belonging to C. G. Arnett, occupied by the Pippins, Charley McCarthey, the two Anderson homes, Mrs. Gentry, the Onstotts, the Frys, and the property belonging to the school. The County Road proceeding north was completely washed out, and the hillside behind the school building slid into the street. With this situation the School District consulted with the Civil Defense, and in turn the Army Corps of Engineers.

In March and April of 1965 the Army Corps completed temporary work on removal of flood debris and a temporary dike along Bear Creek. This cost, along with the sand bagging from the flood, was better than $1,000.00. With this in mind, the Kendrick Joint School District made application for diking along Bear Creek. This was routed through the office of Senator Frank Church. This was done in the summer of 1965.

The Army Corps conducted several surveys and with the work of survey and continued efforts of the Kendrick Board of Education, the Kendrick City Council, the project received tentative approval. The project needed a sponsor and since the City of Kendrick is the sponsor for the existing protection of Kendrick, the City of Kendrick agreed to be the sponsor. Governor Samuelson approved the project under the Federal Flood Control, this was done October 3, 1968. In order to get further approval, a number of easements had to be acquired. They were from: Mrs. Wm. Holt, City of Kendrick, C. G. Arnett, State Highway Dept., Kendrick School District, Kendrick Highway District, Roy Glenn, Mrs. Frances Emma Harris. This was completed in April of 1969.

Preliminary work was completed by the Corps in the spring of 1969. Bids were published and called for by the Corps of Engineers in May and June of '69. There were two bidders for the project. The bid from Peters and Wood, Pasco, Wash., was accepted for the amount of $79,800.00. They were awarded the contract August 22, 1969. The contractors started work the first part of September, 1969. The work, on the dike, took 30 days. The contractor did not use the quarry site supplied by the sponsors, but developed their own quarry site across the Potlatch River from the original quarry site.

In addition to the $79,000.00, the Corps assessment previously was $14,000.00. The sponsors cost for their share is difficult to itemize, for there were many hours spent on details that cannot be accounted. But actual cost, money-wise, is approximately $5,000.00. Purchase of property previously is another $4,000.

So the total cost of the program was $102,000.00 for approximately 1,400 feet of dike.

A break down of the dike is as follows:

1. Excavation, common, 9,400 cubic yards.
 2. Tow trench backfill, 2,100 cubic yards.
 3. Embankment, 9,500 cubic yards.
 4. Riprap, 5,900 cubic yards.
 5. Culvert, Sta. 8x25, 18 inch.
 6. Culvert, Sta., 10x40, 18-inch.
- The Bear Creek Flood Project was completed and examined on October 24, 1969, a m. Agencies present were Army Corps of Engineers, Peters and Wood, Sub-contractor, Council Members of the City of Kendrick, Board Members of the Kendrick Highway District, Mr. Lester Wallace, Chairman of the City of Kendrick Council when application was made, and members of the Trustees of Kendrick Joint School District No. 283.

Walter Moden Will Be Write-In Candidate for Genesee Mayor

Genesee — Walter L. Moden, Jr., a former Genesee councilman, announced this week that he is a write-in candidate for the position of mayor in the forthcoming city election set for Tuesday, November 4.

Moden said early this week he had been considering seeking the office of Genesee mayor for some time, but because of business pressure he had let the filing time to have his name officially on the ballot slip by Moden, who has lived in Genesee with his wife and two children for the past 11 years, is an associate research professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Idaho, and is a professional engineer. He served on the city council from 1964 to 1968, and was the police and fire commissioner during that time. He is a member of the Genesee Community Firemen and various other local organizations.

In making his announcement Moden said he would sincerely and earnestly accept and appreciate any write-in votes given him for the office of mayor. He will oppose incumbent Mayor D. F. Scharnhorst, whose name will appear on the ballot.

In the race for councilmen, Wm. Phar, Marvin Moser and Chet Green are seeking the council seats now occupied by Ed. Jutte and Bill Roth, whose terms expire Dec. 31.

City Clerk C. D. Manfred reminded Genesee residents that in order to vote in the November 4 election, they must either have voted in the last city election or must register before 9:00 p. m. Saturday night, November 1, at the Northern Pacific depot.

Kendrick Camper Karavan Enjoys Two Events
The Kendrick Camper Karavan held their annual steelhead derby Saturday and Sunday — camping out below the Cherry Lane bridge. Those going were Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koeppe, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brammer and Jolene.

Despite the very muddy river there were some fish caught. Elmo Eldridge won first prize for the largest fish, a 15 lb., 14-oz. steelhead. Walter Koeppe caught the smallest one, a 6 pounder, taking second prize. Cecil Gruell took the prize for getting "skunked."

Pot-Luck Supper Monday
The Karavan enjoyed a sumptuous pot-luck supper Monday evening in the Kendrick Fire Hall, with 85 present for supper. The Latah County Old Time Fiddlers were supper guests.

A short business meeting followed the supper. Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Eldridge attended all 15 scheduled camp-out trips for the year — winning first prize for going on the most trips. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell went on 14 of the trips, and won second prize.

Voters To Choose City Officials Next Tuesday

Residents of Kendrick, Julietta and Genesee will go to the polls next Tuesday, November 4, and choose the men who will conduct their city affairs for the next four years. Polling places in all three cities will open at 12 noon and remain open until 8:00 p. m. that evening.

Julietta will choose two councilmen for terms of four years each, and one councilman for a two-year term. Lewis Groseclose and Bruce Sherman, incumbents, are seeking another four-year term, and Richard Groseclose is seeking office for the first time. John F. Brown is unopposed in his bid for a two-year term.

Also on the Julietta ballot is the question of the continuing of the city leash law for dogs.

Julietta will vote at the City Hall and registering for the election may be done either at the post office or the home of city clerk Floyd Helmgartner.

Genesee Voters
Mayor D. F. Scharnhorst is unopposed on the ballot for another four-year term as mayor of Genesee, but the announcement this week that former councilman Walter L. Moden is seeking that office on a write-in basis will add interest in this election. Wm. Phar, Chet Green and Marvin Moser are in a contest for two council seats in Genesee for four-year terms.

Voting will be done at the city hall and registering may be done at the Northern Pacific Railway office with clerk C. D. Manfred.

Write-Ins At Kendrick
Write in voters must elect the mayor and one councilman in Kendrick this year. Because of the filing date mix-up only council candidate Darrell Brocke's name will appear on the ballot. Two councilmen are to be elected to replace Jim Hoogland and Bob Waits. Mayor Donald Eichner's term expires this year but no name will appear under the mayor's column on the ballot. Citizens will have to write in the name of the man they wish to elect.

Voting will be done at the Kendrick Fire Hall, and registration may be made at the post office or at the office of R. E. Magnuson.

Hallowe'en Party Set

Lions Met Wednesday Evening At Fire Hall

The Kendrick Community Lions Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting in the Kendrick Fire Hall Wednesday evening of last week, with attendance light, due to conflicting meetings.

Following a delicious barbecued spare ribs dinner the business of the evening was taken up, with Doug Harris, vice president presiding in the absence of W. C. Turner.

Chief item of business was a discussion of a date for the 1970 Locust Blossom Festival. This year, for the first time since its inception, the date, the last Saturday in May, will fall on Memorial Day, and this might pose attendance problems.

After round-table discussion it was decided to take no action on setting a date until members of the V. F. W. could be contacted, as they are very much a part of that day's activities.

Jim Hoogland announced that a work night must be held soon to complete Christmas street decorations.

It was also announced that the next meeting, Wednesday, Nov. 11 would be "Ladies Night."

The Club then heard a most interesting talk by George Merrick, telling of the family's trip to the east coast, and north to Nova Scotia, and thence back into the states to visit many historical points. They were away five weeks.

There will be another meeting of the Boosters next Monday night, Nov. 3, at the school, beginning at 7:30. The Boosters hope to get started on a set of by-laws for the group at this meeting in addition to discussing other timely business.

Duest went on to explain about the new club and added that it was not just for men, "wives are welcome, too," he said. He also added that there are no dues for the Tiger Boosters Club. Anyone wishing to join may just start coming to the meetings.

IDAHO DEPT. OF EMPLOYMENT

Although 13 idled workers filed new claims for unemployment insurance during the week, the total number of workers receiving such benefits through the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment declined from last week's total of 75 to 69 at the present time. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow Office manager reported that most of those who discontinued their claims had returned to work, nearly all of them to the area's forests. He said that others had returned to work earlier this week. He predicted a further decline in the number of jobless pay seekers at the end of the next week unless weather conditions force curtailment of either woods or construction activities. Little change was noted with respect to the number of unemployed in the various communities throughout Latah County, with Moscow having 22, compared with 25 a week ago and 23 a year ago; Genesee had 6, compared with 3 last week, and 1 last year; the Troy-Deary-Eovall area has 24, last week 29 and last year 18; two in Kendrick, the same as last week; Potlatch has 11 now, had 11 last week, and 10 last year. Three were filing from Elk River, five a week ago and 1 a year ago.

Hartstein's report indicated that a total of 18 Latah County job seekers were assisted in locating employment, one less than during the previous week and one less than the total of 19 placed on jobs during the same week a year ago. He said there were still 33 jobs open for experienced and trained workers in the area. Among the vacancies were those for housekeepers, cooks, and waitresses, as well as babysitters, a deliveryman, a grocery clerk, and a route salesman. Auto mechanics and a body man could also be used in the area, he said. All jobs are full time. Many university and high school students are seeking part time work, and Hartstein urged employers to list job openings with his office whenever a student could be employed.

EDITORIAL

Your Voice Will Never Speak More Clearly

Once again the people of Juliaetta, Kendrick and Genesee prepare to witness this phenomenon known as the municipal election. This event is to transpire Tuesday, November 4, and is usually characterized by two things: 1. The reluctant candidate and, 2. The reluctant voter.

When the importance of the community in our daily lives is realized it is baffling to imagine just how these two things came to characterize a small town election. Stop and think. Despite the encroachment of big government, there are still very few fields in which the local, or city government does not touch it in some respect.

First, consider that your city government spends roughly $40,000.00 each year . . . and that is your money. Surely that fact alone should be inducement enough to want to have your voice heard. If that is not sufficient reason to vote, then consider that the water you drink, the roads you drive on, the streets you walk, the laws that protect you, the parks you play in, the lights that illuminate the town, and even the pipes that carry away the sewerage are directly administered by the city government. To go even further, your relations with the school district, highway districts, fire districts and a dozen or more other governmental agencies are all influenced by the city council.

If this is true, and it most certainly is, why then should any responsible, adult citizen feel reluctant to admit he is deeply interested in city government? Worse yet, why should a person feel no special compulsion to vote in a city election?

We don't know the answer, but the sad record of public indifference may be read when the ballots are counted every four years. Often it has been possible for as few as twenty people to decide who administers our local government. It isn't right that this should be. It isn't right to ask five councilmen to govern with the consent of so few and it isn't right for so few to give that consent.

It's alright to cuss or discuss the council over the back fence, on the street corner or in the pool hall . . . that is the privilege of every free-born American. But with that privilege comes the responsibility of action and that action can only come in the privacy of the voting booth. Do less than this and you have failed. BR

AN COMPETE FOR MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS

Kendrick High School students who expect to complete their secondary school requirements and to enter college in 1971 can register now to participate in the 1970-71 National Merit Scholarship program, Robert Heppner, principal, announced this week.

The first step for all students who wish to enter the nationwide Merit Scholarship competition is to take the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test, which will be given on Feb. 17th, 1970.

Taking the NMQST is also the first step for students who wish to participate in other scholarship programs administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corp. (NMSC). These programs include the National Achievement Scholarship Program for outstanding Negro students and special scholarship programs administered by NMSC for business and industrial firms.

NMQST participants pay a $125 test fee.

When his NMQST scores are reported, each participating student will receive a handbook to help him understand his scores and compare his test performance with that of other high school students across the country. The handbook, which contains information about making college choices and financing a college education, is furnished as a part of reporting the student's test results.

IN DREAMS OF YESTERDAY

Our childhood days are over
But still in dreams domain;
Through sunshine and through clover
I go with you again—

Your golden hair is gleaming
Your heart is light and gay;
Your laughing eyes are beaming
In dreams of yesterday—

Through life we've gone together.
The years have crowned us gray.
In fair and stormy weather
Our love has found the way—

And when the world looks dreary
The clouds all roll away;
When ever I see you dearie,
IN DREAMS OF YESTERDAY.

WILD TURKEYS BECOMING PLENTIFUL SAYS DEPT.

Boise — Just about anybody who takes time to learn the habits and habitat of Idaho's Merriam turkeys can bag one of the big bronze beauties. That, at least, is the opinion of successful hunters the last three years.

Raymond E. Douglas of Emmett is one of these men. He scored three times in as many years of turkey hunting in the Riggins-Whitebird area, having "lucked out" and won a permit for the historic controlled hunt of 1967 — Idaho's first. There was a total of 150 permits to be awarded to lucky winners at the drawing, and some 1,500 applications for them.

That first year of turkey hunting in the lower Salmon River country, Douglas scouted on horseback for 2 days before he located a place that was being used by the big birds, at least recently. It was an area of tall ponderosa pine, with an understory of mixed grass and several kinds of brush. Though he had a shotgun in its scabbard on the horse, he used a .30-06 big game rifle with a high-powered scope, because no amount of stalking brought the gobbler within range of his 16 gauge.

In 1968, opening day of Idaho's first general wild Merriam's turkey hunting season found Douglas and his buddy Karl Dresser, also of Emmett, back on the same range stalking gobblers. Using big game rifles they both bagged toms weighing 11 pounds or more each. During the general turkey shoot this fall, they connected again, giving Douglas a score of 1000 percent for three hunts and Dresser a perfect score, 100, but for only two hunts. This year Douglas was close enough to a large hen to use his 16 gauge shotgun loaded with No. 4 shot. He suggests that hunters carry both shotgun and rifle to be prepared for any kind of target.

William Platts, Boise, zone fisheries biologist of the U. S. Forest Service is another member of the rather exclusive 1,000 percent club — two birds for two general Merriam's turkey hunts. During the 1968 season he bagged an old gobbler which dressed out 10½ lbs. This year he downed a young tom not far from the site of the first kill. Its locker weight was 6½ pounds of much tastier meat. He also recommends carrying both rifle and shotgun for this kind of hunting.

DIAGNOSIS SURE NOW

Los Angeles — Surer Diagnosis of blood clots of the lungs is possible with a new radioisotopic technique developed by specialists at the Stanford University School of Medicine. Diagnosis of pulmonary embolism has been hampered because earlier techniques were not sensitive enough or created risk to the patient. The new technique involves injecting the radioactive particles into a vein and photographing their accumulation in scintillation camera.

LATAH CO. WOODSMAN OF THE YEAR CONTEST

The Latah County Woodsmen of the Year Contest will be held this month. Any woodland owner actively engaged in a good woodland program should consider entering the contest. The contest is designed to promote better woodland management and to give extra recognition to an outstanding tree farmer each year.

Some of the items considered by the panel of judges are road development, logging practices, slash disposal, tree planting, insect and disease control, fire protection, timber stand improvement, wood utilization for both commercial and home use, and such multiple uses as wildlife, range, watershed, and recreation.

This year's contest will be sponsored by the Potlatch Unit of Potlatch Forest Inc. Entry blanks are available from Don White, Extension Farm Forester, Courthouse, Coeur d'Alene, or from the Agricultural Extension Service office in the courthouse, Moscow. Entry forms will also be available from Frank Schoeffler, Woodland Forester, Dept. of Public Lands of Troy.

Entries will close on November 15. At that time all entries will be screened and the top three selected. A panel of judges will then select the Woodsmen of the Year from the top three entries.

Kill Weeds Now

Moscow — Fall is a good time to put the run on lawn weeds, says the county agricultural agent. When weeds are killed at this season, lawn grasses have a good chance to fill the vacant spot before such pests as crabgrass and dandelions germinate the following spring. Another point in favor of weed work in autumn is that desirable plants susceptible to 2,4-D are less likely to be damaged in the fall than in spring or summer. Most flowers, shrubs and trees are injured by 2,4-D when they are in vigorous growing condition.

Although treatment with 2,4-D helps control most weeds, there are some broad-leaf types that resist it, the agent said. These include common chickweed, and mouse-ear chickweed. These weeds are more sensitive to silvex, used at the rates recommended on container labels.

Herbicides used to control crabgrass, foxtail and other annual grasses common in many lawns usually give some control over other annuals.

The county agent also noted that early fall is a good time to start or renovate a lawn because grass and clover get a favorable start and are in condition to get the jump on weeds that may be germinating in the spring.

BARLEY PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced this week that the minimum diversion in barley for participation in the 1970 feed grain program will be 20 per cent of a farm's barley base acreage, the same as in 1969.

Malting barley will not be exempt from diversion requirements because supplies are adequate to meet needs. Substitution of wheat for barley is approved on 80% of oat-rye base.

Officials of the Latah County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service report that farmers have planted some barley to wheat in order to plant full fields. More flexibility is the basic intent of substitution of wheat for feed grains and vice-versa.

Some farms in the central states grow high yielding feed grains and less wheat. According to reports, Idaho has not yet planted its full wheat allotment even though substitution is used.

EARLY SEASON KILL SEEMS NORMAL

Boise — It's too early to be sure, but hunters report slightly more deer kills than last year, and somewhat fewer elk from primitive area and back-country units where seasons opened Sept. 20 and Oct. 4. The big southern Idaho deer (and some elk) block management units starts the season Oct. 18.

Cards received so far (Oct. 8) and tabulated in the Boise office, report 282 deer kills (241 last year on the same date); 240 elk (268 last year); one moose (same as 1968); 24 bighorn sheep (27 last year); 41 mountain goats (43 last year) and 385 antelope (425 last year). These figures, to reiterate, are reported kills to date — not total harvest — for any big game specie.

FISHERIES MEN PROMOTED AND MOVED

Boise — Four fisheries men have been promoted and moved to new duty stations at Boise, Rapid River, Coeur d'Alene and Sandpoint, it was announced this week by the Idaho Fish and Game department.

They are Jerry Mallet, Panhandle Region fishery biologist at Coeur d'Alene for the past seven years; David W. Ortman, Salmon, project leader of a two-year study of cut-throat population in the Middle Fork of the Salmon River; Evan Parrish, hatchery superintendent, Sandpoint hatchery the past three years, and Robert Vaughn, fish culturist the past three years at the Eagle hatchery.

In his new position, Mallet will develop a program for long-range management of salmon and steelhead in Idaho, making recommendations on sport fishing seasons, bag limits, etc. Ortman, who began employment with the department in 1963 as a fisheries biologist, will take over as the Panhandle regional fisheries biologist.

Parrish, transferred from Sandpoint fish hatchery to the position of hatchery superintendent of the Rapid River fish hatchery. He began work with the department as a fish culturist in 1960.

Vaughn, a fish culturist at Eagle for three years, will be superintendent at the state hatchery at Sandpoint.

DRIVE ON FOR LICENSES AND SAFETY STICKERS

Boise — A concentrated drive against motorists operating vehicles with expired driver licenses and inspection stickers will be conducted throughout Treasure Valley, the Idaho State Police announced this week.

Discovering that possibly as many as 50 percent of the vehicle owners may have failed to have licenses renewed, the I. S. P. in cooperation with county and city law enforcement officers plan a continuing series of road checks.

Checks will be made both within and without city limits. A recent survey conducted on applicants seeking driver license showed 34 out of 61 had presented expired permits. These were all Idaho applicants and did not include out-of-staters seeking new licenses.

Regarding vehicle inspection stickers, District 3 road checks in September showed about 10 percent of the vehicles had expired stickers. Some 100 expired stickers were found on about 1,000 vehicles checked.

Citations will be issued to those found with expired licenses and stickers, and the operator of a vehicle with an expired inspection sticker could have his vehicle registration revoked.

St. John's Lutheran Church Is 50 Years Old

GENESEE — St. John's Lutheran congregation will hold a family pot luck dinner Sunday at the church following the morning worship service in observance of the 50th anniversary of the church building.

The following article was taken from The Genesee News under date of November 18, 1919 concerning the Dedication Services:

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran congregation consecrated their beautiful new church edifice Sunday morning with impressive services. The pastor, visiting ministers and congregation assembled in front of the church and at 10:30 a. m. the doors were thrown open. The congregation, led by the ministers, then entered the church which was well filled.

The regular dedicatory service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. F. Wolff. There was special choir music and Rev. C. J. Lautenschlager, of Spokane preached an eloquent discourse.

The church was crowded to its capacity, the audience being estimated at over 300 people, for the evening service at 7 o'clock which was mostly of a musical nature. Rev. J. B. Cronk presided at the pipe organ. There was special choir numbers and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Taber. The sermon was by Rev. H. G. Meske of Farmington, Wash. and a short talk by Rev. J. B. Cronk of Medical Lake, Washington.

The building, for its size, is perhaps unsurpassed in beautiful architecture and furnishings throughout the North west, and was constructed at a cost of $15,000. There is some work yet to be done in the basement, which will perhaps take an additional $2,000. It has been in course of construction since last May.

The auditorium has an arched ceiling in Gothic style. Large comfortable pews provide seating capacity which is sufficient for ordinary occasions and a balcony gives comfortable extra seating room. The pipe organ is the first to be installed in Genesee. The chancel contains an artistic altar on either side of which is stained glass memorial window, one of the crucifixion, and the other the ascension of Christ. There are three large memorial windows given by individual members of the congregation—Christ, the Good Shepherd; Christ Knocking at the Door, and Christ in Prayer.

He also was part owner of a tavern and in 1961, he with Clinton Philpot went into partnership at Eddie's Club.

Student Loans Guaranteed

By Gov. Don Samuelson
 Boise — Last week I received a highly gratifying announcement from the Idaho Endowment Investment Board. Because it is of such widespread interest, I want to share the news with the people of Idaho.

The Investment Board advised me it approved unanimously an action which will provide $5 million of school endowment funds which may be used by Idaho students to obtain government guaranteed education loans through Idaho banks.

It seems to me that using Idaho school funds for direct benefit of Idaho students through cooperation of Idaho banks makes this a total all-Idaho beneficial arrangement. School endowment funds receive a guaranteed high rate of return with government guaranteed safety. Such a return is more than double what the funds are earning at present, so the school endowment fund will gain substantially in income.

Idaho university and college students have a loan source of Idaho money to enable them to start or continue their higher education. Idaho banks which participate are performing a fine service which helps their state.

The Endowment Investment Board was appointed only last spring, but has produced rapid results in greatly increasing the income on school endowment funds. The Board deserves public commendation for its quick and constructive actions, and the 40th session of the Idaho Legislature deserves praise for adopting the legislation necessary to broaden the opportunity for maximum safe return.

Education is gaining in monetary benefits on a generous basis and this is a source of satisfaction for students, teachers, parents and all taxpayers.

The Investment Board is preparing contracts to handle the servicing phase of the loan program through Idaho banking institutions, and details will soon be finalized. Members of the Board are: T. D. Jones, Malad; Horace S. Howell, Pocatello; Steve M. Mielke, Rexburg; John H. Brandt, Nampa; John E. Bell, Boise; State Senator H. Dean Summers, Boise; State Representative Joe N. Wagner, Lewiston, and State Supt. of Public Instruction Del F. Engelking, with ex-officio Commissioner of Finance, John D. Silva as chairman.

GLASS ON THE MOON
 Wash., D. C. — Tiny glass beads found on the surface of the moon might prove to be a giant clue as to the origin of the moon, reports an expert in the field of glass science. He said that the presence of the beads, in his opinion, strongly supports the theory of volcanic activity at some time on the moon. Spherical glass beads, he says, can be formed from molten glass droplets if these dispersed droplets cool before they touch each other or other matter.

POPULATION STUDY ON WHITETAIL DEER SET

Lewiston — The Wildlife Cooperative Unit of the University of Idaho and Idaho Fish and Game department are cooperating on a whitetail population study. It will be initiated on the 800-acre Hatter Creek enclosure near Princeton.

One of the main purposes of the study will be to determine how intensely whitetail deer can be harvested. The population will be determined within the enclosure and a known number of hunters will be allowed to hunt them. The area is covered with dense brush, similar to that found in much of north Idaho's deer and elk country. One of the main counts to determine the deer population will be held on Oct. 18th. It will consist of a drive by numerous people and coordinated by helicopter. Anyone interested in helping with this count should meet at the Forestry building on the U. of I. campus at 11:00 a. m. on the 18th.

 Traps will be set up within the enclosure and a certain number of animals will be tagged. The reproductive rate and condition of the animals will be studied to find out how harvest affects the population. The study will last three years and will eventually help in management of the large whitetail population in north Idaho.

Success has ruined many a man.

Is there a special retirement plan for self-employed Lutherans?

Yes... and it's offered by Aid Association for Lutherans. It's called a Keogh plan. It allows the self-employed individual to establish a tax-saving retirement plan. Payments made to a Keogh plan are deductible from current income. The increase in values within the plan remain tax-sheltered until retirement. Self-employed individuals may apply up to 10% of earned income, to a maximum of $2,500 yearly. The monthly income at retirement depends on your age and the amount you invest. AAL makes it easy for you to set up a Keogh plan. But first you want to know all the facts. Your AAL representative has them. Talk to him.

IDAHO NOT ALWAYS TOP ELK PRODUCING STATE

Idaho's reputation as the No. 1 elk hunting state is not something that just happened. About 1880, for example, a summary of its wildlife resources sadly described the elk in southern Idaho as "represented by 25 animals and undoubtedly headed for extinction." Today, with hunters making forays into even the most remote regions, this small nucleus of a herd and a very few animals transplanted from the Yellowstone-Teton area many years ago, have been parlayed into the largest elk population on the North American continent.

The restoration of this large member of the deer family to the Clearwater was achieved partly through protection, but largely through the growth of heavy stands of deciduous brush, and even the increase of the browse and grasses that followed widespread logging and fires of the early days. And not the least important, probably, were uncouped elk that had been there all the time. The estimates of observers were almost always in the conservative side, and there may have been many times the 25 discovered animals in the area.

Be that as it may, the herds did come back. Idaho today is one of the chief "refuges" of a species that once roamed the continent from central Canada to New Mexico, and all the way across North America from the Pacific to the Atlantic. Today, elk range is restricted mostly to the western mountains, with some small bands elsewhere.

Elk depend upon browse in winter, the same as deer, but can use grasses and other soft plants when available to better advantage than deer. Since they are so large, often as tall as a saddle horse, they easily out-reach deer in their use of browse, and may "wallow-down" brush that has been browsed too high even for their tall reach.

BANK SAYS BUSINESS GENERALLY GOOD

Business in Idaho by the end of the third quarter was rated generally good in most economic segments, and the outlook for the fourth quarter is much the same.

This is the report contained in First Security Bank's quarterly economic News Letter being distributed this week. It was announced by James Hoogland, Jr., manager.

The percentage increase for the first 9 months was above the national average in personal income and employment. However, as is characteristic of the national economy, there has been some evidence of a slowdown. This slowdown is expected to continue during the fourth quarter, the News Letter points out.

Cash receipts from farm marketing this year should easily exceed the $546 million recorded last year. Livestock prices throughout the major fall marketing period should average about the same as in September, which was above year-ago levels. Fed cattle marketings will be above those of last year and slaughter numbers will be higher in contrast to conditions prevailing during the first three quarters, which will mean some pressure on prices.

Production is above last year's levels for all major crops with the exception of wheat and corn. Potato production is forecast at 66 million cwt., an increase of 12 percent over last year. This record output will be reflected in pressure on prices during the next few months.

Fruit production far exceeds that of 1968 and follows a national trend. Also considerably higher is bean production, in which there is some pressure on prices.

Production of metals for the first seven months of the year was considerably above levels of 1968, a period which was plagued with and by strikes affecting the industry. Silver production for the first half year totaled in excess of 9.2 million ounces, almost 60 percent above that of the corresponding period one year ago. Silver prices in world markets declined from last year, but firmed slightly during the past summer at approximately $1.87 an ounce by October.

INSPECTION STATIONS LOSE LICENSES

Boise — Since Idaho's amended vehicle inspection law went into effect last March, five inspection stations have had their licenses suspended for between 30 and 180 days, it has been announced by Warner C. Mills, commissioner of law enforcement.

The law as amended by the legislature, Mills says, allows for license suspensions up to six months when violations of the program are confirmed. Licenses also may be revoked for more flagrant violations.

Inspection division records show licenses have been suspended in Lewiston, Emmett, Jerome, and two in Boise. Reasons for the suspensions included:

Inspection of a vehicle without bringing it into the inspection station; sticker issued to a vehicle which had no horn, windshield wipers or hand brake; placing sticker on a vehicle before repairs had been made; placing wrong-numbered sticker on a vehicle, and passing a vehicle which had an unsafe windshield that had been rejected by two other stations.

Mills also reported on the train-seven months totaled 980 million feet board measure, down 3 percent from last year. For the earlier months of this year production was above that of 1968, reports First Security. Paper production has continued above 1968 levels for all types of paper.

Total manufacturing output during the first three quarters was considerably above last year. This applies especially to metals and to food as well as transportation equipment.

Construction contracts awarded for the first seven months totaled $116.4 million, about 46 percent above 1968. Included are public construction projects, public utilities, as well as residential and commercial construction.

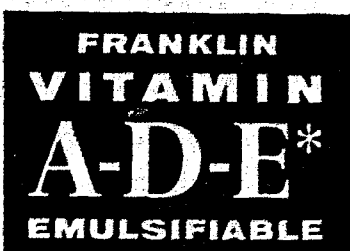

The labor force in Idaho in August totaled 303,000, some 2,000 above last year at the same time. Total employment at 293,000 was up 3,500, while unemployment totaled 10,200, down some 15 percent.

Merricks Enjoy Five-Week Trip Toward East Coast

Having been vicarious travelers for years, George and Doris Merrick are beginning the stimulating experience of initiation into reality. Upon retirement we knew that we wanted to "see America first", and during our recent trip many dreams have come true.

Our five-week trip pleasantly began by visits to the Charles Russell Memorial Art Gallery in Great Falls, Mont.; the Custer Battle Ground, and the Teddy Roosevelt Memorial National Park in the Bad Lands of North Dakota. We entered Canada through the International Peace Park. High-lights through Canada were guided tours of some major cities, a boat trip through the famous locks between Lakes Superior and Huron at Sault Ste Marie and Evangeline Land in Nova Scotia. We stood at one of the spots where John Cabot is presumed to have touched North America in 1497.

Significant of the friendliness of our wonderful neighbors to the north was the fact that we hardly realized that we were entering the states when we crossed from New Brunswick into Maine. Through the east we were convinced that the superlatives used to describe the fall colors of New England were no exaggeration. And it was here that we breathed the rarified atmosphere of Oral Craig. The women spent Friday with their sister, Mrs. Arthur Anderson in Lewiston. Mrs. Anderson has been staying there to be near her husband, who was critically ill at the Lewiston Manor Nursing Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Young of Redding, Calif., have been staying at the home of her brother, Louis Wright, while Louis is in the mountains, during October.

W. D. Miller of Lewiston joined Manning Onstott on a week's hunting trip in the Elk City area, returning home last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Manning Onstott visited Sunday in the Lloyd Shrefler home at Deary. Saturday evening callers in the Onstott home were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Onstott and son of Deary and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Helton of Vancouver, B. C., and Mrs. Larry (Marilyn) Hayden of Lewiston were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Helton. Joining them for supper Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Freytag and Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCartney and family, all of Helmer.

Mrs. Marguerite Silflow accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Choate of Teakean to Lewiston Sunday afternoon to witness the dedication ceremonies of the new jet runway at the Lewiston airport. An estimated 3,000 people were present for the two-hour show and dedication.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Eldridge attended the Tammany Grade School Carnival at Tammany on Saturday evening. Their granddaughter, Jenny Eldridge, is a student at the school.

Mrs. Pearl Long returned Friday from Boise, after attending the Idaho Rebekah Assembly, being the delegate for Juliaetta Rebekah Lodge. While in Boise she was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Penland, formerly of Juliaetta.

Londa and Steven Crocker of Lewiston spent Saturday night and Sunday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Crocker and Debbie, Pat Johnson and Patty White of the U. of L. were Sunday dinner guests.

history as we lingered, in Concord, Massachusetts, at that spot where was fired "the shot heard round the world" in 1775, and were guided through the precious historical environs of Philadelphia.

It was at Bennington, Vermont, also rich in historical lore, where we went through the Grandma Moses Art Gallery. At Cooperstown, New York, we heard the voice of Babe Ruth in the Baseball Hall of Fame. In Connecticut we visited an ancestral home of George's family, built in 1876. At Salem, Massachusetts, we were guided through the mysteries of the House of the Seven Gables. At Hannibal, Missouri, we lived a bit with Mark Twain and his Tom Sawyer.

Yes, we have seen lots of country. We've passed through the Appalachians; the Alleghenies, and the Catskills. We've crossed the Hudson River on the Rip Van Winkle Bridge; the Connecticut, the Ohio, the Missouri, and the Mississippi, and now, back home, our hearts are even more touched as we listen on stereo tape to that wonderful song, "This Is Your Land, This Is My Land."

A motorist in Maine stopped to ask an old lady tending her garden, "Can you tell me the way to Moosehead Lake?" "No, I can't," was the reply. The motorist murmured "Thanks, anyhow," and drove on, but suddenly heard a shout behind him. An old fellow had joined the gardener and the pair were beckoning him to back up. When he obeyed, the old lady announced, "This here is my husband, he don't know either."
