Legislative Report From Rep. Brocke

Boise, Jan. 30 — Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. a hearing was held with the Fish and Game Commission, along with the Director, and several experts in Big Game Management, and sportsmen from all sections of Idaho.

One could say it was a wild affair. Sportsmen throughout the state showed up, and the Commission seemed to have recruits on their side to balance out the argument. By the time the hearing was to start the hearing room was full, and the over-flow was on the outside. Charges were made, counter charges, with the last witness being heard at 1:15 a. m. Many people that appeared were unable to give testimony. This is a shame for if a person came to Boise to appear at a hearing he should have the opportunity to be heard. The reason for some of these people not being heard was due to the fact that the Commission got their information in first. As soon as the Committee realized this was taking place, the chairman advised the Commission of the fact that their personnel was in Boise, and could present their facts at another hearing.

The main topic discussed from most of the witnesses was the serious decline in game population and the invasion of out-of-state hunters. Something over 14,000 non-resident big game hunting licenses were sold in 1968. It was the Commission's plan to raise the price of these licenses from the present $100.00 to a fee of $135. They stated that this raise would retard the sale. The sportsmen didn't think so. They suggested that the state issue only so many licenses on a lottery basis as the $35.00 increase would have little effect on the amount of hunters coming in.

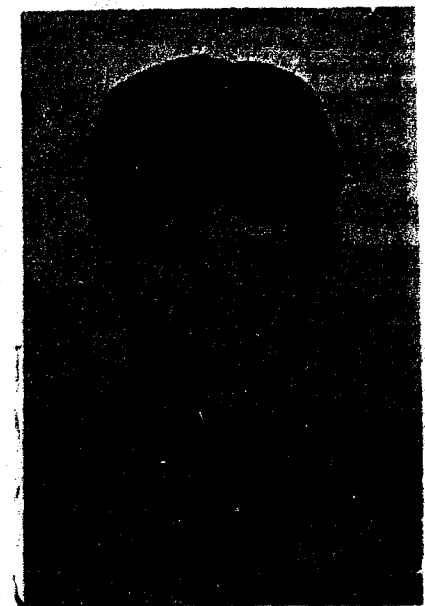

The sportsmen also want the "sitting" of big game restored, and a feeding program should another winter like 1968-1969 occur. The sportsmen also wanted the season open only for a 30-day period in all areas, the only exception being the special hunting permits in certain areas.

It is now up to the Committee to review all of this testimony and see

Dog Licenses Due Reminds City

City Clerk Bob Magnuson reminds Kendrick pet owners that the 1970 dog licenses are now due and payable. Both Magnuson and City Marshal Buks Nyre report that license sales have been very slow thus far. City ordinance prohibit any dog from roaming the streets without a current dog tag.

Fees are $3.00 for males and spayed females, and $5.00 for unspayed females. Licenses may be obtained from the clerk at the insurance office or at the post office.

If some answer can be provided that will restore the big game population to what it was several years ago. It is very clear that there is something wrong with the method used in trying to give a true picture of the amount of game harvested each year. It seems to be an established fact that our big game population is declining, also our quantity of game birds are fast becoming to a new low.

Next week the Legislature will be debating our tax problems. Several people have visited the Legislature and have been told that I am tied up in a committee meeting. I have instructed the doorkeeper that should anyone want to see me, to call me from any committee meeting I might be in.

Many bills are now showing up in the Legislature. Should you want a copy of one of these bills, just write me here in Boise and I will see that a copy is mailed at once. — George F. Brocke, Sr.

January Rainfall Set New Records

The heavy rains of January set new records over much of the area, it was reported this week by weather men in the Genesee and Kendrick areas. John Luedke, who maintains rainfall records for the SCS in Genesee, reported a total of 6.49 inches of precipitation during the thirty-one day period.

On American Ridge above Kendrick a total January rainfall of 5.80 inches of moisture was recorded by Dick Benscoter.

Charles Bower, who maintains rainfall figures on Big Bear ridge, said Tuesday afternoon that the January rainfall totaled 6.88 inches in his area, to be the wettest January in the ten years he has been recording weather figures.

The 6.49 recorded in the Genesee area topped the 4.83 inches received last year in January, which was a new record, the previous high for January was 4.53 in 1965. The 15-year average for January is 2.33 inches.

"Almost all of the moisture fell in the form of rain rather than snow, which is extremely unusual for this period." This time last year there was snow of almost two feet on the level in the higher elevations, with drifts of six feet or more.

There was a short, small snow fall last Saturday in the region, but rain and gale-force winds quickly cleared it from the ground except in a few sheltered places. Strong winds have been prevalent since the week-end and these have had the effect of drying out many of the roads and fields.

Temperatures have been staying above the freezing mark even during the nights, and have risen into the high forties during the day.

SATURN'S RINGS

Saturn's rings are formed largely of ammonia ice, say scientists at the University of Arizona. Interferograms indicate eight absorption bands that correspond almost identically in position and intensity with bands typical of ammonia ice. This is the first time ammonia ice has been detected in the solar system. It is surprising to find ammonia ice in Saturn's rings because the planet contains no gaseous ammonia, the researchers say.

STEADY, HIGH GROWTH is predicted for the United States natural gas industry, according to results of a nationwide survey for the American Gas Association. It indicates that the total annual requirements in the United States will rise from 21.5 trillion cubic feet in 1965 to 46.7 trillion cubic feet in 1990—an increase of 117 per cent.

Educationally Speaking . . .

BY JAMES V. MUSCAT
 Superintendent of Schools, Joint School District No. 283
 Designing Education For The Future

Most educators agree on the major objective of education: Self-realization, better human relations, civic responsibility, and economic efficiency. But our present social studies program often shows little relationship to these ends. To come closer to these goals, the social studies program will have to be drastically different.

To achieve self-realization and economic efficiency, a person must gain among other things, a sense of identity, a sense of purpose, a fairly consistent set of values, and a set of skills that permit him to adapt to the occupational choices available and to adjust to the other requirements of his environment.

Another function of the future social studies program, at the secondary level, will be to prepare the student for economic efficiency by making him aware of the types of occupational choices that are likely to be available to him. This needn't be formalized in a course on occupations — as some schools have attempted to do in the past, but can be handled through the normal development of concepts about the modern world. This implies that somewhat less time be spent on U. S. History — which is often better handled in college when students are more mature. This is not to say that history should not be an important part of the educational program, but that modern problems of living should take a front seat and should be explored using the tools of all social scientists, including historians.

JANUARY THAW SLOWS WINTER ICE ANGLING

Winter anglers so hardy they waded about four feet of water on shoreline to reach the open ice of Fish Creek Reservoir in Blaine County were reported today by the Idaho Fish and Game Department in a wrap-up story giving winter fishing conditions statewide.

Anglers averaged four trout an hour at Fish Creek and Little Woods reservoirs, where heavy rains had caused flood problems. Mormon Reservoir south of Fairfield was fair trout fishing for a few people who reached it with snowmobiles. The road is blocked by snow. Rosworth Reservoir is closed for winter fishing. Little Canaan and C. J. Strike reservoirs, and the river below the dam have been good.

Anglers in eastern Idaho found ice fishing kaput because warm weather last month thawed the ice, ending very good fishing success on American Falls Reservoir. The Portneuf

River was excellent fishing but now is high and muddy because of much rain. Return of cold weather should restore good ice fishing at area reservoirs including Condie, Foster, Johnson, Stone and Jimmy Smith.

In the Upper Snake Region, Pallasades Reservoir has been best for ice fishing. The Snake River and Big Lost River at the lower end of the canyon have been good trout producers. However, most streams and rivers are high and muddy and poor fishing. Steelhead fishing in the Snake and Salmon rivers is washed out because of high, muddy waters. Ice fishing in the Clearwater Region is proving popular this winter during the special season, January 1-February 15. Some of the better reservoirs are Elk Creek, Spring Valley, Winchester Lake and Campbells Ponds.

Nesbitt Promoted To Lt. Colonel

Long Binh, Republic of Vietnam — Promotion ceremonies were held here on December 23, 1969, for Lieutenant Colonel Henry T. Nesbitt, Air Defense Artillery, who is Chief of the Personnel Management Division of the 1st Logistical Command, Headquarters (1st Log). Colonel Oliver I. West pinned the new silver maple leaf bars on LTC Nesbitt, as his fellow servicemen looked on.

Colonel Nesbitt's position includes many responsibilities, "but my main job is to see that we get the right man assigned to the right job within the 1st Logistical Command," he said. As 1st Log is the largest single U. S. Army unit in Vietnam, with more than 40,000 soldiers and 13,000 Vietnamese workers located throughout Vietnam this job in itself would seem to occupy his full-time attention.

"There's much more to be done, though," he added. "Right now, I also have the responsibility for our civil affairs funds, which means that I have been getting involved without efforts to help the Vietnamese people solve some of their social and economic problems."

Acting as a liaison officer between the commanding general of the mammoth logistical command and local national employees often involves Col. Nesbitt in labor relations cases. He coordinates actions and attempts to monitor labor conflicts in cooperation with higher headquarters Army Civilian Personnel Offices.

Although most of LTC Nesbitt's time is devoted to his 11-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week job, he still finds time for some relaxation and enjoys singing some of the "Old Favorites" at cook-outs with his fellow officers. The colonel was graduated from Sacred Heart Academy, High School, Central Falls, Rhode Island and received his bachelor of arts degree in political sciences from Providence College, Providence, R. I. in 1954. He came to Vietnam from Headquarters United States Army, Europe Heidelberg Germany, where he worked for the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics. He has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal, and the Meritorious Service Medal for his outstanding service in the US Army.

He received his commission from the ROTC and entered the Army at Ft. Bliss, Texas in 1954. He served on active duty for the past 15 years.

His wife, the former Norrice Kraut, of Genesee, Idaho, and their three children, Henry L. 9; Rebecca, 8; and Scott C., 4; live in Lewiston, Idaho. Mrs. Nesbitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Kraut, are residents of Genesee, Idaho.

Dip Netting

Idaho's only dip net fishing season runs from January 1 - February 15, 1970, at Bear Lake, which straddles the boundary line separating Idaho and Utah, the Fish and Game Department reported today.

The quarry will be a small fish, the Bonneville or "peacknose" cisco, which originated nowhere else on earth. During the 12-15 day spawning season, a myriad of these silvery fish somewhat less than eight inches long came close enough to shore to be caught by sportsmen using long-handled dip nets with openings 'not more than 18 inches in any dimensions.' Several transplants to other places have been made.

The bag limit is 80 fish a day for all licensed fishermen or permit holders. There is a special bag limit of 25 cisco a day for nonlicense holders under 14 years of age.

Cisco came in large schools to spawn in the shallows of a 1-2 mile stretch of rocky beach on the east or Utah shore of Bear Lake. Weather often is zero or below before the sun comes up. Heavy clothing, gloves and fire are used to stay warm. Cars can be driven to the lakeshore and parked only a few feet from the water—or ice covering.

Cities Asked To Review Traffic Ordinances

City officials throughout Idaho are being requested by the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission to review their city and state ordinances pertaining to pedestrian safety.

During 1969, Idaho experienced 33 pedestrian deaths resulting from motor vehicle accidents, an increase of 36.4 percent over 1968.

Such a review of pedestrian protection ordinances would develop guidelines for enforcement and indicate the effectiveness of existing ordinances in reducing pedestrian accidents in urban areas. Increased emphasis placed on pedestrian safety has come about as the result of the National Highway Safety Act of 1966 and the issuance of 17 Highway Safety Standards, one of which pertains to Pedestrian Safety.

In the area of regulation, enforcement and its effectiveness, research by the National Highway Safety Bureau and state officials in the field of traffic safety has been almost totally concerned with programs directed at the driver, with little or no attention to the pedestrian-driver interaction. With regard to the effects of enforcement activity has an influence on pedestrian violations.

The Commission feels that upon the completion of each cities review, procedures for developing and administering a pedestrian safety program could be undertaken.

Wintering Waterfowl Up

Idaho's mid-winter waterfowl inventory, taken January 5-9 as part of the continent-wide annual survey by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the several state game departments, found 681,276 waterfowl. This figure is up by 149,908 from the 1968-69 figures. The mallard concentration alone was 135,840 ducks greater than last year. Canada geese were up by 8 percent in the state. In addition, workers counted 392 whistler and trumpeter swans and 132 eagles—double the count for last year in waterfowl concentration areas.

Neal Argy, Boise, U.S. Game Agent for the Fish and Wildlife Service, coordinated the Idaho census. He says that waterfowl increases this year could be attributed to better production last spring in the Canada nesting areas, and to the relatively mild winter weather in Idaho, which held the ducks instead of pushing them through the state and on down the flyway.

Unlontown Sausage Feed Is February 8

Unlontown—Unlontown's 7th annual sausage feed is scheduled to be held Sunday, February 8, in the Unlontown Community Building, serving from 11 a. m. to 7 p. m. Many plans are being made and committees formed to prepare for the annual event. The proceeds will be used, as in years before, to maintain and improve the facilities of the Community Building which is used for public meetings, sports, and social gatherings.

The annual event draws hundreds of friends and neighbors from a large area each year. Several days are needed to make three-quarters of a ton of savory, old-fashioned sausage. This sausage feed is made possible by the fine cooperation of everyone in the community.

CATTLE GRUBS NEED EARLY ATTENTION

U. of I., Moscow - Cattle grubs merit attention of beef and dairy producers, the county agent reminded this week. They cost the industries a substantial sum in reduced milk and meat production. They damage hides. Grubby cattle are not thrifty. In Idaho cattle grubs first appear in the backs of cattle from late January in the lower Salmon River area, until mid-April in the Upper Snake. They begin to appear in late February in most of the southwestern cattle section; in the south-central area in early March, and in the south-western counties in late March. Timing control applications of grub killers is based on the time that grubs first cut holes through the skin. Depending on locality, the stockmen are advised to determine the date by examining cattle carefully and frequently from early February through late April. The best control program, specialists say, is one that takes in an entire community. It will cut grub losses to a minimum. However, individual operators will gain by following recommended practices. Spraying is sometimes the most

Ice Fishing Season

According to the 1970 fishing regulations, the special ice fishing season is January 1 - February 15 in various parts of the state. A better test is the ice itself - how thick and how strong is it? Of course, there are special openings for certain fish species and year-around angling in other waters, in addition to the ice fishing season. Check the regulations for details. These are available, along with 1970 salmon and steelhead permit cards and new licenses, from authorized vendors.

In short, the following waters are open for ice fishing from January 1 to February 15: Winchester Lake, Campbell Pond, Elk Creek Reservoir and Spring Valley Reservoir.

SATELLITE WOULD HELP

A satellite that would create a communication link between the earth and astronauts on the far side of the moon has been designed by a group of aerospace engineering students at the University of Michigan. The 872-pound craft would do away with the 40-minute communication blackout that now gives astronauts and ground controllers the jitters whenever the orbiting Apollo spacemen pass behind the moon. It would also permit manned surface exploration of the moon's back side. Until now only near-side exploration has been possible because communications must be on a line-of-sight with the earth.

Flu-Riddled Tigers Drop Three Games

With their ranks thinned and weakened by the flu bug the Kendrick Tigers came out of last week's basketball competition with three losses. Tuesday the Tigers were defeated by Deary 81-50; Friday they went to Cottonwood and were dropped 61-43, and the following evening the KHS crew went to Genesee and came home with the short end of a 52-34 score.

The only bright spot in the local basketball picture was the performance of Neils Sneve, who collected a total of 57 points in the three games. The Tigers were playing without the services of Don Parks, who was out with the flu.

Sneve put through 19 points against the Deary Mustangs last Tuesday night, but the Mustangs had too much power that evening, as they opened up a 31-15 first quarter lead and raced to an 81-50 victory on the KHS court. Doug Pratt and Dave Hutcherson each scored 9 points for the Tigers.

Friday night the Tigers invaded the hardwood camp of the powerful St. Gertrude Panthers and were beaten 61-43 in a conference tilt. St. Gertrude was ahead 33-23 at the half. Sneve led all scorers with 18 points with Ron Dammarell's 8 points next for the Tigers.

Kendrick was leading Genesee 21-17 at the halftime Saturday night in Genesee, but a third quarter outburst swamped the Tigers as they lost 52-34. Genesee has only one defeat in conference play this season.

Sneve scored 21 points for the Tigers with Doug Pratt getting 6. Genesee also took the B game 62-34.

Bulldogs Continue Winning Streak

Genesee's strong contenders for state honors ran their season record to 14 wins against just two defeats as they dropped teams from Potlatch, Colton and Kendrick the past seven days. The latest AP basketball poll rated Genesee as Number 15 in the state. The Bulldogs were stopped by St. Gertrude of Cottonwood early in the season, and lost to Endicott in a non-conference game.

Last Tuesday night the Bulldogs came out slowly but finished in a rush as they rolled over the Potlatch Loggers at Potlatch 81-34. Genesee was ahead 15-7 at the end of the first quarter, and 38-20 at the half.

Mike Egland scored 17 points for the Bulldogs with Bruce Scharnhorst getting 1 and Dale Hickman 12. Genesee won the B game 57-36.

Genesee was never behind and never in trouble as they downed the Colton Wildcats 52-40 Friday night at Colton. Nick Egland was high point man for the GHS team with 18, while his younger brother, Mike, collected 14 points. Genesee also won the B game 61-37.

Finding themselves down 21-17 at the end of the first half, the Bulldogs poured on the coal in the second to score 35 points, while holding the visiting Tigers to just 13, as the Bulldogs won Number 14 Saturday night. Genesee went ahead early in the third quarter 24-23 and were never in trouble again. Nick Egland scored 14 points while Morscheck and Mike Egland each scored 12. Genesee took the B game 62-34.

Do-Nut League Play Going Full Speed

Results of last Saturday's Do-Nut league play was reported as follows: Golden Globe Trotters defeated the White Knights 16 to 13; the Green Goblins came out ahead of the Orangutans 21 to 15, and the Red Devils defeated the Purple Panthers 23 to 22 in a narrow squeak.

All the teams were short on players, as many were out with the flu.

Muddy Conditions Cause Unemployment Raise

Moscow — Muddy conditions in the area's woods accounted for nearly all of the 92 workers who filed new claims for unemployment insurance benefits during the past week, through the Moscow office of the Idaho Dept. of Employment. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager reported that this is the largest number of new claims filed in any one week since September of 1967, when the woods were closed down because of fire danger. Nearly all logging operators and transporters were affected by the muddy conditions.

He added that there was some curtailment in area sawmills, also. The total number of idled workers seeking jobless pay rose from 258 a week ago to 324 now. A year ago there were 261 persons seeking benefits. Of the 26 persons who discontinued their claims for benefits, Hartstein said, most returned to work on construction projects, some returned to school, and some were made ineligible for various reasons.

Reports reaching the office indicated that the woods lay-offs would be of short duration, but that weather conditions would control the time. Most of the increase in joblessness was in the Troy, Deary, Bovill area where the total rose from 60 a week ago to 104 currently, and in the Potlatch area, where the number rose from 39 to 55 during the week.

Only five workers were assisted in locating jobs during the week by his office, Hartstein said. He reported that fewer jobs have been available during the month of January this year than during any month for the past several years. Good, fast, accurate typists are still needed, as well as cooks, other craft workers and domestic workers.

With the change in the semester at the University of Idaho, many students have again indicated a desire to work, and have provided the local employment office with their schedules of free time.

STUDENT FEES TO GO UP AT UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

U. of I., Moscow — Student fees at the University of Idaho will go up $14.00 a semester, and out-of-state tuition $25.00 a semester, effective July 1, President Ernest W. Hartung announced, following approval by the Regents, meeting at Boise.

The increase will bring the fees per semester from $146.00 to $180.00, or $320.00 for the regular school year, and non-resident tuition per semester from $250.00 to $275.00, or a total for the year for non-resident student of $870.00.

It was pointed out that last year, nationally, average student fees and tuition at state universities increased from $389 to $430 for residents, and from $850 to $970 for non-residents.

In another Regent action, approval was given to making separate departments of Geology and Geography in the College of Mines. "For a number of years Geography has had de facto autonomy in virtually all decisions affecting curriculum and summer programs, yet the outside image has been one of combined status," said Dean Roland R. Reid in a report to the Board of Regents. "Separation of Geography would provide an incentive for increased vigor in the Geography staff, free the present department head of a number of administrative chores, and permit the staff members of each separate department to concentrate on programs in their respective field."

The Regents also approved the appointment of Prof. Guy R. Anderson as acting head of the Department of Bacteriology, following the retirement of Dr. V. A. Cherrington, after 41 years of service to the university.

ABOUT FARMER INCOME TAX PROCEDURE

Moscow — You have two extra weeks to file your income tax return this year. The deadline is now March 1. That's one of two big changes of immediate interest to farmers, Virgil Kennedy, farm management specialist of the University of Idaho Extension Service, comments. The changes are in the new income tax law recently passed by Congress. The other change is repeal of the investment tax credit.

The tax-saving feature of investment credit was repealed not only for 1970, but for 1969 purchases made after April 18. Purchases made before April 19, 1969, or contracts closed before that date, still qualify for the tax credit of 7 percent of the purchase price.

The credit was introduced in 1962. It covered such things as farm machinery, trucks and livestock equipment with an expected life of at least four years.

Final farm tax returns used to be due February 15. The deadline has been extended two weeks. There are several other changes in the return. The surtax is reduced to 2 1/2 percent. All cows used for dairy or breeding, and horses for draft or pleasure riding, and are acquired after December 31, 1969, have to be kept for 24 months to qualify for consideration as capital gains. Losses from hobby farms cannot be used to off-set non-farm income.

TAXPAYERS SHOULD SEEK HELP EARLY

Boise — Taxpayers who hire accountants to prepare their income tax forms should go to them early, according to John C. Anduiza, Internal Revenue Service information officer. He said that those who delay until their accountant is too busy to complete their returns by April 15, have no acceptable excuse for late filing of their return.

The income tax forms which were mailed direct to all taxpayers should be used for making out their 1969 returns. Those who have tax accountants should take the forms to them, because they are pre-labeled and coded to expedite processing of the returns on electronic accounting machines.

Maybe men are better drivers than women, but you've never heard of a woman wrecking a car because some man on the corner had nice legs.

The trouble with the younger generation is that some of us no longer belong to it!

An optimist is a man who marries at the age of 80 and then looks for a large house close to a school.

People who squawk about their income taxes may be divided into two classes. They are: men and women.

Protect the birds. The dove brings peace and the stork brings tax exemptions.
