Legislative Report From Rep. Brocke

Boise, Feb. 14 — This week the Legislature has moved at a fair pace with action being taken on many bills.

Last Monday morning the Governor vetoed the bill that would have repealed the 104% limit on property tax. A new bill will come up for action Monday which will increase the 4% to 5 1/2%. This bill will pass. However, it too faces the probability of a veto, as the Governor has stated that 5% is the limit.

In regard to school legislation, we now have in the Education Committee several bills that will have some effect on the schools of Latah county. One bill would eliminate, or do away with, the floor provisions of the present school formula. This seems to be a very unnecessary move, as I recall when it was this provision that gave several of our schools state operating monies. This bill is still in committee. However, some pressure is being put on to get the bill out.

Another bill that has been introduced is the small consolidation bill, by which the Board of Education can decide if a school district is necessary or not. Another bill in the committee is the Kindergarten bill, which has passed the Senate. This bill would put the public schools in a kindergarten program at a cost of some $4 million per year of state funds. The program would begin in the 1970-71 school year, the costs being paid by the local districts. Then in 1971 the state would share in the costs of operation. At this time no age limit is set on the child that is eligible to attend a kindergarten, as the bill states from the age of one to 21 years. The Kindergarten Bills are Senate Bill No. 1459 and Senate Bill No. 1460.

Appropriation bills are now ready and action should begin on these this coming week. Should these bills go through without any trouble, the Legislature could wind up its work by next Saturday.

The Constitution Revision Commission has revised the first offered revision by making several changes. One change is the short ballot, which has been replaced by the long ballot as we now have. It also made changes in the field of county government; with other changes only small technical ones. This new revision is now being considered in the Senate.

If everything goes as planned, the Legislature should wind up its work next week. — George F. Brocke, Sr., State Representative.

Jello is always a favorite—no matter whether served plain or "dressed up real fancy." It's just downright delicious any way you prepare it and adds that extra special something to a meal. Jello not only tastes good, but now comes in so many different flavors and pretty colors, and makes a rich-looking dessert. Our recipe this week was handed in by Mrs. Jon Cantamessa. Sounds like something extra nice to serve at that dessert-bridge you are thinking about giving.

Another reader of the Home Cook-

in' column sends along, she says, "a tip for your recipe column for people who received Fondue cookers for Christmas, but no recipe book." She adds, "that she tried the following recipes at a dinner party she gave in her home last week and they were a great success."
BEEF FONDUE
In a small cast iron, enameled, copper, or aluminum fondue pan, fill one-third full with peanut or vegetable oil and heat to 375 d. on stove. Light canned heat or alcohol burner and set pan of hot oil over burner to keep sizzling hot.
Prepare one-fourth pound of raw, trimmed three-quarter-inch cubes of sirloin or top round steak per person and place in individual serving bowls. Using Fondue forks, dip meat in oil for 30 to 60 seconds, then in sauce.
Ring Fondue pan with dishes of mustard-cream sauce, avocado sauce, or mushroom sauce.

Blend 1 cup sour cream with 1/2 tsp. dry mustard.
Avocado-Dill Sauce
Combine 1 ripe avocado, mashed with 1/2 tsp. lemon peel and 2 tsp. lemon juice. Blend 1 cup dairy sour cream, 1 tsp. seasoned salt and 1/4 tsp. crushed dried dill. (Makes 1 1/2 c).
Mushroom Sauce
3 mushrooms and 2 minced onions, chopped and saute'd in 1 tbsp. butter for 5 minutes. Add 2 tsp. sherry and 1/2 small can of beef gravy. Simmer 5 minutes longer and serve.
DEPARTMENT OF EMPLOYMENT
Only three persons were placed on jobs through the Moscow Office of the Idaho Department of Employment during the past week. Frank Hartstein, Moscow Office Manager reported that this compared with 12 workers placed on jobs during the previous week, and 34 snow shovelers placed during the same week a year ago. All of the workers placed were on full time, regular jobs, however. There are still 25 jobs open, many domestic and service types and others where applicants are difficult to locate because of training and experience requirements.
Twenty-seven workers filed new claims for unemployment insurance during the week, but the number of persons still seeking benefits rose by only 4. Of those who discontinued their claim benefits, most returned to work, primarily in the county's forests as better conditions in some areas made working possible. No significant changes were noted in any of the communities of the county, as the number of persons seeking jobless pay remained about the same in each location.

Weeds should die.

And that's the way it would be if most companies didn't have such a difficult time making a weed killer that leaves the wheat alone.

A New Kind of Weedkiller.

The first thing we did was start out with a whole new concept.

Instead of worrying so much about killing the weeds (that would come, we knew) we worried about the wheat.

Always the wheat.

After years of experimenting and hundreds of tests we finally were satisfied that we had a general weed killer for which wheat had an unusually high tolerance. A herbicide that also took care of the important broadleaf weeds that keep popping up with your wheat.

But that wasn't where we stopped.

Because then we took special aim at the 6 specific weeds that drive wheat farmers here in the Northwest crazy.

First, we took care of Tarweed. Then Gromwell and Purple Mustard. Then—always making sure that high crop tolerance was there—we conquered Henbit and Dogfennel, and even Crowfoot.

Then, and only then, were we satisfied. Because after years of working we finally had a weed killer that not only kills the broadest range of weeds, but also gives you a much higher bushel yield per acre than you've ever had before.

Used in Real Life.

Bronate is way beyond the test stage. Bronate has been on the market now for four years. It is actually being used by hundreds of your neighboring farmers with great success.

Because with Bronate the wheat lives. And the weeds die. And that's the way it was meant to be.

For more information on how Bronate can help you, please see your supplier or your Rhodia/Chipman representative.

STARTING DATES FIXED FOR BIG HUNTING
Opening dates for general elk and deer hunting seasons this year will be September 19, October 3, October 17 and November 7 (the start of whitetail deer season in the panhandle.) Each of these dates falls one day earlier than last year, the usual calendar difference that comes with a new year. However, there are more deer units slated to start the hunting season October 3 than on the comparable day last year.

Boundary changes for management units include the enlarging of unit 8 and reduction of unit 10 by shifting the boundary to the east because of new patterns in logging roads. A similar change adjusted the boundary between a "roaded" and a roadless backcountry unit, enlarging unit 14, and reducing unit 19.

Three controlled elk hunts will open the season October 3 instead of October 10, a week earlier than last year. These are units 280, 284, 286.

A special meeting will be held in May to establish big game hunting season closing dates, the number of controlled hunt permits to be issued, the number of extra deer units to schedule, and other regulation details.

There will be four new controlled moose hunts this fall, with unspecified number of permits. These new moose units will be 306, 307, 309, and 364. Opening dates for these hunts will be October 8.

Other changes include a change in antelope hunt boundaries to include all of unit 21-A in Hunt 430, and the addition of five new controlled mountain goat hunts as follows: 618 (Hells Canyon); 625-1 (East Fork of the S. Fork of the Salmon River); 621-2 (N. F. Salmon River); 633-3 (South Side of Payette River above Grandjean); and 639-3 (headwaters of North Fork of the Boise River).

ADJUSTMENT ERRORS DELAY TAX REFUNDS
Early federal income tax returns indicate that many taxpayers are making errors in claiming adjustments to their income which may delay their refunds, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The term "adjustments" as used on the tax form, refers only to sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, and payments to self employment retirement plans. The total of these items is entered on Line 15b of the Form 1040, the IRS said.

Some taxpayers are incorrectly reporting on line 15b, the total of their itemized deductions such as interest expense, state and local taxes, contributions, medical, or miscellaneous expenses. These deductions should be computed and entered on the appropriate schedules as provided in the instructions.

The IRS also said that taxpayers are making mistakes by including as adjustments the exemption allowances for themselves, husbands or wives, children or other dependents. For taxpayers who use the tax table to compute their tax, the exemption allowance is already figured into the table. Taxpayers who use the tax rate schedules should make their computations of Schedule T, which is included in the regular tax packet.

To avoid errors in claiming adjustments, the IRS suggested that taxpayers read the instructions carefully and make sure they have attached the proper supporting documents.

IDAHO'S HOT SPRINGS

Moscow—The potential value of Idaho's hot springs is the subject of a report authored by Sylvia H. Ross of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology and now on open file in the bureau's office at the University of Idaho. "Idaho's hot springs may have great value as sources of geothermal power," states Dr. R. R. Reid, bureau director. "Up to the present time, Idaho's hot springs have been developed mainly as centers of recreation. In few instances, the water has been used for domestic heating. "Studies are now being made to determine the possibilities for utilizing this source of energy to meet our ever increasing power demands," Reid said. "There are more than 200 springs in Idaho mainly in central and southern Idaho in which the temperature of the water is 80 degrees or above. A few are issuing water that is at or near the boiling point." The new report describes the locations and types of the hot springs. Further information may be obtained from the bureau office in the university's College of Mines building.

Helpful Steelhead Measure. A large escapement of Idaho-bound anadromous steelhead trout should result from the recent decision in Portland, Oregon, to delay the start of the early fall commercial fishing season on the Columbia River until August 9. ON TAX REFUNDS

Boise — Refunds on correctly prepared and fully completed income tax returns can be expected about six weeks after the returns are filed, according to John Anduzio, Internal Revenue information officer. However, the refunds can be unavoidably delayed until later in the year on faulty, incomplete and amended returns which require correction and adjustment work.

Meanwhile, inquiries about individual refunds cannot be answered because the returns are among millions of others being processed by electronic accounting machinery.

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. O's Lien, pioneer residents of Big Bear Ridge was the scene Sunday of a very pleasant celebration in honor of their Golden Wedding anniversary, a time in life which but few couples are ever privileged to enjoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lien were married at Mariandahl, S. D. on Feb. 1, 1890. They came to Moscow later that month, and after a month there moved to Forest, Idaho where they resided for 10 years. From Forest they moved to their present ranch which they purchased in 1900.

The wedding anniversary celebration came as a complete surprise as their friends and relatives dropped in on Sunday with groaning baskets of food.

MODERATE CLIME HELPS WINTERING GAME HERDS

The same kind of weather that plagued hunters throughout Idaho during October and November now is helping big game animals and upland game birds through one of the easiest winters on record, the state Fish and Game Department reported today.

Moderate temperatures and below normal snowfall add up to the same "easy living" for elk and deer in all regions of the state. The snowline in many places is 7,000-7,500 feet and animals still are high and scattered on summer ranges, according to reports from regional game biologists.

Following are regional reports covering the month of January:

PANHANDLE—"Twelve inches of snow or less have accumulated on major winter ranges. Temperatures have been in the high 20's or warmer most of January. This all adds up to a very easy winter to date for all big game in the Panhandle." Ray M. Rogers, regional game manager, Coeur d'Alene.

CLEARWATER—"We are still experiencing mild winter conditions throughout the region. Some snowfall has occurred now in the upper Lochsa and North Fork areas, but is still light. No fixed-wing aerial survey has been accomplished due to overcast weather. The South Fork of the Clearwater has also received light snowpack. Red River ranger station has only about four inches of snow, which is very wet. Streams in this area are getting a lot of runoff presently. It is doubtful at this time if weather will ever permit a winter-type census, but perhaps a spring green-up count can be salvaged in the Salmon River Breaks area." Sam McNeill, regional game manager, Lewiston.

McCALL—"Winter conditions have been highly favorable for wildlife to date. Snow depth remained below normal on big game winter ranges. As a result, big game animals have been widely scattered over upper winter range areas. For the most part temperatures also have been mild. This lack of snow and mild temperatures have made wintering conditions very good for big game and no problems have developed.

Wintering conditions have also been very favorable for game birds. Pheasant sex ratio counts have been difficult to make due to mild weather and no concentrations of birds at livestock feeding areas." David Neider, regional game manager, McCall.

WESTERN REGION—"This month may well be the mildest January on record in the Western Region. All major big game winter ranges in the region were relatively free of snow throughout the month with snow elevation near the 4,500 foot level. There has been no snow on the valley floor and the game birds are widely scattered. In fact, sex ratio counts were extended throughout February in order to obtain a sample size. All birds and animals are doing well as of January 31." Dick Norell, regional game manager, Boise.

MAGIC VALLEY—"No problems with game birds in Magic Valley or south central Idaho big game winter ranges. Critical areas at Soldier Mountain and Ketchum are well under control this winter due to the mildness of the weather." Dale Turpin, regional game manager, Jerome.

SALMON—"Received some additional snow, particularly in the higher elevations during the month. The critical winter range at the lower elevations and valley floors in the Salmon and Challis areas are still bare of snow. Big game are wintering high, well off the critical range areas but are starting to drift downward as upper snow depth increases. Field trips with snow machines find the deer moving well and scattered up into areas containing over two feet of snow. Our problem this year is not enough snow to concentrate the animals, in order to obtain a field aerial census." William J. Davidson, regional game manager, Salmon.

EASTERN REGION—"Big game winter conditions were good through out the region. Lower winter ranges have light snow cover. Some higher elevations for deer and elk winter ranges in Bear Lake and Caribou counties have near average snow depth. Big game are wintering in excellent condition at this date. For upland game birds, wintering conditions also are excellent with little or no snow in the wintering areas. Mild weather caused the American Falls Reservoir to be free of ice, and the surrounding cultivated areas are also free of snow. Wintering conditions are very good." Dale R. Jensen, regional game manager, Pocatello.

UPPER SNAKE—"Very good wintering conditions for big game animals. Snow level in western Custer County is 7,000-7,500 feet. Most south and west-facing slopes are bare and helicopter game counts show deer are still high and scattered on summer ranges." Pete Prinz,

GRAIN RESEAL PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently stated that farm storage loans on barley and oats from all crop years currently under loan are authorized for resale. Farm stored corn loans from the 1967 crop year and later years are authorized for extension. Loans on warehouse stored barley and oats from the 1967 crop year and later are authorized for extension, but loans on warehouse stored 1967 corn will not be extended.

Farm storage loans on wheat for the crop years 1967, 1968, and 1969 currently under loan are authorized for resale.

Loans on warehouse stored wheat for 1968 and 1969 are authorized for resale but loans on 1967 warehouse wheat will mature on May 31, 1970.

The Latah County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office reports that the heavy loan program on 1968 warehouse stored wheat resulted on movement of wheat to coastal areas for storage to provide space for local 1969 wheat crop. This wheat is being purchased by Commodity Credit Corporation at a price reflecting the coast market less freight and handling. If the market price at Portland on a given day was $1.53 per bushel for No. 1 soft white wheat, the local price paid by COC would be $1.33 net to the producer.

Increased sales of wheat by farmers in December and January have reduced the 1969 loans to less than 90 from a total of 241. At one time 2.3 million bushels or over half of the Latah County wheat production, was under loan. The basic purpose of the loan program is to promote more orderly marketing, stabilize prices, and to store grain in many farm and small town elevators as a decentralizing measure in case of a national emergency.

COMING QUESTION: WILL COMPUTERS EVENTUALLY THINK?

ARE COMPUTERS potentially intelligent? No one yet knows. But a University of Wisconsin computer scientist says there is a way to find out. He says research is under way to discover methods of teaching computers to think. He believes computers can shed light on the actual thinking processes of the mind. Apparent similarities between brains and properly programmed computers are sufficiently striking so that one can begin to speculate whether computers eventually can be programmed to think.

A TREMENDOUS INCREASE in the welding of nonferrous metals, such as magnesium, titanium, aluminum, and zirconium, will occur in the next decade, predicts ARC Products Manufacturing, Hanover Pa. The company says that many of these metals will be used in applications, such as space frames, where their light weight and high strength are desirable. Some will be used in the manufacture of trucks because reducing the weight of a truck's body will enable it to carry more cargo and still meet weight restrictions on highways. Some trucking firms already are putting wheels made of magnesium on their vehicles as one method of decreasing the weight of trucks.

GENETIC TRANSFORMATION, the replacement of one gene of a set of genes for another, is one of the ways in which heredity can be controlled, reports a University of Chicago biologist. He said that although geneticists cannot yet mold human progeny, they can control some aspects of bacterial heredity. Molecular geneticists can determine successfully the genetic fate of unborn bacteria by injecting normal bacterial cell cultures with genetic material extracted from bacteria that have acquired, by mutation, a resistance to antibiotics such as streptomycin, and erythromycin.

STEELHEAD FISHING STARTS
 Early spring fishing for steelhead generally starts about the first week in March but spring-like weather warmed the waters sooner this year. Waters of the upper Salmon River are still too cold for fish to be active but lower down in the canyon near Riggins and Whitebird anglers are having good success, as well as in the Snake River below Hells Canyon Dam, and on the lower Clearwater River.

Steelhead are trophy fish and this year for the first time a fee of $1 is charged for steelhead permit cards which are valid throughout the year. Anglers are required to list steelhead catches on their permits by date. Anglers are also asked to record the river section from which each fish is caught. Section numbers are shown on maps issued with each permit.

Water Drawdown Hurts Spawning

Major drawdowns on Lake Pend Oreille after November 15 caused sharp decreases in kokanee harvest five years later, including the 1969 season. For example, in 1964, there was nearly 5 1/2 feet drawdown after November 15. Last fall the calculated harvest of kokanee was 494,337 fish, which is about half of the 1953-1968 yearly average of 981,437. The principal drop came in the harvest by commercial fishermen. Their harvest was slightly in excess of 82,000 fish, which is only 17 per cent of their annual average harvest.

The success of the harvest appears to hinge largely on the success of the spawning. Kokanee in Pend Oreille have a five-year life cycle, meaning that five years after hatching they in their turn spawn and die. It is also these five-year-old fish that furnish most of the fish for the creel. It thus becomes imperative that one examine the spawning conditions five years previously if he is to understand the fishing success of any particular year.

Kendrick Gazette Feb. 8, 1940

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. O'Leen, pioneer residents of Big Bear Ridge was the scene Sunday of a very pleasant celebration in honor of their Golden Wedding anniversary, a time in life which but few couples are ever privileged to enjoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lien were married at Mariandahl, S. D. on Feb. 1, 1890. They came to Moscow later that month, and after a month there moved to Forest, Idaho where they resided for 10 years. From Forest they moved to their present ranch which they purchased in 1900.

The wedding anniversary celebration came as a complete surprise as their friends and relatives dropped in on Sunday with groaning baskets of food.

E. A. Deobald took the train to Lewiston Wednesday afternoon, returning with a brand new Chevrolet pickup which will be used as a service truck for the garage. He expects to install a wrecking crane onto it.

On February 1, a 9 and a half lb. son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zimmerman of Cedar Creek. At last report all concerned were doing nicely.

30 YEARS AGO

Honor at the high school auditorium in Lewiston last Thursday evening were Fred Morscheck, Jr., Perry Black, Everett Wishard, Sanford Evans, Bob Gray, Ralph Anderson, Art Broemeling, Bud Springer, Don Borgen and Dan Pederson. Perry Black and Everett Wishard received merit badges in woodcraft.

The 4-H club meeting was held at the school house Wednesday afternoon with Miss Esther Martinson who gave each girl their clothing bulletins. Four demonstrations were given by Della Stout, Bonnie Kuehl, Mary Jones, and Louise Vandenburg.

50 YEARS AGO

Miss Lenora Whitted, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Whitted of Genesee was united in marriage to Jesse W. Walker of Kooskia at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church parsonage in Lewiston.

Dr. W. H. Ehlen, deputy county health officer was out at the Walter Herman home Thursday and diagnosed the ailment with which Mrs. Herman has been suffering as a typical case of smallpox.

John Kempf, a pioneer in the blacksmithing business in Genesee, closed a deal last Saturday for the sale of his shop and equipment to John Lawson.

Some 25 or 30 members of the KC's went to Lewiston Sunday to attend the initiatory ceremonies which took place there during the afternoon. 5 victims were taken down from here and offered up as a sacrifice upon the altar of the Knights. They were

MODERATE CLIME HELPS WINTERING GAME HERDS

The same kind of weather that plagued hunters throughout Idaho, during October and November now is helping big game animals and upland game birds through one of the easiest winters on record, the state Fish and Game Department reported today.

Moderate temperatures and below normal snowfall add up to the same "easy living" for elk and deer in all regions of the state. The snowline in many places is 7,000-7,500 feet and animals still are high and scattered on summer ranges, according to reports from regional game biologists.

Following are regional reports covering the month of January:

PANHANDLE—"Twelve inches of snow or less have accumulated on major winter ranges. Temperatures have been in the high 20's or warmer most of January. This all adds up to a very easy winter to date for all big game in the Panhandle." Ray M. Rogers, regional game manager, Coeur d'Alene.

CLEARWATER—"We are still experiencing mild winter conditions throughout the region. Some snowfall has occurred now in the upper Lochsa and North Fork areas, but is still light. No fixed-wing aerial survey has been accomplished due to overcast weather. The South Fork of the Clearwater has also received light snowpack. Red River ranges station has only about four inches of snow, which is very wet. Streams in this area are getting a lot of runoff presently. It is doubtful at this time if weather will ever permit a winter-type census, but perhaps a spring green-up count can be salvaged in the Salmon River Breaks area." Sam McNeill, regional game manager, Lewiston.

MCCALL—"Winter conditions have been highly favorable for wildlife to date. Snow depth remained below normal on big game winter ranges. As a result, big game animals have been widely scattered over upper winter range areas. For the most part temperatures also have been mild. This lack of snow and mild temperatures have made wintering conditions very good for big game and no problems have developed.

Wintering conditions have also been very favorable for game birds. Pheasant sex ratio counts have been difficult to make due to mild weather and no concentrations of birds at livestock feeding areas." David Neider, regional game manager, McCall.

WESTERN REGION—"This month may well be the mildest January on record in the Western Region. All major big game winter ranges in the region were relatively free of snow throughout the month with snow elevation near the 4,500 foot level. There has been no snow on the valley floor and the game birds are widely scattered. In fact, sex ratio counts were extended throughout February in order to obtain a sample size. All birds and animals are doing well as of January 31." Dick Norell, regional game manager, Boise.

MAGIC VALLEY—"No problems with game birds in Magic Valley or on south central Idaho big game winter ranges. Critical areas at Soldier Mountain and Ketchum are well under control this winter due to the mildness of the weather." Dale Turpinseed, regional game manager, Jerome.

SALMON—"Received some additional snow, particularly in the higher elevations during the month. The critical winter range at the lower elevations and valley floors in the Salmon and Challis areas are still bare of snow. Big game are wintering high, well off the critical range areas but are starting to drift downward as upper snow depth increase. Field trips with snow machines find the deer moving well and scattered up into areas containing over two feet of snow. Our problem this year is not enough snow to concentrate the animals, in order to obtain a field aerial census." William J. Davidson, regional game manager, Salmon.

EASTERN REGION—"Big game winter conditions were good throughout the region. Lower winter ranges have light snow cover. Some higher elevations for deer and elk winter ranges in Bear Lake and Caribou counties have near average snow depth. Big game are wintering in excellent condition at this date. For upland game birds, wintering conditions also are excellent with little or no snow in the wintering areas. Mild weather caused the American Falls Reservoir to be free of ice, and the surrounding cultivated areas are also free of snow. Wintering conditions are very good." Dale R. Jensen, regional game manager, Pocatello.

UPPER SNAKE—"Very good wintering conditions for big game animals. Snow level in western Custer County is 7,000-7,500 feet. Most south and west-facing slopes are bare and helicopter game counts show deer are still high and scattered on summer ranges." Pete Prinz,

GRAIN RESEAL PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently stated that farm storage loans on barley and oats from all crop years currently under loan are authorized for resale. Farm stored corn loans from the 1967 crop year and later years are authorized for extension. Loans on warehouse stored barley and oats from the 1967 crop year and later are authorized for extension, but loans on warehouse stored 1967 corn will not be extended.

Farm storage loans on wheat for the crop years 1967, 1968, and 1969 currently under loan are authorized for resale.

Loans on warehouse stored wheat for 1968 and 1969 are authorized for resale but loans on 1967 warehouse wheat will mature on May 31, 1970.

The Latah County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office reports that the heavy loan program on 1968 warehouse stored wheat resulted on movement of wheat to coastal areas for storage to provide space for local 1969 wheat crop. This wheat is being purchased by Commodity Credit Corporation at a price reflecting the coast market less freight and handling. If the market price at Portland on a given day was $1.53 per bushel for No. 1 soft white wheat, the local price paid by CCC would be $1.33 net to the producer.

Increased sales of wheat by farmers in December and January have reduced the 1969 loans to less than 90 from a total of 241. At one time 2.3 million bushels or over half of the Latah County wheat production, was under loan. The basic purpose of the loan program is to promote more orderly marketing, stabilize prices, and to store grain in many farm and small town elevators as a decentralizing measure in case of a national emergency.

COMING QUESTION: WILL COMPUTERS
EVENTUALLY THINK?

ARE COMPUTERS potentially intelligent? No one yet knows. But a University of Wisconsin computer scientist says there is a way to find out. He says research is under way to discover methods of teaching computers to think. He believes computers can shed light on the actual thinking processes of the mind. Apparent similarities between brains and properly programmed computers are sufficiently striking so that one can begin to speculate whether computers eventually can be programmed to think.

A TREMENDOUS INCREASE in the welding of nonferrous metals, such as magnesium, titanium, aluminum, and zirconium, will occur in the next decade, predicts ARC Products Manufacturing, Hanover Pa. The company says that many of these metals will be used in applications, such as space frames, where their light weight and high strength are desirable. Some will be used in the manufacture of trucks because reducing the weight of a truck's body will enable it to carry more cargo and still meet weight restrictions on highways. Some trucking firms already are putting wheels made of magnesium on their vehicles as one method of decreasing the weight of trucks.

GENETIC TRANSFORMATION, the replacement of one gene or set of genes for another, is one of the ways in which heredity can be controlled, reports a University of Chicago biologist. Molecular geneticists can determine successfully the genetic fate of unborn bacteria by injecting normal bacteria cell cultures with genetic material extracted from bacteria that have acquired, by mutation, a resistance to antibiotics such as streptomycin, and erythromycin.

STEELHEAD FISHING STARTS

Early spring fishing for steelhead generally starts about the first week in March but spring-like weather warmed the waters sooner this year. Waters of the upper Salmon River are still too cold for fish to be active but lower down in the canyon near Riggins and Whitebird anglers are having good success, as well as in the Snake River below Hells Canyon Dam, and on the lower Clearwater River.

Steelhead are trophy fish and this year for the first time a fee of $1 is charged for steelhead permit cards which are valid throughout the year. Anglers are required to list steelhead catches on their permits by date. Anglers are also asked to record the river section from which each fish is caught. Section numbers are shown on maps issued with each permit.

The next meeting will be on March 12, with Mrs. Rollin Armitage.

Water Drawdown Hurts Spawning

Major drawdowns on Lake Pend Oreille after November 15 caused sharp decreases in kokanee harvest five years later, including the 1969 season. For example, in 1964, there was nearly 5 1/2 feet drawdown after November 15. Last fall the calculated harvest of kokanee was 494,337 fish, which is about half of the 1953-1968 yearly average of 981,437. The principal drop came in the harvest by commercial fishermen. Their harvest was slightly in excess of 82,000 fish, which is only 17 per cent of their annual average harvest.

The success of the harvest appears to hinge largely on the success of the spawning. Kokanee in Pend Oreille have a five-year life cycle, meaning that five years after hatching they in their turn spawn and die. It is also these five-year-old fish that furnish most of the fish for the croel. It thus becomes imperative that one examine the spawning conditions five years previously if he is to understand the fishing success of any particular year.

The trouble with worrying so much about your "security" in the future is that you feel so insecure in the present.—Harlan Miller

Gary Williams To Be At Juliaetta Church

Gary Williams, famous television personality and "Grand Old Opry" star, will present a program at the Juliaetta Church of the Nazarene on Sunday, Feb. 22, at 7:00 p. m.

For many years Gary traveled with the "Grand Old Opry" shows out of Nashville, Tenn., where he made many hit recordings such as "Travelin' Blues Boy," "Old Fashioned Love," "Twenty Years Ago" and "Alaska," a song which was written by him while he was in that state, and became the No. 1 Country-Western hit parade song. Many will also recall Gary Williams from the "Town Hall Party" and "Western Ranch Party" television series.

Since 1965 Gary has sung a different song. In that year he dedicated his life and songs to serving God and as an evangelist has traveled through all 50 of the states, every province in Canada, and recently spent two months in concert crusades in the Hawaiian Islands.

All of the community are invited to share in this special treat and give him a real welcome to the Kendrick-Juliaetta area.

Tigers Drop Two Close Contests

Close, hard-fought basketball contests marked the closing week of play for the Kendrick Tigers, who will undoubtedly remember the 1969-70 season as the year they dropped all the close ones. Tuesday night of last week a final scoring spurt with seconds to go enabled the Troy Trojans to defeat Kendrick 53-51. Saturday night the Tigers hosted Timberline (Pierce-Weippe) in their final home game and lost in the final minute of play 58-56. All that remains of the regular season for Coach Wayne Dust and his team is a final game at Cottonwood, Friday night.

In a see-saw contest that had Kendrick leading 13-12 at the end of the first quarter, and Troy on top 25-23 at the half, and Kendrick back in the lead 37-34 at the end of the third quarter, Troy scored five points in the last minute of play to down the Tigers 53-51 Tuesday night. Nels Sneve collected 14 points for Kendrick and Dave Hutcheson had 13.

Kendrick took the JV game 57-50. After leading practically all the way in the game, Kendrick saw their lead and a victory disappear in the final minute of play as Timberline won 58-56. Kendrick was ahead 27-23 at the half, and 43-38 at the end of the third quarter. Sneve paced all scorers with 23 points. Timberline took the B game 52-46.
