

Latah Chambers, Lions Club Held Held Joint Session Wednesday Night

The Latah County Chambers of Commerce and the Kendrick Community Lions Club held a joint session Wednesday evening of last week at the Kendrick High School cafeteria, beginning at 6:46 p. m.

Following a delicious roast turkey dinner served to about 50 in attendance by the School Foods Service Ass'n, the business of the evening was taken up, with Lions Club President W. C. Turner, presiding.

After a few remarks Mr. Turner turned the meeting over to Clair Reed, President of the Latah Chambers. Mr. Reed made a few remarks on attendance, aims of the Chambers, and then introduced the speakers for the evening: State Senator John Mix, Moscow; State Representative Harold Snow, Moscow, and State Representative George F. Brocke, Sr., Kendrick.

Mr. Mix, the first speaker, told of some of the problems faced by the two chambers during their recent session. He said that in his opinion "lack of communication between the two chambers; lack of information on some very recent problems (soil, water and air pollution), and pressure from some segments of the state had contributed toward the apparent feeling of many Idahoans that the recent session 'had been very unproductive'."

Mr. Mix went on to say that he felt the session had accomplished a good deal, and that some very good steps had been taken toward the solving of the state's problems.

Harold Snow then spoke on the problems faced in the House of Representatives, and seconded a good deal of what Mr. Mix had said. He expressed himself as not quite satisfied with what had been done in the solving of the problems of Education, but stressed the fact that this session had at least taken forward steps.

Rep. Brocke then took the floor to state that he was not satisfied with the steps taken toward the solving of the problems of pollution — but emphasized that there had been a great lack of accurate information in this field. He added that some of the information at hand in the legislature was misleading in some ways, and that in another session could and would be corrected.

There followed a questions and answer period from the floor — with a sort round-table discussion of problems. Questions asked from the floor were pertinent, and none of a political nature.

Kelly Cline, Latah County Clerk, Auditor and Recorder was then introduced. He had with him one of the county's new "punch card voting machines" and explained its use and advantages to those present. He showed how simple the machines were and how easy to use. He also said that the counting of the ballots from these modern new machines would be done at the computer center at the University of Idaho — and would take "only minutes whereas it used to take hours!"

Tax Equalization One Goal Of Mill Levy Election Vote Set For May 12

An equalization of taxes paid by property owners in the three counties comprising Joint School District No. 283 is one of the goals of the Mill Levy Election set for three places in the district on Tuesday, May 12.

The mill levy is specifically for increasing the Maintenance and Operation millage by one mill over the thirty figure. State law requires that when the district levies over thirty mills, approval must be obtained from qualified electors within the district.

It should be noted, also, that this election will help equalize the levies of Latah, Nezperce and Clearwater counties which was caused by House Bill No. 304.

For example, the 1969 mill levy for Maintenance and Operation in Latah County was 30 mills . . . in Nezperce County it was 26.741 mills and in Clearwater County 30 mills. In 1970 the M & O mill levy would be a flat 31 mills for all three counties. Approval would bring about an overall reduction in total school mill levies for all counties. The actual breakdown was computed by Supt. of Schools James V. Muscat and is shown below:

M & O:	Latah County	30 mills
	Nez Perce	26.741
	Clearwater	30
Plant Facilities:	Latah County	5.4834
	Nez Perce	5
	Clearwater	5
Bond Interest Redemption:	Latah	8.7799
	Nez Perce	7.842
	Clearwater	9.60

Late Snow Causes Near Fatal Car Accident Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Arne Zumhose and three children were involved in a nearly fatal car accident on the American Ridge grade (SH99), just above the Marion Rowden farm home Sunday afternoon around 4:00 o'clock.

Due to slush on the road their car slid off the highway and partially down the bank, stopping on a soft spot of ground just long enough to allow the family to escape from the car. It then plunged the rest of the way to the bottom, landing on the other side of the canyon. The vehicle is considered a total loss.

The accident was investigated by the Idaho State Police.
The spot where the car went off the grade is almost identically that of previous accidents. There is no guard rail on this grade.

Area Students Active Observing 'Earth Day'

Grade, Junior High and High School students marched to school and conducted their own private war against litter in observance of "Earth Day" last April 22. Beginning last Wednesday and continuing until Friday the students from the local schools marched to classrooms in protest of roadside litter in action that has the backing of the student councils, school administrators and faculty.

The Kendrick Junior High made their contribution to the anti-pollution movement on Earth Day by picking up refuse along the Cameron Grade. The 65 students found the grade littered with not only a huge amount of paper, but also with various discarded items such as car tires, barrel lids, radio and TV parts, a billfold, and the remains of a deer, a coyote and a porcupine.

Lloyd Craig, road supervisor for the Nezperce County Highway Department, assisted by Darwin Tarry and Aaron Wells, provided supervision and trucks for the pick-up campaign of the students. Busses took the students up the grade and they worked back from there.

County Will Assist
Lloyd Craig said Tuesday morning that the county highway crews will be glad to work with any group who wishes to engage in a clean-up campaign such as this. The county highway crew would furnish flag men, police protection and haul the litter away, Craig said, if they are asked enough in advance so necessary plans may be made.

Juliaetta Grade Project
All grades at the Juliaetta Elementary School joined in the Earth Day project and as a result, two huge pickup truck loads of litter were collected around the town.

Principal Darrell Manfull reported his students went out and each room of the six grades took a certain section of town, and not only picked up litter along the streets and alleys but also called on some of the older residents and asked if they had garbage to haul away.

The sixth grade also had a poster contest in their home room.

Fishing Prediction for Early Opener In Clearwater Area

By Stu Murrell, Regional Conservation Educator

May 2nd is the opening day for the lowland lake, trout season. These are waters that provide some of the best early spring fishing and are accessible at this time of year. Fishermen are reminded that Blue Lake, Campbell's Pond, Elk City Reservoir, Mann's Lake, Moose Creek Reservoir, Spring Valley Reservoir, and Spring Valley Reservoir, Lake, and Winchester Lake all have a 10 trout limit. In addition to these waters opening on May 2nd, there are numerous lowland creeks. These have a 15 trout or 7 lbs. and one fish limit. They are Bedrock, Big Canyon, Butcher, Cottonwood, Elk Creek Five Mile, Hatwai, Jacks, Lawyers, Maggie, Pine, Potlatch, Six Mile, and Three Mile Creek. The Palouse River also opens then.

There are no longer fishing hours in Idaho, so you can start at first light if you wish. Fishermen are limited to one pole or handline. Steel head season (any trout over 20 in.)

is closed in these tributaries, so throw those steelhead back if you catch one.

The planting rate of fish by the Fish and Game Department will be about the same as last year. The following waters will be planted prior to the season opener and some of them will receive additional fish during the spring and summer. Most of these rainbows are about 1/3 lb. each. East Fork of Potlatch Creek: planted with 1,500 catchable rainbow. Elk Creek Reservoir: planted with 2,400 catchable rainbow. Some nice resident brook trout are also available up to 17-18 inches long. Elk Creek: planted with 1,500 catchable rainbows between the falls and dam. There is a good population of small brook trout upstream from the reservoir. Palouse River: planted with 3,000 catchable rainbows. Lawyer's Creek: planted with 1,800 catchable rainbow in the upper meadow and highway sections. Moose Creek Reservoir will be planted with 4,500 catchable rainbows if road conditions permit planting truck access. Mann's Lake: planted with 7,200 catchable rainbows. Some large holdover rainbows are available along with largemouth bass. Spring Valley: planted with 7,500 catchable rainbow and 30,000 fingerling. Some large holdover rainbows and cutthroats are also available. Waha Lake: planted with 7,200 catchable rainbows. Some excellent smaller rainbows are present from previous fingerling plants. Winchester Lake: planted with 14,400 catchable rainbows. This lake is scheduled to receive about 25,000 catchable rainbows throughout spring and early summer. Some nice cutthroat and rainbows are available from previous fingerling plants. Campbell's Pond will not be planted until road permits the fish truck access.

Most of the small streams will probably be high and roily with run off and rain. The lakes are probably the best bet on opening weekend. Worms, eggs, marshmallows, corn and small lures will all be effective

Beaver Damage Great

Wildlife depredation complaints for the 1969 calendar year were down 18 percent from 1968. Of a total of 433 complaints, (531 in 1968), 138 were caused by beaver; pheasants 18 percent; deer 12 percent; bear 9 percent; ducks and geese 7 percent each; elk 5 percent; other waterfowl 4 percent; other furbearers 3 percent; other non game birds 2 percent; and other mammals; other upland game birds, bobcats and other predatory mammals, less than 1 percent each. Costs for servicing complaints were down from the previous year by about 6 percent—$15,877.31 compared with $16,585.05.

Be sure and use a good light line and small hooks for best success. The fingerling program has proven to be successful with good growth rates, survival and fine eating fish. The Fish and Game Department plan to expand this program in those waters suitable for fingerlings.

SAGE GROUSE MIGRATION ROUTES

Hunter cooperation in western Owyhee county is helping a 7-year study of sage grouse migration routes in Owyhee county. Of a total of 600 of these large native upland game birds banded and marked during the past two years, hunters have retrieved leg bands, paunchos, and wing markers from 35 sage grouse shot last fall, and 80 during the 1968 hunting season.

The work will probably be finished in western Owyhee Co. this year. It will begin in the eastern part of the county next year. Owyhee county has one of the state's largest sage grouse populations. Workers have counted 3,600 cocks on 80 strutting grounds. Altogether, counting hens and yearling males which are rarely seen on strutting grounds, there may be as many as 10,000 birds in western Owyhee county.

"Happiness Is — Progress" — toward a spring flower display and festival in spite of the wintery weather.

The Hill and Valley Garden Club met at 9:30 a. m. on Wednesday, with headquarters in the Kendrick Fire Hall, and work being done at the mini-park. Charles Taylor, Ernest Heimgartner and Roy Glenn completed the roof and lattice extension at the back of the park plot. Since the last scheduled work day, gravel had been hauled in, treat had been applied to the center garden curbing; a load of dirt, a load of old sawdust; an ash tree planted; the gravel raked and pushed to smooth the surface over the rock fill and some planters constructed.

AMA Terms Marijuana A 'Dangerous Drug'

Boise — Marijuana is termed a "dangerous drug" in a policy statement issued by the American Medical Association. A report accompanying the five-point statement noted that: "The increased use of marijuana in the United States during the past few years has intensified the debate as to its safety."

The report stated that while some argue that marijuana is harmless, others believe there is enough evidence to support the claim that its use is indeed harmful.

The policy statement, reported by the Idaho Medical Association, declares that:

— Cannabis (marijuana) is a dangerous drug and as such is a public health concern.

— The sale and possession of marijuana should not be legalized.

— The handling of offenders should be individualized.

— Additional research on marijuana should be encouraged.

The AMA will continue its educational programs to all segments of the population with respect to the use of marijuana.

The report concluded that: "Physicians, frequently and forcefully should call attention to the problems of all forms of drug abuse and drug dependence, including those which arise from the use of marijuana."

Fish Distribution Program

Idaho's 14 state hatcheries and 4 salmon-steelhead stations produced 1,501,602 pounds of fish during the 1969 fish year, including all species. Of these, 443,000 pounds were produced at Hagerman hatchery, the bulk of which were shipped to redistribution points at Engle, McCall, Kamiah ponds and Mullan, although some were released directly into low land lakes and reservoirs of the Clearwater and Panhandle regions, and elsewhere. Diesel tanker trucks and trailer fish transports, with a combined capacity of about 5,000 pounds of fish, are used. Redistribution stations use smaller tanker trucks because they can travel over rougher terrain.

A 70-ton water chiller at Hagerman drops the temperature of the tanker water to 40 degrees prior to loading of the fish. This unit can supply 5,000 gallons per hour. Insulation qualities of the tankers control temperatures so that no more than one-half degree an hour is added enroute to distribution stations, even on hot days. Hence water temperatures gain only about 6-8 degrees in the 12-hour trip from Hagerman to Mullan. In many cases, tanker water temperatures at the end of a long trip approximate the temperature of the water into which the fish will be released.

LOOKING AHEAD IN HIGHWAYS

The "next" highway program will be, in large part, a continuation of existing programs, Ralph R. Bartelsmeyer, Director of Public Roads said recently.

Although the Interstate System is normally about two-thirds completed a substantial amount of the present mileage must be improved and 1,500 newly-authorized miles must be added. A national highways needs report dealing with the period 1973-1985 has been prepared. It suggests a need for an annual capital expenditure for highways of 17.4 billion dollars, more than twice the present rate.

The report recommends termination of the Interstate program upon completion of what is presently planned. Estimates by the states suggest a need for more than 40,000 miles of new freeways.

A functional classification study is being conducted and will be followed by estimates of the costs of needed improvements on each of the functional systems; a user benefits study will also be made. Bartelsmeyer said a campaign to preserve the integrity of the Highway Trust should be undertaken.

REAR THOSE EXTRA LAMBS

A bulletin Rear Those Extra Lambs just published by the University of Idaho College of Agriculture. It was written by Kenneth R. Frederickson and Donald A. Price of the Dubois station and T. Donald Bell, head of the animal science department at Moscow. The County Agent has the bulletin.

Traditional methods of rearing with bottle feeding of warm cow's milk required a lot of labor and often resulted in poor lambs. Research indicates that cold milk replacer, self-fed is better. Milk replacer powder is mixed with water at the rate of about two pounds per gallon. Mixing with warm water and then cooling to 33 degrees tends to eliminate problems of separation in storage and containers. In a free-choice system, a lamb will eat about a pound of milk replacer powder per day.

Solid food, in addition to milk, should be offered from the end of the first week. This may be small pelleted concentrate, or a course mix, and good quality alfalfa. It is important to keep feed, water, and equipment clean.

ABOUT YOUR S. S. NUMBER

Are you one of the millions of young men or women who can't rattle off your social security number with certainty? You probably will be able to soon if you're headed for the armed forces, according to D. Gene Shaw, district manager for social security in Lewiston.

"It's name, rank and social security number now," says Mr. Shaw.

Since last summer, most military services have used social security numbers rather than serial numbers for new inductees. This is quite appropriate, since young people serving in the armed forces build up valuable financial protection under social security for themselves and their families.

As a matter of fact, members of the armed forces get a special break on social security. Not only does the government match their contributions, as a private employer does, but servicemen now get a $100.00 a month "bonus" credit to cover non-cash pay they receive, such as room and board and clothing allowance. They pay no contributions on this bonus credit.

Young men who have completed their military service generally have built up enough social security credit to provide monthly checks for themselves and their families if they die or become disabled — even before they start their civilian careers. The families of most would still be eligible for social security benefits even though the veteran attended four years or more of college before going to work.

For example, take the case of a young man who enters the service at age 19 and completes two years of service. His family would be eligible to receive social security checks if he died before the age of 30. He would also be eligible for monthly disability checks for himself and his family if he became disabled before age 24.

Many wounded Vietnam veterans receive monthly social security disability checks, and the widows and children of many deceased servicemen are getting monthly checks based on the social security credits their husbands earned in the service.

"A lot of people think social security is just for senior citizens," Shaw concluded, "but it's important to our younger citizens as well."

IDAHO DEPT. OF EMPLOYMENT

Job opportunities declined somewhat during the past week according to a report given by Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager for the Idaho Department of Employment. Hartstein said that his office found jobs for 16 local workers during the week. This compared with job finding activities in behalf of 31 workers during the previous week. At the end of the week there were still 41 jobs open. Most of these were for workers having experience and training in various fields. Needed were insurance salesmen, a lay-out man, farm equipment operators, service station attendant, mechanic secretaries, a bookkeeper, cafe and domestic workers, and a seamstress.

Fourteen workers filed new claims for unemployment insurance during the week, according to another part of Hartstein's report. He said this was fewer than the 29 who filed new claims during the previous week. The total number of idle workers still seeking jobs pay declined from last week's 353 to the current 342. Most of those whose claims were closed had returned to work, while others exhausted benefits, or were declared not eligible for a variety of reasons. A year ago there were only 228 workers seeking unemployment insurance. The largest increase over last year's figures occurred in the immediate Moscow area, where there are now 112 workers receiving benefits, compared to only 61 recipients a year ago.

AMA Terms Marijuana A 'Dangerous Drug'

Boise — Marijuana is termed a "dangerous drug" in a policy statement issued by the American Medical Association. A report accompanying the five-point statement noted that: "The increased use of marijuana in the United States during the past few years has intensified the debate as to its safety."

The report stated that while some argue that marijuana is harmless, others believe there is enough evidence to support the claim that its use is indeed harmful.

The policy statement, reported by the Idaho Medical Association, declares that:

— Cannabis (marijuana) is a dangerous drug and as such is a public health concern.

— The sale and possession of marijuana should not be legalized.

— The handling of offenders should be individualized.

— Additional research on marijuana should be encouraged.

The AMA will continue its educational programs to all segments of the population with respect to the use of marijuana.

The report concluded that: "Physicians, frequently and forcefully should call attention to the problems of all forms of drug abuse and drug dependence, including those which arise from the use of marijuana."

Fish Distribution Program

Idaho's 14 state hatcheries and 4 salmon-steelhead stations produced 1,501,602 pounds of fish during the 1969 fish year, including all species. Of these, 443,000 pounds were produced at Hagerman hatchery, the bulk of which were shipped to redistribution points at Eagle, McCall, Kamiah ponds and Mullan, although some were released directly into low land lakes and reservoirs of the Clearwater and Panhandle regions, and elsewhere. Diesel tanker trucks and trailer fish transports, with a combined capacity of about 5,000 pounds of fish, are used. Redistribution stations use smaller tanker trucks because they can travel over rougher terrain.

A 70-ton water chiller at Hagerman drops the temperature of the tanker water to 40 degrees prior to loading of the fish. This unit can supply 5,000 gallons per hour. Insulation qualities of the tankers control temperatures so that no more than one-half degree an hour is added enroute to distribution stations, even on hot days. Hence water temperatures gain only about 6-8 degrees in the 12-hour trip from Hagerman to Mullan. In many cases, tanker water temperatures at the end of a long trip approximate the temperature of the water into which the fish will be released.

CENSUS ASKS "WERE YOU COUNTED?"

Were you counted in Census '70? With the 1970 Census of Population and Housing virtually completed locally, District Manager J. Robert Halford announced the beginning of a "Were You Counted?" campaign to insure that no resident of the area has been overlooked.

If you think you or your family might have been missed, you are urged to notify the census district office by means of a "Were You Counted?" form. Area newspapers are printing these forms in their current editions as a public service. Prompt mailing of the "Were You Counted?" form will speed up the compilation of preliminary population figures for the area.

Preliminary figures giving the total population of incorporated places of 10,000 or more population, and for counties, will be issued as soon as the District Manager is convinced that a complete count has been made. Final, detailed population figures will be issued from Washington later this year after returns have been tabulated by the Census Bureau's electronic computers.

The importance of a complete count was stressed by the District Manager. He pointed out that the population figures compiled in the current census must stand as official until the next Federal census.

"Representation in the U.S. Congress and the State Legislature is determined by the population count as ascertained in the census. Federal funds are allotted to States and State funds, in turn, are allotted to counties and municipalities on a per capita basis. So a short count means under representation in the Federal and State law-making bodies and under allotment in government funds. Thus, it is imperative that we have a complete count. The help of every resident of the area is needed to reach this goal," he said.

POLLUTION ABATEMENT PRACTICE ADDED TO COUNTY PROGRAM

Tanks, ponds, and lagoons for the purpose of collecting runoff from barn yards and feedlots to reduce the pollution of surface streams or ground water, can now be cost-shared according to Roy R. Glenn, Vice Chairman of the Latah County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The Agricultural Conservation Program which cost-shares many conservation and anti-pollution practices now includes a measure which deals directly with runoff from livestock operations. The Forest Service and the Soil Conservation Service also highly recommend this practice for Latah County.

Mr. Glenn said that about 50% of the cost of such practices will be reimbursed to an operator for completion according to SCS specifications. Construction may include ponds, lagoons, tanks, basins, and piping to control runoff water.

Grass and tree planting, necessary fencing for the protection of the structure, as well as, permanently installed agitators may be cost-shared.

Kendrick Grange News

Kendrick Grange No. 413 met in regular session Tuesday, April 21, at 8 p.m. at the Fraternal Temple. There were twenty-eight members and seven guests present.

At the opening of the evening the Grange was honored by the presence of the candidates for Kendrick's Jr. Miss Pageant. The Pageant is to be held May 2nd. They were accompanied by Joy Davis, who was a participant, for Kendrick, in the State pageant at Moscow. Joy won the Breck contest for Hair Styling at the State contest and will compete for this in the National contest to be judged this month. The winner is to be announced at Mobile, Alabama at the National contest. Joy received about a hundred dollars worth of appliances, plus a years supply of Breck products.

Joy gave a very interesting talk on the Pageant at Moscow and the hard work and fun of being a contestant.

Girls appearing at Grange to be contestants for this year's local pageant were Loanne Meyer, Debra Purdum, Cynthia Osborn, Le Ann Rogers, Lorraine Frankini and Debbie Weyen. The girls sang two group numbers, and each introduced herself and told what they will be doing at the Pageant May 2nd. They are a lovely, attractive group of girls that will make the pageant most interesting with real competition.

Mr. Hugh Parks of Lewiston who is State Grange Legislator spoke to the Grange on "Pride in Grange Membership."

Mr. Parks stated that the Grange organization is more than one hundred years old and is the only rural organization that has survived through the years. It brings people of all ages together for social purposes, economic discussion, and for the formulation of public policies that affect the entire family, every person within the community and across the nation. It is primary spokesman for American agriculture in International councils where great problems affecting world agriculture are currently under review.

He stated many community projects as well as State and National have been successful because of the Grange. Also that America is becoming more urban-American and therefore has more need for the Grange.

Mr. Parks said the Grange helps you because the Grange serves as a legislative force, an educational tool, a voice for rural people, a community service organization, a social and recreational vehicle built to serve through its Junior, Subordinate, Pomona, State and National divisions.

Mrs. Ella Benscoter was taken in as a member of the Kendrick Grange. The Grange voted to pay for and send a Gift Pac to a U.S. fighting man in Vietnam. This is done through the Ladies Auxiliary of the V.F.W. and supplies many useful items to the man fortunate enough to receive a Gift Pac.

Mrs. Roy Glenn announced the judging of the entries for the clothing contest will be done at her home April 30th.

Roy Glenn gave a report on some of the most current agriculture problems.

Following the meeting, delicious refreshments were served in the banquet room by the serving committee of the month. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ingle, Mrs. Myrtle Arrasmith, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Maddux and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, May 5th at eight o'clock at the Fraternal Temple. Mrs. E. M. White will be in charge of the program, which will be on a subject we all need to know more about—"Civil Defense."

HEALTH SUPERSTITIONS

There is no shortage of popular superstitions regarding health, observes the Idaho Medical Association.

High on the list of misconceptions is the belief that wearing a hat will cause baldness. Premature baldness in men is not caused by wearing hats. No one knows what causes it, except that men are male.

Removing a mole properly will not cause cancer. Cancer is more likely to result from not having one removed if it should be.

Night air is not unhealthful. It may even be more healthful than daytime air because it is less polluted.

Punctures from rusty nails are no more dangerous than punctures from clean shiny nails. The danger lies in the germs that either one may introduce.

It is not necessary to open the windows of your bedroom wide or at all at night, especially if it is cold.

Whiskey with aspirin is not a good treatment for cold, even though the cold may improve in spite of it.

It is not important to lie on the right side when sleeping to keep from interfering with the heart. The heart is in the middle of the chest and not on the left side.

Gargles and mouthwashes do not kill the germs in the mouth or throat.

There is no medicine which can be taken by mouth to dissolve gallstones.

Heart disease is not necessarily a reason for refusing an operation or for being afraid to take an anesthetic.

Athletic Banquet Well Attended

GENESEEE—"Dedication is the key to success in athletics," University of Idaho senior Jerry Hendren told a group of Genesee athletes, coaches, cheerleaders, statisticians, parents, and members of the school board on Tuesday evening, April 21.

Hendren, who played three varsity seasons for the University, was the nation's top pass receiver this year and was Inland Empire athlete of the year in 1969. He recently signed a pro football contract with the Denver Broncos of the National Football League. Hendren told the group that college football is not a three month work-out, but rather an eleven month grind of weight lifting, running, body conditioning, as well as scrimmage and games. He advised the young athletes of Genesee High School to work hard, and bear heavily on scholarship as well as athletics.

"The rewards are worth the hard work," he concluded. Accompanying Hendren was Don Robbins, offensive line coach at the U. of I., and Mark Busch, former Genesee High School athlete, who was a member of the Idaho Vandal Bobs this past season. Both of these men spoke a few words.

John Hickman was master of ceremonies for the banquet. He introduced Supt. Lester Diehl, who in turn introduced Genesee head coach Ozzie Kanikkeberg. Coach Kanikkeberg welcomed those present and each boy and girl stood and introduced themselves. Junior Varsity Coach Von Hopkins thanked his boys and their parents for the cooperation that he received this year. David Baumgartner, assistant football, basketball, and track coach was unable to attend.

Others seated at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Ewald "Snuffy" Lettenmaier and Wayne Borgen and the wives of Mr. Diehl, Mr. Kanikkeberg, and Mr. Hopkins. Mr. Lettenmaier drives the player's bus to every game and Borgen is timer and scorekeeper.

Decorations for the tables and room were prepared by committees of mothers. Chairmen were Mrs. Ray Stout, Mrs. Ozzie Kanikkeberg, Mrs. Wayne Schwenne and Mrs. J. P. Hermann. Jerseys and shoes of the different sports were centerpieces, and flowers were arranged in the shoes and in basketball cut in half. Place-cards were cut in the shape of a 'G', with a tiny pompon, basketball, football, baseball bat, and pole were cut from paper and attached. Large banners, depicting the four sports and the "concessions" hung from the walls. These were later auctioned off, with Coach Hopkins acting as auctioneer.

The meal was prepared in the school kitchen by Mrs. Herman Mayer, Mrs. Eugene Griesser, and Mrs. Seth Blah.

The Girl's Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Ralph Baumgartner, served. The dinner was a no-host affair. Chairmen this year were Mrs. Harry Egland, senior mother, and Mrs. D. F. Scharnhorst, junior mother. About 145 attended.

Genesee Civic Association

GENESEEE—The Genesee Civic Association held its monthly meeting last Thursday at Carter's. Approximately 47 were in attendance, with Dr. Loren Pope, agronomist from the U. of Idaho showing slides of his trip to New Zealand and Australia.

A short, but lively business meeting was held. By a unanimous vote, it was decided, that, with the approval of the Genesee City Council, a shelter would be built on the SE corner of the small park used on Community Day. This would include a double fireplace, be roofed, include no walls with a cement floor and pool supports, and cost approximately $1500 without labor. The monies for this picnic shelter would be derived from past Community Days earnings which are now on deposit at First Security Bank.

Wayne Roach reported on Community Day and said there were a few changes this year, among them being no carnival but instead locally staffed concessions; an art, hobby, and flower show instead of the antiques usually seen in the Genesee Motors building. This year, he added, there would be no one large prize in the drawing, but that gift certificates would be given to be used among the Community Day advertisers.

After the business meeting and program, Leon Danielson, Latawah County commissioner, gave a short demonstration on the punch card voting machine to be used throughout Latawah County in the upcoming election.

Peg Bumgarner, publicity chm.

The grading of the festival is divided into 5 divisions. I is superior, the best conceivable performance for the event. II is excellent, an unusual performance in many respects. III is good, a good performance; IV is fair, an average performance; V is poor, much room for improvement.

The festival was concluded with a massed band and chorus in which 16 Genesee students participated.

Weather Still Wintery.

Snow sleet, cold rain and cold winds are still in the weather picture this week as winter seems reluctant to loosen its grip over the area despite the fact that May is almost upon us. Brief snow storms hit the region over the week-end as did sleet, hail, and cold blustery winds. Freezing temperatures were recorded each night in the higher elevations.

When it wasn't snowing there were also periods of rain, so the weather was still keeping the farmers from getting on with the annual spring work. There have been brief periods of sunshine but not nearly long enough for local folks who thought they were through with winter coats, higher fuel bills and icy roads.

Looking out at the snow storm Sunday, one local wit commented, "Well, if it hadn't been for February, this would have been the longest winter we ever had."

FARMERS INSURANCE GROUP

A Texas cowboy ambled to the local blacksmith shop and picked up a horseshoe without realizing it had just come from the forge. Dropping it quickly he put his burned hand in his pocket and tried to appear nonchalant.

"Kinda hot, wasn't it?" asked the blacksmith.

"Nope," replied the cowboy, "it just doesn't take me long to look at a horseshoe."

IDAHO WHEAT COMMISSION

A coalition of agriculture groups responded today to an Administration backed Farm Bill pending in Congress by listing 30 points considered minimum standards for the well-being of farmers.

Harold West, Boise, administrator of the Idaho Wheat Commission, said the Farm Coalition was reacting to surprise amendments passed last week by the House Livestock and Subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture. The series of amendments, proposed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will have the effect of lowering prices of wheat and other commodities, West asserted.

West said the Farm Coalition will oppose any legislation which does not maintain farm income or measure up to these points:

1. Loan rates for wheat, feed grains and cotton tied to the traditional means of measuring parity, with price support loan floors for each commodity set at not less than present levels.
 2. Effective commodity-by-commodity supply management programs for wheat, feed grains and cotton.
 3. Extend and improve the base plan for mills.
 4. Advance payments for commodities of not less than 50 percent of the total.
 - 5a. Continuation of present domestic wheat certificate program and authority for wheat export certificates for producers.
 - 5b. Total support on feed grains sufficient to bring a national average price of $1.35 per bushel or 75 percent of parity.
 6. Open end authorization on cropland retirement program, with grazing on retired acreage prohibited.
 7. Extend present wool program with retention of present production goals.
 8. Extend authority for rice acreage diversion program.
 9. Retention of cotton marketing quotas and the producer referendum.
 10. Permanent legislation.
- West said the Department of Agriculture is working on a plan for establishing farm production bases. Farmers would be expected to cut back their production bases by a desired acreage percentage, called a "set-aside."

In Lewiston on Friday, where they accompanied their daughter, Mrs. Dave Crocker, to Asotin for the barbecue. On Sunday all attended the gymkhana, also at Asotin. Malcolm Anderson, former Juliaetta resident, was a Saturday afternoon visitor in the George Havens home. He said his 14-year-old daughter, Agnes, had been in a car accident, suffering severe injuries to her face, and had her teeth and jaws in braces. She spent a week in a Spokane hospital for surgery, but is now at home and getting along as well as could be expected. Mr. and Mrs. George Havens were Sunday guests of her aunt, Mrs. Anna Wegner of Pullman, at dinner out in Moscow, to celebrate their wedding anniversary and Mrs. Wegner's birthday anniversary.

Highway Training Program Unique

Since 1952, the Idaho Department of Highways Engineer-in-Training program has won praise from throughout the nation as a means of maintaining an "engineering pool" of highly trained personnel.

The program is limited to graduates from accredited universities in the field of engineering. Although the majority are civil engineers, several geological and one mechanical engineer have completed the program.

The objectives are two-fold: (1) to provide the Highway Department with an adequate number of Department oriented engineers on a continuing basis, and (2) to assist the young engineer in obtaining his professional license when he otherwise qualifies.

No other State Highway Department in the West restricts the title of engineer to a licensed professional. The E.I.T. program is a major source of engineers who have obtained their Professional Engineer's registration.

The graduate engineer spends four years in the E.I.T. program. During this period he rotates among major functional areas such as: Design, Materials, Traffic, Location, Construction, Maintenance, etc.—usually on about a six month basis in each. Most of the E.I.T.s spend their first three years in one of Idaho's six Highway District administrative areas and finish their fourth year at the Boise Headquarters office in order to obtain staff requirements to "round out" their training.

It is important to note that the E.I.T. doesn't just review, observe or listen to others during his rotational assignments. He is assigned productive jobs at professional or near professional levels in which results are expected. The E.I.T. answers directly to the District Engineer or the Division Engineer, wherever he is located. Although he is assigned to others for work projects, in each case his development is carefully observed and reviewed. The challenge he has and the close guidance he receives is vitally important to the success of the program.

The Highway Department sponsors an E.I.T. Conference each year. It will be held this year April 22-23 at the University of Idaho. The E.I.T.s provide the major part of the program by presenting papers on certain selected areas of their work. In addition, other functions and important topics are covered at the conference—all designed to provide the young engineer the best rounded development that will eventually make him a better employee, manager and engineer.

Inquiries about Idaho's unique E.I.T. program have been received from all over the United States and Canada with many states utilizing the program. Since 1952, 179 graduate engineers have been placed in Idaho's program. Fifty-eight of those engineers are still employed by the Highway Department. There are now 17 E.I.T.s undergoing some phase of the training program.

IDAHOANS TESTIFY IN ICC HEARINGS IN EAST

Kansas City, Mo. — Members of the Idaho grain industry have completed testimony here before the Interstate Commerce Commission in opposition to a Santa Fe Railroad proposal to sharply reduce freight rates on midwest flour and wheat being moved to California cities.

Harold West, Boise, administrator of the Idaho Wheat Commission, and Dexter David, Blackfoot, president of the Idaho Feed and Grain Association, were cross-examined by Santa Fe attorneys on statements and evidence Idaho interests had entered in opposition to the midwest rate proposal.

West, who was the only representative of wheat growers in western states subpoenaed for the hearings, summarized his position on the issue with this statement: "Idaho and other western wheat producing states already serving the California market grow enough wheat to supply existing California demand and take care of any expanded consumption which might follow the population growth of that state. Our growers have had to reduce crop production in recent years because, in fact, we do not have enough markets at this time. If the proposed rates were to be approved, the addition of the vast over-supplies of midwestern flour and wheat could only result in a most dramatic decline in demand and price for our own wheat."

David, an independent grain elevator operator in Blackfoot, assessed the potential injury to Idaho grain industry interests if the proposal was approved by the ICC. He pointed out that the midwest claim of "catastrophe," because of flour mill closures in recent years was not unique.

"Idaho had 34 flour mills operating in 1942," David said. "In 1951, only 22 mills were operating, and there are only three mills in production now. If the midwest interests claim their situation is a catastrophe, Idaho is left without a suitable word to describe the situation here."

Auto Safety

The Idaho Department of Highways has learned the Department of Transportation is going to start making public the results of tests made on motor vehicles and equipment to make certain they comply with federal automobile safety standards.

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe announced that 1400 reports of tests that were done over the last year and a half were made public November 10, 1969. Others will be made public as they are completed.

The Department's National Highway Safety Bureau hires private contractors to make the tests on such things as energy absorbing steering columns, lights, brake hoses, windshield washers and wipers, deflators, tires, rims, head restraints, seat and shoulder belts and dashboard padding.

Federal regulations require motor vehicle manufacturers to certify that their products meet federal safety standards. If later government testing shows they don't, the matter is supposed to be turned over to the Justice Department.

Until now test results have not been made public, except in isolated instances.

Caution Sounded On Kite Flying

The Idaho Department of Highways, long an advocate of public safety, noted today that spring breezes, kite flying and the spread of civilization don't make the most compatible mixture.

Power lines, radio and television aeriels and traffic are incompatible with the ancient sport of kite flying and present a genuine hazard to the careless kite flyer.

The Department noted that spring is here and asks parents to instruct their children in these safety procedures before they begin kite flying:

- Fly kites only on level, open space away from power lines, airports, trees and street traffic.
- If a kite should become entangled in a power line, leave it. It's better to lose a kite than take a risk of losing a life.
- Kites should be flown only in dry weather—a string may conduct electricity down to the flyer.
- Kite strings should not contain any metallic fibers, tinseel or wire. They conduct electricity, and if the kite becomes entangled in a power line, death or serious injury could result.
- Never fly kites over radio or television aeriels.
- Don't fly kites in changeable or freakish wind or weather.
