

Supt. James V. Muscat Leaves District A Legacy of Accomplishments

James V. Muscat, superintendent of schools for Joint School District No. 283 for the past nine years, formally turned over his administrative position to Don Blakeley Thursday evening, July 9, and prepared to leave for his new post with the Gooding School system in that southern Idaho community.

Among the educational steps forward during Mr. Muscat's administration was the full and continuing accrediting of KHS with the Northwest Accreditation Association, beginning in 1962; the construction of two class rooms at Juliaetta elementary school; renovation of many of the facilities at Juliaetta and adding new ones at a cost exceeding $50,000.

Kendrick High School and the surrounding area changed considerably during the time Muscat was here. Following both trades and purchases of land, a new athletic field was dedicated in 1965—appropriately it now bears the name "Muscat Field." Supt. Muscat was generous in his praise of the many local people who volunteered equipment and labor for this project. After two floods that partially destroyed the field, the Army Corps of Engineers built a dike that will withstand many floods and high waters at a cost of approximately $105,000. Muscat served as coordinator of this project and its successful completion is a tribute to his energy and planning.

In 1969 the administration and trustees asked the people of the district to vote an additional three mills for a new vocational Shop Building. This the patrons did overwhelmingly with a 78.15% vote. The building was started in July of 1968 and was in operation when school started. The late Doug Christensen did an outstanding job of molding the shop and class rooms out of the Stran steel building. "To me, this is a monument to Doug, for he certainly worked hard enough for it," Muscat said. "I feel the building should be dedicated in his honor and named Christensen Shop Building," the outgoing superintendent recommended.

Kendrick's winning of the 1968 State Class A-4 basketball championship is still a source of pride with the superintendent along with many other outstanding athletic accomplishments compiled while he headed the school system.

"The accomplishments of the school district are something that the trustees, patrons and faculty should be very proud of," Mr. Muscat said. "And, if school districts of our size remain in existence they must continue to progress forward to afford our prize possessions an opportunity of a good education."

James V. Muscat did his share for the community... his nine years at District 283 will stand as a tribute to his ability as both a man and an educator. As he leaves we realize we are in his debt... a debt we can only repay by maintaining the educational standards this man set for us.

The Gazette joins everyone in the community in wishing Jim, Betty and their children the best of luck at Gooding and continued good fortune wherever they may go.

Kendrick, Genesee Ball Teams Split

Genesee's adult slowpitch softball team and Little League baseball team were in Kendrick Sunday to play three games with their valley counterparts. Genesee took a 1-3 win over Kendrick in the softball game and then the Kendrick Little League squad defeated Genesee 12-2. Grasshopper Spray Project Begins

Approximately 6400 acres of rangeland in the Kendrick area will be sprayed with the insecticide Malathion in an effort to control a severe grasshopper infestation, it was announced recently by county agents in Moscow and Lewiston. The Kendrick area is part of 22,000 acres of rangeland north of the Clearwater River to be sprayed by airplane. The operation will begin July 15 and will be finished by July 22.

Most beekeepers in the area were notified of this spraying project some time ago. Those with beehives in this vicinity are instructed to remove their hives from this area before spraying begins, and to keep them out of the area from five to eight days after completion of the spraying.

Stanton Becker, Genesee, is chairman for the Nez Perce county effort and Andrew Cox, Kendrick, is chairman for the Latah County landowners. Roy Glenn and Jim Carlton are also on the committee.

The spray used will be ultra low volume of Malathion applied at the rate of eight ounces per acre. The program is a cost-sharing insect control project of the landowners and the federal, state and county governments. It was initiated by ranchers and farmers in the three counties.

Rains Will Delay Area Pea Harvest

Heavy rain which unexpectedly dumped almost an inch of rain over the area Sunday night and early Monday morning halted the first of the 1970 seed pea harvest almost before it started in the Genesee and Kendrick section.

After a blistering hot week of near 100-degree temperatures, a thunder and lightning storm moved across the region bringing rain with it. Rain fell from Sunday midnight until mid-morning Monday, with the heaviest part of the storm coming between 7 and 8 Monday morning when the rain was almost a deluge. Reports of total moisture received varied from .73 inches to almost a full inch in less than twelve hours. The temperature took a sudden drop in the wake of the storm with the mercury sliding down into the high forties Monday night.

Whatever the exact amount of rain was, it was enough to halt and delay the pea harvest. Last week the Zenner Bros. and Bartle Weber had both delivered peas to Genesee Union Warehouse Co, as they had begun cutting operations on the Rimrock area fields.

Bill Wood, manager of Genesee Union, said the co-op had taken in 170 ton of Green Alaska variety peas before the rain stopped the harvest. Wood said the yields were reported to be running fair and the quality looked good, but it was really too early in the season to get a clear picture of the type of harvest 1970 will bring. No deliveries have been made this week, Wood said, but he added that if the weather stays good, combining should start again in a day or two.

Leonard Singhose, manager of Agrow Seed Company's Genesee plant said Tuesday afternoon that no peas had been delivered to the Genesee branch. "We really didn't expect any until next week, anyway," Singhose said, and he added that he didn't know how much the rain will set his harvest back. "We're running about a week later this year than last anyway," the manager added. He said prospects for peas grown under Agrow contract looked "pretty good."

George F. Brocke, Sr., of Brocke and Sons in Kendrick, said his company had not taken any peas in yet because of the unexpected rain. He also was of the opinion that if the weather holds good, they expect some peas and some Rape seed to start coming in. George added that he didn't think the rain would do too much damage to the quality of the peas. "They were looking pretty good," he said. There were quite a few aphid showing up in the fields this year, Brocke said, but he added that the farmers had done a good job in spraying against the insects.

St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City the largest and most awe-inspiring church in Christendom with Michelangelo's famous painting and La Pietà.

We were fortunate along with many thousands of tourists to see and hear Pope Paul VI as he welcomed tourists in St. Peter's Cathedral.

We left Rome on an express train for Genoa—the birthplace of Columbus—going through many tunnels. Our bus driver meeting us in Genoa. We drove through the colorful Italian Riviera of Flowers, and crossed the French border to Monte Carlo and to the Monaco Palace.

Still following the Mediterranean coast line we came to Nice, France one of the most popular resorts on the French Riviera. $160,000,000 in flowers and seeds are exported annually. Passing Cannes with its yacht-filled harbor we turned north through the fertile Provence region to Avignon, famed for its Palace of Popes. Into the heart of France, then across the Swiss border to Geneva. After morning sightseeing in Geneva we continued around Lake Lemman's shoreline to Lusanne with its many modern, beautiful apartments. Valley roads led us to Berne where Gothic and Baroque buildings give the Swiss capital a medieval look.

Stayed two weeks in Lucerne, Switzerland, a popular lake resort with Mt. Pilatus in the background, one of the most beautiful cities of Switzerland. Entering into France we went through many miles of farm land with crops looking good. Our next and last stop was Paris where we spent 4 days sightseeing. Paris is a beautiful, clean city with its many side walk Cafes and pieces of interest to visit.

We had a congenial group on our tour, and with the good weather and the right season for traveling, everything was green and in full bloom making our trip most enjoyable.

We left Paris June 27th, and arrived in Seattle at 7:30 that evening and were met by a host of friends making it a nice homecoming. —Mrs. E. Krier

LIFE'S FLEETING THINGS

That cosmic urge to capture butterflies. For worldly gain that seeks a selfish goal;

Stems from a fount Neanderthal supplies, A caveman lust that overwhelms the soul.

When will I learn the message of the years, How butterflies akin to gossamer things, Through wind and rain and harvesting and tears.

Leave with me only dust from off their wings. —Bert Gamble Millions, billions, trillions of good things on earth . . . But only one mother.

Half a fact is a whole falsehood. —Elias L. Magoon.

Home Cookin' ...

Maple Nut and Tea cookies and Swedish Limpa Rye Bread—sound like a delightful trio to serve with hot summer meals, don't they—or to pack in a picnic lunch. No need to fuss making rich desserts this warm weather when a handful of tasty cookies will fill the bill.

Linda (Mrs. James) Archibald gave us these recipes in the spring and in some way or other, they were misplaced. So glad I found them and know you'll enjoy trying them. Bet she makes plenty of them for husband, Jim, and her three lovely children, Jeannie, Jimmy, and Jason.

MAPLE NUT COOKIES
Two-thirds cup butter
One-third cup powdered sugar, scant
1 tablespoon water
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup finely chopped nuts
One-fourth teaspoon maple flavoring
Powdered sugar
Cream shortening, gradually add sugar; when very light add water, flavoring, sifted flour and nuts. Chill. Roll out like a pencil, cut in 2-inch lengths. Bake on cookie sheet at 350d for 15 min. Roll in powdered sugar.

TEA COOKIES
Mix Together:—
2 cups flour
One-fourth cup powdered sugar
Cut in:—
Three-fourths cup butter
Place in 9x13 baking pan and pat down. Top with filling and bake 25 minutes at 350d and frost with butter icing one-fourth inch thick.

FILLING:
1 and one-half cups brown sugar
1 cup chopped walnuts
One-half cup coconut
2 tablespoons flour
One-half teaspoon salt
2 eggs
Whip eggs until thick. Keep on beating and add sugar, flour and salt. Fold in nuts and coconut. Pour over crust and bake.

This bread, Mrs. Archibald says is good served with pea and lentil dishes.

SWEDISH LIMPA RYE BREAD

Mix Together:—
1 and one half cups lukewarm water
One-fourth cup molasses
One-third cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
finely grated rind of 2 oranges
Crumble in 2 cakes compressed yeast.
Stir until dissolved. Add 2 T. soft shortening. Mix in with a spoon, then with hand—2 and one-half cups sifted rye flour, 2 and one-half cups regular flour. Add 1 cup of raisins if you wish. Knead and let rise until double twice, then shape into 2 loaves. Place on opposite corners on lightly greased baking sheet. Let rise until double (45 to 60 min).
Bake at 375d. for 30-40 minutes until brown and tests done.

YOUR GAME DEPARTMENT

By John R. Woodworth, director Idaho Fish and Game Department Nitrogen Causes Mortality

Two evils of spilling floodwaters over eight dams above Bonneville and warming river temperatures in the Columbia and Snake are causing high concentrations of nitrogen throughout several hundred miles of the inland waterway system used for fish passage by summer-run chinook salmon. About 30 per cent of samples of fish taken at Bonneville show symptoms of "bubble disease," or nitrogen supersaturation. Bubbles in the blood stream either kill fish or outright, including trout, or destroy natural defenses against fungus and bacteriologist infections. Rising water temperatures give nitrogen more lethal effects.

Last year an alarming number of summer-run chinook salmon died in Idaho waters prior to spawning.

Idaho Fish Kills

Three recent Idaho fish kills are being investigated by workers of the Idaho Fish and Game Department and State Department of Health. They were in southcentral and eastern Idaho. Some 5,000 rough fish species were killed in a Minidoka County drain ditch. Investigation indicated that it had been sprayed with adequate weed control chemicals.

Another loss occurred in Goose Creek near Burley, where about 600 trout and some 3,500 rough fish (carp, suckers, and shiners) died when the bank was treated with a weed killer. A third mass fish kill was discovered at Halverson Lake near Swan Falls. About 20,000 perch, bass, bluegill, and bullhead were found dead from unknown causes.

The lake drains surrounding agricultural lands and a pesticide is suspect. Biologists did not get water samples from the lake after the dead fish were found in time to make an analysis of the agent.

Public Drawings Soon

A new procedure has been adopted which for the first time will return all incomplete, inaccurate, illegible applications for controlled hunt permits which have been rejected as invalid and not included as part of the public drawing for mountain goats, bighorn sheep, and moose permits. The drawing will be held in Boise, July 22, at 2:00 p. m. for these species; and for deer, elk, and antelope on July 24, at 9:00 a. m.

Other applicants who are not contacted by mail or listed as winners in the newspapers can consider themselves unsuccessful.

WHEAT CERTIFICATE VALUE SET

Domestic marketing certificates for eligible 1970-crop wheat will be worth $1.57 per bushel, 5 cents per bushel more than for the 1969-crop certificate value, it was announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The certificates are based on wheat parity as of July 1, 1970.

The certificate value is based on the difference between July 1, 1970, wheat parity price of $2.82 per bushel and the 1970-crop national average loan rate of $1.25 per bushel.

In determining total return per bushel for wheat, cooperators divide their certificate payment by their total production to get an average per bushel payment. By adding this to the price they receive in the market, participants in the programs find their total return per bushel.

Wheat marketing certificates are authorized by the two-price wheat provisions of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965. Under this law, farmers participating in the wheat program are eligible for loans and payments totaling 100 per cent of wheat parity price for their share of wheat used for domestic food.

Millers and others purchase wheat marketing certificates at 75 cents per bushel to cover the quantities of wheat processed for domestic food use. The remainder of the certificate payments is made up by the Government.

EARLY CHUKAR SEASON SET FOR MIDDLE FORK

Idaho's special chukar hunting season in the Middle Fork of the Salmon River begins August 1 this year, rather than August 8, last year's opener, the Fish and Game Department reminded sportsmen today.

The hunt is confined to within one-half miles of the Middle Fork from the mouth of Sheep Creek (about 30 miles above Riggs) upstream to the mouth of Horse Creek, and those partying within one-half mile of the Middle Fork from its mouth upstream to Indian Creek.

Hunter's choice of shotgun, rifle or pistol of any kind, including air rifle or air pistol, prevails during the special hunt. Special season runs from August 1-September 18, inclusive, since general chukar season opens September 19, statewide.
The reason for the early chukar hunt is to provide hunting opportunities for sportsmen who float the wild river during August and early September. The special hunt is expected to get a better harvest of those birds throughout the rugged canyon.

CONTROLLED HUNT APPLICATIONS
Applications for controlled hunt permits are being returned whenever they are incorrect in any detail, including illegibility, incompleteness, incorrect fees, improper license or hunt numbers. Later, when the time is too short for forms to be sent back to applicants for correction and resubmission by midnight, July 15, they will be voided and returned to the applicants.

The two most common errors found in applications this year are the failure to include the whole license number, including prefix and to write the full and complete hunt number.

NEW MOWERS MANAGE MANY MANEUVERS

Boise—The steep slope mowers go where tractors fear—or should have feared to tread. They can reach over a fence, under a guard rail, around a post, or down a steep gully—while the tractor and driver never leave the safety of the level ground.

The greater safety afforded by the new, boom-type mowers helped to make last summer the first in several years to be free of fatal mowing accidents. In fact, the tremendous safety advantage resulting from keeping both tractor and driver on level ground was the principal reason for purchasing two of the units for the Idaho Department of Highways Districts headquartered at Coeur d'Alene and Lewiston.

Both of these areas have steep slopes bordering many of their highways. Besides the primary advantage of safety, the slope mowers offer several other benefits over conventional mowers. The hydraulically operated boom can swing through a 75 degree arc, allowing the mower to reach 28 feet up or down a slope.

Carl George, equipment engineer, points out that, "Although these slope mowers are not a cure-all for all our mowing problems, they allow us to reach many places that we have not been able to mow before."

By keeping the heavy tractors off the slopes, the mowers also help to prevent erosion which once resulted from ruts left by the tractor.

Another important advantage of the new machines is their ability to mow weeds in inaccessible ditches so that drainageways won't become clogged by vegetation and cause flooding.

The powerful rotary mowers are not limited to cutting grass, but can also cut stronger growth such as small saplings. The mowers are used full time during the three-month mowing season, then removed to free the tractors for other uses.

Yet, these other advantages are only secondary compared to the principal advantage of safety for the operator.

FREEWAY PHOBIA

Boise—With Interstate 90 sweeping across the Panhandle and Interstate 80N joining I-15 across Southern Idaho and up into Montana, Idahoans are becoming better acquainted with freeway driving.

Those who are new to superhighway driving, unfortunately, sometimes become a hazard on these roads, which actually have the lowest per mile accident rate in the Nation. eGitting off and on seems to be the biggest problem.

Coming on a superhighway, a driver will find himself in an extra lane on the right side of the paving. It is called exactly what it is: An acceleration lane. It is intended to permit a driver to get his speed up to that of the traffic before he angles to the left and into the main traffic stream.

Coming off a superhighway also requires special attention. Keep an eye on your speedometer, warns the Idaho Department of Highways.

A driver who has been breezing along at 65-70 mile per hour for long distances slows to 45 as he sees his exit ahead and turns into the deceleration lane. He feels as if he is barely crawling as he turns off and is confronted by a sign, "Ramp Speed 25." What seems like crawling could actually be too fast for the banked curving ramp.

The safe way is to check your rear view mirrors, signal for a right turn with your turn signals, get in the right hand lane and get your speed down as you drive off the freeway and up the ramp.

The Interstate Highways are the safest highways in the Nation for you only if they are driven properly.

Latah County Fair To Be Held Sept. 16, 17, 18, 19

It's Fair time! Yes, there's something for everyone at the Latah County Fair... both young and old alike... men and women, livestock enthusiasts, or flower lovers... you'll see it all at the Latah County "Lore and Legend of Latah County" Fair!

In honor of the more than thirty years of fair participation, the theme has been chosen. The extension staff, consisting of Homer Futter, agricultural agent; Gordon Dailey, livestock and 4-H agent; and Joanne Anderson, home economics agent, are encouraging fair participants to use a "bit of history" in their booth displays. Many people have art work and other objects very reminiscent of the early days of Latah County, and these people are encouraged to share their objects. Through the help of citizens of Latah County, we are hoping to present a vivid picture of the early days in the county.

At the July Fairboard meeting members of the Latah County Fairboard, Mrs. Werner Brammer, Kendrick; Pat Nunan, Troy; Lawrence Curtis, Potlatch; John Myers, Jr., Genesee; Mrs. Paul Anderson, Jr., Potlatch; Tom Neal, Moscow; Mrs. Engle Anderson, Moscow; Richard Benjamin, Kendrick; and Carl Mants Harvard, had much to report.

"What's new?—You'll see many new accomplishments at the fair this year.

The dog show, a first for northern Idaho, promises to be a huge success. Gordon Dailey has taken special interest in this area and is encouraging all dog enthusiasts to enter.

A new refrigerator-cooled drinking fountain will refresh thirsty fair goers.

A long needed improvement is the remodeling of the fair office. New built-in shelves, counters and desk will make working much more efficient. Seaford blue has been chosen as the color for the interior of the office.

Livestock pens in the barns are being remodeled. Tier tables in both the main exhibit building and the flower room will provide more adequate display areas.

Natural colored burlap has been added to the screened art display, to enhance the art presentations.

More categories have been added in the 35 mm color slides photography contest.

Several acts have already been chosen for the Amateur Talent Show to be held Thursday night. Any interested persons are encouraged to contact Mr. Dave Hash, Potlatch, or the County Agent's Office.

"A Bigger and Better Flower Show" says the Troy Garden Club, who is in charge of the floral arbor new color categories have been ransformed for the 1970 Fair. Seppruppy rny of Suproppe poppe Benscoter, Kendrick.

There will be no Latah County Queen Contest this year. The Riding Club Association will choose a "Riding Club Queen." However, she will represent the Riding Association and has no direct connection with the Latah County Fair.

The term "Federal-Aid" is somewhat of a misnomer, because the trust fund monies returned to the states and matched by them was initially collected in the states as federal taxes on gasoline and related items. Since 1917, approximately 400 million dollars in Federal Funds have been apportioned to Idaho and matched by the State. (That figure excludes Emergency Funds, Public Lands Highway Funds, Forest Highway Funds and other 100-percent Federal expenditures by government agencies.)

Thirty two Kendrick Grange members and seven guests met for a "fun" time and bountiful pot-luck at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fey on Texas Ridge.

It was voted to donate five dollars to C.A.R.E.

The Lecturer's program was given by the chairman of Women's Activities, Mrs. Roy Glenn. She held a discussion on Safety with all taking part. Then games were played with "Country versus the City." A good time was had by all.

The meeting was followed by the serving committee providing refreshments of ice cream and cookies. The serving committee for this month Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Fey, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fey, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Farrington and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wolf.

FIRE PERMIT

Summer is a time for relaxation and enjoyment. But one moment of carelessness can destroy a forest and spoil a vacation. Be extra careful. Secure a permit before building fires. Crush out cigarettes and matches. Use the car ashtray. Keep matches out of reach of all children. Remember, only you can prevent forest fires.

Because of being busy and probably a little absent minded, we missed our ad for a couple of weeks, but it was reassuring to hear that some folks missed our jokes, so we'll try to do better and be in to greet you each week.

Little Mary was visiting her grandmother in the country and one morning while crossing the barn lot, she glanced to see a gorgeous peacock, a pet of the household. After gazing upon the colorful bird for several minutes, she raced into the house and exclaimed, "Oh, Grandma, come out here quick. One of your chickens is in bloom!"

When I was a student I didn't protest I was quiet, I didn't riot I wasn't unwashed, I wasn't obscene. I made no demands on Prexy or Dean I sat in no sit in, I heckled no speaker I broke not a window, Few students were meeker I'm forced to admit with some hesitation;

All I got out of school was an education! "My uncle was too fat, and the doctor told him to try pushing himself away from the table. He tried it once on a picnic at the Grand Canyon and we have not seen him since."

Battle Against Common House Fly Continues

One insect you can keep after without much criticism for polluting the environment is the house fly.

Although they are less numerous than they were a few years ago, there are still plenty around and the county agricultural agent reminds that they are a constant danger to men and animals. They are not only a nuisance but they can spread severe diseases.

Regular control is recommended. You may have no flies today, but tomorrow they can be abundant if they get a start in a neglected area. Therefore, these steps are suggested:

Eliminate breeding sites. Be sure all garbage cans have solid bottoms and tight lids. Dispose of garbage at least twice a week.

Keep screens in good repair. Be sure screened doors swing out.

Kill flies inside the home. Use aerosol sprays for quick knockdown. Pick up flies with a vacuum sweeper and burn them. Treated fly-catching strips are effective in rooms with little air movement. However, do not use them in nurseries or in rooms where there are ill or aged people.

Kill flies outside the home. Use a 50 percent to 57 percent malathion emulsifiable concentrate spray on areas where flies gather, such as garbage cans and compost heaps. Boron powder may be sprinkled under garbage cans to kill fly maggots in the soil.

Follow instructions on container labels and heed all precautions.

New 2nd Grade Teacher Chosen For Genesee

GENESEEE—The board of trustees of Joint School District No. 222 met Monday evening at the school and with deep regret accepted the resignation of Mrs. Bertha Windham, 2nd grade teacher in the Genesee school system for the past 13 years. Mrs. Windham has sold her property in Moscow and will move to Boise to be near her children, and will be teaching in the Boise school system this fall. Mrs. Kathleen Heinemeyer of Lewiston has been hired to replace Mrs. Windham. Mrs. Heinemeyer plans to move to Genesee in August.

The board also discussed how summer work was progressing, and voted to join the Idaho Trustee Association for the coming year.

Also discussed was the health insurance program, but nothing definite was decided at the Monday meeting.

The call for bids on gas and oil at the next meeting.
