Genesee Honors Coach, Team At Banquet

GENESEE—Over two hundred fifty attended the annual Genesee high school Sports Banquet on Tuesday, April 20th, in the Piromen's Hall. The potluck dinner, open to the public, honored North Idaho Coach of the Year, Ozzie Kanikkeberg, members of his coaching staff, cheerleaders, and members of the football team, freshmen basketball, Jr. Varsity basketball, baseball, track and the A-3 state champions, Genesee's Varsity Basketball team.

Vonley Hopkins, Genesee teacher and freshman basketball coach, was master of ceremonies. He introduced Dick Scharnhorst, Genesee mayor, who recounted Coach Kanikkeberg's past, including attending high school in Kendrick, a stint in the Navy, and attendance at the U. of Idaho. Mayor Scharnhorst gave statistics and win-loss records of teams coached by Kanikkeberg at Genesee over the past years.

"You have been a fine example, and you have touched us all, young and old," Scharnhorst told Kanikkeberg. The coach received a standing ovation from the crowd of players and fans, who had come to pay him tribute.

Junior Varsity Coach Dennis Carlson introduced the players on his team, which finished the current season with an 18-2 record. Hopkins then introduced the freshman ball club, whose record was 10-2 for the season. Coach Kanikkeberg introduced the football players, managers and cheerleaders, Jeanne Peterson, Lois Jensen, Donna Bish and Marietta Griener, "A" squad; and Nikki Wood, Laurie Anderson, and Karla Spence, "B" squad. The baseball players and members of the track team were introduced by the coaches. Members of the Girls Drill team with pennants in hand, gave the scores of each of the Genesee Varsity Basketball teams scores. The team went undefeated with twenty-six wins. Coach Kanikkeberg introduced the squad members and managers. The audience rose again in applause. The Bulldogs won the state A-3 championship last month in Rexburg with a 67-41 win over Sugar-Salem high school.

Kanikkeberg had words of praise for the young men and women of Genesee high, their parents and the Genesee community. "One does not get records alone. The fine support and enthusiasm of the people of Genesee has been a great help to the boys and to the coaches." The soft-spoken coach expressed his gratitude to the Genesee fans. He introduced Bob Baker, sports director for the University of Idaho, and University of Idaho head track and assistant football coach Ed. Troxel, main speaker of the evening. Troxel kidded and joked with the audience, but never got far from his belief that the lesson learned on the field of athletics can be used to full advantage throughout life.

Hopkins presented Coach Kanikkeberg with a gift from the mothers of the athletes. The coach was caught a little off balance by the presentation of a jar of "locker room smell." Hopkins introduced those seated at the head table, Supt. of Genesee Schools and Mrs. Lester C. Diehl, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bacharach, (sports editor of the Lewiston Morning Tribune, Father Thomas Lacey, pastor of St. Mary's church, who gave the invocation; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Carlson, Mrs. Hopkins, Jerry Linehan, U. of I. graduate, who aided Kanikkeberg when he was needed; John Henry, sports editor of the Moscow Daily Idahoan; Mayor and Mrs. Dick Scharnhorst, and Coaches Troxel and Kanikkeberg.

Hopkins also acknowledged guests Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Borgen, Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Lettenmaier, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baumgartner. Borgen served as time-keeper; Lettenmaier drove the players' bus to all the games, and Mrs. Baumgartner is secretary to Supt. Diehl and advisor for the Girls' Club.

Decorations for the tables were the inspiration of the mothers from an idea by Wayne Hampton, member of Genesee school board. In Rexburg at the state tournament, Hampton, weary of being asked where Genesee was, made small maps of Idaho with a star locating our town and passed them out for lapel markers to all the fans. The decorating committee cut out small maps of Idaho, using paper footballs, basketballs, hurdles, and baseball caps to designate the respective sports that the boys had participated in.

Blue and gold streamers and flowers were on the tables and mobiles, made by Mrs. John Myers, also depicted the four sports, hung from the ceiling. Mrs. Phil Hermann, assisted by her son, John, drew caricatures of each of the A-3 Basketball Varsity boys and these were on the walls of the hall. Trophies won by the teams and Coach Kanikkeberg's Coach of the Year and trophy from the Bulldogs were on display.

Music was provided by Rev. Gary Barkert, Redmonds, Washington, an uncle of Bulldog Steve Mader. Jim Busch showed movies of the district tournament and action at the state tournament. The banquet was planned by mothers of the players. The food committee was headed by Mrs. Harry Eglund, Jr. and Mrs. Clifford Hermann. Mrs. Phil Hermann, Mrs. John Myers, and Mrs. Ray Stout were in charge of decorations. Girls from the Girls' Club served and poured coffee. The clean-up committee was headed by Mrs. Winston Mader and Mrs. Bill Wood. General chairmen for the affair were Mrs. Dick Scharnhorst, senior mother, and Mrs. Wm. DePell, junior mother.

Park Patter

B Mrs. Jody Smith

No one is even trying to fool themselves into thinking the weekend weather was spring-like. Park was "layered" with 7 inches of snow Saturday morning. By Sunday evening most of it had melted and was "doing its thing" toward rolling up the area streams.

The Dark Ages? — At a casual glance Park seems to have been invaded by dinosaurs and giant spiders. Long-necked relatives of the brontosaurus go galumphing over the land scattering white "bugs" hither and thither. Each day more large silver "spider webs" are left as a sure sign that we're either progressing backward or forward. You guess! (Power line crews of Hughes Construction Co. are progressing rapidly toward completion of towers for the power inter-tie.)

Other Items — The Funk and Smith families visited relatives in Lewiston Sunday. The Smiths shared dinner with his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. R. L. White, their son James and daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blasko. They also called on his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and son. Mr. Smith is now at home after a stay in the hospital.

Campers Enjoy Outing

The Kendrick Campers Karavan went on their first camp-out for 1971 over the weekend—going on an outing up the Snake River to a camp ground. Saturday was a rainy day—a good time for the group to catch up on their visiting. Time was also spent touring up the river and sight seeing. Snow could still be seen on the mountain tops, but the hills are green and quite beautiful for this time of the year. A flock of white swan was seen both Saturday and Sunday. Several boats were seen going up the river, as was the big boat, "Idaho Queen" seen carrying several up the river. Saturday evening the group enjoyed bar-b-que'd steaks prepared by the men.

Sunday was a beautiful sunny day and all the men and women enjoyed playing "lawn darts" — but we're not sure who was the champ! Again Sunday a pot-luck was enjoyed with bar-be-que hamburgers by the men "chefs".

Those going were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brammer and Jolene, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Eldridge, Jack Kuykendall and Mr. and Mrs. Manning Onstott. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman and son of Oakesdale, Wn., were also among those enjoying Sunday dinner. Mrs. Zimmerman is a sister of Mrs. Elmo Eldridge.

Avadex / Avadex BW

PRE-EMERGENCE HERBICIDES

in Peas, Lentils and Barley

No one herbicide on the market can control all weed infestation such as fan weed, dog fennel, nightshade and mustards . . . but Avadex gives good pre-emergence control of wild oats in peas and lentils. Followed by a reliable post-emergence herbicide, such as Dinitro, after crops are 3" high, you can control most broadleaf weeds. For barley, Avadex BW provides excellent pre-emergence control of wild oats.

Remember these important facts:

Avadex/Avadex BW control wild oats effectively for up to 8 weeks, in wet or dry weather.

Avadex/Avadex BW require only one application.

Avadex/Avadex BW are easily incorporated with your present equipment.

Avadex/Avadex BW are safe to crops when you follow label directions.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Genesee, Idaho
April 28, 1971

Dear Bill:

In the past months several articles in our regional papers on our big game and the game department's attempts to control nature impress on me that our present day stress on education and research can be the undoing of what originally was intended to be.

In my opinion the game department has taken one giant stride forward after another all to which one end can come—that being the complete extinction of our fish and game. I firmly believe in helping any animal in need of help but my idea of help and the game department differ to the point that in a topic discussion it would seem two completely different subjects were being discussed.

The game department contends big game does not need salt—true to a degree. They can get by with out common table salt. I know a biologist, who formerly with our great game department, proved in his own and team members minds that elk and deer are the same as a domestic cow — that being neither can bring forth a healthy offspring if any, with a mineral deficiency. He stated to me that as he attempted to bring this fact to light he was given a choice—drop the matter or his job. The latter was his choice. One state in the northeast proved this point by transplanting some western elk and including mineral salts in their diet, the result being a ninety-four percent calf drop. It would be encouraging to see Idaho with seventy-five percent. I believe the present salting program now being conducted is unfair to the game animal in the time it was started and will only support the department contention that they need no salt of any kind from man's hand. Another contention that the game need not be fed hay as they survive on roughage and hay will kill them—feed anyone or anything that is starving a rich diet and enough of it and you can damn well bet it, or they, will die. The game department screams roughage—well, the people of Idaho grow plenty of roughage in the normal hay crops every year—that not being alfalfa but the many grasses we feed cattle as of now in a supplemented diet. So why not try feeding the animals if in need before they reach a starvation stage. To me it doesn't take too much knowledge to be practical about this matter.

I have been informed that elk, when mating, have a one time only period and that being very short in which they will conceive. If this is true then doesn't it stand to reason that early seasons could be a factor in our declining herd. I believe that most people will agree that in early season the only place you find a bull is in the most remote pockets the woods can afford and not very often with any cows. I feel that rack hunters to a degree force the bulls away from the cows thereby killing the chance for a decent calf crop. Here again if I'm in any way right on this matter it would seem a later season as we had years ago would be a step in the right direction.

As I stated to begin this letter, the stress being put on research has in my opinion proved this—Man and his books have only raised havoc—you can only go so low then there is no way but up. I understand you can now, if on the grounds of research, get a permit to jacklite from the game department. It looks like there is no way but up and I would gladly go help some of these people up if I could let go at that time.
