Lions, V. F. W. Held Joint Work Session

Despite the fact that the Latah County Chambers of Commerce were meeting in Kendrick, Wednesday evening of last week, with a very good turnout, the Kendrick Community Lions Club and the V. F. W. had a "work night" scheduled in preparation for the Locust Blossom Festival, and following a delightful meal served smorgasbord style by the Ladies of the Kendrick Grange, which was enjoyed by all, the "workers" for the evening "took off" for their jobs.

After leaving the Fire Hall, the Lions and V. F. W. members went to work in preparation for the Festival. Some painted crosswalk lines on Kendrick's Main Street; some worked at moving and cleaning the park tables; some trimmed trees; some worked at setting up the serving lines in the park "cook house"; some hauled benches and bleacher seats from the V. F. W. Hall and assembled them for the concert.

All-in-all it was a busy evening for everyone — and it was dark when the evening's work was done — with a couple more evenings to come!

Please Return Personal Property Tax Forms, Asks Assessor Taylor

Eugene Taylor, Latah County Assessor, said this week that many personal property owners are delinquent in sending in their personal property reports. This reporting now covers furniture and fixtures of businesses and farming equipment of farmers as well as other categories specified on the report form mailed from the Latah County Assessor's office in February of this year.

Failure to report makes it necessary for the assessor to put on the roll a value based on the last year's assessment which in some cases may be more than the individual actually has in value.

Garnet Winners

Dick Benjamin won the 4-star garnet and Loren Hoisington placed second winning the garnet earrings. The Flintstone Rock Club wishes to thank everyone who participated in this Blossom Festival event.

that Jolene Brammer had won first in the State in the National Coloring Contest of "Smoky the Bear". Debbie Christensen won 2nd and Diane Sillflow a third with Randy Sillflow and Douglas Christensen an honorable mention.

A progress report was made on the State Meeting to be held in Moscow May 31st and June 1 and 2.

Some of the members varnished the new cabinet and others finished name tags for the convention — all worked at the Brocke Warehouse to cover tables for the display and sale.

Chairmen for the flower show at the Latah County Fair were selected. Mrs. Eddie Galloway will be chairman with Mrs. Stanley Hepler, Mrs. Ken Wilken and Mrs. William Lublow her committee.

A lovely exhibit of corsages was sent in by Deloris Lyons.

Festival Flower Display Termed "Happy Event"

The flower display was termed a happy event at the 11th annual Locust Blossom Festival. Some 380 people signed the guest book and there were thirty-five artistic arrangements and an abundance of horticulture and house plants with a special section of Bonsai on display.

The plant and novelty sale was a great success with $150.00 taken in.

Six door prizes were awarded. The use of the new Brocke warehouse was greatly appreciated.

Joseph Watts, Kendrick Native, To Retire As University of Idaho Business Manager

Joseph W. Watts, business manager and bursar at the University of Idaho, announced last week that he is seeking retirement from the institution when he completes 31 years of service August 31.

Watts, who began his professional career at the university in 1940 after graduating from the school's College of Business Administration, said he expects the university's Board of Regents to act on his request at their June meeting in Boise.

A native of Kendrick, Watts graduated from Kendrick High School in 1936 before coming to the university that fall where he earned a bachelor of science degree in business four years later. In August of 1940, he began his career in the university business office as an assistant accountant, later becoming budget officer, assistant business manager, business manager and bursar.

In the position of bursar—the designated business agent of the Board of Regents—Watts served in a dual role for the University of Idaho. He was named bursar in 1967 at the time Financial Vice President Kenneth A. Dick retired.

Serving under presidents Dale, Buchanan, Theophilus and Hartung, Watts has been instrumental in establishing current business procedures. In addition, he is credited with designing and implementing the funding methods used in financing the major buildings constructed on the Idaho campus in recent years.

Only this month Watts completed a year-long term in office as president of the Western Association of College and University Business Officers. The association is comprised of memberships from 168 institutions from all the western states, Canada and Mexico. Holding his membership through the university for 18 years, he has served as secretary to the group, was vice president, and later became its president in May of 1970.

In addition to his professional service, Watts has served the Moscow community as a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, and has been active in community affairs with more than 18 years of service to the Campfire Girls program as a member of the board of directors of Camp Neewahlu and district committee work. He also served as a member of the Moscow School Board and was active as its chairman for three years.

Pies Needed For Community Day

GENESEE — The Community Day lunch stand committee will again be selling pies on June 12th, and are asking donations from local people. Anyone who would care to donate a pie or two to the stand may do so and bring them to the down stairs of the Firemen's hall Community day morning. Members of the Genesee Firemen will operate the stand again this year.

SCS Picnic Will Honor Russell E. Smith

Nez Perce Soil and Water Conservation Districts are sponsoring a potluck picnic honoring Russell E. Smith upon his retirement from Soil Conservation Service. The picnic will be held at the Kendrick Park Saturday, June 5 at 8:30 p. m. In case of inclement weather it will be held at the Kendrick Fire Hall. All old friends are invited. Coffee will be furnished.

Large, Happy Crowd Attends Kendrick Locust Festival

An estimated 2,000 people thronged into Kendrick, Saturday, May 29, to attend the 11th Annual Locust Blossom Festival. Even the "weatherman" smiled on this yearly celebration because the weather was perfect and the severe rain storms which have lashed the area since then, held off for the entire day.

Every event of the day reported good attendance and a successful conclusion.

The day opened with the parade down Main Street led by a police car from the Latah County Sheriff's office, followed by the Honor Guard of V. F. W. members. W. L. (Bill) McCreary, this year's Grand Marshal and Mrs. McCreary had the place of honor in the parade, followed by 30 entries, plus numerous riding groups from the Kendrick area, and other neighboring communities.

Reigning Royalty of the Festival, Denise Brammer, Queen of the Locust Blossom Festival, and her Princesses Nori Fry and Debbie Dammarrell led a parade of royalty from the neighboring towns of Genesee, Orofino, Moscow, Elk River and Deary.

From the many flat entries the Grand Prize went to "The Castle" entry from Juliaetta. The float, taking its cue from the Festival theme "Early America in Song" depicted "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree."

In the non-commercial division the first place went to the Kendrick Grange; second place to the Arabi Twirlers of Orofino, and third to the Good Doers 4-H Club.

In the commercial division first place went to Brocke & Sons; second place to the Country Kitchen, and third to a pony chuck wagon entry from Lewiston.

Well Attended Dinner
Over 1,300 people filed through the two serving lines in the park to enjoy Kendrick's famous barbecue meal of barbecued beef, baked beans, salad — and other good food.

Just before the serving of the dinner a new flag pole was dedicated by District II V. F. W. Quartermaster Joe Forest of Kendrick. The members of the V. F. W. fired a three-volley salute.

Members of Boy Scout Troop 149 assisted in the raising of the American and State of Idaho flags. During the raising of the flags the Kendrick High School band played the national anthem and "Here We Have Idaho." The pole, near the War Memorial, was a joint project of the V. F. W. and the Kendrick Lions Club.

There were 175 registered pioneers with the oldest being Warney May, Sr., 88, of Lewiston.

During the noon hour entertainment was provided by the Kendrick High School band and the "Sweet Adelines" from Lewiston. An "Old Timer Fiddlers Contest" followed.

Also during the day there were races for the children, plus an Art Show and Flower Display.

The day came to its successful conclusion at 9:00—that-night with dances for adults and teen agers.

Both the Lions Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars wish to thank everyone who worked to make this day a success — and also to thank all who attended the celebration.

Heavy Rains, Wind Sweep Area

Although they held off until after Kendrick's Locust Blossom Festival, heavy rains swept across the area from Sunday morning on until mid-week. The rains caused washing in the fields, especially in the newly worked summer fallow. The added water also swelled the Potlatch River and other streams, and much to the dismay of the sportsmen, completely ruined the opening weekend of the general trout season here in this section of Idaho.

John Leudke, who maintains rainfall figures in Genesee for the Soil Conservation Service, reported the total May rain fall at 2.10 inches. This is over one-half inch more than the 1.54 inches that fell in the same period last year.

Total rainfall to date in the Genesee area this year is 10.78 — almost three inches less than the 13.63 for the first five months of 1970.

Jim Carlton recorded a total of 2.07 inches of rain during May up on Fix Ridge.

Once there was a Genesee farmer who had four sons. He gathered them around him and said, "All right, which one of you young uns pushed the out-house into Cow Creek?" No one said a word. The farmer continued, "Years ago, George Washington cut down a cherry tree. When his father asked him, 'George, did you chop down the cherry tree?' George replied, 'Yes, I did, Father.' His pa rewarded him. 'Now I repeat my question, which one of you pushed the out-house into Cow Creek?'"

His youngest son stepped forward and said "It was me, Pop." Whereupon the old farmer took him over his knee and whaled the daylight out of him. The little boy looked at his father through tear-filled eyes and said, "You told us George Washington got a reward after he confessed to chopping down the cherry tree."

The farmer said, "Yup, but his father wasn't sitting in the tree when it happened."

Clean Up Campaign

GENESEE—Ecology has become the main concern for many people including the FHA and FFA of Genesee. Accordingly, they are holding a clean-up campaign on June 8. The two groups are having a contest. The FHA will try to collect more litter than the FFA. Each group is allowed to work from 1 to 5 p. m. At the end of this time the ones with the most litter collected wins. The losers will treat the others to a BBQ dinner. This will serve a double purpose; Genesee will be litter-free for Community Days, and the contestants will have a lot of fun.

Members are asked to bring rakes and other tools for clean-up, and several pickups will be needed. In addition, old sacks would be useful in gathering rubbish of small size.

Plan on meeting in front of Genesee high school at 1:00 p. m. Tues., June 8.

Food Sale

GENESEE—The girls of Genesee high school are having a food sale June 11th from 9 to 12 a. m. They hope that it will help the ladies before Community Days. You can have a free weekend to enjoy yourself by buying your week end dessert beforehand. They will have pies, cakes, cupcakes, cinnamon rolls, cookies, and popcorn balls. They will be out in front of the Food Thrift Store. The proceeds will help Sheri Hermann and Debbie Smith go to the National Convention of FFA in Kansas City, Missouri.

COMMUNITY DAY

I'll ride away when the dawn is breaking,
Climbing the slope to the upland trail;
Out through the pass when the birds are waking;
I'll hit the road for that wheatland vale—

There's where I'll find the bluebirds mating;
Calling me back with a tender urge;
Back where the friends I love are waiting,
Waiting for me where the wheatfields surge—

Bring me my horse, and bring me my saddle;
Don't let me linger, or bid me stay;
With THE PIONEERS let my heart skaddle;
To GENESEE ON COMMUNITY DAY.

LILAC TIME

I love the lilac time when blooms are fragrant,
When bees return to pollinate the rose;
When blown-out homing winds, no longer vagrant
Sigh with content and nestle to repose.

In lilac time I find no note of sadness
Just lovely things and happiness sublime;

My heart goes singing on through
Gates of gladness;
And heaven smiles on me in LILAC TIME.

MEMORIAL DAY CAN BE PLEASANT TRAVELING

Spokane—As the first big family holiday of 1971, Memorial Day, approaches, motorists are warned to plan their outings and not to over-extend themselves. It is pointed out that those who try to set an endurance record over the holiday face the risk of extreme fatigue, which reduces alertness, lengthens reaction time, and greatly increases the danger of a traffic accident.

A well-planned Memorial Day journey will be one which provides plenty of time at your destination. The distance to the destination should be a reasonable length and not take more than one-fourth of your time away from home, says the A. A. A.

Other recommendations include: Be sure your car is in good condition; be sure you have accommodations at your destination and at any stops along the way; make frequent stops for rest and comfort—and don't drive too fast!

YOUR GAME DEPARTMENT

By Robert L. Salter, Acting director Idaho Fish and Game Department

GAME BIRD HARVESTS

Idaho's small game harvest for the 1970 season showed increases for some species and decreases for others when compared with 1969 seasons and with long-term averages from 1964-1968. Increases, for example, were noted in duck harvesting and Canada goose kills. Pheasant harvest totals showed a decrease of 11 per cent for the long-term average and 20 percent from 1969. The reported total was 470,000 pheasants, including 437,100 roosters and 33,500 hens.

BIG GAME SEASONS

Big game seasons and other regulation details including opening dates for upland game bird hunting, will be established at the meeting of the Idaho Fish and Game Commission scheduled to begin Wednesday, May 19, 1971. Idaho's two newly appointed commissioners will make their Boise debut at this special three day meeting.

The new fish and game commissioners are Jack Alvord, Pocatello, who replaces Glenn Stanger of Idaho Falls, District 5, and Jack Hemmingway, Sun Valley, who replaces Ray J. Holmes, Twin Falls, District 4. These men were appointed earlier by Governor Cecil Andrus. They meet with Robert C. Kabb, Sandpoint, District 1; Paul C. Keeton, Lewiston, District 2; and John Eaton, Cascade, District 3.

Mayer-Everingham Vows Held In Genesee March 27

GENESEE—On March 27th, 1971, in a setting of white gladioli and muscades, Paula Marie Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mayer, of Genesee and Larry A. Everingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Everingham of Idaho Falls were united in marriage.

Fr. Thomas Lafey officiated at the nuptial mass at St. Mary's Catholic church in Genesee.

The bride wore her grandmother's dress that she wore at her wedding in 1912. It was of ivory sidner satin and lace, featuring a high neckline and beaded medallion and long sleeves. Her double tiered ivory veil fell from a beaded rhinestone and pearl headpiece. The bouquet was an old-fashioned nosegay of yellow daffodils and white daisies.

Michelle Becker of Seattle was matron of honor for her sister. Cheryl Mayer, sister of the bride and Jody Magee were bridesmaids.

They wore yellow floor-length dresses with high neck and puffed sleeves. Each carried a long stemmed daffodil. Sister Cecelia of St. Augustine of Moscow was organist, and Mr. Larry Gee, of Genesee, sang.

Reception followed in St. Mary's hall. Mrs. Seth Bish, of Genesee and Mrs. George Becker, Uniontown poured and Mrs. Bill Becker of Genesee and Mrs. Roman Keller of Colton cut cake. All are aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Don Everingham, Jr. of Idaho Falls was in charge of the guest book.

GENERAL TROUT SEASON OPENED MAY 29

By Stu Murrell
Regional Conservation Educator

General trout season opened on May 29 in the Clearwater Region. The best fishing is usually available in the smaller streams. The main rivers were high and difficult to fish. Most of our fish planting for the large rivers will be delayed until conditions are more suitable for the fishermen. The high mountain lake areas are still inaccessible. There are steelhead spawning in many tributaries and fishermen are required to release them.

Some of the better areas close to Lewiston are Deer Creek and Soldier's Meadow Reservoir on Craig Mountain. Soldier's Meadow has not been stocked this year because of the poor road conditions but should be before the opening day. However, there is a holdover of last year's stock. Roads are passable now, but the rains of this weekend have made passage very rough.

The North Fork of the Clearwater still has a good snow pack in the mountains but creeks such as Washington, Beaver and Reeds should be fishable. However, fishermen can expect a reduced success in the tributaries to the North Fork because only a few small steelhead remain in the drainage. Most of the adult steelhead have been taken at Dworshak Dam for the fish hatchery the past two years that normally spawn in the North Fork. Since about 80 percent of the trout caught in the North Fork have consisted of juvenile steelhead, this will be a great reduction for the fishermen. It will be many years, if ever, that these can be replaced by stocking or introduction of new species. Roads into the Cedars area should be open

If there is no additional rain. Fishermen are reminded that Fish and Sheep Lakes in this area are closed until August 1. Orofino, Rhodes and Quartz Creek have been stocked with catchable rainbows.

The roads above the lower Selway are still closed. Fishermen will be limited to the lower tributaries such as Gimney, Meadow and O'Hara Creeks.

Many of the tributaries of the Lochsa River are still high but clear. Most side roads are blocked with snow a short distance from Highway 12.

Crooked Fork on the South Fork of the Clearwater has been planted with rainbows. Most of the smaller streams should be good in the South Fork of the Clearwater River.

Roads in the Moscow area are in good condition and fishing should be excellent. Upper Elk Creek above Elk Creek Reservoir opened over the weekend and the many beaver ponds provide good habitat for numerous brook trout.

SIXTEEN AREA WORKERS PLACED ON JOBS LAST WEEK

Sixteen area workers were placed on jobs during the week by the Moscow office of the Department of Employment. Twenty new jobs were received and at the close of the week there were 23 openings available. Those openings include positions for housekeepers, babysitters, waitresses, cooks, secretary, nurse, carpenter, janitor, and maintenance man.

The number of persons receiving unemployment insurance benefits dropped to 254 from the previous weeks total of 294.

Please be careful with fire in or near the woods. It is a lot easier to prevent forest fires than to fight them.

Availability of Certain Pesticides To Farmers During Growing Season

With the arrival of the 1971 growing season, and in the light of the Environment Protection Agency (EPA) announcement of new actions regarding some pesticides, many farmers and ranchers are understandably concerned about their availability. DDT, 2,4,5-T, aldrin, Dieldrin, and mirex will be available for all registered uses during the upcoming growing season.

The EPA statement was released by Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus on March 18. In brief, it announced the following:

1. That EPA found no imminent hazard requiring suspension of the registered uses of DDT and 2,4,5-T.
2. That EPA was issuing notices of cancellation of registered uses of aldrin and dieldrin.
3. That EPA was issuing notices of cancellation of registered uses of mirex.
4. That EPA was submitting to administrative review a list of other organochlorine insecticides and pesticides containing mercury, arsenic, or lead.

Farmers should be aware that the cancellations are intended to initiate, upon appeal of the registrants, a full review of the risks and benefits of the registered uses of the pesticides involved. This review will determine whether or not any of the uses constitute a hazard to the public or the environment that would require final cancellation of such uses.

The procedures for reviewing all information with respect to these registered uses is likely to take several months. The pesticides will remain available while the review is in process.

In the meantime, it is the policy of both USDA and EPA that use of these materials be limited to situations of real need, thus reducing the possibility of inadvertent overuse. Farmers and ranchers are urged to first identify those pests which must be controlled in order to protect crops, livestock, range and pasture. Then, users can select from among the registered available pesticides for carrying out control measures. Extension Service specialists and State pesticide regulatory officials can provide advice on pesticide use.

DDT
Because of the potential hazards hazards posed by the overuse of DDT, farmers should use this insecticide only against pest infestations that seriously threaten a crop. Several states have restricted or eliminated the use of DDT. Even when State laws and regulations permit its use, DDT should be used at the minimum effective level. Failure to do this could result in dispersion from the target area; this could impair the quality of air, water, and soil, and could prove injurious to some fish and birds.

There are a few important crop pests for which DDT is still the safest and most effective means of control. In many cotton growing areas, for example, DDT controls the bollworm more safely and effectively than any other insecticide. But, because of potential environmental contamination, USDA is testing alternative control techniques. These include biological control, integrated control (use of more than one technique), and control with insecticides other than DDT.

2,4,5-T
2,4,5-T is a very effective herbicide which is widely used for controlling brush on rangelands and undesirable broadleaf trees in forestry programs. This chemical should be used in such fashion that no residues will result in food or feed. Milk cows should not be grazed on treated areas for a few weeks after treatment, and meat animals should not be permitted to graze freshly treated areas for a few days prior to slaughter.

Aldrin and Dieldrin
Regarding aldrin and dieldrin, EFAs announced intention to cancel registered uses of these insecticides will set in motion a careful evaluation procedure. Aldrin is a principal means for controlling soil insects in corn fields. Dieldrin, as well as chlordane, is widely used for controlling termites. These chemicals will remain available as permitted by state law and regulation during the period of evaluation.

Mirex
A major use of the insecticide mirex is in a USDA-States program in the southeastern United States for controlling the fire ant. Although mirex has not been determined to be an imminent hazard to the public, substantial questions have arisen as to the possible effects on the environment. EPA, therefore, has initiated an administrative review of this chemical. For purposes of conducting the review, USDA will provide EPA with all data available on mirex and will also furnish EPA with the Departments views on the scientific and policy issues involved.

Only on the basis of an orderly and exhaustive examination of the data available on all of these chemicals can meaningful decisions be made concerning restrictions of their use.

APPLE BLOSSOMS
Oft when May winds toss the dear old orchard,
Tenderly again across the years;
Comes the rapture of the APPLE BLOSSOMS,
Storming through my life's December-tears; —

Apple blossoms in their wild stampeding
Take me back to dear love-days of old,
When in loversland we strolled together
Sweetheart when our tales of love we told—

Years have rolled away but still unfading
Is the day you said you loved me so;
Mid that tender pink and white cascading;
Of the APPLE BLOSSOMS long ago.

SOME ELK, DEER HUNTS SHORTER; SOME LONGER

The Idaho Fish and Game Commission ended a three-day meeting by announcing that elk and deer hunting seasons will be shorter this year in 19 game management units than they were in 1970, and three elk units this year will be longer than they were last year.

Sixteen deer units also will be shorter this year than 1970, and eleven will run longer.

Pheasant seasons start in northern Idaho October 9, and south of the Salmon River and in eastern Idaho, October 23. Closing dates will be set at a special meeting in August when nesting and brood success of the spring and summer months has been determined.

The commission also endorsed federal legislation creating a Hells Canyon-Snake National River that would prevent the construction of additional dams and obliterate this unique type of river recreation. In addition, it ordered that no big game animals shall be killed by any method for any scientific experiment without prior approval from the commission. It also rejected a proposal to exclude certain southwestern Idaho big game units from the regulations which allow the use of dogs to hunt black bear.
