Juliaetta Permits Limited Sprinkling

After last week's total ban on watering and sprinkling of lawns and gardens, the City of Juliaetta this week eased their restrictions somewhat and are now allowing limited watering. City Marshall Ervin Mabbutt said Tuesday morning that sprinkling is allowed between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 8:00 a. m., and from 6:30 p. m. until 8:30 p. m. each day. Last week's ban on watering came when city officials became concerned that there would not be enough water in the reservoir to provide adequate flow should there be a serious fire. The pumps which bring the water from the wells to the reservoir were also operating almost continuously in an effort to keep the reservoir at capacity. Should one of these pumps fail, the water supply would also have been in jeopardy. Adequate In Kendrick While Juliaetta is experiencing some slight concern over water usage, Kendrick city officials said Tuesday that despite heavy demands made during the past few weeks on the water system, there still is apparently an adequate supply, and there are no present plans for curtailing water usage.

Wheat Official Explains Impact That Current Dock Strike Has On Farmers

BOISE — A five-week-old dock strike at West Coast ports is inflicting serious damage on the agricultural economy of North Idaho, according to the administrator of the Idaho Wheat Commission. Harold West, who is also a member of the President's Regional Export Expansion Council, said wheat farmers in North Idaho are facing severe economic loss if the dock strike is not settled soon. "About 80 to 85 percent of wheat grown in Idaho goes to export markets," West explained. "There are no practical alternatives to this marketing system that our farmers can fall back on." Several large export sales to Japan, Korea and the Philippines have been lost to Canada and Australia since the strike began, West pointed out. "This is a loss of over $10 million already to wheat growers and transportation in the Pacific Northwest," the Wheat Commission official said. "Those sales are gone forever, and we will lose more if the strike continues."

A sale of 100,000 metric tons of Northwest soft white wheat to India is now in jeopardy, it was reported by officials of the grower-supported Western Wheat Associates foreign marketing organization. Loss of this sale alone would involve nearly $4 million. "Traditionally, the heaviest export business occurs at harvest time in August and September," West said. "Foreign buyers at that time are depleting their old supplies in anticipation of new crop wheat. This strike also has long-term effects on our export sales. Foreign buyers are generally short of storage facilities, which means they must be able to count on orderly month-to-month shipments. The strike is destroying our credibility with customers that we have built up over many years." West noted that last year a total of over 14 million bushels of white wheat was produced in North Idaho. Indications are that this year's crop will increase that figure by as much as 20 percent.

Know Your Credit Cards And What They Cost

U. of I., Moscow — A conservative estimate indicates there are more than 250 million credit cards in circulation, says Mrs. Ruth Spidahl, University of Idaho extension home economics leader. As a consumer you must weigh the advantages and disadvantages since no one knows your financial position and your personal values better than you do. But to do this, you must know the credit card facts and this is your responsibility. Mrs. Spidahl gives the following points for use of credit cards: Retention of a credit card constitutes acceptance of the terms under which it was issued. Be sure you understand the terms and all the conditions of the agreement. If the credit card agreement states that payment is due at a specified time from the date of billing, you may not actually have this much time to pay. The "no interest" period begins on the date the monthly bill was written, rather than on the date you receive it. If the interest or service charge on past due bills is charged at 1 1/2 percent per month, this is a yearly rate of 18 percent, and could on a $500.00 account limit amount to interest of $75.00 a month or $90.00 annually. If you have any complaints about the goods or services you've been charged, you must take them up with the establishment from which you bought the goods or services. Cash refunds are generally not made. Credit card issuers keep in close touch with local credit bureaus to check prospective customer ratings and to report delinquent accounts. Your credit rating may suffer if any of your credit card accounts become delinquent. There is generally a charge for card service and these are reflected in extra costs for goods and services in initial fees, service charges and generally higher prices.

Better Weather Helps County Job Picture

A few days of warm weather makes all the difference in the world in the employment picture, according to Frank J. Hartstein, manager of the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment. Hartstein said that his office placed 39 workers on jobs during the past week, and had several others referred out, and probably placed, although they will not start to work until Monday. Job openings, most of which were suitable for students available for short times only jumped by leaps and bounds during the week. Farmers, particularly felt the need for workers as haying operations started up in earnest during the latter part of the week. There were also calls for other workers to do jobs of varying duration during the week. During the previous week, only 14 persons had been placed on jobs, and a year ago the total was only eleven. Hartstein's office listed 30 job openings still exist at the end of the week. Calls were in his office for a legal secretary, waitress, a seamstress; farm hands, diesel mechanics, auto body and fender man and a radio repair man. Hartstein's report indicated that the number of persons continuing to file claims for unemployment insurance declined from 259 to 244 during the week. This number is still considerably higher than the 168 persons who were claiming benefits a year ago.

Genesee Schools Prepare For Aug. 30 Opening

GENESEE — The opening date for Genesee public schools has been set for Monday, August 30 with a full day of classes held on opening day. It was announced this week by Supt. Lester C. Diehl. A teacher's meeting has been scheduled for August 26, 27, and 28th.

Genesee schools will go back to a six-period day instead of a seven, with classes taking up at 9 a. m. and being dismissed at 3:25 p. m. No new curriculum has been added for the coming year.

Diehl stated that the enrollment of the school should increase this year over last, especially at the elementary level. This is due, he said, to the number of new families moving into Genesee this summer. The high school enrollment is expected to remain about the same as last year.

Most of the repair work and planned general maintenance in the classrooms and buildings have been completed, and they now stand ready for the coming year. Most of the work during the summer has been routine maintenance and repair. The general maintenance program has been carried out under the supervision of Joe Kalafus, school custodian, and his assistant, Roy Phipps.

Three new teachers have joined the teaching staff for the year. They are Miss Elaine Woodhouse, home economics and biology; Miss Lynda Rearick, girls physical education, and Kenneth Olfert, junior high math and German.

Returning faculty members are Supt. Lester C. Diehl; Wayne Borgen, vocational agriculture; Dennis Carlson, mathematics and science; Edward Davis, junior high science; Mrs. Lynn Davis, English; Mrs. Forrest Durbin, librarian; Larry Gee, music; Vonley Hopkins, social studies; Oswald Kanikheberger, coach and principal; Mrs. Donald Smith, commercial; Mrs. Sanford Evans, counselor, and Mrs. Danelle Parker, speech therapist.

Mrs. Larry Gee, first grade; Mrs. Michael Heidemeyer, second; Mrs. Perry Farnam, third; Mrs. Howard Blume, fourth; Mrs. Ellen Heaney, fifth; Mrs. Robert Schooler, sixth; Miss Lynda Rearick, seventh, and Kenneth Olfert, eighth.

The district purchased one new 48-passenger bus this year with delivery made August 10th. No planned changes in bus routes, and drivers will be the same as last year with the exception of Richard Carroll who will drive full time.

The hot lunch program will be the same as last year with the cost of 30c for students and 40c for adults. Milk will again be provided for 3 cents for those only wishing to take milk. During the summer the district installed a new range and oven in the kitchen. The lunch staff remains the same as last year with Mrs. Herman Mayer serving as head cook; Mrs. Seth Bish, assistant cook, and Mrs. Gene Griesser and Mrs. Norman Johnson as helpers.

Listed below is the school calendar for the year: Aug. 24-25: high school registration; Aug. 26-27-28: teacher's meeting; Sept. 6: Labor day vacation; Oct. 7-8: teachers' institute; Nov. 25-26: Thanksgiving vacation; Dec. 24-Jan. 3: Christmas vacation; Jan. 14: First semester ends; Mar. 27-31: Spring vacation; May 21: graduation; May 25: school dismissed. A total budget of $302,850.51 for 1971-72 as to $290,656.70 for 1970-71. The major increase in the areas of administration is a bid cost for an insurance survey and in fixed charges an increased cost in insurance, capital increase is due to the purchase of a new school bus. The district will be in the same millage as last year—33 mills M & O and 8.5 for Bond and Interest.

Firey Crash Claims Young Orofino Man

A twenty-six year old Orofino man, Claude McGill, died of burns Saturday night after a two-car accident nine miles south of Deary on the Deary-Kendrick Highway (SH3) at 8:05 p. m. According to Latah County Deputy Sheriff Larry Waterby, a 1961 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by McGill was southbound, when it struck a 1964 Dodge station wagon driven by Rufus Fairfield of Juliaetta.

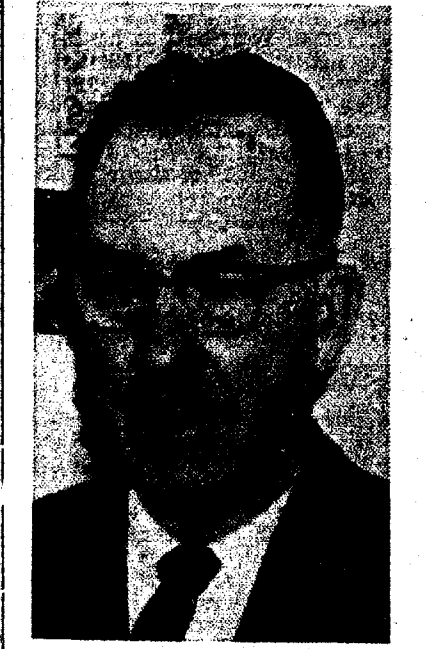

Waterby said the truck struck the station wagon and a barrel of gasoline rolled off the back of the truck and caught fire, spraying both McGill and his passenger, Norman Crider, 29, Ahsahka, with the gasoline.

McGill died at the scene of the accident. Crider was reported in good condition at the Grifman Memorial Hospital, Moscow, Sunday night with second degree burns.

Waterby said friends of the two, all from Elk River, came upon the scene, helped extricate the victims from the vehicle and called the Deary ambulance and fire department. The blaze started a fire which burned about three acres beside the road. Fairfield and Gerald Ingie, who was approaching in another vehicle, also assisted at the scene.

Friday Rains Slowed Harvest Very Little; Grain Delivery Speeds Up

Friday's rain "didn't slow us up hardly at all," reported Bill Wood, manager of Genesee Union Warehouse Co., Tuesday morning, as he reviewed the harvest operations in the Genesee area for the past week. Wood said more grain and peas are coming into the Genesee co-op's elevators all the time with wheat just now getting a good start.

Most of the wheat is coming in from the Rim area, which is always the first section in the Genesee area to ripen any crop. Peas, Wood estimated, were about half finished and the barley is rolling in at a good pace. All of the barley is winter variety so far with no Spring-planted crop being cut yet.

All of the crops coming in are still looking good in both quality and quantity. Woods said storage has not yet become too acute at Genesee Union despite the dock strike on the coast. "We've been a little pressed for pea storage," Wood said, and hoped the co-op would not have to use any grain bins for peas. The manager said the company has been consigning a little barley to North Pacific Grain Growers in Spokane. Asgrow Nearly Finished "I'd estimate about 75 percent complete," said Leonard Singhose

Tuesday morning, as he discussed the 1971 harvest operation at the Asgrow Seed Company's Genesee branch. The Alaska varieties were finished up Monday and the firm is taking in wrinkled varieties now. Growers for Asgrow in the Uniontown, Ftx Ridge and Rimrock sections have all finished harvesting. Just the Genesee area and Thorn-creek areas still have seed out.

The Wrinkled varieties are not yielding out quite as good as the Alaskas did, but the crop is still above average in every respect, the manager said. Some burn is also being noted in wrinkled peas resulting partly from stem rot and partly from the hot weather. Singhose estimated that the pea harvest for his company was about a week to ten days away from completion.

Winter Peas In Saturday The first winter peas of the 1971 season were taken in by Brocke and sons at Kendrick Saturday of last week. Geo. Brocke, Jr. said the winter peas are just starting but the spring peas, for his company, are about 75 percent in. Rape seeds and early grass seeds are all in at Brocke's but they have not yet taken in lentils.

Heat Wave Still Hovers Over Area; Temperatures Above Century Mark

One of the most prolonged heat waves in many years still held the region in its grip this week as the temperatures rose above the 100-degree mark on three successive days after a brief respite last Friday.

A cloudy, rainy Friday of last week gave a short but welcome break from the tremendous heat and halted the harvest operations for a time, but the mercury was back up above the 100 degree mark by Saturday afternoon and continued to stay in that area each afternoon since then.

Unofficial readings for Kendrick were as follows:

Date	low	high
Aug. 4	63	97
Aug. 5	66	96
Aug. 6	60	80
Aug. 7	62	102
Aug. 8	62	103

Aug. 9 55 102 The Genesee area was just a few degrees below these figures and although the temperatures didn't make it above the century mark as often, the difference wasn't enough to tell it was hot!

Lewiston was reporting even hotter weather as the airport had a high of 105 on Sunday and 104 on Monday afternoon.

Other than the fact that the weather, however hot, has let the 1971 harvest proceed at a rapid rate, the only bright spot is the fact that the temperatures have dipped down during the evening hours to make the nights cool and comfortable. Forecasts from the daily papers and radio differ slightly. Some of the forecasters give no promise of relief, and others are predicting a cooling trend by the week-end.

Eleven Fires Kept District Fire Fighters Busy During Past Seven Days

District Fire Warden Dick Benjamin paused just long enough this week to catch his breath and report that a series of lightning and man-caused fires kept him and his crew of five fire-fighters busy early last week in the wake of Monday night's and early Tuesday morning's thunder and lightning storm.

Benjamin reported 11 fires in the past week. Eight of these were lightning set blazes and seven of them were on Moscow Mountain last Monday night and Tuesday morning. The other fire was on Burnt Ridge near Troy Tuesday morning, when a one-acre fire burned cheatgrass and brush. The Troy Rural Fire District helped battle that fire, Benjamin stated. The other seven were spot fires.

Monday of last week there was a small spot fire below Juliaetta, apparently caused by a passing train.

Saturday of last week the crew was called out again to extinguish a three-acre grain fire on the Gerald Ingle ranch on Big Bear ridge, set when a car-truck accident occurred in which an Orofino man lost his life. (See related story on this page).

Monday night of this week, three acres of wheat were lost to fire on the Byard Parks ranch in the Stony Point area. The Kendrick Fire Warden received the call at 8:15 p. m. and the crew responded immediately, but by the time they arrived at the scene the harvesters and neighbors had the blaze under control. That could have been a "rough one" Benjamin stated, if the fire had made it down into the Pine Creek canyon.

Despite the "rain" which fell Friday morning the area is still hot and tinder dry, Benjamin said, and he urged extreme caution to prevent fires of any type which could get out of hand.

Captive Whooper Eggs Hatched In Captivity

Seven of 11 whooping crane eggs taken from the Canadian wilds in May for incubating at Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Maryland have hatched successfully, the Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service says.

The achievement brings the number of captive whoopers to a record 26, but the figure may soon be increased if the remaining three eggs, still in incubation hatch in coming days. One of the whoopers that hatched died of an intestinal infection shortly after birth.

This was the fourth expedition to the cranes' summer nesting grounds in Canada's Wood Buffalo National Park in search of eggs—others were made in 1967, 1968, and 1969. Canadian and United States wildlife officials who are cooperating in these ventures hope to build flocks of these endangered birds so that some of their descendants may be returned to the wild. At present, there are 57 whoopers, North America's tallest bird, left in the wild.

Of the captive whoopers, 21 are at Patuxent, three at Audubon Park Zoo in New Orleans and two at San Francisco Zoo. Twelve of the total came from the earlier egg pickups.

The other newly hatched whoopers are reported in good health. They are receiving formulated diets and are being kept in carefully regulated pens.

Two Genesee Youths Return From Institute

Sheri Herman and LeRoy Zenner recently attended the annual Summer Institute of the American Institute of Cooperation at Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado.

Business Leadership was the theme of the Institute. The American Institute of Cooperation provides an opportunity for the exchange of ideas among cooperative personnel, agricultural leaders, educators, and youth. Its purpose is to develop increased understanding of cooperatives as a way of doing business.

The young people—called Youth Scholars for this national meeting—participated in a special question and answer session with the keynote of the institute, Louis B. Strong, president, National Rural Electric Cooperative Ass'n., Washington, D. C.

The Future Homemakers of America and the local Union Warehouse through Idaho Cooperative Council helped make the attendance of Sheri and LeRoy at this large national institute possible.

Youth speakers appearing before the general meeting and acting as Youth Co-Chairmen were Dan Lehman, Pleasant Plains, Illinois, National FFA president and Perry Palmer, Wellman, Iowa, national 4-H representative.

Lehman said, "Young people in America today have a place to stand and they earn it by the direction in which they move. . . . The time is here for youth to begin developing the ability to get things done. The place is the organizations in which we participate. The challenge is to make ourselves an asset to an organization or business and in doing so to become an asset to our community and to America."

In his speech to the general session, Palmer said, "Success as a leader will not depend solely on genius, talent, popularity or luck. It will also be based on desire, determination, and an organized plan."

LeRoy was among the 25 percent in the quiz, and Sheri auditioned for the talent show and was accepted. She received the youth V. I. P. recognition and was presented a certificate of appreciation.

Sheri and LeRoy thought the American Institute was very worthwhile, and Sheri added that it was one of the best learning experiences I could have had."

IN NO STRANGE LAND

Each time I climb the stairway to the stars
To glimpse the infinite that must be there;
I weave a song that knows no false-note bars;
And strive to end it with a fervent prayer.

But when I leave those vaulted realms above;
Descend the way that came so close to God;
I find I was no nearer to His love
Than when my feet were on terrestrial sod.

I just read about a fellow who bought an old painting at auction for $100. When he had it cleaned a genuine Rembrandt was revealed. I think I'll go home and wash my Ford. Maybe there's a Lincoln underneath.

She had a very boyish figure—that's straight from the shoulder.

Hi Vandal:
 I hope you've had a nice summer and you're ready for an exciting fall of football, "Don Robbins" Style. Let me start by introducing myself. I'm Roger Michener, new ticket sales manager for the University of Idaho. Since the construction progress on our new stadium is a little unpredictable, it looks like I'm in for a hectic start. Briefly, here are the game and ticket sales plans for this fall:

As you probably know, our game against State Boise has been moved to Bronco Stadium in Boise on September 11. The time has also been divided so Boise State will be getting half the tickets and the University of Idaho the other half. All seats are reserved and cost $5.00 each. Century Club members, Vandal Boosters and season ticket buyers will get first choice, and the remaining tickets will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis. No tickets will be sent out or held until they are paid for.

Our second scheduled home game against Colorado State on September 25 will be played in Albi Stadium, Spokane, Washington. The game time has been changed to 7:30 p. m. (PDT). Tickets for this game are $5.00 each also.

Tickets for these first two games are being printed now and should be available the second week in August. Anyone who wishes to purchase tickets is encouraged to fill out the enclosed ticket request form and mail it with a check for the proper amount as soon as possible.

After some consideration as to whether to sell 1971 football season tickets or not, I've decided to give it a try. The contemplation was caused by the uncertainty of our stadium completion. Now I've been assured that our Homecoming Game, October 9, against Idaho State will be played in Moscow in the new stadium.

Season tickets will be sold on a four game basis. The Spokane game against Colorado State will be part of the package, but the Boise State game in Boise will not. The season tickets will sell at a 10 percent discount, $18 each. They will be mailed out on a game-by-game basis rather than in a package because we may be able to move you to a better seat as more of the stadium is completed. To be assured of prime reserved seats at all games, fill out the ticket request form and mail it along with a check for the required amount to me soon, please.

I would like to thank everyone for waiting on these decisions and this information. I am very happy to be at the University of Idaho, and I'll work hard to serve you. With your cooperation and support, the 1971 Vandal football season should be one of the school's best.

Emergency Horse Census Needed Now

U. of I., Moscow — If you own a horse, pony, mule or donkey in the state of Idaho, the Extension Service wants to know about it.

Reason: Due to the outbreak of sleeping sickness (Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis) (VEE) in horses in Texas and the possible need for vaccination in states besides those states bordering Texas and Mexico, the Extension Service has been asked to make an immediate count of all horses, mules, ponies and donkeys, says James L. Graves, associate director of the University of Idaho Cooperative Extension Service.

"The purpose of the equine head count is a precautionary measure so that enough vaccine will be available if proposed control measures are taken and the areas of concentration of horses will be known," stresses Graves.

The Extension Service is sending a questionnaire to all rural route and star route box holders. "It is vital that all horse owners in the state return the questionnaire if they receive one," emphasized Dr. Richard F. Hall, U. of I. Extension veterinarian. "If you have horses and do not receive a questionnaire, you should call the county Extension office and leave your name and address and the number of horses," says Hall.

He also suggests that if you have relatives or friends who own horses and are on vacation that you call the county Extension office and report them. Since this is an emergency, the census is to be completed immediately.

Dr. A. F. Schneider, state-federal veterinarian of Idaho, reports that horses in Idaho and those entering the state are presently under strict surveillance by veterinarians. However, the exact head count is needed for allocation of vaccine.

AHSAHKA BRIDGE RECEIVES MORE DAMAGE

The Ahshaka Bridge over the North Fork of the Clearwater River on State Highway 7 has been hit and damaged by overloaded logging trucks twice in the past week. Ralph M. Stone, District Maintenance Superintendent for the department at Lewiston, said that in the first accident damage was confined to the north portal, cross members and sway braces but the driver of the truck departed the scene of the accident leaving a log lying in the middle of the travel way at 6:30 p. m. on July 27. According to Stone maintenance forces under Foreman Jim Dugger of Orofino had to be called out to remove the obstruction from the traffic lanes.

In the second accident, according to witnesses, the same truck and driver hit cross members of the bridge, bending one of them and leaving wood chips and splinters hanging on all cross pieces on the east side of the bridge. A crew from Boise under the direction of Special Maintenance Foreman Kenneth Ward will arrive at the site on August 1 to start repair work. During this period one lane of traffic will be closed and motorists may expect minor delays when crossing the bridge.

State Highway 7 and the Ahshaka Bridge is in an area which receives heavy truck traffic stemming from Dworahak Dam construction and nearby logging and lumber mills. The bridge has been the target for several freak accidents and was closed for 10 days last September after being damaged by heavy equipment being hauled to a fire. The spokesman for the Highway Department said however that no major interruption of traffic is expected in this instance.

The forest is full of living things—birds, animals, trees, and flowers. Do your part and keep it unharmed. Prevent forest fires—Keep Idaho Green!

HARVEST RAIN

I can't condone the harvest rain
As SELFPROPELLED stand by;
When cows come shivering up the lane
As storm clouds man the sky.

And when the sun peaks out again
And nimbus clouds have gone
My heart forgives the HARVEST RAIN
As SELFPROPELLED roll on.

Park Patter

By Mrs. Jody Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith received word that his mother, Mrs. Vester Daniels, Lenore, was hospitalized on Wednesday at Moscow. She underwent surgery for appendicitis and is recovering nicely.

Visiting Mrs. Charles Stratton on Wednesday were Mrs. Enid Baumgartner and her daughter, Mrs. Don Smith of Moscow and sister, Mrs. W. D. Kirk, Deary.

"Tom Sawyer Party"
Monday, Mrs. Daniel's daughter, Mrs. Clinton Smith and Kay; and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jerry Smith, Lewis and Jim spent the day at the Daniel's newly purchased home in Juliaetta painting and helping to ready it for their move from Lenore.

Haying is nearly finished in the Park area with harvest nearing. Travelers on area roads often find themselves the filling in the sandwich between logging and farm trucks—with a fast moving Hughes Construction Co. crew truck thrown in for seasoning.

Mrs. Ernest Steigers
Phone 276-3336

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Inghram, son Chris and daughter Patti, enroute home to Richland, Wn., after a vacation trip, arrive last Thursday at the Newt Heath home, and stayed until Sunday afternoon. The entire family "pitched in" to help "Uncle Mac" Heath with the clean up of the wheat from his ruptured granary at Cherrylane.

They were accompanied by a friend of Chris, Allen Parkhurst, also of Richland.

Lee has recovered an estimated 35 truckloads of the 40 placed in the granary, and he is very grateful for all the help received!

Wednesday evening callers of the Heaths were Mr. and Mrs. Clelis Holsington.

Saturday Gordon Heath and family of Polatch spent the afternoon with his parents. Sunday afternoon Gordon returned and drove with his parents to the Elk River camp which they greatly enjoyed — returning home late in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Steigers and their grandsons Chad and Curt Steigers, visiting from Seattle, were Sunday callers in the Albert Heimgartner and Ernest Steigers homes.

Helena Brown has been "feeling poorly" recently from a leaking heart valve, but bravely staying at home to take life easy. Her daughter and children Mrs. Mike (Carol Lynne) Richardson, Noelle and Rena were Saturday callers. Mr. and Mrs. E. Steigers dropped in briefly on Friday. Her Lewiston children are frequent callers.

We were all sorry to hear of Mrs. Vester (Eva) Daniels recent surgery and hope she continues to improve!

The Maurice Carters of Clarkston, laden with picnic lunch, arrived on Sunday to take Ernest and Nellie on an outing, which included the Dworshak Dam; above to see the triumphant arrival on a beach above of the large raft containing Mr. and Mrs. Ken Steigers, Bekajyn and Brant and Steve Talbot, who had been on a week-end river float trip on the North Fork — to take a last regretful ride on the river which will be "drowned"! The Carter-Steigers group continued on via Elk River, there enjoying the beautiful lake at Elk River — with many people enjoying it. They stopped at the new David Steigers home to view progress enroute home. The Carters remained as Sunday over-night guests at Cherrylane.

Mrs. Wayne Heimgartner visited Monday with Grandma Zumhove and Mrs. Bill Straw at the Leslie Heimgartner home. The Straws, Grandma Zumhove and Elaine Heimgartner left for their homes on Wednesday, accompanied by Jaris and Janice Heimgartner, children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Heimgartner of Yakima. They will remain at Mt. Home for a two-week visit with the Bill Straw family.

Bob Heimgartner made a hurried business trip through our area on Sunday, encountering various relatives on the road!

Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner spent Sunday at the home of son Tim Straw, where a birthday dinner honoring her daughter Jenny (Mrs. Larry Lyons) and son David Straw's August birthdays, was held.

A belated birthday greeting to Grandma Lena Zumhove from those of us who forgot to send letters or cards (via the obituary Gazette-News).

Becky Cowger returned home on Sunday after a week's visit in Pierce.

Bob Allen, Kendrick, was a Sunday dinner and supper guest of Von Zumhove — enjoying eating with the harvest crew.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holsington were Monday evening visitors of the Don Holsington family. Thursday evening callers were another brother, Neale and wife of Juliaetta.

Everyone reports being busily engaged in harvest work — and the weather too warm for comfort!

Eugene Heath's puppy dog, "Charlie," is now frisking around happily on his three remaining legs!

Last Monday, while searching vainly for Rick Steigers glasses, lost on a capsized inerrubite, while floating down river previously, Dan Steigers, using his high leaping ability, narrowly escaped a striking timber rattler, apparently blind from shedding its old skin. Dan was following his father, David, up an embankment on the highway side of the river just above the Cherrylane bridge, when the incident occurred.

The forest is full of living things — birds, animals, trees, and flowers. Do your part and keep it unharmed. Prevent forest fires—Keep Idaho Green!

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all those who so thoughtfully remembered me with cards, calls, flowers and many other lovely gestures during my recent stays in the hospitals both in Spokane and Moscow. The many calls I received during isolation at Sacred Heart were especially appreciated. Again — thank you very much. — Mrs. Ed Brown. 32c

Employment Picture Varies Week to Week

Moscow — Job placement activity at the Moscow office of the Idaho Department of Employment continues to fluctuate from week to week. Frank J. Hartstein, Moscow office manager, reported that his office placed 15 persons on jobs during the past week. During the previous week 23 workers were given job finding help and during the same period a year ago 20 workers found jobs through the office. He said that the jobs filled varied, and included several secretarial jobs, and there were still 28 jobs open, including those for combine operators, secretaries, warehousemen, cooks, waitresses, body and fender repair men, a welder and a heavy duty mechanic.

Eight persons filed new claims for unemployment insurance during the week. Most of these were persons who had recently come into the area from out of state.

The total number of workers continuing to seek jobless pay declined slightly from 216 to 214. A year ago the total was 148. The number of workers seeking unemployment insurance benefits should remain quite steady, Hartstein said, until about the end of the month. Many workers will then return to school connected jobs, and others will return to classes. There are still large numbers of young people available for work for the balance of the summer.
